RUSSIAN GARRISON AT PORT ARTHUR HOPELESS

Admit That Fortress Must Fall Soon But will Fight Until the Last--Capture of 203 Metre Hill Made it Untenable.

Special to The Times

Tokio, Jan. 2.—The Navy Department published last night a letter written by a man on the battleship Sevastopol, which had fallen into the hands of the Japanese. The writer despairs of relief of the fortress and tells of the destruction wrought by Japanese shells. He says the Russians are resigned to their fate and are determined to fight to a finish rather than suffer the shame of surrender owing to starvation. He adds, "The fortress cannot resist after December. The progress of the enemy in reducing our principal line of outer defences is not fully known, but it is irresistible. We are sadly disappointed over the non-arrival of the Second Pacific Squadron and are daily nearing our miserable end. General Stoessel's so-called impregnable line of outer defences is now a mythy. With 203-Metre Hill lost, the fall of Port Arthur cannot be avoided. Its capture by the Japanese means the fall of the town, however, strong the other defences.

The new town is at the mercy of the enemy's fire. The old town alone is defendable, and here alone may resistance be prolonged. Two-thirds of the defenders of 203-Metre Hill were lost. The Sevastopol, which was exposed to the enemy's fire in the daytime, left the harbor on the night of December 8 without being towed. She carried only 111 instead of her complement of 460 souls. When she went out she had her nets down, but was struck twice by the enemy's torpedoes and was beached, irreparably damaged. General Stoessel highly praised the officers and crew of the ship. Fuel is almost unobtainable, and it is impossible to keep our bodies warm. We no longer have a wireless telegraph system and have no means of communicating with the outside world. Our isolation is complete. There is no news, and we have no information for a long time. It is impossible to supply ammunition. The captain of the King Arthur brought only barley."

London, Jan. 2.—A despatch from Chefoo to the Daily Telegraph says: "A messenger from Port Arthur states that the Japanese have mounted eight guns commanding positions north of the Etse forts, but they have suffered heavy losses by the Russian fire. The Russians have abandoned the new town, but the Japanese have been unable to occupy it because of fear that it has been mined."

The Japanese mining operations at Sungshushan, Port Arthur, are nearly completed. A tunnel from Sheshan is almost finished, which will enable them to blow up the parapet of the fort, which is already isolated. The final assault on the position is expected in a few days.

Tokio, Jan. 2.—The Emperor has presented Vice-Admirals Togo and Kamimura with a number of articles, including watches formerly worn by himself. Vice-Admiral Togo has declined the reception tendered him by the municipality of Tokio, on the ground that the time is not yet ripe for such a function.

Vice-Admiral Togo will devote his time while in Tokio, conferring with Marquis Ito, president of the Privy Council; Admiral Yamamoto, Minister of the Navy; Vice-Admiral Ijuin, Assistant Chief of General Staff; Rear-Admiral Saito, vice-Minister of Marine, and other members of the Imperial naval staff, upon the plans for the future conduct of naval warfare.

Vice-Admiral Togo to-day attended the funeral of a number of officers and men who were killed at Port Arthur while serving under him. he read a eulogy upon them.

NAVAL DEFENCE OF THE EMPIRE

Writer in St. James' Gazette Says the Colonies Should Participate

LORD STRATHCONA'S VIEWS

London Standard Prints Interview With High Commissioner—A Thousand Children Fed

London, January 2.—The writer of an article in the St. James's Gazette on a possible solution of Imperial naval defence says: "Nearly all the great Colonies are capable of becoming cradles of sea power, but they will never do so as long as we assume the duties and responsibilities which should properly devolve upon them. We shall never develop to the full the real strength and tremendous strategical advantage of our ubiquitous position in the world uncourage and enable our great self-governing Colonies to set about the creation of their own naval power as they have of their military power. They would never have achieved such success in the latter respect, had not Lord Granville intimated the withdrawal of our regular garrisons in 1862.

"Why should we not explain frankly to the Colonies that although we are bearing the strain of international rivalry in naval armaments for the time being, the hour is approaching when the growth of other navies will make it impossible for the Mother State to retain it. This would get rid of the vexed question of a Colonial contribution while the Mother Country might lend her aid in training the colonial officers and seamen and in establishing dockyards and by applying the first nucleus of the future Colonial navies."

THE STRATHCONA INTERVIEW.

The Standard credits Lord Strathcona with an interview on Imperial defence in which the High Commissioner said he was convinced that Canadians had taken up seriously and would consider most carefully the question of bearing a part of the expense of Imperial defence. Canadians were as loyal today as they ever had been.

A THOUSAND CHILDREN FED.

One thousand of London's poorest children were entertained to roast beef and plum pudding at Cannington, provided by money collected in Canada. Afterwards there was a cinematograph show, when a touching message of thanks to their unknown benefactors was thrown on the screen. Lord Strathcona was to have been present, but not being able to get away sent his best wishes and a subscription.

CARNEGIE ON CHADWICK CASE

Friend Quotes Steel Magnate as Amazed at Gullibility of Her Victims

Pittsburg, Penn., January 1.—Andrew Carnegie has the idea that Mrs. Cassie Chadwick, now in jail in Cleveland, will get a long term in prison. Director Edward Bilgelow, of the Department of Public Works, has just returned from New York, where he had a long talk with the steel magnate, whose name was forged to the many papers. He said:

"Mr. Carnegie and I talked over the Chadwick affair, and his opinion was that she had placed herself in a very bad situation, and that she would serve a long term. Mr. Carnegie seemed amazed at the latitude she had been allowed in her work.

"He expressed not a little surprise at the gullibility of some persons. He repeated his many previous assertions that he did not know the woman at all, had never known her.

FAMINE IN SOUTH RUSSIA

An Outbreak Expected Unless the Government Provides Relief

Berlin, January 2.—Famine prevails in numerous cities of the Government of Bessarabia, Russia. The condition of the people is pitiful. Almost all the factories are closed and thousands of workmen and their families are without bread.

It is believed that unless the Russian Government aids the sufferers immediately an outbreak will occur.

It is reported that proclamations have been distributed in Ekaterinoslaff calling on the Christians to destroy the Jews, who, it is declared, caused the war with Japan and have bribed Interior Minister Sviatopolk-Mirsky.

THE CAMPAIGN IN THE EAST

Mr. Anderson Meeting with Great Success—Successful Meetings

Notwithstanding the absence of Hon. Mr. Stratton, who was billed to speak at Villiers on Thursday night, but was prevented by illness, there was a well-attended meeting, which made up by enthusiasm, for the absence of those who were prevented by the icy roads from being present. Mr. Renwick was appointed chairman of the meeting, and introduced Mr. Anderson, who briefly, but clearly, dealt with the work of the different departments of the Government, and was followed by Mr. George K. Martin and Mr F. D. Kerr. The speakers received a very cordial hearing, and were awarded a hearty vote of thanks at the close of the meeting.

TRADES' UNIONS' SEVERE LESSON

Duty to Country the First Obligation of Citizen

IMPORTANT INDIANA RULING

Men Who Placed Unionism Above the Law Sent to Jail for Long Terms

Indianapolis, Ind., December 31.—In a contempt of court case before the Federal Court, Judge Anderson here has sent fourteen strikers at the big MacBeth Lamp Chimney factory at Elwood, Ind., to jail with heavy sentences. In so doing, Judge Anderson took occasion to announce to laboring-men in Indiana the attitude of the Federal Court toward labor agitation. He occupied two hours with his remarks. He said:

"Labor, of course, has the right to organize, as has capital. Any violation of the law on the part of corporations brought to the attention of this court will be justly dealt with, and violence on the part of labor unions will likewise be justly dealt with.

"Laboring men in the jurisdiction of this court, however, will understand that when an injunction is issued ordering men not to interfere with other men who have replace them at their work, the word of this court is to be taken for what it says.

"You all say you place unionism above everything; you do wrong. Loyalty to your country is first, and if you don't voluntarily put it first the courts will see that you do."

THE YEAR 1904; A RETROSPECT

Important Events Which Transpired in 1904

A HISTORY MAKING YEAR

Great Disasters and Wars Mark the Period.

As the year draws to a close, it is often possible to spend a profitable half-hour in a review of the chief incidents which have marked its course. Looking over the year 1904 a day or so before its end, one can recall a number of events more or less influential in shaping history yet to be written. Of these, the war between Russia and Japan dwarfs all others, because of the mighty issues involved. A year ago relations between the two powers were strained, but few expected the commencement of hostilities to follow so rapidly, nor these to be attended by the terrific conflicts which have since then become historic. It is almost superfluous to remark that the Japanese have been uniformly victorious, and at this point one may reasonably assert that the greatest surprise of the year 1904 has been the lamentably weak showing of the Russian navy. The unprovoked attack by the Baltic fleet on the Hull fishermen, and the unparalleled spectacle of a British Premier publicly charging a Russian Admiral with falsehood, are other incidents, bred of the war, which will not soon fade from the memory.

The Status to Lhassa

The expedition to Lhassa was another event, not contemplated a year ago, but long since an accomplished fact. Thus sacred city through the centuries has remained immolated by the foot of foreigner, the one city of mystery remaining to the world. British Tommies in 1904 trampled freely about the sacred streets and holy temples and profaned the ears of the reverend lamas with many varieties of English dialect. It is early to prophesy what result may follow the Younghusband expedition, but undoubtedly the check of Russia's southern expansion toward India will be one of the most important.

In the World of Politics

In the field of politics there have been many incidents of importance. So far as Canada is concerned the most noteworthy was the Dominion elections, which resulted in the return of the Laurier Government to power, pledged to begin without delay the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. Of interest, too, was the resignation of Hon. Mr. Blair from the Railway Commission, and the subsequent conflicting explanations of this move may, among them, furnish still another political event, but not before the year is at. The Presidential elections in the United States occupied the attention of our neighbors for several months in 1904, the feature of the contest of most interest to Canadians being the agitation for reciprocity in several quarters, notably among the New England manufacturers and the Minnesota millers.

The Disasters of 1904

Undoubtedly the greatest disaster of the year was the burning of the pleasure steamer General Slocum in the Hudson River, and the horrible death of some hundreds of children on their way to a picnic. Following so soon the Iroquois Theatre horror in Chicago, it made a profound impression on the public mind. In Toronto the great fire of April last was the event of the year. Although millions of dollars' worth of property was destroyed, not a single life was lost. In the rebuilding of the burned district the merchants showed an enterprise worthy of the city, and almost equal to the suppleness of the City Council in dealing with those phases of the question which came within its purview. Toronto has had few serious crimes, few terrible accidents to deplore, in 1904. The murder of a child in the lake off Munro Park and the Thanksgiving street car tragedy being all that come readily to mind.

Honors for Toronto

On the other hand, Toronto has had quite a few occasions for popular rejoicing. The chief of these was furnished by the victory of Lou Scholes at Henley. This Toronto lad, after a Homeric struggle, won the Diamond sculls, emblematic of the amateur sculling championship of the world. Not long afterward Private Perry, formerly a Toronto boy, but now a resident of Victoria, B.C., carried off the King's Prize in competition with the best marksmen in the service. Mr. George Lyons' golfing success at the St. Louis Exhibition was the third of these important athletic triumphs, and never before have three such notable sporting triumphs been scored for Canadians in a single year. They contributed very materially to the advertising of this country as a home for champions. On the turf, the best Canadian-owned colt seen in years was out in Fort Hunter, while the pacers Gallagher and Angus Pointer, both Canadian bred, more than held their own down the Grand Circuit.

Deaths and Retirements

The passing year has seen the retirement of one Governor-General, and has welcomed the appointment of his distinguished successor. It has also witnessed the humiliating course of events which deprived Canada of her best commander of the militia, Lord Dundonald. Another incident which will be recalled with regret was the death of Principal Caven, the venerable head of Knox College. Of prominent figures in the world's politics few have passed away in 1904. Probably the most notable was ex-President Kruger, who died in Europe, but whose remains have been interred in the country which owes him such a bitter debt. Kruger's death provoked a few perfunctory obituary paragraphs; but it was felt that he died when the last fighting burgher laid down his arms. Since then he has lagged superfluous on the stage. After the fall of his power, the death of his body seemed insignificant indeed. Among British statesmen Sir William Vernon Harcourt has passed away. Sir Edwin Arnold's death was also recorded in 1904.

Some Celebrated Cases

Stretching its length and bulk overs everal months of 1904, the World's Fair at St. Louis, memorable among Canadian stockmen for their triumphs, came to an end only a few weeks ago. In it we may have seen the last of the great world's fairs for years to come. The St. Louis venture is said to have paid, but the public is tired of these huge, sprawling exhibitions. In criminal annals the year will be remarkable for the Chadwick case, which, however, will spread far into 1905, so that a year from now one may be better able to appraise it. The memorable Beck case in England completed its last phase a month or so ago. Whether the Wall street crusade of Thomas W. Lawson will yet end in criminal history cannot be determined. At any rate the "Story of Amalgamated" deserves to be reckoned as one of the most remarkable literary productions of a rather uneventful year.

THE JAPANESE SOLDIERS NOT FIGHTING FANATICS

Cool Courage, but not Rashness, Distinguishes the Most Scientific Warfare Ever Yet Waged--Will not be Cocky.

Writing from Kobe, Japan, William Dinwiddie says:

"They fight like fanatics" seems to have become a stereotyped phrase on the lips of all traveling Americans in the far east whenever they refer to the remarkable feats at arms of the Japanese.

Another common expression voiced by foreigners is, "If the Japanese defeat Russia they will be so cocky that white men will not be able to live in the east."

My personal observations have led me to the opinion that the origin of the first expression lies in the occidental idea that the Japanese are a semi-barbaric race, with a heathen religion, holding forth to warped and misguided intellects promises of everlasting reward for bloody death.

Cause for the second remark is more difficult to discover and it would be interesting to know whether it is not due, in some degree, to the patronizing pride of the white man toward all others not of his color.

"Fighting fanaticism" suggests the running amuck of the Mohammedan, who wildly, blindly, kills in order that for each thrust his future reward in heavenly bliss may be the richer, or the mad rushes of howling dervishes into the embrace of death, when, with bloodshot eyes and frenzied faces, they climb over barriers of their lifeless brethren to strike and be stricken down.

There is no such spirit in the Japanese army—absolutely none.

Shintoism—the imperial religion, or philosophy—is a reverencing of the emperor and of one's ancestors. It teaches that the highest duty of every man is to his country. Buddhism the real religion of Japan, is distinctly pacific in its teachings.

What we do find in the Japanese soldier is love of country and willingness to shed his last drop of blood to preserve its honor and the honor of his emperor. Almost every Japanese soldier knows the slogan of the leaders, "We are fighting a battle for the benefit of the world, for the open door of commerce in the orient." He believes that if he fails the national existance of Japan will cease. He fights, not to pay the price of a future life in his own blood, but to preserve that which is dearer than life, for his emperor, for his leaders and for posterity—Japan for the Japanese. The sentiment is one which has been honored by us from the dawning of our civilization.

The strategy, tactics and individual conduct of the soldier are all against the assumption of fighting fanaticism. Perhaps no army has ever taken the field whose movements were so largely on the lines prescribed for scientific warfare. Great strategy is worked out to the minutest detail. The tactics adopted, have in view the least sacrifice of life possible for a given result.

No one has ever seen the Japanese engage in such dare-devil charges as the British made in South Africa, for example, where thousands of men went forward in rushes in the open, and yet no one cried "fanaticism" in speaking of them. The Japanese have taken from the Russians positions stronger than anything the British ever took from the Boers, but by tactics distinctly Japanese, and not, as one British attache puts it, because "the Japanese adopted our South African tactics." The carping critic might say "Humph! The Japanese learned what not to do from the British."

The Japanese soldier often secures his deployment and general alignment—if the advance is made in daylight—just outside the zone of rifle fire, and when the forward begins the line breaks up irregularly, taking to ditches, gulches, ravines, underbrush and growing crops—to any cover that will hide the mass. They rush forward singly and in bunches, every man knowing approximately his destination before the enemy's lines, and unless stopped by a bullet he gets there. There is no fanaticism in this intrepid but intelligent individual bravery. The first line may have to wait for a second or a third line of men before there is sufficient strength for the final charge. It is then only that a wild charge is made over the short intervening space through shuddering rifle fire, and the Japanese soldier accomplishes the feat—hitherto supposed to be impossible with modern weapons—of a hand-to-hand combat with fixed bayonets and clubbed guns.

It is true that Japanese officers commit suicide when they believe they have disgraced themselves by failure when they are so cruelly wounded that death will ensue, or when they have been captured. This is a matter of ethical training, a punishment self-inflicted to escape disgrace or to end useless suffering. It has no more to do with religion than has the act of the defaulting cashier at home who blows out his brains.

The word "cocky" implies arrogance and ostentation, qualities never present—on the surface at least—in the Japanese. One seldom meets a Japanese subject—unless he has been educated abroad and has assimilated other things than knowledge—who is not considerate and polite. There is no greater sin than rudeness, no greater weakness than an exhibition of anger, even when, from our standpoint, it may be justified.

If "cocky" suggests that the Japanese have confidence in their country and their future, that they have a personal pride and a pride of nation then perhaps no people are more "cocky"—and exhibit it less.

No one has ever heard a Japanese officer assume a boastful tone; on the contrary, in speaking of the war, he usually deprecates the efforts of his people and gives hearty credit to Russia's brave soldiers. Depreciatory remarks concerning one's unworthiness are merely a convention of speech, and the same man who belittles his own efforts or those of his brothers has at heart supreme confidence in himself and in them.

The modest language, the references to a "little nation just emerging into the world of broader civilization," with which the foreigner is greeted, mislead many of the unwary into unctuous compliments which are distasteful to the Japanese, but which are received with a charming bow and smile.

They are proud of their past civilization and of their present advancement, and do not look upon the latter as surprising.

When Japan's statesmen say, "We are a little nation and a poor one, but we think we can maintain a fighting force of 600,000 soldiers in actual war for two or three years," it is well to pay heed and admire, for they will do it."

TOGO TO THE SPIRITS OF FALLEN COMRADES AT GRAVES IN TOKIO.

Speaks with Unfaltering Optimism of the Cause That Led So Many Japs to Their Death.

Tokio, Jan. 2.—At the funeral here to-day of several officers and men who were killed while fighting under him in attacks of the Port Arthur fleet and fortress, Vice-Admiral Togo addressed their spirits in the following words:

"As I stand before your spirits, I can hardly express my feelings. Your personalities are fresh in my memory. Your corporal existence has ceased, but your passing from this world has been in the gallant discharge of your duty, by virtue of which an enemy's fleet in this world has been completely disabled, and our combined fleet holds undisputed command of the seas.

"I trust this will bring peace and rest to your spirits.

"It is my agreeable duty to avail myself of my presence in this city, whither I have been called by our emperor, to render a report of our successes to the spirits of those who sacrificed their earthly existence in the attainment of so important a retainment of so important a result as that above rendered.

"Most humbly me in person.

"(Signed) HEIHAFHISO TOGO,
"Admiral of the combined fleets."

BALTIC FLEET WILL FALL PREY TO TOGO

Tokio, January 2. — As the Baltic fleet nears its rendezvous, the Japanese newspapers indicate what is the belief of the nation that the Russian squadrons are destined to become the prey of Togo's ships. The Kokumin says that it is problematical whether Russia has been fortunate or unfortunate in having had the progress of its fleet facilitated by the favors extended it by various powers, because now that the Port Arthur fleet has been put out of action, Togo is free to give Rojestvensky a warm reception. Other papers refer to the fact that Russian colliers are now at Sabing Sumatra, awaiting the arrival of the Baltic ships.

The Karnots were defeated by the Bobcaygeon T.V.L. team in the latter place last Friday evening, by a score of 10—6. When the size of the rink and the light from the eight coal oil lamps are taken into consideration, as being a great handicap to the boys from our town, it will be seen by the score that the game was very close. All six goals of the Karnots were the results of com, which was difficult to get started, the majority of Bobcaygeon goals were scored by lifts and shots from centre ice, the light was so bad that at times the puck could not be found and was banged into the nets by someone while others were looking for it. For Bobcaygeons, McIntyre played the star game, scoring most of the goals by some nice individual playing and long shots. For the Karnots the three forwards, Gilman, Campbell and Gross played a grand game, and they have a combination down in very good shape for the number of practices the team has had. Dormar at point, played his usual steady game, but was handicapped a little by poor light, as were

Although defeated the boys are not discouraged, and have nothing but thanks for the kindness shown them by Mr. Welsh, President of the Trent Valley League and secretary of the Bobcaygeon Club, and the Bobcaygeon people in general.

The boys are confident of reversing the score, should they ever meet Bobcaygeon on the Brock street Rink.

The Karnots will play in Lindsay, with the Lindsay Collegiate Institute next week, all arrangements accepting the date having been made, the boys will likely have Craig and Quinn with them for this game, and will thus be materially strengthened.

As at home will be held Tuesday or Wednesday evening of next week under the auspices of the Karnot Hockey Club, in the Labor Hall, Water street. Dancing from 8 till 12 o'clock.

WHERE WAR PAYS

The recent action of the British Government in preventing a German steamer from getting a second cargo of coal—intended presumably for the Russians—at Cardiff has excited the liveliest interest among Welsh mine owners. Few persons have any notion of the amount of contraband trade in coal done by them. In August last at least ten steamers, carrying between 50,000 and 60,000 tons of Admiralty steam coal, left Cardiff on Russian account, in September at least twelve, averaging a smaller dead weight, but carrying about 40,000 or 50,000 tons; in October at least sixteen steamers, carrying between 50,000 tons; and in November seven or eight vessels, shipping about 30,000 tons. At the Cardiff Custom House about twenty of these vessels cleared for Las Palmas, Teneriffe, St. Vincent, and Porta Praya, in the Canary Islands, ten to Delagoa Bay, one to Vigo, several to Manila, and three to Batavia (Java), while others again, cleared with cargoes to Perim, Zanzibar, and Colombo. In all three cases the captains of the vessels were instructed to call at their nominal destinations for orders. It is significant of the plans of the Russian fleet now on its way to Port Arthur that all vessels recently loaded at Cardiff have cleared for Batavia, (Java).

Admiral Togo's fleet has also been kept well supplied. The Welsh mine owners are not loudly clamoring for peace.

—It is understood that an American club is contemplating leasing the rice bed from Rainy Point to Foley's Island, (from the Government) for the purpose of a duck reserve for their own special shooting. They are renting the land along this part of the lake. If this club know when they are safe, they will think very deeply over the matter before they attempt to go into this wild speculation, as the hunters of this village and surrounding country are crack shots. HAS FOUR HUSBANDS

Frederick Roth of Toronto Figures on the 4th

Rochester, Jan. 1.—A woman whose maiden name is claimed to be Anne Pearl McNulty, born in Dublin, Ireland, forty years ago, was accused in the police court to-day of having three other husbands and thirteen children living besides the husband she had arrested for not supporting her. His name is Charles Roth. He says the woman told him that she was born in Dublin, Ireland, and was married at the age of 12 years to a man named Tisdale. From Dublin the couple went to Toronto, where thirteen children were born. The children are in Toronto and different provinces of Canada, the last husband claims. He does not know the first husband's whereabouts. He claims that the woman was married a second time in Toronto to a man named Frederick Eery, or Earle. She deserted him on the wedding night and went from Toronto, the husband says, to Belleville, Ont., where she secured employment in the house of Frank Thompson, a baker, as a nurse. Mrs. Thompson was critically ill at the time, and after her death, Thompson and the nurse came to Rochester. They were married in this city. One child, a girl, now seven years old, was born of the union. Roth met the woman in this city while she was cooking in a restaurant and went to live with her. They married on Nov. 6, 1900, and went to live at Portage, thirty miles south of this city, where they had a farm. The wife told Roth about her other husbands, he says, six months after their marriage. The couple worked a farm in Portage and the husband left his wife about two years ago, coming to Rochester, where he took up with another woman. His wife says she did not see him after his desertion of her until he was arraigned in police court to-day.

INSTRUCTIVELY CRIMINAL

Views of Noted Alienist Thinks of Detective Burn, Cleveland's

Cleveland, Jan. 1.—New York's noted alienist, Dr. Allen McLane Hamilton, published his article to-days. The salient points in it follows;

"An original, ignorant woman, who came to possess a highly developed knowledge of human nature.

"Her criminal career shows a logical evolution of method.

"She is not insane, but instinctively criminal.

"Certain signs of degeneration bear more or less relation to her development.

"Her eyes suggest degeneration, the left being at a lower level than the right.

"The ocular weakness gives the eyes a peculiar shifty expression, common among neurotic individuals.

"Philographs show a hard, cruel face, the jaw suggesting determination.

"She exercised the subtlest kind of intelligence and personal influence was secondary.

"She swindled for the gratification of vanity, and to keep up a kind of appearance.

"Like Mme. Humbert, she appears to have been callous, sentimental at times, and always cunning.

"Her methods need not imply the exercise of any occult power, but anything but the peculiar personality of a remarkable woman.

"She always exercised an unusually efficient power of suggestion.

"It is difficult to find in her conduct any suggestion of insanity or any mental state that would bring with it irresponsibility.

"She is the product of twentieth century high finance."

Attorney J. P. Lawley's law partner said to-day that Mrs. Chadwick would probably be bailed out to-morrow. Arrangements are now being made to secure bail for her. In the event of her release, she would be immediately arrested by the state authorities on the various charges of forgery against her.

Dr. J. Aldrich, an alienist, called upon Mrs. Chadwick at the county jail to-day and had a conference with her.

Dr. Aldrich has been called as an expert in a number of criminal cases heretofore, where the defense claimed insanity.

The visit of Dr. Aldrich to-day is taken to indicate the line of defence that will be set up in Mrs. Chadwick's case.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Toronto Island Breakwater Extension," will be received at this office until Thursday, January 26, 1905, inclusively, for the construction of an extension to the Breakwater on the South side of Toronto Island, City of Toronto, in the County of York, Ontario, according to a plan and a specification to be seen at the office of H. A. Gray, Esq., Engineer in charge of harbour works, Ontario, Confederation Life Building, Toronto, and at the Department of Public Works, Ottawa.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed form supplied, and signed with the actual signatures of tenderers.

An accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, for seven thousand dollars ($7,000.00), must accompany each tender. The cheque will be forfeited if the party tendering decline the contract or fail to complete the work contracted for, and will be returned in case of non-acceptance of tender.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
FRED. GELINAS,
Secretary.

ONTARIO ELECTIONS

Corrupt Practices.

We, the undersigned candidates in the Provincial election, beg to call the attention of the electors to the following provisions of the Election law respecting bribery;

Any person who gives or lend, or agrees, or offers, or promises to give or lend any money, offices, employment or other value to any voter, to induce him to vote or to refrain from voting, is guilty of bribery within the meaning of the Election Act, and is liable under the amended Act to imprisonment for six months, WITHOUT THE OPTION OF A FINE, and the receiver of any money or other consideration is equally as guilty of bribery as the giver.

We have mutually pledged ourselves to do everything in our power to prevent bribery or corrupt practices by any person or persons on our behalf and that no person either giving or receiving a bribe shall be protected by either of us from the utmost penalty of the law.

It will be seen from the above that neither of us can personally or through another, give or lend any money during the election.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, excepting 8 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres more or less.

ENTRY

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situate, or at the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES

A ntier who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act, and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), or any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

3) If a settler was entitled to and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

4) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same town, township, or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of clauses (2), (3) or (4) must cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, or substitute a 20 head of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, and have besides 40 acres substantially fenced.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homestead to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd of June, 1889.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled and the land may again be thrown open for entry.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT

Should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

INFORMATION

Newly arrived immigrants will receive, at the Immigration Office in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing lands to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Land Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

JAMES A. SMART,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Co.
INCORPORATED

Capital $5,000,000. Shares $1.00 Each, Par Value, Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable.

We have just secured the agency for the above splendid proposition, of which we have been allotted a block of Treasury stock. We can confidently recommend this as a safe and, we believe, exceedingly profitable investment. Every dollar of stock is guaranteed by twenty year, full paid, gold bond, delivered to purchaser of stock, from an investment Company that has no interest whatever in the company, but who are disposing of the debentured bonds to the public, and, under their charter, they are compelled to deposit securities to an equal amount, to the State Treasurer under which they received their charter, thereby doubly securing the payment of their gold bonds.

The Company's property, which is now past the project stage, is known to be marvellously rich in gold.

Following is the opinion of G. W. Miller, Mining Engineer, formerly with the Boston and Montana Consolidated Copper and Silver Mining Company, U. S.; Simmer and Jack Mining Co., Limited, Klandsfontain, South Africa:—

"You have here a most valuable property and one of the strongest fissure veins that can be found in any part of the world.

"With the present development of the Management Mine, I estimate that 100 tons per day can be extracted, which will mill from $15.00 to $20.00 per ton. The total cost of mining the ore, delivering and milling, I place at about $4.00 per ton. With increased milling capacity, it is safe to say that the mine can furnish 100 tons of $15.00 ore, which would yield a clear profit of $ 1.00 per ton, or $1,150.00 per day (owned by 2,000,000 of per annum). Estimated total value of ore in sight, $2,500,000."

During the past summer, a party of the Company Directors visited the property, taking with them, Amos P. Brown, Ph D., Mining Engineer and Professor of Geology and Mineralogy at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Brown writes as follows:—

"In regards to the amount of ore available at the mines at Sinclair, I saw on the dumps several thousand tons, probably 5000 tons would be an under-estimate.

"As to the size of the ore body itself, from what I saw of the geological structure, I think that there is every indication that it will be found to extend underground as far as the out-croppings on the south side of the gulch. This would mean as ore body large enough to keep the present mill running for many years to come."

A write up of the proposition will appear in these columns in a few days. Watch for it. In the meantime we will be pleased to furnish full information to investors.

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

The Salido Gold and Copper Company

Incorporated under the laws of Arizona, with a capital of $3,0c 000 forever on-assessable divided into shares of $1 each, par value. All investments insured Granite Securities Company.

The "SALIDO GOLD COPPER COMPANY" enterprise offers attractions to the investors of the country, that without thorough investigation, would scarcely seem probable. If only a fraction is realized of what any prudent business man in his own affairs would regard as absolutely certain, the enterprise must prove abundantly successful and exceedingly profitable.

SALE OF STOCK

The company will prosecute the work of development with all the diligence that the cash in the treasury will permit and circumstances warrant, and to this end a small amount of the treasury stock is now placed upon the market, in blocks of not less than One Hundred Shares. The par value of the stock is One Dollar per share, fully paid and forever non-assessable.

The company reserves the right to advance the price of stock without notice.

REMEMBER

First—That all payments for treasury stock go into the treasury for development work and not into the pockets of the promoters.

Second—There are no salaried officers.

Third—The incorporators have put their own good money into this enterprise and being business men, intend to do business along business lines.

Fourth—That this company is honest.

Fifth—If you are thinking of investing in mining stocks this is worthy of your careful investigation.

OTHER PROPERTIES

This Company owns four other Gold and Copper Mines, which title is now process in the laws of Mexico. As soon as title is perfected, we shall commence develop them as we certainly expect something very great from these properti ur assays taken have been of the very best, showing gold and copper from $6 $122. 30 per ton.

I have secured a small block of this stock, which I offer at the following prices: Unguaranteed 40 cents per share, guaranteed 80 cents per share. These prices will only prevail for a short time, as the number of shares for sale at this price is limited. The Shares will then be advanced to 40 cents for the unguaranteed and 80 cents for the guaranteed. I can unhesitatingly recommend this investment to the Canadian public.

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Rare Chance to Secure a Paying Investment

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY

has placed a small block of their stock at the disposal of Canadian investors. This stock is sure to rapidly advance in price. The Company is now arranging to instal the power plant and a mill and cyanide plant for the reduction of their ore to a bullion on the property. They have arranged with a Trust Company having assets of $1,500,000 to put up a bond guaranteeing investors the repayment of the full amount invested. This makes investors absolutely safe. By no possibility can they lose a dollar.

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY was organized November 21, 1902, under the laws of the State of Idaho. The capitalization is one million shares of the par value of one dollar each, fully paid and non-assessable; of the 1,000,000 shares 400,000 have been set aside as treasury stock.

THE BOISE BASIN came into prominence shortly after Grimes and his party of prospectors entered the Basin country in 1862; their entrance was into the northern portion, and one discovery of rich placer ground followed another until the news of the rich finds reached the outside world, when a veritable stampede for Boise Basin commenced; towns sprang up and grew together in an incredibly short time; the rush of people to Idaho City made it a place of 20,000 people in 1867, having a business street over a mile long lined with two-story buildings streets and sidewalks filled with people day and night, business and money on every hand and the city bearing the proud distinction of being the capital of the territory of Idaho. Wages ran from $6 to $10 a day and not infrequently forty and fifty men worked on a single placer claim; the clean-up for a day's work in many instances ran close to $5,000; large fortunes were made in a few days by washing the golden sands in a pan, so eager was the quest for the shining metal that the streets of Idaho City were dug up and washed and re-washed, and the soil removed from under the houses and places of business. So extensive was the search for the hidden treasure that not only all of the low ground was worked but the foot of the mountains surrounding the city have been washed away, filling up the lower portions of the basin and extending into the town, where one of the buildings has been buried under the tailings from the numerous placer workings.

LOCATION—The property of the Gold Coin Mining Company is situated in the Gambrinus Mining District, Boise County, Idaho, on the range of mountains between Moore Creek and Elk Creek, which forms a part of the eastern boundary of the famous Boise Basin and into which these mountains are drained. The property is located ten miles northeast of Idaho City, from which place there are good wagon roads either to the workings on top of the mountain or to the place of the proposed tunnels in the gulch which crosses the Tunnelsite claim.

THE CLAIMS—The Company owns a group of four contiguous lode mining claims and the Gold Coin Millsite: the names of the lode claims are the Tunnelsite, Blue Bell, Pennsylvania and Homestake, each being a full claim 600 feet wide by 1,500 feet long, excepting the Tunnelsite claim, which is 150 feet wide at the west end and 1,055 feet long. It was necessary to stake the claim in this form on account of joining the Washington property on the south and the Salt Rock property on the west, these properties being prior locations to the Tunnelsite claim. The four lode claims aggregate nearly 80 acres of rich mineral land.

QUEBEC GOVERNOR IS ENTHUSIASTIC

The Hon. Mr. Forget is now Visiting Montreal

GREAT BELIEVER IN WEST

Renews Prophecy That Territories Will Contain a Million People Within Five Years

Montreal, December 31.—The Hon. Mr. Forget, Lieutenant-Governor of the North-West Territories, has arrived in the city from Regina with Mrs. Forget.

With regard to the future of the great west, Mr. Forget is as enthusiastic as ever, and his twenty-five years residence there has qualified him to judge. He renews his prophecy made a year ago that within five years there would be at least a million people resident in the Territories.

Business is also growing. Regina, the capital with its 6,000 inhabitants, has already six banks, all doing well. In Edmonton, the chief city of the Saskatchewan, there are no less than seven banks. As an instance of the intelligence of the people, His Honor stated that in the North-West Territories there are no less than sixty newspapers published, four weeklies and one daily appearing in the town of Regina alone.

Hon. Mr. Forget said that a difference of opinion existed in the minds of business men as to the probable duration of the present real estate values in Winnipeg, Edmonton and other western towns. They were so high that men of conservative tendencies feared a reaction might set in, while others contended that the present values were quite justified by the volume of people coming into the country, and the wonderful benefits to be derived from the many new railways which are bound to be built in the very near future.

The Lieutenant-Governor then described the change in the general appearance of the North-West. The lonesome aspect of the country has been done away with as nearly all the land along the railway has been taken up. The summer fairs also indicate the prosperity of the country. They are held in the summer because in the fall the farmers are too busy looking after their grain to attend.

Mr. Forget hesitated to express his opinion as to the advisability of creating one or more self-governing provinces in the North-West Territories. This was treading on ground a constitutional governor should not touch. People are divided, he added, for while some were in favor of one province, others would not like to see the Territories divided north and south, into two provinces, and still a third lot of people opined for a division east and west. Whichever way the new province was made, he did not think the Province of Manitoba would be extended west to Moose Jaw, as has been championed by the Greater Manitoba party. If, however, this project was carried out, the boundary of Manitoba would be extended westward no less than 187 miles. In case the one great province theory prevailed, it would extend about 755 miles east and west, and 800 miles north and south."

Again, referring to the future political status of the Canadian North-West, he said that the division of the Territories into two provinces might be a fair arrangement, the dividing line running north and south at the 110th meridian. Thus a grain raising province would be created in the east and a ranching province in the west. This line, he added, would scarcely touch or interfere with any vested interests. He also expressed the belief that when Sir John A. Macdonald created Alberta, Saskatchewan, Assiniboia and Arthabaska as provisional districts for postal purposes, he had in his mind that these would one day be so many provinces.

"I fully believe that within twenty-five years' time the North-West Territories will contain a greater population than that possessed today by the whole Dominion, and that the majority of the representatives in the House of Commons will come from that section of Canada," concluded His Honor.

A BOLD MURDER

Outrage Is Said to Be Committed on a Subject of British Subject in Spanish Beat

New York, Dec. 31.—A Tangier, Morocco, despatch to the Herald, dated Dec. 28, says;

In the garden of a British subject, only one mile from Tangier, a bold murder was committed by robbers last night. Moors who entered garden shot dead a Spaniard employed on the place, and carried away four cows belonging to the British owners.

In the affray one of the robbers was severely wounded by the wife of the Spaniard.

It is reported from Tetuan that the garrison there, which had received no pay for two months, deserted yesterday, and fled from the town.

A TERRIBLE RECORD

Twenty Persons Killed by Fire in Montreal in 1904

Montreal, Dec. 31.—According to statistics completed in the Fire Department, it is shown that during the present year no less than 20 persons lost their lives in the city by fires. There was also one fireman killed. This is the worst record the city has had for many years.

It is also shown that from the generous way in which money has been voted to the Fire Committee, that many improvements will be effected in 1905. There will be an endeavor to fill the demands for improvements made by the Fire Underwriters.

This Company is the owner of 70,000 acres of very rich, fertile lands in the Province of Pinar del Rio, Cuba. This land is suitable to the growth of the finest quality of tobacco, oranges, lemons, pineapples and other citrous fruits

A small portion of this estate produced last year a large percentage on the total authorized capital of this company.

One acre produced last year $2700 in tobacco. The revenue-producing powers of this estate will not be reduced by sale of lands, as the cultivated portion will be increased by additional plantation.

The lands offered for sale can be made as productive within a short period as those at present cultivated.

The estate is abundantly watered by numerous streams and fresh water springs.

The climate is one perpetual June, no fogs, no mists, no yellow fever.

Flowers bloom the year round.

Game and fish aboud.

The temperature is even, so that catarrh is unheard of.

Abundance of water and perpetual grass makes stock raising an assured success.

New York markets are at its command for all its products.

The estate borders upon Gandiana Bay, with a sea frontage of about twelve miles and a deep water, sheltered harbor.

Cuba has only now become open to modern development, and its progress is sure to be rapid.

This is the opportunity for the man of small means to obtain a home and subsequent wealth, for the man of means to obtain a profitable investment.

This Company is now offering land in blocks of 10 acres or more at $10.00 per acre.

Stock at par or strip entitling the owner to an option to take land at $10.00, or stock at par, for a limited period

Only 10,000 acres will be offered at $10.00 per acre, of which 2,000 acres are already sold

The second 10,000 acres will be sold at $20.00 per acre or over within a few months.

The balance of the estate to be disposed of 30,000 acres, will be raised to $50.00 per acre or over.

As the price of land is raised the price of stock will also advance.

Purchase now and save money.

Terms—25 per cent cash; 25 per cent. 30 days; 25 per cent. 60 days; 25 per cent. 90 days.

Application to be made to GEORGE F DAVIS, General Manager, 106 King Street, West, Toronto.

Lung, Throat and Catarrhal Troubles

Cold in the Head Cured Quickly if You Breathe Fragrant, Healing

Catarrhozone

The ordinary method of treating catarrh by the stomach is a very indirect way and, as experience has demonstrated, a very useless method to employ.

Fragrant, healing Catarrhozone, is breathed into the air, laden with minute particles of this healing balsamic liquid, spreads itself over the whole area of inflammation.

It reaches the very root of disease instantly destroying by its antiseptic properties the germ life which excites and maintains the disease. Its soothing and healing action is at once apparent to the whole diseased surfaces. It cures quickly and it cures permanently.

We affirm that no proprietary medicine has ever brought forth from the people as many voluntary testimonials as Catarrhozone has received.

MRS. M. J. WHITNEY, Clay Street, Topeka, Kan., was cured of nasal catarrh, and say, "I owe Catarrhozone an immense debt of gratitude. It cured me of the most disagreeable catarrh after many doctors had pronounced my case incurable. I do not cough any more, my breath is sweet, and my respiration regular since using Catarrhozone.

MRS. JAMES TWEEDIE, of Jay Bridge, says; "For years my daughter doctored for catarrh. She had dropping in the throat, hawking, nausea, and could not sleep at night. The first days use of Catarrhozone benefitted and it cured so the catarrh never returned."

MR. R. SHELDON, of Leamington, Ont., says; "For two years I unsuccessfully sought a remedy to cure my son of catarrh but permanent results were not attained until Catarrhozone was used. It cured my little boy like magic and he has been quite free from catarrh ever since."

REV. D. R. SMITH, of Whitehead, N.B., says; "Catarrhozone permanently cured me of chronic catarrh of the nose and throat from which I suffered for many years, I heartily recommend Catarrhozone."

MR. R. McCALLUM, of Spring Brook, Ont., says; "A sample of Catarrhozone benefitted me more than years of treatment with doctors, and by using the dollar outfit I was completely cured in a few weeks. I recommend Catarrhozone as the most satisfactory cure for catarrh on the Market. Every word said for it is true."

MR. S. T. WRIGHT of Steeds Mills Ont., says; "I had a bad attack of sore throat, with inflamed tonsils and sore chest. I inhaled Catarrhozone and it cured my trouble. I greatly admire its pleasant and soothing effect."

MR. JAMES FERGUSON, of Perth, Ont., writes:—"I have used Catarrhozone for sore throat and cold in the head and find it a good remedy. I highly recommend it."

MISS CLARA B. COLBY, of London, Ont., writes:—"I had a continuous cold in the head for years, and never used anything giving such quick results as Catarrhozone. I am delighted at last to find a remedy that positively cures colds. I strongly advocate Catarrhozone; it cures every time."

Catarrhozone cures without drugs and disagreeable medicine. It is Nature's cure—soothing, healing and pleasant to use. You simply inhale the medicated vapor of Catarrhozone through a Catarrhozone Inahler and get cured quickly. Two months treatment costs only one dollar. It can be sent by mail and used right at home any time during the night or day. Sold by druggists or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., or Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

Day and evening classes will re-open at the Business College on Tuesday, January third.

Peat Development

"Peat for Everybody" is the motto of Mr. Wilson Irwin, of Toronto. Mr. Irwin is interested with Mr. Alex. Dobson, of Beaverton, in the big plant at Caledonia Springs, which will produce fifty tons per day next year. The quality of this product has been fully tested in Winnipeg during the last few weeks, and a company has been formed there with a capital of $200,000 to develop large peat bogs in Eastern Manitoba and Western Ontario. Mr. Irwin is confident that in a few years peat will compose a large part of the fuel used in Ontario and Manitoba.

The Late Miss Edith Pearce

On Saturday the sad news reached town of the death in Kansas City of Miss Edith Pearce, second daughter of the late Edg. Pearce, County Clerk and Treasurer. Miss Pearce passed away from an attack of typhoid fever. She was ill only a few days, and her demise is a terrible shock to her family and many friends in Peterborough. She had been residing in Kansas City for the past few years. The remains will be brought home for interment. The surviving members of the family are Mrs. Pearce, mother of the deceased, Mrs. Sherwood and Miss Lillian Pearce, sisters, and a brother, Ernest, city engineer of Newport News, Virginia.

Delivery Rigs to Form in Procession This Morning

At 11 o'clock the delivery rigs of the town are expected to form in procession on Brock street, between Water and George streets. They will proceed to the market square, where Mr. Roy will photograph them. This will be quite an interesting event as there are nearly 50 delivery rigs, many of them very handsome.

Johnston, Begley and Crowe, if elected as aldermen, are pledged to a policy of fairness to all classes alike. They are keen and wide awake representatives of the industrial classes

LOCAL OPTION IN SMITH

Voting Will Take Place on the Local Option By-law

The local option by-law will be voted on to-day in Smith township, and the result will be watched with interest. There are four hotels in the township, viz.:—Chemong Park hotel, conducted by George Brown; T. Eastwood's hotel at Hall's Bridge; J. E. Kearney's at Young's Point; and William Brooks at Young's Point.

The by-law will go into effect in the first of May next, if carried, so on that date the licenses at present existing will run out.

HER 100TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. A. Fennell, of Montreal, Grandaunt of Mr. Robert Fair.

An very interesting event took place in Montreal on Dec. 27th, when Mrs. S. Fennell celebrated her 100th birthday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. G. O. Stanton.

Mrs. Fennell is a grand-aunt of Mr. Robert Fair, of Peterborough. She is still in good health and is able to read without glasses. She was born in Shercock, Cavan County, Ireland, Dec. 27th, 1804, and came to this country in 1820, settling in Cavan township. Her maiden name was Martha McCamus, and she married Mr. Simon Fennell, of Cobourg. Three children are living. They are Mr. John Fennell, wholesale hardware merchant, Berlin; Rev. Joseph Fennell, of Hamilton, Ont., and Mrs. G. O. Stanton, of Montreal, with whom Mrs. Fennell resides.

A SECRET VOTE

Catholics and Protestants Should be Treated Alike.

The Times is pleased to note that Rev. Father Minehan, of Toronto, has raised the question of introducing the ballot in elections for Separate School trustees. It is time that our Roman Catholic fellow ratepayer was placed on an equal footing with his Protestant neighbor in school matters. We know that these sentiments will not meet with the approval of the clergy of that church. It is the clergy that control the schools, and a secret ballot no doubt would be a long step in the direction of placing them in the hands and under the control of the laymen.

At the nomination in one of the Toronto wards, Father Minehan spoke boldly on the question, advocating the election of laymen to the Board and the use of the ballot. He is reported to have said; "No one has a right to dictate to voters how they should use their franchise." There is no doubt whatever that he expressed the feeling of very many Separate School supporters. Throughout the Province of Ontario there is a distinct and growing dissatisfaction with the management of the schools. They do not give the same results as the Public Schools, and parents are fully aware that their children begin life handicapped by the inadequacy of their education as compared with their Protestant neighbors. The ballot would not remove all cause of complaint, perhaps, but it would give the Separate School supporters an opportunity to get them into the hands of laymen, who are more practical in their ideas than the clergy. It has been found impossible to make any headway in the agitation for the change owing to the opposition of the ecclesiastics. It must encourage the advocates of the ballot, however to find the leaven of liberalism working among the clergy, as evidenced in Father Minehan's remarks.

To the Electors of the Town of Peterborough:

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I have again the honor to request your vote and influence in my favor as a candidate for election to the Council of 1905. If favored I will expect myself

TO-DAY'S BALLOTS

There are nineteen names for aldermen on the ballot papers to-day and voters should read carefully the list before marking their ballots, to make sure of not missing inadvertently any name or names against which they are particularly anxious to mark the designating cross. The names of the candidates seeking election are arranged alphabetically.—a system adopted on all ballot papers.—Frank Adams being first and Geo. J. Tovey last. There are twelve aldermen to be elected, and consequently each voter is entitled to mark his cross against the names of twelve of the nineteen candidates. More than 12 crosses on a ballot paper for aldermen spoils that ballot. And above all, each voter to-day should vote seriously and intelligently, making the best possible choice out of the material submitted to him.

Dashes Here and There by Times Reporters on their Rounds

—This is the season for good resolutions.

—There will be no issue of The Times to-morrow.

Diaries and all blank books for office at Times Bookstore.

—The Collegiate Institute and Public Schools will re-open to-morrow.

—Subscriptions renewed at Times Bookstore for all magazines and papers.

—Don't forget the reception to men at the Y.M.C.A. to-day for two to 6 p.m.

—The Times wishes its readers one and all a happy and prosperous New Year.

—Yesterday evening, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt and Rev. J. C. Davidson exchanged pulpits.

—A lady should be willing to stand up for a man who gives her his seat in the electric car.

—The end of the year is the time when the young make plans for the future, and the old look back with sad eyes upon the past.

—Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, the well known sign makers, have executed a very striking picture of Mr. T. E. Bradburn, the Liberal Conservative candidate, and have placed it in position above the entrance to the opera house.

—A big brick wall of a shed at the rear of the Oriental hotel, fell in the other day and covered up several crates of English crockery in Mr. C. E. Routley's establishment. The wall was about 100 feet long, 16 feet high and 14 inches thick, and damaged Mr. Routley's goods to a large extent.

If you are in favor of an economic and progressive policy for Peterborough, vote for Johnston, Begley and Crowe as aldermen for 1905.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Miss Marion Hastings, Lowther avenue, Toronto, is the guest of Miss Nellie Whiten.

—Mr. Robt Munn, student in medicine at Trinity, Toronto, spent the holiday in town.

—Mrs. D. H. Runnings, and her charming family of three little children, are visiting Mrs. Running's mother, Mrs. Regan, town.

—Miss Irene Parks entertained her young friends at a pleasing driving party on Friday night. At the conclusion supper was served at Oakhurst, Gilmour street, followed by an informal dance.

The Trades and Labor Council expects every union man to do his duty and vote for the Labor Candidates for Aldermen, Johnston, Begley and Crowe.

JUST IN TIME.

A motorman in Chicago ran his car onto the approach of an open bridge but stopped it with the fender actually overhanging the gulf below. He wouldn't want to repeat the experiment because the chances are that he'd never again have the same good fortune.

Once in a while some one who has traveled to the very edge of the danger line of stomach disease stops just in time to save his health. But the majority of people go across the line, and slight symptoms of indigestion grow to disease of the stomach, involving the other organs of digestion and nutrition.

Indigestion and other forms of stomach "trouble" are perfectly and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the whole body by enabling the perfect digestion and assimilation of food.

$3,000 FORFEIT will be paid by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y., if they cannot show the original signature of the individual volunteering the testimonial below, and also of the writers of every testimonial among the thousands which they are constantly publishing, thus proving their genuineness.

"I have been suffering for about eight years," writes Mrs. H. Pierce of Millsprings, Ky., "I have had several doctors to treat me—some for female weakness and others for stomach trouble, but received no relief. When I wrote you for advice I was hardly able to work, and you advised me what to do. I took nine bottles, five of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' four of 'Favorite Prescription,' also two vials of the 'Pellets.' Dr. Pierce's medicines will do all that you claim for them. Believe I would have been in my grave if I had not taken them."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

CARD TO THE ELECTORS

Municipal Council of 1905.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

As a candidate for election to the Municipal Council of 1905, I solicit your assistance to effect my election.

I am in favor of municipal ownership of our utilities and a strong policy to encourage the location here of additional manufactures. By push and energy I think this can be accomplished, and if favored with your preference I will endeavor to show that my work will merit approval.

Yours respectfully,
G. J. TOVEY.

THE JAPS WILL FIGHT TILL NONE ARE LEFT

They will Never Give up in the Struggle With Russia Until Victorious or Until They Have no Fighters Living.

Special to The Times

London, January 4.—"This war will end when Russia asks for terms of peace, or, in the contrary event, when the last Japanese creature of either sex, capable of bearing arms, dies fighting against her." Such was the emphatic declaration of Mr. Arthur Diosy, F.R.G.S., founder of the Japan Society, this week. Intervention he regarded as practically out of the question; Japan would take care not to be swindled a second time. The struggle was likely to affect the commerce of the world to a greater extent than any other war in history. It was a conflict between a retrograde type of civilisation, represented by a so-called Christian nation, and a free and enlightened type, represented by a so-called heathen people. The real cause of the war was the present condition and the future of China. It was the ambition of Japan to awaken the Chinese, and she would have every advantage in attempting their regeneration. Russian success would not, in the lecturer's opinion, be well for British trade. Wherever a Chinaman had come under the thumb of the Russians, he found it to his advantage to buy other than British goods, and if Russia became all-powerful in China, there would be a great increase in the sale of German, Belgian and Swiss products until such time as Russia herself could supply the articles. There was undoubtedly a danger of a commercial rivalry stronger and fiercer than then the world had ever seen, for China was likely to become one of the greatest, if not the greatest, of industrial nations. In the interval, at all events, this country could keep its mills going to their fullest extent, for China would need plant and tools, and a great deal of these would be supplied by Great Britain. Those who engaged in this business must do so on scientific lines; they must take a leaf out of the German book in the Far East, and several leaves out of that of the Japanese. It would be worth doing.

CARRIES WIFE TO AWFUL DEATH

Infuriated Man Holds Woman on Railroad Track Till Train Kills Them Both

PLEADINGS OF NO AVAIL

A. R. Hemphill Remained Away From Home at Carbondale and Resisted Appeals to Return

Carbondale, Ill., January 4.—Pinioned between the rails in front of an Illinois Central train approaching at a speed of fifty miles an hour, Mrs. A. R. Hemphill, of De Soto, met a fearful death today as a result of her husband's frenzy.

Powerless to escape, the woman was held on the tracks until the train bore down upon the couple, literally cutting them to pieces.

Hemphill had come to this city several days ago. Learning the whereabouts of her husband, Mrs. Hemphill drove to Carbondale in a light wagon and induced the the man to leave his companions.

The couple had only gone half a miles on the journey home when Hemphill became infuriated. He started back to Carbondale, and was followed by his wife, who pleaded with him to remain with her.

"Don't drunk any more whisky," pleaded the wife, and then, pointing down the track, she called the man's attention to the approach of the train.

Hemphill suddenly seised her and, throwing her to the tracks, held her there until the train ended both their lives.

NEARLY MOBBED GRAND DUKE

Russian Audience Became Wild as They Saw Boldwood Actress Recognized by Czar's Cousin

St. Petersburg, January 4.—Grand Duke Michael, cousin of the Czar, was nearly mobbed today while attending a performance at the St. Michael theater. Among the artists there appeared on the stage a well-known French actress, who, rumor says, has been recently the object of much attention from the Grand Duke. She was arrayed in a splendid toilette and covered with precious jewels.

As she approached the proscenium box where the Prince was sitting, the latter was seen by the audience to make a gesture of recognition to her. Immediately there was an uproar and a spectator shouted:

"Those jewels were bought with the money appropriated for the navy."

Others in the audience shouted that money was thrown away by the members of the Imperial family, while so many Russian soldiers were dying of privation on the field of war. The demonstration became so threatening that the Grand Duke had to withdraw by a side entrance. The audience gathered in the lobby until teh police dispersed it, until the police disperped it.

THE EMPIRE AND THE COLONIES

Deputation Received by Mr. Balfour at the Foreign Office

MAINTENANCE OF THE NAVY

Necessity of the Complete Co-operation From all Parts of the Empire

London, Dec. 31.—Mr. Balfour, at the Foreign Office to-daay, received a deputation from the Imperial Federation Defence Committee, on the question of Colonial co-operation in the maintenance of the Navy. With the Prime Minister was the Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Sir Michael Hicks Beach, M.P., introduced the deputation, which included the Duke of Norfolk, Viscount Hampden, Viscount Hardinge, Lord Avebury, Lord Congleton, Sir H. Seymour King, M.P., Sir John Colomo, M.P., Sir W. Hart Dyke, M.P., Sir J. F. Flannery, M.P., Sir A. Rollit, M.P., Sir Edgar Vincent, M.P., Sir T. S. V. Angier, Sir. G. H. Chubb, Sir T. S. V. Angier, Sir. G. H. Chubb, Sir Douglas Fox, Colonel Sir H. M. Hosier, Rear-Admiral Sir W. A. D. Aclan, Admiral the Hon. Sir E. R. Freemantle, Sir Harry H. Johnston, Sir F. Dixon-Hartland, M.P., and Sir J. West Ridgeway.

Sir John Colomb read a memorandum in which the necessity of the common co-operation between all parts of the Empire for the maintenance of a Navy essential to the preservation of their maritime interests was advocated. To ensure the safety of our east and ever-growing imperial sea trade the people of the United Kingdom maintained a Navy at the cost of over 35 millions per annum, representing the expenditure upon that Navy of five shillings out of every pound taken out of their pockets in taxation. It was now generally recognised that the Navy was the common shield of the empire, and that preparation for local defence was conditional upon the power of the Navy to retain the command of the sea. They cordially welcomed the signs of the growing interests of the self-governing Colonies in the Navy, and believed that, wisely availed of now, it might be the key to that closer union of the Empire, which must be based on common interests if it was to endure. They cordially welcomed the policy of calling any Colonial Conference. They earnestly submitted that maratime security was so vital to the preservation of the Empire that the question of Colonial co-operation in the maintenance of the Navy demanded premancy consideration at any such conference.

CANADA'S SHARE.

Sir Michael Hicks Beach, in introducing the deputation, mentioned that it consisted of between forty and fifty peers and members of Parliament, some ex-Governors of the Colonies, members of Chambers of Commerce, and leading representatives of the banking, shipping, and mercantile communities. As long ago as 1897, Sir Michael continued, he commented on the fact that our Navy existed not merely for the defence of the United Kingdom and its commerce, but also for the defence of the Colonies and their commerce. It was not just that a necessary and common burden should be borne solely by forty millions of people in the United Kingdom and hardly at all by ten millions of the same race in other self-government Colonies. They did not, however, complain of anything in the past as regards the Colonies; but to-day the deputation wanted to impress upon the Prime Minister what they believed to be South Africa and Australasia, while Canada did not contribute a cent in money. In the event of war it would be the trade and commerce of Canada and Australasia which would be the first to feel the importance of our possession of sea power. Mr. Balfour knew that he (Sir Michael) had had charge of the finances of this country. It was his deliberate conviction, looking to the enormous efforts now being made in all parts of the world by great Powers in increasing their naval strength, that, without recourse to a system of borrowrowing for current expenditure — which to his mind would be contrary to all sound finances (hear, hear), would be deeply injurious to the credit of this country, and would deprive us of the resources necessary for carrying out any great war—it would soon be impossible for the taxpayers of the United Kingdom to bear alone the vast and ever-increasing burden of the naval defences of the Empire.

MR. BALFOUR'S REPLY.

Mr. Balfour, who was well received and with whom was also the Colonial Secretary, said Sir Michael Hicks

SIX GENERATIONS

Illinois Family Boasts a Great-Great-Great-Grandmother Still Living

Chicago, January 4.—David Rose Chambers, a blue-eyed boy of Bushnell, Ill., will have the proud distinction of receiving a Christmas gift from his great-great-great-grandmother, probably the only child in the United States with such a relative. In Warren County, Ill., resides Mrs. Nancy G. Bond, and her nimble fingers have been engaged for many weeks in knitting mittens, stockings and other useful articles for several score of her descendants, among them being the great-great-great-grandson, the two-year-old David Chambers, of Bushnell. The birth of the Chambers baby made un a group of six generations.

There are occasional instances where five generations are found, but these are very rare, and the sixth is so remarkable that, so far as known, there is none other on record. Major J. C. Bond, who married Nancy G. Stice, has been dead many years, but his widow still enjoys good health at the age of ninety-seven. Three children, Mrs. Susannah Johnson, of Youngstown, Ill.; Mrs. Sadie Campbell, of Oklahoma, and Mrs. Henry Staat of Greenbush, Ill., survive. Mrs. Bond has fourteen grandchildren, eighteen great-grandchildren, three great-great-grandchildren, and one great-great-great-grandchild, the Chambers boy.

The chain of six generations is made up of her daughter, Mrs. Susannah Johnson, of Youngstown, Ill.; J. C. Johnson, of Avon, Ill., who is the son of Mrs. Johnson and grandson of Mrs. Bond; Mrs. P. J. Karnes, of Galesburg, Ill., daughter of J. C. Johnson; Mrs. Milton Chambers, of Bushnell, Ill., who is the daughter of Mrs. Karnes, and finally the two-year-old son of Mrs. Chambers.

Mrs. Bond, who heads the genealogical line, was born in Kentucky, and is a grand-daughter of William Wilson, who was a Captain in the Revolutionary war.

MANAGER LASCHEUR'S "HIGH LIFES."

That Manager Lascheur and Capt. McEwen, of the "High Lifes" are going to allow their world renowned aggregation to fall into oblivion is strongly denied by a playing member. It is true that Manager Lascheur was "marked" while in Rochester, and his success at landing them was not the best. For a time they came fast and the outlook was very bright, but, unforseen accidents happened, and the present negotiations were at a standstill until Capt. Bobby McEwen came to the front, and rendered valuable assistance in getting away with the obstacles. Everything is coming nicely now, and the boys can again see themselves above water. The "High Lifes" are getting down to hard work, and are loosening up into fine condition. The players will take a spin to Ashburnham to-night.

P.S.—Fordward all challenges to box 81 L.2 C. The High Lifes' motto, "The faster they come the better we like 'em."

THE RING.

Mr. Archie Woods and Nichol H. Wilkes will pull off a big wrestling and boxing event, Saturday, January 7. They are going to a big expense of getting J. Edward, the hard hitting 122 pounder of Buffalo, N.Y., to meet Pete Barry of Toronto, the Canadian champion for 15 rounds at 122 pounds. This should prove a good drawing card as Edwards has a long list of victories and is rapidly coming to the front. Barry is training hard in Toronto, and will arrive in Peterborough on Thursday to put on the finishing touches. Barry wishes to say in regards to Green's challenge in the Review the other day, that he will fight him to a finish just as soon as he gets through with this fight, at 122 pounds, or if he wishes any number of rounds for a purse, winner take all. THE COUNCIL OF 1905 A PROGRESSIVE BODY

Men Who will Sit at the Council Board for the Coming Year

The result of Monday's voting has been the election of a Council for 1905 that may be regarded as a progressive body of men. This is what Peterborough needs at this period of her development—men who are alive to the natural advantages we possess, and who also have a proper regard for economy. The personnel of the Council is as follows:

Mr. George J. Tovey, who has the honor of heading the poll, is a metal artist in the employ of the Canadian General Electric Company. Mr. Tovey is an Englishman, who has paid considerable attention to municipal matters in the old country. He is highly thought of by all who know him, and will make an excellent Councillor.

Mr. Joseph Batten, who comes next in the number of votes polled, is a man of deeds, and not of words, although he can speak plainly and to the point when occasion requires it. Mr. Batten, who carries on a large blacksmithing business, has done splendid servace in the Council, particularly as chairman of the Property Committee, whose work in connection with overhauling and improving the town buildings is a credit to him and the committee. It is quite certain that the town's property was never so well cared for or in such good shape as at present.

Mr. Frank Adams, who is regarded as one of the best Councillors that ever sat at the board is a product of the union of the two municipalities of Peterborough and Ashburnham. Mr. Adams for many years filled the position of Reeve of the late village, and is slated by The Times as a coming Mayor. His handling of the finances of the corporation last year was most satisfactory, and his work in connection with the abolishing of frontage tax for cement sidewalks is most commendable.

Mr. E. F. Mason, who follows Mr. Adams in the number of votes polled, is one of Peterborough's successful business men. He has been careful in his work at the Council last year, and his re-election was naturally looked for. It is such men as Mr. Mason that should take an interest in our civic affairs.

Mr. Robert Hicks is another successful man of business, who has also made a success in his public career. Mr. Hicks believes in system and in having everything in proper order. He will tolerate no wrong-doing, no matter how trifling, and during the year in which he served at the Council board, he won the confidence of his colleagues as well as the ratepayers.

Mr. William Johnston, who is a contractor, is an able exponent of the principle of labor. Mr. Johnston is a most capable Alderman, and has done much to promote the interests of the town during his two terms at the Council board. While he pays due attention to the interests of the workingman, he is also careful to look after all other interests as well.

Mr. Adam Hall is another great gain for Peterborough. His election marks a new era, we hope, in municipal matters, when the affairs of the town will be managed as a business concern. Mr. Hall is one of our very best business men, and will bring into the Council his wide experience and wise counsel. His interests in Peterborough are large, and his best efforts, the ratepayers may be assured, will be given to the town.

Mr. Wm. Scott, who has served a year at the board, is still another successful business man. He has had considerable municipal experience, and his re-election was practically assured at the start. Mr. Scott has always been faithful to his trust, and The Times is pleased to see him in the new Council.

Mr. R. H. Leary, the well known livery man, is another valuable acquisition to the Council. He is sure to make a good representative. Mr. Leary is a worker, and may be classed as one of Peterborough's successful men. He is the right man in the right place.

Mr. Joseph Crowe, who enters the Council for the first time, is a moulder in the employ of the Wm. Hamilton Company. He is also treasurer of the 57th Band, and is very popular. Mr. Crowe is a labor man, and represents the labor interests in the Council.

Mr. Archibald McIntyre, who is a contractor, is well and favorably known. He possesses all the qualifications of a successful Alderman, and we are confident he will not disappoint his friends and supporters.

Mr. T. J. Begley is a printer by trade. He has lived all his life in Peterborough, where he is well and favorably known. He has taken a prominent part in labor matters and is conversant with questions concerning the large mass of Peterborough toilers. Mr. Begley will make a good Councillor.

RUSSIAN GARRISON AT PORT ARTHUR WILL GO TO JAPAN AS PRISONERS.

Stoessel and Other Russian Officers to Go Home on Parole--Japanese Troops Entered Several Forts Yesterday--Everything Wrecked.

A Mere Handful of Broken Men Will Leave the Debris-Strewn Desert, Once Russia's Greatest Military Pride—Russian Officers Estimate the Losses at a Conservative Figure—The Japanese Lost Between 80,000 and 100,000 Men in Taking the Fortress—All Russia is Stunned Over the News of the Fall of the Fortress.

Tokio, Jan. 4.—The capitulation terms indicate that the Russian rank and file of the garrison at Port Arthur will come to Japan as prisoners.

Tokio, Jan. 4.—The Japanese took possession of a number of forts of Port Arthur to-day.

The Russian officers and officials will be permitted to return to Russia upon parole, the officers retaining their sidearms.

Chefoo, Jan. 4.—The fort where the negotiations for the surrender of Port Arthur were held is called the "Big Eagle's Nest," and it is near Rihlung Mountain. According to reports of the negotiations received here, General Stoessel's proposal that the Russian sick and wounded should remain under Russian medical supervision and that the Japanese transfer the non-combatants was acceptable to General Nogi, but the Russian proposal that the Russians should march out under arms caused some controversy.

Midshipman Kilsorich, commanding alaunch which left Port Arthur at eight o'clock last night, said to-day; "No shot has been fired at Port Arthur for two days. That which Chinese heard last night was the Russians blowing up forts, ships, magazines, warehouses, docks, and everything valuable. When I left Port Arthur the fortress and the town was almost completely wrecked. The warships died hard. Several explosions were necessary to complete the wrecking of them. The Sevastopol after catching fire exploded, and turned turtle. The harbor entrance is blocked with sunken ships. The only navigable craft now at Port Arthur are the hospital ships Kasean and Mongolia.

HARBOR BLOCKED.

"You need expect no more ships from Port Arthur as these are unable to leave on account of the blocking of the harbor.

"Colonel Reiss represented General Stoessel in the negotiations for surrender. A table was spread with wine and food at the Eagle's Nest, and the envoys treated each other with great courtesy which quickly melted into informal good fellowship. Each complimented the other on the bravery of their forces.

NOT 5,000 MEN LEFT.

"The statement that there remained 5,000 fighting men at Port Arthur is misleading, because a majority of these are sick or slightly wounded. There have been for some time no proper bandages, and wounds have been dressed with hemp," said Midship man Kilsorich. "The news that Gen. Stoessel was prepared to treat for surrender was received by the soldiers with the feeling of the utmost the soldiers because they were allowed to rest. When the men were not fighting they were tunneling on half rations.

"The bombardment of the last day or so, was terrific. Everybody remarked that even General Stoessel must see the futility of further resistance when our guns are unable to reply.

"We might have surrendered a month ago with the highest honor. That resistance has continued effectively since is scarcely less than a miracle.

WHAT JAPS GAIN.

"It is a mere handful of broken men who surrendered and a debris-strewn desert which the Japanese gain. Not one of Port Arthur's magnificent public works remains.

"The feeling created when General Stoessel took the unwelcome step was generally one of relief.

"The soldiers for whom one month's

JAP TERMS ACCEPTED.

Tokio, Jan. 3.—The text of General Nogi's telegram announcing the capitulation of the Russian forces at Port Arthur is as follows;

"The plenipotentiaries of both parties concluded their negotiations today at 4.30 o'clock.

"The Russian Commissioners accepted on the whole the conditions stipulated by us and consented to capitulate.

"The document has been prepared and signatures are now being affixed.

"Simultaneously with the conclusion of negotiations both armies suspended hostilities.

"It is expected that the Japanese army will enter the city of Port Arthur to-morrow."

MUST FLEE OR DISARM.

Berlin, Jan. 4.—The arrival at Taing tau, Shantung Peninsula, China, from Port Arthur of [illegible] Russian confirmed. The Governor of Kiao Chau, in pursuance of his permanent instructions, will require the vessels to disarm or leave Tsingtau within 24 hours. The crews and troops will remain in the German district until the end of the war, or an arrangement regarding them is reached with Japan.

TO RETAKE FORTRESS.

Paris, Jan. 4.—According to the semi official advices received by the Foreign Office regarding the terms for the capitulation of Port Arthur, signed last night, the Russian officers but not the rank and file will be permitted to return to Russia, but this is not positive. The Russian officials in-oline to the view that the war will go on without reference to Port Arthur. The Russian naval attache says the mission of the Russian second Pacific squadron was to save Port Arthur. Therefore since this mission cannot be accomplished the squadron will probably wait until reinforced by a third and probably a fourth squadron. He believes Russia will retake Port Arthur by assaults by land and sea. This will require time for adequate naval and military concentration, thus prolonging the war one or two years. The attache adds that mediation is impossible until Russia wins a decisive victory.

Capt. Epantshine, one of the Russian naval officers who will appear as a witness before the Imperial Commission, which is to inquire into the North Sea incident, also says Russia will retake Port Arthur. He declares peace will come only when Russia imposes it.

COST JAPS 80,000.

Chefoo, Jan. 4.—This morning two Russian torpedo launches from Port Arthur arrived here. There are seven Japanese torpedo boat-destroyers in the harbor. An officer of one of the boats said to-night;

"It cost the Japanese 80,000 men to take the fortress, while some say they have lost a hundred thousand. The number of our own dead is not known even to the highest officials."

St. Petersburg, Jan. 4.—Gen. Stoessel's despatches by way of Chefoo to the General Staff relates how the position of the fortress of Port Arthur gradually became less safe and more critical, the ravages of scurvy increasing enormously, the casualty lists already show considerable from the Japanese assaults and bombardments. Towards the end of the year the supplies of ammunition completely gave out, there were 34,000 sick and wounded in the hospitals, and 200 fresh casualties coming in daily. The general reports that at the end of the siege he had only 10,000 men under arms.

ADMIRALTY'S DENIAL.

It is affirmed, although positively denied at the Admiralty, that it has been decided that the Government cannot now take any chances with Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron, and that it will be recalled to

FERROZONE

Imparts New Vigor—Braces Nourishes Strengthens Weak Women.

A woman's anxieties multiply ten-fold about the time the new baby is expected. If her strength is exhausted and her blood weak, it goes hard in the hour of trial. Ferrozone should be used because it makes the blood nutritious and rich. By instilling new strength into every part of the body, it uplifts your spirits at once.

Childbirth is certainly made easier by Ferrozone. The following statement expresses the earnest gratitude of Mrs. M. E. Duckworth, of Durham. It is a woman's story—of her own case—told that other women may profit by her experience.

"Before baby was born I was in a miserable, weak, nervous state. I had no reserve strength. I tried to build up, but nothing helped me. I looked upon the coming day with dread, knowing I was unequal to the occasion.

"Ferrozone braced me up at once. It gave me strength and spirits, brought back my nerve and cheerfulness. From my experience with Ferrozone I recommend it to all expectant mothers."

There is more concentrated nourishment in Ferrozone than you can get from anything else. It supplies what weak systems need. Simply take one tablet at meals and you'll feel uplifted at once. Ferrozone makes healthy, virile, vigorous women. 50c. per box of fifty tablets, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. TELEPHONES AND MANNERS

More than once attention has been called in this column—and shall be once more—to a most irritating form of discourtesy which "came in" with the telephone and from present indications seems likely, unless its too patient victims rise in defense of their rights—their time, and, their temper, to continue through a long future, to which it will add a wholly unnecessary gloom. We refer to the brutally inconsiderate habit so many people have of causing the person with whom they wish communication to be called to the telephone by an underling, only to hear, when he gets there and announces his identity, a peremptory order to "Hold the wire and wait a minute." Often the minute is a long one, and it always seems so, but after a while, when the man at the other end of the wire, finds it quite convenient, the indignant listener hears a suave inquiry as to who he is, and then the business in hand—almost always the caller's business—at last begins. In all such cases the man who is under every obligation of politeness and decency to make things as easy as possible for him with whom he desires conversation has saved himself inconvenience and deliberately put it on the other fellow. The only thing for the other fellow to do when he has been thus outraged is to say, in turn, "Hold the wire and wait a minute." when the man who called him up is ready to tell what he wants, and then to keep that unmannerly one fretting at his phone at least twice as long as the first delay. Of course, the adoption of this plan involves the loss of more time by the man who shouldn't have been compelled to lose any, but it is a very sweet and satisfying bit of revenge, and once in a while it has a good effect upon the boor upon whom the punishment in kind is inflicted. For it is a fact that a few of the people guilty of this gross impoliteness are intelligent enough to understand the lesson, after it has been repeated half a dozen times or so, and, realizing the enormity of their offense, they sin no more. Another matter in which telephone manners could be improved concerns the use of the word "Hello." It is not a pretty word for indiscriminate use, but that is the sort of use it gets from most of us—over the telephone, though nowhere else. A name can commonly be substituted at the beginning of a telephonic conversation, and in case the connection is broken and then made again, as so often happens, it would be well to imitate the English custom, which is not to repeat the too familiar "Hello," but to ask, "Are you there?"

as he hates poison, and he would spend his last cent to dodge it.

Ninety-nine out of a hundred of the so-called liberal donations are given because someone started the subscription list and no one dares to face that most dreaded word.

A man will treat a crowd with high-priced cigar, not because he wants to, but because he is afraid not to.

Man will pay the street car fare of a half-dozen friends because he wants them to think he is more liberal than he is. He'll do a thing of that kind when there isn't enough coal in the house to keep his family warm.

He will urge another to go to lunch with him, but because he wants the other to think that he is willing to pay.

Men will permit themselves to be recklessly extravagant in doing things that they don't enjoy. They will spend dollars for nothing, they will support churches, build schools, endow colleges, anything to be thought generous when alive and be preached generous when they are dead. And just because they are afraid of being called stingy by someone outside the family who has never happened to find out the truth about their generosity.

The sad thing about this truth is that seldom is man afraid that his wife will turn on him and call him stingy, so she goes without things because "he" can't "afford" them, not because he is stingy. Few men credit their wives with hatefulness enough to call them anything so absolutely mean as stingy, and women knowing just how they hate the word are seldom mean enough to throw it at them.

AN ENGLISH GENTLEMAN

Although it has been decided in England that a schoolmaster is not a gentleman, they seem to have a rather correct notion in a London court as to what gentlemanly conduct is. In that court, A. E. Craven, a cousin of the Earl of Craven, has just been sentenced to twenty-one days in jail for a brutal assault on a fellow passenger on a train. The latter while entering a crowded car bumped against Mr. Craven's knee with his gripsack. Mr. Craven offensively demanded an apology, and upon receiving a refusal struck the plaintiff in the face. Mr. Craven then loudly proclaimed himself "a gentleman whose name would be found in Debrett and a cousin of the Earl of Craven." The plaintiff declared that Mr. Craven's conduct was not that of a gentleman, whereupon Mr. Craven dealt him a violent blow on the nose, drawing blood profusely. The magistrate, in sending Mr. Craven to jail, characterized the assault as most unjustifiable and most blackguardly, for which a fine was quite inadequate.

If Mr. Craven can get any satisfaction in such circumstances out of being a gentleman it will support him in a tryous hour. And he seems to be the kind of gentleman that would be able to.

A WORD OF GOOD COUNSEL.—

Beach had rightly called attention to the importance of the deputation. He, the Premier, doubted whether a more important or influential deputation had ever waited on a Prime Minister, or whether the subject matter could have been more powerful lucidly, and temperately put than by Sir M. Hicks Beach. It was not possible, twenty years ago, to foresee the changed conditions of the world, or the outlook which now met the gaze of the observant citizen of the Empire when he saw how—he would not say the hostile forces, but the forces which might be hostile, were marshalled round the world, what new combinations might conceivably have to be met by this country, and what dangers menaced the unity, and even the independence of portions of the Empire. And he, Mr. Balfour, had frankly to say that, so far as it was possible to guage the tendency of the times in which we lived the unhappy change which was taking place in the distribution of armaments throughout the world, showed no signs of being of a less menacing character to the safety of the Empire and dependencies in the future, but rather called for greater watchfulness—he feared he might have to add greater efforts—than had been the case in the past. The primary subject to which they had called attention was the relatively unimportant part which the Colonies bore in what was no doubt the common Imperial duty, and in what ought to be no doubt the common Imperial burden. He did not think the facts in these had been denied or their significance imminised. He thought they were eminently worthy of the attention of citizens of the Empire in our self-governing Colonies. His idea was that they ought not to look merely at the state of things as it was now.

Colonies, comparing their population with our population, their trade with our trade, or their wealth with our wealth, and then by a simple sum in arithmetic show how far the share of the general burden for naval purposes was borne by them in comparison with their population, commerce, or wealth. He would venture to say to the Colonies—who had been in no way attacked by either of the speakers—that they had to bear in mind that they were our children, and that from their earliest and most helpless years we had watched with motherly care over them, and had taken—and he thought rightly taken—upon us the whole burden of defending their growth from their early stages. Those children were gradually growing up, and the nature of that process carried with it, in Imperial as in domestic life, the necessary and inevitable incident of aiding their parents, and bearing a larger and yet larger share of the common duties of the family and the common support of the household. (Hear, hear.) But it must be a gradual process, a slow process, and a process that we could not unduly press upon them.

THE COLONIAL CONFERENCE.

As every gentleman in the room knew, he cordially desired that a Colonial Conference should be called—cheers—in order freely to discuss affairs common to every part of our common Empire. At such a conference it would be impossible and improper to restrict discussion. Hear, hear. To do so would be to violate one of the fundamental conditions of the value of such a conference, which should meet with perfect freedom, unhampered, and unfettered. (Cheers.) But if the conference were to meet thus unhampered and unfettered to discuss any of the questions which had been touched upon that day—or any other question—he earnestly trusted that the temper in which it would meet would not be one of how much could each fragment of the Empire get from any other fragment of the Empire, but how, much could each fragment of the Empire give to the common whole. (Cheers.) Everybody must admit that such a conference as he had adumbrated, and such as he hoped to see, would have before it a task involving almost unexampled difficulties. He believed, however, that if we could all raise ourselves to the true level of English patriotism and consider the common needs of this great and varied Empire, the wisdom which had been born of centuries of free government would not find itself at fault; and that in the building up of Empires we should prove ourselves in the future, as we had shown ourselves in the past, pioneers of enlightenment which the world might well be content to follow. (Cheers.)

On the motion of the Duke of Norfolk, Mr. Balfour was cordially thanked for his address.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, excepting 8 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres more or less.

ENTRY

Entry may be made personally at a local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situate, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES

A ider who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act, and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

1] At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

2] If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), or any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

3] If a settler was entitled to and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

4] If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same town, township, or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of clauses [2], [3] or [4] must cultivate 20 acres of his homestead, or substitute 20 head of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, and have besides 20 acres substantially fenced.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd of June, 1889.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled and the land may again be thrown open for entry.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT

Should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

INFORMATION

Newly arrived immigrants will receive, at the Immigration Office in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing lands to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Land Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Co.

INCORPORATED

Capital $5,000,000. Shares $1.00 Each, Par Value, Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable.

We have just secured the agency for the above splendid proposition, of which we have been allotted a block of Treasury stock. We can confidently recommend this as a safe and, we believe, exceedingly profitable investment. Every dollar of stock is guaranteed by twenty year, full paid, gold bond, delivered to purchaser of stock, from an Investment Company that has no interest whatever in the company that who are disposing of the debentured bonds to the public, and, under their charter, they are compelled to deposit securities to an equal amount, to the State Treasurer under which they received their charter, thereby doubly securing the payment of their gold bonds.

The Company's property, which is now past the project stage, is known to be marvellously rich in gold.

Following is the opinion of G. W. Miller, Mining Engineer, formerly with the Boston and Montana Consolidated Copper and Silver Mining Company, U. S.; Stanmer and Jack Mining Co., Limited, Elandsfountain, South Africa:—

"You have here a most valuable property and one of the strongest fissure veins that can be found in any part of the world.

"With the present development of the Monument Mine, I estimate that 100 tons per day can be extracted, which will mill from $15.00 to $30.00 per ton. The total cost of mining the ore, delivering and milling, I place at about $4.00 per ton. With increased milling capacity, it is safe to say that the mine can furnish 100 tons of $15.00 ore, which would yield a clear profit of $11.00 per ton, or $1,100.00 per day (equal to $408,000.00 per annum). Estimated total value of ore in sight, $2,500,000."

"In regards to the amount of ore available at the mines at Sinclair, I saw on the dumps several thousand tons, probably 5000 tons would be an under-estimate.

"As to the size of the ore body itself, from what I saw of the geological structure, I think that there is every indication that it will be found to extend underground as far as the out-croppings on the south side of the gulch. This would mean an ore body large enough to keep the present mill running for many years to come."

A write up of the proposition will appear in these columns in a few days. Watch for it. In the meantime we will be pleased to furnish full information to investors.

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

The Salido Gold and Copper Company

Incorporated under the laws of Arizona, with a capital of $3,000,000 forever non-assessable divided into shares of $1 each, par value. All investments insured Granite Securities Company.

The "SALIDO GOLD COPPER COMPANY" enterprise offers attractions to the investors of the country, that without thorough investigation, would scarcely seem probable. If only a fraction is realized of what any prudent business man in his own affairs would regard as absolutely certain, the enterprise must prove abundantly successful and exceedingly profitable.

SALE OF STOCK

The company will prosecute the work of development with all the diligence that the cash in the treasury will permit and circumstances warrant, and to this end a small amount of the treasury stock is now placed upon the market, in blocks of not less than One Hundred Shares. The par value of the stock is One Dollar per share, fully paid and forever non-assessable.

The company reserves the right to advance the price of stock without notice.

REMEMBER

First—That all payments for treasury stock go into the treasury for development work and not into the pockets of the promoters.

Second—There are no salaried officers.

Third—The incorporators have put their own good money into this enterprise and being business men, intend to do business along business lines.

Fourth—That this company is honest.

Fifth—If you are thinking of investing in mining stocks this is worthy of your careful investigation.

OTHER PROPERTIES

This Company owns four other Gold and Copper Mines, which title is now process in the laws of Mexico. As soon as title is perfected, we shall commence develop them as we certainly expect something very great from these properti ur assays taken have been of the very best, showing gold and copper from $6 $122. 30 per ton.

I have secured a small block of this stock, which I offer at the following prices: Unguaranteed 40 cents per share, guaranteed 80 cents per share. These prices will only prevail for a short time, as the number of shares for sale at this price is limited. The Shares will then be advanced to 40 cents for the unguaranteed and 80 cents for the guaranteed. I can unhesitatingly recommend this investment to the Canadian public.

Rare Chance to Secure a Paying Investment

has placed a small block of their stock at the disposal of Canadian investors. This stock is sure to rapidly advance in price. The Company is now arranging to instal the power plant and a mill and cyanide plant for the reduction of their ore to a bullion on the property. They have arranged with a Trust Company having assets of $1,500,000 to put up a bond guaranteeing investors the repayment of the full amount invested. This makes investors absolutely safe. By no possibility can they lose a dollar.

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY was organized November 21, 1902, under the laws of the State of Idaho. The capitalization is one million shares of the par value of one dollar each, fully paid and non-assessable; of the 1,000,000 shares, 400,000 have been set aside as treasury stock.

THE BOISE BASIN came into prominence shortly after Grimes and his party of prospectors entered the Basin country in 1862; their entrance was into the northern portion, and one discovery of rich placer ground followed another until the news of the rich finds reached the outside world, when a veritable stampede for Boise Basin commenced. Towns sprang up and grew together in an incredibly short time; the rush of people to Idaho City made it a city of 20,000 people in 1867, having a business street over a mile long lined with two-story buildings; streets and sidewalks filled with people day and night, business and money on every hand and the city bearing the proud distinction of being the capital of the territory of Idaho. Wages ran from $6 to $10 a day and not infrequently forty and fifty men worked on a single placer claim; the clean-up for a day's work in many instances ran close to $5,000; large fortunes were made in a few days by washing the golden sands in a pan; so eager was the quest for the shining metal that the streets of Idaho City were dug up and washed and re-washed, and the soil turned from under the houses and places of business. So extensive was the search for the hidden treasure that not only all of the low ground was worked but the foot of the mountains surrounding the city have been washed away, filling up the lower portions of the basin and extending into the town, where one of the buildings has been buried under the tailings from the numerous placer workings.

LOCATION—The property of the Gold Coin Mining Company is situated in the Gambrinus Mining District, Boise County, Idaho, on the range of mountains between Moore Creek and Elk Creek, which forms a part of the eastern boundary of the famous Boise Basin and into which these mountains are drained. The property is located ten miles northeast of Idaho City, from which place there are good wagon roads either to the workings on top of the mountains or to the place of the proposed tunnels in the gulch which crosses the Tunnelsite claim.

THE CLAIMS—The Company owns a group of four contiguous lode mining claims and the Gold Coin Millsite; the names of the lode claims are the Tunnelsite, Blue Bell, Pennsylvania and Homestake, each being a full claim 600 feet wide by 1,500 feet long, excepting the Tunnelsite claim, which is 450 feet wide at the west end and 1,055 feet long. It was necessary to stake the claim in this form on account of joining the Washington property on the south and the Sab Rosa property on the west, these properties being prior locations to the Tunnelsite claim. The four lode claims aggregate nearly 60 acres of rich mineral land.

Further particulars may be had on application to WM. SAILSBURY, Fiscal Agent of the Company, Peterborough, Ont., or to

S. E. PHELPS, Secretary.

THE YEAR 1904; A RETROSPECT

Important Events Which Transpired in 1904

A HISTORY MAKING YEAR

Great Disasters and Wars Mark the Period.

As the year draws to a close, it is often possible to spend a profitable half-hour in a review of the chief incidents which have marked its course. Looking over the year 1904 a day or so before its end, one can recall a number of events more or less influential in shaping history yet to be written. Of these, the war between Russia and Japan dwarfs all others, because of the mighty issues involved. A year ago relations between the two powers were strained, but few expected the commencement of hostilities to follow so rapidly, nor these to be attended by the terrific conflicts which have since then become historic. It is almost superfluous to remark that the Japanese have been uniformly victorious; and at this point one may reasonably assert that the greatest surprise of the year 1904 has been the lamentably weak showing of the Russian navy. The unprovoked attack by the Baltic fleet on the Hull fishermen, and the unparalleled spectacle of a British Premier publicly charging a Russian admiral with falsehood, are other incidents, bred of the war, which will not soon fade from the memory.

The Mission to Lhassa

The expedition to Lhassa was another event, not contemplated a year ago, but long since an accomplished fact. This sacred city through the centuries has remained immolated by the foot of foreigner, the one city of mystery remaining to the world. British Tommies in 1904 trampled freely about the sacred streets and holy temples, and profaned the ears of the reverend lamas with many variation of English dialect. It is early to prophesy what result may follow the Younghusband expedition, but undoubtedly the check of Russia's southern expansion toward India will be one of the most important.

In the World of Politics

In the field of politics there have been many incidents of importance. So far as Canada is concerned the most noteworthy was the Dominion elections, which resulted in the return of the Laurier Government to power, pledged to begin without delay the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. Of interest, too, was the resignation of Hon. Mr. Blair from the Railway Commission, and the subsequent conflicting explanations of this move may, among them, furnish still another political event, but not before the year is out. The Presidential elections in the United States occupied the attention of our neighbors for several months in 1904, the feature of the contest of most interest to Canadians being the agitation for reciprocity in several quarters, notably among the New England manufacturers and the Minnesota millers.

The Disasters of 1904

Undoubtedly the greatest disaster of the year was the burning of the pleasure steamer General Slocum in the Hudson River, and the horrible death of some hundreds of children on their way to a picnic. Following so soon the Iroquois Theatre horror in Chicago, it made a profound impression on the public mind. In Toronto the great fire of April last was the event of the year. Although millions of dollars' worth of property was destroyed, not a single life was lost. In the rebuilding of the burned district the merchants showed an enterprise worthy of the city, and almost equal to the supineness of the City Council in dealing with those phases of the question which came within its purview. Toronto has had few serious crimes, few terrible accidents to deplore, in 1904. The murder of a child in the lake off Munro Park and the Thanksgiving street car tragedy being all that come readily to mind.

Honors for Toronto

On the other hand, Toronto has had quite a few occasions for popular rejoicing. The chief of these was furnished by the victory of Lou Scholes at Henley. This Toronto lad, after a Homeric struggle, won the Diamond Sculls, emblematic of the amateur sculling championship of the world. Not long afterward Private Perry, formerly a Toronto boy, but now a resident of Victoria, B.C., carried off the King's Prize in competition with the best marksmen in the service. Mr. George Lyons' golfing success at the St. Louis Exhibition was the third of these important athletic triumphs, and never before have three such notable sporting triumphs been scored for Canadians in a single year. They contributed very materially to the advertising of this country as a home for champions. On the turf, the best Canadian-owned colt seen in years was out in Fort Hunter, while the pacers Gallagher and Angus Pointer, both Canadian bred, more than held their own down the Grand Circuit.

Deaths and Retirements

The passing year has seen the retirement of one Governor-General, and has welcomed the appointment of his distinguished successor. It has also witnessed the humiliating course of events which deprived Canada of her best commander of the militia, Lord Dundonald. Another incident which will be recalled with regret was the death of Principal Caven, the venerable head of Knox College. Of prominent figures in the world's politics few have passed away in 1904. Probably the most notable was ex-President Kruger, who died in Europe, but whose remains have been interred in the country which owes him such a bitter debt. Kruger's death provoked a few perfunctory obituary paragraphs; but it was felt that he died when the last fighting burgher laid down his arms. Since then he has lagged superfluous on the stage. After the fall of his power, the death of his body seemed insignificant indeed. Among British statesmen Sir William Vernon Harcourt has passed away. Sir Edwin Arnold's death was also recorded in 1904.

Some Celebrated Cases.

Stretching its length and bulk overs everal months of 1904, the World's Fair at St. Louis, memorable among Canadian stockmen for their triumphs, came to an end only a few weeks ago. In it we may have seen the last of the great world's fairs for years to come. The St. Louis venture is said to have paid, but the public is tired of these huge, sprawling exhibitions. In criminal annals the year will be remarkable for the Chadwick case, which, however, will spread far into 1905, so that a year from now one may be better able to appraise it. The memorable Beck case in England completed its last phase a month or so ago. Whether the Wall street crusade of Thomas W. Lawson will yet end in criminal history cannot be determined. At any rate the "Story of Amalgamated" deserves to be reckoned as one Address all communications to the General Manager, Head Office, Toronto.

This Company is the owner of 70,000 acres of very rich, fertile lands in the Province of Pinar del Rio, Cuba. This land is suitable to the growth of the finest quality of tobacco, oranges, lemons, pineapples and other citrous fruits.

A small portion of this estate produced last year a large percentage on the total authorized capital of this company.

One acre produced last year $2700 in tobacco. The revenue-producing powers of this estate will not be reduced by sale of lands, as the cultivated portion will be increased by additional plantation.

The lands offered for sale can be made as productive within a short period as those at present cultivated.

The estate is abundantly watered by numerous streams and fresh water springs.

The climate is one perpetual June, no fogs, no mists, no yellow fever.

Flowers bloom the year round.

Game and fish abound.

The temperature is even, so that catarrh is unheard of.

Abundance of water and perpetual grass makes stock raising an assured success.

New York markets are at its command for all its products.

The estate borders upon Gaudiana Bay, with a sea frontage of about twelve miles and a deep water, sheltered harbor.

Cuba has only now become open to modern development, and its progress is sure to be rapid.

This is the opportunity for the man of small means to obtain a home and subsequent wealth, for the man of means to obtain a profitable investment.

This Company is now offering land in blocks of 10 acres or more at $10.00 per acre.

Stock at par or scrip entitling the owner to an option to take land at $10.00, or stock at par, for a limited period.

Only 10,000 acres will be offered at $10.00 per acre, of which 2,000 acres are already sold.

The second 10,000 acres will be sold at $20.00 per acre or over within a few months.

The balance of the estate to be disposed of 30,000 acres, will be raised to $50.00 per acre or over.

As the price of land is raised the price of stock will also advance.

Purchase now and save money.

Terms—25 per cent cash; 25 per cent. 30 days; 25 per cent. 60 days; 25 per cent. 90 days.

Application to be made to GEORGE F. DAVIS, General Manager, 106 King Street, West, Toronto.

Tuberculosis The Lungs Cured

World's Greatest Physician Eulogizes Catarrhozone, which kills all the Germs Heals the Membranes, Cures Thoroughly.

That consumption is due to the presence of germs in the air you breathe is now admitted by all physicians. Before the disease can be cured of course these germs must be killed. Liquid medicine taken into the stomach can't possibly reach the air cells of the lungs, and is therefore useless.

Catarrhozone never fails to kill the bacilli of consumption for the following reasons, which are plain to every thinking person;

First—Each breath of medicated air you draw through Catarrhozone Inhaler is at once sent through every air cell and air passage in the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs; it is then sure to reach the nest of the consumption germs.

Being a powerful antiseptic Catarrhozone at once kills these germs and establishes such a healthy condition in the lungs that microbes can't live there. Once the cause of the disease is removed it is only a matter of time till you get well and strong again.

That Catarrhozone does permanently cure Tubercular Trouble can no longer be doubted. Ample evidence of its marvellous merit is witnessed every day. Thousands have been cured after all else has failed by this great germ destroyer, which is inhaled to the very source of the disease.

Mrs. G. P. McCluskly, writing from Salt Lake City, U.S., says; "My doctor ordered me to Colorado, where I first used Catarrhozone. I inhaled it probably twenty times a day. In one week it stopped my cough completely, and it was not very long in taking every bit of soreness and hoarseness out of my throat. The antiseptic vapor of Catarrhozone must certainly have killed all the germs of consumption in my lungs, for I came home in seven months 'cure.' My doctor says Catarrhozone is a marvel. It is of the greatest assistance in lung trouble, and cured me permanently."

Not only consumption but every form of catarrh and throat trouble is easily cured by Catarrhozone. Two months' treatment costs $1.00. At druggists or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont. For a quick and certain cure use only Catarrhozone.

WHY?

Because we are keeping up with the growth of Peterborough, the "Electric City," which is fast becoming a leading manufacturing centre of Canada.

Over 80 per cent. of those graduating are placed in good positions in Peterborough. Attend school where you have such prospects.

NOW IS THE TIME TO ENTER

If you cannot attend our School write for particulars regarding our correspondence course.

A CHARMING GIFT

Mr. Richard Hall's Generous Gift to the Y.W.C.A.

At the New Year's reception on Monday a pleasant feature was the presentation to the Association of two large richly framed pictures of the late Robert Nicholls and his wife, Charlotte J. Nicholls, the generous donor of the building. These were given by Mr. Richard Hall, one of the building trustees.

The pictures now adorn the parlor of the institution, and are greatly admired.

POLICE COURT

Italian Charged With Stabbing, Stealing and Other Cases

At the Police Court yesterday, Guiseppe Geallenardo, an Italian, was charged with attempting to wound Chas. Butcher and John Montgomery, and was remanded until next Tuesday.

G. Patterson was fined $2 and $2.60 costs for being drunk and disorderly.

A young man was fined $2 and costs for being drunk and disorderly.

Walter Guy was fined $2 and $2.60 costs for being drunk and disorderly.

John Dunford was fined $2 for having no license for his truck or cart.

John Healey was charged with stealing a horse from Wm. Johnson. He was committed for trial.

CONSERVATIVE RALLY

Mr. Bradburn's Supporters Will Congregate at Committee Rooms To-night

There is a rally of Mr. Bradburn's friends and supporters at the committee rooms this evening. Opera House block.

The Times is requested to state that it is expected there will be a large attendance of the friends and workers for the Conservative candidate, who is conducting a vigorous campaign throughout the riding. Speeches will be made by leading members of the party, and everyone is cordially invited to be present.

Worthy of Imitation

Lindsay Post: The inmates of the House of Refuge wish to tender their most heartfelt thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pym, of the Pym House, for their thoughtfulness in inviting them to partake of a Christmas dinner at the hotel last Sundsy. The large hotel bus was placed at their disposal to carry them to and from the Home. Mr. and Mrs. Pym are to be commended for the charitable feeling which prompted them to think of the poor old people at this festive season, and to, in a pleasing manner, show to them that they are not entirely forgotten by those with whom fortune has dealt more kindly. The example set should be copied with profit by many of our well-to-do citizens in helping to brighten the lives of the few poor and unfortunate we have amongst us.

WELCOME AS SUNSHINE after storm is the relief when an obstinate, pitiless cough has been driven away by Allen's Lung Balsam. No opium in it. The good effect lasts. Take a bottle home with you to-day.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

Dashes Here and There, by Times Reporters on their Rounds

—New Year's was quietly observed in town.

—There is now talk of submitting local option in Burleigh and Anstruther and in Harvey. This will affect Burleigh Falls Hotel.

—Cloth bound books by best authors, on bargain the balance of this month, for 15 cents each. Don't miss this chance of securing a good collection of books at sacrifice prices. Times Bookstore.

FOR DELICATE WOMEN AND children "The D & L" Emulsion is especially suited. It is sweet and palatable as cream, easily digested and of the greatest value as a tonic and tissue builder.

—The young ladies of Class No. 6, of St. Andrew's church Sunday school, called last Saturday evening at the home of their teacher, Mrs. R. A. Hamilton, and presented her with a beautiful fern pot and fern.

—The contract for the erection of the new lift lock at Kirkfield on the Trent Canal, has been awarded to the Dominion Bridge Company. The lock is to overcome a lift of fifty feet, and it will differ from the existing lock in that the towers will be of steel. It is expected that the work will begin on the new contract immediately.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Miss Mattie Robertson spent the holidays at Fenelon Falls.

—Mrs. Ben Davies, of Toronto, is spending a few days with old friends in town.

—Mr. Wm. O'Brien, the efficient clerk of Doure, was in town yesterday, and gave The Times a call.

Mr. Taylor, the energetic and popular travelling salesman of Heintzman & Co., Toronto, is a guest at the Snowden.

—Miss Ethel Burney, of St. Margarets College, Toronto, is spending the holidays with Miss Winnie MacFarlane, Homewood avenue.

—Rev. J. G. Potter was called to Kingston this morning owing to the death of his wife's mother in that city.

—Miss Ada Meagher, has returned home from a four months' visit with relatives in Bay City, Saginaw and surrounding towns.

—Rev. T. W. Jolliffe, Bowmanville, ex-President of the Bay of Quinte Methodist Conference, Mrs. Jolliffe and son, are spending the holidays here. Rev. Mr. Jolliffe assisted in the services on Sunday night in the George street church.

—The Times had a pleasant call yesterday from Mr. D. McMartin, of Deseronto, formerly of Peterborough. Mr. McMastin, who is a millwright with the Rathbun Co., reports a splendid season's cut last year. He is a guest at the Munro House while in town.

Members of Fire Brigade Banquetted

The local firemen were tendered a banquet last night by Mr. J. M. Brooks, proprietor of the Palace Cafe. A most enjoyable time was spent, and ample justice was done to the good things provided. The members of the brigade expressed their heartiest thanks of the hospitality of the genial proprietor.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my thanks to the ratepayers of the Town of Peterborough, for the voluntary support accorded me, by re-electing me as one of your Aldermen for the common year.

Should my best energy and careful consideration of all matters relating to the interests of our progressive town, repay you for the confidence placed in me, I can assure you these will be cheerfully given.

R. HICKS.

THANKS TO ELECTORS.

Ladies and Gentlemen;—

Please accept my sincere thanks for the splendid work done in my behalf yesterday, and which resulted in my being elected as one of your city Aldermen for 1905.

I feel highly elated at the preference which the electors have shown for me, and in the discharge of the duties of Alderman, my aim will be to give equal rights to all, irrespective or wards or classes.

Your obedient servant.

JOSEPH CROWE

January 3rd, 1905.

THANKS TO ELECTORS

Ladies and Gentlemen;—

I have very great pleasure in expressing my thanks to all who assisted in my election as Alderman for 1905.

I have special reason to appreciate this kind expression of your confidence, because every vote I received was purely voluntary and personal, as I neither solicited or canvassed a voter, nor drove an elector to the polls in my own behalf. Such an independent expression of your good will places me under a strong obligation to do my best to merit the honor you have done me.

Yours truly,

ROBT. H. LEARY.

January 3rd, 1905.

THANKS TO THE ELECTORS.

My thanks are due and are hereby tendered to the electors, for their very hearty and unsolicited support which resulted in my being chosen as one of the new Board of Aldermen for 1905.

That I should be successful out of a ballot composed of nineteen candidates, and without any personal canvassing on my part, is an evidence of confidence which I will value highly. I feel I am under a deep obligation to my friends, and I will certainly do my best to merit the same.

Your obedient servant,

THOS. J. BEGLEY

January 3rd, 1905.

ADAM HALL'S CARD OF THANKS

To the Electors of Peterborough;—My thanks are due and are hereby tendered to all who assisted in my election as Alderman for the City of Peterborough for the year 1905.

This renewal of confidence in my ability to assist in directing the affairs of the town, after an interval of some years, will be a fresh inventive to discharge the duties of the office in the very best general interests of greater Peterborough.

Your obedient servant,

ADAM HALL

January 3rd, 1905.

CARD OF THANKS.

TO THE ELECTORS OF PETERBOROUGH.

Ladies and Gentlemen,—

Accept my heartest thanks for your generous support. I shall use my best efforts to serve you faithfully and well during the coming year, and to advance the interest and welfare of the town.

I wish you one and all a happy and prosperous New Year, and trust that the coming twelve months may witness great strides in the upbuilding and development of our prosperous town.

Your obedient servant,

E. F. MASON.

Peterborough, Jan. 3, 1905.

CARD OF THANKS

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE TOWN OF PETERBOROUGH.

Ladies and Gentlemen;—

Please accept my sincere thanks for the enthusiastic support which you accorded me yesterday at the polls, and which vote not only re-elected me one of your Aldermen for 1905, but placed me at the head of the poll among the long list of candidates.

Such a flattering expression of your confidence after three year's service for the town is very gratifying to me, especially as this vote represented all classes of the electors in the five wards.

Your obedient servant.

JOS. H. BATTEN.

The Start

In married life is generally made on an equal footing of health in man and wife. But how soon, in many cases, the wife loses the advantage and fades in face and falls in flesh, while her husband grows even more rugged and robust.

There is one chief cause for this wifely failure and that is, the failure of the womanly health. When there is irregularity or an unhealthy drain, inflammation, ulceration or female weakness, the general health is soon impaired.

$500 REWARD! FOR WOMEN WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"A little over a year ago I wrote to you for advice," says Mrs. Elizabeth J. Fisher, of Diana, W. Va. "You advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' which I did, and with the most happy result. I was troubled with female weakness and bearing-down pains. Had a very bad pain nearly all the time in my left side, nervousness and headache. Was so weak I could hardly walk across my room. Could not sit up only just a little, while, as a time, lay helpless as the sense of Dr. Pierce's medicine and I began its use. Before I had taken two bottles I was able to help do my work. I used three bottles in all and it cured me. Now I do all my housework. It is the best medicine I ever used."

The Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

CARD OF THANKS

Peterborough, Jan. 3rd, 1905.

To the electors of Peterborough;—

Ladies and Gentlemen,—I desire to very sincerely thank the many friends and supporters, and especially the "boys" for their enthusiastic work, by placing me in such an honorable position as Alderman of this go-ahead town, and also in the confidence reposed in me by placing me so nearly at the head of the poll.

I can assure you I shall give my very best attention to the best interests of our town while I have the privilege of being your representative.

Again thanking you very heartily, I beg to remain,

Very respectfully,

G. J. TOVEY.

THANKS

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE TOWN OF PETERBOROUGH.

Ladies and Gentlemen;—

I desire to take this means of returning thanks to my many friends and supporters for the good work they did in my behalf, and which resulted in my election as Aldermen.

I appreciate their kindness till the more as I did not do a great deal of canvassing. I shall endeavor to discharge my duties with an eye always looking to the best interests and prosperity of the town.

Again thanking you one and all. I remain.

Your obedient servant,

A. A. McINTYRE.

Peterborough, Jan. 3rd, 1905.

ALD. JOHNSTON'S THANKS.

To the electors of the Town of Peterborough,—I desire to express my appreciation of the generous public support accorded to me yesterday which secured my re-election as Alderman for 1905.

I take particular pleasure in the fact that the votes I received in the five wards came from all classes of the electors and was quite representative of the whole town.

I will do my best to retain this renewal of public confidence and will devote the same care and attention to the town's services as I have hitherto done.

The many important questions for the betterment of the municipality which are to come up this year will have my close attention.

Yours truly,

W. J. JOHNSTON

HEROIC GARRISON LEAVE THE FORTRESS TO-DAY.

Thirty-Five Thousand Inhabitants Found in Bad Plight in Captured City--British Rushing Doctors, Food and Supplies.

Special to The Times

Tokio, Jan. 5.—The Japanese captured twenty-five thousand prisoners at Port Arthur. The total number of the inhabitants is thirty-five thousand, of whom 20,000 are sick.

Wei-Hai-Wei, Jan. 5.—The British stamer Andromeda, which sailed this morning for Port Arthur with medical supplies, etc., had on board two surgeons, nearly the entire staff of the Government Hospital, and eight hundred tons of stores, including 350 beds and 100,000 pounds of provisions.

Her cargo was shipped aboard last night, following the receipt of official permission to sail on the errand of mercy.

JAPS TAKE IT OVER.

Tokio, Jan. 5.—General Nogi reports to the Army Department that on January 3, the commissioners of both the Japanese and Russian armies concluded their conference, and that from the morning of January 4, the actual transfer of war materials at Port Arthur as property of the Japanese Government commenced.

MARCH OUT TO-MORROW.

Headquarters of the Third Japanese Army, Jan. 4, via Fusan.—The request of the Russians for food, medicines, and physicians for their sick and wounded, has been granted.

Etse, Antse, and Sunchu forts were taken over by the Japanese at noon to-day.

The date on which the Russian prisoners of war will be marched out has been delayed until January 5.

DESTROYERS DISARM.

Chefoo, Jan. 5.—A despatch received here from Tsingtau, Shantung, Peninsula, under to-day's date, says the Russian torpedo-boat destroyers Smirli and Bedki, which, with a merchantman having 800 soldiers on board, arrived at Tsingtau on Jan 2, are disarming.

No Japanese warships, the despatch adds, have been seen off Tsingtau to-day.

SQUADRONS JOINING.

Tamatave, Island of Madagascar, Jan. 3.—The division of the Russian second Pacific squadron, commanded by Rear-Admiral Voelkersam, which after passing through the Suez Canal, sailed from Jibutil, French Somaliland, December 10th, for the Island of Madagascar, anchored to-day in Pasitnadava Bay, in the north-western part of the island. The squadron commanded by Admiral Rojestvenaky is at Antongil Bay, on the east coast.

It is believed that the whole squadron later will rendezvous at Diego Suarez Bay, on the north-east coast of the island.

Premier Katsura of Japan, discussing the war on November 27th, said; "Everything seems to hinge upon the fall of Port Arthur, but I do not console myself with the thought that the capture of that ill-fated fortress will bring the war to a speedy termination. Its capture will give occasion for renewed plans for warfare by Russia, and I am watching keenly for such new developments."

Paris, Jan. 5.—The view prevails in the highest Government quarters that mediation is not likely to result from the fall of Port Arthur. The officials say the chancelleries of London, Paris Berlin, and Washington have substantially agreed on the same principle, namely that mediation will be practical only when one party asks for it. The officials are fully convinced that Russia will not ask for or consent to mediation.

The reports that a Japanese occupation of Port Arthur would constitute a menace to Europe are not shared in official quarters here, where it is asserted that Japan's success is one of the natural incidents of the war with which Europe and America are not concerned unless it leads to a Chinese uprising. The latter is considered to be the chief danger following Japan's occupation of Port Arthur.

NO ATTEMPT ON CZAR.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 6.—The Associated Press is authorized to deny the rumored attempt on the life of Emperor Nicholas at Vilna. He has just passed Minsk, capital of the Government of that name, 465 miles by rail west of Moscow.

ONLY AN INCIDENT.

Montreal, Jan. 6.—"The fall of Port Arthur is only an incident in the war, and in my opinion Russia will continue to hold its position in the entire northern portion of Manchuria above Mukden."

The foregoing statement was made to a press representative yesterday by Mr. De Struve, the Imperial Consul-General of Russia to Canada. "The occupation of Port Arthur for eleven months must, however, be regarded as one of the greatest feats of the war," added Mr. De Struve, "but I will admit the Russian authorities had not looked for its capitulation quite so soon. But just as in other wars there have been capitulations without the war being ended, so will it be in this case unless Japan takes the initiative in bringing about peace. Russia maintains it was Japan that started the war, and they will have to take the first steps in bringing it to an end or the war will continue."

POPE LONGS FOR PEACE.

Rome, Jan. 4.—On hearing the news of the fall of Port Arthur to-day, Pope Pius exclaimed; "Let us hope that it is an augury that the end of the war is near, now that both nations have proved their mettle."

BLEW UP WARSHIPS.

Tokio, Jan. 5.—A despatch from the Japanese army before Port Arthur, received at noon to-day, says;

"The enemy's forces occupying Kekwan Mountain and 'Q' Fort, following an explosion at 12.30 o'clock this morning, opened a sudden and fierce rifle fire, which as suddenly stopped. Our scouts were despatched to the scene and immediately afterwards found the enemy evacuating these place. Our forces immediately occupied these forts and also the heights known as 'M' and 'N' south of the forts This morning almost all the enemy's ships, large and small, were blown up in the entrance and inside the harbor. Our offensive movements have been suspended, pending the negotiations."

FIVE DAYS OF HELL.

Chefoo, Jan. 5.—The Russian officers who arrived here to-day from Port Arthur on the torpedo-boat destroyers which escaped from that place have a single word for what the fortress has been for the past five days, during which the Japanese have bombarded and assaulted it ceaselessly night and day. They used that word unprofanely and convincingly, declaring that the horrors witnessed were beyond any description. There was not a single spot in the town which was safe from shrapnel. Many of the hospitals were hit, and the wounded refused to stay in them. Some lay in the streets on heaps of debris, exposed to the bitterly cold weather, and some staggered back to the front, hurling stones and defying the Japanese till taken prisoners or Death came mercifully to end their sufferings. There were five days and nights of this state of affairs. The stock of ammunition which had been carefully husbanded for months was almost gone, and it was all too evident that Japan was about to grasp the prize which had cost her an army of men and countless treasure.

FORTRESS ILL-PREPARED.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 5.—The press here contains absolutely no additional news of the war, but the papers with one accord praise the heroic work of the Port Arthur garrison, and say its record furnishes an object lesson to both Russia and Japan.

After bestowing a tribute on the defenders, the Novoe Vremya says;

"The unpreparedness of the fortress, which now stands confessed before the world, reads as a lesson on what Russia must do and how she must change her methods to achieve victory. It also shows Japan what she has undertaken when such enormous losses are entailed in capturing even a small, empty-handed garrison driven to the last ditch. Russia has had eleven months of hard, but valuable experience in the art of war under the new conditions imposed by modern technical requirements It has been costly training but will be valuable."

WHAT RUSS SAYS.

In an even more strongly-worded article, Rusa says;

"Had the Japanese been able to cut off the last train which reached Port Arthur the blockade would have found the fortress even worse prepared. Well may those few remaining heroes say;

"We have done our duty, but you, Oh people of St. Petersburg and of Russia, have you done all you could deem our prestige in the far east." The time has now come for everyone to put a shoulder to the wheel and redeem our prestige in the far east. The paper bluntly attributes to the effect of the muzzling regime under the late Minister of the Interior, Von Plehve, the fact that the nation was not fully warned beforehand of the real conditions to be faced at the opening of the war, and says the grave is now more fully able to point out the needs and urge the nation to activity.

One of the most serious features of Port Arthur's fall, according to the Novosti, is the effect upon the already questionable neutrality of the Chinese. Loss of prestige in the eyes of the Orientals, says the paper, is STOESSEL'S SAD STORY.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 5.—The text of General Stoessel's despatch follows;

On Dec. 28 the general wrote;

"The position of the fortress is becoming very painful. Our principal enemies are scurvy, which is mowing down the men, and eleven-inch shells which know no obstacle, and against which there is no protection. There only remain a few who have not been attacked by scurvy. We have taken all the possible measures but the disease is spreading. The passive endurance of the enemy's bombardment, the 11-inch shells, the impossibility of replying for want of ammunition, the outbreak of scurvy, and the loss of a mass of officers—all these causes diminish daily the capabilities of the defence.

CHIEF EVENTS OF THE SIEGE OF PORT ARTHUR BY THE JAPS

Feb. 8-9—Seven Russian vessels sunk or disabled by Japanese torpedo boats.

Feb. 12—Russian torpedo transport Yenisi blown up by striking a mine.

Feb. 13—Russian cruiser Bayrain blown up by submarine mines.

Feb. 24—Japanese fleet towed five hulks, stone-laden, into the harbor and sank them in the channel.

Feb. 26—Japanese fleet again attacked Port Arthur, sinking one Russian torpedo boat.

March 9—Admiral Makaroff made a sortie from Port Arthur late at night, with six Russian torpedo-boat destroyers, and one of them was sunk.

March 22—Japanese bombarded Port Arthur and sank seven merchant steamships to block the entrance.

April 13—Russian battleship Petropavlovsk blown up and sunk by a Japanese mine in the outer harbor of Port Arthur, Admiral Makaroff and 674 officers and men lost their lives.

April 14—The Russian torpedo boat-destroyer Istrashni was cut off from a fleet of scouts of Port Arthur and was sunk by the Japanese. Only five of her crew escaped. The battleship Pobieda struck a mine and was badly damaged.

April 22—Russian launch blown up and sunk while laying mines at Port Arthur, and twenty-one men killed.

May 6—In a desperate attack the Japanese sank five merchant ships at the entrance to the inner harbor of Port Arthur.

May 7—Japanese army cut railway and telegraph communication with Port Arthur at Polandien.

May 12—The Russians destroyed the piers, docks, and harbor works at Dalny, the commercial port of Port Arthur.

May 15—Japanese battleship Hatsuse sunk by striking submerged Russian mine outside of Port Arthur, and 280 officers and men killed.

May 30—Japanese occupied Dalny.

June 23—Japanese attack upon fleet outside of Port Arthur prevents the flight of the Russian fleet.

June 28—General Nogi's army captured three heights within ten miles of Port Arthur.

July 3 and 4—First Japanese attacks upon Port Arthur repulsed by the defenders with heavy loss.

July 26, 27, and 28—General assault upon Port Arthur begun by the Japanese; enormous loss of life on both sides, the attackers capturing several important positions.

August 9—Japanese captured Takushan.

August 10—Russian Port Arthur fleet fled from port. After five hours of battle the squadron was defeated and dispersed, some of the ships escaping, but the bulk of them returned to the doomed city's harbor. Admiral Withoft was killed and hundreds of his officers and men with him.

August 14-15—Great land battle around Port Arthur; Japanese gained important positions at enormous cost of life.

August 16—Surrender of Port Arthur demanded and refused.

August 20—Another assault upon Port Arthur begun.

August 26—Gen. Stoessel reports to the Czar that all the attacks upon Port Arthur have been repulsed.

August 27—Japanese capture two forts, but they are re-taken by the Russians.

Then a lull took place in the operations. General Nogi began to understand that he was on the wrong tack so he fell back on the good old-fashioned plan of reducing a fortress, namely, by sapping, mining, and counter-mining. Very heavy guns were brought up.

September 20—From dawn on September 20 for many hours a tremendous shrapnel fire was poured on all the lunettes. Saps had been constructed to within 50 yards. The shrapnel fire of the Japanese demoralized the defenders.

September 22-4—Attacks failed, and the attempt was relinquished, the Japanese, however, holding 180 Metre Hill though they were unable to stay on the plateau.

October 9-10—The Japanese drove a small force of Russians out of the trenches at the foot of East Erhlung Fort.

October 11—The Japanese pursued the Russians down the railway, but were repulsed at the railway bridge with fifty-seven casualties.

October 12—The Russians were forced to retire from the bridge.

October 13—The howitzers bombarded Golden Hill and twice set fire to the battleship Percaviet.

October 16—The Japanese attacked the Erhlung forts and by October 24 they were within 40 yards of the trenches by means of sapping.

October 22—Twenty-eight-centimetre howitzers opened fire on the Russian warships in the harbor and destroyed the new battleship Retvisan.

October 30—Two forts were captured, Major-General Schinobe leading in person.

October 31—The gunboat Gilyak was hit several times and steamers were sunk by shells.

November 1—Two steamers of 3,000 tons were sunk.

November 2—Another steamer was sunk, and two surrendered.

November 3—Fire broke out in the barbor and a Russian field gun was destroyed.

November 4-6—There had been continued and furious fighting and the Japanese succeeded in capturing further forts, bringing them within half a mile of the Russian main positions. The Russians, however, continue to hold the Golden Hill fort, the Kuroshan forts, and the Latushan forts, though they are reported to have evacuated the native town of Port Arthur, which has been rendered untenable by the heavy Japanese fire.

November 7—The Japanese made another desperate effort to force the entrenchments around the Latushan forts. With unparalled bravery the Japanese riflemen rushed forward again and again, only to be mowed down by the merciless fire of the defenders. Finally the attempts were abandoned, the Japanese suffered tremendous losses.

Since then there has been a steady series of attacks by the besiegers and of gallant defences by the garrison. It has been apparent for some weeks that Port Arthur could not long hold out, and that capitulation or capture by assault was inevitable.

Nov. 30—Japanese began attack on 203 Metre Hill, lost 4,000 men in an hour, but eventually captured the hill.

Dec. 7—Russians said to have lost 3,000 men in trying to recapture 203 Meter Hill.

Dec. 10—The announcement is made that Gen. Nogi's son was killed before Port Arthur, Nov. 30.

December 12—Russian fleet in Port Arthur harbor, rendered useless by shells from the Japanese batteries on 203-Metre Hill. Loss to Russia about $400,000,000.

Dec. 30—Rihung fort captured with a thousand Japanese casualties, the previous day Japanese also captured Yangphuban Hill.

Dec. 31—Japanese mounted eight big guns in commanding positions north of the Etse forts, and later captured Sungshu Mountain, west of Rihlung. "H" fort, a fort on Pamlung Mountains, the heights south of Housanyantao, and Wantau Hill.

Jan. 1—The end. Stoessel surrenders.

BRITAIN'S POLICY IN THE EAST.

London, January 5.—Britain's designs in Central Asia are being pushed with vigor and adroitness. The Afghan mission has met with no obstacles at Cabulsi, and the Ameer has selected with greatest care the officers who accompany the Sirdan on the Curzon visit to settle the final conditions regarding the frontier.

Habiboullah has testified to his confidence in the British by stipulation to observe all terms which his son agrees to. The British are laying plans for the taking of Shaki, which in British hands could be converted into a Gibraltar on the route to India. Lord Lansdowne has the scheme fully developed and is discussing it with the Porte.

Jean Dupuy, discussing the matter, says London aims to dismember the Ottoman States in Arabia and bring them under a new authority, either Egypt or more likely British India. British enterprise in that part of the world is traceable to the far sighted Curzon. The Sultan and the Shah are alarmed at the prospect.

TROUBLE LOOKED FOR IN EAST

Fine Point is Raised as to Rojestvensky's Colliers Flying Foreign Flags

WHAT W'LL BRITAIN DO?

Should Japan Sink her Fleet of Colliers That are Working for Russia

London, January 5—Diplomats are today discussing the question of what will be the status of German and British colliers accompanying Admiral Rojestvensky in case Togo engages the Baltic fleet in battle.

The question is whether he will have the right to sink the colliers when they are carrying British and German flags, or would a protest be filed against such action, as in the case of the Knight Commander.

It is known that part of Togo's plan is to isolate the colliers from the rest of the fleet, but it is not thought that he would be willing to reduce his own complement of men to man the colliers with prize crews.

The only alternative would be to send them to the bottom.

International lawyers say that Togo would be justified in the latter course, but admit that there is an opportunity for a Russian fine question.

JAPS FREE TO SAIL.

It is believed the visit of Admirals Togo and Kamimura to Tokio means that measures have been taken to prepare for Admiral Rojestvensky when he arrives in the Pacific Ocean. The Japanese navy is now free to meet the second Baltic fleet. All the enemy's vessels in Port Ar-

THE AGITATION WILL STILL GO ON

Russian Reformers are Determined to Continue the Struggle

CONDEMN THEMSELVES

Revolutionary Circular Says Czar's Manifesto Proves Need of Far-Reaching Reform

St. Petersburg, January 5.—"They condemn themselves out of their own mouths" is the heading of a revolutionary circular that is being distributed through the Empire. The argument of this document summarizes the Czar's manifesto from the point of view of the reformers. It contends that His Majesty not only makes out a good case for profound political changes, but also testifies to the success of the Liberals in bringing about a state of general agitation and excitement. This condition, the circular asserts, will be made increasingly worse until government in Russia must become representative of the people or dissolve in anarchy.

Uncertainty hangs over the Ministerial struggle, and even the best informed are not sure of the facts. It seems well established, however, that M. De Witte, although a constitutionalist in governmental theory, stood valiantly with Prince Sviatopolk Mirski, Prince Khilkoff, Gen. Sakharoff, Kokotzoff and Yermoloff against the final draft of the Imperial pronouncement. These men induced the Czar to adopt a much easier and more effective program, but the original copy, after having been sent to the printer, was displaced by the document which finally reached the public. The authors of this untimely document were the arch-reactionist Pobiedonostoff, the

NUMBER OF MEN MEET DEATH IN AN EXPLOSION

Towboat's Boiler Burst and Only Nine Out of Thirty Fight Men Escape Serious Injury --Two Boats were Racing.

Special to The Times

Huntington, W. Va., Jan 5.—By the explosion of the boilers on the towboat Defender, in the Ohio River, near here, a number of lives have been lost. Of the crew of 38 men, only nine escaped serious injury. Several dead bodies have been recovered. Five others are so badly burned or scalded that they will die. Six more of the crew cannot be accounted for, and it is believed that their lifeless bodies now lie at the bottom of the river.

A partial list of the dead and missing are as follows;

Perry Spencer, mate, Point Pleasant, W. Va., Horace Weisel, Pittsburg; James Cass, lamp trimmer, Pittsburg; Thomas Duffy, Scott Hamilton, James ——, fireman, Pittsburg, supposed to have been burned to death, William Weisel, George Kidd, David Adkins, deckhands, Pittsburg.

The Defender was owned by the Pittsburg Towboat Company, and was one of the biggest towboats on the river.

BOATS WERE RACING.

She had been one of the first boats out of Pittsburg on the recent rise, and towed a heavy list of barges to the Cincinnati market. She was returning to Pittsburg in company with her big towboat Victor of the same company, and the statement is made that the two big steamers were racing at the time the explosion occurred. The Victor was about a mile ahead of the Defender at the time, and her crew knew nothing of the disaster that had befallen her.

CAPTAIN SAVED.

The work of rescue of the victims was difficult owing to the darkness, and only a few yawls could be secured to go to the scene. Captain Woodruff of the Defender, was picked up 50 yards from the steamer, by some small boys, who rowed in a yawl from the Ohio shore, and he was taken to that side of the river. He is not seriously injured. One victim was found half a mile below the scene, clutching a portion of the wreckage, being so chilled that he could not speak.

The boat, almost immediately after the explosion, sank to the bottom, not more than 50 yards from the West Virginia shore. The barges in tow were soon all aflame, but they were cut loose, and they floated down the stream. They were finally landed, and the flames extinguished by the fire department.

ARE BADLY INJURED.

Those rescued from the steamer are so seriously injured that they can give no names or information regarding the catastrophe.

It is believed that many bodies were blown into the river, and may never be recovered.

It is impossible to give an accurate list of the dead or wounded as yet.

THE CANADIAN WINTER GAME.

The two City League games tonight will be the best yet played, as the four strongest teams in the league will compete.

The Farriers and T.A.S. will come together at eight o'clock in what should prove a fast and exciting contest at 8 o'clock. In the second game the Karnots meet the Colonials. Both teams won their opening games, and are equally determined to win tonight.

PORT PERRY HERE.

The local O.H.A. season opens here to-morrow night when the fast Port Perry seven will meet the seniors. The visitors have a very fast aggregation, and will give the boys a hard run. The locals will go on the ice considerably strengthened, and will be represented by the fastest team that has appeared on the ice this winter.

A big Boxing and Wrestling bout will be pulled off Saturday evening by Mr. Archie Woods, who managed the last affair that was pulled off a couple of weeks ago. The following bouts will take place; Leo McDonald of Toronto, will wrestle Bob Long of Peterborough, best two out of three falls at 120 pounds; Roy Stein of Hamilton, who wrestles Geo. Gauthier of Peterborough, two out of three at 160 pounds, is one of Chas. Tobins' pupils, one of the best wrestlers in the business, who is with a burlesque show this season, meeting all comers, forfeiting $25 to anybody he fails to throw in fifteen minutes. This should be a good contest. Two well-known local boys will wrestle two out of three for the 125 pound championship of Peterborough. There will be lots of music, and singing and dancing rendered by the best talent in the city. A Peterborough man will be selected as referee. There will be 300 rush seats at 25c, the rest of the house will be 35c, doors will open at 7.15 p.m., first bout will commence at 8.15 p.m. sharp.

WILL INCREASE PACIFIC FLEET

C. P. R. Contemplates Adding Several New Ships

MR. PIERS ON SITUATION

Says Immigration Promises This Year to go Far Ahead of any Yet Recorded

Montreal, January 5. — Following the purchase of two additional steamers to form a portion of its Atlantic fleet, the C.P.R. will arrange to increase the number of its steamers on the Pacific Ocean, thus increasing the popularity of the company's route between Britain and the Orient.

Mr. Arthur Piers, the superintendent of the company's steamship lines, made this forecast upon his return from a protracted stay in the British Isles.

The plans for the two vessels it has already been determined to build will be laid before the directors at a special meeting this afternoon.

These vessel will be eighty feet longer than the Lake Manitoba, the largest of the company's vessels now plying on the Atlantic, making them 595 feet long, and they will afford much more accommodation for first class passengers.

Mr. Piers is of the opinion that it ers is an indication of the enormous losses we have sustained. Of ten generals, two, Kondratenko and Tserpisky, have been killed. Rasnatovsky is dead, two are wounded, myself and General Nadaire, while Gorbatowsky is suffering from contusions. Of nine regimental commanders and colonels, Prince Matchabel Nauomenko has been killed, Doutire and Glagelow have succumbed to wounds, and four others have been wounded. One lieutenant-colonel has been killed and two are wounded."

on the Pacific, to make the trip via Canada to the Orient and Australia preferred to all others. The company in the past, however, has had no cause for complaint in this respect, having always obtained its fair share of to globe trotters. As substantiating this fact, Mr. Piers pointed out that out of a small first class passengers list on the Cedric, the vessel upon which he came to New York, there were six passengers for Australia.

In reply to a question as to the position of affairs in shipping circles in Great Britain, Mr. Piers said that a more healthy tone obtained than was the case last summer and autumn. The rates had now been re-established and the shippers were looking forward to a good year's business. Last year, it will be remembered, the rates were low, and added to that the cargoes were very small.

"It occurs to me," remarked Mr. Piers, "that the immigration this year will be larger than ever before. That seems to be the general opinion in immigration circles in Britain. Even at this season of the year, when very few people as a general rule immigrate, the numbers leaving Liverpool are greater than has ever before been the case. The quantity of the immigrants is also better. Canada is undoubtedly obtaining more attention at the present time than any other of the outlying portions of the British Empire."

JAPS MAKE GAIN.

On December 29, General Stoessel wrote; "At one o'clock yesterday morning the Japanese blew up part of the parapet of fort No. 3. They afterwards opened a severe bombardment along the whole front, but especially on fort No. 3. At about three o'clock in the afternoon they rushed to the attack of the parapet from the moat and glacis, where they had been held in readiness. Two attacks were repulsed, but the Japanese occupied the funnel-shaped opening formed by the explosion, and, reinforced by their reserves, began to run across the moat in groups of about five. They occupied the parapet and at dusk two battalions had entered the interior of the fort. Our troops fought from the entrenchments, which were badly damaged. Part of our troops hid themselves in the casemates, but the Japanese placed machine guns in front of the exit from the casemates, thus depriving our men hidden there of all possibility of making an attack.

BUSY, BUT WATCHFUL

Russia is busy with Japan, but she is not too busy to notice what England is doing. The Russ. of St. Petersburg, raises a cry of alarm over "the successive encroachments of Great Britain in southeast Persia." It argues that if once that region falls definitely into British hands Russia can have no direct access to the Indian Ocean, while the Persian Gulf will be a British possession and of no use to Russia in any war. "Our whole movement to the south in the Middle East," it continues, "will have come to naught. We shall have to content ourselves with the sands of Turkestan and give up our most ardent aspirations and tendencies. We may be told that this is an inopportune moment for mentioning the matter, inasmuch as before the war with Japan is over we cannot even think of an active policy in the near or East. Such a view, however, may result in our finding ourselves, after being victorious in the Far East, beaten in the political field in the near and middle East. As our interests in these two regions are far more important than any we have on the coasts of the Pacific, we shall have gained by bringing the war to a victorious conclusion." It then goes on to argue that Russian must defend her interests in the near and middle East with greater vigor than ever, inasmuch as they are now more menaced. The British expedition to southeast Persia is a danger which must be counteracted. The Russ knows too well, it says, what is apt to come of British commercial expeditions.

There is perhaps more truth than poetry in this complaint, just as there was more truth than poetry in the complaint about Russia's performance in Manchuria.

VALUABLE, THOUGH COSTLY

Great Britain finally licked the stubborn Boers, and it was a costly and discouraging performance, but she hasn't laid it up against them. When the war ended the British Government engaged in a grant of $15,000,000 to aid the Boers in restocking their farms. This sum was thus spent and $10,000,000 more was given to aid the Boers who had fought on the British side in the last years of the war. Besides these sums, some $172,000,000 has been spent from loans guaranteed by the British for teh return of the Boers to their farms and the settlement of the country. Altogether $60,000,000 has been given and $137,500,000 loaned for Boer purposes, this being in addition to the cost of the war.

Probably the war and the peace are worth to Great Britain all they have cost. She has a way of getting good returns from such investments. She also has a way of making those who give the returns fairly well satisfied with their side of the transaction.

THE SITUATION NOW DESPERATE

Japanese Have Torn up Many Miles of Railway

TROOPS CANNOT ADVANCE

Russians Greatly Alarmed—Extra Precautions Taken to Guard Railway, but it is Feared That Japanese Agents will Keep up Their Work

St. Petersburg, January 4. — The military stations around Baikal Lake are fast becoming overcrowded with troops, the transportation of which has been brought to a sudden stop by the discovery that long stretches of the Trans-Siberian Railroad have been destroyed by the Japanese.

"As far as can be learned, the work of destruction has been carried on for quite a time by comparatively few men, whose efforts have been confined to the region east of the lake. It may take weeks before the road can be put in repair, and by that time, it is feared, the Japanese spies will have been able to repeat their destructive efforts eastward.

HEARTS THAT ARE TOUCHED.

Interesting Letters from Friends who are Helping the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives.

DEAR MR. EDITOR,—I would like to quote from two or three letters that are on my desk from friends who have been sending in contributions for the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives. One contributor who sent $50.00 says: "I am sure the country is grateful to you for your good work, and many will bless you." The record-keeper of the Knights of the Maccabees, in sending $5.00 from his lodge, says: "Our Order has paid lots on lives that would undoubtedly have survived had proper treatment been within reach." W. C. McMaster, Township Clerk, Cookstown, sends $10.00 from his municipal council, and says: "We are sure you are doing a noble work to check that dread disease consumption." S. R. Spotteswood, Paris, closes a letter, in which he sent $5.00, in this way: "Such a work should enlist the sympathy of every true Canadian."

At the present, I may be permitted to say that the burden being borne by our Trustees is a very heavy one. Expenses always run heavier during the winter season. We have been compelled to build a laundry because other laundries refused our work, and this has called for an immediate expenditure of $4,000.

How hopeful is the work the Hospital is doing is plainly indicated in the reduction in the death-rate in Ontario from consumption.

Our Trustees are anxious to further extend accommodation at MUSKOKA, and the work can only be delayed by the need of funds. I do not hesitate to ask for a generous contribution from your readers, with so good a cause to advocate.

J. S. ROBERTSON,
Secretary.

RUSSIA IS STUNNED

The Effect of the Fall of Port Arthur in Russia

The capture of 203-Metre Hill by the Japanese was the garrison's first vital wound. Then came the capture of Rihlung, Sungshu, and Panlung Mountains. General Stoessel had announced that he would fight till the last.

"His plight last night," said Capt. Karlow, commander of the torpedo boat destroyer Vlastni, "looked like the last.

"There was no stopping the Japanese, who died in drove, fighting with the last instinctive twitch of the [illegible] with eyes fixed on Tiafo Mountain. General Stoessel had killed a Japanese army and exhausted his ammunition. But," said Capt. Karlow, "the attacks became more furious, ferocious, and fateful than ever. "So the white flag went up."

RUSSIA IS STUNNED.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 4.—The public is stunned by the announcement of the fall of Port Arthur, which the Government authorized this morning in the shape of the publication of foreign telegrams. Little had been done to prepare the public, and the impression produced despite the heroic nature of the defence, almost stupefaction. What will be the immediate effect of the announcement on the internal situation remains to be seen, although it is fully expected to be followed by big demonstrations on the part of the elements which spare nothing to embarrass the Government. The authorities, with heads long lowered for the blow, accepted it with dogged Russian courage, and the stubborn response that the end was a long way off. Nevertheless, although this moment had been anticipated and discounted it remained for the actual event to bring home a full realisation of the great change produced in the military situation by the release of the men and guns at Port Arthur for the reinforcement of Field Marshal Oyama, and the indefinite prolongation of the war, appreciating that no decisive victory is even then possible without control of the sea.

ONLY ONE SAVED OF FAMILY

Father, Mother and Seven Children Cremated

Elmira, N.Y., Jan. 5.—During the early morning hours fire consumed the house of Frank Noweski, a Polish miner in Morris Run, Pa., and the entire family of ten, except the oldest son, aged 18, was either burned to death or smothered. The charred bodies of Noweski, his wife and seven children, one of them a baby in arms, are in the ruins of their home.

Noweski was employed by the Morris Run Coal Mining Company, and with his fellow miners had been on a strike since last April. Recently smallpox broke out in Morris Run and Noweski and his family were among the sufferers from the disease. Every member of the family recovered, and the quarantine had just been raised from their little home.

The Noweskis lived in a long house on the outskirts of Morris Run, and there were no immediate neighbors. Last night the family retired as usual. Soon after two o'clock this morning the oldest son was awakened by the smell of smoke. The room in which he was sleeping was on fire, and it was with the greatest difficulty that he made his escape from the house.

May Run for Ottawa

Ottawa, Jan. 5.—The striking victory of Mayor Ellis in Monday's municipal election makes it practically certain that he will be the choice of the Conservative convention, which meets to-night to select a successor to Mr. C. Berkeley Powell, as running mate to Mr. D. Murphy. As was expected, Mr. P. D. Ross, the editor of the Evening Journal, has declined to allow his name to go before the Conservative convention.

Children for Canada

London, Jan. 5.—The superintendent of the Children's Home at Birmingham, maintained by the Methodist communion, says that the colonial demand for children trained in this institution continues to grow. He is seldom without the choice of three or four homesteads in Canada to which to send any child emigrant available.

Horse Drives Express

Niagara Falls, Ont., Jan. 5.—Grand Trunk express No. 4 was delayed near Grimsby this morning by a peculiar accident. A runaway horse fell into a culvert and the line was blocked for an hour until the timbers could be raised and the animal released.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, excepting 8 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres more or less.

ENTRY

Entry may be made personally at a local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situate, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local land office for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES

A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act, and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

1] At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

2] If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), or any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

3] If a settler was entitled to and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

4] If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same town, township, or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of clause [2] [3] or [4] must cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, or substitute 20 head of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, and have besides 30 acres substantially fenced.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd of June, 1889.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled and the land may again be thrown open for entry.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT

Should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

INFORMATION

Newly arrived immigrants will receive, at the Immigration Offices in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing lands to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Land Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

JAMES A. SMART,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands, to which the Regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Co.

INCORPORATED

Capital $5,000,000. Shares $1.00 Each, Par Value, Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable.

We have just secured the agency for the above splendid proposition, of which we have been allotted a block of Treasury stock. We can confidently recommend this as a safe and, we believe, exceedingly profitable investment. Every dollar of stock is guaranteed by twenty year, full paid, gold bond, delivered to purchaser of stock, from an Investment Company that has no interest whatever in the company, but who are disposing of the debentured bonds to the public, and, under their charter, they are compelled to deposit securities to an equal amount, to the State Treasurer under which they received their charter, there by doubly securing the payment of their gold bonds.

The Company's property, which is now past the project stage, is known to be marvellously rich in gold.

Following is the opinion of G. W. Miller, Mining Engineer, formerly with the Boston and Montana Consolidated Copper and Silver Mining Company, U. S.; Simmer and Jack Mining Co., Limited, Elandsfountain, South Africa:—

"You have here a most valuable property and one of the strongest fissure veins that can be found in any part of the world.

"With the present development of the Monument Mine, I estimate that 100 tons per day can be extracted, which will mill from $15.00 to $20.00 per ton. The total cost of mining the ore, delivering and milling, I place at about $4.00 per ton. With increased milling capacity, it is safe to say that the mine can furnish 100 tons of $15.00 ore, which would yield a clear profit of $11.00 per ton, or $1,100 00 per day (equal to $400,000 00 per annum). Estimated total value of ore in sight, $2,500,000."

"In regards to the amount of ore available at the mines at present, I saw on the dump several thousand tons, probably 5000 tons would be an under-estimate.

"As to the size of the ore body itself, from what I saw of the geological structure, I think that there is every indication that it will be found to extend underground as far as the out-croppings on the south side of the gulch. This would mean an ore body large enough to keep the present mill running for many years to come."

A write up of the proposition will appear in these columns in a few days. Watch for it. In the meantime we will be pleased to furnish full information to investors.

Stocks—The MARKETS OF THE WORLD—Grains

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

The Salido Gold and Copper Company

Incorporated under the laws of Arizona, with a capital of $3,0c ooo forever on-assessable divided into shares of $1 each, par value. All investments insured Granite Securities Company.

The "SALIDO GOLD COPPER COMPANY" enterprise offers attractions to the investors of the country, that without thorough investigation, would scarcely seem probable. If only a fraction is realized of what any prudent business man in his own affairs would regard as absolutely certain, the enterprise must prove abundantly successful and exceedingly profitable.

SALE OF STOCK

The company will prosecute the work of development with all the diligence that the cash in the treasury will permit and circumstances warrant, and to this end a small amount of the treasury stock is now placed upon the market, in blocks of not less than One Hundred Shares. The par value of the stock is One Dollar per share, fully paid and forever non-assessable.

The company reserves the right to advance the price of stock without notice.

REMEMBER

First—That all payments for treasury stock go into the treasury for development work and not into the pockets of the promoters.

Second—There are no salaried officers.

Third—The incorporators have put their own good money into this enterprise and being business men, intend to do business along business lines.

Fourth—That this company is honest.

Fifth—If you are thinking of investing in mining stocks this is worthy of your careful investigation.

OTHER PROPERTIES

This Company owns four other Gold and Copper Mines, which title is now in process in the laws of MEXICO. As soon as title is perfected, we shall commence to develop them as we certainly expect something very great from these properties. Our assays taken have been of the very best, showing gold and copper from $6.00 to $122.30 per ton.

I have secured a small block of this stock, which I offer at the following prices: Unguaranteed 40 cents per share, guaranteed 80 cents per share. These prices will only prevail for a short time, as the number of shares for sale at this price is limited. The Shares will then be advanced to 40 cents for the unguaranteed and 80 cents for the guaranteed. I can unhesitatingly recommend this investment to the Canadian public.

Rare Chance to Secure a Paying Investment

has placed a small block of their stock at the disposal of Canadian investors. This stock is sure to rapidly advance in price. The Company is now arranging to instal the power plant and a mill and cyanide plant for the reduction of their ore to a bullion on the property. They have arranged with a Trust Company having assets of $1,500,000 to put up a bond guaranteeing investors the repayment of the full amount invested. This makes investors absolutely safe. By no possibility can they lose a dollar.

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY was organized November 21, 1902 under the laws of the State of Idaho. The capitalization is one million shares of the par value of one dollar each, fully paid and non-assessable; of the 1,000,000 shares, 400,000 have been set aside as treasury stock.

THE BOISE BASIN came into prominence shortly after Grimes and his party of prospectors entered the Basin country in 1862; their entrance was into the northern portion, and one discovery of rich placer ground followed another until the news of the rich finds reached the outside world, when a veritable stampede for Boise Basin commenced; town after town sprung up and grew together in an incredibly short time; the rush of people to Idaho City made it a place of [illegible] in 1867, having a business street over a mile long lined with two-story buildings streets and sidewalks filled with people day and night, business and money on every hand and the city bearing the proud distinction of being the capital of the territory of Idaho. Wages ran from $6 to $10 a day and not infrequently forty and fifty men worked on a single placer claim; the clean-up for a day's work in many instances ran close to $5,000; large fortunes were made in a few days by washing the golden sands in a pan, so eager was the quest for the shining metal that the streets of Idaho City were dug up and washed and re-washed, and the soil removed from under the houses and places of business. So extensive was the search for the hidden treasure that not only all of the low ground was worked but the foot of the mountains surrounding the city have been washed away, filling up the lower portions of the basin and extending into the town, where one of the buildings has been buried under the tailings from the numerous placer workings.

LOCATION—The property of the Gold Coin Mining Company is situated in the Gambrinus Mining District, Boise County, Idaho, on the range of mountains between Moore Creek and Elk Creek, which forms a part of the eastern boundary of the famous Boise Basin and into which these mountains are drained. The property is located ten miles northeast of Idaho City, from which place there are good wagon roads either to the workings on top of the mountain or to the place of the proposed tunnels in the gulch which crosses the Tunnelsite claim.

THE CLAIMS—The Company owns a group of four contiguous lode mining claims and the Gold Coin Millsite: the names of the lode claims are the Tunnelsite, Blue Bell, Pennsylvania and Homestake, each being a full claim 600 feet wide by 1,500 feet long, excepting the Tunnelsite claim, which is 450 feet wide at the west end and 1,055 feet long. it was necessary to stake the claim in this form on account of joining the Washington property on the south and the Sab Rosa property on the west, these properties being prior locations to the Tunnelsite claim. The four lode claims aggregate nearly 80 acres of rich mineral land.

Further particulars may be had on application to WM. SAILSBURY, Fiscal Agent of the Company, Peterborough, Ont., or to

S. E. PHELPS, Secretary.

CARRIES WIFE TO AWFUL DEATH

Infuriated Man Holds Woman on Railroad Track Till Train Kills Them Both

PLEADINGS OF NO AVAIL

A. R. Hemphill Remained Away From Home at Carbondale and Resented Appeals to Return

Carbondale, Ill., January 4.—Pinioned between the rails in front of an Illinois Central train approaching at a speed of fifty miles an hour, Mrs. A. R. Hemphill, of De Soto, met a fearful death today as a result of her husband's frenzy.

Powerless to escape, the woman was held on the tracks until the train bore down upon the couple, literally cutting both to pieces.

Hemphill had come to this city several days ago. Learning the whereabouts of her husband, Mrs. Hemphill drove to Carbondale in a light wagon and induced the the man to leave his companions.

The couple had only gone half a miles on the journey home when Hemphill became infuriated. He started back to Carbondale, and was followed by his wife, who pleaded with him to remain with her.

"Don't drink any more whisky," pleaded the wife, and then, pointing down the track, she called the man's attention to the approach of the train.

Hemphill suddenly seized her and, throwing her to the tracks, held her there until the train ended both their lives.

SIX GENERATIONS

Illinois Family Boasts a Great-Great-Great Grandmother Still Living

Chicago, January 4.—David Ross Chambers, a blue-eyed boy of Bushnell, Ill., will have the proud distinction of receiving a Christmas gift from his great-great-great-grandmother, probably the only child in the United States with such a relative. In Warren County, Ill., resides Mrs. Nancy G. Bond, and her nimble fingers have been engaged for many weeks in knitting mittens, stockings and other useful articles for several score of her descendants, among them being the great-great-great-grandson, the two-year-old David Chambers, of Bushnell. The birth of the Chambers baby made up a group of six generations.

There are occasional instances where five generations are found, but these are very rare, and the sixth is so remarkable that, so far as known, there is none other on record. Major J. C. Bond, who married Nancy G. Stice, has been dead many years, but his widow still enjoys good health at the age of ninety-seven. Three children, Mrs. Susannah Johnson, of Youngstown, Ill.; Mrs. Sadie Campbell, of Oklahoma, and Mrs. Henry Staat of Greenbush, Ill., survive. Mrs Bond has fourteen grandchildren, eighteen great-grandchildren, three great-great-grandchildren, and one great-great-great-grandchild, the Chambers boy.

The chain of six generations is made up of her daughter, Mrs. Susannah Johnson, of Youngstown, Ill.; J. C. Johnson, of Avon, Ill., who is the son of Mrs. Johnson and grandson of Mrs. Bond; Mrs. P. J. Karnes, of Galesburg, Ill., daughter of J. C. Johnson; Mrs. Milton Chambers, of Bushnell, Ill., who is the daughter of Mrs. Karnes, and finally the two-year-old son of Mrs. Chambers.

Mrs. Bond, who heads the genealogical line, was born in Kentucky, and is a grand-daughter of William Wilson, who was a Captain in the Revolutionary war.

NEARLY MOBBED GRAND DUKE

Russian Audience Became Wild as They Saw Bejeweled Actress Recognized by Czar's Cousin

St. Petersburg, January 4.—Grand Duke Michael, cousin of the Czar, was nearly mobbed today while attending a performance at the St. Michael theater. Among the artists there appeared on the stage a well-known French actress, who, rumor says, has been recently the object of much attention from the Grand Duke. She was arrayed in a splendid toilette and covered with precious jewels.

As she approached the proscenium box where the Prince was sitting, the latter was seen by the audience to make a gesture of recognition to her. Immediately there was an uproar and a spectator shouted:

"Those jewels were bought with the money appropriated for the navy."

Others in the audience shouted that money was thrown away by the members of the Imperial family, while so many Russian soldiers were dying of privation on the field of war. The demonstration became so threatening that the Grand Duke had to withdraw by a side entrance. The audience gathered in the lobby until teh police dispersed it, until the police dispersed it.

The Japanese Will Never Give up in the Struggle With Russia

London, January 4.—"This war will end when Russia asks for terms of peace, or, in the contrary event, when the last Japanese creature of either sex, capable of bearing arms, dies fighting against her." Such was the emphatic declaration of Mr. Arthur Diosy, F.R.G.S., founder of the Japan Society, this week. Intervention be regarded as practically out of the question; Japan would take care not to be swindled a second time. The struggle was likely to affect the commerce of the world to a greater extent than any other war in history. It was a conflict between a retrograde type of civilisation, represented by a so-called Christian nation, and a free and enlightened type, represented by a so-called heathen people. The real cause of the war was the present condition and the future of China. It was the ambition of Japan to awaken the Chinese, and she would have regeneration. Russian success would not, in the lecturer's opinion, be well for British trade. Wherever a Chinaman had come under the thumb of the Russians, he found it to his advantage to buy other than British goods, and if Russia became all-powerful in China, there would be a great increase in the sale of German, Belgian and Swiss products until such time as Russia herself could supply the articles. There was undoubtedly a danger of a commercial rivalry stronger and fiercer than then the world had ever seen, for China was likely to become one of the greatest, if not the greatest, of industrial nations. In the interval, at all events, this country could keep its mills going to their fullest extent, for China would need plant and tools, and a great deal of those would be supplied by Great Britain. Those who engaged in this business must do so on scientific lines; they must take a leaf out of the German book in the Far East, and several leaves out of that of the Japanese. It would be worth doing.

This Company is the owner of 70,000 acres of very rich, fertile lands in the Province of Pinar del Rio, Cuba. This land is suitable to the growth of the finest quality of tobacco, oranges, lemons, pineapples and other citrous fruits

A small portion of this estate produced last year a large percentage on the total authorized capital of this company.

One acre produced last year $2700 in tobacco. The revenue-producing powers of this estate will not be reduced by sale of lands, as the cultivated portion will be increased by additional plantation.

The lands offered for sale can be made as productive within a short period as those at present cultivated.

The estate is abundantly watered by numerous streams and fresh water springs.

The climate is one perpetual June, no fogs, no mists, no yellow fever.

Flowers bloom the year round.

Game and fish abound.

The temperature is even, so that catarrh is unheard of.

Abundance of water and perpetual grass makes stock raising an assured success.

New York markets are at its command for all its products.

The estate borders upon Gaudiana Bay, with a sea frontage of about twelve miles and a deep water, sheltered harbor.

Cuba has only now become open to modern development, and its progress is sure to be rapid.

This is the opportunity for the man of small means to obtain a home and subsequent wealth, for the man of means to obtain a profitable investment.

This Company is now offering land in blocks of 10 acres or more at $10.00 per acre.

Stock at par or scrip entitling the owner to an option to take land at $10.00, or stock at par, for a limited period

Only 10,000 acres will be offered at $10.00 per acre, of which 2,000 acres are already sold

The second 10,000 acres will be sold at $20.00 per acre or over within a few months.

The balance of the estate to be disposed of 30,000 acres, will be raised to $50.00 per acre or over.

As the price of land is raised the price of stock will also advance.

Purchase now and save money.

Terms—25 per cent cash; 25 per cent. 30 days; 25 per cent. 60 days; 25 per cent. 90 days.

Application to be made to GEORGE F. DAVIS, General Manager, 106 King Street, West, Toronto.

Not Only Relief, but Lasting Cure

Is What You Get From Catarrhozone Which Eradicates Every Trace of Catarrh From the System.

Relief is a good thing, but we soon get tired of it and look for a remedy that will drive the seeds of Catarrh right out of the system. It is only a waste of time to trifle with internal dosing. You must treat Catarrh locally because it is a local disease.

The most sensible treatment is Catarrhozone which really does reach the diseased membranes in a most thorough way. Every case of catarrh can be cured if Catarrhozone is used. It unquestionably penetrates every air cell and air passage of the breathing organs. It completely destroys the catarrh germs and heals all the inflamed surfaces.

Every requirement of an ideal catarrh cure is embraced in Catarrhozone. Other treatments may have failed to even bring relief, but one trial is sufficient to prove merit in Catarrhozone not found in the ordinary snuff or wash that unscrupulous people sometimes recommend for catarrh.

If you are subject to colds, catarrh or throat trouble you will find quick relief and lasting cure in fragrant, healing Catarrhozone. Mrs. E. P. Fairbanks, of Durham, was cured of chronic catarrh by this remedy and endorses it in the following letter, which speaks for itself;

"I suffered continually from catarrh which affected my throat. My nostrils were usually inflammed and I was greatly bothered with droppings in the throat which made me sick at my stomach. I had a bad taste in my mouth, and felt a ringing in my ears. I read of Catarrhozone and commenced to use it. In a few days it helped me more than I ever expected. I used it four times daily and in two weeks most of the disagreeable symptoms disappeared. I continued the Catarrhozone treatment for six weeks and was perfectly cured. The catarrh has never returned."

Every complete outfit of Catarrhozone sufficient for two months' use is guaranteed to permanently cure, trial size 25c. Sold by druggists or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co, Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

Progressive Peterborough

The customs returns for the half year ending December 31st, shows Peterborough to be in a flourishing condition. The receipts were $126,427.76, while for the same period in the year preceding the figures were $108,284. The fiscal year ends on the 30th of June. The year's business shows an increase of $27,143.76 in the customs business.

A Delightful Dance

The boys from the different colleges who are spending the holidays at their homes in Peterborough, gave a delightful dance on Tuesday evening in Foresters' Hall. A large attendance and splendid music made the event a very enjoyable one. The hall was prettily decorated for the occasion, college colors being conspicuous. Refreshments were served during the evening.

AN INQUEST ORDERED

To Inquire into the Death of Duval at or at Cordova

County Constable Cochrane is in Cordova looking into the matter of the shooting of young Duval, who was killed by his brother on Saturday last. There is every reason to believe that death was due to an accident. Dr. Gray, coroner, informed The Times yesterday that he considered an inquest unnecessary under the circumstances, and would open a court of enquiry at Cordova Mines this afternoon at two o'clock.

ANNUAL MEETING

And Election of Officers of the Peterborough Fire Brigade

On Tuesday evening the annual meeting of the Peterborough Fire Brigade was held in the rooms of the department, with Chief Rutherford presiding. The officers for the year were elected as follows:

Assistant Chief—W. R. Turner.
1st Lieut.—A. Mitchell.
2nd Lieut.—J. Gibbs.
Secretary—J. R. Metheral.
Treasurer—W. P. Adamson.

At the conclusion of the business the members adjourned, on invitation of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Brooks, to the Palace Hotel, where they partook of a sumptuous fowl dinner. When the good things provided had been disposed of, a short toast list was run off, which included the King and the popular Host and Hostess. The latter was responded to by Mr. Brooks, in his usual happy manner. After an evening spent in genuine enjoyment, the party broke up at an early hour.

DIED IN EMILY

Mr. Wallace H. Graham Passes Away at the Early Age of 25 Years

An extremely sad death occurred in Emily, on Wednesday, December 28th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Graham, when their youngest son, Wallace H., passed away at the age of 25 years.

Deceased young man has been very popular and of an exceeding bright and amiable disposition. For some years he taught school and intended pursuing his studies further and entering the ministry. About a year and a half ago he lost his health and although the best medical aid was called in and every possible means used to promote his recovery he passed away on Wednesday last. His sufferings were borne with Christian fortitude all through his illness. The parents and remaining members of the family have the profound sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

The funeral took place on Friday to Bethany cemetery and the services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Kenny, Fenelon Falls, and Rev. H. V. Mountier, Mount Pleasant.

THE CAMPAIGN

Candidates in Both Ridings Working Hard

The campaign in the two Peterborough ridings is progressing, the candidates all working like beavers. On Tuesday evening, Mr. Bradburn, the Conservative candidate in the west riding, opened his campaign at Bensfort. There was a fair attendance, and careful attention was given to the discussion of public questions by Mr. T. E. Bradburn and Mr. R. M. Denistoun. The chairman of the evening was Mr. W. Fisher.

Mr. McWilliams, the Liberal candidate, held a meeting last night in the Town Hall, North Monaghan. There was a large attendance of electors, who accorded Mr. McWilliams a good hearing.

Mr. McWilliams will address a meeting in Ennismore Town Hall tomorrow evening.

In the East Riding, Mr. Anderson, the Liberal candidate, appears to be having things pretty much his own way. Last night he held a rousing meeting in the Town Hall, Keene, which was addressed by Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agricultural.

On which are set ten hydrants and fourteen stop valves. Two hundred and thirteen new services have been laid during the present year. The total pipe distribution of cast iron, all sizes, four-inch to sixteen-inch, inclusive, amounts to twenty-three inches.

Total hydrants set to date, 166; total valves set to date, 155; total services laid, 1,559.

Respectfully submitted,
W. HENDERSON,
Superintendent.

A Good "Starter"

Mr. J. M. Brooks yesterday received a letter from Mr. Frank G. Smith, of Buffalo, N.Y., who so acceptably filled the position of starter at the Peterborough Turf Club's races on two occasions. Mr. Smith is engaged as starter for the winter races to be held at Toronto, Port Perry, Lindsay, Belleville and Ottawa. Just why he has been given the go-by here does not appear. The public, who are interested in our winter sports, no doubt will do a lot of thinking.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mr. H. P. Kennedy was in Toronto yesterday.

—Mr. C. LeBrun, Toronto spent New Year's in town.

—Mr. J. H. Brandon was in town yesterday, and left for Toronto last night.

—Miss Annie Graham, Mount Pleasant, spent a couple of days in town, the guest of friends.

—Mr. E. H. Amys, Lakefield, was in town yesterday, and gave The Times a call.

—Miss Margaret Williamson, of Cayuga, is visiting Mrs. G. H. Williamson, 216 London street.

—Mrs. Every and two children, of Novar, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Payne.

—Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Morrow spent a few days in Toronto with Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gough.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Eyres have returned from their wedding trip and taken up residence on Antrim street.

—Mrs. Peel, nee Miss Bradshaw, of London, spent the holidays here, the guest of her mother, Charlotte street.

Good skating at Street Railway Rink. Band Thursday night.

—Mr and Mrs. Ed. Wudby, of Toronto, are in town, visiting at the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Hall, Dublin street.

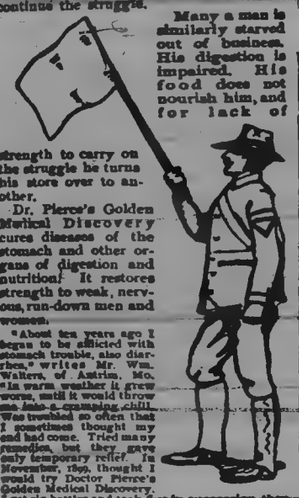
—Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Campbell, of London, returned home yesterday after a pleasant visit with Mrs. Hunt, 26 Wescott street, Mrs. Campbell's mother.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pilling, 14 Bolivar street, celebrated the 31st anniversary of their wedding yesterday. They were the recipients of a large number of presents from their many friends. In the evening a number of their friends called and spent a few hours in social enjoyment.

Yesterday morning Mr. S. Sager left for Brantford, taking with him his young son Floyd, with the object of placing him in the school for the blind at that city. It will be remembered that the little fellow had his eyes badly injured some months ago by the explosion of a dynamite cap. It was hoped that when he had recovered from the injury that his eyesight would be partially, if not wholly restored, but such has not been the case, and he now goes to the School, to be taught by the methods in use for the purpose. There is still some hope of recovering his sight.

Bobcaygeon Independent;—Mr. T. Evans Bradburn, of Peterborough, the Conservative candidate for West Peterborough, was in town this week on his way through Harvey and Galway. Mr. Bradburn has been known to the district since boyhood and known as a good fellow. As for nerve, tackling an adverse majority of ten or twelve hundred, does not phase him in the least. Faint heart never won fair lady, he says, and kissing, we are told, goes by favor. Who knows but Yair Fortune, who so long bestowed her favor upon the Liberal candidate, may not

STARVED OUT.



Many a garrison has been forced to give up the fight and hang out the white flag of surrender, when lack of food has weakened the men past all power to continue the struggle.

Many a man is similarly starved out of business. His digestion is impaired. His food does not nourish him, and for lack of strength to carry on the struggle he turns his store over to another.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores strength to weak, nervous, run-down men and women.

"About ten years ago I began to be afflicted with stomach trouble, also diarrhea," writes Mr. Wm. Walters, of Antrim, Mo. "In warm weather it grew worse, until it would throw me into a cramping chill. Was troubled so often that I sometimes thought my end had come. Tried many remedies, but they gave only temporary relief. In November, 1899, thought I would try Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I got six bottles and took them as directed, when I thought I would wait for a time and take the one left. Soon found I had symptoms of the trouble coming back, so took the sixth bottle and it cured me. I have enjoyed the best of health this summer, and the credit all belongs to your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I can't express my many thanks to Dr. Pierce for his remedy, for it did so much for me. Words cannot express how severely I suffered.

"If any doubt the above statement let them address me, and I will take great pleasure in answering."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the sluggish liver.

AN ENJOYABLE BANQUET

Heads of Departments of Canadian General Banqueted

A very enjoyable banquet was tendered on Monday evening to the heads of the departments of the Canadian General Electric Company, by the popular superintendent, Mr. E. G. Patterson. The affair was held in Long's Palm Gardens. After the good things provided had been disposed of, speeches and songs were indulged in by those present, which was interspersed by orchestral music.

The guests present were Messrs. E. H. D. Hall, the Company's solicitor, Mr. D. Hughes-Charles, their bankers and Dr. Young, their physician.

After the patriotic toasts had been disposed of, Mr. R. E. Layfield, in a brief but fluent speech, aptly proposed "The Company," which was responded to by Mr. E. G. Patterson, the host. The financial interests of the town, was proposed by Mr. R. E. Harding, and was replied to by Mr. D. Hughes-Charles, in an eloquent speech. The "Town of Peterborough," proposed by Mr. H. D. Burnett, brought forth speeches from Mr. E. H. D. Hall, town solicitor, and Ald. Tovey, who was the recipient of hearty congratulations on his election.

Dr. Young responded to the toast "The Learned Professions," proposed by Mr. W. S. Robinson. The health of the ladies was proposed by Mr. R. Dovey, and Mr. W. Harold Cluxton responded.

"The Host" was enthusiastically toasted by Mr. Hughes-Charles, to which Mr. Patterson responded.

Songs were sung during the evening by Mr. Hughes-Charles, Mr. Cluxton and Mr. Halpany.

Rojestvensky's Battleship Foundered.

Paris, Jan. 6.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Paris edition of the New York Herald, telegraphs that Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky's battleship Kniiasuvaroff, has struck a rock and foundered.

Tokio, Jan. 6.—A report from General Nogi's headquarters, largely increases the figures of the surrendered garrison, and intimates that the force handed over to the Japanese at Port Arthur will be 32,000, exclusive of 15,000 or 16,000 sick or wounded, making a rough total of 48,000.

GOT ALONG

A Pretty Girl of 17 With Energy

"During the winter of 1901-02 (I was then 17 years of age) I attended a Grammar School in Rolla, N. Dak. staying with some friends of ours and working for my board between school hours.

I used to get up early in the morning to do my housework but as those people got up very late I would not cook breakfast but only made the coffee. Tired of working and in a hurry to go to school I would eat but a snack and a cup of strong coffee for my breakfast, and it was not long until I got to be nervous, had headaches and could not sleep.

"One day our Prof. Young was telling us what effect coffee had on one's system. I compared his words with how I felt and found that coffee was ruining my health. So I tried to quit but found I was a slave to it, but quit just the same. I did not know what to drink—I hated milk or tea so I would drink nothing but water; got poor and thin and finally left school to remove to Helma, Wash., where at present by the constant use of Postum you can find me a bright, healthy girl. After we settled down Papa opened a grocery store.

"At this time I was so ill I could not do a thing, and Mama was anxious about me. She would prepare some coffee and try to have me drink it in place of water, but every time I drank it I noticed it made me worse. One day while I was looking around the store I noticed your Postum as a food-drink. I asked Papa if he knew what it was but he said he did not but found he had to keep it, so I took a package of it home and said I would try it, made it according to directions and it was delicious. After using Postum two weeks I was much less nervous and noticed I was getting a little fatter, so I persuaded Mama to use it for the whole family. Everyone of them liked it and now they all complain if they cannot have Postum.

"After a while I got to be healthy and tired of being indoors I went out to take orders for the store and many a customer I persuaded to use Postum.

"One lady told me that they used coffee because they could get premiums for the wrappers but she admitted they did not like coffee at all. I left them a package of Postum on trial and the next time I came around she returned it — said they did not like it. She hadn't made it right. It was about dinner time so I said, 'Let me make it for you. I am sure you will like it,' so I prepared the drink according to directions and had dinner with them and they all said it was delicious and have used nothing else since. That lady thanked me afterwards for Postum; it improved their health she said." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

THE CZAR OF RUSSIA PREPARES FOR CIVIL WAR.

There is Evidence That the Revolutioniary Agitators Have Decided to Take Every Advantage of the Government's Embarrassment---The News papers are Speaking Out with Great Boldness Against the Czar.

GEN. KOUROPATKIN TO WIRE WHAT HE THINKS AS TO RUSSIA'S CONDITION.

Terrible Calamity in Russia About to Take Place—Prince Troubetzky, President of the Moscow Zemstvo, Says That Russia is Now in a State of Anarchy and That a Bloody Revolution May Occur.

General Stoessel will Have to Return to Russia to Stand Court Martial for Surrendering the Fortress of Port Arthur—All Russia Aroused Over the Treatment of the Heroic Commander.

Special to The Times

St. Petersburg, Jan. 6.—Emperor Nicholas returned this morning to Tsarskoe Selo, 15 miles south of St. Petersburg, from Minsk. An extraordinary council is expected to be held at Tsarskoe Selo immediately, and it is believed that the whole situation will be reviewed. General Kuropatkin has been called upon to telegraph his opinion of the situation at home — which cannot be disregarded in considering the future.

There is evidence that the revolutionary agitators have decided to take every advantage of the Government's embarrassment, and the moderate Liberals, who are trying to force the Government's hand and compel the summoning of a national assembly, are beginning to redouble their efforts. The newspapers, despite the punishments inflicted upon them, are speaking out with great boldness. Seemingly reckless of the consequences, they are using every pretext for savage criticism of bureaucracy. The Zemstvos, in defiance of the Government's note of warning continue to memorialise the throne for the program adopted at the meeting of the Zemstvos delegates here.

Consequently, in spite of the loud protestations of the official world that peace is impossible, the opinion is held by exceedingly shrewd observers that the Government may be forced to conclude peace with Japan in order to have free hands to deal with the internal situation.

With the increasing complications, Mr. Witte, President of the Ministerial Council, looms up larger as the strong man to whom the Emperor will turn in the present crisis. It is remarkable that the despatches from the front are absolutely silent on the subject of the army's reception of the news of the fall of Port Arthur, indicating that the announcement has been withheld.

New York, Jan. 6.—A St. Petersburg despatch to the Sun says;

Prince Troubetsky, president of the Moscow Zemstvo, has written a letter to Prince Mirsky, Minister of the Interior, defending the discussion of reforms by the Moscow Zemstvo, which called forth the condemnation of the Czar.

The Prince says; "Russia is now in a state of anarchy. The revolutionary movement now proceeding is not a simple disturbance by the youth of the country. It is a movement which reflects the attitude of public opinion, and it is very dangerous, even terrible, not only for the people, but for the Emperor. It is therefore the duty of every true Russian subject to do what he can to prevent the impending calamity.

"I recently had the happiness to see the Emperor, and I reported to him, truly and in all sincerity, the present state of public opinion. I tried to explain to his Majesty that what is now proceeding is not a simple emeute, but a revolution. The Russian nation is being dragged into a revolution which it does not want, and which may be prevented by the Emperor if he shows confidence in his people. It is my strong belief that if the Emperor will himself unite the national forces around him he will relieve Russia from the terrors of an impending bloody revolution. If he will do so, the nation will support his autocratic power.

"Under existing conditions it is impossible to forbid the people from expressing their sufferings. It is impossible to keep silence when the country is in a dangerous position."

PEACE TERMS WHICH JAPAN WOULD ACCEPT

London, January 6.—It is learned today on the highest authority that Japanese have already formulated terms upon which she will conclude a treaty of peace with Russia.

The terms are as follows;

Permanent occupation of Saghalien by Japanese; protectorate over Corea by Japan; cession of Port Arthur to Japan, with absolute discretion as to retrocession to China; placing of Russian railways in Manchuria under international board, with certain predominance of Chinese members; Russia to pay to Japan heavy indemnity.

It is no longer secret that both Russia and Japan have been approached by other powers as to terms for peace. Japan's inevitable answer has been that Port Arthur stood in the way. Russia always intimated that she would not even discuss peace until her armies had gained a victory which restore the prestige lost by the Czar's forces in the course of the war.

THE WORK OF A GREAT ARMY

Three Million Meals for Starving London

RECORD OF HEROIC WORK

Tending the Sick, Rescuing the Fallen Helping the Needy, This is the Work of the Salvation Army

London, January 4.—The Salvation Army has provided 3,000,000 meals for the starving in London during the past year. Its social institutions, homes, food depots, labor bureaus, and colonies number 514.

The Army has 25 rescue homes, which have sheltered 2,165 girls. It has helped nearly 700 ex-criminals, nursed nearly 8,000 sick persons, and provided cheap lodgings for 1,500,000 homeless persons.

In addition 4,000 persons have been employed in Salvation factories, work has been found for 15,000 more, and 500 lost persons have been restored to their friends. The story of the war is told in a report just published under the title of "Precipices." It also deals with the causes that make for the downfall of man in modern England, and the Army's method in fighting them.

The social work cost over 90,000 pounds sterling and it is expected that the sum of 42,000 pounds is required for the year ending next September.

A Cold-Blooded Proposition

It is evident that our two local contemporaries have got their heads together and are putting up a job on the town, judging from the following, which we take from the Examiner: "Now that the press is represented on the Council Board, and payment for pavements is to be made by general tax, we may expect a granolithic pavement on Chambers street to serve the convenience of the rear entrances of the Examiner and Review offices.

BARON ROTHSCHILD VISITING MONTREAL

Member of Famous Banking House is now in the City

WILL ENJOY WINTER SPORTS

Says His Firm is not Financing Either Country in Present Eastern Conflict

Montreal, January 6.—Baron Louis de Rothschild, of New York, is in the city, purely as he explained to a reporter, on pleasure bent.

The Baron, who is a young man, belongs to the Austrian branch of the family, and has been a resident in New York city for the past three months.

He is a nephew of Lord Rothschild, the head of the London banking branch of the banking firm operated by the family, which has also branches at Vienna and Paris.

Thus far the firm has had very little to do with business in America, and what little has been done has been looked after by the London office.

The Baron would not say whether the firm contemplated establishing an agency on this side of the Atlantic, but from a number of things the Baron said, coupled with his evident intention of staying in America for a protracted period, such a thing as an active campaign on this side of the water might be one of the contingencies of the future.

Baron Louis is making his first trip through Canada and has been favorably impressed with all that he has seen. For the present he contemplates getting some idea of Canadian winter sports. He may go as far as Quebec.

When it was suggested that a more favorable time to visit the ancient capital was during the summer, he remarked: "Oh, well, I may come back next summer if I like the place."

The Baron is evidently a keen observer, for he talked interestingly upon a number of his experiences in the United States.

The Baron did not want to talk about the war between Russia and Japan. He does not take any great interest in politics, except in so far as they effect the money market, and his firm, he believes, is not supporting either country in the present conflict.

COURT-MARTIAL STOESSEL.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 6.—Few incidents of the whole war have aroused more bitter criticism than the blunt announcement, officially issued by the General Staff, that Gen. Stoessel will have to come home, to stand court-martial for surrendering the fortress of Port Arthur.

While this is an ancient regulation, and quite according to law, it is bitterly resented on all sides that such gratuitously made in the same bulletin containing Gen. Stoessel's appeal to the Emperor for "Lenient judgment on a garrison reduced to shadows, who have done all that was possible for human being to uphold the honor of Russia in the face of her enemies."

NEWSPAPER DARING.

The Novoe Vremya, despite the example made by the suspension of the Russ yesterday, says;

"By all means, let us have a court-martial, and make it, if possible, severe. The cruel judge will, perhaps, deal leniently with those who have given their blood and lives for their country. Perhaps, also, the court will determine why a fortress known to be threatened with blockade is not supplied with necessary food and munitions to enable it to hold out. Perhaps such a court will bring to light many dark, hidden things, and expose the creeping, underground enemies of Russia, who are infinitely more dangerous to the nation than the foe who fights in the open."

TO ATTACK KUROPAT.

Huanshan, Manchuria, via Mukden, Jan. 6.—Japanese reinforcements are now concentrating around Bensihu 30 miles north-east of Liao-yang. This fact, taken in conjunction with the reports of the completion of the railroads in Korea and the bridge across the Yalu River, indicates the Japanese have again transferred their attention to the right flank. In the meanwhile they are continuing erecting

At two p.m. to-day, the Japanese cruiser Takasai approached the entrance to Manila Harbor, and when signaled, asking if she intended to enter, the answer was in the negative. She also refused to state where she was from or whence she was proceeding, and put to sea under full steam.

BIG RUSSIAN LOAN.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 6.—Official announcement of the issues of a new loan is published here this morning for the first time. The amount of the loan will be $115,750,000, bearing interest at 4 1-2 per cent., from January 1st. The first call of bonds will not be made earlier than 1917. The whole loan will be extinguished in 1985.

BRITISHER CONDEMNED.

Nagasaki, Jan. 6.—The British steamer Nigretia has been condemned as a prize.

The Nigretia was seized by the Japanese cruiser Tsushima on December 30th, off the coast of Korea, while bound from Chefoo to Vladivostock, and was taken to Sasebo for a decision by the Naval Prize Court as to her status.

The Nigretia, when seized, had on board Commander Pelem and a lieutenant of the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Rastorophy, who had escaped from internment at Shanghai, and were attempting to regain the Russian lines.

TO HELP THE ORPHANS.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 6.—The Government has decided to issue a new set of stamps for foreign and domestic postage in denominations from one to ten kopecks, bearing pictures of the Kremlin, Plevna, Peter the Great's statue in St. Petersburg, etc. These stamps will be sold for three kopecks above their face value, the surplus going to aid the widows and orphans of the war.

RUSS PAPER STOPPED.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 6.—Street sales of the Russ have been suspended by official order, owing to the tone of its editorial articles since the fall of Port Arthur. The Narshidney has received first warning.

NOT HELPING JAPAN.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 6.—Sir Charles Hardinge, the British Ambassador, has taken the unusual course of calling Foreign Minister Lamsdorff's attention to the statements of the Novoe Vremya, January 3rd, to the news that British warships were following Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron, and reporting its disposition and movements to Tokio from each cable port reached, which the Ambassador declared to be false. Sir Charles particularly denied the imputation that British warships were committing breaches of neutrality by communicating Admiral Rojestvensky's movements to Japanese agents.

ALL AID DECLINED.

Wei Hai Wei, Jan. 6.—The first-class British cruiser Andromeda, which sailed from here yesterday morning for Port Arthur, with hospital stores and surgeons to assist the sick and wounded, returned here today, not having been allowed to make a landing at Port Arthur. The cruiser proceeded to a small bay ten miles north of Port Arthur, where she met with some Japanese. The latter refused all offers of assistance or stores of any kind, and declined to allow the ship's officers to approach closer, the reason given being the presence of unlocated mines.

PORT ARTHUR TERMS.

Tokio, Jan. 6.—A Port Arthur supplementary agreement, published today, provides for the appointment of commissioners to superintend the the enforcement of the provisions in the capitulation compact, and deals with the treatment of officers and men. The commissioners are to meet at the base of Pehya mountain at noon on Tuesday next with the military and naval officers of Port Arthur fortress in the order indicated by the Japanese on the tabulated receipt of their organisations who shall conduct themselves so as to arrive at the eastern extremity of Yahulsui at nine o'clock on Thursday morning. The officers and officials are allowed to wear their side arms, but the use of arms is prohibited in the case of non-commissioned officers and privates. On arrival they shall be placed in control of the commission enforcing Article 8 of the original agreement. Civil officials not connected with the army or navy shall follow the officers. Those who have not served as volunteers shall be released without parole.

WEAR AN EMBLEM.

Persons who are necessary to effect the transfer of the fortress buildings, warships, etc., must wear an emblem given by the Japanese authorities.

Private property carried by officers and officials shall be subject to inspection, and must be limited in weight.

The agreement further provides for the transfer of hospitals, the immunity of non-combatants, their freedom of action, and the removal of private property.

It promises to facilitate the movement of families of officers and officials but reserves the right of removal of objectionable persons, and the release of Japanese prisoners.

JAP CRUISERS BUSY.

Manila, Jan. 6.—Steamers returning here from the south report a Japanese cruiser patroling San Bernardino Straits.

JAPS LOST OVER 50,000.

It is now admitted that Japan lost over 50,000 soldiers in the five months operations against Port Arthur. About [illegible] Japanese prisoners, who were found in Port Arthur, have been released by the victors. There were scenes of enthusiasm when the prisoners met their countrymen. Some of the released men were sailors, who had shared in the desperate channel-blocking enterprises of the Japanese, and who it was supposed had perished, and the others were soldiers who had been captured in the Russian sorties.

General Nogi keenly feels the tremendous sacrifice of Japanese lives involved in the success of his plans. His outward appearance has changed, and he looks aged and haggard. He has grown careless about his dress. Every branch of the army pays tributes to his ceaseless activity and solicitude for the welfare of his staff. He refers to General Stoessel as a hero, and emphatically says that his surrender does not tarnish his fame.

THE ARMIES IN MANCHURIA.

Huanshan, Manchuria, via Mukden, Jan. 6.—Japanese reinforcements are now concentrated around Bensihu, 30 miles north-east of Liao-Yang. This fact, taken in conjunction with the reports of the completion of the railways in Korea, and the bridge across the Yalu River, indicates the Japanese have again transferred their attention to the right flank. In the meanwhile, they are continually erecting fortifications north and west. A light railway was laid during the last few days south of the village of Hucatan.

The Japanese continue to bombard Poutiloff, Lone Tree Hill, and the villages west of it.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 6.—Although orders to that effect have not yet been sent to Admiral Rojestvensky, the Associated Press is able to announce positively that the decision has been reached that the Russian second Pacific fleet will return to European waters.

A BOAST AND ITS SEQUEL.

General Stoessel's order of the duy to the troops at Port Arthur, Feb. 27, 1904;

"The enemy, however, is mistaken. Our troops know, and the inhabitants are herewith notfied by me that we shall not give way. We must fight to the finish as I, the commander, will never give the order to surrender. I bring this to the notice of those less courageous, and call upon all to become convinced of the necessity of fighting to the death. Those who leave without fighting will not save themselves. There is no way out. On three sides is the sea, and on the fourth side will be the enemy. There is no other means but fighting."

General Stoessel's message to the Czar, announcing capitulation of Port Arthur, Jan. 1, 1905;

"We shall be obliged to capitulate, but everything is in the hands of God. We have suffered fearful losses. Great Sovereign pardon us! We have done everything humanly possible. Judge us, but be merciful! Nearly eleven months of uninterrupted struggles have exhausted us. Only one-quarter of the garrison is alive, and of this number the majority [illegible] sick and being obliged to act on the defensive without even short, intervals for repose are worn to shadows.

THE ENORMOUS PRICE PAID FOR PORT ARTHUR

Tokio, Jan. 6.—The Jiji, discussing the capture of Port Arthur, reviews the price paid in lives, and says;

"We ought to keep Port Arthur in our hands so long as our empire exists. Port Arthur is the key to peace in the far east, and it is our duty to keep the key in our hands."

London, Jan. 6.—The Daily Mail's Chefoo correspondent says that Russian officers who have arrived there bring descriptions of the terrible conditions existing in the hospitals at Port Arthur, which they say were worse than those of the battlefield. They relate how the Sisters of Charity, accustomed as they are to such ordeals, sickened under these conditions and fainted at their posts because of lack of nourishment.

"The wretched patients toward the end complained bitterly of what they called the heartlessness of the Sisters of Charity, who grew so accustomed to human sufferings that they seemed to lose all sympathy for victims."

The correspondent adds; "Medicines and doctors were scarce, and the shrieks and groans of the wounded, mingled with the curses and yells of men who were undergoing operations without anesthetics, combined to make such an inferno that it was a relief to rush from the foul atmosphere and horrible sights, even if the shell-torn streets were the only other alternative."

ATHLETIC WORLD

BY OUR SPORTING EDITOR

Some good hockey was displayed in the city league games last night, especially in the last game between the Karnots and Colonials. These two teams were very evenly matched, and it was a hot struggle from the beginning requiring ten minutes extra play to decide the winner. At full time the score was three all, but in the last ten minutes the Karnots scored three to their opponents nil. Score 6—3.

For the Karnots, Gilman and Gross played a very strong game. Gross scored three of the victors' goals, Odette two, and Gilman one.

Foley scored all three goals for the Colonials.

Mr. W. Meagher officiated as referee

The first game between the T.A.S and Farriers, resulted in a victory for the latter by four goals to two. The half-time score being 2—1 in favor of the Farriers.

For the Farriers Long scored two and Smith and Nichols one each.

R. M. Glover handled the bell. Following is the line-up;

Medicines Loaded With Alcohol

Think of it! The Danger You Run — Drink Habit is Easily Acquired, But Hard to Cure.

Careful analysis shows that many so-called tonics contain little else but whiskey—the rankest, poorest kind of whiskey.

You may unconsciously be using an alcoholic liquid remedy. Some member of your family may be doing so. Your duty is plain; stop it at once.

The test of a tonic is the permanency of its cure. To become strong, you must build up the blood—alcohol weakens it. You must increase your nerve force—alcohol steadily devours it.

Give up the liquid tonic, before you become its slave. The true medicine for the run-down, depressed and nervous is Ferrozone. It is nothing but concentrated cure in tablet form. It stimulates the appetite, aids digestion, fills the blood with iron, builds up in nature's way.

Whether you have overwork, thin blood, or ill-nourished nerves, Ferrozone will quickly make you well. It is safe and harmless, undoubtedly the best tonic and rebuilding medicine made. We must recommend you to use Ferrozone if in poor health.

Ferrozone, known as the great food-tonic, costs 50c. per box, or six for $2.50, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

UNION LABEL

PETERBOROUGH, JANUARY 6 1905

AFTER PORT ARTHUR

Russia cannot be expected to meet the fall of Port Arthur with anything less than a declaration of its settled determination to go on and win. That pronouncement might have been put in type with safety before Port Arthur fell. But the real question is—What effect will this striking collapse have on the Russian people? The Government cannot fight very long if the people are really determined to abandon the effort to hold Manchuria.

Russia has not had a victory of importance to cheer its people since the war began. Now General Kuropatkin is the only man in the field with any chance to supply this heartening experience; and he is about to feel thrown against his lines the added weight of the victors of Port Arthur, who will bring with them an enthusiasm which will be felt by all the Mikado's soldiers. If Kuropatkin should be driven back again, and if the Baltic fleet should be captured or compelled to seek safety in flight, the Russian autocracy may have to choose between its existence and the continuation of the war.

The terms of surrender are not as sentimentally kind as were at first rumored; but are an exhibition of civilized generosity. The paroling of the officers will be appreciated in Europe, and the imprisonment of the men will prevent awkward misunderstandings in the future. General Stoessel probably has his excuse ready for destroying the rest of his fleet; and the temptation to do so must have been very heavy. It might safely have been destroyed before the "white flag" was sent across the lines.

International politics is a great game, but Japan could hardly be blamed if, after taking Port Arthur twice, it now fortified the city as a part of the present war operations and then declined to surrender it again at the signing of the peace except on the application of sufficient force. What nation could apply such force, it is not easy to say.

THE RULE OF THE WAVE

Count Reuntlow, who is recognised in Germany as a great naval author, delivered a lecture recently in Berlin on "Great Britain and the German Navy," in the course of which he said that Great Britain could still claim to be "Mistress of the Seas." The naval power of France, Italy and Russia had decreased and Great Britain was now so strong that she could easily face two, or even three opponents simultaneously. Germany could at present only send thirteen battleships to sea; and of this number only two could claim to be completely efficient. Great Britain, on the other hand, could immediately send out forty-one battleships independent of the Mediterranean fleet. In view of these figures, he declared that Great Britain's suspicions of Germany's naval ambitions were ridiculous, and that Great Britain had no reason to object to the further development of the German navy. "In any case," concluded Count Reuntlow, "we are isolated from a naval point of view, while Great Britain is endeavoring to cultivate closer relations with Russia in order to leave us still more isolated in the future."

IT IS WAR

Statistics of strikes recently published in the United States show that the term industrial war is not merely a figure of speech. Between January 1, 1902, and June 30, 1904—two years and six months—180 persons were killed in strikes, 1,051 were injured, and 5,533 were arrested. Of the killed 116 were non-union men, 51 union strikers, and 13 police officers. The injured were divided as follows: 1,366 non-union men, 151 union strikers, and 134 officers. These figures have greater significance than mere numbers. It is always the case that there is a great deal of disorderly conduct before a killing takes place and there are more of the injured who say nothing about it than there are persons who report it. It is probable also that there are thousands of illegal words and acts that were winked at by officers of the law lest worse might follow. This is a total list of casualties, including arrests, of 7,364. It has the aspect of war well marked.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

It will require a recount to tell whether the Japs or the Russians destroyed the largest number of vessels belonging to the Russian fleet.

The Baltic fleet may not have relieved Port Arthur, but it would doubtless feel relieved itself if ordered to turn back at once.

If Gen. Stoessel were a Canadian politician, he would be claiming a "moral victory" just about now.

DOURO.

—The pupils of Douro school gave a grand concert, at which over two hundred people were present, on the eve of their teacher's departure for Utica. Miss O'Neill has been a very successful teacher in this locality, and many are the regrets expressed by trustees and ratepayers that she could not be prevailed upon to remain another year in that section. Miss O'Neill was presented with a handsome ladies' companion by the scholars, besides numerous other gifts showing the respect and esteem in which she is held.

A REGULAR INFERNO

WAS THE STATE OF PORT ARTHUR BEFORE THE SURRENDER

All the Men Sick—Losses 265 Per Cent—Tremendous Cost

"Three counter-attacks from the outside by our reserves met with no success. The fort consequently remained in possession of the Japanese. Our losses were considerable, especially in officers. The survivors of the garrison succeeded in getting out of the fort by windows. By the occupation of this fort the Japanese became masters of the whole north front, and the fortress can hold out only a few days more. We have almost no ammunition. I will take measures to prevent carnage in the streets.

ALL THE MEN SICK.

"Scurvy is sensibly weakening the garrison. I have now under arms only 10,000 men, all sick.

"Generals Fock and Nikitins have been veritable heroes and admirable collaborators. Among the field artillery Colonel Irman was wounded, Col. Peteroff was killed, and six officers were wounded. Among the other high officers there was an enormous percentage of killed or several times wounded. Many companies are commanded by ensigns and the companies only average 60 men strong.

"The Japanese since December 18 have refrained from assaulting. Yesterday they exploded a mine under the fortifications of fort No. 5, and about a score of hardy Japanese mounted the ramparts, but were exterminated by bayonets and hand grenades. In revenge the Japanese bombarded all night long and all day long with 11-inch shells, especially the hospitals and ambulances, although knowing full well that there was no possibility of our wounded hereon joining the ranks of the defenders.

"There are 14,000 sick and wounded in the hospitals, and the number increases by about 200 daily."

LOSSES 265 PER CENT.

Chefoo, Jan. 5.—Some interesting statistics concerning the defence of Port Arthur have reached here. Originally the army numbered 25,000. Eleven thousand have been killed, 16,000 are wounded or sick, and 8,000 remained in the forts, of whom over 2,000 were unable to fight.

It is learned that when Gen. Stoessel wrote to Gen. Nogi regarding the surrender of the fortress, he said; "I have 8,000 men in the forts, and 6,000 of these are able to fight. If you do not accept my proposal these men will die fighting, but it will cost you three times their number to kill the garrison were put out of action. This remarkable fact was due to wounded men returning to the front. cases have been recorded where men have gone to hospitals four times, returning convalescent to the forts. The number of officers killed was proportionately greater than in any battle known in history. This was due to the frequent lethargic condition of the men, who, without food and without sleep, moved only when ordered by their officers.

The Russians estimate that the taking of the fortress has cost Japan $100,000,000.

WERE RUSS OFFICERS.

Tokio, Jan. 6.—Commander Peelm and a lieutenant of the Russian torpedo boat destroyers Rastoropny, who were captured on board the British steamer Nigretia, and taken on board of her to Sasebo, have confessed their identity before the naval court there. Heretofore they posed as German supercargoes, but when confronted with the results of the Japanese investigations they broke down and confessed. They have been declared prisoners of war.

No contraband has get been discovered on board of the Nigretia. Her cargo consists of kerosene, and the prize court is still undecided upon what action to take in her case. It is improbable, if the ship is condemned, it will be solely owing to connivance in the escape of the Russian officers.

A WIDOW'S PATHETIC LETTER.

One of Hundreds of Letters Received at Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives—Pleads for the Life of an Only Son.

COOKSHIRE, QUE., June 3rd, 1904.

DEAR SIR,—I hope you will pardon my writing to you. I am Charles Brown's poor mother, that is heart-broken about my one and only son, and longing for your kind letter to arrive to say you can find a place for him soon in the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives. He is the only son I have and I am depending on him for support, and he has a wife and one baby depending on him also for their support.

. . . . He is the Charles Brown that Judge Britton's daughter spoke to you about. . . . Dear Sir, for God's sake hasten the time for him to get there, as the longer it runs on him the harder it will be for him to get well and back to his former health and strength again. . . .

MARG'T BROWN.

COOKSHIRE, QUE., June 6th, 1904.

DEAR SIR,—I received your kind and most welcome letter to-day. Very glad I was to hear the good news that my dear son can go to the Hospital any time this week. Thank God for the good news. He will leave Montreal on Monday, the 13th, or Tuesday, 14th, at the latest. . . . It has given him new life to hear the glad news that you have sent to me, his mother.

MARG'T BROWN.

It is to meet just such cases as this that the Free Hospital for Consumptives has been built. Less than three years opened, nearly 400 patients have been cared for, and not a single patient has ever been refused admission because of his or her poverty.

Sir Wm. R. Meredith, Kt., Chief Justice, 4 Lamport avenue, Toronto, or W. J. Gage, Esq., 54 Front street, will receive and acknowledge any subscriptions our readers will send.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, excepting 8 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres more or less.

ENTRY

Entry may be made personally at a local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situate, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES

A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act, and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), or any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

[3] If a settler was entitled to and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

[4] If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same town, township, or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of clauses [2], [3] or [4] must cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, or substitute 30 head of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, and have besides 80 acres substantially fenced.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd of June, 1889.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled and the land may again be thrown open for entry.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT

Should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

INFORMATION

Newly arrived immigrants will receive, at the Immigration Office in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing lands to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Land Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

JAMES A. SMART,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands, to which the Regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Co.
INCORPORATED

Capital $5,000,000. Shares $1.00 Each, Par Value, Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable.

We have just secured the agency for the above splendid proposition, of which we have been allotted a block of Treasury stock. We can confidently recommend this as a safe and, we believe, exceedingly profitable investment. Every dollar of stock is guaranteed by twenty year, full paid, gold bond, delivered to purchaser of stock, from an investment Company that has no interest whatever in the company, that who are disposing of the debentured bonds to the public, and, under their charter, they are compelled to deposit securities to an equal amount, to the State Treasurer under which they received their charter, there by doubly securing the payment of their gold bonds.

The Company's property, which is now past the project stage, is known to be marvellously rich in gold.

Following is the opinion of G. W. Miller, Mining Engineer, formerly with the Boston and Montana Consolidated Copper and Silver Mining Company, U. S.; Simmer and Jack Mining Co., Limited, Klondyke fountain, South Africa:—

"You have here a most valuable property and one of the strongest fissure veins that can be found in any part of the world.

"With the present development of the Monument Mine, I estimate that 100 tons per day can be extracted, which will mill from $15.00 to $20.00 per ton. The total cost of mining the ore, delivering and milling, I place at about $4.00 per ton. With increased milling capacity, it is safe to say that the mine can furnish 100 tons of $15 ore, which would yield a clear profit of $11.00 per ton, or $1,100 00 per day (equal to $400,000 00 per annum). Estimated total value of ore in sight, $2,500,000."

During the past summer, a party of the Company Directors visited the property, taking with them, Amos P. Brown, Ph.D., Mining Engineer and Professor of Geology and Mineralogy at the University of Pennsylvania. He, Brown writes as follows:—

"In regards to the amount of ore available at the mines at Sinclair, I saw on the dumps several thousand tons, probably 5000 tons would be an underestimate.

"As to the size of the ore body itself, from what I saw of the geological structure, I think that there is every indication that it will be found to extend underground as far as the out-croppings on the south side of the gulch. This would mean an ore body large enough to keep the present mill running for many years to come."

A write up of the proposition will appear in these columns in a few days. Watch for it. In the meantime we will be pleased to furnish full information to investors.

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

The Salido Gold and Copper Company

Incorporated under the laws of Arizona, with a capital of $3,oc ooo forever on-assessable divided into shares of $1 each, par value. All investments insured Granite Securities Company.

The "SALIDO GOLD COPPER COMPANY" enterprise offers attractions to the investors of the country, that without thorough investigation, would scarcely seem probable. If only a fraction is realized of what any prudent business man in his own affairs would regard as a solutely certain, the enterprise must prove abundantly successful and exceedingly profitable

SALE OF STOCK

The company will prosecute the work of development with all the diligence that the cash in the treasury will permit and circumstances warrant, and to this end a small amount of the treasury stock is now placed upon the market, in blocks of not less than One Hundred Shares. The par value of the stock is One Dollar per share, fully paid and forever non-assessable.

The company reserves the right to advance the price of stock without notice.

REMEMBER

First—That all payments for treasury stock go into the treasury for development work and not into the pockets of the promoters.

Second—There are no salaried officers.

Third—The incorporators have put their own good money into this enterprise and being business men, intend to do business along business lines

Fourth—That this company is honest.

Fifth—If you are thinking of investing in mining stocks this is worthy of your careful investigation.

OTHER PROPERTIES

This Company owns four other Gold and Copper Mines, which title is now in process in the laws of Mexico. As soon as title is perfected, we shall commence to develop them as we certainly expect something very great from these properties Our assays taken have been of the very best, showing gold and copper from $6.00 to $122. 30 per ton.

I have secured a small block of this stock, which I offer at the following prices: Unguaranteed 40 cents per share, guaranteed 80 cents per share. These prices will only prevail for a short time, as the number of shares for sale at this price is limited. The Shares will then be advanced to 40 cents for the unguaranteed and 80 cents for the guaranteed. I can unhesitatingly recommend this investment to the Canadian public.

Rare Chance to Secure a Paying Investment

has placed a small block of their stock at the disposal of Canadian investors. This stock is sure to rapidly advance in price. The Company is now arranging to instal the power plant and a mill and cyanide plant for the reduction of their ore to a bullion on the property. They have arranged with a Trust Company having assets of $1,500,000 to put up a bond guaranteeing investors the repayment of the full amount invested. This makes investors absolutely safe. By no possibility can they lose a dollar.

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY was organized November 21, 1902 under the laws of the State of Idaho. The capitalization is one million shares of the par value of one dollar each, fully paid and non-assessable; of the 1,000,000 shares. 400,000 have been set aside as treasury stock

THE BOISE BASIN came into prominence shortly after Grimes and his party of prospectors entered the Basin country in 1862; their entrance was into the northern portion, and one discovery of rich placer ground followed another until the news of the rich finds reached the outside world, when a veritable stampede for Boise Basin commenced. Towns sprang up and grew together in an incredibly short time; the rush of people to Idaho City made it a place of 20,000 people in 1867, having a business street over a mile long lined with two-story buildings streets and sidewalks filled with people day and night, business and money on every hand and the city bearing the proud distinction of being the capital of the territory of Idaho. Wages ran from $6 to $10 a day and not infrequently forty and fifty men worked on a single placer claim; the clean-up for a day's work in many instances ran close to $5,000; large fortunes were made in a few days by washing the golden sands in a pan, so eager was the quest for the shining metal that the streets of Idaho City were dug up and washed and re-washed, and the soil removed from under the houses and places of business. So extensive was the search for the hidden treasure that not only all of the low ground was worked but the foot of the mountains surrounding the city have been washed away, filling up the lower portions of the basin and extending into the town, where one of the buildings has been buried under the tailings from the numerous placer workings.

LOCATION—The property of the Gold Coin Mining Company is situated in the Gambrinus Mining District, Boise County, Idaho, on the range of mountains between Moore Creek and Elk Creek, which forms a part of the eastern boundary of the famous Boise Basin and into which these mountains are drained The property is located ten miles northeast of Idaho City, from which place there are good wagon roads either to the workings on top of the mountain or to the place of the proposed tunnels in the gulch which crosses the Tunnelsite claim.

THE CLAIMS—The Company owns a group of four contiguous lode mining claims and the Gold Coin Millsite: the names of the lode claims are the Tunnelsite, Blue Bell, Pennsylvania and Homestake, each being a full claim 600 feet wide by 1,500 feet long, excepting the Tunnelsite claim, which is 450 feet wide at the west end and 1,055 feet long: it was necessary to stake the claim in this form on account of joining the Washington property on the south and the Sub Rosa property on the west, these properties being prior locations to the Tunnelsite claim. The four lode claims aggregate nearly 60 acres of rich mineral land.

WILL INCREASE PACIFIC FLEET

C. P. R. Contemplates Adding Several New Ships

MR. PIERS ON SITUATION

Says Immigration Promises This Year to go Far Ahead of any Yet Recorded

Montreal, January 5. — Following the purchase of two additional steamers to form a portion of its Atlantic fleet, the C.P.R. will arrange to increase the number of its steamers on the Pacific Ocean, thus increasing the popularity of the company's route between Britain and the Orient.

Mr. Arthur Piers, the superintendent of the company's steamship lines, made this forecast upon his return from a protracted stay in the British Isles.

The plans for the two vessels it has already been determined to build will be laid before the directors at a special meeting this afternoon.

These veasel will be eighty feet longer than the Lake Manitoba, the largest of the company's vessels now plying on the Atlantic, making them 535 feet long, and they will afford much more accommodation for first class passengers.

Mr. Piers is of the opinion that it will only require these new vessels, and a couple of additional steamers on the Pacific, to make the trip via Canada to the Orient and Australia preferred to all others. The company in the past, however, has had no cause for complaint in this respect, having always obtained its fair share of te globe trotters. As substantiating this fact, Mr. Piers pointed out that out of a small first class passengers list on the Cedric, the vessel upon which he came to New York, there were six passengers for Australia.

In reply to a question as to the position of affairs in shipping circles in Great Britain, Mr. Piers said that a more healthy tone obtained than was the case last summer and autumn. The rates had now been re-established and the shippers were looking forward to a good year's business. Last year, it will be remembered, the rates were low, and added to that the cargoes were very small.

"It occurs to me," remarked Mr. Piers, "that the immigration this year will be larger than ever before. That seems to be the general opinion in immigration circles in Britain. Even at this season of the year, when very few people as a general rule immigrate, the numbers leaving Liverpool are greater than has ever before been the case. The quantity of the immigrants is also better. Canada is undoubtedly obtaining more attention at the present time than any other of the outlying portions of the British Empire."

THE AGITATION WILL STILL GO ON

Russian Reformers are Determined to Continue the Struggle

St. Petersburg, January 5.—"They condemn themselves out of their own mouths" is the heading of a revolutionary circular that is being distributed through the Empire. The argument of this document summarizes the Czar's manifesto from the point of view of the reformers. It contends that His Majesty not only makes out a good case for profound political changes, but also testifies to the success of the Liberals in bringing about a state of general agitation and excitement. This condition, the circular asserts, will be made increasingly worse until government in Russia must become representative of the people or dissolve in anarchy.

Uncertainty hangs over the Ministerial struggle, and even the best informed are not sure of the facts. It seems well established, however, that M. De Witte, although a centralist in governmental theory, stood valiantly with Prince Sviatopolk Mirski, Prince Khilkoff, Gen. Sakharoff, Kokovtzoff and Yermoloff against the final draft of the Imperial pronouncement. These men induced the Czar to adopt a much saner and more effective program, but the original copy, after having been sent to the printer, was displaced by the document which finally reached the public. The authors of this untimely document were the arch-reactionist Pobiedonosteff, the procurator of the Holy Synod, and the Grand Dukes Vladimir and Sergius.

TROUBLE LOOKED FOR IN EAST

Fine Point is Raised as to Rojestvensky's Colliers Flying Foreign Flags

London, January 5.—Diplomats are today discussing the question of what will be the status of German and British colliers accompanying Admiral Rojestvensky in case Togo engages the Baltic fleet in battle.

The question is whether he will have the right to sink the colliers when they are carrying British and German flags, or would a protest be filed against such action, as in the case of the Knight Commander.

It is known that part of Togo's plan is to isolate the colliers from the rest of the fleet, but it is not thought that he would be willing to reduce his own complement of men to man the colliers with prize crews.

The only alternative would be to send them to the bottom.

International lawyers say that Togo would be justified in the latter course, but admit that there is an opportunity for a Russian fine question.

JAPS FREE TO SAIL.

It is believed the visit of Admirals Togo and Kamimura to Tokio means that measures have been taken to prepare for Admiral Rojestvensky when he arrives in the Pacific Ocean. The Japanese navy is now free to meet the second Baltic fleet. All the enemy's vessels in Port Arthur are destroyed and the harbor of Vladivostok is closed by the ice.

JAPS MAKE GAIN.

On December 29, General Stoessel wrote; "At one o'clock yesterday morning the Japanese blew up part of the parapet of fort No. 3. They afterwards opened a severe bombardment along the whole front, but especially on fort No. 3. At about three o'clock in the afternoon they rushed to the attack of the parapet from the mine and glacis, where they had been held in readiness. Two attacks were repulsed, but the Japanese occupied the funnel-shaped opening formed by the explosion, and, reinforced by their reserves, began to run across the moat in groups of about five. They occupied the parapet and at dusk two battalions had entered the interior of the fort. Our troops fought from the entrenchments, which were badly damaged. Part of our troops had withdrawn in the casemates, but the Japanese placed machine guns in front of the exit from the casemates, thus

Air Carries Healing Medicine

THAT CURES COLDS, CATARRH AND DISEASES OF THE THROAT LUNGS AND BRONCHIAL TUBES

About the healing power of the air of the pine woods everybody knows, but to supply it in the form of medicine confined almost beyond realization. After many years of careful study a scientific remedy now known as Catarrhozone has been produced which enables the sufferer to breathe into his lungs all the healing properties of the balsamic pine woods air. This marvellous remedy has conquered catarrh. It unquestionably does cure it permanently.

You cannot fail to be cured by Catarrhozone, because it reaches and destroys the cause of the disease. You simply inhale the antiseptic vapor. It instantly spreads to every part of the breathing organs. The micro-organisms infecting the diseased tissues of your nose, throat and lungs die instantly. There is nothing left to cause inflammation. Any spots that are raw and sore are quickly healed by Catarrhozone and you are soon completely cured.

It is impossible to breathe through a Catarrhozone inhaler without at once feeling better. Your head is cleared of mucous discharge, your nostrils are cleansed of all putrid matter, the phlegm is removed from your throat. Every trace of catarrh is searched out of the system by Catarrhozone, which thoroughly disinfects and purifies every organ of the body.

Catarrhozone is the only natural remedy for catarrh. It cures by cleansing and purifying all diseased tissues, not by deadening the stomach by drugs. It is a clean simple and satisfactory remedy that is endorsed by the clergy, and universally prescribed by the medical profession because it is scientific and absolutely certain to effect lasting cures.

Don't be misled into accepting a substitute for Catarrhozone, which alone can cure thoroughly. It is so powerfully healing that colds disappear in an hour, coughs in two hours and even chronic catarrh in a comparatively short time. Two months' treatment $1, sample size 25c. At druggists or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

JOINT POLITICAL MEETING

Arrangements Made to Hold One at Lakefield on Thursday Next.

A joint political meeting will be held in the town hall, Lakefield, on Thursday next, January 12th. Arrangements have been made by representatives of candidates Bradburn and McWilliams, and it is expected there will be a large attendance. Mr. Bradburn and Mr. J. H. Burnham will speak on behalf of the Conservative party, while Mr. R. F. McWilliams will talk in the interests of the Liberals. Reeve F. J. Moore will be chairman.

A NEW FIRM

Messrs. Tenice Guerin & Co. Purchase Large Meat Business

Messrs. Tenice Guerin and W. R. Tatley have purchased the extensive meat business of Goselin Bros., at 243 George street, and are now in possession. The new firm start under the most favorable conditions. Possessed of ample capital, they are in a position to give their customers the best meats that money can buy. Mr. Guerin's long experience in the butcher business with Mr. Harry Winch will be useful in catering to the requirments of Peterborough trade.

The firm's announcement appears in today's issue and we bespeak for them a liberal share of business.

LIBERAL MASS MEETING

To be Held in the Opera House on Friday Evening Next

A big mass meeting of the electors of West Peterborough, is booked to take place on Friday evening next, in the Opera House, when two Provincial Secretaries, past and present, Hon. J. R. Stratton and Hon. G. P. Graham, will address the meeting as well as Mr. R. F. McWilliams, the candidate, and the occasion will be one of interest, Hon. Mr. Graham, who has never before spoken in Peterborough, is a fluent and spirited speaker. He has a large knowledge of politics and puts his arguments in a striking and convincing manner. There no doubt will be a large attendance of electors.

OTONABEE POWER COMPANY

Mr. R. R. Hall Elected Vice President — A Dividend Declared

At a meeting of the directors of the Otonabee Power Co., held a few days ago, Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., was elected vice-president of the company in the place of Mr. W. A. Stratton deceased.

A dividend of 3 1-2 per cent. for the last six months was declared on the preferred stock, making a dividend of seven per cent. for the past year. This is paid out of current income.

The annual meeting of the stock holders will be held in a few days when a raise in the present rates charged for domestic and commercial lighting will likely be considered.

A DANGEROUS MAN.

The Italian Who Used a Knife was Committed for Trial

The preliminary investigation into the case of Guiseppi Guillenard, the Italian, charged with attempting to wound Chas. Butcher and John Montgomery on Monday night last, came before Police Magistrate Dumble yesterday.

It appears from the evidence that the Italian attacked a party of four, who took to their heels. Butcher and Montgomery resisted until they reached McCallum's restaurant, where the police were telephoned for. The Italian then ran across the road with Montgomery following, but when they reached the other side, the Italian turned around, and chased Montgomery back again.

Montgomery then went into McCallums to secure a club, but was unsuccessful. On coming back to the street, he found that the Italian had disappeared around the Charlotte street corner, and was crossing the market square, where he was arrested by P. C. McGinty.

Guillenard was committed for trial, the Magistrate considering the evidence against the prisoner strong enough to warrant this step.

THE DOWNEYVILLE SCHOOL

Injunction Against Father Bretherton and Separate School Trustees

The trouble which has been brewing for some time between the trustees of the public school at Downeyville, in the county of Victoria, and a number of the Roman Catholic ratepayers, who are in favor of establishing a Roman Catholic separate school, came to a head on Tuesday last, when the newly-elected Board of Trustees for the public school, composed of Bernard Murray, John C. Lucas and Thomas Lucas, acting in their corporate capacity, and Michael Harrington, acting on behalf of the ratepayers in the school section, through Barrister Weldon, of Lindsay, applied to his Honor Judge Dean at Lindsay for an injunction against Rev. Father Bretherton and the Board of Roman Catholic Separate School Trustees, to restrain them from interfering with the school, which has up to the present time been used for public school purposes, and from introducing separate school text books. Judge Dean granted an interim injunction, to remain in force until Wednesday of next week. In the meantime a motion will be made at Osgoode Hall to continue the injunction until the trial of the action.

S. A. Musical Festival

A very interesting and enjoyable entertainment was given in the Salvation Army barracks last night, when a good program was presented by the members of the band and others. The following were the main features:—Cornet solo, by deputy Bandmaster Northcott; saxaphone solo, by Bandsman Dafoe; brass trio, cornet, tenor and euphonium, by deputy Bandmaster Northcott, Bandsman Payton and Bandsman C. S. Greene; also vocal selections by the male quartette, besides several selections by the juniors. We congratulate Bandmaster Green and the band on the excellent entertainment.

MR. ANDERSON'S MEETINGS

Hon. G. P. Graham Provincial Secretary at Norwood To-day

Hon. Geo. P. Graham, Provincial Secretary, will address the electors of East Peterborough at Norwood this evening. The meeting promises to be very largely attended, as the Hon. Mr. Graham is recognized as one of the best Parliamentary speakers in the Province. He will be accompanied by Mr. F. D. Kerr, barrister, Peterborough.

Hon. J. R Stratton, and Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., addressed the electors of Otonabee at Zion last night.

Mr. Anderson has advertised a meeting for Hall's Glen for Thursday, Jan. 12th, at which Mr. A. M. Peterson, of Colborne, and Mr. W. S. Davidson, barrister, will be the speakers.

Hon. J. R. Stratton and the candidate, Mr. Anderson, will go to the northern townships on Jan. 9th, 10th and 11th, when meetings will be held at Haultain, Apsley, Clydesdale and Lasswade.

Mr. Anderson intends holding a mass meeting at Havelock on the evening of Monday, Jan. 16th, when prominent speakers will be in attendance.

Other meetings that have been arranged for Mr. Anderson's interests are at Rockdale, Jan. 9th; Blairton, Jan. 10th, and Rush Point on Jan. 11th. Mr. A M. Patterson will be the chief speaker at the last three mentioned meetings.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

Bushes Here and There by Times Reporters on their Rounds

—The County Council will meet a week from Tuesday.

—The river recently rose several inches. It's pretty cold weather for early rising.

—Mustache cups and saucers of fine quality at fifteen cents, at Times Bookstore.

—Mr. T. E. Bradburn addressed a meeting in the town hall, North Monaghan, last night.

—The annual meeting of St. Paul's church will be held on Wednesday, January 18th.

—The regular monthly meeting of St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid Society will be held this afternoon at half past three.

—Wedding invitations printed on the new Batiste stationery, correct style and lowest prices. Times Printing Company.

—The annual congregational meeting of the Murray street Baptist church will be held on Thursday night, January 12th.

—The annual tea for the children and Sunday school entertainment was held in St. Luke's church last night, and was very largely attended.

—For ten cents you can get your choice of six different games. Don't have your home without plenty of games to spend the winter evenings. Times Bookstore.

—The Karnot Hockey Club will hold an "At Home" on Tuesday evening, Jan. 10th, in the Old Labor Hall, Water street. Invitations will be out in a few days.

—A very pleasing incident in connection with the Christmas festivities, overlooked by us at the time, was the presentation to Mr. S. R. Armstrong by his Bible class, in the George street Sunday school, of a handsome carving set of five pieces. The relations between the class and teacher are of the most cordial character, and Mr. Armstrong suitably acknowledged the gift.

—Mr. Sylvester Fife, one of the old residents of Otonabee, met with a painful accident on Tuesday afternoon while hauling a load of hay to a customer on the Norwood road, in some manner Mr. Fife fell from the load, with the result that a number of his ribs were broken. He is now at his home, and is reported to be doing nicely. Though Mr. Fife is not as young as he used to be, his friends look for no serious developments from the accident.

—On Tuesday evening last Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Fowler celebrated the third anniversary of their marriage with a leather wedding at their home, 686 Concession street, Fifth Ward. Upwards of thirty guests were present, and the evening was most pleasantly spent with games and other amusements. Delightful refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Fowler received a large number of costly and beautiful presents, testifying to the esteem in which they are held.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Miss Jennie Fee, of Lindsay, is spending a few days in town, the guest of Miss G. Pollard.

—Miss Mollie Meldrum will return on Monday to Branksome Hall, Toronto, to resume her studies.

—Mr. C. F. Maxwell, of Toronto, who has been visiting his uncle, Mr. W. H. Meldrum, has returned home.

—Mr. James Regan, of Atlin, B.C., who is spending the winter here, left yesterday for Havelock on a visit.

—Mr. Bert Tovey, after spending the holidays in town, returned to Toronto yesterday to resume his studies at Pharmacy.

—Mr. and Mrs. R. Percival Langford, who have been spending a few days in town, left for the west on Wednesday. They will take up their residence in Winnipeg.

—Mr. J. W. Garvin, of the Manufacturer's Life, was in town yesterday. On account of some legal difficulty with the State authorities the Company could not locate in the State of Ohio, so Mr. Garvin was appointed Chief Inspector of Agencies, with the Dominion of Canada to cover.

MADAME'S NEW FEATURES.

Madame, the magazine "For Women Who Think," presents some novel and attractive features in its January number. A music supplement of four pages with beautiful engraved cover containing the words and music of Lon Dinsmore's popular song, "The Language of the Eyes," is one feature alone worth half the year's subscription price of the magazine. The first of the series of articles by some of the most celebrated living artists, announced in December, appears in the January number of Madame, and is a story of absorbing interest, written by the celebrated Ada Rehan, in which she pays very tender tribute to the late Mrs. Gilbert. The last picture of Mrs. Gilbert, taken shortly before her death, is also used as one of the illustrations for this sketch. Most

To Make a Bride

Many a woman would make a beautiful bride but she is deterred from entering the married state because of ill-health.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

The proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"If women would study the laws of health and use a little more common sense there would not be such a large number to-day suffering with the ills peculiar to our sex," writes Mrs. Nellie Martin (President Forest Social Science Club), of 180 South Halstead Street, Chicago, Ill. "Then when medicine is needed if they would take the 'Favorite Prescription,' they would have a chance to get well. I used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription three years ago and it cured me of female weakness of several years' standing, so I know what I am talking about when I praise it and always know what the result will be where it is used."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.

John Drew and Augustin Daly, illustrations of whom are given, Madame is published by the Ford Publishing Company, Indianapolis, and is for sale at news stands. Price ten cents per copy, one dollar a year.

ONTARIO ELECTIONS

Corrupt Practices.

We, the undersigned candidates in the Provincial election, beg to call the attention of the electors to the following provisions of the Election law respecting bribery;

Any person who gives or lend, or agrees, or offers, or promises to give or lend any money, offices, employment or other value to any voter, to induce him to vote or to refrain from voting, is guilty of bribery within the meaning of the Election Act, and is liable under the amended Act to imprisonment for six months, WITHOUT THE OPTION OF A FINE, and the receiver of any money or other consideration is equally as guilty of bribery as the giver.

We have mutually pledged ourselves to do everything in our power to prevent bribery or corrupt practices by any person or persons on our behalf and that no person either giving or receiving a bribe shall be protected by either of us from the utmost penalty of the law.

It will be seen from the above that neither of us can personally or through another, give or lend any money during the election.

THE RUSSIAN OFFICERS WILL NOT ACCEPT PAROLE

Only 80 out of 900 Officers Have Bought Their Liberty---The Japanese in Complete Possession of the Fortress.

At Port Arthur, with the Third Army, via Fusan, Jan. 7.—Only 80 out of 900 Russian officers have accepted parole.

All the regular Russian troops have marched out of Port Arthur, and will leave for Port Dalny to-day. Japanese troops entered the city yesterday to keep order. Non-combatants are allowed the option of remaining at Port Arthur.

The Japanese navy is removing mines and the Japanese hulks at the harbor mouth.

All the forts have been taken over by the Japanese.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 7.—Count Tolstoi's son Leo, in an article upon Great Britain's constant desire to embarras Russia, declares Great Britain is preparing her own grave and hastening her own end if she forces war with Russia, "as France, Germany and Italy are bound to realise that their interests lie with Russia's."

St. Petersburg, Jan. 7.—Reports that Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky's flagship, the battleship Knias Souvaroff, has struck a rock and sunk, are unfounded.

Tokio, Jan. 7.—General Stoessel and the other Russian officers, who will leave Port Arthur on parole will return to their homes by way of Nagasaki.

Tokio, Jan. 7.—The Russian battleships sunk at Port Arthur have not as yet been officially inspected. The portions of those destroyed by the Russians at the last moment, seem limited, above water. As there are no signs of interior explosions, it is hoped that the damage done to them will be repairable. The docks are partially destroyed and filled in, the gates also being damaged.

The Navy Department announces that the Japanese naval force at Port Arthur, besides vessels previously named, sunk the following Russian war vessels in that harbor;

Torpedo boats; The Gaidamak and Fusatomik.

Torpedo boat destroyers; The Jetirny, Smik, and Boevoi.

The armored cruiser Bayan is lying on the south coast of the harbor, severely damaged, and the gunboat Bobri is entirely burned, as the result of Japanese shelling.

Moscow, Jan. 7.—A telegram from General Kuropatkin to the Grand Duchess Sergius, who has been active throughout the war in aiding the sick and wounded, states that since the opening of the war 1,090 officers and 19,617 men have returned to Russia, of whom 520 officers and 5,-065 men were wounded and 570 officers and 14,750 men were sick.

There are now 11,000 beds in Moscow for the reception of wounded soldiers, of which 1,813 are occupied.

ALL ARE TAKEN OVER.

Tokio, Jan. 7.—A report received yesterday from General Nogi's headquarters largely increases the figures of the surrendered garrison, and intimates that there are at Port Arthur 32,-000 persons, exclusive of 15,000 or 16,-000 sick and wounded, making a rough total of 48,000.

The report is as follows;

As previously reported, the transfer of objects mentioned in article two of the capitulation compact took place of Jan. 6th, and the transfer of the forts and batteries have been completed.

The prisoners will be assembled at the place appointed on January 5, but the investigation relating to these prisoners are so complicated that the result cannot be reported at present.

Reports received up to date are as follows;

Generals	8
Admirals	4
Colonels and majors	87
Captains and commanders	100
Army captains and lieutenants	531
Naval lieutenants and naval officials	200
Army officials	99
Surgeons	100
Chaplains	20
Of the rank and file of the army	22,434
Of the rank and file of the navy	3,500
Army non-combatants	3,645
Naval non-combatants	500
Total	32,007

Besides these there were about 15,-000 or 16,000 sick and wounded in the hospitals.

The volunteers are chiefly included in the list of non-combatants.

One hundred saddle horses and 1,-870 draft horses were surrendered.

RUSSIA PROTESTING.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 7.—A despatch from Pekin says that the Russian Minister there has strongly protested against the participation of Chinese detachments with the Japanese in the fight at Ta Pass, and against the Japanese use of the Miaotao Islands as a naval base.

STRENGTHEN PORT ARTHUR.

Chefoo, Jan. 7.—The statement of the censored despatches from correspondents with General Nogi's army that the Japanese lost only 50,-000 men in taking the fortress is declared to be absurd by Russian naval officers here.

Their lowest estimate, they say, based on personal observation and on stories told by the prisoners, is that the Japanese lost 80,000.

Advices from Japanese sources say that the condition of Port Arthur is chaotic, but that Generals Nogi and Stoessel rapidly are systematising affairs there, General Nogi is prepared to put a horde of Chinese coolies at work in the fortifying of Port Arthur immediately the Russians are disposed of. Vast quantities of cement and timber are ready on the Yalu River, while steel plates and other manufactured necessaries are ready in Japan for transportation to the fortress. The Japanese are confident that the fortifying of Port Arthur will place the fortress in a better condition than ever, with the Russian defects eliminated long before Russia can besiege it, if such a thing ever occurs.

Ammunition, food, and medical supplies to last for years will be sent to Port Arthur.

PALATIAL VESSELS FOR C.P.R. FLEET

Palatial Steamers With Every Modern Comfort and Convenience

WILL POPULARIZE ROUTE

Vessels are to be Ready in April 1906, and will be Placed on Atlantic Route

Montreal, January 7.—The two new passenger steamers that the C. P.R. will add to their Atlantic fleet in the early spring of 1906, will be the finest vessels of the kind ever built.

They will not be quite so palatial possibly as some of the German steamers, but Mr. Arthur Piers, the company's superintendent of steamship lines, states that in design, equipment, convenience and decoration they will surpass any yet plying from American or Canadian ports.

Mr. Piers added that the two vessels in question will revolutionise the Canadian passenger business on the Atlantic, tending, as they will, to popularize the St. Lawrence route even more largely than heretofore.

"The fact of the matter is," said Mr. Piers, "that we in Canada have never had any passenger vessels on the Atlantic, that could compete with those running into New York. The C.P.R. will now set the pace in this respect. These vessels, which will form the nucleus of a standardised fleet for the company, will be equally serviceable on the Pacific ocean, and additional vessels for that line are sure to follow in the near future."

Some idea of the size of the vessels may be gained from the fact that they will be 550 feet between perpendiculars, with a 65 foot beam. They will be 14,000 tons, which forms a much greater tonnage than either only will the vessel, then, be much finer than any vessels yet put on the route, but they will be the largest that ever visited St. Lawrence waters.

The directors of the C.P.R. finally passed upon the plans yesterday morning, and the contracts for the two vessels, which will be carried out in their entirety by the Fairfield Shipbuilding Company, of Glasgow, will be signed immediately. The vessels are to be ready in April and May, 1906.

TWENTY KNOT SPEED.

Although the Canadian Pacific Railway has no contract for carrying mails upon the Atlantic, and while the company is carrying out its design altogether irrespective of the granting or withholding of such a contract, it has been stipulated that the vessels in question shall have a speed—twenty knots an hour—that will bring them within the conditions that the Government exacted in this respect when calling for tenders in the past. The vessels will subsequently be able to carry mails between Queenstown and Rimouski in 5 1-2 days, while the distance between Liverpool and Quebec will be readily covered in 6 1-2 days.

While ample accommodation is being provided for cargo, the vessels will be admirably adapted for the purpose for which they are primarily intended, viz., to carry passengers. With this object in view accommodation will be provided for 300 first-class passengers, 350 second-class passengers, and for between 750 and 1,000 steerage passengers, according to the claims that are made at various seasons upon the quarters usually reserved for the immigrants.

The vessel will be constructed of steel, and will be fitted with quadruple expansion engines of the most modern type. As has been the case with the company's vessels on the Pacific, the effort of the management will be directed to having these new vessels run absolutely on advertised time, which Mr. Piers considers to be a requirement demanded much more by modern travellers than boasted average speed at sea.

WON'T RELEASE HIM

Man Who Killed His Brother in Religious Frenzy 26 Years Ago to Die in Prison

Kingston, Jan. 7.—It was thought that when the Minister of Justice was extending clemency to life prisoners in various penitentiaries he would have released John Esterbee, who has served twenty-six years for the murder of his brother. Esterbee was convicted at St. Catharines in 1878 upon circumstantial evidence, but there seemed to be no doubt that he committed the crime. He was then only twenty years of age, and was so excited over religion that he became a fanatic. His case was promised full consideration, and Esterbee thought his release would come a year ago. It is said, however, that Esterbee will spend the remainder of his days in prison, as it would not be safe to allow him his liberty. His mind is still unbalanced in connection with religious matters.

Esterbee is the man who over a year ago, while working in the penitentiary laundry, was struck in the face by a piece of machinery and had his jaw broken, disfiguring him.

—The annual Sunday school entertainment of St. John's Church Sunday school took place last night in the school house. A good program was presented. Mr. D. Hughes-Charles, the efficient Superintendent presided in his usual good form.

THE POST DISCOVERY

A Revolution in Human Food

Previous to the discovery of the Post process of changing the starchy part of Wheat and Barley into a form of sugar, many people suffered from what is known as starch indigestion.

This was shown by gas and all sorts of stomach and bowel trouble, (sometimes ending in appendicitis) brought on by the undigested starch in wheat, oats, white bread, cake, puddings, etc., etc.

Nature ultimately punishes anyone who continually takes some medicine or drug to smooth over or nullify bad conditions of the body. The only safe way to cure such is to correct or remove the cause. Therefore it was plain to Mr. Post, in working out his discovery, that people who show some weakness in digesting the starchy part of food, (which is much the largest part of all we eat) must be helped by having the starch digested or transformed before being eaten. And of course the safest and truest way to do this would be to imitate nature and avoid all chemicals or outside and unnatural things. The body digests the starchy food by the following process, first it is mixed with the moisture or juices of the mouth and stomach, then warmth or mild heat from the body grows or develops diastase from the grain. Time is also an important element and when all work together and the human organs operate properly the starch is slowly turned into a form of sugar, as it must be before the blood will absorb it and carrry the needed energy to different parts of the body. Of course if the body fails to do its work perfectly trouble sets in.

So in the making of the famous food, Grape-Nuts, moisture, warmth and time are the only things used to turn starch into sugar, thus imitating nature and keeping the human food in original purity, free from outside things and just as Mother Nature intends it shall be kept for advantageous use by her children. The food is fully cooked at the factories, and is crisp and delicious with a little thick cream poured over.

It can be softened for people with weak teeth, but is most valuable to others when it must be energetically chewed, thus bringing down the saliva from the gums to go to the stomach, and help digest the entire meal, besides the use of the teeth strengthens and preserves them. Nature blesses the parts of the body that are used and not abused. Grape-Nuts food brings peace, health and comfort when people are in despair from the ills resulting from undigested food.

WHAT FALL OF PORT ARTHUR MEANS TO RUSSIA

In addition to the inestimable loss of prestige, the fall of Port Arthur means to Russia these, estimated, figures of treasure and men:

IN TREASURE.

Invested in Port Arthur and Dalny, buildings, fortifications, etc.	$207,000,000
Ammunition and guns	6,000,000
Fleet destroyed	78,000,000
Total	$291,000,000

IN MEN.

Original garrison	40,000
Present garrison (say)	12,000
Sick and wounded now in hospitals	15,000
Killed and died of wounds	13,000
Total dead, sick and wounded	28,000

SOME STIRRING EVENTS WHICH PRECEDED THE SURRENDER DESCRIBED

Further Details of the Capitulation of the Russia Stronghold by the Japanese

Che Foo, January 7.—"Shortly after the Russians were compelled to enforce 203 Metre Hill, said a Russian officer today, to a correspondent, "Captain Kritchenko, of the 18th sharpshooters, seconded by fourteen officers, appeared before General Smirnoff and asked him to intercede with General Stoessel to allow them to make an attempt to recapture the position. Gen. Stoessel objected on the ground that it was useless to sacrifice more officers and men. At last, however, he reluctantly consented. Immediately the commander's consent had been obtained, all the available officers and men desired to take part in the attack, but many were deterred by the not over sanguine senior officers. One thousand men under cover of night made the attempt covered by the fire of two adjacent forts. A rifle fusilade and a shower of hand grenades met their advance. Three times the assault was driven back, but at last the stormers gained the heights where a desperate hand to hand encounter took place, bayonets, revolvers, grenades and even stones being called into use. After fifteen minutes of this fighting, Japanese reinforcements arrived on the scene, and the Russians were compelled to retreat. Fort Number 2 attempted to shell the Japanese, but the fire was inadequate. The Russian loss was 400 men and five officers.

MADE STOESSEL COLLAPSE.

General Stoessel collapsed when informed of the result, and it was necessary to give him medical assistance. Another officer supposed to be of high rank, said that the garrison waited for word from the Czar before talking of giving up the fortress, and that despatches arrived in which the Czar said he did not expect the garrison to fight any longer, and therefore would leave the decision as to further defence in their hands. A council was held, Sunday afternoon. It lasted three hours. General Stoessel then sent Ensign Malchenko under truce to the Japanese lines, near Eagle Hill, with a proposition to surrender and stating terms desired. The terms were prepared by General Smirnoff and asked that all able-bodied men and officers should be allowed to retain their arms and to return to Russia, on condition that they should not again take part in the present war. The Japanese were asked to take care of the Russian sick and wounded in the hospital until they should recover, when they were also to be returned to Russia, retaining their arms.

All non-combatants, irrespective of nationality, were to be given safe conduct to neutral points.

Ensign Malchenko was escorted to General Nogi's headquarters by a detachment of cavalry. The General however, was absent and the officers returned without an answer.

BOMBARDMENT CEASED.

The same evening the Japanese ceased the bombardment but re-opened it on Monday morning, continuing it until 6 p.m. General Stoessel was, by this time, in receipt of General Nogi's answer, and conversing with a group of Japanese officers on Eagle Hill. Shortly after this the Japanese occupied all the permanent forts. They will enter the town today. The Russians began blowing up their forts Sunday evening and did not put an end to the destruction. The Bayan was blown up and the Sevastopol was brought to the entrance of the harbor, and there blown up with gun cotton which fairly cut the vessel in two. The bow sank first.

Officers arriving here tell of the tragic death of General Kondratchenko and Col. Rabjevsky; Kondratchenko was the highest ranking military officer killed during the siege and the Colonel was considered distinguished himself by taking two photographs of the sinking of the Petropavlovsk, when that vessel, on which he happened to be, was destroyed by a mine. Both were members of the Council of Seventeen, hastily called during the last Japanese attack on Fort No. 2. An eleven-inch shell exploding in the midst of the group frightfully mangled the two officers.

Eighteen Russian naval officers and 250 sailors have arrived here within the last two days. It is believed that Admiral Ukhtomsky and Admiral Lochinsky also arrived here in the launches yesterday morning, disguised as common sailors.

London, January 7.—The enemies of General Kuropatkin are, says a despatch from St. Petersburg, doing everything they can to discredit him at the present juncture. The latest report spread by malicious tongues is that the General is of British origin. His great-grandfather, a surgeon named Partridge (Russian "Kuropatkin") is said to have settled in St. Petersburg in the reign of the Empress Catherine II.

ATHLETIC WORLD

BY OUR SPORTING EDITOR

THE RING.

A good night's sport will be pulled off at Bradburn's Opera House tonight, when the following men will clash;—Geo. McDonnell, of Toronto, versus Bob Long, of Peterborough, will wrestle at 120 pounds, best two out of three falls. Two well-known local boys will wrestle for the 125 pound championship of Peterborough, best two out of three falls. The chief wrestling bout of the evening will be between George Gardner, of Peterborough, and Roy Stein, of Hamilton at 180 pounds, best two out of three falls. Abe Harris will box D. Christie eighteen rounds at 115 pounds. Harris has appeared in Peterborough before, and has always made a showing. A good bout will be between J. Edwards, the hard-hitting 122 pounder of Buffalo, N.Y., and Pete Barry, of Toronto, the Canadian champion, 15 rounds at 122 pounds.

In regard to the challenge of Nick Collins to Pete Barry, the latter writes The Times as follows;—

"I wish to say that I will meet Collins within four weeks after I give the Englishman whom I recently knocked out, another chance, as he claims that the knock-out was only a chance blow, and that he knocked out his thumb in the first round. Collins will have to put up a forfeit with the sporting editor of The Times just to show that he means business. I will gladly meet Collins in a fifteen round bout, the purse to be divided whatever way suits him, and any referee will do me. I think that is a fair deal if he is willing to fight me. I remain, Yours,

PETE BARRY.

Featherweight Champion of Canada.

Barry arrived in town yesterday morning and put the finishing touches to his training. He says he never felt better in his life, and will put up the fight of his life tonight.

BASKETBALL.

The Y.M.C.A. Basketball League games will be played this evening at eight o'clock. The game between Athletics and Class Team; 2nd game, between Harriers and Brownies. Basketball is certainly the best and most popular of all indoor games there is, and it is growing in still more popularity and favor. If you have never seen a game you had better come up to the Y.M.C.A. Saturday evening and enjoy seeing one. Games start at 8 o'clock. Admission ten cents.

PETERBOROUGH 21 PORT PERRY 8

First Game of the Intermediate O.H.A. Series

LOCALS MAKE A GOOD START

Pairly Good Crowd of Spectators witness the Game.

The first game of the O.H.A. Intermediate series of this district was played on the Brock street rink when the locals met the Port Perry septette winning out by the overwhelming score of 21 to 8. The half time score being 7—4 in Peterborough's favor.

The present cold snap has put the ice in excellent condition.

A fairly good crowd of spectators considering the stormy night, including a few Port Perry people, who accompanied their team, witnessed the game.

The game started off at a lively clip but before two minutes had expired, Cavanah started the scoring followed by one for the visitors in half a minute, Carnegie doing the trick. After a series of end to end rushes, Crowley started a piece of neat combination passing the rubber to Morgan to Parnell back to Morgan who scored. Stewart locating the net for the visitors one minute afterwards. Morgan slammed in another for Peterborough on a pass from Parnell, the visitors adding another to their number. Stewart putting it in. Morgan again was on the spot and when Cavanah drove one at Van Sinclair, who was in the nets for Port Perry, and blocked it, Morgan batted it through, after which Cavanah tried another and lauded it. Then Dennison located the nets for the visitors. Morgan taking a pass from Cavanah and scoring. Chris Graham repeating the trick in half a minute. This concluded the scoring in the first half—score 7—4.

When the teams came on the ice in the second half it was rumored among the spectators—Port Perry—that the visitors would play the locals out as it was known that Harry Morgan and Chris Graham were under the weather, and were not feeling in hockey humor, and just for that, the locals got into the game, and scored almost everytime the rubber went down the ice. It was difficult to keep tab on the goals scored, as Cavanah, who was the pick of the bunch, and Morgan, Graham and Parnell were putting them into the net, and piling up the score until it reached 21, the visitors adding four to their number.

Following are the goals scored;

FIRST HALF.

Peterborough—Cavanah.
Port Perry—Carnegie.
Peterborough—Morgan.
Port Perry—Stewart
Peterborough—Morgan.
Port Perry—Whitaker.
Peterborough—Morgan.
Peterborough—Cavanah.
Port Perry—Dennuston.
Peterborough—Morgan.
Peterborough—Graham.

SECOND HALF.

Peterborough—Morgan.
Peterborough—Graham.
Peterborough—Parnell.
Peterborough—Morgan.
Peterborough—Morgan.
Port Perry—Jamieson.
Peterborough—Morgan.
Port Perry—Stewart
Port Perry—Denniston.
Peterborough—Parnell.
Peterborough—Cavanah.
Peterborough—Parnell.
Peterborough—Crowley.
Peterborough—Cavanah.
Peterborough—Morgan.
Peterborough—Morgan.
Peterborough—Cavanah.

Following is the line-up;—

PETERBOROUGH.		PORT PERRY.
Wasson	Goal.	Van. Sinclair
Glover	Point.	Carnegie
Crowley	Cover-point.	Powers
Cavanah	Rover.	Denniston
Morgan	Centre.	Jamieson
Parnell	Right Wing.	Stewart
Graham	Left Wing.	Whitaker

Referee—W. Irving, Lindsay.

Goal umpires—C. Earls, Peterborough, H. Lucas, Port Perry.

Time keepers—J. McCabe, Peterborough; Harris, Port Perry.

For the visitors Denniston and Stewart were the most conspicuous, while Van Sinclair in goal played a good game, and took care of a number of hot shots of Cavanah's.

• • • •

For the locals every man played a good game. Glover appeared on the line-up for the first time this season, and played his usual good game. He, with Bill Crowley were seen to get busy quite frequently, and take a run up the ice. They also spelled a number of good things for Port Perry.

• • • •

Ernie Wasson took his stand in the nets, and was called upon to handle some dangerous twisters.

• • • •

Cavanah's rushes caught the crowd and also the nets.

• • • •

Just before time was up Chris Graham broke his skate. Port Perry refused to put off the game, and Graham had to get off on one skate.

• • • •

The referee was very slow in catching many off-sides made by the visitors.

• • • •

Morgan had his man wearing that worried look when he got away. He was always on the spot when there was anything doing.

• • • •

Chris Graham and Parnell played the wings, and were always there to help in the good work of figuring in some nice combination.

• • • •

Cavanah is playing faster than ever this season and carried the puck from one end of the ice to theother many times during the game.

• • • •

The following players were given short rests for minor offences; Stewart, Crowley 2, Cavanah, Powers, Jamieson.

ENJOYABLE ENTERTAINMENT.

At St. John's Sunday School Last Night—Prize Giving—Two Christmas Trees and Santa Claus—Good Musical Talent.

St. John's Church annual Sunday school entertainment was held in the school house last night, and proved a very enjoyable function. Handsome prizes for merit and attendance were distributed—three to each class. The prizes this year were exceptionally good, and the lucky recipients were delighted with their awards. Two large Christmas trees stood at the head of the hall, attractively decorated and ladened with gifts for the scholars. Mr. Jas. Bell officiated as Santa Claus, and found on the trees a Christmas present for each boy and girl who had not been lucky enough to win a prize. These presents were varied and of unusual value for such an occasion.

Mr. J. Butcher, sexton of the church, and Mr. Wallace, secretary of the Sunday school, each received a handsome present in recognition of their valuable services in their respective offices.

Mr. D. Hughes Charles, superintendent of the Sunday School, presided over the proceedings in his customary excellent manner.

MUSICAL PROGRAM.

Overture ..... Halpany Orchestra
Recitation ..... Miss Tate
Cornet solo ..... Mr. R. Gliddon
Selection ..... Halpany Orchestra
Spanish dance—Miss Roy, Miss Wallace, Misses Burnett.
Song ..... Miss Edith Lount
Violin solo ..... Miss K. Wallace
Recitation ..... Miss Tate
Violin solo ..... Miss M. Burnett
Song ..... Mr. F. A Lount
Selection ..... Halpany Orchestra

The above program was exceptionally well rendered, and was very acceptable indeed. The Halpany orchestra consists of Mrs. Halpany, pianist, Mr. J. Halpany, cornet, and Master Frank Halpany, violinist. This trio form a splendid combination, and are always well received. The Spanish dance is an attractive number, and was very prettily and gracefully executed last night by Miss Roy, Miss Wallace and the Misses Burnett. Miss Tait's recitations were in much favor with the audience, and this young lady gives considerable promise as an elocutionist. Miss Edith Lount is a little soloist of considerable merit, who so charmingly sang the character of "Buttercup" in "the Pinafore" presented here by juveniles last year. Mr. Lount and Mr. Gliddon were also in good form last night, and were enthusiastically received.

The entertainment opened with "the Old Hundred," and closed with "God Save the King."

The whole function was a success, in every way, and reflects considerable credit on the Superintendent, Mr. Charles, and his staff of teachers, under whose auspices it was given.

Considering the exceedingly inclement weather which prevailed last night, the attendance was good.

TO SAVE THE INDUSTRY

Seek Prohibition of Salmon Packing to Revive Canneries.

Vancouver, B.C., January 9.A deputation of British Columbia salmon canners leaves Vancouver this afternoon for Ottawa to urge the Government to use extreme measure to save the salmon industry from extinction. It will endeavor to induce the Department of Marine and Fisheries to bring about the passage of an order-in-council prohibiting packing of salmon during 1906 and 1908.

THE SLOCUM DISASTER

Fifteen Officers of the Company to Stand Trial for Murder

New York, Jan. 9.—After every means of escape known to the law had been employed by their counsel, President Frank A. Barnaby and the other officers of the Knickerbocker Steam boat Company, will be arraigned in the United States Court to-day to plead to the indictment found against them as a result of the General Slocum disaster last June, whereby more than 1,000 persons lost their lives. The company of which the accused are officers, owned and operated the ill-fated steamboat. When arraigned before Judge Thomas today, all will plead not guilty to the indictment. The trial is expected to follow within a few weeks.

FERROZONE

SAVED HIS LIFE

After reading the following letter from Mr. H. A. Thurston, of 26 Vermont street east, Indianapolis, Ind., no one will ever doubt the merit of Ferrozone:

"A year ago I took the grippe.

"I was as weak as a child.

"I was no longer able to eat.

"My blood was thin. My cheeks were white and hollow.

"Doctor gave me all kinds of medicine, but none of them brought any strength.

"My friends said I was wasting away with some slow disease, and I bid them good-bye.

"Then I heard of the wonderful Ferrozone.

"After three days it gave me an appetite. I gained strength and became cheerful. Under Ferrozone I improved steadily. I am well today. I weigh fifteen pounds heavier than ever before, and feel like a new man.

A GENEROUS VICTOR

The terms granted by the Japanese to the remnants of the Port Arthur garrison are such as to further raise the conqueror in the estimation of the civilized world. The officers are treated with honors and permitted to keep their swords, and will be sent home paroled. The men are to remain as prisoners of war, and the Russian sanitary corps is to remain to help to care for the Russian sick and wounded, of whom there are 16,000. Probably less than 6,000 of the garrison were in fighting condition at the date of the opening of the negotiations. The action of Stoessel in blowing up the Russian ships and blocking the harbor after opening negotiations for surrender is severely criticised as a breach of honor on his part, which detracts from the merit of his course. That the Japanese treat him so well after such a treacherous act shows that they have a high regard for the opinion of the world.

It is too early to speculate on the effect of the surrender on the war. Some think Rojestvensky's fleet will be recalled. It is supposed to be on the east coast of Madagascar now. It is asserted that peace proposals would be scorned by Russia, but if her internal conditions are no better than reported an influence may be at work for peace that, proud and sore as she is, she may not be able long to resist.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Port Arthur's new tenants may like the location, but they will find the premises in a shocking state of disrepair.

BRITISH AID REFUSED

Japanese Decline to Allow British Sailor to Approach Port Arthur

Wei-Hai-Wei, Jan. 6.—The first-class British cruiser Andromeda sailed from here yesterday morning for Port Arthur, with hospital stores and surgeons to assist the sick and wounded, returned here to-day, not having been allowed to make a landing at Port Arthur. The cruiser proceeded to a small bay, ten miles north of Port Arthur, where she met with some Japanese. The latter refused all offers of assistance or stores of any kind, and declined to allow the ship's officers to approach closer, the reason being given being the presence of armored ships.

RED TAPE AT PORT ARTHUR

Transfer of Fortress Attended by Many Conditions

Tokio, Jan. 6.—A Port Arthur supplementary agreement, published today, provides for the appointment of commissioners to superintend the enforcement of the provisions in the capitulation compact, and deals with the treatment of officers and men.

The commissioners are to meet at the base of Pehgu Mountain at noon on Tuesday next, with the military and naval officers of Port Arthur fortress in the order indicated by the Japanese on the tabulated receipt of their organizations, who shall conduct themselves so as to arrive at the eastern extremity of Yahutsui at nine o'clock on Thursday morning. The officers and officials are allowed to wear their side arms, but the use of arms is prohibited in the case of non-commissioned officers and privates. On arrival there shall be placed in control of the commission entirely within sight of the original agreement. Civil officials not connected with the army or navy shall follow the officers. Those who have not served as volunteers shall be released without parole.

Persons who are necessary to effect the transfer of the fortress buildings, warships, etc., must wear an emblem given by the Japanese authorities.

Private property carried by officers and officials shall be subjected to inspection and must be limited in weight.

The agreement further provides for the transfer of hospitals, the immunity of non-combatants, their freedom of action, and the removal of private property.

It promises to facilitate the movement of families of officers and officials, but reserves the right of removal of objectionable persons and the release of Japanese prisoners.

NORTH SMITH

At a meeting of the Young People's Society in connection with Wesley Methodist church, held on December 20th, to settle business for the past year and arrange matters for the future, Miss Higgins, who has been president of the society for the past year, was presented with a handsome ladies' companion and the following address, which was read by Mr. J. Perry, and the ladies' companion was presented by Miss V. Nugent:

Miss E. L. Higgins.

President of the Epworth League.

Dear Friend.—We, the officers and members of the Wesley Young People's Society, take this opportunity on the eve of your departure from us, to tender you our thanks and appreciation for the services rendered our league during the past year. You must have been discouraged many times at the lack of interest taken by us on your behalf in our spiritual welfare.

Yet, we desire to assure you that the seed sown in our hearts from time to time will, by the Grace of God, we trust, bring forth an abundant harvest.

And now, in conclusion, we ask you to accept this ladies' companion from us as a very slight token of our good will and esteem for you, not only for your success in this life, but also for your spiritual and eternal welfare, hoping it will serve as a pleasant reminder to you of the many kind friends you have made for yourself at North Smith.

We will now close our address with one verse of the well-known hymn:

God be with you till we meet again,
By His counsels guide, uphold you,
With His sheep securely fold you;
God be with you till we meet again.

Signed on Behalf of the league.

JOHN HARRISON,
R. M. NORTHEY,
MISS GERTIE NORTHEY,
Vice-Presidents.

Miss Higgins was taken completely by surprise and was deeply affected by the kindness of the young people, yet she found suitable words to thank the young people for the kind words expressed in the address just read, and also for the beautiful present, assuring them of her deep interest in their spiritual welfare, and trusting that they would ever be found pressing onward and upward. On the Friday evening following a Christmas tree and entertainment was given in the Methodist church under the auspices of the Sunday school. The tree was laden with many useful and costly presents. The success was largely due to the efforts of Miss Higgins, who has taught school No. 10 here for the past three years, during which time she has won for herself a host of friends, and will be greatly missed not only in the day school, but also in the Sunday school and choir, of which she was a valued member.

A Minister Suspended

Hamilton, Jan. 7.—Rev. W. E. Walker, pastor of St. Paul's Colored Episcopal Church here, has been relieved of his charge, and Rev. Mr. Hackett has been installed temporarily. Mr. Walker, who has been here for about three months, was suspended in Morgaton, North Carolina, by Bishop Gaines. The affair has caused somewhat of a stir in church circles, as Mr. Walker attended the first meeting held by the Ministerial Association to choose moral reform candidates for aldermen.

Written in memory of Denis Condon, who died Nov. 11th, 1904, aged 23 years.

With eyes upturned to Heaven,
And a smile of content on his brow,
Lies the body of your loved brother,
For his soul is in Heaven now.

Just in his manhood's bloom,
His time had come but O so soon,
None but the eye of heaven
Can pierce this solemn gloom.

Now father, mother, sisters and brother,
We know your hearts are sore,
But you know that Den is safe forever
On God's eternal shore.

When that cruel fever racked his brow
And pain literally [illegible]
On that bright young face, no frown was seen
For he never did complain.

Death to us seems so much sadder,
When it claims one that we have known.

[illegible]
Our loss is heaven's gain.

Then why should your tears roll down,
And your hearts with grief be riven,
Another gem — in our Saviour's crown,
Another soul in Heaven.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, excepting 8 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres more or less.

ENTRY

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situate, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES

A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act, and the amendment thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

1] At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

2] If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), or any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

3] If a settler was entitled to and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

4] If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same town, township, or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of clauses [2] [3] or [4] must cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, or substitute 20 head of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, and have besides 80 acres substantially fenced.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 22d of June, 1904.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled and the land may again be thrown open for entry.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT

Should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

INFORMATION

Newly arrived immigrants will receive, at the Immigration Office in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing lands to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Land Agents in Manitoba or the North-west Territories.

JAMES A. SMART,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands, to which the Regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Co.

INCORPORATED

Capital $5,000,000. Shares $1.00 Each, Par Value, Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable.

We have just secured the agency for the above splendid proposition, of which we have been allotted a block of Treasury stock. We can confidently recommend this as a safe and, we believe, exceedingly profitable investment. Every dollar of stock is guaranteed by twenty year, full paid, gold bond, delivered to purchaser of stock, from an Investment Company that has no interest whatever in the company that who are disposing of the debentured bonds to the public, and, under their charter, they are compelled to deposit securities to an equal amount, to the State Treasurer under which they received their charter, there by doubly securing the payment of their gold bonds.

The Company's property, which is now past the project stage, is known to be marvellously rich in gold.

Following is the opinion of G. W. Miller, Mining Engineer, formerly with the Boston and Montana Consolidated Copper and Silver Mining Company, U. S.; Simmer and Jack Mining Co., Limited, Klondyke fountain, South Africa:

"You have here a most valuable property and one of the [illegible]

"With the present development of the Monument Mine, I estimate that 100 tons per day can be extracted, which will mill from $15.00 to $20.00 per ton. The total cost of mining the ore, delivering and milling, I place at about $4.00 per ton. With increased milling capacity, it is safe to say that the mine can furnish 100 tons of $15.00 ore, which would yield a clear profit of $11.00 per ton, or $1,100.00 per day (equal to $400,000.00 per annum). Estimated total value of ore in sight, $2,500,000."

"In regards to the amount of ore available at the mines at Sinclair, I saw on the dumps several thousand tons, probably 5000 tons would be an underestimate.

"As to the size of the ore body itself, from what I saw of the geological structure, I think that there is every indication that it will be found to extend underground as far as the out-croppings on the south side of the gulch. This would mean an ore body large enough to keep the present mill running for many years to come."

A write up of the proposition will appear in these columns in a few days. Watch for it. In the meantime we will be pleased to furnish full information to investors.

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

The Salido Gold and Copper Company

Incorporated under the laws of Arizona, with a capital of $3,000 000 forever non-assessable divided into shares of $1 each, par value. All investments insured Granite Securities Company.

The "SALIDO GOLD COPPER COMPANY" enterprise offers attractions to the investors of the country, that without thorough investigation, would scarcely seem probable. If only a fraction is realized of what any prudent business man in his own affairs would regard as absolutely certain, the enterprise must prove abundantly successful and exceedingly profitable.

SALE OF STOCK

The company will prosecute the work of development with all the diligence that the cash in the treasury will permit and circumstances warrant, and to this end a small amount of the treasury stock is now placed upon the market, in blocks of not less than One Hundred Shares. The par value of the stock is One Dollar per share, fully paid and forever non assessable.

The company reserves the right to advance the price of stock without notice.

REMEMBER

First—That all payments for treasury stock go into the treasury for development work and not into the pockets of the promoters.

Second—There are no salaried officers.

Third—The incorporators have put their own good money into this enterprise and being business men, intend to do business along business lines

Fourth—That this company is honest.

Fifth—If you are thinking of investing in mining stocks this is worthy of your careful investigation.

OTHER PROPERTIES

This Company owns four other Gold and Copper Mines, which title is now in process in the laws of Mexico. As soon as title is perfected, we shall commence to develop them as we certainly expect something very great from these properties. Our assays taken have been of the very best, showing gold and copper from $6.00 to $122. 30 per ton.

I have secured a small block of this stock, which I offer at the following prices: Unguaranteed 40 cents per share, guaranteed 80 cents per share. These prices will only prevail for a short time, as the number of shares for sale at this price is limited. The Shares will then be advanced to 40 cents for the unguaranteed and 80 cents for the guaranteed. I can unhesitatingly recommend this investment to the Canadian public.

BARON ROTHSCHILD VISITING MONTREAL

Member of Famous Banking House is now in the City

W'LL ENJOY WINTER SPORTS

Says His Firm is not Financing Either Country in Present Eastern Conflict

Montreal, January 6.—Baron Louis de Rothschild, of New York, is in the city, purely as he explained to a reporter on planning hunt.

The Baron, who is a young man, belongs to the Austrian branch of the family, and has been a resident in New York city for the past three months.

He is a nephew of Lord Rothschild, the head of the London banking branch of the banking firm operated by the family, which has also branches in Vienna and Paris.

Thus far the firm has had very little to do with business in America, and what little has been done has been looked after by the London office.

The Baron would not say whether the firm contemplated establishing an agency on this side of the Atlantic, but from a number of things the Baron said, coupled with his evident intention of staying in America for a protracted period, such a thing as an active campaign on this side of the water might be one of the contingencies of the future.

Baron Louis is making his first trip through Canada and has been favorably impressed with all that he has seen. For the present he contemplates getting some idea of Canadian winter sports. He may go as far as Quebec.

When it was suggested that a more favorable time to visit the affluent capital was during the summer, he remarked: "Oh, well, I may come back next summer if I like the place."

The Baron is evidently a keen observer, for he talked interestingly upon a number of his experiences in the United States.

The Baron did not want to talk about the war between Russia and Japan. He does not take any great interest in politics, except in so far as they affect the money market, and his firm, he believes, is not supplying the sinews of war to any large extent in the present struggle.

DELAY IS DANGEROUS

Britons Warned That Canada Cannot Always Wait for Reciprocity

London, Jan. 7.—The new commercial office of the Board of Trade, Basinghall street, established with the object of placing the commercial interests for the colonies on the same building with the agency of the Board of Trade, has now taken practical shape. Canada has a separate office and the Dominion is also represented by a small show-room as well.

The London Globe, commenting on Lord Salisbury's speech at Wolverhampton, says: "There are many indications that if we do not make haste to link ourselves with the colonies by bonds of reciprocity, we shall find we are too late. In Canada the decision will have to be taken with as little delay as possible. It is scarcely appreciated yet in this country that we must look in the near future to Canada for the main portion of our bread supplies and that the United States is becoming less and less the British granary.

"The eyes of the American milling industry is fixed upon Canadian territory. Canadian wheat is kept out of the States by the American tariff, but unless we are greatly mistaken our kinsmen mean by hook or crook to have that wheat. This is only one illustration of what we stand to lose by hesitating to clasp the hand held out to us from across the seas, and Canadian statesmen know well that what we may reject or delay to accept will be gladly welcomed elsewhere."

SPRINTER SENT ON

Billy Boyd Committed for Trial on Charge of Defrauding Man Who bet on Him

London, Ont., Jan. 7.—"Billy" Boyd, the sprinter, and Hugh Stevenson, were yesterday committed for trial on the charge of entering to a conspiracy to defraud ex-Ald. Douglass of $10,000 on a foot race at St. Louis, in which Boyd was to participate.

According to his own story Douglass was to go to St. Louis to do some betting on a foot race to be arranged between Boyd and a sprinter named Maxwell, belonging to that city, and which was to be a sure thing. Members of the Country Club of St. Louis were to back Maxwell for all the money that could be got up on the race, and they were "millionaires," but Douglass was led to believe that the event would be a "sure thing" for Boyd. Douglass was also "let in" on a little secret, to the effect that the president of the Country Club, himself a millionaire, was "putting up a game" on the other members of the organization, which would result in their losing their money on the race. There had been talk at times before the race about as much as $100,000 being staked on it. In the end, however, Boyd fell and Maxwell won the race.

AUDIENCE DIVIDED

Name of Chamberlain Produced Mingled Cheers and Hisses

London, Jan. 7.—Lord Selborne had a very mixed reception at Wolverhampton when he urged upon his audience the necessity of Mr. Chamberlain's advice to think imperially. At times the disorder almost stopped the meeting. Lord Selborne said the people of Great Britain should lift their eyes from the United Kingdom to the United Empire. Mr. Chamberlain's advice was not for us, but for Canada, Australia, South Africa and elsewhere in our dominions. The dream of a united empire was the greatest dream ever put before the electors of Great Britain. There was no reason why the empire should not be self-contained. At the next election the electors should have a great responsibility thrown upon them, for every vote cast would have an effect far beyond this country. The name of Mr. Chamberlain was received with mingled cheers and hisses.

E. B. Osborne, writing in the Morning Post, thinks Canada will never make a contribution to the British navy, but will preserve her national dignity by a Canadian fleet. He thinks the prevalence of high wages in Canada would make naval recruiting difficult.

This Company is the owner of 70,000 acres of very rich, fertile lands in the Province of Pinar del Rio, Cuba. This land is suitable to the growth of the finest quality of tobacco, oranges, lemons, pineapples and other citrous fruits.

A small portion of this estate produced last year a large percentage on the total authorized capital of this company.

One acre produced last year $2700 in tobacco. The revenue-producing powers of this estate will not be reduced by sale of lands, as the cultivated portion will be increased by additional plantation.

The lands offered for sale can be made as productive within a short period as those at present cultivated.

The estate is abundantly watered by numerous streams and fresh water springs.

The climate is one perpetual June, no fogs, no mists, no yellow fever.

Flowers bloom the year round.

Game and fish abound.

The temperature is even, so that catarrh is unheard of.

Abundance of water and perpetual grass makes stock raising an assured success.

New York markets are at its command for all its products.

The estate borders upon Gaudiana Bay, with a sea frontage of about twelve miles and a deep water, sheltered harbor.

Cuba has only now become open to modern development, and its progress is sure to be rapid.

This is the opportunity for the man of small means to obtain a home and subsequent wealth, for the man of means to obtain a profitable investment.

This Company is now offering land in blocks of 10 acres or more at $10.00 per acre.

Stock at par or a strip entitling the owner to an option to take land at $10.00, or stock at par, for a limited period.

Only 10,000 acres will be offered at $10.00 per acre, of which 2,000 acres are already sold.

The second 10,000 acres will be sold at $20.00 per acre or over within a few months.

The balance of the estate to be disposed of 30,000 acres, will be raised to $50.00 per acre or over.

As the price of land is raised the price of stock will also advance.

Purchase now and save money.

Terms—25 per cent cash; 25 per cent. 30 days; 25 per cent. 60 days; 25 per cent. 90 days.

Rare Chance to Secure a Paying Investment

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY

has placed a small block of their stock at the disposal of Canadian investors. This stock is sure to rapidly advance in price. The Company is now arranging to instal the power plant and a mill and cyanide plant for the reduction of their ore to a bullion on the property. They have arranged with a Trust Company having assets of $1,500,000 to put up a bond guaranteeing investors the repayment of the full amount invested. This makes investors absolutely safe. By no possibility can they lose a dollar.

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY was organized November 21, 1902 under the laws of the State of Idaho. The capitalization is one million shares of the par value of one dollar each, fully paid and non-assessable; of the 1,000,000 shares, 400,000 have been set aside as treasury stock.

THE BOISE BASIN came into prominence shortly after Grimes and his party of prospectors entered the Basin country in 1862; their entrance was into the northern portion, and one discovery of rich placer ground followed another until the news of the rich finds reached the outside world, when a veritable stampede for Boise Basin commenced, towns sprang up and grew together in an incredibly short time; the rush of people to Idaho City made it a place of 20,000 people in 1867, having a business street over a mile long, lined with two-story buildings, streets and sidewalks filled with people day and night, business and money on every hand and the city bearing the proud distinction of being the capital of the territory of Idaho. Wages ran from $6 to $10 a day and not infrequently forty and fifty men worked on a single placer claim; the clean-up for a day's work in many instances ran close to $5,000; large fortunes were made in a few days by washing the golden sands in a pan, so eager was the quest for the shining metal that the streets of Idaho City were dug up and washed and re-washed, and the soil removed from under the houses and places of business. So extensive was the search for the hidden treasure that not only all of the low ground was worked but the foot of the mountains surrounding the city have been washed away, filling up the lower portions of the basin and extending into the town, where one of the buildings has been buried under the tailings from the numerous placer workings.

LOCATION—The property of the Gold Coin Mining Company is situated in the Gambrinus Mining District, Boise County, Idaho, on the range of mountains between Moore Creek and Elk Creek, which forms a part of the eastern boundary of the famous Boise Basin and into which these mountains are drained. The property is located ten miles northeast of Idaho City, from which place there are good wagon roads either to the workings on top of the mountain or to the place of the proposed tunnels in the gulch which crosses the Tunnelsite claim.

THE CLAIMS—The Company owns a group of four contiguous lode mining claims and the Gold Coin Millsite: the names of the lode claims are the Tunnelsite, Blue Bell, Pennsylvania and Homestake, each being a full claim 600 feet wide by 1,500 feet long, excepting the Tunnelsite claim, which is 450 feet wide at the west end and 1,055 feet long. It was necessary to stake the claim in this form on account of joining the Washington property on the south and the Sob Rosa property on the west, these properties being prior locations to the Tunnelsite claim. The four lode claims aggregate nearly 60 acres of rich mineral land.

CATARRH

RUINS HEALTH AND BEAUTY CAUSES THE WEAK TO DIE YOUNG INVARIABLY LEADS TO CONSUMPTION.

Thousands Annually Cured by Catarrhozone

MR. ARCHIBALD BASS, of New Harbor, writes; "Catarrhozone proved itself a remarkable remedy in my case. I suffered terribly from catarrh in the throat and my nose was so stuffed up every morning I could hardly draw my breath. The mucous dropped back into my stomach, upset my digestion and kept me sick all the time. Catarrhozone relieved in a short time and cured perfectly."

MRS. W. F. BREACH, of Chapman, writes; "I have used a great many catarrh remedies but none of them ever helped like Catarrhozone. It cleared out my nose and throat and stopped a ringing noise in my ears. Catarrhozone is very pleasant and simple to use and many times better than any other catarrh remedy."

MR. LAWRENCE KENNEDY, of New West Annan, says; "For three years I tried doctors but my catarrh grew worse and worse. I got no relief till I used Catarrhozone. It was not very long a curing me so perfectly that the disease has never returned."

MR. JOSEPH De ROCHE, one of the most prominent and highly respected citizens of Loggieville, N.B., says; "I used Catarrhozone for a sore throat, cold in the head and headache. I always felt relief immediately. It cured the discharge from my nose and restored my sense of smell lost through the effects of catarrh."

Catarrhozone is simple, convenient and pleasant. It is warranted to instantly relieve and permanently cure.

Complete outfit consists of a beautiful polished hard rubber inhaler and sufficient liquid for recharging to last two months. Costs $1.00 or sample size 25c. Sold by all druggists, or sent by mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., or Hartford Conn., U.S.

A Good Service

The excellent service the Street Railway is putting up, is greatly appreciated. The cars are usually well filled, especially on the George street line. The company proposes to make the service even better than it is, and have placed an order for a new closed car with the Ottawa Car Works. This will make the equipment of the Company—six closed cars, one open and two trailers.

Y. M. C. A. Debating Club

The Y.M.C.A. Debating Club, which has been out of business for several years, will be reorganized on Wednesday evening next, Jan. 11th, at eight o'clock. It will be open to all members of the association. Mr. Holmes is taking an active part in the re-organization, and success seems assured. Mr. J. Hampden Burnham, M.A., has kindly consented to give a short address on the opening night on the "Value of Debate."

Nearly a Fire

A hurry call to the Lakefield Fire Brigade on Thursday was caused by an alarm that the planning mill in that village, owned by Mr. James Moore, was on fire. The roof caught from a spark at the extreme edge next the raceway, and only extraordinary activity on the part of two or three of the citizens, prevented a very serious fire, as if the flames had once secured a hold, nothing could have saved the mill, and probably the adjoining grist mill of the Lakefield Milling Company. The engine was promptly in commission, but its services were not required.

A Lively Runaway

Yesterday morning the Dominion Express Company's sleigh in charge of Driver Fred Sanderson, was driving up George street between Simcoe and Hunter when the Street Railway Company's sweeper came along and frightened the horse. The animal started off, and when near Oke's store it took to the side-walk and collided with a hydrant. Sanderson was thrown over the dash-board. He lit on the whiffle-tree and shafts and managed to hang on until the animal was stopped. Little damage was done.

An Old Resident Gone

Yesterday morning, the death of Mr. Michael Allen, who lived with his sister at 184 Dalhousie street, took place. The deceased came to Canada when but 14 years of age, from Ireland, settling in Asphodel, where he lived 47 years, coming to town four years ago to live with his sister. He was highly respected. He was never married. One brother and two sisters survive. The brother is Martin Allen, of Hudson, South Dakota. Mrs. Wm Burke, of the same place, and Mrs. Patrick O'Neill, town are the sisters. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 8.30 o'clock to St. Peter's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

Fortnightly Club Lecture

Mr. Jones is an amateur explorer who has taken a delight in going over the remote parts of the region lying between Lake Superior and Labrador by canoe and overland. In view of the fact that the new transcontinental railway passes through this district, this lecture will be a matter of great interest to those who know very little of this immense country. Till very recently Temagami has remained unexplored, but Mr. Jones, who is an expert photographer, secured a large number of characteristic photographs, which will be presented with the aid of the electric lantern on Monday evening next in the Y.M.C.A. Hall. The Club has been very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Jones, who has been most highly spoken of.

IT WAS ACCIDENTAL

Death of James Duval at Cordova Was an Accident

Coroner Gray and County Crown Attorney Wood opened an inquest at Cordova on Thursday on the death of the late James Duval, who was shot by his brother while walking through the woods last Saturday. It was made apparent that the shooting was accidental, according to first reports, but some doubt seems to have developed, and to clear this up, an officialenquiry was considered advisable.

A jury was empannelled, and evidence taken, showing that the killing was accidental. The inquest was adjourned until Wednesday next.

EXPRESSION OF THANKS

Ladies and Gentlemen,—

The Trades and Labor Council wish through this medium to thank the electors of the town generally for the splendid support accorded the three aldermanic candidates representing this Council in the last municipal election. We feel that the splendid record made by them in this election is sufficient proof of the wisdom displayed in placing them in the field, and we assure their supporters that during the year they will use their efforts to advance such legislation as will benefit all sections of their own, and fill their duties so faithfully that when they come for re-election they will be returned by even larger votes than those which secured their effection.

G. W. SLOAN,
President Trades and Labor Council.

CARD OF THANKS

To the Electors of Bridgenorth Division, County Council;

Ladies and Gentlemen,—I have very great pleasure in expressing my thanks to all who assisted in my election as County Commissioner for the present term.

I have special reason to appreciate this kind expression of your confidence because the vote I received was almost entirely unsolicited. Such an independent expression of your good will places me under a strong obligation to do my best to merit the honor you have done me.

Yours truly
H. C. GARBUTT.

A VENERABLE PASTOR CURED BY PE-RU-NA.

Pe-ru-na Is a Catarrhal Tonic Especially Adapted to the Declining Powers of Old Age.

In old age the mucous membranes become thickened and partly lose their function.

This leads to partial loss of hearing, smell and taste, as well as digestive disturbances.

Peruna corrects all this by its specific operation on all the mucous membranes of the body.

One bottle will convince anyone. Once used and Peruna becomes a life-long stand-by with old and young.

Strong and Vigorous at the Age of Eighty-eight.

Rev. J. N. Parker, Utica, N. Y., writes: "In June, 1901, I lost my sense of hearing entirely. My hearing had been somewhat impaired for several years, but not so much effected but that I could hold converse with my friends; but in June, 1901, my sense of hearing left me so that I could hear no sound whatever. I was also troubled with rheumatic pains in my limbs. I commenced taking Peruna and now my hearing is restored as good as it was prior to June, 1901. My rheumatic pains are all gone. I cannot speak too highly of Peruna, and now when 88 years old can say it has invigorated my whole system. I cannot but think, dear Doctor, that you must feel very thankful to the all loving Father that you have been permitted to live, and by your skill be such a blessing as you have been to suffering humanity."—Rev. J. N. Parker.

A Bishop's Letter.

T. H. Lomax, D. D., Bishop 2nd Dist. A. M. E., of Charlotte, N. C., writes: "I recommend your Peruna to all who want a strengthening tonic and a very effective remedy for all catarrhal complaints."—T. H. Lomax.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

"For about two years I suffered from a very obstinate case of dyspepsia," writes R. E. Secord, Esq., of 13 Eastern Ave., Toronto, Ontario. "I tried a great number of remedies without success. I finally lost faith in them all. I was so far gone that I could not for a long time bear any solid food in my stomach; felt melancholy and depressed. Some four months ago a friend recommended your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' After a week's treatment I had derived so much benefit that I continued the medicine. I have taken three bottles and am convinced it has in my case accomplished a permanent cure. I can conscientiously recommend it to the thousands of dyspeptics throughout the land."

A man can succeed and be strong if he heeds Nature's warnings. When there is indigestion, loss of appetite, ringing in the ears, dizziness, spots before the eyes or palpitation of the heart; any or all of these symptoms point to weakness and loss of nutrition. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the medicine to turn to.

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol and is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics. It is strictly a temperance medicine.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach.

The "Common Sense Medical Adviser," 1008 pages, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 cent stamps, to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

PEACE IS ABHORRENT TO RUSSIA THE STRUGGLE TO BE CONTINUED

Russia Will Hope to Win by Exhausting the Little Empire

Russian Troops Being Sent From Port Arthur by the Japs

The Sinking of Russian Battle Ship is Now Officially Denied.

London, January 9.—If the voice of the Russian people speaks through M. Souvorin, editor of The Novoe Vreyma, then peace at the present juncture is abhorrent to the nation. Peace, if made now, he declares, would be disgraceful. The struggle may now resolve intself into a question of endurance. Under such circumstances it is the nation possessing the strongest financial resources that may be expected to have the advantage. Professor Helfferich, of the Berlin University, has written a book on the financial conditions of the two nations, and referring to the position in which they found themselves at the commencement of the war, he is strongly of the opinion that Russia had the distinct advantage. She possessed assets of a considerable sum of gold at the disposal of the treasury, and in the strong position of the Imperial Bank of Russia, and was able, if necessary, to double the note circulation. If Japan did not appear in so favorable a light, that might be attributed, perhaps, to her war preparations, extending over several years. The stock of gold of the Bank of Russia is stated to exceed 2,500 million francs; that of the Bank of Japan 300 millions. Yet the quantity of notes issued by the former bank is only three times more than that of the latter. Again, the Japanese debt has increased by 80 per cent. since 1895, and during the present war from 560 to 860 million yen, whilst the Russian debt has only been advanced by 4 per cent. since February. Professor Helfferich takes into consideration the confidence in the two nations which has been displayed in the foreign stock markets, as shown by the rise and fall of their stocks, and these signs only confirm him in the opinion that Japan has yet a long and trying time before her, and that the financial advantage still rests with Russia.

The external commerce of Russia in 1903 represented a sum of 4,175 million francs, against the 1,567 million francs of Japan. In the figures of the last peace budgets the receipts of Russia were estimated at 5,887 millions of francs, while the receipts of the Japanese Empire were put down as 650 millions in the same denomination.

An appeal is made to his fellow-countrymen by Prince Hilkoff, Minister of Railroads, to calmly and soberly consider the general interests of the country at the present juncture The questions involved in the reforms which the country requires are too vital to be settled in the haste of passion.

From the seat of war very little news comes. All the Russian troops have marched out of Port Arthur to Dalny where, it is to be presumed, they will be shipped to Japan to remain prisoners of war. Most of the officers have accepted the fate of the soldiers they commanded, only eighty having accepted parole. The report that Admiral Rojestvensky's flagship Kniaz Souvaroff had struck a rock and foundered is denied from St. Petersburg. In front of Mukden the Russians have kept up a bombardment on the Japanese forces commanded by General Oku, but without any reported effect.

THE SUFFERING PEASANTS

Many Possess Considerable Means When They Leave Russia but are Stripped of it all Before They Reach Liberty

London, January 9.—The Russian deserter dreads the lash even worse than death. At the bare mention of it his face pales and his form trembles. And this though escape from Russia demands resource and courage, and the escaped reservists as I saw them drawn up at the Jews' Temporary Shelter in Leman street were as orderly and soldier-like a set of men as one could wish to see.

They were not all Jews, though the greater number of them were. Religious creed is a minor consideration in the dispensation of this charity.

Around a table in an upstairs room were seated prominent members of the committee of management, men whose names are indissolubly associated with philanthropic enterprises in that hapless, over-populated, poverty-stricken East End.

Each immigrant is required to furnish full details concerning himself and his family, the number of roubles at his disposal, his qualifications for employment, and the ultimate destination for which he is bound. One by one the fugitives enter to undergo the ordeal; then they retire while their cases are "considered" and the extent to which they shall be assisted is decided.

More than one bears marks of bullets which went whizzing sharply after the flying conscripts. The methods adopted are often marvellous in their ingenuity. One man confessed to me that, with mincing gait, he had crossed the border in woman's clothes; another explained how he had lain buried under a pile of vegetable produce until the agonies of aching limbs and hope deferred made him well-nigh leap out to certain arrest and death.

The rapacity of the swindling Russian agents is unbounded. Often and often a life's savings—scraped together out of an all too scanty income—was demanded as the price of freedom. Many of the runaways who stood erect before the committee had but a few stray roubles left out of scores, and at times hundreds of them.

The committee offers to take charge of such money as is left. The exact and then the cash is deposited in a huge iron safe until the time comes when the fugitive must move on once more. Yet such is the treatment to which they have grown accustomed—robbery, falsehood, extortion—that many refused to part even temporarily with their little hoards.

They learnt a smart lesson, though, on Sunday night. A gang of ruffians attacked a small group of them, maltreated them, and stole all their roubles and the jewellery they were wearing.

Nearly all of them carry some money. There were four typical cases on Monday which passed under review in rapid succession. The first man dived into his breeches pocket and drew out a soiled handkerchief, in which had been wrapped twenty roubles—all that was left of 130. Two straight-up, long-bearded artillerymen, who had sold their plots of land, produced between them eighteen roubles and a few marks; it had cost them ten times as much to come to London. A conscript—a mere boy—who had already changed his foreign money into what was supposed to be its English equivalent, with not a little pride handed over a half-sovereign and three florins.

Why do these fellows—fine fighting material—refuse to go to the war for the country which gave them birth? I asked several, whom I selected indiscriminately. Here is one typical reply:

"If I went to Manchuria, my wife and children would be left to starve, and if I were shot, the Government would do nothing for my bereaved family. The breadwinner gone, they would rot and die."

The Jew has a still further and greater grievance. They are prohibited from rising from the ranks, and—so one of them told me—they are continually liable to be hounded out of the villages in which they have lived since childhood.

There are all men with trades in their hands. Boat-builders, blacksmiths, carpenters, market gardeners, goldsmiths, farmers, they profess their readiness to ply their respective crafts in some as yet undeveloped country. They do not want to remain in London.

"Not two per cent. of them who are here now will be here five weeks hence," said Mr. Gordon.

I asked one man—a German—whose well-rounded cheeks and stalwart frame spoke eloquently of country life, if he would care to remain in this city of fogs and slums and poverty.

"Nein, nein," he said, shaking his head vigorously the while.

Few were accompanied by women and children. Only three women and five children have passed before the committee. There was a woman present on Monday. She seemed a typical emigrant, and looked healthy enough to bear the trials and discomforts of a journey around the world. She was accompanied by three male relatives, and between them they had 100 roubles.

Most of the women who have left Russia have prepaid tickets to America, and some have friends whom they visit on their way out.

"This season is a record for prepaid passages," said Mr. Kendall, a shipping agent, who is in constant touch with the flood of alien immigration into London. "People in America have paid the passages of their relatives in Russia, and so a huge proportion of the foreign folks who are pouring into the city have with them the tickets that will carry them further afield.

"Five ships sail this week, from pool. Each of these boats carries an average of 200 steerage passengers, and they are full.

"As the influx of the reservists only ranges from 100 to 160 a day, it is evident that these are not the people who are crowding into an already over-crowded centre."

The extent to which the committee is helping the refugees is as astounding as it is creditable. They are met on their arrival, and carefully guarded from the wiles of the bloodthirsty crimp. Simple, but substantial meals are provided for them.

[illegible] have relatives here, they are directed to them; if no friendly face smiles kindly greeting they are taken to registered lodging-houses, and are as closely watched and tended as though each one were the accredited representative of his imperial master

Then, when the day for sailing comes, the balance of the fare, above the man's savings, is paid, and in some cases a little money is given to tide over the first few weeks' life in a strange country."

A TRIBE THAT CANNOT WALK

The New Guinea Savages Live in Little Huts Built in a Swamp

THE RACE IS DESCRIBED

When it is Necessary to Move About They Navigate Their Rude Canoes

Washington, January 9.—Buried in the last annual report on British New Guinea is the interesting story of the tribe in the northeastern part of the colony that have lived so long—perhaps for many generations—in boats and huts erected on piles in the middle of swamps and lakes that they can scarcely walk. Their legs have been so long unused that they have not developed in proportion to other parts of their bodies.

The acting administrator of the colony, Sir Francis Winter, was travelling in that region when he heard from the Barugi natives of this strange tribe. They are called the Agaiambos, and their neighbors told Sir Francis that they could not walk on hard ground as other folks do, and when they tried their feet soon began to bleed. It is rarely that they can be induced to leave their morasses for a moment.

The British party made their way through a forest till it came to a flat covered with tall grass and soon reached the edge of a wide sheet of shallow water which was little more than a swamp, though boats drawing only two or three inches may be poled across it. The surface was covered with water lilies and other aquatic plants.

Near the middle of the marsh, rising to a height of about 12 feet above the water, were piles on which stood one of the native villages. Nearly a mile away was the only other village of the tribe.

Here and there the villagers' clumsy canoes, small, long and narrow, but hollowed to a mere shell and easy to upset, because they keep the rounded shape of the log, were moving slowly over the surface. Their owners used poles to send them along.

In the middle of the marsh the open water was several inches deep and the natives, who are expert swimmers, were seen here and there leaving their boats and gliding with ease through the beds of reeds or rushes or over masses of floating vegetable matter.

The Barugi people are friendly with the tribe, and after much shouting the natives with the British party induced two men and a woman to come to the shore from the nearer village. Each of them had a small canoe and propelled it with a pole. The woman and one of the men were persuaded to come on shore where the visitors were standing.

Through a Barugi interpreter some conversation was held with the swamp dwellers. They said they had always lived in houses reared on piles in that very lake and there was no tradition in the tribe that it had ever lived anywhere else. At one time they were fairly numerous, but many of them fell victims to an epidemic a few years ago.

The man who came on shore was middle-aged and a strange-looking specimen. He was a fair-sized man from his head to his hips; he had a good chest, a thick neck and his arms matched his trunk.

It was surprising to see how disproportionately small were his thighs, and his legs were painfully spindling. His feet were short and broad and very thin and flat.

The toes looked as if they were elementary and useless parts of the foot. The toes of the woman were long, very slight and stood out rigidly from the foot as if they possessed no joints.

The man and the woman walked on the hard ground about as they might have been expected to do if they had wooden legs and feet. They were out of their element and would walk only a rod or so away from their boats.

Sir Francis Winter placed one of his natives beside the marshman and observed that his native was about three inches higher at the hips. When a view of him was presented in profile he impressed the administrator as more apelike than any other human being he had ever seen. The woman's legs were very short and slender in proportion to her figure.

A QUEER SECT

Strange Religious Sect Among the Russian Troops in the East

St. Petersburg, Jan. 9.—Among the interesting letters from Manchuria is one just received from Artillery Captain Ugorsky, who tells of a curious state of religious exaltation produced among the uneducated Russian soldiers by the strained excitement of the last few months.

"In two of the Siberian regiments," he writes, "a sect who call themselves "Krovoupitsi" (Bloodsuckers), has made considerable progress. These men have sworn to accept no quarter, to expose themselves as much as possible in the battlefield, and to keep as far as possible an exactly accurate account of the number of 'heathen' they have killed. To slaughter a race which rejects Christ they believe to be a pious act; and many of them dread any conclusion of peace which would leave a single Japanese alive. At the recent battle of Sha-ho some of these men came into great prominence. They stood up in the trenches, screamed fierce defiance, and attempted to rush out to meet the enemy. One man kept constantly exposing himself where the fire was the hottest, and when a bullet went through his chest screamed delightedly, 'Now, I am saved, brothers.' They are Christian dervishes, in fact."

COALITION OFFERS TRACED

Messrs. Gibson and Harcourt Said to Have Made Them

Toronto, Jan. 6.—The World claims to be informed that the Cabinet Minister who approached J. P. Whitney with an offer of coalition was Hon. J. M. Gibson.

Another Cabinet Minister, Hon. Richard Harcourt, is said to have figured in the negotiations, and it was with either Mr. Gibson or Mr. Harcourt that Mr. Whitney conferred.

FOR UNITED EMPIRE

Lord Selborne Pleads For a United Empire

London, January 9.—Lord Selborne had a very mixed reception at Wolverhampton when he urged upon his audience the necessity of Mr. Chamberlain's advice, to think imperially. At times the disorder almost stopped the meeting. He said the people of Great Britain should lift their eyes from a United Kingdom to a United Empire. Mr. Chamberlain's advice was not for them alone, but for Canada, Australia, South Africa and elsewhere in our dominions. The dream of a United Empire was the greatest dream ever put before the electors of Great Britain. There was no reason why the Empire should not be self-contained. At the next election the electors whould have a great responsibility thrown on them, for every vote cast would have an effect far beyond this country.

The name of Chamberlain was received with mingled cheers and hisses.

A Blizzard in Montreal

Montreal, Jan. 9.—The second intensely cold spell of the winter which has prevailed for over forty-eight hours was broken to-day, and a blizzard set in which made moving about even more uncomfortable than the extreme cold. The temperature is still comparatively low, but early this morning the thermometer registered between 15 and 20 degrees below zero.

County Police Court

A case of James v. Dalton came before Judge Edminson at the Court House on Thursday afternoon. It appears there had been some difference between the parties last summer, and the defendant undertook to settle matters at a school entertainment a few days ago. After a number of witnesses had been heard His Worship found the charged proved and imposed a fine and costs. S. T. Medd appeared for plaintiff and D. O'Connel for the defendant.

Sweep the Province

Toronto, Jan. 7.—Mr. R. R. Gamey was in the city on his way to Whitby, where he spoke last night. "I have been all over the province in the last few weeks," he said, "and from a Conservative point of view things are looking very bright. There is no doubt whatever, but that Mr. Whitney will sweep the country. I spoke in South Huron yesterday and the hall was not nearly large enough to accommodate the people."

Mr. Gamey will also speak at Orillia to-night, and from there he will go home.

ANGLO-GERMAN RELATIONS CAUSING ANXIETY TO SOME

Imperial Chancellor Has Some Ulterior Object in View in Disclaiming Anglophobia for Himself and His Country.

Vienna, Jan. 9.—In well-informed circles here the conviction has gradually come to prevail that for some reason or reasons unknown the state of Anglo-German relations is causing anxiety to the German Government. As far as is known in Vienna those relations are not now much worse than at any time since Count Buelow measured tongues with Mr. Chamberlain and found that he had still something in the art of political controversy.

At the same time it is presumed that the German imperial chancellor would not have disclaimed Anglophobia for himself and his country, as he has recently done in an English review and in the Reichstag, and that he would not have instructed German diplomatists in foreign capitals to deplore Anglo-German misunderstanding, had he not some special object in view. If this object be simply the improvement of Anglo-German relations, it is clear from the tone prevailing in authoritative quarters here that Count Von Buelow would secure the sympathy of the Austro-Hungarian Government.

Nevertheless the situation existing between England and Germany is not regarded as alarming, for Count Von Buelow is known to be too able a diplomatist and too expert a manipulator of newspaper opinion not to change at one stroke the daring of German representatives and of the German Press if he were really apprehensive of trouble. Austria-Hungary is too well acquainted with the Pan-German clamor to attach much importance, intrinsically, to the dreams of German naval enthusiasts, for she regards them as not unlike Pan-Slavist dreams, which are only formidable in so far as they are supported by official influence.

General Nogi Declines to Accept Gift Of The Defeated General's Charger

Death of Nogi's Two Sons---Meeting of Victor and Vanquished was as Undramatic as the Conclusion of the Siege of the Fortress.

Headquarters of the Third Japanese Army, in front of Port Arthur, Jan. 5.—Via Tientsin, Jan. 9. — The meeting of General Nogi and General Stoessel to-day was as undramatic as the conclusion of the siege. It had previously been arranged to take place at noon in the single undamaged house of the Village of Shuishi This house was a miserable hovel called Palm Tree Cottage.

Through a misunderstanding, Gen. Stoessel rode out to Port Arthur at Reiss and two staff officers, to the Japanese lines, and missed the Japanese officers delegated to escort him to the meeting place. The general rode there without an escort, and was received by a junior officer who happened to be on the spot.

The latter telephoned to Nogi, who hurried his departure from headquarters, and arrived at 11 o'clock, accompanied by Major-General Ijichi, his chief of staff, and Colonel Yasuhara, Matsudaira and Watanabo, staff officers and M. Kawakarin, secretary of the foreign office at Tokio. Gen. Stoessel is a large man of heavy appearance, who looks like a good fighter.

NOGI LOOKED CAREWORN.

When Nogi looking careworn, entered the compound of the cottage the two generals cordially shook hands, and Nogi, through an interpreter, expressed his pleasure at meeting a general who had fought so bravely and gallantly for his emperor and country. General Stoessel thanked General Nogi for the pleasure of meeting the hero of the victorious army.

General Nogi explained that he had received a message from his emperor, asking that the greatest consideration be shown to General Stoessel and his officers in appreciation of their splendid loyalty to their emperor and country. Because of that wish, he added the Russian officers would be allowed to wear their swords.

General Stoessel expressed his gratitude to the Japanese emperor for thus saving the honor of his (Stoessel's) family, and said his descendants would appreciate the thoughtful kindness of the Emperor of Japan. The general also expressed the gratitude of his officers, and thanked Nogi for sending the message from Stoessel to Emperor Nicholas and transmitting his majesty's reply, which read.

CZAR'S REPLY TO STOESSEL.

"I allow each officer to profit by the reserved privilege to return to Russia under the obligation not to take further part in the present war or share in the distinctions thereof.

"I thank you and the brave men of the garrison for the gallant defence."

Both generals then mutually praised each other and their officers for their bravery. The conversation afterwards turned on the explosion of the mine at Sungshu Mountain fort. Gen. Stoessel said the entire garrison of the fort was killed or made prisoners.

The Russian commander greatly praised the Japanese artillery practice, especially the concentrated fire instantaneous with the explosion of the Sungshu mine. The gallant deeds of the Japanese infantry, General Stoessel added, spoke for themselves. It was impossible to exaggerate their good qualities. The skilful work of the engineers had also won his admiration Continuing General Stoessel said he had heard that General Nogi had lost both his sons, and praised his loyalty in thus sacrificing his sons, who had died fighting for their emperor and country.

SACRIFICE OF HIS SONS.

General Nogi smilingly replied;

"One of my sons gave his life at Nanshan and the other at 203-metre Hill. Both of these positions were of the greatest importance to the Japanese Army. I am glad that the sacrifice of my sons' lives resulted in the capture of such important positions, as I feel the sacrifices were not made in vain. Their lives were nothing, compared to the objects sought."

General Stoessel then asked permission to present his charger to Gen Nogi, as a token of his appreciation and admiration. Gen. Nogi expressed his thanks for the Russian general's kindness, but said he could not accept the horse, but, be continued, he surrendered that the Russian horses were the property of Japan, and felt he could not make General Stoessel he could not make General Stoessel's charger his private property. General Nogi also promised that when the horse was handed over to him to see that it was treated with the greatest kindness out of respect for the brave Russian general.

The reupon General Stoessel assured General Nogi that he admired his rigorous principles, and appreciated his point of view.

STILL STAY IN FORTRESS.

The Japanese commander requested General Stoessel to continue to occupy his residence at Port Arthur until arrangements were completed for the return of himself and family to Russia.

Referring to the burial of the dead, General Nogi said the Japanese since the beginning of the military operations had always buried the Russian dead. Those found later on Russian dead. Those found later on would be interred at a special spot, and a suitable memorial would be erected as a tribute to the bravery of the Japanese former foes.

After luncheon, at which both generals sat together, a group photograph was taken at the cottage, and General Stoessel remounted his charger to show the horse's good points, said good-bye to General Nogi and rode back to Port Arthur.

The quiet and even solemn meeting of the generals ended at about one o'clock.

The regular Russian soldiers in Port Arthur marched out to-day. The only troops now in the city are the volunteers.

TWO FIRES STARTED.

Arthur to-day for which General Stoessel apologized. He said the volunteers were unable to control the populace, and he desired that the Japanese enter Port Arthur immediately to keep order.

The formal entry of the Japanese army into Port Arthur has been fixed for Sunday, Jan. 8.

PRISONERS TRANSFERRED.

Tokio, Jan. 9. General Nogi reports the following additional transfer of prisoners at Port Arthur made yesterday, Jan. 6:

Twenty-seventh Regiment, additional, 1,000 men.

Twenty-eighth Rifles, 57 officers, 1,505 men.

Seventh Battalion reserve conscripts, 14 officers, 282 men.

Thirteenth Battalion reserve conscripts, 12 officers, 308 men.

Tenth Regimental headquarters, two officers, 66 men.

Eleventh and Twelfth Regiment, third division, four officers, 195 men.

Fourth Artillery Brigade, 26 officers, 901 men.

Garrison artillery, two officers, 113 men.

Kwantung Garrison Artillery, 68 officers, 2,783 men.

Gendarmes, two officers, 24 men.

Total, 162 officers, 7,177 men.

One hundred and fifty-one officers were paroled.

The emperor to-day issued a rescript thanking General Nogi, the third army, Admiral Togo, and the combined fleet for taking Port Arthur.

Admiral Togo has issued an order abolishing from to-day the blockade of the Liao-tung Peninsula.

For the present, however, no ships except those in the Japanese government service will be allowed to enter Port Arthur.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 9.—With a heavy heart Russia to-day celebrated Christmas. The day was peculiarly a family fete. The trials of the war and losses at the front had brought sorrow and mourning to countless homes and the usual rejoicing was absent.

In St. Petersburg all the departments of the Government were closed until Tuesday, and intense cold kept the people indoors. All the ordinary public festivities and private entertainments were omitted.

The Imperial family observed the day quietly at the Palace Tsarskoe Selo. There was a large Christmas tree for the children, but there was no elaborate celebration, such as generally marks the day there.

CHRISTMAS IN MANCHURIA.

General Oku's Headquarters, Jan. 9.—The Russians, in celebrating their Christmas eve, began a heavy rifle fire at 10 o'clock yesterday evening, January 6th, opposite Linihimpu. Their artillery joined in at 11 o'clock and kept up two hours of the hardest firing known since the Shakhe River was reached, spreading along the whole front of General Oku's army. The Japanese sustained no damage and refused to reply. There were no casualties among the Japanese troops.

Field Marshal Oyama has sent a letter to General Kouropatkin communicating the news of the capitulation of Port Arthur, and praising the bravery of its defenders. The effect of the news was especially confounding, last reports anticipating a long resistance. It is believed it will immediately influence the situation on the Shakhe River.

DISAPPOINTED OF HER PREY.

Tokio, Jan. 9.—In naval circles here the recall of the Russian second Pacific squadron is not regarded as a sign that Russia does not hope for final success on the seas. It is considered that the authorities at St. Petersburg have realised the improbability of the second Pacific squadron alone defeating Vice-Admiral Togo, and has recalled it to await reinforcements, and to further train its officers and men preparatory to a supreme effort for the mastery. A naval officer said to-day; "Japan has confidently awaited the arrival of the second Pacific squadron of the Russian navy in the Far East. It would have been a splendid fight. Now we must prepare for the future of which we are not afraid."

Paris, Jan. 9.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of The Echo de Paris sends a translation of a letter written by M. Boulgarovsky, an electrical engineer, who left Port Arthur at the end of September. M. Boulgarovsky has been employed in laying mines against the Japanese assaults, and in directing the searchlights.

He says that up to the end of September Port Arthur was by no means in the critical state alleged in newspaper telegrams.

The people of Port Arthur sheltered themselves underground. Almost every house had its subterranean place of retreat. Even the forts were provided with subterranean chambers. These excavations were roofed over by heavy beams, upon which were placed bags of sand, which, again were covered with sheets of iron. Against this sort of armor, says the engineer, shells were harmless.

"But the constant nocturnal attacks worried the population terribly. We all had to sleep in our clothes. We slept by fits and starts. Even now, at Harbin, I have not recovered the habit of tranquil sleep. I often wake up, fancying we are at it again.

"The women in Port Arthur ran the same risks as the men. . . . In the daytime if no bombardment was going on, we went to hear music in the garden of the new town. The shops were open from 3 to 4."

M. Boulgarovsky writes a lively description of the capture of the Kuropatkin redoubt, not fort, at Port Arthur by the Japanese, and of its recapture by the Russians, among whom were sailors from the fleet now destroyed.

The Japanese had scarcely time to fix bayonets when the Russians were upon them. It was a hand-to-hand slaughter among those human rabbit warrens—the entrenchments and the sleeping and cooking places dug in them.

They smashed each other's skull with beer bottles. The leader of the Russian band, Capt. Lebedoff, says the narrator sabred the Japanese right and left, killing twenty of them before he himself perished. His exploits reminds one of the astonishing feats of Shaw, the Life Guardsman at Waterloo.

London, Jan. 9.—A project has been drawn up for settling a large number of Russian Jewish refugees in Canada. The shipping companies have offered cheap rates as well as special food facilities. It is to be arranged as far as possible that the refugees should sail direct to Canada without touching English ports.

Tokio, Jan. 9.—When the time came to forward the winter outfits for the armies in Manchuria and the commissariat produced hundreds of thousands of fur ear protectors, Japanese and foreigners alike wondered where these things could have come from. No one had ever heard of their being made.

It seems that two years ago the plague was raging along the China coast. The Japanese quarantine bureau decided that strenuous efforts must be made to keep the dread disease out of the country. They determined to start a crusade. In all the seaports and larger cities bounties were offered for each rats brought in. The small boys found this a great source of revenue and the competition at once became very keen.

For each rodent the huntsman was given a small sum and a lottery ticket. The money he might squander, but the ticket he saved, and at the end of the month there was a drawing, with prizes varying from five to fifty dollars.

Rat catching became a popular amusement, and the Boards of Health all over the country were busy examining the daily bag. Each animal was duly registered, and the place in which it was caught noted. It was then examined, and if any suspicious germs were discovered the building from which the rat came was immediately raided, all the animals were hunted down, and the place was disinfected.

PORT ARTHUR

Undoubtedly the siege, now at last concluded, of Port Arthur is entitled to rank very high, if not at the summit, among the famous sieges of the world. To the Japanese the capture of the place has been, all along, a matter of sentimental importance quite out of proportion even to its enormous commercial and military value. For the possession of this promontory of the peninsula was, in effect, the possession of the peninsula, and the peninsula was, in fact, the object of the war. To shut out the enemy from it, and so from maritime Manchuria, has been the prime object of each combatant. And yet the stake was not equal. To the Russians Port Arthur was simply Port Arthur, the "ice free port" of Southern Manchuria. To the Japanese it was something more. It was the captive of their own bow and spear, the chief prize of their war with China ten years ago. Their capture of it then was signalized by a massacre entirely unjustifiable, however grievously provoked by the sight of their own mutilated and outraged dead which met them when they entered. Happily, in the face of the Mukado's express order that the heroic Stoessel and his brave and shrunken garrison shall be treated with every circumstance of honor, there is no danger that the massacre of ten years ago will be repeated. But the possession of the place has none the less been the object of the embattled patriotism of the Island Empire. It was their prize and trophy. They were tricked out of it, as every Japanese believes, but the successful machinations of Russia, which induced France and Germany to join her in a "naval demonstration" against which Japan at the time was unable to make head, against which she could have made head only if Great Britain with her overwhelming navy had signified her disposition to take part with Japan, which promised to open the peninsula and all Manchuria to mankind, and against Russia, which threatened, not obscurely, to close them to mankind. The failure of Great Britain to take the side of Japan in behalf of Great Britain's own principle of the "open door" is not alone as an occasion on which London was outwitted by St. Petersburg. But it was one of the largest blunders of modern British diplomacy. It is to be feared that there is no doubt that it was the blunder of that very amiable and accomplished man, Lord Rosebery, then Foreign Secretary, and it was one of the occasions which go furthest to justify the British citizen in his dumb, instinctive belief that the affairs of the British Empire are safer in Conservative than in Liberal hands.

That Japan has now attained single-handed the object which she had to relinquish a decade ago because she was not single-handed may very well intoxicate with vic-have shown within these weary and horrible months of the siege that the men of no nation of which history bears record have been more willing, more anxious than they to die for their country. The "forlorn hopes" which Nogi has hurled, not once but twenty times, against the doomed fortress have been on every occasion composed of men who had no thought of coming back alive, and who bewought the privilege of falling. This is the spirit, this the fact, that goes far to alleviate and even to glorify the horrors of war. And in this the defenders were not behind the assailants. Perhaps the Japanese genius is at its best in attack and the Russian in defense. That seems to be the showing of this war, which, cruel and horrible as it has been, has left imperishable memories of valor and patriotism for the instruction of many coming generations of Russians and of Japanese. It is these things, these things even beyond the victories of arms, national prosperity, that tend to ennoble nations and to build up a national spirit. While it is true, as Milton has it, that Peace has her victories not less than those of war, it is also true that the death-defying heroism of which both the forces of Nogi and of Stoessel have given such abundant evidence is the quality which poets and painters and sculptors delight to celebrate, and which fill with heroic figures, growing mythical as time goes on, the pantheon of a people. In this case, one effect, one great effect, of the heroically desperate attacks and the heroically obstinate resistance has necessarily been to inspire a mutual respect which is the best guarantee of an honorable and a stable peace.

FORESIGHT AIDS WILY JAPS

How the Army Was Provided With Ear Protectors

Tokio, Jan. 9.—When the time came to forward the winter outfits for the armies in Manchuria and the commissariat produced hundreds of thousands of fur ear protectors, Japanese and foreigners alike wondered where these things could have come from. No one had ever heard of their being made.

It seems that two years ago the plague was raging along the China coast. The Japanese quarantine bureau decided that strenuous efforts must be made to keep the dread disease out of the country. They determined to start a crusade. In all the seaports and larger cities bounties were offered for each rate brought in. The small boys found this a great source of revenue and the competition at once became very keen.

For each rodent the huntsman was given a small sum and a lottery ticket. The money he might squander, but the ticket he saved, and at the end of the month there was a drawing, with prizes varying from five to fifty dollars.

Rat catching became a popular amusement, and the Boards of Health all over the country were busy examing the daily bag. Each animal was duly registered, and the place in which it was caught noted. It was then examined, and if any suspicious germs were discovered the building from which the rat came was immediately raided, all the animals were hunted down, and the place was disinfected.

In this manner the plague was kept out of Japan. The small boys amused themselves and made money, but no one ever stopped to think what had become of the skins of these millions of rats that had been worrying the Boards of Health. They had not been thrown away. The military authorities had used them to make ear protectors.

A WIDOW'S PATHETIC LETTER.

One of Hundreds of Letters Received at Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives—Pleads for the Life of an Only Son.

COOKSHIRE, QUE., June 3rd, 1904.

DEAR SIR,—I hope you will pardon my writing to you. I am Charles Brown's poor mother, that is heart-broken about my one and only son, and longing for your kind letter to arrive to say you can find a place for him soon in the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives. He is the only son I have and I am depending on him for support, and he has a wife and one baby depending on him also for their support. . . . He is the Charles Brown that Judge Britton's daughter spoke to you about. . . . Dear Sir, for God's sake hasten the time for him to get there, as the longer it runs on him the harder it will be for him to get well and back to his former health and strength again. . . .

MARG'T BROWN.

COOKSHIRE, QUE., June 6th, 1904.

DEAR SIR,—I received your kind and most welcome letter to-day. Very glad I was to hear the good news that my dear son can go to the Hospital any time this week. Thank God for the good news. He will leave Montreal on Monday, the 13th, or Tuesday, 14th, at the latest. It has given him new life to hear the glad news that you have sent to me, his mother.

MARG'T BROWN.

It is to meet just such cases as this that the Free Hospital for Consumptives has been built. Less than three years opened, nearly 400 patients have been cared for, and not a single patient has ever been refused admission because of his or her poverty.

Sir Wm. R. Meredith, Kt., Chief Justice, 4 Lamport avenue, Toronto, or W. J. Gage, Esq., 54 Front street, will receive and acknowledge any subscriptions our readers will send.

A QUEER SECT

Strange Religious Sect Among the Russian Troops in the East

St. Petersburg, Jan. 9.—Among the interesting letters from Manchuria is tain Ugorsky, who tells of a curious state of religious exaltation produced among the uneducated Russian soldiers by the strained excitement of the last few months.

"In two of the Siberian regiments," he writes, "a sect who call themselves "Krovoupitsi" (Bloodsuckers), has made considerable progress. These men have sworn to accept no quarter, to expose themselves as much as possible in the battlefield, and to keep as far as possible an exactly accurate account of the number of 'heathen' they have killed. To slaughter a race which rejects Christ they believe to be a pious act; and many of them dread any conclusion of peace which would leave a single Japanese alive. At the recent battle of Sha-ho some of these men came into great prominence. They stood up in the trenches, screamed fierce defiance, and attempted to rush out to meet the enemy. One man kept constantly exposing himself where the fire was the hottest, and when a bullet went through his chest screamed delightedly, 'Now, I am saved, brothers.' They are Christian dervishes, in fact."

ROYALTY TO VISIT IRELAND

Prince of Wales to Pay Official Visit to the Land of Shamrock

London, Jan. 9.—Official announcement was made yesterday of the plans completed for the approaching visit of the Prince of Wales to Ireland. His royal Highness will make his state entry into Dublin on Jan. 23, and on the following day he will proceed to Ashford on a visit to Lord Ardilaun. On the completion of his visit at Ashford the Prince will return to Dublin to be present at the first levee, which will be held at Dublin Castle on February 1. On the two subsequent days he will attend the first drawing-room and also be present at the investure of the Earl of Mayo as a Knight of St. Patrick.

WILL SWEEP THE PROVINCE

Mr. R. R Gamey Says Mr. Whitney's Return is Certain

Toronto, Jan. 7.—Mr. R. R. Gamey was in the city on his way to Whitby, where he spoke last night. "I have been all over the province in the last few weeks," he said, "and from a Conservative point of view things are looking very bright. There is no doubt whatever, but that Mr. Whitney will sweep the country. I spoke in South Huron yesterday and the hall was not nearly large enough to accommodate the people."

Mr. Gamey will also speak at Orillia to-night, and from there he will go home.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, excepting 8 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres more or less.

ENTRY

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situate, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES

A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act, and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

1] At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

2] If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), or any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

3] If a settler was entitled to and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

4] If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same town, township, or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of clauses [2], [3] or [4] must cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, or substitute a herd of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, and have besides 80 acres substantially fenced.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd of June, 1889.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled and the land may again be thrown open for entry.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT

Should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

INFORMATION

Newly arrived immigrants will receive, at the Immigration Offices in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing lands to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Land Agents in Manitoba or the North-west Territories.

JAMES A. SMART, Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands, to which the Regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Co.

INCORPORATED

Capital $5,000,000. Shares $1.00 Each, Par Value, Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable.

We have just secured the agency for the above splendid proposition, of which we have been allotted a block of Treasury stock. We can confidently recommend this as a safe and, we believe, exceedingly profitable investment. Every dollar of stock is guaranteed by twenty year, full paid, gold bond, delivered to purchaser of stock, from an Investment Company that has no interest whatever in the company, but who are disposing of the debentured bonds to the public, and, under their charter, they are compelled to deposit securities to an equal amount, to the State Treasurer under which they received their charter, there by doubly securing the payment of their gold bonds.

The Company's property, which is now past the project stage, is known to be marvellously rich in gold.

Following is the opinion of G. W. Miller, Mining Engineer, formerly with the Boston and Montana Consolidated Copper and Silver Mining Company, U. S.; Simmer and Jack Mining Co., Limited, Klandsfountain, South Africa:—

"You have here a most valuable property and one of the strongest fissure veins that can be found in any part of the world. "With the present development of the Monument Mine, I estimate that 100 tons per day can be extracted, which will mill from $15.00 to $20.00 per ton. The total cost of mining the ore, delivering and milling, I place at about $6.00 per ton. With five crushed milling capacity, it is safe to say that the mine can furnish 100 tons of $15.00 ore, which would yield a clear profit of $11.00 per ton, or $1,100.00 per day (equal to $400,000.00 per annum). Estimated total value of ore in sight, $2,500,000."

"In regards to the amount of ore available at the mines at Sinclair, I saw on the dumps several thousand tons, probably 5000 tons would be an under-estimate.

"As to the size of the ore body itself, from what I saw of the geological structure, I think that there is every indication that it will be found to extend underground as far as the out-croppings on the south side of the gulch. This would mean an ore body large enough to keep the present mill running for many years to come."

A write up of the proposition will appear in these columns in a few days. Watch for it. In the meantime we will be pleased to furnish full information to investors.

Stocks—The MARKETS OF THE WORLD—Grains

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

The Salido Gold and Copper Company

Incorporated under the laws of Arizona, with a capital of $3,oc ooo forever on-assessable divided into shares of $1 each, par value. All investments insured Granite Securities Company.

The "SALIDO GOLD-COPPER CCMPANY" enterprise offers attractions to the investors of the country, that without thorough investigation, would scarcely seem probable. If only a fraction is realized of what any prudent business man in his own affairs would regard as absolutely certain, the enterprise must prove abundantly successful and exceedingly profitable.

SALE OF STOCK

The company will prosecute the work of development with all the diligence that the cash in the treasury will permit and circumstances warrant, and to this end a small amount of the treasury stock is now placed upon the market, in blocks of not less than One Hundred Shares. The par value of the stock is One Dollar per share, fully paid and forever non-assessable.

The company reserves the right to advance the price of stock without notice.

REMEMBER

First—That all payments for treasury stock go into the treasury for development work and not into the pockets of the promoters.

Second—There are no salaried officers.

Third—The incorporators have put their own good money into this enterprise and being business men, intend to do business along business lines

Fourth—That this company is honest.

Fifth—If you are thinking of investing in mining stocks this is worthy of your careful investigation.

OTHER PROPERTIES

This Company owns four other Gold and Copper Mines, wh ch title is now in process in the laws of Mexico. As soon as title is perfected, we shall commence to develop them as we certainly expect something very great from these properties. Our assays taken have been of the very best, showing gold and copper from $6.00 to $122. 30 per ton.

I have secured a small block of this stock, which I offer at the following prices: Unguaranteed 40 cents per share, guaranteed 80 cents per share. These prices will only prevail for a short time, as the number of shares for sale at this price is limited. The Shares will then be advanced to 40 cents for the unguaranteed and 80 cents for the guaranteed. I can unhesitatingly recommend this investment to the Canadian public.

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Rare Chance to Secure a Paying Investment

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY

has placed a small block of their stock at the disposal of Canadian investors. This stock is sure to rapidly advance in price. The Company is now arranging to instal the power plant and a mill and cyanide plant for the reduction of their ore to a bullion on the property. They have arranged with a Trust Company having assets of $1,500,000 to put up a bond guaranteeing investors the repayment of the full amount invested. This makes investors absolutely safe. By no possibility can they lose a dollar.

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY was organized November 21, 1902. under the laws of the State of Idaho. The capitalization is one million shares of the par value of one dollar each, fully paid and non assessable; of the 1,000,000 shares. 400,000 have been set aside as treasury stock

THE BOISE BASIN came into prominence shortly after Grimes and his party of prospectors entered the Basin country in 1862; their entrance was into the northern portion, and one discovery of rich placer ground followed another until the news of the rich finds reached the outside world, when a veritable stampede for Boise Basin commenced. towns sprang up and grew together in an incredibly short time; the rush of people to Idaho City made it a place of 20,000 people in 1867, having a business street over a mile long lined with two-story buildings streets and sidewalks filled with people day and night, business and money on every hand and the city bearing the proud distinction of being the capital of the territory of Idaho. Wages ran from $6 to $10 a day and not infrequently forty and fifty men worked on a single placer claim; the clean-up for a day's work in many instances ran close to $5,000; large fortunes were made in a few days by washing the golden sands in a pan, so eager was the quest for the shining metal that the streets of Idaho City were dug up and washed and re-washed, and the soil removed from under the houses and places of business. So extensive was the search for the hidden treasure that not only all of the low ground was worked but the foot of the mountains surrounding the city have been washed away, filling up the lower portions of the basin and extending into the town, where one of the buildings has been buried under the tailings from the numerous placer workings.

LOCATION—The property of the Gold Coin Mining Company is situated in the Gambrinus Mining District, Boise County, Idaho, on the range of mountains between Moore Creek and Elk Creek, which forms a part of the eastern boundary of the famous Boise Basin and into which these mountains are drained The property is located ten miles northeast of Idaho City, from which place there are good wagon roads either to the workings on top of the mountain or to the place of the proposed tunnels in the gulch which crosses the Tunnelsite claim.

THE CLAIMS—The Company owns a group of four contiguous lode mining claims and the Gold Coin Millsite: the names of the lode claims are the Tunnelsite, Blue Bell, Pennsylvania and Homestake, each being a full claim 600 feet wide by 1,500 feet long, excepting the Tunnelsite claim. which is 450 feet wide at the west end and 1,055 feet long: it was necessary to stake the claim in this form on account of joining the Washington property on the south and the Sab Rosa property on the west, these properties being prior locations to the Tunnelsite claim. The four lode claims aggregate nearly 80 acres of rich mineral land.

Further particulars may be had on application to WM. SAILSBURY, Fiscal Agent of the Company Peterborough, Ont., or to

PALATIAL VESSELS FOR C.P.R. FLEET

Palatial Steamers With Every Modern Comfort and Convenience

WILL POPULARIZE ROUTE

Vessels are to be Ready in April 1906, and will be Placed on Atlantic Route

Montreal, January 7.—The two new passenger steamers that the C. P.R. will add to their Atlantic fleet in the early spring of 1906, will be the finest vessels of the kind ever built.

They will not be quite so palatial possibly as some of the German steamers, but Mr. Arthur Piers, the company's superintendent of steamship lines, states that in design, equipment, convenience and decoration they will surpass any yet plying from American or Canadian ports.

Mr. Piers added that the two vessels in question will revolutionise the Canadian passenger business on the Atlantic, tending, as they will, to popularize the St. Lawrence route even more largely than heretofore.

"The fact of the matter is," said Mr. Piers, "that we in Canada have never had any passenger vessels on the Atlantic, that could compete with those running into New York. The C.P.R. will now set the pace in this respect. These vessels, which will form the nucleus of a standardized fleet for the company, will be equally serviceable on the Pacific ocean, and additional vessels for that line are sure to follow in the near future."

Some idea of the size of the vessels may be gained from the fact that they will be 550 feet between perpendiculars, with a 65 foot beam. They will be 14,500 tons, which forms a much greater tonnage than either the Tunisian or the Bavarian. Not only will the vessel, then, be much finer than any vessels yet put on the route, but they will be the largest that ever visited St. Lawrence waters.

The directors of the C.P.R. finally passed upon the plans yesterday morning, and the contracts for the two vessels, which will be carried out in their entirety by the Fairfield Shipbuilding Company, of Glasgow, will be signed immediately. The vessels are to be ready in April and May, 1906.

TWENTY KNOT SPEED.

Although the Canadian Pacific Railway has no contract for carrying mails upon the Atlantic, and while the company is carrying out its design altogether irrespective of the granting or withholding of such a contract, it has been stipulated that the vessels in question shall have a speed—twenty knots an hour—that will bring them within the conditions that the Government exacted in this respect when calling for tenders in the past. The vessels will subsequently be able to carry mails between Queenstown and Rimouski in 5 1-2 days, while the distance between Liverpool and Quebec will be readily covered in 6 1-2 days.

While ample accommodation is being provided for cargo, the vessels will be admirably adapted for the purpose for which they are primarily intended, viz., to carry passengers. With this object in view accommodation will be provided for 300 first-class passengers, 350 second-class passengers, and for between 750 and 1,000 steerage passengers, according to the claims that are made at various seasons upon the quarters usually reserved for the immigrants.

The vessel will be constructed of steel, and will be fitted with quadruple expansion engines of the most modern type. As has been the case with the company's vessels on the Pacific, the effort of the management will be directed to having these new vessels run absolutely on advertised time, which Mr. Piers considers to be a requirement demanded much more by modern travellers than boasted average speed at sea.

WON'T RELEASE HIM

Man Who Killed His Brother in Religious Frenzy 26 Years Ago to Die in Prison

Kingston, Jan. 7.—It was thought that when the Minister of Justice was extending clemency to life prisoners in various penitentiaries he would have released John Esterbee, who has served twenty-six years for the murder of his brother. Esterbee was convicted at St. Catharines in 1878 upon circumstantial evidence, but there seemed to be no doubt that he committed the crime. He was then only twenty years of age, and was so excited over religion that he became a fanatic. His case was promised full consideration, and Esterbee thought his release would come a year ago. It is said, however, that Esterbee will spend the remainder of his days in prison, as it would not be safe to allow him his liberty. His mind is still unbalanced in connection with religious matters.

Esterbee is the man who over a year ago, while working in the penitentiary laundry, was struck in the face by a piece of machinery and had his jaw broken, disfiguring him.

THE SLOCUM DISASTER

Fifteen Officers of the Company to Stand Trial for Murder

New York, Jan. 9.—After every means of escape known to the law had been employed by their counsel, President Frank A. Barnaby and the other officers of the Knickerbocker Steam boat Company, will be arraigned in the United States Court to-day to plead to the indictment found against them as a result of the General Slocum disaster last June, whereby more than 1,000 persons lost their lives. The company of which the accused are officers, owned and operated the ill-fated steamboat. When arraigned before Judge Thomas to-day, all will plead not guilty to the indictment. The trial is expected to follow within a few weeks.

Vancouver, B.C., January 9.A deputation of British Columbia salmon canners leaves Vancouver this afternoon for Ottawa to urge the Government to use extreme measure to save the salmon industry from extinction. It will endeavor to induce the Department of Marine and Fisheries to bring about the passage of an order-in-council prohibiting packing of salmon during 1906 and 1908.

STRENGTHEN PORT ARTHUR.

Chefoo, Jan. 7.—The statement of the censored despatches from correspondents with General Nogi's army that the Japanese lost only 50,000 men in taking the fortress is declared to be absurd by Russian naval officers here.

Their lowest estimate, they say, based on personal observation and on stories told by the prisoners, is that the Japanese lost 80,000.

Advices from Japanese sources say that the condition of Port Arthur is chaotic, but that Generals Nogi and Stoessel rapidly are systematizing affairs there, General Nogi is prepared to put a horde of Chinese coolies at work in the fortifying of Port Arthur immediately the Russians are disposed of. Vast quantities of cement and timber are ready on the Yalu River, while steel plates and other manufactured necessaries are ready in Japan for transportation to the fortress. The Japanese are confident that the fortifying of Port Arthur will place the fortress in a better condition than ever, with the Russian defects eliminated long before Russia can besiege it. if such a thing ever occurs.

This Company is the owner of 70,000 acres of very rich, fertile lands in the Province of Pinar del Rio, Cuba. This land is suitable to the growth of the finest quality of tobacco, oranges, lemons, pineapples and other citrous fruits

A small portion of this estate produced last year a large percentage on the total authorized capital of this company.

One acre produced last year $2700 in tobacco. The revenue-producing powers of this estate will not be reduced by sale of lands, as the cultivated portion will be increased by additional plantation.

The lands offered for sale can be made as productive within a short period as those at present cultivated.

The estate is abundantly watered by numerous streams and fresh water springs.

The climate is one perpetual June, no fogs, no mists, no yellow fever.

Flowers bloom the year round.

Game and fish abound.

The temperature is even, so that catarrh is unheard of.

Abundance of water and perpetual grass makes stock raising an assured success.

New York markets are at its command for all its products.

The estate borders upon Gaudiana Bay, with a sea frontage of about twelve miles and a deep water, sheltered harbor.

Cuba has only now become open to modern development, and its progress is sure to be rapid.

This is the opportunity for the man of small means to obtain a home and subsequent wealth, for the man of means to obtain a profitable investment.

This Company is now offering land in blocks of 10 acres or more at $10 00 per acre.

Stock at par or scrip entitling the owner to an option to take land at $10.00, or stock at par, for a limited period

Only 10,000 acres will be offered at $10.00 per acre, of which 2,000 acres are already sold

The second 10,000 acres will be sold at $20.00 per acre or over within a few months.

The balance of the estate to be disposed of 30,000 acres, will be raised to $50 00 per acre or over.

As the price of land is raised the price of stock will also advance.

Purchase now and save money.

Terms—25 per cent cash; 25 per cent. 30 days; 25 per cent. 60 days; 25 per cent. 90 days.

Application to be made to GEORGE F. DAVIS, General Manager, 106 King Street, West. Toronto.

Catarrh Cannot be Cured by Dosing

IT IS A LOCAL DISEASE AND IF CURED MUST BE LOCALLY TREATED.

Seven people out of ten suffer from catarrh. There is no lack of medicines, and if dosing would cure, very few cases of catarrh would be found.

You probably have it yourself. How much benefit have you obtained so far from medicine-taking? A little relief is all that you have derived. You have spent lots of money and yet the catarrh is growing worse all the time.

Has it ever occurred to you how desirable and how successful a treatment would be that you could breathe to where the disease existed. Perhaps you have thought about this form of cure but you have been unable to find a remedy that could be pleasantly and safely used.

Try Catarrhozone, it can be broken up by the air and carried in small drops to every part of the breathing organism. It touches the catarrh with healing, that is why it cures.

This healing, balsamic, vegetable substance is so volatile that the air greedily takes up from the inhaler, so antiseptic that it instantly destroys the microbes which produce disease of the breathing organs, and so soothing that it relieves congestion subdues inflammation, and stops mucous discharge.

Plainly, Catarrhozone is the ideal remedy for diseases of the throat, lungs and nasal passages. If you have catarrh, bronchitis or asthma all are equally curable by Catarrhozone. You have been told why this is so. These diseases are all modifications of an inflammatory condition of the lining membranes of the throat and nasal passages.

Now, bear in mind, you breathe Catarrhozone. Do you not think this is a rational treatment—a certain way of reaching the diseased surfaces which lie so far in the cavity of the body or in the head that they can be reached in no other way.

You cannot possibly fail to obtain quick cure from any of these maladies if you use Catarrhozone.

All dealers in medicine sell Catarrhozone. Trial, 25c, complete outfit, $1.00, which will last two months and is guaranteed to cure permanently. Sent postpaid to any address by N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont. and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

A GREAT SERVICE

Street Railway Company Kept Their Car Going Saturday

The Peterborough Street Railway Company deserve the greatest credit for the splendid service they maintained Friday night and all day Saturday, in the face of one of the worst storms in years.

On Friday afternoon the powerful sweeper of the Company was put to work, and was kept constantly going through the night and all day Saturday. Mr. Lanmouth, the energetic Superintendent, had an extra force of shovellers at work, patrolling the line at intervals from one end to the other.

It was a trying ordeal for the employees, but they kept the cars running almost on schedule time.

THE NEW COUNTY COUNCIL

Members of the New County Council Which Meets Next Week

Lakehurst Division—Messrs Shaw and Menogue.
Bridgenorth Division—Messrs. Garbutt and Stinson
Asphodel Division—Messrs. Andrews and Buck.

The new members are; Messrs. Deyell, Webster, Garbutt, Stinson and Andrews.

MR. LANGFELDT'S CLASSES

Popular Rector of St. Luke's on Staff of Conservatory

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Rector of St. Luke's, will be the German teacher in the Conservatory of Music, and will open classes on Wednesday at 3 p.m. This is a splendid opportunity to obtain instruction in this language under one who has given particular attention to the work. It will be possible to arrange special evening classes. By vocalists especially will this class be appreciated, as in Conservatory examinations it is required that one number from the German masters be given in the original language.

We congratulate the management of the Conservatory on securing so capable a teacher for this subject.

SECOND ANNUAL BANQUET

Of Peterborough Typographical Union No. 345 Took Place on Saturday Evening at Long's Palm Gardens.

The second annual banquet of Peterborough Typographical Union No. 345, took place in Long's Palm Garden, on Saturday evening, and was a grand affair. The Typo's to the number of about 40 and their invited guests assembled at the beautiful gardens at about eight o'clock when the banquet commenced, and all sat down at tables ladened with the delicacies of the season to which all did ample justice. At the head of the festive board sat President W. Dredge, Treas. W. Lewis and Mr. Van Vlaricon, editor of the Review, while opposite sat Mr. F. H. Dobbin, Mgr. Director of the Review, and Vice-President Ald. Begley. After the plentuous repast had been reduced by the typos an dtheir friends, the President made a short address, and an informal toast list was carried out which wab interspered with music and singing by Messrs. J. Brown, R.N. Joliffe and Jas. Legg. Needless to say everybody present had a most enjoyable time. The banquet broke up about 11.15, with the singing of Auld Lang Syne.

—The Town Council will meet this morning at ten and again in the evening.

This is ahead of last year for the same time.

THE TUBE COLLAPSED

William Hamilton Company Meet With an Accident in Orillia

Orillia News-Letter; The Ragged Rapids furnished another object lesson in hydraulics on Saturday evening when Foreman Harvie, of the William Hamilton Company Works, Peterborough, let the water out of the new steel tube. The tube is ten feet in diameter, built of 5-8 inch steel, and is about 150 feet in length. In the construction of the pipe the air valve appears to have been overlooked somewhat and instead of being placed on the summit, was put in the draft tube, and was too low to allow the air in which the water was drawn off. A vacuum was thus formed with the result that the tube was subjected to a pressure of about a ton to the square foot, and as a consequence the top of it, for about 100 feet in length, flattened down about three feet and formed a little gulley in the centre. The pressure on the pipe would be equal to the water pressure from its top to the water level in the tail race at or about 28 feet head. The W. Hamilton Co. are the losers owing to the accident, but the town will suffer from a month's delay in getting the new wheel started.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED,

with local applications, as they cannot reach to seat of disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials, free.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN
WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

So uniformly successful has Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription proven in all forms of Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, and Leucorrhea, that, after over a third of a century's experience in curing the worst cases of these distressing and debilitating ailments, Dr. Pierce now feels fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in cash for any case of these diseases which he cannot cure.

IT STANDS ALONE.—The "Favorite Prescription" stands alone, as the one and only remedy for these distressingly common forms of weakness, possessed of such positively specific curative properties as to warrant its makers in proposing, and binding themselves to forfeit, as we, the undersigned proprietors of that wonderful remedy hereby do, to pay the sum of $500 in legal money of the United States in any case of the above diseases in which after a fair and reasonable trial of our treatment, we fail to cure. No other medicine for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments is backed by such a remarkable guarantee; no other medicine for woman's ills is possessed of the unparalleled curative properties that would warrant its manufacturers in making such an offer; no other remedy has such a record of cures on which to base such a remarkable offer.

Therefore, insist on having Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and turn your back on any unscrupulous dealer who would insult your intelligence by attempting to foist upon you some inferior substitute under the plea that "it is just as good." Insist on having the article which has a record of a third of a century of cures which is backed by those willing to risk $500 if they cannot cure you.

In cases attended by a leucorrheal drain, a solution of Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets should be used conjointly with the use of the "Favorite Prescription." They are sold by all druggists, or sent post-paid to any address, on receipt of 25 cents in stamps. Send 50 cents in stamps for Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Address WORLD'S DISPENSARY, Buffalo, N. Y.

Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

ONTARIO ELECTIONS

Corrupt Practices.

We, the undersigned candidates in the Provincial election, beg to call the attention of the electors to the following provisions of the Election law respecting bribery;

Any person who gives or lend, or agrees, or offers, or promises to give or lend any money, offices, employment or other value to any voter, to induce him to vote or to refrain from voting, is guilty of bribery within the meaning of the Election Act, and is liable under the amended Act to imprisonment for six months, WITHOUT THE OPTION OF A FINE, and the receiver of any money or other consideration is equally as guilty of bribery as the giver.

We have mutually pledged ourselves to do everything in our power to prevent bribery or corrupt practices by any person or persons on our behalf and that no person either giving or receiving a bribe shall be protected by either of us from the utmost penalty of the law.

It will be seen from the above that neither of us can personally or through another, give or lend any money during the election.

THE INAUGURAL MEETING OF THE TOWN COUNCIL

Mayor Best Delivers an Able Inaugural Address, Covering the Entire Municipal Situation

The newly elected Town Council held its inaugural meeting yesterday at eleven o'clock. After the usual oath of office had been administered, the Council went into session, the following members being present; His Worship, Mayor Best in the chair, and Messrs. Frank Adams, Joseph Batten, G. J. Tovey, Joseph Crowe, T. J. Begley, E. F. Mason, Adam Hall, Wm. Scott, W. J. Johnston, R. H. Leary, Robert Hicks and Archibald McIntyre.

The clerk read the result of the vote taken in the municipal election.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS.

Mayor Best, on taking his seat, congratulated the aldermen on their success at the polls. There was so much new blood brought into the Council, he observed, that they ought to be able to do some energetic work during the year. This, however, co-joined on harmony, and if such existed, he had no doubt but that a great deal would be accomplished for the material progress of the town.

Many questions would come before the Council which were impossible to foresee, but His Worship referred to work which would have to be taken up in the immediate future. It would be necessary to appoint either the usual assessors or a commissioner at an early date. Many changes had been made in the assessment act, and an opportunity should be given the officials whom the town might appoint, to study it before beginning the work in July. The Committee on Appointments would have to consider whether it was advisable to have the present system changed; if they did, some person should be recommended for the position.

Another matter which the Council would have to take up was that relating to the agreement between the town and Ashburnham to build an outfall sewer at an estimated cost of $10,000. He understood that plans had been prepared by Mr. Chipman, of Toronto, and he understood a committee had been appointed, but just what condition the matter was in at present, would have to be considered by the Board of Works.

PERMANENT ROAD.

The usual road improvement would be carried out by the Board of Works. Last year the Board had secured about $2,000 worth of stone with which it was intended to improve George street and parts of Water street. Owing to the reconstructive operations of the street railway, however, this had been impossible, and the stone remained as a substantial asset for the Board of Works of 1905.

The Board had also been discussing the laying of a permanent pavement on the central portion of George street. One thing that had delayed the matter was the difficulty presented by poles on the street, it being impossible to make a good road with these standing at the sides. The Mayor said he thought it was possible to have them removed during the present year. He had just learned from Mr. Doan that the Telephone Company intended placing their wires underground this summer. A full report on the matter was promised for an early date. The Street Railway might be asked to put iron poles inside the curb lines on which to carry their trolley wires, thus doing away with the wooden ones now standing. The Light and Power Companies might also be approached to see if it were possible to have them put their wires underground in the district to be affected. If the telegraph companies had any poles within the district, they might act on the suggestion that they run their poles behind the buildings or adopt some other plan.

Ald. Hall pointed out that the only wires which the G.N.W., had on the street were for alarm purposes. Their main lines came in by Brock street to the office.

Mayor Best expressed the opinion that the merchants would approve of such a change. A good pavement of bitholithic or vitrified brick would be laid from curb to curb and the streets could be kept perfectly clean.

The Mayor stated that some five miles of permanent walks had been built last year at about 9.50c per square foot. He thought it possible to get even a better price this year, and a mile a month, or six miles for the season should be laid. One reason why this work should be continued was the cost in connection with the old plank walks. To keep these in repair last year had called for an expenditure of over $1,000, made up as follows —Labor, $776; new material, $60.20; estimated value of lumber used $200. If six miles were laid this summer it would do away with so much repairing and the plank walk would be replaced with pavement that would last for 40 years.

PAYMENT FOR WALKS.

A question that presented itself was how in the town going to pay for walks? A vote had been taken approving of a change to general tax. It was his opinion that it would be impossible to get legislation to confirm this without compensating those who have already paid improvement taxes. The merchants along George street, who have been paying for six years would be all through in four more years, and they would not be pavement roadway on George St. in London one-half was charged to the property and the other to the general taxpayer, and this seemed reasonable. The bitholithic walk there cost, he was informed $2.50 p. square yard.

NEW INDUSTRIES.

Mayor Best pointed out that the attraction to Peterborough of new industries required the Council's very best efforts. During 1903 and 1904 there had been good Manufacturers' Committees, and their chairmen, Mr. Rush and Dr. Morrison, had spared no pains in communicating with people in the United States and Canada, but did not succeed in getting any industries to locate here. Competition was very keen and it was advisable to keep a lookout for industries coming from the United States, or for American capital seeking investment in Canada.

His Worship, in conclusion, expressed the hope that, with the new blood in the Council, and with harmonious operations during the year, satisfactory results would be shown the taxpayers at the end of 1905.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Regular business was here taken up and the minutes of last meeting were confirmed.

A communication was received from Dr. E. F. Torrance, pastor of St. Paul's, inviting the Mayor and Aldermen to attend service in that church on the evening of January 15, when a sermon would be preached by Rev. Dr. Crothers.

On motion the invitation was accepted. The Council will meet at the town buildings at 6.30 and proceed in a body to the church.

A circular letter was received from the mayor of Toronto, accompanying a petition asking Parliament to amend all charters granted telephone Cos. denying them the right to erect poles and conduits on streets without the consent of the municipalities interested.

The Mayor and Clerk will sign the petition.

Mr. T. Q. Quartermaine applied for the positions of auditor.

The Water Commissioners advised that arrangements be made whereby they would receive, out of the $20,000 for improvements, $5,000 on the first of April, $5,000 on the first of July and $5,000 on the first of September.—Referred to Finance Committee.

Mr. Geo. K. Martin applied for the position of auditor.

A statement was read from Mr. Green, the tax collector, showing the amount collected in December as $748.34; interest, $37.39; total $785.82 total amount of taxes on roll, $108,607.54; collected, $99,931.47; back, $8,676.04.—Received.

A letter was received stating that Mrs. Elizabeth Jackson sought to recover from the town the sum of $300, compensation, for expenses incurred by her on account of the grade on Hunter street, having been lowered in front of the Crown Hotel.—Referred to the Board of Works.

AUDITORS APPOINTED.

A by-law was passed appointing Mr. Geo. K. Martin and Mr. T. Q. Quartermaine auditors.

Ald. Adams pointed out that he understood Sheriff Hall would not be able to act as auditor this year, owing to his being busy with the elections.

Ald. Mason stated that Sheriff Hall had told him he would be able to act.

Ald. Hall moved in amendment that Sheriff Hall's name be substituted for Mr. T. Q. Quartermaine's. He thought it advisable that an old and faithful officer be retained.

The amendment was lost by a majority of one.

His Worship the Mayor, Aldermen Hicks, Hall, Johnston, Mason, Batten and Adams were appointed a committee to strike the standing committees.

An adjournment was made until the evening at 8 o'clock.

EVENING SESSION

The Council met at 8.15 pursuant to adjournment, when there were present;—Mayor Henry Best, and Aldermen, Johnston, Begley, Hicks, E. F. Mason, Crowe, Leary, Adam Hall, Tovey, McIntyre, Batten, Scott and Frank Adams.

The minutes of the preceeding meeting were taken as read.

The Canadian Cordage Company, requested permission to erect a pole on Aylmer street, which was granted.

STANDING COMMITTEE.

Ald. Adams submitted the following report of the committee named to strike the Standings Committees;

Gentlemen,—Your Committee appointed to strike the Standing Committees beg leave to report and recommend as follows;—

1. That the Standing Committees for this year be composed as follows;—

BOARD OF WORKS—Ald. Adam chairman, Tovey, Batten, Johnston, Hall and Hicks.

MANUFACTURES (Railways and Franchises) — Ald. Hicks chairman, Begley, Adams, Tovey, Hall and McIntyre.

FINANCE (Licenses and Printing) —Ald. Mason chairman, Batten, Leary, Adams and Crowe.

LEGAL (Legislation and Court of Revision)—Ald. Scott chairman, Johnston, Mason, McIntyre and Begley.

PROPERTY (Building and Market)—Ald. Batten chairman, Hicks Leary, Crowe and Scott.

FIRE, WATER and LIGHT— Ald. Johnston chairman, Hall, Tovey, McIntyre and Crowe.

the Mayor to defray the contingent expenses of his office.

This report was adopted as read.

ASSESSMENT COM.

The question of the method of assessing the town, either as at present or by an Assessment Commissioner as has been suggested, was on motion of Ald. Adams, seconded by Ald Johnston, referred to a committee of the Whole Council for immediate consideration.

BY-LAWS.

The by-law authorising the borrowing of $20,000, for extensions, alterations, and improvements to the water works system, which the ratepayers approved of at the polls on January 2nd, passed its third reading, and is now law.

The by-law to borrow $12,000 for reconstructing, and repairing bridges and purchasing land for opening new streets, approved of at the polls on January 2nd, last, passed its second reading.

HIGH SCHOOL TRUSTEES.

A by-law to appoint High School Trustees and members of the Board of Health, passed its several readings. Robert Fair and V. Eastwood, were re-appointed High School Trustees, and Wm. Eyres and Geo. Schneider, were re-appointed members of the Board of Health.

Ald. Hall moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston,—the reappointment of Messrs. Fair and Eastwood as High School Trustees—Carried.

Ald. Crowe moved the substitution of Dr. Boucher's name for that of V. Eastwood, but secured no seconder. Ald. Crowe said there seemed to have been considerable bungling regarding the Central School's heating apparatus, and dissatisfaction concerning the purchase of supplies, paints, etc., under Mr. Eastwood's chairmanship of the Board's Property Committee, hence a change was desirable.

Ald. Hall moved, seconded by Ald. Scott, the reappointment of Messrs. Eyres and Schneider to the Board of Health.—Carried.

Ald. Johnston moved, seconded by Ald. Leary, the substitution of Jas. Middleton's name for that of Eyres. —Lost.

NEW STREETS.

The Mayor here pointed out that last year the question of purchasing land for the purpose of opening new streets was in the hands of a special committee, which now being defunct, he thought this important question should be left in the hands of the Board of Works.

Ald. Adams moved, seconded by Ald. Batten,—That this matter be left in the hands of Messrs. Hall, Mason and Adams, with authority to instruct the solicitor to give notice of expropriation proceedings against any land needed, if satisfactory arrangements cannot be entered into with the parties concerned.—Carried.

NEW INSTITUTE.

Ald. Adam Hall enquired when the purchase of the Separate School grounds for Collegiate Institute purposes is to be consummated.

His Worship replied that the Town Solicitor is now working on the deeds and the Town is awaiting action by the School Board.

MELDRUM'S SIDING.

Ald. Batten here raised the question of when Mr. Meldrum is to expect permission for a siding to be constructed to his new mill.

Ald. Adams pointed out that the Council had passed a by-law on the lines agreed to by the three engineers concerned, but the C.P.R. now object to it, and their representatives have been invited to meet the Council.

Ald. Adams moved, seconded by Ald. Batten,—That the C.P.R. officials be again requested to lay their views on this question before the Council at their earliest convenience. —Carried.

POST OFFICE FACILITIES.

Ald. Johnston here raised the question of the wretched state of affairs at the post office, and urged that the Government be memorialised to relieve the congestion. There has of late been regular rough and tumble struggles for mail, resulting in disgraceful scenes. He would like to see a free street delivery.

Ald. Tovey concurred in Ald. Johnston's views, and added that he spent 35 minutes in the Post Office on January 2nd, when the conduct of some men was disgraceful; they had no respect at all for the ladies. Perhaps there was some excuse for them, as they wanted their mail, and could not get it conveniently. There is no system whatever in the post office here, the arrangements of which are only fit for the back woods. This matter came up a year or more ago, when certain improvements were promised by the Government, and he could not see why they have not been carried out.

Ald. Begley had also spent some time in the post office on Christmas Eve, when he got into a stampede and congratulated himself on coming out of it with limbs intact. He then saw one man ease the arm of his coat, and a lady hurled violently against a ledge. He understood opposition to street delivery came from the merchants a year or two ago, who objected to an additional cent on town letters. We should, he urged consider the greatest good for the greatest number. If Barrie can have street delivery why can't a prominent town like Peterborough? Even Lindsay have a better system than we. They have an iron bar protecting the wicket, and citizens must fall in line and await their turn.

"Of course the Council can't do much, but I would like to see them bring what pressure they can to bear on the Government to remedy this grievance."

Ald. Hall said the Minister had promised our member, Mr. R. R. Hall, to improve and enlarge the post office as soon as the holiday rush is over.

Ald. Johnston did not think any thing would meet the exigencies of the case but a free postal delivery.

Ald. Hall replied the Government objected to giving free postal delivery to any place smaller than a city.

Ald. Johnston moved, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, that the Mayor and Clerk sign a memorial to the Dominion Government from this Council Hall, M.P., for presentation to the Government.—Carried.

Ald. Adams raised the question of the appointment of a plumbing inspector, which office he thought very necessary.

Ald. Mason replied that this question is before the Legal Committee for the settlement of some legal questions connected therewith. This committee will report shortly.

EXTENSION OF FIRE LIMITS.

On motion of Ald. Johnston, seconded by Ald. Begley, the question of extending the Town's fire limits was referred to the Committee of the Whole.

MONEY FOR SCHOOL BOARD.

Ald. Mason moved, seconded by Ald. Hicks,—That when the Board of Education's demand for the year is made, the Treasurer be authorised to pay the required sum for January. —Carried.

SHELTER FOR CARTERS.

Ald. Johnston raised the question of the need of some sort of shelter for carters on the market square, and urged the Council to take some steps in this direction.

This question was referred to the Property Committee.

THREE COMPLAINTS.

Ald. Tovey asked if the street lights could not be kept burning till seven o'clock in the winter, as the Canadian General employes frequently have to wade through the snow in the dark, the lights being shut off at six a.m.

The Peterborough Light and Power Company, will have their attention drawn to this grievance by the Mayor and Ald. Johnston.

Ald. Tovey also drew attention to the unsatisfactory manner in which the snow plowing is being done, instancing Sunday night, when south end people had to surge through a considerable depth of the beautiful to church. He opined that the contractors should turn out at night when necessary, as well as in the morning. He urged that contractors for snow plowing be forced to live up to their contracts.

The authorities will look into this matter.

Ald. Tovey also strongly expressed his opinion that the police have sufficient leisure to move on loafers at street corners on George street, where they aggregate, spitting tobacco and otherwise making themselves objectionable to passers by, especially ladies.

The Mayor replied that he will draw the attention of the Chief of Police to this matter.

The Council then adjourned.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

MET IN REGULAR MONTHLY SESSION LAST NIGHT

The Board of Education met in regular monthly session last night, when there were present; Chairman J. J. Hartley and Trustees H. Morgan, F. J. Jameson, J. Stevenson, V. Eastwood, W. Pringle, R. Fair, J. Crane, and W. H. Hill.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were confirmed as read.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Jacob Roupe, janitor Fifth Ward School, asked for an increase in salary owing to additional duties—Referred to next year's board.

A telegram was received from Miss Minnie P. Walker, Meaford, accepting position as teacher—Received.

From Rev. E. A. Langfeldt asking if this Board could see their way clear to pay for the medals be purchased and presented to scholars in the Ashburnham school for religious instruction during the last term before the village was incorporated with the town. It was understood that Ashburnham School Board would pay for these medals, but they had failed to do so.

The Board ordered this account to be paid.

PORT ARTHUR IS JAPAN'S GIBRALTAR

Its Capture Marks New Epoch in Human History

NO PROSPECTS OF PEACE

That Possibility Has Already Been Dismissed From the Minds of Thinking People

London, January 9. — Thinking Englishmen whose views are now finding expression, attach importance to the fall of Port Arthur far exceeding that which is indicated by the daily press. As Goethe declared on the night after the battle of Valny, so they say now. "Here and now begins a new epoch in human history." What Gibraltar has been to England, Port Arthur becomes to Japan. By one of the greatest military achievements in the annals of any people, the relations of European powers to each other must directly, and perhaps painfully, be affected. The owners of India and Australia must, in the words of The Spectator, recognize with a mere perfect certainty "that a new and most powerful state has been born in to the world."

The idea that the fall of Port Arthur will make for immediate peace already has been dismissed.

INFLUENCES FOR PEACE.

General Kuropatkin calls for 200,000 fresh troops, and governing Russia looks to him, but the progress of Russian internal affairs is especially grave, the language of Prince Troubetskoi's personal appeal to the Czar increases the belief among Englishmen that the greatest force for making peace probably will arise within Russia herself. Prince Troubetskoi may exaggerate when he says that Russia is passing through a period of anarchy, and revolution, which is only to be averted by the overthrow of autocracy. The educated classes in Russia probably would be powerless without the support of the soldiers, and the great dead-weights of the Russian peasantry, but the events of the past fortnight prove that a potent influence of the present internal ferment can bring to bear upon the Czar personally and upon an important section of his advisers, and these influences are aided by the overwhelming desire for peace by Russia's indispensable ally and banker, France.

What Japan will do with the supremacy in the Far East, which now seems to be within her grasp, is the subject of the profoundest questionings. The notion of a fresh yellow peril arising from any alliance of China and Japan is met by the fact that the Japanese and Chinese differ as greatly as any two European nations. They have bitter racial prejudices and immemorial feuds.

The Times says today: "The real yellow peril, which few people marked, was that of a year ago, when China was in imminent danger of falling under the domination of Russia for purposes of Russian aggression and tyranny. Even if China were to be run by Japan, of which there is no sufficient evidence, China would be directed by a free, enlightened, chivalrous and highly educated people."

THE ANTICIPATED DEFICIT.

There is high authority for the denial that Mr. Balfour contemplates any such design as has been publicly attributed to him of meeting the anticipated budget deficit by import duties all round of 5 per cent. on everything, or 10 per cent. on manufactured goods, as alternately stated. Some Liberal leaders, and journals who hold this belief are urging the party to meet the danger by a resolute refusal to permit anything which postpones a dissolution, and a decision of the fiscal question, by going even to the length of paralysing parliamentary work in the crowding session by obstruction.

The probability rather seems to be that the naval reorganization, with its anticipated saving of $25,000,000, will help the Chancellor of the Exchequer over the budget, with a minor readjustment of the duties, for the last thing which Mr. Balfour seeks, is political fireworks. He merely desires the prolongation of his ministerial life in the hope that an alien question, a colonial conference or some similar idea will enable him to regain power next election.

RE-ARRANGEMENT OF ARMY.

While the navy is being readjusted to present needs amid general approval, the army goes floundering on. It is announced that it will take three years before the artillery can be given the rearrangement which the Boer war proved to be absolutely vital. That is it will be three years before it is on equal footing with the artilleries of the Continent. If nobody hurts Great Britain meanwhile, the War Office will be gloriously vindicated.

The latest reorganization scheme is certainly a step in the right direction, in that it provides eight self contained army districts for the United Kingdom, the general in command in each district being left free to devote himself to purely military work, while it will not be necessary

A COSTLY ERROR

Nearly Hundred Dollars Paid for Express age of Two Trunks

M. A. Strohl, an employe of the Lakefield Cement Works, recently of Victoria Road, Victoria County, ordered two trunks of clothing to be sent from Lazarus, Penn., to Victoria, Victoria County. The trunks were correctly addressed, but were by mistake sent by the American Express Company to Victoria, B.C. Finally Mr. Strohl got track of them in that city, and forwarded $40.63 for their release, which amount was demanded for charges. He ordered the goods sent back by freight. Instead, they came by express, and on reaching here were placed in bond, there being $47.50 to pay. Mr. Strohl has paid $88.27, much more than the value of the goods, and unless he is refunded part of this amount he will sue the express company.

MR. W. T. BUCK AS WARDEN

Member for Asphodel Division Will Probably be Elected.

The County Council willl not meet until the 31st instant, when, it is expected, Mr. F. W. T. Buck, the popular representative of the Asphodel district, will be elected Warden for 1905.

Mr. Buck has been a member of the County Council for over six years, and has a thorough grasp of the affairs of the county. His elevation to the Warden's chair, will be a graceful act on account of the splendid services he has rendered the county during the years in which he sat at the board. Mr. Buck possesses all the qualifications for the position of Warden, and the affairs of the county will be safe in his hands.

From the Asphodel Division comes Mr. James Andrews, who is also a gentleman of wide municipal experience. Mr. Andrews has filled the position of Reeve of Asphodel, and is very popular, not only with the people of his native township, but also throughout the district. It will be Mr. Andrew's first term in the County Council.

RUSSIA AND HER STUDENTS

A New Growth of Tolerance Since Von Plevhe's Death

UNIVERSITY LIFE IN LAND

Of Russia one to Foster Revolution—Young Men and Women Harassed by Police

St. Petersburg, Jan. 10,—Greater tolerance toward the government now marks the attitude of the student class in Russia. Under Von Plevhe, and former minister of the interior, it was a strong instrument of revolution, spreading anarchistic doctrines broad-cast amongst the people and causing the authorities deep concern as to the ultimate result. Since Sviatopolk-Mirsky assumed the office of the minister of the interior public demonstrations by the students have been less frequent and some that have occurred were inspired by a desire to pay tribute to the reform tendencies of his excellency.

Are the students a dangerous class to Russia? asks every foreigner when in conversation with men who understand social conditions in the empire. Before the reign of Emperor Nicholas II. government officials would have made an affirmative answer to this question, and they would have supported their conclusions by pointing out that most of the conspirators in the great crimes which have been committed were graduates of or had attended the superior schools.

Emperor Nicholas is not of the opinion of his predecessors. He thoroughly understands that education sounds the death knell of archaic institutions, that it breeds comparison and criticism and that it must inevitably agitate for liberalism. The difference between the emperor and the students may be stated thus; the students want extensive reforms before the people are ready for them; the emperor wants reforms, too, but only when the people are educated to understand and observe them.

The young woman who is idly looking over the stone parapet at the Ivy News is the daughter of an impoverished nobleman, and her future will be that of a physician or nurse. Few of the students have sufficient means. The government has provided various charities, under the form of subsidies, to aid the indigent, but the young men and women are often too proud to ask aid. In consequence, they do not get good wholesome food, they are frequently crowded in unsanitary quarters and they do not have proper underclothing. The government requires that each person shall possess three different styles of uniform.

Such conditions are calculated to produce revolutionary tendencies. These are fostered also by the absence of any restraining influences. Most of the students are alone in the cities, their families living in small towns or in the country hundreds of miles away. When they return home, they discover that they occupy a mental plane far above that on which their fathers and mothers stand. They have nothing to hold them to the earth.

Conditions, therefore, favor the development of the students into revolutionary agents. After leaving the universities many experience difficulty in obtaining employment. The young women especially are handicapped in this respect, though the government is taking care of them as much as possible. Moreover, they rarely find an atmosphere congenial to their higher views and aspirations. Their thoughts, their energy must obtain expression. Only one outlet exists—revolution. Then there are many young men who fail to get government berths, perhaps because there is no vacancy, perhaps because the government puts no faith in their

TAMPERING WITH THE WAR NEWS

How Russia Worked up the North Sea Case

CZAR'S CROOKED METHODS

Disgraceful Acts of a Once Great Nation—The End not Yet

London, January 9.—In view of the action of the Russian agents in attempting to secure by bribery evidence in support of their case to be presented before the North Sea Commission now sitting in Paris, it may be as well to point out that this is only one feature of a remarkable campaign. Russia's case is that torpedo boats were actually present on the eventful night. To this end evidence is being and has been sought for in all the chief North Sea ports, and, further, there is an attempt to disseminate telegrams maintaining that this is the case. These are some of the Russian methods:

A notorious adventurer who lives in Paris and gives himself out as a Russian secret agent—he has been condemned to a term of imprisonment by the Russian Consular Court at Constantinople—sent to General Besac (General in command of the headquarters staff and a high official at the Russian Court) and also to the Novoe Vreyma a purely fictitious communication stating that four Japanese torpedo boats had attacked the Russians. It was alleged that they used England as their base. A further accusation was that Viscount Hayashi had been told to communicate a message from the Japanese government relating to the murder by the Japanese of the French and German attaches near Port Arthur.

The Novoe Vreyma did not publish the message, but gave it to the correspondent of the Echo de Paris, by whom it was telegraphed to Paris, and apparently also to one or two London papers. By Reuter's Agency it was sent back to St. Petersburg, practically in the original form, which gave details as to the origin of the information—viz., that it came from a secret agent addressed to Gen. Besac.

The "Agence Telegraphique Russe" then comes on the scene. This is an agency managed by M. Sabaninin—the responsible director—who is a conseiller d'etat, and whose name appears in the foreign office list as "premier fonctionaire attache a la Chancellerie du Ministre des affaires etrangeres." The acting manager is M. Tirtow, who is connected with the Novoe Vreyma office. One of the directors is M. Suworin, editor and proprietor of the Novoe Vreyma. It is thus semi-official agency. Besides this, all the telegrams are subject to the personal revision of M. Hartwig, the Director of the "First Department of the Foreign Office.

The Agence Telegraphique Russe received the Reuter's telegram on the 13th; on the 16th it was published in the following form:

"Copenhagen, 30 Nov., (13 Dec.,) Reuter.—News has also been received here with reference to the incident in the North Sea, according to which four torpedo boats, etc., etc."

With it was given another telegram:

"Copenhagen, 30 Nov., (13 Dec.,) Reuter.—News has also been received here with reference to the incident in the North Sea, according to which four torpedo boats, etc., etc."

From this it will be seen that the Telegraph Agency under the direction of high officials in the Russian Foreign Office kept the telegram back for two days and then published it—as coming from Copenhagen—without reference to the authority on which it was based, and which must have been perfectly well known to them.

On a previous occasion the same agency under the same influence published a telegram purporting to come from Reuter, giving a translation of Lord Lansdowne's Mansion House speech, in which he was made to say that the Commission would fix the punishment (not the "blame") of the officers concerned. This mistranslation led to an outburst of feeling in the press generally — for which object no doubt it was made.

Now the Agence Russe are Reuter's St. Petersburg agents, and (writes a correspondent) it is due to the British public that they should know the way in which news is distorted for Russian diplomatic purposes.

Private correspondents, too, are not without blame. The correspondent of the Novoe Vreyma in London, M. Weseletsky (who has been feted in the Mansion House as a representative of the Russian press) telegraphed under date Dec. 1. (14.) London, and the message was published in the Novoe Vreyma Dec. 2. (15.)

"From Copenhagen again comes a rumor confirmatory of the rumor whic his current here as to four Japanese torpedo boats, of which two attacked our squadron in Danish waters and two in English waters."

Again, no mention was made of the telegram in the London papers, or of the authority on which it was based.

The way of altering messages is a common one in Russia, and the precedure has been followed on several previous occasions. But possibly this is the first time in which the designers of these tactics—our correspondent terms them "abominable"—have been run to ground.

It is worth mentioning that the German papers published in St. Petersburg, such as the St. Petersburg Zeitung, have behaved remarkably well in regard to news of this kind.

'Now I Know the Joy of Health."

I am Brimming Over with Vitality —Appetite is Good—I Sleep Well—I Feel Happy.

FERROZONE

Made Me Feel Like New

One of the earliest settlers in the town of Turnbull, Man., is Mr. John W. McNichol. Everybody knows him; knows how poor his health was for years.

Thanks to Ferrozone, Mr. McNichol is a hearty, strong man today. Here is his statement:

"Last spring I was terribly run down.

"I was so completely fagged out I couldn't do any hard work.

"In the morning I was tired—my limbs ached all over.

"Appetite?—I simply didn't have any.

"Sleepless?—Yes, nervous and unhappy too.

"I braced up at once after taking Ferrozone. It put new life and vitality into my body. My nerves are strong. I eat heartily, I sleep well. Now I know the joy of health.

JOHN W. McNICHOL."

Won't you take Ferrozone too? It's really a marvellous tonic, some people say there is almost witchery in the way it builds you up. It's concentrated nourishment — that's what Ferrozone is—just one chocolate coated tablet to take three times a day. No other medicine in the world restores so quickly. Price 50c. per box, or six for $2.50, at all dealers, or by mail, from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

DOWNEYVILLE PUBLIC SCHOOL

The Toronto News says: Another Public School has been converted into a Separate School. This time it is at Downeyville, in the County of Victoria. It is in the diocese of Peterborough. It appears that the Public School, a building worth a thousand dollars, upon land valued at one hundred dollars, was sold to the Separate School Board for a nominal sum. A number of the supporters of the Public School were Roman Catholics, and it is alleged that they were compelled by ecclesiastical authorities to submit to the change in the character of the school against their will. A suit has been entered to annul the sale on the ground that the Public School Board had no right to sell the property without the consent of the ratepayers. The effect of the transfer is to remove the school from the status of a Public School and place it under the direction of the priest.

than government work," said a student. "Russia is a nation of agriculturists. M. de Witte commenced to develop us industriallly, but only two per cent. of the nation is thus engaged. University graduates cannot go back to the fields. Their education makes them ashamed to labor with the peasants in the cities. There is little for them in industry. Privation is the first consequence, discontent with the conditions that produce it is the second and from that stage to attack upon the government is hardly a perceptible advance.

"Finally any investigator of our internal situation should take into account the nature of the Slav and the character of the government. The student studies the form of government existing abroad. He learns of the prosperity and development of the people under those governments. He looks at Russia and finds that the people are far behind the foremost; that they have no voice in their general administration and that they are miserable. He concludes that something should be done to bring about a new order of things. Then, it is further to be considered, he has no balance to his own impressionable character. His views he must hold secretly, for if they are found out he will be arrested and punished."

I asked a student to describe the attitude of his fellows with respect to the war.

"For some reasons," he answered, "we would like to see Russia defeated. Already the reverses suffered have led to reforms, and we believe that, should Japan be victorious, a reorganization of the government would take place. Because we are Russians we want to see the army of the empire triumphant, and we would like to help our wounded. We understand better than the peasants, for we are educated, the importance to Russia of an outlet, open all the year on the Pacific. We appreciate also the loss of prestige our country would suffer should it be defeated. To some extent we are on the horns of a dilemma, but I think the majority of the students are against the war, and hope for Japanese victory. The new Russia could prove to the world the fighting power of the Slav."

The policy of Sviatopolk-Mirsky has tended to show the students that Russia need not await defeat in order to achieve reform; that even if she be victorious steps will be taken for the development of the people to self-government.

One of the orders the minister issued, which the students rightly regard as epochal, is that which permits them to form corporations; that is, clubs, where they may meet, provided they first inform the police. They are authorized to discuss liberal institutions, if such discussion does not become revolutionary, or reflect upon the imperial family.

"It is not a remarkable concession," said a student who attends a university at Odessa. "We do not know quite what to make of it. One thing is certain; it shows that Sviatopolk-Mirsky has the right idea, and the students will respond to his policy as sympathetically as they can."

Sviatopolk-Mirsky's view of the students is as follows: "The government is obliged to defend itself against terrorists, but I am inclined personally not to show excessive severity toward the young, whose offences are generally followed by repentance. They must be shown the road to welfare and the uselessness of tumultuous demonstrations. I am a friend of the students, who, it should be noted, become more contented as they grow older and make excellent officials."

POLICE CHECK.

It has been the effort of the police to check the liberal tendencies of the students. Every channel to the entrance of the revolutionary literature has been closed. Bribery and deception are the keys used to open the doors in the barriers. Thousands of seditious pamphlets are received from Germany, France, Switzerland and England. Stringent regulations are imposed with respect to printing. Every typewriter must obtain a license in order to do business. No mimeograph or other duplication machine may be sold without police permission. If such machine is found, and permission for its use has not been given, the owner is punished.

In spite of the law and its penalties and surveillance of the police, some of my student friends have a printing outfit in their quarters and print pamphlets and proclamations. When the police become too active they memorize circulars and revolutionary poetry, which they repeat to their friends. Every conceivable way is employed to spread the revolutionary odetrines.

The police frequently swoop down upon them. Formerly, students found guilty of conspiring against the government were distributed about Russia, but the authorities found that they took advantage of their contact with the people to sow socialistic ideas. Now they are transported to certain points where they are closely watched. The emperor has some sympathy with these exiles. Occasionally he grants them pardon. At the beginning of the war he offered liberty, with restoration to full

Like most young folks, the students are continually searching for new ways to embarrass the authorities. The most satisfactory to them is "the demonstration." Half a dozen leaders of a class will meet and determine, as the preparatory step to an affair of this kind, to call a schodka, an assembly of all the young men and women of their course and year. The purpose stated in the petition to the head of the university is necessarily a harmless one.

The meeting takes place in the hall of the university. Excited discussion occurs (usually girl students of the emancipated type precipitate it), and then the destructive instinct in boys manifests itself. Chairs, desks and windows are broken, after which the crowd surges into the streets and marches up and down breaking windows and singing revolutionary songs. The most popular air the students chant is a seditious version of a folk song — the Dubinuschka (Stick). Here is a rough translation, the government being the "wicked power" referred to:

There was a new forest—the people,
A Wicked Power cut down the Trees;
Wait till they grow stronger,
Then how that power will flee.

We will lift up the stick.
We will lift up the stick.
Look out! Look out! Look out!

It seems to me that Russia should introduce football and baseball in the schools and universities. There is nothing of the kind played, no game other than bowling, billiards or the like. The disposition of these youthful "politicians" seems to consider first of all their dignity and then their "mission." If they had a good, healthy, strenuous sport, they would forget politics, and be what they really are—energetic boys and girls, patriotic but willing to leave political affairs in the hands of their fathers until they are old enough to take them up for themselves.

A WIDOW'S PATHETIC LETTER.

One of Hundreds of Letters Received at Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives—Pleads for the Life of an Only Son.

COOKSHIRE, QUE., June 3rd, 1904.

DEAR SIR,—I hope you will pardon my writing to you. I am Charles Brown's poor mother, that is heart-broken about my one and only son, and longing for your kind letter to arrive to say you can find a place for him soon in the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives. He is the only son I have and I am depending on him for support, and he has a wife and one baby depending on him also for their support. . . . He is the Charles Brown that Judge Britton's daughter spoke to you about. . . . Dear Sir, for God's sake hasten the time for him to get there, as the longer it runs on him the harder it will be for him to get well and back to his former health and strength again. . . .

MARG'T BROWN.

COOKSHIRE, QUE., June 6th, 1904.

DEAR SIR,—I received your kind and most welcome letter to-day. Very glad I was to hear the good news that my dear son can go to the Hospital any time this week. Thank God for the good news. He will leave Montreal on Monday, the 13th, or Tuesday, 14th, at the latest. . . . It has given him new life to hear the glad news that you have sent to me, his mother.

MARG'T BROWN.

It is to meet just such cases as this that the Free Hospital for Consumptives has been built. Less than three years opened, nearly 400 patients have been cared for, and not a single patient has ever been refused admission because of his or her poverty.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, excepting 8 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres more or less.

ENTRY

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situate, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES

A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act, and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

1] At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

2] If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) or any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

[3] If a settler was entitled to and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

[4] If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same town, township, or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of clauses [2] [3] or [4] must cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, or substitute a herd of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, and have besides 80 acres substantially fenced.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd of June, 1889.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled and the land may again be thrown open for entry.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT

Should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

INFORMATION

Newly arrived immigrants will receive, at the Immigration Office in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing lands to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Land Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

JAMES A. SMART,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands, to which the Regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Co.
—INCORPORATED—

Capital $5,000,000. Shares $1.00 Each, Par Value, Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable.

We have just secured the agency for the above splendid proposition, of which we have been allotted a block of Treasury stock. We can confidently recommend this as a safe and, we believe, exceedingly profitable investment. Every dollar of stock is guaranteed by twenty year, full paid, gold bond, delivered to purchaser of stock, from an investment Company that has no interest whatever in the company, but who are disposing of the debentured bonds to the public, and, under their charter, they are compelled to deposit securities to an equal amount, to the State Treasurer under which they received their charter, there by doubly securing the payment of their gold bonds.

The Company's property, which is now past the project stage, is known to be marvellously rich in gold.

Following is the opinion of G. W. Miller, Mining Engineer, formerly with the Boston and Montana Consolidated Copper and Silver Mining Company, U. S.; Simmer and Jack Mining Co., Limited, Elandsfountain, South Africa:—

"You have here a most valuable property and one of the strongest fissure veins that can be found in any part of the world.

"With the present development of the Monument Mine, I estimate that 100 tons per day can be extracted, which will mill from $18.00 to $20.00 per ton. The total cost of mining the ore, delivering and milling, I place at about $4.00 per ton. With increased milling capacity, it is safe to say that the mine can furnish 100 tons of $15.00 ore, which would yield a clear profit of $11.00 per ton, or $1,100.00 per day (equal to $400,000.00 per annum). Estimated total value of ore in sight, $2,500,000."

"In regards to the amount of ore available at the mines at Sinclair, I saw on the dumps several thousand tons, probably 5000 tons would be an under-estimate.

"As to the size of the ore body itself, from what I saw of the geological structure, I think that there is every indication that it will be found to extend underground as far as the out-croppings on the south side of the gulch. This would mean an ore body large enough to keep the present mill running for many years to come.

A write up of the proposition will appear in these columns in a few days. Watch for it. In the meantime we will be pleased to furnish full information to investors.

Stocks—The MARKETS OF THE WORLD—Grains

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

The Salido Gold and Copper Company

Incorporated under the laws of Arizona, with a capital of $3,oc ooo forever on-assessable divided into shares of $1 each, par value. All investments insured Granite Securities Company.

The "SALIDO GOLD COPPER COMPANY" enterprise offers attractions to the investors of the country, that without thorough investigation, would scarcely seem probable. If only a fraction is realized of what any prudent business man in his own affairs would regard as absolutely certain, the enterprise must prove abundantly successful and exceedingly profitable.

SALE OF STOCK

The company will prosecute the work of development with all the diligence that the cash in the treasury will permit and circumstances warrant, and to this end a small amount of the treasury stock is now placed upon the market, in blocks of not less than One Hundred Shares. The par value of the stock is One Dollar per share, fully paid and forever non-assessable.

The company reserves the right to advance the price of stock without notice.

REMEMBER

First—That all payments for treasury stock go into the treasury for development work and not into the pockets of the promoters.

Second—There are no salaried officers.

Third—The incorporators have put their own good money into this enterprise and being business men, intend to do business along business lines

Fourth—That this company is honest.

Fifth—If you are thinking of investing in mining stocks this is worthy of your careful investigation.

OTHER PROPERTIES

This Company owns four other Gold and Copper Mines, which title is now in process in the laws of Mexico. As soon as title is perfected, we shall commence to develop them as we certainly expect something very great from these properties. Our assays taken have been of the very best, showing gold and copper from $6.00 to $122. 30 per ton.

I have secured a small block of this stock, which I offer at the following prices: Unguaranteed 40 cents per share, guaranteed 80 cents per share. These prices will only prevail for a short time, as the number of shares for sale at this price is limited. The Shares will then be advanced to 40 cents for the unguaranteed and 80 cents for the guaranteed. I can unhesitatingly recommend this investment to the Canadian public.

Rare Chance to Secure a Paying Investment

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY

has placed a small block of their stock at the disposal of Canadian investors. This stock is sure to rapidly advance in price. The Company is now arranging to instal the power plant and a mill and cyanide plant for the reduction of their ore to a bullion on the property. They have arranged with a Trust Company having assets of $1,500,000 to put up a bond guaranteeing investors the repayment of the full amount invested. This makes investors absolutely safe. By no possibility can they lose a dollar.

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY was organized November 21, 1902. under the laws of the State of Idaho. The capitalization is one million shares of the par value of one dollar each, fully paid and non assessable; of the 1,000,000 shares. 400,000 have been set aside as treasury stock

THE BOISE BASIN came into prominence shortly after Grimes and his party of prospectors entered the Basin country in 1862; their entrance was into the northern portion, and one discovery of rich placer ground followed another until the news of the rich finds reached the outside world, when a veritable stampede for Boise Basin commenced. towns sprang up and grew together in an incredibly short time; the rush of people to Idaho City made it a place of 20,000 people in 1867, having a business street over a mile long lined with two-story buildings streets and sidewalks filled with people day and night, business and money on every hand and the city bearing the proud distinction of being the capital of the territory of Idaho. Wages ran from $6 to $10 a day and not infrequently forty and fifty men worked on a single placer claim; the clean-up for a day's work in many instances ran close to $5,000; large fortunes were made in a few days by washing the golden sands in a pan, so eager was the quest for the shining metal that the streets of Idaho City were dug up and washed and re-washed, and the soil removed from under the houses and places of business So extensive was the search for the hidden treasure that not only all of the low ground was worked but the foot of the mountains surrounding the city have been washed away, filling up the lower portions of the basin and extending into the town, where one of the buildings has been buried under the tailings from the numerous placer workings.

LOCATION—The property of the Gold Coin Mining Company is situated in the Gambrinus Mining District, Boise County, Idaho, on the range of mountains between Moore Creek and Elk Creek, which forms a part of the eastern boundary of the famous Boise Basin and into which these mountains are drained The property is located ten miles northeast of Idaho City, from which place there are good wagon roads either to the workings on top of the mountain or to the place of the proposed tunnels in the gulch which crosses the Tunnelsite claim.

THE CLAIMS—The Company owns a group of four contiguous lode mining claims and the Gold Coin Millsite: the names of the lode claims are the Tunnelsite, Blue Bell, Pennsylvania and Homestake, each being a full claim 600 feet wide by 1,500 feet long, excepting the Tunnelsite claim, which is 450 feet wide at the west end and 1,055 feet long. it was necessary to stake the claim in this form on account of joining the Washington property on the south and the Sub Rosa property on the west, these properties being prior locations to the Tunnelsite claim. The four lode claims aggregate nearly 80 acres of rich mineral land.

HOW RUSSIANS AVOID SERVICE

Fugitives Bribe Guards on Frontier

THE SUFFERING PEASANTS

Many Possess Considerable Means When They Leave Russia but are Stripped of it all Before They Reach Liberty

London, January 9.—The Russian deserter dreads the lash even worse than death. At the bare mention of it his face pales and his form trembles. And this though escape from Russia demands resource and courage, and the escaped reservists as I saw them drawn up at the Jews' Temporary Shelter in Leman street were as orderly and soldier-like a set of men as one could wish to see.

They were not all Jews, though the greater number of them were. Religious creed is a minor consideration in the dispensation of this charity.

Around a table in an upstairs room were seated prominent members of the committee of management, men whose names are indissolubly associated with philanthropic enterprises in that hapless, over-populated, poverty-stricken East End.

Each immigrant is required to furnish full details concerning himself and his family, the number of roubles at his disposal, his qualifications for employment, and the ultimate destination for which he is bound. One by one the fugitives enter to undergo the ordeal; then they retire while their cases are "considered" and the extent to which they shall be assisted is decided.

More than one bears marks of bullets which went whizzing sharply after the flying conscripts. The methods adopted are often marvellous in their ingenuity. One man confessed to me that, with mincing gait, he had crossed the border in woman's clothes; another explained how he had lain buried under a pile of vegetable produce until the agonies of aching limbs and hope deferred made him well-nigh leap out to certain arrest and death.

The rapacity of the swindling Russian agents is unbounded. Often and often a life's savings—scraped together out of an all too scanty income—was demanded as the price of freedom. Many of the runaways who stood erect before the committee had but a few stray roubles left out of scores, and at times hundreds of them.

The committee offers to take charge of such money as is left. The members of the committee give receipt, and then the cash is deposited in a huge iron safe until the time comes when the fugitive must move on once more. Yet such is the treatment to which they have grown accustomed—robbery, falsehood, extortion—that many refused to part even temporarily with their little hoards.

They learnt a smart lesson, though, on Sunday night. A gang of ruffians attacked a small group of them, maltreated them, and stole all their roubles and the jewellery they were wearing.

Nearly all of them carry some money. There were four typical cases on Monday which passed under review in rapid succession. The first man dived into his breeches pocket and drew out a soiled handkerchief, in which had been wrapped twenty roubles—all that was left of 130. Two straight-up, long-bearded artillerymen, who had sold their plots of land, produced between them eighteen roubles and a few marks; it had cost them ten times as much to come to London. A conscript—a mere boy—who had already changed his foreign money into what was supposed to be its English equivalent, with not a little pride handed over a half-sovereign and three florins.

Why do these fellows—fine fighting material—refuse to go to the war for the country which gave them birth? I asked several, whom I selected indiscriminately. Here is one typical reply:

"If I went to Manchuria, my wife and children would be left to starve, and if I were shot, the Government would do nothing for my bereaved family. The breadwinner gone, they would rot and die."

The Jews have a still further and greater grievance. They are prohibited from rising from the ranks, and so one of them told me they are continually liable to be hounded out of the villages in which they have lived since childhood.

They are all men with trades in their hands. Boat-builders, blacksmiths, carpenters, market gardeners, goldsmiths, farmers, they profess their readiness to ply their respective crafts in some as yet undeveloped country. They do not want to remain in London.

"Not two per cent. of them who are here now will be here five weeks hence," said Mr. Gordon.

I asked one man—a German—whose well-rounded cheeks and stalwart frame spoke eloquently of country life, if he would care to remain in this city of fogs, and slums and poverty.

"Nein, nein," he said, shaking his head vigorously the while.

Few were accompanied by women and children. Only three women and five children have passed before the committee. There was a woman present on Monday. She seemed a typical emigrant, and looked healthy enough to bear the trials and discomforts of a journey around the world. She was accompanied by three male relatives, and between them they had 100 roubles.

Most of the women who have left Russia have prepaid tickets to America, and some have friends whom they visit on their way out.

"This season is a record for prepaid passages," said Mr. Kendall, a shipping agent, who is in constant touch with the flood of alien immigration into London. 'People in America have paid the passages of their relatives in Russia, and so a huge proportion of the foreign folks who are pouring into the city have with them the tickets that will carry them further afield.

"Five ships sail this week, from London, Southampton and Liverpool. Each of these boats carries an average of 900 steerage passengers, and they are full.

"As the influx of the reservists only ranges from 100 to 180 a day, it is evident that these are not the people who are crowding into an already over-crowded centre."

The extent to which the committee is helping the refugees is as astounding as it is creditable. They are met on their arrival, and carefully guarded from the wiles of the bloodthirsty crimp. Simple, but substantial meals are provided for them.

If they have relatives here they are directed to them; if no friendly face smiles kindly greeting they are taken to registered lodging-houses and are so closely watched and tended as though each one were the accredited representative of his imperial master.

Then, when the day for sailing comes, the balance of the fare, above the man's savings, is paid, and in some cases a little money is given to tide over the first few weeks' life in a strange country."

This Company is the owner of 70,000 acres of very rich, fertile lands in the Province of Pinar del Rio, Cuba This land is suitable to the growth of the finest quality of tobacco, oranges, lemons, pineapples and other citrous fruits

A small portion of this estate produced last year a large percentage on the total authorized capital of this company.

One acre produced last year $2700 in tobacco. The revenue-producing powers of this estate will not be reduced by sale of lands, as the cultivated portion will be increased by additional plantation.

The lands offered for sale can be made as productive within a short period as those at present cultivated.

The estate is abundantly watered by numerous streams and fresh water springs.

The climate is one perpetual June, no fogs, no mists, no yellow fever.

Flowers bloom the year round.

Game and fish abound.

The temperature is even, so that catarrh is unheard of.

Abundance of water and perpetual grass makes stock raising an assured success.

New York markets are at its command for all its products.

The estate borders upon Gaudiana Bay, with a sea frontage of about twelve miles and a deep water, shelter ed harbor.

Cuba has only now become open to modern development, and its progress is sure to be rapid.

This is the opportunity for the man of small means to obtain a home and subsequent wealth, for the man of means to obtain a profitable investment.

This Company is now offering land in blocks of 10 acres or more at $10 00 per acre.

Stock at par or scrip entitling the owner to an option to take land at $10.00, or stock at par, for a limited period

Only 10,000 acres will be offered at $10.00 per acre, of which 2,000 acres are already sold

The second 10,000 acres will be sold at $22.00 per acre or over within a few months.

The balance of the estate to be disposed of 30,000 acres, will be raised to $50 00 per acre or over.

As the price of land is raised the price of stock will also advance.

Purchase now and save money.

Terms—25 per cent cash; 25 per cent. 30 days; 25 per cent. 60 days; 25 per cent. 90 days.

The Catarrhozone Dry Air Treatment

THE ONLY RATIONAL, SURE CURE FOR CATARRH AND DISEASES OF THE NOSE, THROAT AND LUNGS.

The only natural cure for catarrh is the dry air treatment which effects startling cures without resorting to drugs, dangerous snuff and cocaine mixtures.

Catarrhozone kills the catarrh germs, soothes and heals the sore mucous membrane, clears the air passages of the nose and throat, cures chronic catarrh that has resisted all other treatments.

The reason why Catarrhozone cures is because it really gets at the cause of the disease. No matter how remote or long standing your catarrh may be you can place perfect faith in Ferrozone. It is Nature's Cure composed of the most healing balsamic antiseptics known to medical science. Read the following:

MR. L. MURPHY, well known in West Medford, Mass., writes: "Catarrhozone cured my catarrh, after a score of doctors failed. I used to hawk and spit, my nose was continually stuffed up, and often I was sick at my stomach. Catarrhozone has removed every trace of catarrh from my system."

MISS EMMA PETERS, Highland Grove, N.S., writes: "I am more than pleased with the results from Catarrhozone. It cured me of the worst kind of nose and throat catarrh. Other friends using Catarrhozone are greatly pleased with it and agree that it is the only sure remedy for catarrh they ever used."

Mr. LAWRENCE KENNEDY, of West New Annan, says: "For three years I suffered from catarrh and throat trouble. I tried many remedies but they were of no avail. I got no relief till I tried Catarrhozone. Too much cannot be said of so valuable a medicine. I shall always recommend Catarrhozone to anyone troubled with catarrh; it is a positive cure."

MR. W. W. BEACH, of Chapman, Ont., who suffered for years from hysematic catarrh says: "Catarrhozone is the best remedy I have ever used for catarrh and I have used a lot of them. Catarrhozone was exactly suited to my case."

No intelligent person can doubt the merit of Catarrhozone which receives more praise from Medical Journals, doctors and the public than any other remedy; it is certain to cure every type of catarrh, lung and throat trouble. Two months' treatment, $1.00; sample size 25c. At druggists or by mail from N. C Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S., and Kingston, Ont. Refuse a substitute for Catarrhozone.

THE DOWNEYVILLE SCHOOL

PUBLIC SCHOOL INSPECTOR KNIGHT REPORTS EXTRAORDINARY PROCEEDINGS

The Matter Now Before the Deputy at at Toronto Law Proceedings Begun

Mr. J. H. Knight, Public School Inspector, has sent to the Minister of Education the following statement regarding some extraordinary proceedings on Wednesday last at Downeyville:

"I beg to report that I attended the annual meeting at Downeyville, School Section No. 4, Emily, on Wednesday, December 28. The adoption of the trustees' report was moved just after my arrival. After this the priest, Rev. Father Brethertun, said this was a separate school meeting, and only supporters of the separate school could vote. Then an auditor and trustee were elected. In answer to questions by ratepayers, the priest said the separate school owned the property. The trustees of the public school never had a deed of the land, but the trustees of the separate school had got a deed. Also that no notice of meeting of supporters of the public school had been given because the public school had ceased to exist. The notice calling a meeting of supporters of the separate school was then read. This was received with surprise by many present.

"When it was proposed to hold a meeting after adjournment for the election of public school trustees, the priest said they had no right to do so. When my opinion was asked I said that such a meeting would be legal, as, though notice had not been given, the ratepayers had come for that purpose. The meeting was then held, and trustees for one, two and three years respectively were elected, the three trustees having retired from the public school board.

"As one of the trustees appointed was not present, I advised the other two to call a meeting forthwith, appoint a Secretary, and instruct him to demand the books from the late Secretary, of whom three appeared to set with the priest and the rest against him. I understand that two or more meetings of ratepayers were held, of which I received no minutes."

Already law proceedings have been begun by the public school supporters, a writ having been issued on their behalf.

Married in Utah

A late issue of the Salt Lake City Herald, contained the following: —"Miss Jean Maltby, a popular young Provo woman, became the bride of John W. Reid, also of that city, yesterday. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Reid left for Salt Lake and are now in this city the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Campbell. The groom is manager of the hardware firm of Brubaker and Campbell, of Salt Lake City. After January 1905, Mr. and Mrs. Reid will be at home in Provo." Mr. Reid, is a son of Mr. Alex. Reid, the well-known baggageman of town.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Guild of St. Paul's church will be held this evening. Mr. R. M. Dennistoun will speak on Victor Hugo's great novel, "Jean Valjeans."

ANNIVERSARY CONCERT.

Commemorating the Foundation of St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society. Held in the Opera House Last Night.

The anniversary concert commemorating the foundation of St. Peter's Total Abstenence Society, was held in the Opera House last night, and was a decided success, the hall being packed to the doors, despite the blustery weather, and needless to say all were well repaid for their presence by the excellent program furnished.

The Total Abstinence Society since its foundation, January 8th, 1900, has always appealed to the people of Peterborough by the foremost steps it has taken in regards to temperance and the officers and members of the society are to be commended on the good work accomplished by their untiring efforts to loose many from the fangs and guard others against the evil habit of strong drink. Many turned out last night, not only to hear the concert, but to show their appreciation and encourage the society.

The concert opened with a selection by the T.A.S. band, followed by a vocal solo by Mr. R. N. Joliffe, "Kings of the Roads," which was well received and called for an encore "The Minstrel Boy." The next number was a violin solo by Mr. Gilbert Markle, of the staff of the Peterborough Conservatory of Music, which was exceedingly well rendered, as was evidenced by the hearty applause from the large audience. Miss L. Hallahan's solo "Message of the Violet," was pleasingly acceptable and for an encore she sang "Has your mother any more like you." A recitation by Miss C White "Yes I'm Guilty," and her encore, were both well given. The vocal solo "Killarney," by Miss Lilian Bell, speaks well of that young lady's talent as a vocalist. Short addresses were given by Rev. F. J. O'Sullivan, of Lindsay, founder of the Peterborough T.A.S., who spoke of the success of the society and the good work accomplished by it, and Fathers McColl and O'Brien.

The first number on the second part of the program was a violin solo by the accomplished artist, Mr. Gilbert Markle "The Harp that once through Tara's Hall," which displayed all the fine points possessed by that skilled musician. Mrs. K. Eardley-Wilmot was received with rounds of applause showing her popularity with the music loving people of Peterborough as a soloist. The solo "Forget, Forgive," was rendered in a very appreciable manner and received well merited applause, for an encore, The "Sea Fairies," by twenty little girl pupils of the convent, who were beautifully costumed, was well executed, and was a very pretty feature of the evening's program.

The next number on the program was a vocal solo by Miss Klein, but as she was not present, Mr. R. N. Joliffe, who appeared in excellent voice in the early part of the program, sang a very acceptable solo. Messrs Legg, Brown, Joliffe and Shepherd, are a quartette of rare ability, as was proved by the harmonious rendition of "Juanita,"

The program was closed by a beautiful tableau, "The Angel of Temperance," after which the entertainment broke up by the Singing of God Save the King.

The accompanists of the evening were, Mrs. W. J. Morrow, Miss L. Hurley and Miss M. Doherty.

DEFEATED AT LINDSAY

Once in a while some one who has traveled to the very edge of the danger line of stomach disease stops just in time to save his health. But the majority of people go across the line, and slight symptoms of indigestion grow to disease of the stomach, involving the other organs of digestion and nutrition.

Indigestion and other forms of stomach "trouble" are perfectly and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It strengthens the whole body by enabling the perfect digestion and assimilation of food.

$3,000 FORFEIT will be paid by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y., if they cannot show the original signature of the individual volunteering the testimonial below, and also of the writers of every testimonial among the thousands which they are constantly publishing, thus proving their genuineness.

"I have been suffering for about eight years," writes Mrs. B. Pierce, of Millspringe, Ky. "Have had several doctors to treat me about for female weakness and others for stomach trouble, but received no relief. When I wrote you for advice I was hardly able to work, and you advised me what to do. I took nine bottles, five of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' four of 'Favorite Prescription,' also two vials of the 'Pellets.' Dr. Pierce's medicines will do all that you claim for them. Believe I would have been in my grave if I had not taken them."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

ONTARIO ELECTIONS

Corrupt Practices.

We, the undersigned candidates in the Provincial election, beg to call the attention of the electors to the following provisions of the Election law respecting bribery;

Any person who gives or lend, or agrees, or offers, or promises to give or lend any money, offices, employment or other value to any voter, to induce him to vote or to refrain from voting, is guilty of bribery within the meaning of the Election Act, and is liable under the amended Act to imprisonment for six months, WITHOUT THE OPTION OF A FINE, and the receiver of any money or other consideration is equally as guilty of bribery as the giver.

We have mutually pledged ourselves to do everything in our power to prevent bribery or corrupt practices by any person or persons on our behalf and that no person either giving or receiving a bribe shall be protected by either of us from the utmost penalty of the law.

It will be seen from the above that neither of us can personally or through another, give or lend any money during the election.

RUSSIAN POLAND ON VERGE OF REVOLUTION

Trouble Chiefly Due to Calling out the Reserves in the Warsaw District

DEADLY RIOTS ARE BECOMING VERY FREQUENT

Bridges Blown up to Prevent Troop Train Leaving Radom--Wires and Bridges Destroyed at Lodz.

Paris, January 11.—Official censorship does not prevent the real situation in Poland from being revealed here through the medium of private correspondence.

From thoroughly trustworthy sources it is learned that the country is on the verge of revolution. The calling out of reservists is the chief cause of the riots, and whenever the rioters come in contact with the united forces of the military and the police there is considerable shooting, the killed and wounded on both sides being numerous.

At Radom, as a trainful of recruits were about to pull out of the station, two railway bridges between that place and Zedlnia were blown up, and a goods train being between them, the line was completely blocked, in addition to being damaged. A number of soldiers took advantage of the resulting confusion to escape.

The same evening, Dec. 24, in a battle bwteen Polish rioters marching under the Socialistic flag and a party of soldiers, a Russian colonel was shot dead, together with a lieutenant, who went to his assistance, while among other victims of the fight was the Polish Socialist leader Kwiatowski.

Rioting is also reported from Lods, where the telegraph wires were cut and a bridge blown up on Christmas Day, three policeman and a Cossack being killed. Workmen paraded the streets with a red flag bearing the inscription, "We will not be soldiers of the Czar."

At Cronstochown a monument to Alexander II. was blown up with dynamite.

Baron Nolken, Prefect of Police of Warsaw, has left for St. Petersburg with the intention of resigning if Warsaw is included in the recruiting zone.

St. Petersburg, January 11. — Dispatches to the Novoe Vreyma from Ekaterinoslav say that a nobelman, Ivanitsky, fired at the Chief of Police of Ekaterinoslav Friday, but missed him. Ivanitsky was arrested, but refused to state the motive for his attempt to shoot the official.

THE COMING OF THE RUSSIAN JEWS

Prominent Zionist Speaks of the Causes of the Immigration

SOMETHING TO BE DONE

Definite and Statesmanlike Thing is to Furnish Them With Land of Their own

Montreal, January 11. — Discussing the presence of the Russian Jews in this city and the United States, and the steady flow of these immigrants from Europe to Western countries, a prominent Zionist of this city told the Star that the principal cause is the persecution meted out to the Jews in Russia, and he further stated that Zionists, as well as Christians, have recognised that no comprehensive scheme such as the Zionist movement is initiatint, is about the only thing which would alleviate the difficulties under which these people are labouring, and render them immune from further persecution.

"While American countries, and particularly Canada are pleased to offer them an asylum," he said, "yet common sense tells us that it is impossible for such a large influx of settlers to be handled without special organization and a special country provided for them. It is patent to Jews, as well as Christians, today, that some definite and statesmanlike measure must be adopted to furnish these people with a land of their own, where they will have an organised Government with all the necessary machinery for receiving and settling huge numbers at one time. Hundreds of thousands of Jews are on the move from Russia and Roumania, and local charity organisation cannot possibly cope with such a big movement. Capital, and plenty of it, too—and a large quantity of land, must be the basis of the arrangement. This is what the Zionists have realised, and they are presently negotiating for Palestine, and also with respect to certain territory in East Africa. In connection with the settlement of this territory they purpose establishing a bank with a capital of $10,000,000 to begin with. Their scheme includes the handling of the immigrants in large numbers and heads of families will be assisted in settling on lands as agriculturists or in the establishment of industries of their own. In connection therewith, technical schools will also be founded for the proper training of the children of such communities. These are the views of a majority of the Zionists and a large number of Christians who have given any thought to this large question. They consider this proposal the only feasible plan by which this great question can be met in a statesmanlike way.

"Such a Jewish state would be an object lesson to the world, and the leaders recognise the fact that this is the time for them to carry out their plan—a time when large sections of Jews at a time are on the move, in search of a resting place."

PEACE MEDIATION

Appeals to be Made to the Czar and Mikado

London, January 11. — The Daily News announces an "important step in the cause of peace mediation," which it says consists of a proposal for a series of meetings in Paris, and London, and, it is hoped, in the United States and Scandinavia, for the purpose of passing identical resolutions in favor of mediation, to be followed by appeals to the Czar and Mikado. The movement was initiated by members of the International Arbitration Society. A committee has been formed and it is communicating with Dr. Strong, of New York, and Dr. Mead, of Boston, with the view of holding simultaneous meetings, the date for which is suggested as Feb. 8.

JAPS ON THE ALERT

Cruisers Said to be Approaching Madagascar

London, January 11. — The Port Louis correspondent of the Daily Mail says that the British cruiser Forte, which is at that port, intercepted a number of cipher wireless messages from strange warships. The nationality using the cipher has not been fully decided yet, but the messages are believed to be in a Japanese code. There have been reports from the eastward that Japanese cruisers are approaching. Nothing more has been seen or heard of the Baltic fleet, and it is believed that it is seeking shelter somewhere off the coast of Madagascar or among the Comoro Islands. A large Russian warship was seen off Mayotte, one of the Comoro Islands, a few days ago.

REFUSED CERTAIN ORDERS

BECAUSE MACHINISTS DECLINED TO SIGN CONTRACTS

Official Statement Concerning the Situation at the Canada Foundry—Works Closed Down for Few Days as Usual for Stock Taking.

Toronto, January 9.—Mr. Frederic Nicholls, General Manager of the Canada Foundry Company, and the Canadian General Electric Company, gave The Globe the following statement:

"Statements having appeared in the press as to our works at Davenport, which are incorrect and misleading, we now desire to state the facts. As usual at this season of the year we have closed down in all departments for the taking of an inventory and the making of repairs. The men not necessary to the taking of inventory or making of repairs have been given a holiday and are being notified, from time to time, when to report for duty. This being the slack season with us it is necessary to reduce our staff and we paid off such of our men as would not be needed after the holidays on Saturday last.

"Recently we have been asked to figure on some large orders. Before quoting we obtained options on the material, and, as we did not care to undertake this work without knowing where we stood as to our labor, it is higher than is being paid elsewhere in Toronto. We have to take the risk of finding sufficient work to keep them employed, and are compelled to continue the present rates even though reductions in wages might take place in this section, but we prefer not to enter into large contracts at close prices when we have to run the risk of loss through labor troubles. In other words, when figuring closely it is just as necessary to know in advance the cost of labor as the cost of material.

"Inasmuch as most of the machinists declined to make a year's agreement, we declined to tender on this contract. There was no coercion. We were willing to take contracts to afford steady employment to our men if they would agree to join us in taking contracts under present conditions. As some, in fact, the majority, preferred to do otherwise, as is their right, we preferred not to take onerous contracts without knowing our position in advance. The men were offered a year's steady employment, and if we now have to let some of them go, it is surely not the fault of the company, but we are still willing to make arrangements with a certain number of good machinists, and take our chances of providing steady employment for them."

THE COMING ECLIPSE

Canadians Will See Sun's Eclipse in Labrador

Ottawa, January 10.—The Government has approved of the despatch of a Canadian expedition to watch the total eclipse of the sun on August 30th next. Mr. W. F. King, chief astronomer, will have charge, and the Royal Astronomical Society will be invited to send six members to accompany the expedition. It is proposed to take photographic observations of the corona, also spectroscopic observations of the eclipse. The eclipse will last only two and a half minutes, so that everything must be in readiness for prompt action. The point selected is on the coast of Labrador, about 100 miles north of the Straits of Belle Isle, or on land if a suitable accessible place can be found.

C. P. R. FIREMAN KILLED

Jumped From Engine and had His Brain Dashed out

Montreal, January 11. — Arthur Abrahams, 20 years of age, of Three Rivers, a fireman on the Canadian Pacific Railway, met with a shocking death on Saturday evening, by jumping from the cab of his engine in the railway yard at the Angus shops. Fearing a collision the young fireman made a leap for life, but his brains were dashed out against a semaphore post. When picked up life was extinct.

The deceased became alarmed on seeing the headlight of an engine approaching on the track next to the one on which the engine was. Thinking the engine was on the same track he made the jump which resulted in his death.

MINES LOCATED FORTY MILES FROM PORT ARTHUR

Japanese Exploded Three Hundred and Ninety-Five Submarine Mines in the Vicinity of the Captured Fortress.

Special to The Times

Tokio, Jan. 11.—The Navy Department says that the district covered with submarine mines had a radius of forty miles outside of Port Arthur. It reports the destruction and explosion of 395 of these mines to date.

Ten additional survivors of the third expedition of the Japanese to blockade the entrance to Port Arthur have been found in Russian hospitals. They have been transferred to the Japanese.

GENERAL STOESSEL IS PAROLLED

Also Rear-Admiral Ouktomsky and the Chief Engineer—Additional Prisoners Reported

Tokio, Jan. 11.—General Nogi reported additional prisoners of war as follows:

Major-Generals Nikitin and Balle, and Rear-Admiral Wiren.

The paroled, besides General Stoessel, include Major-Generals Ries, Nadien, and Kostinkow, and Rear-Admirals Prince Ouktomsky, Gregorovitch, and Rosstiliski, and Engineer-in-Chief Rindeback.

PRISONERS LANDED IN JAPAN

A Thousand Russians and Twenty Eight Officers from Port Arthur Reach Port of Nagasaki.

Nagasaki, Jan. 11.—The Japanese Government transport Tosa brought 28 Russian officers, who were landed here, and a thousand men who were transhipped for Kokura.

Berlin, Jan. 11.—Emperor William has conferred on General Stoessel and General Nogi the order of "Pour Le Merite" in recognition of the bravery of themselves and their troops at Port Arthur. His Majesty has asked the Russian and Japanese Emperors to authorize Generals Stoessels and Nogi to accept the decorations.

RUSSIANS WERE WIPED OUT

Three Companies Sent on a Mission to Mongolia by Alexieff were Assassinated by Natives.

Marseilles, Jan. 11.—A mail steamer which arrived here to-day from the Far East reported that Colonel Bogodonoff of the Russian army, and three companies sent by the former Viceroy Alexieff on a mission to Mongolia were assassinated by natives.

Port Said, Egypt, Jan. 11.—The division of Russian warships commanded by Rear Admiral Botrovsky, which left Suda Bay, Island of Crete, Sunday, has been sighted heading for this port.

Later in the day the seven ships, under Admiral Botrovsky's command, the cruisers Oleg, Gromaki, and Rasity arrived here.

MORE SHIPS FOR BALTIC

First Division of the Third Pacific Squadron will Leave Libau at the End of January.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 11.—The Russ to-day confirms the Paris Temps report of yesterday that the first division of the third Pacific squadron will leave Libau at the end of January, and will consist of the warships Admiral Senjavin, General Admiral Apraxine, Admiral Oushakoff, and Nicholas I., the cruiser Vladimir Monomach, and several torpedo boat destroyers and torpedo boats.

In a lengthy review of the military situation the Novoe Vremya urges the immediate reinforcement of Vladivostock, the island of Sakhalin, and Kamchatka. The paper says; "There is little probability of the Russians being caught as un-repaed at Vladivostock as at Port Arthur, but the moral responsibility rests upon the Government to see that nothing in the way of defensive preparation is overlooked. Sakhalin and Kamchatka are both harder to defend and have a scantier population, but both are rich in mineral and other resources, and are especially tempting to the Japanese, to whose scheme for national expansion they are necessary."

Continuing, the Novie Vremya points out that it is possible to sendreinforcements and supplies to Sakhalin and Kamchatka while the ice lasts independent of sea power, and begs that this should be done at once.

Touching on the general peace talk in the foreign press the Novoe Vremya summarizes the list of Russian reverses in the present war, and asks if it is possible to consider the question of peace without substantial Russian victories.

Headquarters of Third Japanese Army at Port Arthur, Jan. 11. via Tien Tsin, Jan. 11.—Captain Tsunoda, the Japanese staff officer, who was sent to Port Arthur to inform General Stoessel of the contents of the message of the Emperor of Japan, saying that the garrison would be treated with the greatest consideration, says:

"General Stoessel's first enquiry was about the whereabouts of Gen. Kou-

THE BALKAN WARCLOUD GUERILLAS ARE BUSY.

Diplomat Reports That Europe is a Year Nearer to the Inevitable Conflict.

Special to The Times

London, Jan. 11.—The active preparations already reported to have been made both in Turkey and Bulgaria for a possible war this year are fully confirmed by a private letter received in London from a Minister accredited to the Balkan courts.

This Minister, who has just completed a tour of the Balkan capitals, writes that the Turkish and Bulgarian Governments are energetically preparing for eventualities.

Large shipments of arms and ammunition have been made, and recruits from Asia Minor are arriving at Salonica weekly for service in the Turkish army.

The Bulgarian and Greek bands in Macedonia are increasing daily, and are fighting each other and the Turks. This three cornered guerilla warfare threatens to assume the bloodiest phase in the spring.

"But," continues the Minister, "whether or not there will be real war between Turkey and Bulgaria in the spring, I am not prophet enough to say. Unless certain powers think the time is opportune, war may be postponed this year as last, but in any event we are a year nearer the inevitable conflict."

London, Jan. 11.—The Liverpool Post and Mercury, commenting upon the demand of American millers for Canadian wheat says; "To English people the interest of this new situation turns chiefly upon the effect the cessation of wheat shipments to this country might have upon the price of flour here. The natural tendency would be that the price of flours would rise. In this advance the wheat growers of Canada would participate, but wheat is grown in many lands, and so long as Great Britain has the wisdom to import wheat from every country in the world where a surplus is to be found without levying a duty there is no fear of anyshortness of the wheat supply here."

A FAMOUS PICTURE COMING.

London, Jan. 11.—Right Hon. Chas. Booth is sending Holman Hunt's great picture, "The Light of the World," to be exhibited in the principal cities of Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa, after which he will offer it as gift to the nation. Writing to Mr. Booth, Hon. Mr. Lyttelton, the Colonial Secretary, says; "I feel a great sympathy for your desire to add to the ties which bind together the various populations of the self-governing States of the Empire."

THE GRANDSON OF REBEL.

London, Jan. 11.—At a Liberal meeting at York, Lord Durham presiding, Lamar Greenwood, said his grandfather fought as a Canadian rebel in 1837 for that self-government which the present Earl Durham's father granted after the rebellion. It was Lord Durham who made Canadians loyal and prosperous.

CANADA HAS GOOD EXHIBIT.

London, Jan. 11.—At the exhibition of colonial products opened to-day in St. George's Hall, Liverpool, the Canadian exhibit forms a striking object in the centre of the hall.

DEATH OF LOUISE MICHEL.

Marseilles, Jan. 11.—Louise Michel, the noted communist, is dead. She was born in 1830, became a teacher in 1853, and ultimately taught in Paris and Montmartre. She took an active part in the revolutionary commune in Paris, and was made a prisoner in 1870. She was sentenced to transportation for life, but was released, and returned to Paris in 1880. She was again imprisoned in 1883 and 1886. She wrote many books attacking the social system, and of late years was classed as an Anarchist.

"General Stoessel remarked that he had last heard from General Kouropatkin October 6, saying he would come to Port Arthur soon. Gen. Stoessel added that he had sent out spies who had returned and reported that Gen. Kouropatkin, with a relieving army, was at Kinchou, twenty miles north of Port Arthur. General Stoessel was plainly incredulous at my statement that General Kouropatkin had been defeated and driven back towards Mukden, so I produced maps, showed him the position of the two armies near the Shakhe river, and gave Stoessel details of Kouropatkin's defeat with the loss of 50,000 to 60,000 men, at which the Russian general expressed amasement and quickly remarked that he had been misled.

"Gen. Stoessel then asked where the Baltic fleet was, and I told him that some of the ships had not passed the Cape of Good Hope. With a hopeless expression look, General Stoessel said; 'Now that Port Arthur has fallen there is no use for the fleet coming any further.'"

IMPRESSIONS OF THE SIEGE.

"I then asked General Stoessel what had caused the most damage to the garrison during the seige, and he replied; 'Your eleven-inch howitzers. After they arrived our defensive works became useless.'

"General Stoessel then pointed out that he and Admiral Alexieff had been through the Boxer trouble and had seen the work of the Japanese army. General Stoessel also said he had been associated with the Japanese Generals Yamaguchi and Fukushima at that time, and expressed the opinion that the Russian and Japanese forces had borne the lion's share of the work. Since then he had a high idea of the organisation and fighting qualities of the Japanese army.

"The real cause of the war was, in Gen. Stoessel's opinion, the ignorance of the Russian people of the fighting qualities of the Japanese. The first attack on Port Arthur in February was a tremendous surprise. The forts, he explained, were only partly garrisoned by two thousand troops.

"At this point Gen. Stoessel said he had always opposed the scheme of Gov. Sakharoff of Port Dalny in spending money in building up Port Dalny instead of finishing the defences of Port Arthur. Sakharoff, who was an engineer officer, died of dysentery during the siege.

"Continuing, General Stoessel praised the ingenuity, pluck and patience of the Japanese infantry, especially in make siege parallels and trenches to the forts.

"Referring to the artillery, Gen. Stoessel said that at first he did not think the artillery practice good, but he was soon compelled to recognize how good it was. General Kondratenko and a colonel of engineers, Irman, General Stoessel pointed out, were killed in North Keekwan fort by a Japanese shell just prior to the explosion of Dec. 18. Gen. Stoessel felt their loss greatly, as Kondratenko was a clever engineer.

HE HAS BEEN THRICE WOUNDED.

"Gen. Stoessel further said he had served his Emperor in three wars, and had been thrice wounded, first in the Russo-Turkish war, second in the Boxer trouble, and third at Port Arthur. Now he felt he had earned the right to return to Russia to live in his old age with his family. The General added that he was taking home with him five children of officers who had been killed during the siege.

"After his conference with General Nogi, General Stoessel expressed gratification at meeting so pleasant a gentleman. He had not expected the considerate treatment accorded to him. General Nogi appeared to Gen.

January Canadian Magazine

The Canadian Magazine starts the New Year with a new serial story, the scenes of which are laid in the war of 1812. It is entitled "The Builders," a most apt title for a story which deals with the struggles of those who helped with the foundations of Canada. The author is a Canadian, a resident of Toronto. The other features of the January number are also worthy of consideration. G. M. L. Brown, a Canadian traveller of note, writes interestingly of Curacao, one of the most important of the smaller West Indian Islands. The editor reviews the new life of Sir John Beverley Robinson, and this contribution is accomplished by an unpublished picture of the late Chief Justice, and an unpublished pencil-sketch of Government House, Peterborough, built in 1828. James Johnston writes on turbines under the heading "The New Method of Propulsion." Dr. Drummond contributes one of his famous habitant poems. Cy Warman's satire "Dog Eat Dog" will interest the people of the West who have recently suffered from a lumber combine. Professor Cappon's article on "Roberts and the Influences of His Time" is the first of a series of four on the same subject. There are the usual short stories, poems and departments—each depicting some phase of our natural life. The national tone, which has given

FERROZONE

A Womanly Tonic that Uplifts, Vitalizes, and Strengthens.

You immediately experience a real gain in power and strength by using Ferrozone, which is a true nerve and blood tonic. It effects permanent cures unparalleled in the history of medicine.

Ferrozone supplies the essentials of life that are exhausted by over-work worry, indigestion or high living. It contains just what every run-down system lacks.

By instilling new strength into the blood, Ferrozone benefits the whole body. Digestion improves, the eyes sparkle, the cheeks glow with girlish beauty. Normal powers are restored to the regenerative organs. The nerves are recharged with energy, making the sufferer conscious that direct benefit is resulting from Ferrozone.

There is no greater boon to suffering women than Ferrozone. It charges the system with the snap and fire of youth, builds up firm tissue, rounds out the form until perfect womanhood is attained.

Ferrozone is the one safe tonic for ladies to use, because it contains no alcohol or dangerous drugs. Growing girls, young women, expectant mothers—every female will derive unquestionable benefit from this grand restorative. PETERBOROUGH, JANUARY 11 1905

THE ISSUE IN ONTARIO

The Ross party in Ontario are depending for victory chiefly upon their ability to arouse party feeling. But the people of Ontario must appreciate the fact that this is no ordinary case of party politics in which a Conservative may be excused for voting Conservative and a Liberal Liberal.

The Ottawa Journal puts it right when it says that it is a trite saying that the electorate are on trial quite as much as the government; but in this case it becomes a mild rendering of the truth. The Ontario electorate are, probably, more truly on trial than the Ontario Government. In the face of the exposures of political crime perpetrated to maintain the Ross Ministry in office during the last few years, the most vital question up for settlement in Ontario is whether or not the public conscience is, indeed, dead.

Canada had a public conscience when the Pacific scandal exposures were made. It was shown by the overwhelming punishment inflicted upon the political party responsible for the shameful affair. But the men who tried to carry the country under circumstances then thought to call for stern condemnation, did not print bogus ballots with which to stuff the ballot-boxes, did not swear in bogus deputy returning officers to manipulate the ballots after the polls had closed, did not set up a school to teach election crime, did not import American "pluggers" and carry them by steamer to distant polls, did not invent "trick" ballot-boxes, nor descend to practically any of the election crimes which have made the Ross regime in Ontario a national scandal. Mere plain bribery has become by comparison a light offence.

Partyism has nothing to do with the public attitude in this matter. A desperate set of office-holders may beat the party drum industriously in an endeavor to assemble a sufficient force of decent citizens to unite with their "machine" support and keep them in power. But it is an abuse of the party system, and a selfish exploitation of party loyalty. No one should resent it more than the honest Liberals of Ontario. The sole question before the people at this time is the electoral record of the Ross "machine"; and if the deeds which have been proven against this organization are openly condoned by the "Ontario conscience," it will be very hard to regard the political and moral future of this country with an optimistic eye.

BATTLE SHIPS VERSUS TORPEDO BOATS

A few days ago the torpedo boat and the destroyer occupied the center of the stage of naval interest. That was because the torpedo appealed so strongly to the imaginations of men. It was easy to draw a mental picture of the instantaneous destruction of a battle ship worth five or six million dollars by a single torpedo. It was just as easy to argue from the picture: "If such a thing is possible, why waste millions building battle ships?"

The present war has given the torpedo boats many opportunities to show their value. Three times Japanese boats have hovered around the edges of a naval battle, without daring to get in range. On one of these occasions they pursued beaten battle ships after night had fallen, but accomplished nothing worth the mention. In addition to this Japanese boats have made dozens of attempts to destroy battle ships lying motionless in a harbor, or anchored in a roadstead—sometimes under the most favorable conditions for surprise—and while they made many hits they did not sink a single ship except the Sevastopol, and that only after incessant attacks for many nights. The Russian torpedo boats served no particular purpose except to carry messages to Chefoo.

Battle ships, on the contrary, have been the mainstay of the fighting navies. Those of Japan have held the sea power secure for her. Those of Russia have been ineffective only because they were so inefficiently officered and manned.

A review of the naval operations of the war which the general board of the United States navy has just issued sums up the fighting, and shows how strong the case for the battle ship is as against the case for the torpedo boat. Torpedo boats have their uses and will continue to be built. The size of battle ships may be kept smaller than it would otherwise be, because "mere good luck" may be on the side of the torpedo boat, and it is not well to risk too much of a nation's naval force in one vessel. But the battle ship is now sure to continue as the main reliance of the great fleets of the world.

A WIDOW'S PATHETIC LETTER.

One of Hundreds of Letters Received at Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives—Pleads for the Life of an Only Son.

COOKSHIRE, QUE., June 3rd, 1904.

DEAR SIR,—I hope you will pardon my writing to you. I am Charles Brown's poor mother, that is heart-broken about my one and only son, and longing for your kind letter to arrive to say you can find a place for him soon in the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives. He is the only son I have and I am depending on him for support, and he has a wife and one baby depending on him also for their support. . . . He is the Charles Brown that Judge Britton's daughter spoke to you about. . . . Dear Sir, for God's sake hasten the time for him to get there, as the longer it runs on him the harder it will be for him to get well and back to his former health and strength again. . . .

MARG'T BROWN.

COOKSHIRE, QUE., June 6th, 1904.

DEAR SIR,—I received your kind and most welcome letter to-day. Very glad I was to hear the good news that my dear son can go to the Hospital any time this week. Thank God for the good news. He will leave Montreal on Monday, the 13th, or Tuesday, 14th, at the latest. . . . It has given him new life to hear the glad news that you have sent to me, his mother.

MARG'T BROWN.

It is to meet just such cases as this that the Free Hospital for Consumptives has been built. Less than three years opened, nearly 400 patients have been cared for, and not a single patient has ever been refused admission because of his or her poverty.

Sir Wm. R. Meredith, Kt., Chief Justice, 4 Lamport avenue, Toronto, or W. J. Gage, Esq., 54 Front street, will receive and acknowledge any subscriptions our readers will send.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The report was adopted as read.

A NEW TEACHER.

Mr. W. H. Hill submitted the report of the Committee on Appointments as follows:—

Gentlemen,—Your Committee on Appointments beg leave to report that, according to instructions given us at the last meeting of the Board, we advertised for a teacher to fill the vacancy on the Public School staff, and after making careful inquiry we have appointed Miss Minnie E. Walker, of Meaford, to fill the position at a salary of $260 per annum.

This report was adopted as read.

Jamieson. That, pursuant to 57 Victoria, section 5, the Municipal Council of the Town of Peterborough, be and they are hereby required to pay the Treasurer of the Board of Education, in monthly instalments, the money to be raised for current expenditures of the Collegiate Institute and Public Schools, as follows, $33,000, and that the Secretary be instructed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Town Council.—Carried.

RETIREMENT REGRETTED.

Mr. W. H. Hill moved, seconded by Mr. F. J. Jamieson,—That in view of the retirement of Messrs. W. H. Wrighton and J. J. McBain from membership of this Board after respectively 25 and 13 years' services, the Board place on record its regret, both at losing the benefit of their services, and also their association at meetings of this Board. And also that we place on record this Board's high sense of appreciation of the faithful and efficient services rendered by them, and their devotion to the best interests of education in the Town. And that the Secretary be requested to forward a copy of this resolution.—Carried.

SUPERVISION WORK.

Mr. Wm. Pringle presented an exhaustive review of the past year's work of the Supervision Committee, under his chairmanship, which was approved of by the Board.

CENTRAL SCHOOL HEATING.

Mr. V. Eastwood submitted a review of the Property Committee's work, and assured the Board that the difficulty with the heating apparatus in the Central School had been investigated, and the system will very shortly be in a condition to answer all purposes.

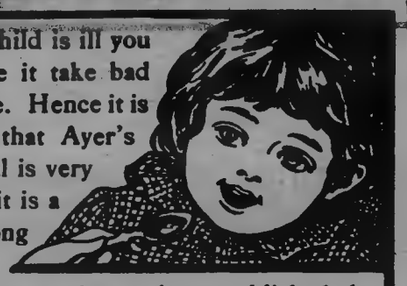
FINANCE STATEMENT.

Mr. R. Fair presented the financial statement for the year 1904 together with the estimates for 1905, which will be published to-morrow.

The estimated expenditure required for the Collegiate Institute for 1905, is $18,450, and that for the Public Schools $29,400.

The Board then adjourned.

When your child is ill you dislike to make it take bad tasting medicine. Hence it is well to know that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is very pleasant. But it is a medicine, a strong medicine.



Time and time again we have published the formula of this cough medicine in the principal Medical Journals of this country and Europe, and have mailed it to nearly every physician in the United States.

So it follows that when your doctor orders it for coughs, colds, bronchitis, or consumption, he knows precisely what he is giving.

Physicians recommend their families to keep it on hand.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, excepting 8 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres more or less.

ENTRY

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situate, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES

A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act, and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

[1] At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

[2] If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), or any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

[3] If a settler was entitled to and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

[4] If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same town, township, or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of clauses [2], [3] or [4] must cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, or substitute 20 head of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, and have besides 30 acres substantially fenced.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd of June, 1890.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled and the land may again be thrown open for entry.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT

Should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

INFORMATION

Newly arrived immigrants will receive, at the Immigration Office in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing lands to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Land Agents in Manitoba or the North-west Territories.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands, to which the Regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Co.
INCORPORATED

Capital $5,000,000. Shares $1.00 Each, Par Value, Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable.

We have just secured the agency for the above splendid proposition, of which we have been allotted a block of Treasury stock. We can confidently recommend this as a safe and, we believe, exceedingly profitable investment. Every dollar of stock is guaranteed by twenty year, full paid, gold bond, delivered to purchaser of stock, from an Investment Company that has no interest whatever in the company, but who are disposing of the debentured bonds to the public, and, under their charter, they are compelled to deposit securities to an equal amount, to the State Treasurer under which they received their charter, there by doubly securing the payment of their gold bonds.

The Company's property, which is now past the project stage, is known to be marvellously rich in gold.

Following is the opinion of G. W. Miller, Mining Engineer, formerly with the Boston and Montana Consolidated Copper and Silver Mining Company, U. S.; Summer and Jack Mining Co., Limited, Elandsfountain, South Africa:—

"You have here a most valuable property and one of the strongest fissure veins that can be found in any part of the world.

"With the present development of the Monument Mine, I estimate that 100 tons per day can be extracted, which will mill from $15.00 to $20.00 per ton. The total cost of mining the ore, delivering and milling, I place at about $4.00 per ton. With increased milling capacity, it is safe to say that the mine can furnish 100 tons of $15.00 ore, which would yield a clear profit of $11.00 per ton, or $1,100.00 per day, equal to $402,000.00 per annum. Estimated total value of ore in sight, $2,500,000."

During the past summer, a party of the Company Directors visited the property, taking with them, Amos P. Brown, Ph.D., Mining Engineer and Professor of Geology and Mineralogy at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Brown writes as follows:—

"In regards to the amount of ore available at the mines at Sinaiser, I saw on the dumps several thousand tons, probably 5000 tons would be an under-estimate.

"As to the size of the ore body itself, from what I saw of the geological structure, I think that there is every indication that it will be found to extend underground as far as the out-croppings on the south side of the gulch. This would mean an ore body large enough to keep the present mill running for many years to come.

A write up of the proposition will appear in these columns in a few days. Watch for it. In the meantime we will be pleased to furnish full information to investors.

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

The Salido Gold and Copper Company

Incorporated under the laws of Arizona, with a capital of $3,oc ooo forever on-assessable divided into shares of $1 each, par value. All investments insured Granite Securities Company.

The "SALIDO GOLD COPPER-CCMPANY" enterprise offers attractions to the investors of the country, that without thorough investigation, would scarcely seem probable. If only a fraction is realized of what any prudent business man in his own affairs would regard as absolutely certain, the enterprise must prove abundantly successful and exceedingly profitable.

SALE OF STOCK

The company will prosecute the work of development with all the diligence that the cash in the treasury will permit and circumstances warrant, and to this end a small amount of the treasury stock is now placed upon the market, in blocks of not less than One Hundred Shares. The par value of the stock is One Dollar per share, fully paid and forever non-assessable.

The company reserves the right to advance the price of stock without notice.

REMEMBER

First—That all payments for treasury stock go into the treasury for development work and not into the pockets of the promoters.

Second—There are no salaried officers.

Third—The incorporators have put their own good money into this enterprise and being business men, intend to do business along business lines

Fourth—That this company is honest.

Fifth—If you are thinking of investing in mining stocks this is worthy of your careful investigation.

OTHER PROPERTIES

This Company owns four other Gold and Copper Mines, which title is now in process in the laws of Mexico. As soon as title is perfected, we shall commence to develop them as we confidently expect something very great from these properties. Our assays taken have been of the very best, showing gold and copper from $6.00 to $122. 30 per ton.

I have secured a small block of this stock, which I offer at the following prices: Unguaranteed 40 cents per share, guaranteed 80 cents per share. These prices will only prevail for a short time, as the number of shares for sale at this price is limited. The Shares will then be advanced to 40 cents for the unguaranteed and 80 cents for the guaranteed. I can unhesitatingly recommend this investment to the Canadian public.

They have arranged with a Trust Company having assets of $1,500,000 to put up a bond guaranteeing investors the repayment of the full amount invested. This makes investors absolutely safe. By no possibility can they lose a dollar.

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY was organized November 21, 1902, under the laws of the State of Idaho. The capitalization is one million shares of the par value of one dollar each, fully paid and non-assessable; of the 1,000,000 shares, 400,000 have been set aside as treasury stock

THE BOISE BASIN came into prominence shortly after Grimes and his party of prospectors entered the Basin country in 1862; their entrance was into the northern portion, and one discovery of rich placer ground followed another until the news of the rich finds reached the outside world, when a veritable stampede for Boise Basin commenced, it was sprung up and grew together in an incredibly short time; the rush of people to Idaho City made it a place of 20,000 people in 1867, having a business street over a mile long lined with two-story buildings streets and sidewalks filled with people day and night, business and money on every hand and the city bearing the proud distinction of being the capital of the territory of Idaho. Wages ran from $6 to $10 a day and not infrequently forty and fifty men worked on a single placer claim; the clean-up for a day's work in many instances ran close to $5,000; large fortunes were made in a few days by washing the golden sands in a pan, so eager was the quest for the shining metal that the streets of Idaho City were dug up and washed and re-washed, and the soil removed from under the houses and places of business. So extensive was the search for the hidden treasure that not only all of the low ground was worked but the foot of the mountains surrounding the city have been washed away, filling up the lower portions of the basin and extending into the town, where one of the buildings has been buried under the tailings from the numerous placer workings.

LOCATION—The property of the Gold Coin Mining Company is situated in the Gambrinus Mining District, Boise County, Idaho, on the range of mountains between Moore Creek and Elk Creek, which forms a part of the eastern boundary of the famous Boise Basin and into which these mountains are drained. The property is located ten miles northeast of Idaho City, from which place there are good wagon roads either to the workings on top of the mountain or to the place of the proposed tunnels in the gulch which crosses the Tunnelsite claim.

THE CLAIMS—The Company owns a group of four contiguous lode mining claims and the Gold Coin Millsite: the names of the lode claims are the Tunnelsite, Blue Bell, Pennsylvania and Homestake, each being a full claim 600 feet wide by 1,500 feet long, excepting the Tunnelsite claim, which is 450 feet wide at the west end and 1,055 feet long; it was necessary to stake the claim in this form on account of joining the Washington property on the south and the Sub Rosa property on the west, these properties being prior locations to the Tunnelsite claim. The four lode claims aggregate nearly 80 acres of rich mineral land.

Further particulars may be had on application to WM. SAILSBURY, Fiscal Agent of the Company Peterborough, Ont., or to

TAMPERING WITH THE WAR NEWS

How Russia Worked up the North Sea Case

CZAR'S CROOKED METHODS

Disgraceful Acts of a Once Great Nation—The End not Yet

London, January 9.—In view of the action of the Russian agents in attempting to secure by bribery evidence in support of their case to be presented before the North Sea Commission now sitting in Paris, it may be as well to point out that this is only one feature of a remarkable campaign. Russia's case is that torpedo boats were actually present on the eventful night. To this end evidence is being and has been sought for in all the chief North Sea ports, and, further, there is an attempt to disseminate telegrams, maintaining that this is the case. These are some of the Russian methods:

A notorious adventurer who lives in Paris and gives himself out as a Russian secret agent—he has been condemned to a term of imprisonment by the Russian Consular Court at Constantinople—sent to General Hesse (General in command of the headquarters staff and a high official at the Russian Court) and also to the Novoe Vreyma a purely fictitious communication stating that four Japanese torpedo boats had attacked the Russians. It was alleged that they used England as their base. A further accusation was that Viscount Hayashi had been told to communicate a message from the Japanese Government relating to the murder by the Japanese of the French and German attaches near Port Arthur.

The Novoe Vreyma did not publish the message, but gave it to the correspondent of the Echo de Paris, by whom it was telegraphed to Paris, and apparently also to one or two London papers. By Reuter's Agency it was sent back to St. Petersburg, presumably in the original form, which gave details as to the origin of the information—viz., that it came from a secret agent addressed to Gen. Hesse.

The "Agence Telegraphique Russe" then comes on the scene. This is an agency managed by M. Sabaniain—the responsible director—who is a conseiller d'etat, and whose name appears in the foreign office list as "premier fonctionnaire attache a la Chancellerie du Ministre des affaires etrangeres." The acting manager is M. Tirtow, who is connected with the Novoe Vreyma office. One of the directors is M. Suworin, editor and proprietor of the Novoe Vreyma. It is thus semi-official agency. Besides this, all the telegrams are subject to the personal revision of M. Hartwig, the Director of the "First Department of the Foreign Office.

The Agence Telegraphique Russe received the Reuter's telegram on the 13th; on the 16th it was published in the following form:

"Copenhagen, 30 Nov., (13 Dec.,) Reuter.—News has also been received here with reference to the incident in the North Sea, according to which, four torpedo boats, etc., etc."

With it was given another telegram:

"Copenhagen, 30 Nov., (13 Dec.,) Reuter.—News has also been received here with reference to the incident in the North Sea, according to which four torpedo boats, etc., etc."

From this it will be seen that the Telegraph Agency under the direction of high officials in the Russian Foreign Office kept the telegram back for two days and then published it—as coming from Copenhagen—without reference to the authority on which it was based, and which must have been perfectly well known to them.

On a previous occasion the same agency under the same influence published a telegram purporting to come from Reuter, giving a translation of Lord Lansdowne's Mansion House speech, in which he was made to say that the Commission would fix the punishment (not the "blame") of the officers concerned. This mistranslation led to an outburst of feeling in the press generally — for which object no doubt it was made. Now the Agence Russe are Reuter's St. Petersburg agents, and (writes a correspondent) it is due to the British public that they should know the way in which news is distorted for Russian diplomatic purposes.

Private correspondents, too, are not without blame. The correspondent of the Novoe Vreyma in London, M. Wesseletsky (who has been feted in the Mansion House as a representative of the Russian press) telegraphed under date Dec. 1, (14.) London, and the message was published in the Novoe Vreyma Dec. 2, (15.)

"From Copenhagen again comes a rumor confirmatory of the rumor whic his current here as to four Japanese torpedo boats, of which two attacked our squadron in Danish waters and two in English waters."

Again, no mention was made of the telegram in the London papers, or of the authority on which it was based.

The way of altering messages is a common one in Russia, and the procedure has been followed on several previous occasions. But possibly this is the first time in which the designers of these tactics—our correspondent terms them "abominable"—have been run to ground.

It is worth mentioning that the German papers published in St. Petersburg, such as the St. Petersburg Zeitung, have behaved remarkably well in regard to news of this kind.

CANCER IS NOT INFECTIOUS

The Harvard Medical Commission will so Report

Boston, Mass., January 10.—The Advertiser says to-day that the Harvard medical commission, which has for the past two years been making a study of cancer, will in its report, to be made in a few days, declare the malady to be non-contagious. The commission will find; 1st, cancer is not infectious; 2nd, it is a hereditary affliction; 3rd, its cause is as mysterious as that of human life, and 4th, the remedies are either a knife or serum.

Dr. E. H. Nicholas is at the head of the commission, which was made possible by a bequest from Mrs. Caroline (Brewer) Crotis, who gave the Harvard Medical School $100,000, the interests of which is to be spent in original medical research.

This Company is the owner of 70,000 acres of very rich, fertile lands in the Province of Pinar del Rio, Cuba This land is suitable to the growth of the finest quality of tobacco, oranges, lemons, pineapples and other citrous fruits

A small portion of this estate produced last year a large percentage on the total authorized capital of this company.

One acre produced last year $2700 in tobacco. The revenue-producing powers of this estate will not be reduced by sale of lands, as the cultivated portion will be increased by additional plantation.

The lands offered for sale can be made as productive within a short period as those at present cultivated.

The estate is abundantly watered by numerous streams and fresh water springs.

The climate is one perpetual June, no fogs, no mists, no yellow fever.

Flowers bloom the year round.

Game and fish abound.

The temperature is even, so that catarrh is unheard of.

Abundance of water and perpetual grass makes stock raising an assured success.

New York markets are at its command for all its products.

The estate borders upon Gandiana Bay, with a sea frontage of about twelve miles and a deep water, sheltered harbor.

Cuba has only now become open to modern development, and its progress is sure to be rapid.

This is the opportunity for the man of small means to obtain a home and subsequent wealth, for the man of means to obtain a profitable investment.

This Company is now offering land in blocks of 10 acres or more at $10.00 per acre.

Stock at par or scrip entitling the owner to an option to take land at $10.00, or stock at par, for a limited period

Only 10,000 acres will be offered at $10.00 per acre, of which 2,000 acres are already sold

The second 10,000 acres will be sold at $20.00 per acre or over within a few months.

The balance of the estate to be disposed of 30,000 acres, will be raised to $50.00 per acre or over.

As the price of land is raised the price of stock will also advance.

Purchase now and save money.

Terms—25 per cent. cash; 25 per cent. 30 days; 25 per cent. 60 days; 25 per cent. 90 days.

Catarrh Leads to Consumption

The Experience of a Lady in Sydney Who was Cured of Consumption by Inhaling Catarrhozone — This Case Should Warn Others.

"The beginning of my trouble was a cold just a single cold," writes Mrs. A. V. Thurburn, of Sydney. "I neglected this cold and then I got catarrh. When it became troublesome I took some medicine but it didn't help me. I began to cough a great deal and then consulted a doctor. I was horrified to find I must have had tubercular irritation in my lungs for a year or more. A friend strongly urged me to use Catarrhozone. I conferred with my doctor and he said that lots of fresh air and the frequent use of Catarrhozone would be the proper treatment. I used to cough for at least half an hour in the morning but after using Catarrhozone a few days my cough was much easier. The irritation gradually left my throat and I commenced to get better. I kept up the Catarrhozone treatment and inhaled the medicated air five minutes every hour. I believe this was the means of saving my disease, for I got quite well again in a few months. I have since advised other sufferers from catarrh and lung trouble to use Catarrhozone, and in each case good results were obtained. I attribute my recovery entirely to Catarrhozone, which I can honestly recommend in the strongest way."

The foregoing experience should convince everybody of the evil of allowing colds to develop. To neglect catarrh is even worse. Carry a Catarrhozone inhaler in your pocket and use it occasionally. It prevents colds, permanently cures every type of catarrh, and is known to be the only remedy that actually kills the germs of consumption.

Catarrhozone is used by all intelligent physicians and is endorsed by thousands of doctors, because it can be relied upon to absolutely cure catarrh, bronchitis, throat and lung trouble. Catarrhozone is simplest, surest and best remedy. Two months treatment guaranteed to cure. Price $1.00, trial size 25c., at druggists or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont. Refuse a substitute for Catarrhozone and insist on getting it when you ask for Catarrhozone.

Death of George Wright

On Monday morning the death occurred of George Wright at his residence, Aylmer street. Deceased was 52 years of age, and leaves a wife and family. The funeral takes place and family. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon.

A Good Idea

The proposal to have a stand for carters erected on the Market Square, with the understanding that a telephone be supplied by the carters, is a good one. It would be a great convenience to both the carters and the general public.

Mr. Stinson's Majority

Mr. S. Stinson, the newly elected County Commissioner, requests the Times to state that a mistake of twenty votes was given to the public with regard to his election. Instead of receiving 613 votes he secured 633. The mistake in counting was at May's in North Monaghan.

Visits His Old Quarters

Toronto News: Hon. James Stratton, ex-Provincial Secretary, was at the Parliament Buildings today, and visited his old Department. He was cheerful and pleasant as ever, but was not talking politics, and smilingly avoided giving any opinion on the probable result of the election.

The Public Library

The annual meeting of the Public Library Board was held on Monday evening, Dr Burnham in the chair. The following directors were elected; Dr. Burnham, Messrs. T. A. E. Hall, W. H. Hill, Jas. English, J. Corkery, H. MacDonald, R. Robertson, — Anderson, and J. S. Knapman. There were 196 new books added to the library during the year. The financial statement showed receipts of $1,219.30, and expenditures of $1,184.59, leaving a balance on hand of $34.71.

Laid at Rest

The funeral of the late Mrs. Sedgewick, whose death occurred on Monday, at her residence, 428 Marck street, Fifth Ward, took place yesterday afternoon to the Little Lake cemetery. The deceased lady was the second daughter of the late James Graham, and was born in Ireland, and came to this country when eight years of age. Her husband, Thomas Sedgewick predeceased her some years ago. Deceased leaves no family, but is survived by three sisters and one brother. These are, Mrs. Alex. Fitzgerald, Miss Graham and Miss Lizzie Graham, and Mr. James G. Graham, all of town.

Success in Sugar Beets

The following will be of interest to Peterborough people who are interested in sugar beets: The Wallaceburg Sugar Co., Limited, has just completed the season's run, having sliced 50,000 tons of beets, producing 8,000,000 pounds of sugar. In spite of the poor service of the Pere Marquette Railroad this season, all beets grown for the company were gotten to the factory in good condition, and assurances are given that under the new management the Pere Marquette will, in future, be able to meet all demands promptly. The acreage for next season is well began, contracts coming in nicely. Prospective growers in this vicinity are asked to sign contracts early. The past season has been a most satisfactory one for the growers and many example of very fine crops could be given. Mr. James Peel, of Dover township, grew on six acres, 96 tons 641 pounds of clean beets, which at an average price of $5.00 per ton, netted $489.87 or $81.65 per acre.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

with local applications, as they cannot reach to seat of disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials, free.

The Delineator

The Delineator for February, with a beautiful art cover and a varied table of contents, is a most attractive number. As a special feature, Lionel S. Mapleson gives an account of Grand Opera on its travels, a paper that is full of humor as well as of genuine interest and is strikingly illustrated. The romance of Chopin and the beautiful Countess Delphine Potocka is charmingly related by Gustav Kobbe in the "Composers," and in an interesting paper Allan Sutherland tells something of the origin and romance of that matchless hymn of Henry Francis Lyte, "Abide With Me." There are also good stories of Mary Stewart Cutting, Anne O'Hagan and Owen Oliver, in addition to the children's corner, which includes one of L. Frank Baum's "Animal Fairy Tales" and a "Son Riley Rabbitt" story by Grace MacGowan Cooke. Some of the early Spring styles are shown, and of further interest to women is the chapter on "The Making of a Housewife," containing a world of suggestion. The department "Good Looks," which discusses the forehead, and Mrs. Theodore W. Birney's contribution on "The Mistakes of Mothers" are other items especially helpful.

REMOVAL.

C. Wilhelmy has removed his place of business to No. 453 George Street, next door to the Peterborough Light and Power Company.

MR. ANDERSON'S CAMPAIGN

Largely Attended Meetings Being Held in the East Riding

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, Mr. A. M. Peterson of Colborne, will speak at Cordova, Blairton and Rush Point, in the Township of Belmont.

On Thursday night, Mr. Anderson will speak at Hall's Glen, and will be accompanied by Mr. W. S. Davidson, barrister, of Peterborough, and Mr. Hartley Dewart, K.C., of Toronto, one of the best platform speakers in the province will address a meeting in Mr. Anderson's interests at Warsaw.

Mr. Anderson will hold a large mass meeting in the town hall, at Havelock, on Monday night next, when prominent speakers will address the electors of Belmont and Havelock.

Mr. Anderson has a meeting arranged for Cottesloe on the evening of Thursday, Jan. 19th, and for Westwood on the evening of Friday, Jan. 20th. A meeting at Stewarts, Otonabee, will be held on the evening of Monday, Jan. 24th.

Mr. Daniel O'Connell, barrister, is also giving Mr. Anderson a helping hand and will speak at Havelock and Westwood.

The Liberal Candidate in East Peterborough is everywhere meeting with success in his personal canvas, which is being carried on the same vigorous manner as the platform side of his campaign.

AS FIRE SPREADS in dry grass, so does an inflammation in the throat, grown down into the lungs. Deal promptly with a cold as with a fire.

FIRE AT NORWOOD

Residence of Mr. L. H. Kirkpatrick is Badly Gutted

Norwood, Jan. 10.—The two-storey private residence of Mr. L. H. Kirkpatrick, Peterborough street, was this morning badly gutted by fire, the cause of which is unknown.

During the progress of the fire the roof of the kitchen collapsed, falling on Charlie McNichol, who was rendered unconscious. There were three other men on the roof but they were uninjured. There is an insurance of $600 on the house. The contents are also insured. Owing to the high winds it is certain that if the whole house had been burned the balance of the street would have gone as well.

FIELD-ALEXANDER CONCERT.

A Good Audience at the Y.M.C.A. Concert Last Night

The concert given last night in the Opera House, under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A. was fairly well attended, considering the severe cold that prevailed. The program was all that could be desired.

It opened with selections from the masters by the great pianoforte virtuose, Mr. H. M. Field, which showed that flattering press notices of this artist had not been overdrawn. Mr. Norman Joliffe, Peterborough's popular baritone, followed and sang in his usual good form.

Miss Jessie Alexander, who is a prime favorite with Peterborough audiences, was the leading attraction of the evening, and fully sustained her past record as an elocutionist of great ability.

Prof. Miller, organist of George street church, played the accompaniments in good taste.

Altogether the concert was a great success, and the ladies who had it in charge deserve much credit.

AN EXCITING MATCH

Croft vs. Winch Played at Curling Rink Yesterday.

There was considerable excitement at the curling rink yesterday afternoon, when it became known that the long talked of match between Mr. Wm. Croft, the veteran curler, and Mr. R. J. Winch, another brawny knight of the broom and stanes was about to take place. There was much figuring and diplomatic skill displayed by the two skips in matters of detail, and had it not been for the oil which ex-Skip Wm. Snowden occassionally poured on the troubled waters, the game might have ended in a tragedy, or something near to it. This great family Journal has seen matches in which many a man's reputation as a curler was dragged to the ground, but seldom if ever has this g.f.j. witnessed a more complete victory and consequent humiliation as that which Skip Croft won over his adversary yesterday. Peterborough's veteran curler played the game of his life, placing the stones which he delivered with unerring accuracy just where his vice skip directed. While Skip Winch also played a plucky game, it was seen from the start that he had no chance. The scores were as follows:

Mr. Winch's Rink.

W. E. Wilcox.
George Stevenson.
Thomas Brightman.
Richard J. Winch—4.

Mr. Croft's Rink.

John Lawless.
Herb. Snowden.
Thomas Rutherford.
William Croft—18.

Mr. Wm. Snowden, assisted by a couple of special policemen, performed the duties of umpire to the satisfaction of all. It is understood that a return match will be played at an early date, when martial law will probably be proclaimed by His Worship Mayor Best.

"I have no more nervous headaches and rest very well at night."

When a woman suffers from female weakness and irregularity or other forms of womanly disease, the effect is certain to be marked in her nervous system, the general effect being, as in Mrs. Woodin's case, "nervous headaches, restlessness at night" and a run-down condition. It is simply common sense then which says if you cure the female weakness, irregularity, etc., you will cure the nervousness, sleeplessness and other consequences of womanly disease.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the womanly diseases which undermine the general health. It establishes regularity, dries unfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It cures headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, etc., by curing the womanly diseases which cause these ailments.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I feel more than grateful to you for the benefit I have received from Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mrs. Ervie E. Woodin, of Millerton, Dutchess Co., N. Y., care of Box No. 1. "For a number of years I had been troubled with female weakness, nervous headache, irregularity, restlessness at night, and, in fact was all run-down, but after taking three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery' feel that I am entirely cured. I have no more nervous headaches, and rest very well at night. In fact I am entirely cured. I have no thanks to your kind advice and wonderful medicine. I earnestly advise all who suffer from any similar troubles to write to Dr. Pierce at once. They will not regret it."

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required

—Mr. James Wharton, who has been for 20 years a valued employee of the Ackerman Company, has accepted a position in Hamilton. He leaves for his new home this morning, accompanied by the best wishes of his many friends in Peterborough. Mrs. Wharton will remain in Peterborough for the present.

—The Toronto Star contains an admirable report of the Bal Poudre recently given by the Work Depository. Never was a prettier ball room scene presented in Toronto than when the minuet was danced. Among those taking part were Mr. Vernor McGill and Miss Madge McGill. The function was a magnificent success.

ONTARIO ELECTIONS

Corrupt Practices.

We, the undersigned candidates in the Provincial election, beg to call the attention of the electors to the following provisions of the Election law respecting bribery:

Any person who gives or lend, or agrees, or offers, or promises to give or lend any money, offices, employment or other value to any voter, to induce him to vote or to refrain from voting, is guilty of bribery within the meaning of the Election Act, and is liable under the amended Act to imprisonment for six months, WITHOUT THE OPTION OF A FINE, and the receiver of any money or other consideration is equally as guilty of bribery as the giver.

We have mutually pledged ourselves to do everything in our power to prevent bribery or corrupt practices by any person or persons on our behalf and that no person either giving or receiving a bribe shall be protected by either of us from the utmost penalty of the law.

It will be seen from the above that neither of us can personally or through another, give or lend any money during the election.

RUSSIA WANTS TIME TO BUILD UP NAVY ONCE MORE

And Then Seek an Excuse to for the Renewal of Hostilities with Japan in the Future--Now Ready to Make Peace Terms.

Special to The Times.

Paris, Jan. 12.—Vice-Admiral Doubassoff, the Russian memberr of the North Sea Commission, is quoted by the Echo de Paris as having stated in an interview that he had submitted to Emperor Nicholas a program for a reorganisation of the navy which is absolutely indispensable for success in the war against Japan. Twenty months will be necessary for its execution. Admiral Doubassoff thought the prospect for Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron was hopeless. He unhesitatingly declared that he considered a provisional peace would shortly be probable, Japan retaining Port Arthur and the territories which she has occupied.

Russia, meanwhile, the Admiral said, would prepare an invincible fleet for a future effort.

Port Said, Jan. 12.—Rear-Admiral Rotrovsky's division of the second Russian Pacific squadron entered the the canal at noon. Its destination is uncertain, but it is probably Madagascar, by way of Jibutil, French Somaliland. The warships were only permitted to ship a thousand tons of coal among the seven ships, besides taking on board provisions.

London, Jan. 12.—Reports from Port Louis, Mauritius, persist in stating that a Japanese fleet is steaming westward. The latest rumor is that the fleet has arrived at Diego Garcia, the southernmost of the Chagos Islands, in the Indian Ocean, whence scouts are being sent out.

In an interview at Tamatave, Madagascar, on January 4, one of the aides of Admiral Rojestvensky, commander of the Baltic fleet, said that the Admiral had learned the day before that a Japanese squadron had started to meet the Baltic fleet. The latter from the time it passed the Cape of Good Hope had increased its measures to prevent surprise. The weather had been stormy off the South African coast, but none of the vessels were damaged. All the crews are now healthy and in high spirits. The fleet is bound for Vladivostock, where it expects to arrive at the beginning of March. Admiral Rojestvensky estimates that a month will be occupied in crossing the Indian Ocean.

Paris, Jan. 12.—The declaration made by Vice-Admiral Doubassoff, one of the Russian members of the International Committee to inquire into the North Sea incident, in an interview, to the effect that an honorable peace between Russia and Japan is likely to be made, inconsidered to be highly significant. Heretofore the members of the Russian Embassy and all the other Russian officials here have resented suggestions of peace as humiliating. There is no reason to believe that these were expressive of personal views before hearing from St. Petersburg, whereas Admiral Doubassoff has just arrived from St. Petersburg after a lengthy audience with Emperor Nicholas, following the fall of Port Arthur. The admiral, who is chief of naval construction, says he submitted to the Emperor last Thursday a plan to complete the rehabilitation of the navy. The outline of this plan was cabled to the Associated Press Saturday. Doubassoff says the Emperor gave it most favorable consideration, and said it would be submitted to the Council of Ministers.

"I am convinced," said Admiral Doubassoff, "of the immediate necessity for the reconstruction of our fleet at all the Russian and foreign shipyards for the purpose of securing strength sufficient to command supremacy at sea. This is absolutely indispensable if we are to expect victory from the next war with Japan. The remnant of our fleet is hardly more than debris, and is entirely unequal to Japan's naval strength."

The admiral further said it was necessary to recognise these conditions, however painful they might to to national self-love.

"Therefore," he added, "I do not hesitate to say that we tend toward not far off peace. We will leave the Japanese Port Arthur and the territory they now occupy in Manchuria. We will set ourselves resolutely to work to prepare a powerful, invincible navy, as this peace will be but temporary, and the next time we shall be amply prepared.

NO RECIPROCITY SAYS LAURIER

Sir Wilfrid Send Emphatic Reply to Washington

New York, Jan. 12.—A special to the Tribune from Washington says;

"Earnest efforts of Senator Fairbanks, chairman of the American representation on the Joint High Commission, to secure a reassembling of that Commission to discuss Canadian reciprocity and other subjects have met with signal failure. Sir Wilfrid Laurier having finally advised the Vice-President-elect that it would be impossible for the Commission to reconvene.

"The earnest demand for Canadian reciprocity voiced in certain sections of this country led the President to believe that it would be well if the Joint High Commission could be reassembled with a view to ascertaining on what terms a reciprocal trade arrangement with Canada might be negotiated.

"Several weeks ago Senator Fairbanks began correspondence with Sir Wilfrid with a view to carrying into effect the President's and his own wishes in the premises, and at first met objections which seemed susceptible of dissipation. Not discouraged, the Senator gently pressed the subject with such urgency as the canons of diplomacy would permit, and has now received a reply which makes evident the futility of further effort in that direction.

"The Canadian Government rejects every overture looking to a re-establishment of reciprocity in trade relations. The official announcement of the effort and its failure will be made public from the White House at an early date, together with the correspondence which has passed between Mr. Fairbanks and Sir Wilfrid Laurier."

The Fiscal Campaign

London, Jan. 11.—Earl Percy, speaking at Selby, said; "We were standing at the parting of the ways and it might be that the people of this country would have to choose between two fundamental conceptions of the Empire. The colonies would resentment and bloody relationship or on a mutual community of interest." Sir Robert Finlay, the Attorney-General, referring to the proposed conference, said that both sides would enter it absolutely free, pledged to nothing. Any recommendation the conference made would be submitted to the electors at the general election. Before any action could be taken the country ought to have the proper facts placed before it. He personally believed that the taxation of food was neither desireable nor practicable, but they should have the facts.

CHILDREN WATCHING WAR

Interesting Story of the Great Manchurian Battle Field

St. Petersburg, January 12.—Many interesting sidelights are thrown on the great conflict in the far East by the letters received here by relatives and friends of the Russian officers at the front. One of these letters recently made public in from a Russian lieutenant, who writes as follows:

"The Obinaman, they say, is a big coward, but that must be after he is grown up. The Chinese child of under twelve is a hero, and no mistake. At the Shabo fight I saw the funniest thing imaginable. Not a hundred yards from the left of our trench sat perched on a stunted tree three Chinese infants. They were looking at the slaughter. The bullets and shells whistled around, but they gaped open-mouthed as if at a play, and sat firm. Our captain told them to run, but they did not understand. Some of the outflanking Japs got right underneath the tree, and our machine guns mowed them down. The Chinese puppies looked down and grinned, and one pulled off a twig and tried to drop it into a dead Jap's mouth.

"What happened to them I don't know, as we retired a moment later But further on along the road we came upon a whole crowd of children smiling as the wounded men were carried past. One of them had an artillerist's cap on his little head,

FOUR AFFIDAVITS

Filed in the Case of the Downeyville School

Toronto, Jan. 12.—Four affidavits were filed to-day by the plaintiffs in the Downeyville school case.

James H. Knight, Public school inspector, says that the transfer of the school from the Public School Board was irregular and wrongful, and J. E. Wedlon, Michael Harrington, and Thomas Lucas agree.

These four add that Protestants and Catholics attended the school, and that there was no trouble till last October, when an agitation began. The sale to the Separate Board for a very nominal sum was the result. All four declare that the interim injunction should be continued.

So far, the defendants have filed no testimony.

LESE-MAJESTE AT WASHINGTON

During Attempt to Blow up Frederick the Great

Washington, Jan. 12.—An unsuccessful attempt was made to-day by one or more civilians to blow up the statue of Frederick the Great, recently presented to the United States Government by the Emperor of Germany, and now standing in the War College grounds.

A charge of explosives, with lighted fuse, was attached to the fence surrounding the statute, but it was removed by an employe before it exploded. No damage resulted to the statue or to property or persons.

Prompt measures were taken to detain the perpetrators of the crime before they left the grounds but they did not succeed. The police authorities have been notified and all available information is being placed before them with a view to arresting the guilty parties.

SENT BACK TO CANADA

Ex-Convict Finds His wife in Michigan Married Again and Himself Penniless

Port Huron, Mich., Jan. 12.—Because he is dependent upon himself for support. Matthew Jones, aged 78 years, who was sentenced to Kingston for life from Sarnia for arson at Sombra, Ont., and who was paroled on Christmas after serving eighteen years, has been sent back to Canada by the local immigration officers. Jone's wife married another man after he was sentenced to prison. Jones was ignorant of this fact until he returned here. He had been back but a few days when he applied to the St. Clair County Poor Commissioners for relief. The fact that he had become a public charge necessitated the Immigration officers sending the aged man back to Canada. His daughter and a sister made their appearance here Saturday, and asked to see Jones. When they found he had been sent back to Canada a lively scene ensued,

A RARE CHANCE FOR INVESTORS

The Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Company

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Thomas Patterson & Co., of Peterborough, Appointed Fiscal Agents of the Company

We call the attention of investors, to the announcement to be found in another column of the Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Company, and to the fact that Messrs. Thos. Patterson & Co., have secured a block of the treasury stock which they are now offering to Canadian investors. From the evidence before us we believe the company has a property immensely rich in gold. The company is splendidly officered, all being men of high character and standing. They are as follows:

OFFICKRS.

Hon. B. F. Meyers, President. Samuel Bowman, Vice-President. James G. M. Bay, Treasurer. Charles M. Forney, Secretary. A. Arlington Hibbs, General Manager.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

Hon. B. F. Meyers, (Prop. Star-Independent), Harrisburg, Pa. Samuel Bowman, (Retired Dry Goods Merchant), Harrisburg, Pa. Jacob Snyder, (Pennsylvania Railroad), Harrisburg, Pa. Charles M. THE OREGON PROPERTY.

In view of the ever-increasing mining activity in the Quartzburg Mining District, due to the many recent discoveries of rich ore threabouts and the increased values as brought to light on those properties, well advanced in development; it was deemed expedient, after some of the adjacent land had been inspected by Dr. Amos P. Brown, E.M., of the University of Pennsylvania, for this Company to add to their holdings, and six claims, "Sheeney No. 2," "Snow Flake," "Gold Wedge," "Japan," "Combination," and "Newman," were secured. These with the "Sheeney," "Calapooia," "McKenzie," "Blue Jay" and "Tuscannon," gives a total area of 200 acres.

Assays taken from the new property gives values as high as $137.25 to the ton in gold. In addition, options were secured on the famous "Shebondy Group" of gold and copper claims, comprising the "Bromochloride," "Hawkeye," "Mikado" and "Modoc" already developed to some 700 feet of tunnels, etc., cutting a 70 foot ledge of ore. Also the Hughes Group of gold and copper consisting of the "Tom Kirp," "Indiana" and "Skeleton," together with the "Brown Bear" Claim to the south.

Reported That Japanese Squadron Has Already Arrived at The Chagos Islands

News of Fighting Between the Manchurian Forces is Expected to Arrive at Any Time---Weather is Warm and Troops Have Discarded Their Overcoats.

London, Jan. 12.—Reports from Port Louis, Mauritius, persist in stating that a Japanese fleet is steaming westward. The latest rumor is that the fleet has arrived at Diego Garcia, the southernmost of the Chagos Islands, in the Indian Ocean, whence scouts are being sent out.

St. Peterburg, Jan. 12.—News of renewed fighting on the Sha River is expected any day. The weather has suddenly become almost phenomenally warm, enabling the troops to dispense with their overcoats in the day-time. It is stated that the Russians have strengthened their right flank with 18,000 men. General Kouropatkin is said to be continually pressing the Government to put more energy in the forwarding of reinforcements and supplies. The attitude of the staff officials here does not imply the least possibility of peace, but rather a continuance of the war more vigorously than ever.

The rumor of the recall of the Baltic fleet continues, but they are denied.

A NAVAL BATTLE IS LOOKED FOR IN THE INDIAN OCEAN

Admiral Rojestvensk Has Learned That a Japanese Squadron Has Started to Meet the Baltic Fleet.

London, Jan. 12.—In an interview at Tamatave, Madagascar, on January 3, one of the aides of Admiral Rojestvensky, commander of the Baltic fleet, said that the Admiral had learned the day before that a Japanese squadron had started to meet the Baltic fleet. The latter from the time it passed the Cape of Good Hope had increased its measures to prevent surprise. The weather had been stormy off the South African coast, but none of the vessels were damaged. All the crews are now healthy and in high spirits. The fleet is bound for Vladivostock, where it expects to arrive at the beginning of March. Admiral Rojestvesky estimates that a month will be occupied in crossing the Indian Ocean.

20 JAPS WERE KILLED.

Port Arthur, Jan. 12.—A contact mine near one of the forts exploded Sunday, killing twenty Japanese. The Japanese allow the Russian prisoners awaiting shipment great freedom. They are permitted to walk about unaccompanied, and to visit neighboring villages.

POLAND AND AND THE WAR

Berlin, January 12.—Despatches from Warsaw state that much excitement has been created by the posting in the streets of copies of the following revolutionary proclamation:

"Once again the Russian Czar asks that we shall trail, hungry and cold, naked and barefooted, through the Manchurian deserts. The fact of his having enslaved us gives him no right to demand that we shall sacrifice our lives for him. The war is no cause of ours. Japan is not our foe, but our friend. Rise, therefore, like one man, and defend yourselves. Down with the autocracy of the Czar!"

Russian Admiral at Vladivostok Inspires His Men —Expects a Siege of the Town by the Japs.

Vladivostock, Jan. 12.—Admiral Skrydloff and his staff left to-day for St. Peterburg. The Admiral was given an enthusiastic send off by the garrison, sailors and officers of the municipality. Addressing his men Admiral Skrydloff said there were likely to be important developments soon in the region of Vladivostock, and he hoped that in case the town should be called upon to a siege, the garrison would emulate the devotion and heroism of Port Arthur. The men responded with cheers.

RUSSIA LOSES PRESTIGE.

London, Jan. 12.—Discussing the effect of the fall of Port Arthur on the Near Eastern question, the correspondent at Sofia of the Times says that the belief in Russia's invincibility has received a severe shock, the result of which among the Balkan States is rather exaggerated fears of Russian encroachments in Macedonia. These nervous apprehensions tend to increase Servian efforts at a rapprochement with Bulgaria. The effects produced in Constantinople, the correspondent says, are likely to be more serious. Turkey is quick to appreciate the military significance of events in the far east, and is likely to stiffen in her attitude towards the reforming powers in Macedonia Already there are indications that Turkey is preparing severe repressive measures to forestall the apprehended rising in the spring, but there is reason to fear that these measures may hasten rather than avert the outbreak.

Canadian Cordage and Mfg. Company Now Has Chicago Agency

The Farm Implement News, of Chicago, says; "With a view to increasing their trade in the United States, the Canadian Cordage and Manufacturing Company Limited, of Peterough, Ont., have decided to establish an agency in Chicago. Yesterday Mr. R. R. Hall, representing the company, closed a deal with Mr. C. A. Davis, to look after their interests here. Mr. Davis was at one time one of the most extensive jobbers of binder twine, and few men are better posted on this line. He will open an office at 11h Dearborn street. A stock of twine will be carried at a local transfer house."

JAPS ON THE ALERT

Cruisers Said to be Approaching Madagascar

London, Janutry 11. — The Port Louis correspondent of the Daily Mail says that the British cruiser Forte, which is at that port, intercepted a number of cipher wireless messages from strange warships. The nationality using the cipher has not been fully decided yet, but the messages are believed to be in a Japanese code. There have been reports from the eastward that Japanese cruisers are approaching. Nothing more has been seen or heard of the Baltic fleet, and it is believed that it is nothing shelter somewhere off

INDIA SEEKS FOR LARGER SHARE IN GOVERNMENT

Twentieth Indian National Congress Provides Political Delegation to Appeal to British Opinion--Surpluses Hoarded.

London, Janv 12.—The Indian delegation to Great Britain, determined upon by the twentieth Indian National Congress, just closed at Bombay, is an impressive sign of the discontent felt by the natives of India in the face of their exclusion by the British Government from the higher administrative offices of the colony. No official favor was shown to the congress, and its sessions were notable for the nearly complete absence of high officials. The Indian National Congress is the outcome and the embodiment of independent thought and action in India. Denied the right of participation in the higher administrative life of their country, educated Indians have put into practice the lessons taught them by the study of English institutions and the force of English example. Purely non-official in character, the congress is essentially representative in constitution. The delegates, elected by numerous bodies and associations, and drawn from every caste and every class, are knit by the common bond of the English language, and inspired by a common sense of political disabilities which Sir Henry Cotton, in his address as president of the congress, pointed out that the reforms advocated by the Congress depended for the most part on their adoption by public opinion in England. As in the case of Ireland, so with India; the opportunity of a peaceful solution in both cases lay with the English people, who alone had it in their hands to effect a material modification in the attitude of the Government.

Sir W. Wedderburn, in moving the resolution advocating the despatch to England of a delegation representing the different provinces for the purpose of placing the claims of India before the British electorate. Parliamentary candidates and political leaders, read, amid cheers, a message from Lord Ripon assuring the Congress of his continued sympathetic interest in the welfare of India, and referred to the death of Lord Hourhouse as a great loss to the cause of Indian progress. The duty of the proposed deputation, he added, would be to urge the British people to insist on the revival of periodal Parliamentary inquiries, the payment of the salary of the secretary of state from the British exchequer, and the appointment to the India Office of a statesman of the type of Lord Ripon, and not of the type of Sir Henry Fowler. The resolution was carried by acclamation.

SURPLUS HOARDED.

The next resolution dealt with the application of the large and recurring surpluses of the past six years, amounting in all to $100,000,000, to the relief of taxation, the further abatement of the salt duty, the reduction of land revenues in provinces where agriculturalists have had a succession of calamitous years, the abolition of teh excise duties on cotton goods, the promotion of scientific, industrial and agricultural education, sanitary reform, and the improvement of the means of communicating in the interior.

Mr. Gokhale, a member of the viceregal council, in moving the resolution pointed out that the surpluses were due to the artifical appreciation of the rupee and the consequent saving of three or four millions a year on home remittances by the Government of India. Notwithstanding the surpluses, the financial position, he said, was most disquieting, the plethora of available funds increasing the irresponsibility bureaucracy. The Government was in honor bound to lessen taxation and let the money ductify in the pockets of the people. Surpluses were not the property of the Government, notwithstanding Lord Curzon's assertion to that effect in the last Budget debate, but the property of the people of India.

OBJECT TO THIBETAN AFFAIR.

Other resolutions which were adopted strongly condemned the Thibetan expedition and the payment of its cost out of the revenues of India, the missions to Afghanistan and Persia as threatening to involve India in foreign entanglements, and the withholding of the report of the Police Commission. A protest was also recorded against the continuous increase in the military expenditure, and against the imposition of the cost of Lord Kitchener's army reorganization scheme on the Indian exchequer. A substantial contribution it was urged, should be made towards Indian army charges by the British Parliament. The proposed partition of Bengal was strongly condemned as uncalled for, and involving needless expenditure and the loss of various constitutional and other rights as well as serious interference with the social, intellectual, and material progress of the province. The delegates from Bengal and Assam also expressed strong disapproval of the proposal. Sir Henry Cotton, in closing the congress, announced his intention of proceeding to Calcutta to lay the resolutions before the viceroy.

WILL THERE BE REVOLT?

No native of India is so foolish or so blind as to underrate the many advantages which have been the result of the English dominion over his land. But it is his misfortune that his rulers deliberately refuse to appreciate the corresponding enlargement of the mental horizon which has taken place in the ruled. So hopeless is the prospect of reform in India from within twenty years ago General Gordon could sum up his view of the situation to Mr. Wilfrid Blunt in words no more encouraging

WILL HURT MILLS BUT HELP FARMERS

U. S. Customs Will Shortly Allow Import of Wheat in Bonds

VIEWS OF THE GRAIN MEN

Possible Effect on Canadian Wheat and Flour Trade Subject of General Discussion

Montreal, January 12.—The recent announcement by Secretary Shaw, of the United States Federal Government, that the Government will probably allow United States mills not only to grind Canadian wheat in bond, but also to mix it with American wheat, is causing considerable speculation in this city as to its possible effect upon the wheat and flour trade.

It is felt by the majority of grain forwarders in Montreal that the drawback will prove beneficial to Canadian growers, and any action which the Canadian Government should meditate in retaliation would provably meet with strong opposition on the part of the agricultural community.

The chief objections to the scheme, from a Canadian Standpoint is, of course, that certain work which could be done by the local milling companies now is performed in the United States. In addition to this, the American mills are advertising the mixture as Manitoba flour and are offering it on the British markets at a somewhat reduced rate, which, of course, militates against the Canadian article however superior its quality may be.

In addition to the above facts, the American miller will be able virtually to import wheat in bond and as the regulations are not expected to be very severe on the exportation of a similar grade wheat, the bonds will be released and the Canadian product will find its way into the United States market.

While this means increased demand for the Canadian wheat and will redound to the advantage of the Canadian farmer, the Canadian milling companies will suffer. The Canadian farmers will no longer be at their mercy, but will have two markets to go to instead of one. The effect will be to relieve the farmer of the necessity of holding his wheat some four or five months in the western elevators as he has a market right at his door in such large milling centres at Minneapolis and other western centres. The new measure, it is not thought, will increase the speculative price of wheat or change the market to any extent, as the law will be strict on this point and the duty on the raw product, wheat entering the United States will be just as forbidding as formerly.

The Canadian Government, on this account, would, it is generally believed, not dare to put an export tax on wheat in favor of Canadian millers.

In the meantime the eyes of Canadian brokers, forwarders and millers are turned to the United States The regulations have not as yet been issued, but are expected to be published almost any day.

These latter claims form the keystone to the richest discoveries in the district and give to this Company a stretch of property which is intersected by all known gold, copper and cobalt veins at Quartburg, which have been so highly productive in the Standard mine to the south and the Copperopolis to the north and west.

Nor has the development on the original claims, as owned by this Company, been neglected; already 400 feet of tunnelling has been completed and contracts let for 400 more as a result of the promising nature of the work, including one ton "T" rails, spikes, bolts, etc., as well as mining cars and supplies to carry forward the work this winter.

THE IDAHO PROPERTY.

No longer is the "Monument" Claim in the quasi state of uncertainty, and can now honestly be stricken from the field of "prospects" and justly be called a mine.

The shaft already sunk on ore to a depth of 200 feet and drifted from at three different levels in both directions for more than 1000 feet with trial stopes showing ore to be constant between levels, shows a condition which once and for all annihilates the muendoes of the pessimist.

In addition to the "Monument" Claim upon which careful estimate shows at least 50,000 tons of good ore already "blocked out" and ore bodies increasing in width in each successive level, there is an equally extensive ore deposit on the "True Blue" the character of which is even better than on the "Monument." All this without considering the "Watch Tower," "Pine Grove," "Midas," "U. S. Grant," "Red Fir," "Troy," or "Bunker Hill" quarts claims or the three placers. "Spring Flat No. 1, No. 2, No. 3," and the two mill sites "Monument" and "Watch Tower."

Taking into view the 200 acres already owned in Oregon, gives this Company nearly 500 acres in aggregate of mining property upon which is sufficient ore of milling grade to keep their mills in constant supply for a life time.

The management is systematically drawing in the lines of advance work, filling in any gaps that may have heretofore existed, and drawing into perfection the huge piece of mechanism which is involved in the operation of such an extensive property. Early summer sees all these preparations completed and milling will begin in an uninterrupted way. That all this may be consummated, supplies of every kind have been delivered at Meyer's Cove, (Singiser) so the work, with a full equipment of men will continue all winter.

absolutely perfect from the mining end, before the mill is started on continuous work, the Board of Directors has placed a limited amount of its secured Treasury Stock in the hands of Hibbs & Co., Fiscal Agents for the Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Company, at one dollar per share, full paid and non assessable.

The subscribers to this stock have secured to them the amount of money they have invested in this stock by being given a twenty-year, fully-paid gold bond of the North American Investment Company for the amount of their subscription. This bond guarantees the amount named on its face.

With the amount subscribed, assured to the subscriber, how can he suffer the loss of one cent?

Already the Company's storehouse is filled with a duplicate for all machinery parts used in the mill, hoist and mine, which not only adds to the Company's assets, but protects itself from every delay after milling has commenced. Tools of every description, together with powder and fuse in ton lots and fuse supplies to last until June next are already on the property.

The Company has official assurance of the installation of a U. S. Post Office at any time it may desire it, which means that the daily stage will come to its very door.

WHAT PRACTICAL AND SCIENTIFIC MEN HAVE TO SAY.

Following is the opinion of G. W. Miller, Mining Engineer, formally with Boston and Montana Consolidated Copper and Silver Mining Company, U. S.; Simmer and Jack Mining Company, Limited, Kimberley, South Africa:

"You have here a most valuable property and one of the strongest fissure veins that can be found in any part of the world.

"With the present development of the Monument Mine, I estimate that 100 tons per day can be extracted, which will mill from $15.00 to $20.00 per ton. The total cost of mining the ore, delivering and milling, I place at about $4.00 per ton. With increased milling capacity, it is safe to say that the mine can furnish 100 tons of $15.00 ore, which would yield a clear profit of $11.00 per ton, or $1,100.00 per day, (equal to $400,000.00 per annum). Estimated total value of ore in sight, $2,500,000."

During the past summer, a party of the Company Directors visited the property, taking with them, Amos P. Brown, Ph. D., Mining Engineer and Professor of Geology and Mineralogy at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Brown writes as follows:

"In regards to the amount of ore available at the mines at Singiser, I saw on the dumps several thousand tons, probably 5000 tons would be an underestimate.

"As to the size of the ore body itself, from what I saw of the geological structure, I think that there is every indication that it will be found to extend underground as far as the out-croppings on the south side of the gulch. This would mean an ore body large enough to keep the present mill running for many years to come.

Messrs. Thos. Patterson & Co., brokers, Simcoe street, will be pleased to furnish further information to prospective investors.

G. T. P. ORDERS RAILS IN GREAT BRITAIN

Report That English Firms are to Send Supply Creates Surprise and Incredulity

London, Jan. 12.—The Canadian Associated Press learns that the Grand Trunk Pacific has placed large orders for steel rails during the last few days with prominent firms in Great Britain.

The purchase of supplies outside of Canada is not absolutely prohibited by the terms of the G.T.P. contract, but it was stipulated that orders for materials should be given to home producers when the quality and price were as good and as low as those obtainable elsewhere. Tests made of Canadian produced rails were so satisfactory that it was understood that these would be acceptable to the Grand Trunk Pacific, while the ability of Canadian mills to supply the immediate demand at a reasonable figure was not seriously questioned. Consequently, the above despatch comes in the nature of a surprise.

OFFICIALLY REFUTED.

Ottawa, Jan. 12.—The Canadian Associated Press cable from London, which says that large rail orders have been placed in Britain by the G.T.P., is officially denied by the latter company.

AN EMPHATIC DENIAL.

Montreal, Jan. 12.—The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway management deny the statement contained in the Canadian Press despatch that they have placed large rail orders in Great Britain. The company has not come into the market for rails, and has not asked for quotations. It is pointed out that if the present market prices for steel rails declines, the English manufacturers, with a preference of $6.25 a gross ton, could compete with Canadian manufacturers for the market here.

The representative of the 300 rail mills have been in conference with the G.T.P., and it is expected that the first order for rails for the new trans-continental will go to the big Canadian mill.

the report that the Grand Trunk Pacific Company was placing large orders in England.

"The company is at present negotiating with us, and I have no doubt but that we will be able to fill all their requirements. Yesterday we booked an order of 7,000 tons of rails for the Pere Marquette Railroad."

PREVENT GERMANY FROM COMPETING

Strike of 210,000 Coal Miners Will Affect Many Allied Industries

Cologne, Germany, Jan. 12.—Both the coal miners and mine owners throughout the Westphalian district are preparing for a general strike. So far only 20,000, out of a total of 270,000 men concerned have gone out. The mine proprietors began rejecting requests yesterday, and so soon as their replies are received the miners, according to their previous decision, do not go to work when it is time for their next shift. The employers under the law fixing the relations of employer and employe, are notifying the miners to return to work or be discharged with the loss of six days' wages.

The miners at seven Dortmund works went out to-day. The proprietors affirm that they are unable to agree to the demands to include the time of going into and returning from the shafts in the wage period, nor can they make extensive alterations in draining the mines because the owners claim Germany would thereby lose her position in the international competitive field, both in coal itself and in manufactures by the use of coal. Some proprietors aver that the economic equilibrium is so delicate that the whole industrial fabric of Germany can be disarranged by charging more for coal than heretofore, while others contend that Germany could not, in the face of a change in price, compete with the Belgian and French producers. Only a week's supply of coal, it is further asserted, is in stock.

A SOCIAL WAR.

The matter is causing a tremendous discussion in the press, most of the influential newspapers of Cologne, Frankfurt, Dusseldorf, and Essen, setting forth the mine owners' position, while the Socialist periodicals proclaim that a social war is beginning. Herr Hue, a Socialist member of the Reichstag, in a speech at Essen, described the miners as working naked in water for the equivalent of 96 cents a day, cursed the overseers as lazy and fatally affected by a worm disease because their life is always in darkness.

"What difference does it make," asked Herr Hue, "whether we starve or not under such conditions? Let us strike with the iron fist, and if we perish let us at least be men."

The auditors of Herr Hue, miners in five shafts, have gone out on strike.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, excepting 8 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres more or less.

ENTRY

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situate, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES

A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act, and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

1] At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

2] If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), or any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

[3] If a settler was entitled to and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

[4] If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same town, township, or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of clause [2], [3] or [4] must cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, or substitute 20 head of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, and have besides 80 acres substantially fenced.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd of June, 1889.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled and the land may again be thrown open for entry.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT

Should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

INFORMATION

Newly arrived immigrants will receive, at the Immigration Office in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing lands to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Land Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands, to which the Regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Co.

INCORPORATED

Capital $5,000,000. Shares $1.00 Each, Par Value, Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable.

We have just secured the agency for the above splendid proposition, of which we have been allotted a block of Treasury stock. We can confidently recommend this as a safe and we believe, exceedingly profitable investment. Every dollar of stock is guaranteed by twenty year, full paid, gold bond, delivered to purchaser of stock, from an investment Company that has no interest whatever in the company, but who are disposing of the debentured bonds to the public, and, under their charter, they are compelled to deposit securities to an equal amount, to the State Treasurer under which they received their charter, there by doubly securing the payment of their gold bonds.

The Company's property, which is now past the project stage, is known to be marvellously rich in gold.

Following is the opinion of G. W. Miller, Mining Engineer, formerly with the Boston and Montana Consolidated Copper and Silver Mining Company, U. S.; Simmer and Jack Mining Co.'s, Limited, Kimberley, South Africa:—

"You have here a most valuable property and one of the strongest fissure veins that can be found in any part of the world.

"With the present development of the Monument Mine, I estimate that 100 tons per day can be extracted, which will mill from $15.00 to $20.00 per ton. The total cost of mining the ore, delivering and milling, I place at about $4.00 per ton. Stocks—The MARKETS OF THE WORLD—Grains

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

The Salido Gold and Copper Company

Incorporated under the laws of Arizona, with a capital of $3,oc ooo forever on-assessable divided into shares of $1 each, par value. All investments insured Granite Securities Company.

The "SALIDO GOLD COPPER COMPANY" enterprise offers attractions to the investors of the country, that without thorough investigation, would scarcely seem probable. If only a fraction is realized of what any prudent business man in his own affairs would regard as absolutely certain, the enterprise must prove abundantly successful and exceedingly profitable

SALE OF STOCK

The company will prosecute the work of development with all the diligence that the cash in the treasury will permit and circumstances warrant, and to this end a small amount of the treasury stock is now placed upon the market, in blocks of not less than One Hundred Shares. The par value of the stock is One Dollar per share, fully paid and forever non-assessable.

The company reserves the right to advance the price of stock without notice.

REMEMBER

First—That all payments for treasury stock go into the treasury for development work and not into the pockets of the promoters.

Second—There are no salaried officers.

Third—The incorporators have put their own good money into this enterprise and being business men, intend to do business along business lines

Fourth—That this company is honest.

Fifth—If you are thinking of investing in mining stocks this is worthy of your careful investigation.

OTHER PROPERTIES

This Company owns four other Gold and Copper Mines, wh ch title is now in process in the laws of Mexico. As soon as title is perfected, we shall commence to develop them as we certainly expect something very great from these properties. Our assays taken have been of the very best, showing gold and copper from $6.00 to $122. 30 per ton.

I have secured a small block of this stock, which I offer at the following prices: Unguaranteed 40 cents per share, guaranteed 80 cents per share. These prices will only prevail for a short time, as the number of shares for sale at this price is limited. The Shares will then be advanced to 40 cents for the unguaranteed and 80 cents for the guaranteed. I can unhesitatingly recommend this investment to the Canadian public.

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Rare Chance to Secure a Paying Investment

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY

has placed a small block of their stock at the disposal of Canadian investors. This stock is sure to rapidly advance in price. The Company is now arranging to instal the power plant and a mill and cyanide plant for the reduction of their ore to a bullion on the property. They have arranged with a Trust Company having assets of $1,500,000 to put up a bond guaranteeing investors the repayment of the full amount invested. This makes investors absolutely safe. By no possibility can they lose a dollar.

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY was organized November 21, 1902. under the laws of the State of Idaho. The capitalization is one million shares of the par value of one dollar each, fully paid and non-assessable; of the 1,000,000 shares. 400,000 have been set aside as treasury stock

THE BOISE BASIN came into prominence shortly after Grimes and his party of prospectors entered the Basin country in 1862; their entrance was into the northern portion, and one discovery of rich placer ground followed another until the news of the rich finds reached the outside world, when a veritable stampede for Boise Basin commenced. Towns sprang up and grew together in an incredibly short time; the rush of people to Idaho City made it a place of 20,000 people in 1867, having a business street over a mile long lined with two-story buildings streets and sidewalks filled with people day and night, business and money on every hand and the city bearing the proud distinction of being the capital of the territory of Idaho. Wages ran from $6 to $10 a day and not infrequently forty and fifty men worked on a single placer claim; the clean-up for a day's work in many instances ran close to $5,000; large fortunes were made in a few days by washing the golden sands in a pan, so eager was the quest for the shining metal that the streets of Idaho City were dug up and washed and re-washed, and the soil removed from under the houses and places of business So extensive was the search for the hidden treasure that not only all of the low ground was worked but the foot of the mountains surrounding the city have been washed away, filling up the lower portions of the basin and extending into the town, where one of the buildings has been buried under the tailings from the numerous placer workings.

LOCATION—The property of the Gold Coin Mining Company is situated in the Gambrinus Mining District, Boise County, Idaho, on the range of mountains between Moore Creek and Elk Creek, which forms a part of the eastern boundary of the famous Boise Basin and into which these mountains are drained The property is located ten miles northeast of Idaho City, from which place there are good wagon roads either to the workings on top of the mountain or to the place of the proposed tunnels in the gulch which crosses the Tunnelsite claim.

THE CLAIMS—The Company owns a group of four contiguous lode mining claims and the Gold Coin Millsite: the names of the lode claims are the Tunnelsite, Blue Bell, Pennsylvania and Homestake, each being a full claim 600 feet wide by 1,500 feet long, excepting the Tunnelsite claim, which is 450 feet wide at the west end and 1,055 feet long. It was necessary to stake the claim in this form on account of joining the Washington property on the south and the Sab Rosa property on the west, these properties being prior locations to the Tunnelsite claim. The four lode claims aggregate nearly 80 acres of rich mineral land.

THE COMING OF THE RUSSIAN JEWS

Prominent Zionist Speaks of the Causes of the Immigration

SOMETHING TO BE DONE

Definite and Statesmanlike Thing is to Furnish Them With Land of Their own

Montreal, January 11. — Discussing the presence of the Russian Jews in this city and the United States, and the steady flow of these immigrants from Europe to Western countries, a prominent Zionist of this city told the Star that the principal cause is the persecution meted out to the Jews in Russia, and he further stated that Zionists, as well as Christians, have recognized that a comprehensive scheme such as the Zionist movement is initiatint, is about the only thing which would alleviate the difficulties under which these people are laboring, and render them immune from further persecution.

"While American countries, and particularly Canada are pleased to offer them an asylum," he said, "yet common sense tells us that it is impossible for such a large influx of settlers to be handled without special organization and a special country provided for them. It is patent to Jews, as well as Christians, today, that some definite and statesmanlike measure must be adopted to furnish these people with a land of their own, where they will have an organized Government with all the necessary machinery for receiving and settling huge numbers at one time. Hundreds of thousands of Jews are on the move from Russia and Roumania, and local charity organization cannot possibly cope with such a big movement. Capital, and plenty of it, too—and a large quantity of land, must be the basis of the arrangement. This is what the Zionists have realized, and they are presently negotiating for Palestine, and also with respect to certain territory in East Africa. In connection with the settlement of this territory they purpose establishing a bank with a capital of $10,000,000 to begin with. Their scheme includes the handling of the immigrants in large numbers and heads of families will be assisted in settling on lands as agriculturists or in the establishment of industries of their own. In connection therewith, technical schools will also be founded for the proper training of the children of such communities. These are the views of a majority of the Zionists and a large number of Christians who have given any thought to this large question. They consider this proposal the only feasible plan by which this great question can be met in a statesmanlike way.

"Such a Jewish state would be an object lesson to the world, and the leaders recognise the fact that this is the time for them to carry out their plan—a time when large sections of Jews at a time are on the move, in search of a resting place."

REFUSED CERTAIN ORDERS

BECAUSE MACHINISTS DECLINED TO SIGN CONTRACTS

Official Statement Concerning the Situation at the Canada Foundry—Works Closed Down for Few Days as Usual for Stock Taking.

Toronto, January 9.—Mr. Frederic Nicholls, General Manager of the Canada Foundry Company, and the Canadian General Electric Company, gave The Globe the following statement:

"Statements having appeared in the press as to our works at Davenport, which are incorrect and misleading, we now desire to state the facts. As usual at this season of the year we have closed down in all departments for the taking of an inventory and the making of repairs. The men not necessary to the taking of inventory or making of repairs have been given a holiday and are being notified, from time to time, when to report for duty. This being the slack season with us it is necessary to reduce our staff and we paid off such of our men as would not be needed after the holidays on Saturday last.

"Recently we have been asked to figure on some large orders. Before quoting we obtained options on the material, and, as we did not care to undertake this work without knowing where we stood as to our labor, offered our men a year's contract at the present rate of wages, although it is higher than is being paid elsewhere in Toronto. We have to take the risk of finding sufficient work to keep them employed, and are compelled to continue the present rates even though reductions in wages might take place in this section, but we prefer not to enter into large contracts at close prices when we have to run the risk of loss through labor troubles. In other words, when figuring closely it is just as necessary to know in advance the cost of labor as the cost of material.

"Inasmuch as most of the machinists declined to make a year's agreement, we declined to tender on this contract. There was no coercion. We were willing to take contracts to afford steady employment to our men if they would agree to join us in taking contracts under present conditions. As some, in fact, the majority, preferred to do otherwise, as is their right, we preferred not to take onerous contracts without knowing our position in advance. The men were offered a year's steady employment, and if we now have to let some of them go, it is surely not the fault of the company, but we are still willing to make arrangements with a certain number of good machinists, and take our chances of providing steady employment for them."

PEACE MEDIATION

Appeals to be Made to the Czar and Mikado

London, January 11. — The Daily News announces an "important step in the cause of peace mediation," which it says consists of a proposal for a series of meetings in Paris, and London, and, it is hoped, in the United States and Scandinavia, for the purpose of passing identical resolutions in favor of mediation, to be followed by appeals to the Czar and Mikado. The movement was initiated by members of the International Arbitration Society. A committee has been formed and it is communicating with Dr. Strous, of New York, and Dr. Mead, of Boston, with the view of holding simultaneous metings, the date for which is suggested as Feb. 8.

JAPS ON THE ALERT

Cruisers Said to be Approaching Madagascar

London, January 11. — The Port Louis correspondent of the Daily Mail says that the British cruiser Forte, which is at that port, intercepted a number of cipher wireless messages from strange warships. The nationality using the cipher has not been fully decided yet, but the messages are believed to be in a Japanese code. There have been reports from the eastward that Japanese cruisers are approaching. Nothing more has been seen or heard of the Baltic fleet, and it is believed that it is seeking shelter somewhere off the coast of Madagascar or among

This Company is the owner of 70,000 acres of very rich, fertile lands in the Province of Pinar del Rio, Cuba This land is suitable to the growth of the finest quality of tobacco, oranges, lemons, pineapples and other citrons fruits.

A small portion of this estate produced last year a large percentage on the total authorized capital of this company.

One acre produced last year $2700 in tobacco. The revenue-producing powers of this estate will not be reduced by sale of lands, as the cultivated portion will be increased by additional plantation.

The lands offered for sale can be made as productive within a short period as those at present cultivated.

The estate is abundantly watered by numerous streams and fresh water springs.

The climate is one perpetual June, no fogs, no mists, no yellow fever.

Flowers bloom the year round.

Game and fish abound.

The temperature is even, so that catarrh is unheard of.

Abundance of water and perpetual grass makes stock raising an assured success.

New York markets are at its command for all its products.

The estate borders upon Gaudiana Bay, with a sea frontage of about twelve miles and a deep water, sheltered harbor.

Cuba has only now become open to modern development, and its progress is sure to be rapid.

This is the opportunity for the man of small means to obtain a home and subsequent wealth, for the man of means to obtain a profitable investment.

This Company is now offering land in blocks of 10 acres or more at $10 00 per acre.

Stock at par or scrip entitling the owner to an option to take land at $10.00, or stock at par, for a limited period

Only 10,000 acres will be offered at $10.00 per acre, of which 2,000 acres are already sold

The second 10,000 acres will be sold at $20.00 per acre or over within a few months.

The balance of the estate to be disposed of 30,000 acres, will be raised to $50 00 per acre or over.

As the price of land is raised the price of stock will also advance.

Purchase now and save money.

Terms—25 per cent cash; 25 per cent. 30 days; 25 per cent. 60 days; 25 per cent. 90 days.

CATARRH

Don't Drug the Stomach — Breathe Nature's Remedy, Catarrhozone — Both Pleasant and Easy to Use. A Guarantee of Cure goes with it.

Catarrhozone always cures because it reaches the cause of the disease quickly and thoroughly. Its healing vapor penetrates the minutest air cells of the nasal passages, throat and lungs. It attacks the cause of the disease direct, and doesn't work in a round about way through the stomach.

The antiseptics in Catarrhozone kill the germs that cause catarrh. It clears the nostrils, cures headache and foul breath. It prevents droppings in the throat, allays inflammation. Catarrhozone now.

So certain is Catarrhozone to remove and cure that doctors, ministers and public speakers keep it as their standby for coughs, colds, catarrh and throat trouble. Because it lasts so long it is cheap, and as it is sure to cure often the poorest can afford to buy it.

Mrs. J. A. Morris, of Perth, Ont., writes, "I cannot withhold my testimony for Catarrhozone. It cured my daughter of chronic catarrh and I therefore heartily recommend it to all sufferers. No house should be without Catarrhozone.

Why not use Catarrhozone? It cures colds in a few hours, and no case of catarrh can withstand it. Catarrhozone cures by the inhalation of medicated air which goes to all parts of the lungs, throat and breathing organs. A pleasant, certain, quick cure follows the use of Catarrhozone, which is guaranteed under all conditions to cure catarrh in any part of the system.

Two months' treatment, hard rubber inhaler and extra liquid costs only one dollar; sample size 25c. Sold by all druggists or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., or Hartford, Conn., U.S.A. Ormation, heals sore spots and running at the nose.

NOW IS THE TIME TO ENTER

Broke Through Ceiling

On Tuesday last one of the young lady employes of Messrs. Thomas Barrie & Co., the well known furriers, met with a rather peculiar accident. It appears a board on the floor on the upper flat had been taken up to fix the electric light wires, and the young lady stepped into the opening, and would have fallen through, only she managed to save herself by clinging to the sides of the opening. Beyond a few scratches made by the broken lathes and plaster on the ceiling below, she happily received no further injuries.

Stuck in Snow Bank

On Tuesday last Mr. F. D. Kerr, the well-known Liberal campaigner, started to drive to Apsley, where he was to have addressed a meeting in the interests of Mr. Wm. Anderson. When he got a few miles above Young's Point, the mountains of snow which were piled up on the roadway, caused great trouble. While trying to break through the drifts, the horses took it into their heads that they had gone far enough, and managed to get away from the driver, and started for home at a two-minute clip, leaving Mr. Kerr and his companion up to their necks in a snow drift. The animals headed for Young's Point, but were stopped after proceeding a mile or two. Mr. Kerr and his driver took refuge in Mr. Northey's, where they had dinner, after which they started on foot for Young's Point, where they found their horses. They then returned to town.

BIG SUIT FOR DAMAGES

Mr. E. B. Stone, Formerly of Town, Acting in Galt Case

Mr. E. B. Stone, of London, formerly a well known Peterborough lawyer, has entered suit against Jaffray Brothers, Limited, publishers of the Galt Reporter, for an alleged libel contained in an article in that paper bearing on the flotation of the Western Cordage Company, of London. Mr. Stone was one of the promoters of the company, which, it is declared, was injured by what that journal said. The suit grew out of a series of binder twine articles published by the Reporter at various times since Feb. 1st, 1901.

A large number of witnesses have been subpoenaed for the case, which opens to-day before Justice Meredith in London. Mr. George C. Gibbons, Western Ontario's leading barrister, will conduct the case for the defence. Great interest exists among binder twine manufacturers as to the outcome of the suit.

DEATH OF WALTER JOHNSTON

At the Nichols Hospital, After Twelve Weeks Illness from Typhoid Fever

A sad death occurred at the Nicholls Hospital yesterday morning, when Walter Johnston, son of Mr. Joseph Johnston, 90 Chamberlain street, passed away at the early age of 12 years. For the past twelve weeks, deceased has been at the Nicholls Hospital, where he was under treatment for typhoid fever. After he recovered from that disease, an operation had to be performed on one of his legs, and owing to weakness from his long illness he was not able to endure the strain and gradually sank until death came. He was a very popular boy, and was a member of the Park street Baptist church.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the family residence 90 Chamberlain treet, to the Little Lake cemetery for interment.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

Mrs. John Speer, Honored by Mark Street Ladies' Aid Society

A most enjoyable social event took place last evening, when the active and associate members of Mark street Ladies' Aid gathered at the home of Mr. John Speer, on Munro avenue, and presented Mrs. Speer with a beautiful china cocoa set. The following address was read by Mrs. S. Taylor, president of the society, and Mrs. J. G. Lewis, vice-president, made the presentation:

To Mrs. Speer:

Dear Friend,—The Ladies' Aid of Mark street church felt they could not allow the happy occasion of your marriage to pass without expressing to you in some slight way the good feeling that exists toward you and the wish that you may be spared to many years of happiness and continued usefulness in the Master's work. In asking you to accept this token of our good wishes, we do so that it may prove a tangible expression to you of the high esteem in which you are held amongst us. Our prayer is that God's blessing may rest on you in your new home and throughout life, and that finally we may all meet to spend the great future in the Better Home above. Signed on behalf of the Ladies' Aid of Mark street church.

WILLENA TAYLOR, President.
EVA BOWERS, Secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Speer responded in words of warm appreciation. Dainty refreshments were served and, after a most delightful social evening, the gathering broke up with renewed and hearty expressions of best wishes for a long and happy life for the newly wedded pair.

ST. LUKE'S BIBLE CLASS

Held at Residence of Mr. J. J. Turner, Jr. and Elect Officers

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Turner entertained the Bible class of St. Luke's church on Tuesday evening, at their residence. Mr. Turner is the efficient teacher of the class. The annual meeting was held at the same time, the proceedings being opened with prayer by the esteemed rector of the church, Rev. Mr. Langfeldt. After reading the minutes of the last meeting, and the transaction of some business, the election of officers was proceeded with as follows.

Hon. President—Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, M.A.
Pres.—Mr. J. J. Turner, jr.
Vice-Pres.—Miss Mabel Scott.
Secretary—Mr. W. P. Turner.
Treasurer—Miss Florence Butcher.
Sick and Visiting Committee—Miss Gaskins, Miss Cochrane and Miss Calcutt.
Organist—Miss K. Calcutt.

Mr. J. J. Turner, jr., was also elected delegate for the forthcoming Diocesan church Sunday school convention, to be held in Toronto, on Feb. 7th and 8th.

Reference was made to the leaving of Miss Addie Armstrong, a faithful member of the class.

Rev. Mr. Langfeldt made a few remarks commending the zeal and loyalty of Mr. Turner. He personally was much indebted to Mr. Turner for the faithful assistance he received from him in church work. He also thanked Mr. and Mrs. Turner on behalf of the class for their kind hospitality and the many opportunities afforded the class of spending pleasant hours with in their hospitable home.

Social games were then indulged in and refreshments served. After a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Turner, and the Singing of "Auld Lang Syne," and God Save the King, the meeting closed.

JAPAN CANNOT STOP UNTIL RUSSIA PLEADS FOR PEACE

Kouropatkin Declares Russians Had Made Port Arthur Fortress Too Strong for Japanese --Masters of Seas in the East.

New York, Jan. 13.—Baron Kaneko returned to this city yesterday from Washington. In an interview he stated that he does not look for peace, says the Tribune.

"Surely no proposal would come from us, and the Russians declared some time ago that they would dictate the terms," he said.

"When after the Chinese-Japanese war we took possession of Port Arthur, it was said that Japan must evacuate Manchuria to preserve the peace of Asia. We did so because we were anxious to preserve the peace of Asia. But now it has become necessary again to occupy Port Arthur for the same reason that caused us to leave it.

A GREAT FEAT.

"The capture of Port Arthur was a great achievement for my country and the civilized country generally benefited by it. Time without number the Russians have at Port Arthur disregarded the sign of the Red Cross, which in all civilized country has always been regarded with almost sacred reverence. They have persistently fired on Red Cross burying parties, and have retarded whenever possible the proper care of the wounded. This matter will probably be brought before the Geneva Red Cross convention when the war is ended.

"I recall now a remark made by General Kuropatkin on the occasion of his visit to Tokio a year ago last May. He had been most hospitably received and feted. Every possible attention was shown him. Just before his departure he was presented to one of our heroes of the war with China—you will pardon me if I refuse to give his name.

CAN'T TAKE FORTRESS.

"'Well,' said General Kuropatkin, 'you captured Port Arthur at that time, but you could not do it now for we have fortified it too strongly.'

"The Japanese, who was more polite than the Russian officer, made no reply. What a satisfaction it must have been for our hero when, despite that boast, the Japanese took what Kuropatkin thought was an impregnable fortification.

"We are now absolute masters of the sea in the east. Port Arthur Vladivostock, Dalny, and Newchwang are all shut to Russia, and the only means left for her forces to obtain supplies is by land by way of the trans-Siberian railroad.

CAN'T SUPPLY THEM.

"But the facilities which this road offers are far too inadequate to supply properly 300,000 soldiers with food and clothing. Because of the terribly severe cold weather at present prevailing in Manchuria it is not possible to carry on the land hostilities. They will probably be resumed in March with the exception perhaps of slight skirmishes. The cold is so intense that the soldiers are compelled to wear thick gloves which prevent them from handling their guns as they would otherwise. They take shelter in roofed trenches.

"The Japanese line extends over 20 miles front, with Marshal Oyama in the center. General Oku on the left, and General Kuroki on the right. Marshal Oyama is on the Shakhe River in the north, and when the fighting resumes the Russians will try to prevent his advance to Mukden, where the decisive battle might be fought.

"It seems to me that the moral effect of the victory of the Japanese forces at Port Arthur will be a great factor in the future land operations. It will tend to inspire the Japanese to a greater effort, while, on the other hand, the news of their defeat will discourage the Russians."

FLED RATHER THAN FIGHT FOR RUSSIA

Russian Refugees now in Montreal Were in the Reserves

LEFT FAMILIES BEHIND

Will Try and Make New Homes in This Country—Scene at de Hirsch Institute

Montreal, January 12.—The scene at the Baron de Hirsch Institute is one worthy of an institution bearing the name of a philanthropist so great hearted.

In one room ladies of the Hebrew Ladies' Aid Association are sorting out woollen garments for children in another the kindergarten class were going through an animated musical drill; while in the big hall without scores of the Russian Jew immigrants looked wistfully on at the little ones.

RUSSIAN RESERVISTS.

These men, with good honest faces, neatly clad and strong of physique, are mainly reservists, who have escaped from Russia, and who have left their wives and families behind them until they can send home for them. Almost all are farmers.

They appreciate the kindness of their brethren here in providing for them, but all would prefer to get work of any kind rather than depend upon the charity of the institute. They have not the appearance of people used to alms, as they stand about the institute, scores of them with quiet, subdued faces and eager eyes.

FEELING GTOWS STRONGER.

One of these, Nehemia Shiemin, a farmer from Katrinaslov province, was interviewed by the Star representative this morning, Mr. A. Goldstein acting as interpreter. He has served one prescribed period in the Russian army, and had then been placed on the reserve list. But the reserves were being called out to war in province after province before Shaimin left Russia, and he felt it better to come out here to make a home for his family than be killed in battle.

There are thousands of others like him, he says. They have no dislike for the Japanese, and no sympathy with the Russian government, so they did not want to fight. The feeling in some of the provinces against the calling of the reserves was intense. It is not a war that evokes patriotic spirit, and the wives and mothers and sisters in one village—a human obstacle hundreds of yards long—to prevent the train moving away with the men. They were finally removed by the gens d'armes, and the train steamed away with its unwilling burden, leaving the despairing women behind.

"Have you a family in Russia?" Shaimin was asked.

"Yes, a wife and three small children."

"How will they live now while you are away?" The question was no sooner asked than regretted. The man's face, and it was a strong one, was moved from its calm.

"God alone knows that," he said, with emotion; and, turning to the interpreter, "it is winter now; there is not much for them on the farm. Sometimes, too, they are roughly handled by the Russians. And there are many like that."

Small wonder that the men crowding the halls of the institute have such grave faces; there is not only the deferred hope of work, but the uncertainty of their friends' welfare in Russia.

MEETS WITH PREJUDICE.

Mr. A. Goldstein, who is devoting himself to the work every day and far into the night, says that a good deal of prejudice has been met with in seeking work for the men. They are deemed to have less claim to their day's bread than a Christian has, he says, although they are strangers in the country. After a most energetic search throughout the town yesterday, work was obtained for only 37 men out of 700, and an outcry was raised because a few had been given work by the corporation. They are mostly all farmers and would prefer agricultural work, but as the committee can see no possible opening in that way until spring, the men are willing to take any kind of work that offers

IN NEED OF CLOTHING.

A few have some money, that they kept hidden about their person, but some have any extra clothing, because in escaping across the Russian border they would not have been permitted to pass if they had the appearance of going on a journey. In many cases the Cossack guards were bribed. A Hebrew student at McGill University drove about the city last week to the different Jewish families and collected a great deal of clothing for some of the poorly-clad.

The relief committee expects soon to receive more money from charitable Hebrew organizations in Europe, the local funds being unable to meet all the demands upon them. About $900 weekly is being expended for food and shelter for them.

Last night the passers-by on Bleury street were drawn by the crowds assembled in front of the Institute. Almost seven hundred men were waiting there to receive the small sums given each. Steps are being taken to provide large shelter homes for the men in each, accommodating about 100 men. They are now staying in smaller lodging houses.

STOP INFLUX OF JEWS.

A deputation from the relief committee of the Baron de Hirsch Institute companies are in Ottawa today in conference with Deputy Minister Corry, of the Interior Department, to consider what steps should be taken to stop the influx of Russian who are coming across the border from the United States.

178 came across last Friday to Montreal, having come in bond by a Cunard liner to New York.

A letter was received last week at the Institute from Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who was in receipt of a communication from Mayor Laporte regarding the Institute's letter to the Mayor.

In his letter Sir Wilfrid states that aid is given by the Government only to immigrants of the agricultural class.

In reply the committee has addressed a letter to Sir Wilfrid, stating that their letter to the Mayor of Montreal was solely with the intention of trying to obtain work for the immigrants. They did not expect that teh letter would be published, nor did they desire to raise any public outcry. The Institute will not allow the immigrants to become a public charge, all they want for them being work.

ADDITION TO THE EMPIRE

Britain Takes Over 4,000 Square Miles in Central Africa.

Blantyre, British Central Africa, Jan. 12.—Without the firing of a shot or the shedding of a drop of blood, Sir Alfred Sharpe, Commissioner for the British Central African Protectorate, has taken over Northern Angoniland on behalf of the Government. This territory which lies to the north west of Lake Nyassa, has an area of about 4,000 square miles and a population of nearly 200,000.

Owing to the incompetence of the paramount chief, the country was gradually relapsing into a condition of barbarism. Sir Alfred Sharpe, therefore called a meeting of the chiefs, who attended in full war paint and induced them to receive a Government official empowered to see that all disputes were settled in accordance with justice.

A hut tax is to be levied on the natives, but not until the lapse of two years.

MRS. CHADWICK'S JEWELS

Customs Officers Have Traced Gems to Their Holders

Cleveland, Ohio, January 12.—The United States customs officials have nearly completed their investigation into the amount of jewellery Mrs Chadwick is alleged to have smuggled into this country. Practically every bit of the jewellery the woman has purchased in the last few years has been traced and the officers know whose hands it is now in. It is said that Mrs. Chadwick made purchases in jewels to the extent of $200,000, and fully $70,000 of this was purchased abroad and no duty ever paid upon it. The amount of the duty supposed to be due will aggregate between $5,000 and $6,000.

Notices were sent out today ordering those now holding the jewellery to report to the collector and pay the duty.

Dr. Chadwick had a conference with his wife yesterday.

On returning to New York, Nathan Looser, receiver for Mrs. C. L. Chadwick, said he had received considerable information regarding her assets, and that property now in his possession should bring, if sold, about $100,000. There are mortgages on this property aggregating $42,000.

End of an Alaskan Feud

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 13.—Word was received here last night of the killing of William Dippe by Robert Ball, on Fox Island, in Southeastern Alaska, on January 2. The men were friends and associates in some marble properties close to the scene of the shooting until a few months ago, when they had a business disagreement, which resulted in a personal encounter in this city, in which Ball was worsted. Since that time they have been bitter enemies, and it is said each had made threats to kill the other.

Wingham Veteran Dead

Wingham, Ont., Jan. 13.—Mr. Samuel Youill, for over thirty years a resident of this town, has just died from the result of a stroke of paralysis. He had been engaged in the insurance and real estate business, and is survived by a grown-up family, most of whom are now residing in the United States. Mr. J. A. McFeggen, of the Dominion Express Company, Toronto, is a son-in-law of the deceased. Mr. Youill had reached the age of seventy-nine years. The funeral is to take place here to-day.

LOSING SPIRIT BY LONG DELAY

Russians at Mukden Fighting With Less Vigor—Kouropatkin to Blamed

Tokio, Jan. 13.—Information which has reached certain reliable quarters here states that the Russian generals in Manchuria are losing confidence in General Kouropatkin, and that the Russian situation around Mukden is serious. It is feared that if General Kouropatkin attacks the Japanese position along the Sha River he will court disaster, and that his further retreat will mean the demoralization of his army. This information goes on to say that there is constant bickering at Russian Manchurian headquarters, and that the soldiers are discontented, dissatisfaction beginning with the series of retreats after the Battle of Telissu, and the withdrawal from Liao-Yang, when it was believed it was possible to hold that place. The climax came with the Russian defeat at the battle of Sha River, following General Kouropatkin's strongly worded order directing the forward movement dated Oct. 3. This defeat brought a storm of criticism upon the Commander-in-Chief, and resulted in discord among the officers.

Long delay in action, the information alleged is undermining the morals of the Russian army, and it is pointed out that recent skirmishes and outpost brushes indicate that the Russian soldiers are becoming disheartened as they do not show their former fighting spirit or qualities.

The siege guns to be sent to Manchuria from Port Arthur will probably be placed in advanced positions for the purpose of enabling the Japanese to shell far into the Russian

Port Said, Egypt, Jan. 13.—The division of Russian warships commanded by Rear-Admiral Botrovsky, which left Suda Bay, Island of Crete, Sunday, has been sighted heading for this port.

Later in the day the seven ships under Admiral Botrovsky's command, arrived here.

The Russian Minister, accompanied by Captain Schwank, of the Russian navy, boarded the flagship Oleg. After signing the necessary declarations the vessels will be allowed a limited quantity of coal.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 13.—M. Muravieff, Minister of Justice, has resigned. He will go to Rome as Ambassador in place of Prince Ouroussoff. M. Witte will become Prime Minister and Minister of the Interior. The Grand Duke Sergius will resign and Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky, recently Minister of the Interior, will become Governor of the Caucasus.

An important meeting of the Ministerial Council was held to-day to decide the question of the freedom of the press.

It is reported that M. Witte will accept the Ministry of the Interior only upon condition that he be allowed to enter into negotiations with Japan with a view to peace. The report is displeasing to Russians of all classes of opinion except the Radicals.

ATHLETIC WORLD

BY OUR SPORTING EDITOR

In the city league games last night, the Karnots and Farriers won out by good scores against their respective opponents, the Verniers and Earl Greys. The first match was between the Karnots and Verniers, and better hockey was displayed than in the second game, but too much rough play was indulged in, the Verniers resorting altogether too frequently to this style of game. The Karnots won out by ten goals to two, the half-time score being 8—0.

For the Karnots, Kingscote in goal showed up in good form, and turned away a number of hot ones. Grose, Gilman and Campbell played a strong game on the forward line. Campbell scored four of the Karnots' goals, Gilman three, Grose two and Mulhern one.

For the Verniers, McGrath and Miller were the most conspicuous. The latter scored the goals for the Verniers.

Mr. Harry Morgan acted as referee.

JAPANESE CAPTURED 545 GUNS AT PORT ARTHUR

They Also Secured 82,670 Shells and Over Two Million Rounds of Rifle Ammunition, 30,000 Kilos of Powder.

Special to The Times

Tokio, Jan. 13.—General Nogi reports that the Japanese captured at Port Arthur 546 guns, 82,670 shells, 30,000 kilos of powder, and 2,200,800 rounds of rifle ammunition.

WHY STOESSEL PAROLED

Did Not Stay With Men Because He Must Report of the Defence of the Fortress to the Emperor.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 13.—The War Office explains that the reason for Lieutenant-General Stoessel giving his parole and returning to Russia, instead of remaining at the head of the heroic troops who formed the garrison of Port Arthur and sharing their fate as a prisoner of war in Japan, is that it is incumbent upon him to bring a detailed report of the defence of the fortress to the Emperor. Rear-Admiral Lockinsky, who is senior naval officer, will bring the naval report.

FLEET CRAWLING ON

The Third Division of the Russian Second Pacific Squadron Has Arrived at Suez.

Port Said, Jan. 13.—Rear-Admiral Botovsky's division of the second Russian Pacific squadron entered the canal at noon. Its destination is uncertain but it is probably Madagascar by way of Jibutil, French Somailland. The warships were only permitted to ship a thousand tons of coal among the seven ships, besides taking on board provisions.

PREFER GENERALS

The Japanese Pleased That the United States Sends High Officers to the Front.

Tokio, Jan. 13.—The Japanese War Office has notified American Minister Griscom that it will be pleased to permit Gen. MacArthur and one aide-de-camp to accompany the army of Japan in Manchuria. At present two British generals are accompanying the troops, and satisfaction is expressed at America's action in also sending an officer of such high rank

LOOK FOR AN ATTACK

Baltic Fleet Officers Expect to Meet Jap Squadron in the Indian Ocean—Carries a Double Crew

London, Jan. 13.—The Port Louis, Mauritius, correspondent of the Daily Mail says that Vice-Admiral Volkersam, commanding a division of the Russian Baltic fleet, informed the commander of the steamer Onus that he expected to be attacked in the Indian Ocean by the Japanese. He asked for a chart of the harbor of Diego Saures, Madahascar. He said he believed the Baltic fleet would call at Mahe, in the Seychelle Islands.

It is reported that the tugboat Russ, which took provisions to Tamatave, Madagascar, on January 4, has a double crew of Russians and Germans. The vessel is sometimes Russian and sometimes German, according as it is deemed necessary, the sailors of either nationalities posing as passengers.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 13.—The Admiralty has not given the slightest official confirmation of the report of the recall of Vice-Admiral Rojestvenskaky's squadron.

On the contrary, the officials point clamly to the preparations being made to reinforce the squadron, with a division of the third Pacific squadron as sufficient evidence that Rojestvensky will not return to European waters. The Russianice-breaker Ermak at Libau has been ordered to keep the channel clear for the ships which are being made ready for sea.

Paris, Jan. 13.—Vice-Admiral Doubassoff, the Russian member of the North Sea Commission, is quoted by the Echo de Paris as having stated in an interview that he had submitted to Emperor Nicholas a program for a re-organization of the navy, which is absolutely indispensable for success in the war with Japan. Twenty months will be necessary for its execution. Admiral Doubassoff thought the prospect for Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron was hopeless. He unhesitatingly declared that he considered a provisional peace would shortly be probable. Japan retaining Port Arthur and the territories which she has occupied. Russia meanwhile, the Admiral held, would prepare an invincible fleet for future effort.

Earl Grey Opens Parliament Speech From The Throne

Autonomy For the Territories Chief Item in the Federal Legislative Programme.

Ottawa, Jan. 12.—The weather conditions were far from ideal for the opening of Parliament this afternoon. The heavy snowfall of last night was followed this morning by a steady drizzle of rain. But it would have taken more than sleet to keep the crowd away from the brilliant ceremonies attendant upon the inauguration of a new Parliament. The galleries were crowded full to overflowing long before the time set for the opening and the assemblage on the floor has seldom been surpassed for brilliancy. A peculiar interest was lent to the occasion through its being Earl Grey's first session. Among the guests was the Lieutenant-Governor of the State of Virginia, Hon. Mr. Willard, whom Sir Wilfrid Laurier met during his visit to Hot Springs the winter before last. There has not been such a crush for tickets of admission in the last ten years.

The vice-regal party was accompanied by a cavlary escort from Government House and Parliament Hill. They were met upon their arrival at the Parliament House by a guard of honor and a salute from the guns of Nepean Point battery. The speech with which Earl Grey opened the sessional proceedings was as follows;

THE ADDRESS.

"Hon. gentlemen of the Senate, gentlemen of the House of Commons, I desire on this occasion to assure you how sensible I am of the great honor conferred on me by the King in appointing me to the distinguished position of Governor-General. My pleasure in being called upon to represent his Majesty in the Dominion has been heightened by the cordial welcome I have received on all sides and from all classes.

"This favored land, with its vast resources and improving facilities for transportation, is attracting people on an ever ascending scale, not only from the United Kingdom, but also from the United States and from many other countries. As the opportunities for settlement under the advantageous conditions, which exist are better known, this Dominion will become the home of an increasing number of happy and contented people whose character and prosperity will add strength to the great Empire of which you are so important a part.

"It is gratifying to note that the trade of the Dominion, which in recent years has so steadily increased, is not diminishing, the aggregate trade for the last fiscal year being the largest on record. The revenue for the past six months is also greater than for the corresponding period of the preceding year.

"On the invitation of the President of the United States my Government has joined in the formation of an International Commission composed of three representatives from each country to investigate and report upon the conditions and uses of the waters adjacent to the boundary line between the United States and Canada, and to make such recommendations for improvement and regulations as shall best subserve the interest of navigation in said waters.

BILL OF AUTONOMY.

"The rapid growth in the population of the North-West Territories during the past two years justifies the wisdom of conferring on these Territories Provincial autonomy, a bill for that purpose will be submitted for your consideration.

"The surveys necessary for the location of the line of the National Trans continental Canadian Railway are being vigorously prosecuted, and it is confidently believed that tenders for the construction of several sections may be invited during the coming season.

"The display of Dominion products made last year at the St. Louis Exhibition proved such a marked success in attracting emigrants to the Western prairies, that it is proposed to accept the invitation of the Government of Belgium to send sample of our products and manufactures, to the exhibition to be shortly held at Liege.

"Gentlemen of the House of Commons, the accounts of the last year will be laid before you. It will be satisfactory to you to learn that the expenditure has been less than the revenue, leaving a surplus over all charges.

"The estimates for the coming year will be submitted at an early date, they have been prepared with a due regard for economy consistent with the development of the resources of the Dominion.

"Hon. gentlemen of the Senate, gentlemen of the House of Commons, I invite your best attention to the subjects I have mentioned, and invoke the divine blessing on your deliberations."

SECOND GAME.

In the second game the quality of hockey was not up to that of the first. The Farriers proved too much for their opponents, who failed to make a score, while the Farriers tallied five. The half-time score being 3—0.

For the Earl Greys, G. Cameron played a hard, steady game, while H. Long and R. Smith were the shining lights for the Farriers. H. Long three, G. Nichols one and A. Long one, did the scoring for the Farriers. Mr. E. Wasson handled the bell.

Following was the line up;

A HOT GAME.

There will be a hot game at the rink to-night when Lindsay will play the return game with the local. Wednesday night in Port Perry that team defeated Lindsay by 4—2. So that in the three games already played in this district the local team has made decidedly the best showing. The visitors, however are confident of putting it over the home brews, and are running a special train to convey the big crowd of supporters, who will accompany them. The Peterborough team has been doing overtime and are in good condition. Chels. Graham will be on the line-up again, and the boys can be depended upon to disappoint the Lindsay bunch. The game will be a corker. Tickets can be had at Sanderson's jewelery store and Fred Clarkes fur store.

Brace Up—Vitalize Nerves and Blood With

FERROZONE

The Effect is Instant—Makes You Snap and Dance With Vitality

Your appetite is gone.

What little you eat brings no satisfaction.

You're getting blue and melancholy—you can't rest or sleep.

Nervous prostration is staring you in the face.

Your unstrung nerves can only be nourished back to health by a nerve tonic like Ferrozone. It cures weakness of the inner nerves, gives vitality and strength to the blood and nervous system, makes all the organs work in harmony.

The following experience of Mrs. D. P. Courtland, of Myrtle, proves the prompt action of Ferrozone.

"I had no nerve strength.

"My appetite was poor and my system was out of order.

"I felt weak and dispirited, was tired out the whole day long.

"Did Ferrozone help me?

"It gave me strong nervous system, a good appetite, and abundance of health."

Ferrozone contains concentrated nourishment you can't get in any other way. No other medicine benefits so quickly. 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers in Medicine, or Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

NORTH MONAGHAN COUNCIL

Inaugural Meeting Held on Monday Last in Town Hall

The council-elect of the township of North Monaghan met in the town hall on Monday, Jan. 5th, at 1.30 p.m.

There were present: Messrs. Jos. Madill, reeve; and J. Brown, R. Fowler, J. Holmes and J. Morrow, councillors.

After the statutory declarations of qualification and office had been made and subscribed to, the council organized for the transaction of public affairs, the reeve in the chair.

The minutes of the two preceding meetings were read and confirmed.

Communications were received and read from: The Municipal World, asking for subscriptions for 1905; Peterborough Times, asking for the township printing for 1905; J. Ross Robertson, soliciting a grant to the Sick Children's Hospital in Toronto; G. H. May, resigning membership of local Board of Health; account from Dr. Greer, Medical Health Officer of the township, for attendance at various times, $20.

An application for the position of assessor was received from Mr. H. J. Forster, at a salary of $35.

It was moved by Mr. Holmes and seconded by Mr. Morrow, that the clerk is hereby instructed to subscribe for six copies of the Municipal World, one copy to be sent to each member of the council and one to the clerk, and that an order be drawn on the treasurer for the sum of $5.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Brown and Fowler, that an order be drawn upon the treasurer for the sum of $5 as a grant to the Sick Children's Hospital.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Holmes and Brown, that the account of Dr. Greer be passed and paid.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Brown and Morrow, that the account of John Tully, $13.20, for gravel, as rendered at the last meeting of the council be paid.—Carried.

On motion of Messrs. Brown and Morrow, a committee, consisting of Councillor Brown and Holmes, was appointed to let the contract for the township printing for 1905.

The clerk was instructed to send a dull account of the expenditure of North Monaghan upon the Cavan boundary road for 1904, to the county auditors.

By-law No. 544 to appoint auditors, 545, to appoint member of the Board of Health, 546, to appoint an assessor, and 547, to appoint caretaker of the township hall, were then introduced, given their necessary readings, and finally passed, signed and sealed.

In committee of the whole council, on the second readings of these by-laws, the following appointments were made: Auditors, Jas. R. Bell, and Jas. Lynch, jr., at a salary of $5 each; member of Board of Health, H. C. Robertson; Assessor, H. J. Forster, at a salary of $35; caretaker, R. Sanderson, at a salary of $7.50.

It was decided to leave the matter of opening snow roads, if necessary, in the hands of the road commissioners, the cost of the same to be charged against the commutation tax in each district respectively.

On motion of Messrs. Brown and Fowler, the reeve was appointed to arrange with the collector to have all outstanding taxes paid in and returns duly made to the township treasurer forthwith.

The council then adjourned until the second Monday in February, at 1.30 p.m.

KEENE.

—The Council elections for 1905 which were held on Monday, Jan. 2nd, resulted as follows: Reeve, Jno. Fife, (acclamation); Councillors, Jno. Carey, Howson, Stewart and Porter.

—Mr. Anderson, the Liberal candidate for East Peterborough, held a meeting in the Town Hall, Keene, on Jan. 4th. Hon John Dryden, (Minister of Agriculture) spoke for a time in the interest of Mr. Anderson. He was ably assisted by Col. E. B. Edwards, of Peterborough. The seating capacity was not taxed to its utmost.

—Mr. T. J. Wallace, of Peterborough, was in the village on Thursday.

—Mr. Samuel English, of Omemee, was in the village on Saturday.

—Mr. James Brough has returned home after spending a year in the Temiscamingue district.

—Mrs. W. J. Mein, of Peterborough, spent last week with her mother, Mrs. A. Campbell.

—Miss Irene McNeil has gone to Montreal, where she will be the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Chas. Scott.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jno. McFarlane entertained a number of their young friends to a social party on Saturday evening.

—We are pleased to see Mr. Geo. Balderson out again. Mr. Balderson, who is the manager of the cattle ranch of Mr. Joseph Elmhirst, was dangerously ill with la grippe.

—Keene Masonic Lodge, No. 375, G.R.C., A.F. & A.M., held its annual meeting for the installation of officers on St. John's night, Dec. 27th, when the following were installed:

RUSSIANS OPPOSED TO WAR

Fresh Evidence of Graft Has Intensified Feeling

London, Jan 13.—Europe still awaits some decisive indication as to what will be the immediate effect of the fall of Port Arthur. This indication can come only from St. Petersburg. It is now generally recognized that Japan's great victory can make for peace only in case Russia's internal crisis makes peace imperative.

Evidence multiplies daily of the uncompromising opposition to the war throughout the Russian masses. This was intensified the last week by fresh disclosures of wholesale robberies of war supplies and hospital necessaries en route to Manchuria, even more than by the news of the Port Arthur disaster. These exposures are never followed by the punishment of the high-placed thieves among the bureaucracy, but public exasperation, which in any other country long ago would have demanded revenge, has at last become a force which must be reckoned with. It has found expression in several new localities during the last week, where the local authorities refused to perform the usual functions of providing funds for local imperial purposes.

INTERNAL CRISIS IN RUSSIA.

In the meantime the Czar has returned to St. Petersburg, where his most significant action is his daily conference with M. de Witte. This has aroused some slight hopes outside of Russia that the situation may yet be saved.

Nearly every statesman in Europe is now convinced that the disruption of the empire can only be averted by placing unlimited power in the hands of some really strong man. If the Czar has sufficient wisdom and strength of will to make de Witte the Grand Vizier of the empire, with absolute authority in all respects, the internal situation might be brought under control. De Witte, however, is intensely disliked by the ducal cabal, who accomplished his retirement 18 months ago, and also by the Holy Synod, but de Witte is by no means so liberal in his views as many outsiders of Russia suppose. His policy of State ownership of many industries would multiply the present bureaucracy, and it is difficult to believe that he could succeed in its purification.

RUSSIA'S STRONGEST MAN

There is no question, however, of de Witte's ability both as a financier and as an administrator, and there is no other man in sight in Russia to whom the country can turn in the dire extremity with any hope of reform, short of the most disastrous revolution.

The situation is so full of uncertainty that every one whose opinion is of the slightest value wisely refrains from prophecy. Europe is watching the drama with the most intense interest. Events of supreme importance seem to be close at hand.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, excepting 8 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres more or less.

ENTRY

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situate, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES

A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act, and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

1] At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

2] If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), or any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

3] If a settler was entitled to and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

4] If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same town, township, or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of clauses [2] [3] or [4] must cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, or substitute 20 head of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, and have besides 30 acres substantially fenced.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd of June, 1889.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled and the land may again be thrown open for entry.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT

Should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

INFORMATION

Newly arrived immigrants will receive, at the Immigration Office in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing lands to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Land Agents in Manitoba or the North-west Territories.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands, to which the Regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

Capital $5,000,000. Shares $1.00 Each, Par Value, Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable.

We have just secured the agency for the above splendid proposition, of which we have been allotted a block of Treasury stock. We can confidently recommend this as a safe and, we believe, exceedingly profitable investment. Every dollar of stock is guaranteed by twenty year, full paid, gold bond, delivered to purchaser of stock, from an Investment Company that has no interest whatever in the company, but who are disposing of the debentured bonds to the public, and, under their charter, they are compelled to deposit securities to an equal amount, to the State Treasurer under which they received their charter, there by doubly securing the payment of their gold bonds.

The Company's property, which is now past the project stage, is known to be marvellously rich in gold.

Following is the opinion of G. W. Miller, Mining Engineer, formerly with the Boston and Montana Consolidated Copper and Silver Mining Company, U. S.; Simmer and Jack Mining Co., Limited, Elandsfountain, South Africa:—

"You have here a most valuable property and one of the strongest fissure veins that can be found in any part of the world.

"With the present development of the Monument Mine, I estimate that 100 tons per day can be extracted, which will mill from $15.00 to $20.00 per ton. The total cost of mining the ore, delivering and milling, I place at about $4.00 per ton. With increased milling capacity, it is safe to say that the mine can furnish 100 tons of $15.00 ore, which would yield a clear profit of $11.00 per ton; or $1,100.00 per day (equal to $400,000.00 per annum). Estimated total value of ore in sight, $2,500,000."

During the past summer, a party of the Company Directors visited the property, taking with them, Amos P. Brown, Ph.D., Mining Engineer and Professor of Geology and Mineralogy at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Brown writes as follows:—

"In regards to the amount of ore available at the mines at Sloctier, I saw on the dumps several thousand tons, probably 5000 tons would be an under-estimate.

"As to the size of the ore body itself, from what I saw of the geological structure, I think that there is every indication that it will be found to extend underground as far as the out-croppings on the south side of the gulch. This would mean an ore body large enough to keep the present mill running for many years to come.

A write up of the proposition will appear in these columns in a few days. Watch for it. In the meantime we will be pleased to furnish full information to investors.

Stocks—The MARKETS OF THE WORLD—Grains

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

The Salido Gold and Copper Company

Incorporated under the laws of Arizona, with a capital of $3,0c 000 forever no-assessable divided into shares of $1 each, par value. All investments insured Granite Securities Company.

The "SALIDO GOLD COPPER COMPANY" enterprise offers attractions to the investors of the country, that without thorough investigation, would scarcely seem probable. If only a fraction is realized of what any prudent business man in his own affairs would regard as absolutely certain, the enterprise must prove abundantly successful and ex.eedin.ly profita le.

SALE OF STOCK

The company will prosecute the work of development with all the diligence that the cash in the treasury will permit and circumstances warrant, and to this end a small amount of the treasury stock is now placed upon the market, in blocks of not less than One Hundred Shares. The par value of the stock is One Dollar per share, fully paid and forever non-assessable.

The company reserves the right to advance the price of stock without notice.

REMEMBER

First—That all payments for treasury stock go into the treasury for development work and not into the pockets of the promoters.

Second—There are no salaried officers.

Third—The incorporators have put their own good money into this enterprise and being business men, intend to do business along business lines.

Fourth—That this company is honest.

Fifth—If you are thinking of investing in mining stocks this is worthy of your careful investigation.

OTHER PROPERTIES

This Company owns four other Gold and Copper Mines, wh ch title is now in process in the laws of Mexico. As soon as title is perfected, we shall commence to develop them as we certainly expect something very great from these properties. Our assays taken have been of the very best, showing gold and copper from $6.00 to $122. 30 per ton.

I have secured a small block of this stock, which I offer at the following prices: Unguaranteed 40 cents per share, guaranteed 80 cents per share. These prices will only prevail for a short time, as the number of shares for sale at this price is limited. The Shares will then be advanced to 40 cents for the unguaranteed and 80 cents for the guaranteed. I can unhesitatingly recommend this investment to the Canadian public.

Rare Chance to Secure a Paying Investment

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY

has placed a small block of their stock at the disposal of Canadian investors. This stock is sure to rapidly advance in price. The Company is now arranging to instal the power plant and a mill and cyanide plant for the reduction of their ore to e bullion on the property. They have arranged with a Trust Company having assets of $1,500,000 to put up a bond guaranteeing investors the repayment of the full amount invested. This makes investors absolutely safe. By no possibility can they lose a dollar.

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY was organized November 21, 1902. under the laws of the State of Idaho. The capitalization is one million shares of the par value of one dollar each, fully paid and non assessable; of the 1,000,000 shares 400,000 have been set aside as treasury stock

THE BOISE BASIN came into prominence shortly after Grimes and his party of prospectors entered the Basin country in 1862; their entrance was into the northern portion, and one discovery of rich placer ground followed another until the news of the rich finds reached the outside world, when a veritable stampede for Boise Basin commenced. towns sprang up and grew together in an incredibly short time; the rush of people to Idaho City made it a place of 20,000 people in 1867, having a business street over a mile long lined with two-story buildings streets and sidewalks filled with people day and night, business and money on every hand and the city bearing the proud distinction of being the capital of the territory of Idaho. Wages ran from $6 to $10 a day and not infrequently forty and fifty men worked on a single placer claim; the clean-up for a day's work in many instances ran close to $5,000; large fortunes were made in a few days by washing the golden sands in a pan; so eager was the quest for the shining metal that the streets of Idaho City were dug up and washed and re-washed, and the soil removed from under the houses and places of business So extensive was the search for the hidden treasure that not only all of the low ground was worked but the feet of the mountains surrounding the city have been washed away, filling up the lower portions of the basin and extending into the town, where one of the buildings has been buried under the tailings from the numerous placer workings.

LOCATION—The property of the Gold Coin Mining Company is situated in the Gambrinus Mining District, Boise County, Idaho, on the range of mountains between Moore Creek and Elk Creek, which forms a part of the eastern boundary of the famous Boise Basin and into which these mountains are drained The property is located ten miles northeast of Idaho City, from which place there are good wagon roads either to the workings on top of the mountain or to the place of the proposed tunnels in the gulch which crosses the Tunnelsite claim.

THE CLAIMS—The Company owns a group of four contiguous lode mining claims and the Gold Coin Millsite: the names of the lode claims are the Tunnelsite, Blue Bell, Pennsylvania and Homestake, each being a full claim 600 feet wide by 1,500 feet long, excepting the Tunnesite claim, which is 450 feet wide at the west end and 1,055 feet long: it was necessary to stake the claim in this form on account of joining the Washington property on the south and the Sub Rosa property on the west, these properties being prior locations to the Tunnelsite claim. The four lode claims aggregate nearly 80 acres of rich mineral land.

A RARE CHANCE FOR INVESTORS

The Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Company

We call the attention of investors to the announcement to be found in another column of the Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Company, and to the fact that Messrs. Thos. Patterson & Co., have secured a block of the treasury stock which they are now offering to Canadian investors. From the evidence before us we believe the company has a property immensely rich in gold. The company is splendidly officered, all being men of high character and standing. They are as follows:

OFFICERS.

Hon. B. F. Meyers, President. Samuel Bowman, Vice-President. James G. M. Bay, Treasurer. Charles M. Forney, Secretary. A. Arlington Hibbs, General Manager.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

Hon. B. F. Meyers, (Prop. Star-Independent). Harrisburg, Pa. Samuel Bowman, (Retired Dry Goods Merchant). Harrisburg, Pa. Jacob Snyder, (Pennsylvania Railroad), Harrisburg, Pa. Charles M. Forney, (Forney & Knouse, Wholesale Druggists), Harrisburg, Pa. A. F. Brandt, (Physician), Harrisburg, Pa. Wilson S. Cornman, (Manager Commonwealth Hotel), Harrisburg, Pa. Col. Patricio Russ, (Prop. Hotel Russ & Trolley Ry. Capitalist). Harrisburg, Pa. E. S. Meals, (Physician). Harrisburg, Pa. James G. M. Bay, (Capitalist), Harrisburg, Pa. A. Arlington Hibbs, (Mines and Mining). Harrisburg, Pa. Geo. H. B. Martin, (N. J. Corp. Guarantee Trust Company). Camden, N. J.

THE OREGON PROPERTY.

In view of the ever-increasing mining activity in the Quartzburg Mining District, due to the many recent discoveries of rich ore thereabouts and the increased values as brought to light on those properties, well advanced in development; it was deemed expedient, after some of the adjacent land had been inspected by Dr. Amos P. Brown, E.M., of the University of Pennsylvania, for this Company to add to their holdings, and six claims, "Sheeney No. 2," "Snow Flake," "Gold Wedge," "Japan," "Combination," and "Newman," were secured. These with the "Sheeney," "Calapooia," "McKenzie," "Blue Jay" and "Tuscannon," gives a total area of 200 acres.

Assays taken from the new property gives values as high as $137.25 to the ton in gold. In addition, options were secured on the famous "Sheboody Group" of gold and copper claims, comprising the "Bromochloride," "Hawkeye," "Mikado" and "Modoc" already developed to some 700 feet of tunnels, etc., cutting a 70 foot ledge of ore. Also the Hughes Group of gold and copper consisting of the "Tom Kirp," "Indiana" and "Skeleton," together with the "Brown Bear" Claim to the south.

These latter claims form the key-stone to the richest discoveries in the district and give to this Company a stretch of property which is intersected by all known gold, copper and cobalt veins at Quartzburg, which have been so highly productive in the Standard mine to the south and the Copperopolis to the north and west.

Nor has the development on the original claims, as owned by this Company, been neglected; already 400 feet of tunnelling has been completed and contracts let for 400 more as a result of the promising nature of the work, including one ton "T" rails, spikes, bolts, etc., as well as mining cars and supplies to carry forward the work this winter.

THE IDAHO PROPERTY.

No longer is the "Monument" Claim in the quasi state of uncertainty, and can now honestly be stricken from the field of "prospects" and justly be called a mine.

The shaft already sunk on ore is to a depth of 200 feet and drifted from at three different levels in both directions for more than 1000 feet with trial stopes showing ore—to be constant between levels, shows a condition which once and for all annihilates the inuendoes of the pessimist.

In addition to the "Monument" Claim upon which careful estimate shows at least 50,000 tons of good ore, already "blocked out" and ore bodies increasing in width in each successive level, there is an equally extensive ore deposit on the "True Blue" the character of which is even better than on the "Monument." All this without considering the "Watch Tower," "Pine Grove," "Midas," "U. S. Grant," "Red Fir," "Troy," or "Bunker Hill" quartz claims or the three placers, "Spring Flat No. 1, No. 2, No. 3," and the two mill sites "Monument" and "Watch Tower."

Taking into view the 200 acres, already owned in Oregon, gives this Company nearly 500 acres in aggregate of mining property upon which is sufficient ore of milling grade to keep their mills in constant supply for a life time.

The management is systematically drawing in the lines of advance work, filling in any gaps that may have heretofore existed, and drawing into perfection the huge piece of mechanism which is involved in the operation of such an extensive property. Early summer sees all these preparations completed and mining will begin in an uninterrupted way. That all this may be consummated, supplies of every kind have been delivered at Meyers Cove, (Saginaw) so the work, with a full equipment of men will continue all winter.

THE IDAHO PROPERTY.

Hearken Ye, All Who Are Wise!

In order to make this operation absolutely perfect from the mining end, before the mill is started on continuous work, the Board of Directors has placed a limited amount of its secured Treasury Stock in the hands of Hibbs & Co., Fiscal Agents for the Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Company, at one dollar per share, full paid and non assessable.

The subscribers to this stock have secured to them the amount of money they have invested in this stock by being given a twenty-year, fully-paid gold bond of the North American Investment Company for the amount of their subscription. This bond guarantees the amount named on its face.

With the amount subscribed, assured to the subscriber, how can he suffer the loss of one cent?

Already the Company's storehouse is filled with a duplicate for all machinery parts used in the mill, hoist and mine, which not only adds to the Company's assets, but protects itself from every delay after milling has commenced. Tools of every description, "together with "powder" and fuse in ton lots and food supplies to last until June next are already on the property.

The Company has official assurance of the installation of a U. S. Post Office at any time it may desire it, which means that the daily stage will come to its very door.

WHAT PRACTICAL AND SCIENTIFIC MEN HAVE TO SAY.

Following is the opinion of G. W. Miller, Mining Engineer, formally with Boston and Montana Consolidated Copper and Silver Mining Company, U. S.; Simmer and Jack Mining Company, Limited, Elandsfountain, South Africa:

"You have here a most valuable property and one of the strongest fissure veins that can be found in any part of the world.

"With the present development of the Monument Mine, I estimate that 100 tons per day can be extracted, which will mill from $15.00 to $20.00 per ton. The total cost of mining the ore, delivering and milling, I place at about $4.00 per ton. With increased milling capacity, it is safe to say that the mine can furnish 100 tons of $15.00 ore, which would yield a clear profit of $11.00 per ton, or $1,100.00 per day, (equal to $400,000.00 per annum). Estimated total value of ore in sight, $2,500,000."

During the past summer, a party of the Company Directors visited the property, taking with them, Amos P. Brown, Ph. D., Mining Engineer and Professor of Geology and Mineralogy at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Brown writes as follows:

"In regards to the amount of ore available at the mines at Singiser, I saw on the dumps several thousand tons, probably 5000 tons would be an underestimate.

"As to the size of the ore body itself, from what I saw of the geological structure, I think that there is every indication that it will be found to extend underground as far as the out-crop, pings on the south side of the gulch. This would mean an ore body large enough to keep the present mill running for many years to come.

This Company is the owner of 70,000 acres of very rich, fertile lands in the Province of Pinar del Rio, Cuba This land is suitable to the growth of the finest quality of tobacco, oranges, lemons, pineapples and other citrous fruits.

A small portion of this estate produced last year a large percentage on the total authorized capital of this company.

One acre produced last year $2700 in tobacco. The revenue-producing powers of this estate will not be reduced by sale of lands, as the cultivated portion will be increased by additional plantation.

The lands offered for sale can be made as productive within a short period as those at present cultivated.

The estate is abundantly watered by numerous streams and fresh water springs.

The climate is one perpetual June, no fogs, no mists, no yellow fever.

Flowers bloom the year round.

Game and fish abound.

The temperature is even, so that catarrh is unheard of.

Abundance of water and perpetual grass makes stock raising an assured success.

New York markets are at its command for all its products.

The estate borders upon Gaudiana Bay, with a sea frontage of about twelve miles and a deep water, sheltered harbor.

Cuba has only now become open to modern development, and its progress is sure to be rapid.

This is the opportunity for the man of small means to obtain a home and subsequent wealth, for the man of means to obtain a profitable investment.

This Company is now offering land in blocks of 10 acres or more at $10 00 per acre.

Stock at par or strip entitling the owner to an option to take land at $10.00, or stock at par, for a limited period

Only 10 000 acres will be offered at $10.00 per acre, of which 2,000 acres are already sold

The second 10,000 acres will be sold at $20.00 per acre or over within a few months.

The balance of the estate to be disposed of 30,000 acres, will be raised to $50 00 per acre or over.

As the price of land is raised the price of stock will also advance.

Purchase now and save money.

Terms—25 per cent cash; 25 per cent. 30 days; 25 per cent. 60 days; 25 per cent. 90 days.

Fine Weather Gives Relief from Catarrh

But Never Cures it Because the Germs are Still Alive Though Inactive. First Kill the Germs Then You'll be Really Cured.

Catarrh germs are carried into the throat and lungs by the air we breathe. In the same way the remedy must be applied. To be effectual the cure must be breathed, for otherwise it can't get where the germs really are.

Mix your germ-killing medicine with air, breathe it right into all the little air cells where the catarrh really is, then you'll get cured quickly. This is exactly the way Catarrhozone acts. You inhale its medicated vapor to the very source of the disease. It destroys the cause of the inflammation, kills all the microbes that develop when the lining membranes become diseased. Besides this Catarrhozone is a wonderful healer. Every sore spot is rebuilt with new healthy tissue. All the poisonous secretions that have been putrifying the system are driven out. No trace of catarrh remains after Catarrhozone has been used.

Why don't you use Catarrhozone? Its the simplest thing in the world to use, and so sure to cure permanently that you really can't afford to be without it.

MISS E. M. PETERS is known by every resident in the pretty town of Highland Grove. She says, after using Catarrhozone of systematic catarrh and says; "For three years before I commenced using Catarrhozone I was continually bothered by a congested condition of my nose and throat. I was sneezing and coughing all the time and really never felt well. I persevered with Catarrhozone and was rewarded by being entirely cured. My recovery prompted others in this locality to use Catarrhozone, and many of them have had remarkable cures from using it."

MISS LOUISE MURPHY a well known society belle residing at 22 Monument St., Medford, writes: "Kindly forward me three outfits of Catarrhozone which I have found most valuable for catarrhal affections of the nose and throat. Catarrhozone cured me of weak lungs and really saved me from consumption. I am recommending Catarrhozone above all other treatments, knowing what great curative powers it possesses. I know others who have also benefited by Catarrhozone."

Catarrhozone is perfectly harmless and may be used with perfect safety by the most delicate infant. Instead of deadening the stomach with drugs, it sends the healing vapor along with the air you breathe into every air cell and passage of the nose, throat, lungs and bronchial tubes. Catarrhozone can't fail, it's sure to cure. If not satisfied you can have your money back for the asking. Two months' treatment, hard rubber inhaler and extra bottle of inhalant costs $1.00, sample size 25c. By mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. The Contract Awarded

The Directors of the Shovel Company, have given the contract for their building, 68x181 feet, to the well-known contractors, Messrs. McIntyre & Hartley, and they expect to have it ready for the machinery by April 1st, 1905. Men are now engaged in excavating for the foundation of the building and the work is being pushed as rapidly as possible. It is expected that the machinery for the factory will arrive in about a fortnight.

Vital Statistics

The returns for the year 1904, of births, deaths and marriages, have been compiled by the Town Clerk, and are as follows. The returns for 1903 are also given for comparison;

Certificates Issued

The work of issuing certificates to those who have made application for the land grant made by the Provincial Legislature to the veterans is well advanced. Some 1,800 certificates have been issued to applicants who have established their claim, and three are not more than 20 or 30 cases in which formal application for the grants have been received, and are under consideration. There are in addition about 200 veterans who within the time limit notified the department of their intention to enter claims, but who have not yet forwarded the formal application. Of the certificates issued not more than about one-third have been located up to the present.

STAMP MILL NOW WORKING

Star of the East Mine now in Full Operation

The many stockholders in Peterborough in the Star of the East Mining Company will be pleased to learn that the new five-stamp mill, built by the William Hamilton Manufacturing Co., has started operations, and is doing good work. The mine is situated in Burrie Township, Frontenac County, and is a most promising one. Assays show that the mine is an exceedingly rich one, and it is expected that the mill-test will more than prove this. About 20 tons of ore have already been put through the mill, and it is expected when things are running smoothly, that the amount put through every day will be ten tons. An authority places the output at about $20 to the ton. This will mean a clear up of about $1200 per week.

At present the mill is run by steam, but the intention is to adopt electricity as soon as possible. There has been built a six-inch pipe line, 4000 feet long, the drop in which is 65 feet, and it is proposed to utilize the water power facilities, thus shown to be easily obtainable, by which to generate electricity. There are at present about 50 men working for the company, and the main shaft is 155 feet deep.

AN APSLEY MEETING

Enthusiastic Meeting of Mr. Anderson's Supporters Tuesday Night

On Tuesday night at Apsley a very largely attended meeting in the interests of Mr. Wm. Anderson was held. In spite of the storm there was a large crowd present, and much enthusiasm was manifested.

Mr. John Menogue, County Councillor, was in the chair, and the speakers were the candidate, Mr Anderson and Mr. G. K. Martin, both of whom delivered effective speeches.

SHOOTING WAS ACCIDENTAL

Such was the Coroner's Jury Verdict in the Duval Case

The coroner's inquest to inquire into the cause of the death of Jas Duval, at Cordova, was concluded on Wednesday at the town hall, Cordova, before Dr. Grey, coroner, when the following verdict was returned; "We, the jury, believe that the deceased, James Duval, came to his death by a bullet passing through his head from a rifle in the hands of John James Sisson, and we further believe that the shooting was accidental, and strongly condemn the practice of allowing boys to carry firearms.

LIBERAL MEETING TO-NIGHT

Present Provincial Secretary

The Liberal meeting which is to take place in the Opera House this evening, will be addressed by the Hon. G. P. Graham, Provincial Secretary, and Hon. J. R. Stratton, ex-Provincial Secretary. Mr. McWilliams, the Liberal candidate, will also speak.

Hon. Mr. Graham has never, we believe, addressed a Peterborough audience, and many no doubt, will go to hear him out of curiosity. He is said to be a forceful speaker, and has a full grasp of Provincial affairs.

The gallery and boxes will be reserved for ladies and their escorts.

POLICE COURT

Several Cases at the Police Court Yesterday Morning

At the police court yesterday a case in which the defendant was charged with owing the complainant, certain arrears in rent, and with having fraudulently received and carried away certain chattels, was investigated. The case was discharged.

Richard Redmond was fined $2.00 for dumping snow on the streets, contrary to the by-law.

Ira McMullen was also charged with dumping snow on the streets, but the charge was dismissed.

James McGee, a deaf mute, was discharged on a charge of being drunk.

TO REMOVE CHURCH DEBT

Plans of Rev. Dr. Torrance to Clear Debt of St. Paul's

Rev. Dr. Torrance, the respected pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, presented a scheme to the Board of Managers of the church at a late meeting, by which the debt on the church and mission, amounting to $4,000 will be wiped off.

The Doctor proposes to raise $1,300 a year for three years, by levying an assessment on the members of the congregation.

It is understood that the plan met with the approval of the Board, and will be presented at the annual meeting of the congregation to be held on Wednesday next.

The supplementary meetings of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute have been announced to take place between January 31 and February 2nd inclusive. The speakers will be A. E. Sherrington, Walkerton, and R. H. Field, of Addison, each of whom has a large list of subjects to speak from. The meetings will be held on the following dates: Fourth Line, Smith, Orange Hall, Jan. 31; Ennismore Township Hall, Feb. 1st; Stewart's Union Hall, Otonabee, Feb. 2nd. For East Peterborough the dates are: Westwood Town Hall, Feb. 3; Havelock Town Hall, Feb. 4; Warsaw Town Hall, Feb. 6; Douro, St. Patrick's Hall, Feb. 7.

A CHANDOS WEDDING

Nuptials of Mr. Thos. Mahony and Miss Catharine Hobbins

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Tuesday, Jan. 10th, at the Church of the Immaculate Conception Chandos, when Mr. Thomas Mahony was united in wedlock to Miss Mary Catharine Hobbins. The nuptial mass was celebrated at ten o'clock by Rev. Father Phelan. Mr. James Mahony, brother of the groom, was the best man, and the sister of the bride, Miss Elizabeth Hobbins was bridesmaid. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the bridal party returned to the home of the bride, where a sumptuous wedding banquet was served, there being a large number of guests of the popular young couple present.

Their many friends not only in Chandos, but throughout the district, join The Times in wishing them a long and happy married life.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN

WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"There are thousands of sick women dragging out a weary, miserable existence, who would be well and happy did they but have my experience with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. Annie Lemmon, of 505 Jackson St., Atlanta, Ga. "Four years ago I was nearly dead with inflammation and ulceration. I endured daily untold agony, and life was a burden to me. I had used medicines internally and externally until I had made up my mind that there was no relief in sight for me. A friend of [illegible] I determined then to give it a trial. By dint of patience and perseverance for I was in a bad condition, and had to use your medicine for nearly four months before I was cured, but what a change it brought; from despair to happiness, from misery to the delightful, exhilarating feeling that only health brings. I would not change back for a thousand dollars. Your 'Prescription' is a grand medicine. I wish every sick woman would only try it and be convinced."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y.

VOL XXXIII NO. 11 — PETERBOROUGH ONTARIO, SATURDAY JANUARY 14 1905 — PRICE TWO CENTS

HON. J. R. STRATTON AND HON. G. P. GRAHAM AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

Past and Present Provincial Secretaries Speak in the Interests of Mr. R. F. McWilliams--Hon. J. R. Stratton Highly Satisfied with the Financial Standing of the Province.

The Opera House was fairly well filled last night, when the past and present Provincial Secretarys, Hon. J. R. Stratton and Hon. Geo. P. Graham, and the Liberal candidate for West Peterborough, Mr. R. F. McWilliams addressed the audience assembled to hear the issues of the day discussed.

The hall was tastefully decorated and the following legends were in evidence; Our motto "Progessive Reform," "Ross and New Ontario," "Welcome," "God Save the King," McWilliams for Peterborough."

Mrs. J. R. Stratton and party occupied one of the boxes and Mrs. J. B. McWilliams and party the other. There was a fair attendance of ladies in the gallery.

Mr. Dan O'Connell occupied the chair and in his prefatory remarks, said that for the first time in eighteen years the Liberal party in West Peterborough had a new standard bearer in Mr. R. F. McWilliams. Had Mr. Stratton had been an ideal representative is evidenced in his growth in popularity amongst his constituents, and he now comes forward with a hearty endorsement of the young man who is now following in his footsteps. Mr. McWilliams possesses the same untiring energy and capacity for work as Mr. Stratton, and he had no hesitancy in predicting for him the same successful career as his predecessor. Referring to the financial condition of the province, Mr. O'Connell said that after spending 12½ millions of dollars in the growth and development of the province and its resources, and notwithstanding the Opposition's watchfulness, they are unable to point their finger at one dollar which has been wrongfully or extravagantly spent. There are really no issues between the two parties, the Conservative only charging corruption, not against the administration, but against individuals. He had no doubt that the Conservative party were more deeply steeped in corruption than their opponents.

MR. R. F. M'WILLIAMS

Was well received, and prefaced an able address with an eulogy of the Hon. J. R. Stratton's work as Provincial Secretary. He thanked those who are so heartily working for him, whose work has, he said, practically assurred his election on the 25th of January. He believed the Liberal party can never have too much of reform, and it is because the record of the Ontario Government is based on that principle that he is a strong supporter of that party. As to the financial standing of Ontario, he argued that this province to-day is absolutely unrivalled by any sister province. Quebec started even with Ontario; to-day they have a debt of $25,000,000, whereas we do not owe one cent. Quebec last year paid $1,500,000 as interest on their public debt; the Ontario Government not only does not owe a cent, but received last year a quarter of a million dollars interest from the banks on the province's money in their hands. The Government has also raised the standard of education, encouraged agriculture, built public institutions, and in every respect advanced the best interests of the country. But Mr. Whitney during his leadership has not developed any substantial policy whatever, with which to appeal to the people. There is occasional criticism, but what does it amount to. The Liberal policy to-day stands unchallenged. All the finances of the Government are carefully audited, the Government's books are open to the closest scrutiny of 25 Conservatives appointed for that purpose, and any discrepancies found do not total up to more than one day's expenditure in the whole year. Turning to the charges of corrupt practices, Mr. McWilliams said he did not propose to defend or uphold corruption or unfair measures on the part of any men or party; he simply asks for fair play on both sides, and no hitting below the belt. While he admitted there had been wrong doing in the Liberal party, he urged that it is rank hypocrisy on the part of the Opposition to hold up the Ross Government for wrong doing, but to have not one word to say regarding equal wrong doing on the Conservative side. They do not tell you that five Conservative members have been unseated for corrupt practices. Taking up the liquor question, the speaker claimed that there had been substantial improvements in the conditions governing the sale of strong drink under the Liberal administration. When the Government first came in power there were 6,000 licenses issued, to-day there are less than 3,000. And everything points to continued and improved conditions in this respect.

HON. G. P. GRAHAM

Received an enthusiastic welcome. The major portion of his address consisted of a running fire of humorious analogies in reply to the charges of corruption against the Government. He was warm in his praises of Mr. Stratton's work as Provincial Secretary. His business was not left with any matters of importance unsettled. He left a clean sheet for his predecessor—"I meant successor" (laughter) "That was a slip (laughter), and the entire policy of the Conservatives rests on slips—I was almost going to add depusit slips." (renewed laughter.) Touching on the youth of the candidate, the speaker argued that almost all able public men have entered politics young, and been educated up to the requirements of their position. A young man who can speak with the intelligence and force of Mr. McWilliams is capable of demonstrating that he possesses the inherent qualities of a successful public man. He championed the Ross Government for its wise and efficient administration of public affairs, and asked his hearers why they should vote against that record when they have nothing with which to replace it. He argued that no corruption can be found in the Government, or in any part of the management of the Government. The Liberal party stand to-day where they have stood for the past fifty years, on a platform in the interests of the masses and the individual, and they are not going to be blackguarded out of that platform by anything their opponents can say. Turning to the cruise of the "Minnie M," the hon. gentleman claimed that the Liberal party condemned that trip as strongly as the Opposition, but it was unfair and unjust to blame the Hon. J. M. Gibson for that notable cruise. The "Minnie M," was an American boat carrying an American crew, and he had no authority over the vessel. The Liberal Government are ready to punish evil doers at all times. During the past four years 47 men have been prosecuted by the Government.

A voice—"Names them."

The speaker—"No. I will not, as I object to reading their names out to a public audience; they have been punished, and that's sufficient." The hon. gentleman, however, proposed to let his questioner see the list of names he apparently held in his hand after the meeting.

Continuing, Mr. Graham, went on to say that after the last provincial election, the Judges reported eight men guilty of corrupt practices, and seven of them were Conservatives. In illustration of the purity of election under Liberal administration, he claimed that 12,000 officials acted in the provincial election of 1902, and a quarter of a million of ballots were used; only four ballots were questioned, in North Grey, and not one official was shown to have been guilty of wrong doing. There were 16 recounts of 60,000 ballots, and none were found to have been tampered with. He eulogized the party, when recently in conference assembled at Toronto, for confessing that corruption had existed in certain quarters, and for the expressions on all sides that it must be stamped out. The Conservatives however, in conference the next day, admitted no corruption in their ranks, not a Conservative from the time of Adam in the Garden of Eden had ever done anything wrong in his life. How can you expect repentance from men who contend that they are not wicked? The speaker claimed that Mr. Whitney is cognizant of and condones corruption. In South Ontario, Mr. Smith acknowledged corrupt practices to uncle Hon. John Dryden, and in return he was banquetted and made the elections. Miscampbell was unseated at the Soo for corruption, and to-day he is organizer for Mr. Whitney. The engaging of thugs and thieves to use against men in the election courts, was resorted to by the machine of our Conservative friends, and yet they want to purrify the election atmosphere of Ontario. The horse of which Mr. Whitney is astride shows he is not entitled to registration either by gedigree or performance. There has been wrong doing found in both parties, and the only way corruption can be stamped out is by the heads of the political parties joining hands to clear the atmosphere from it. The unfairness of the Conservative attacks is their endeavor to fix the blame on the Hon. G. W. Ross. The idea of trying to climb into power by making people believe that all Liberals are rascals. That is a policyless policy unworthy the consideration of an intelligent electorate. The people of Ontario are as pure as the people in any other country in the world, and our public men as honest as the public men of other provinces and countries. But if the young men of Ontario are educated up to distrust all public men, they will grow to distrust all men and women in every walk of private life. This will lead to the nation being honeycombed with distrust, and the men who are sowing that seed will reap the whirlwind.

Turning to the Soo issue, Mr. Graham remarked that for many years the banks to-day to the people's credit, and, unlike other provinces, public buildings, including the handsome Parliament structure at Toronto, have been built out of current revenue, and not by borrowed money. The Government's action regarding the Soo, he urged, should appeal to every workingman, as the wages paid annually there by the consolidated companies, will reach $5,000,000. Turning to the pulpwood concessions, Mr. Stratton in defence of the Government's action, pointed out that $3,000,000 are invested in the manufacture of paper, and necessary machinery, and the conditions imposed are endorsed by eminent public men in Quebec as being wise and correct. Ontario will be shortly known as the province which is manufacturing pulp and paper for the Dominion. As to the liquor question, the licenses had been reduced from 9,000 in 1876 to 2,800 in 1904, the law is now being properly enforced, and better conditions prevail. Taking up the Niagara Falls power question, the hon. gentleman asserted that when the three companies develop all their power and electrical energy the Government will receive an additional revenue of [illegible] a year. Referring to the abuse he got for his action regarding No. 5 dam here, Mr. Stratton said that the fact that the development of electrical energy from that dam gave Peterborough people a yearly saving of $25,000 in light and power, by bringing another company into competition justified him in the course he had taken.

The meeting dispersed with cheers for the King and notables present.

INDEPENDENT FORESTERS

Joint Installation of Officers Held Thursday Night

An interesting gathering of Courts Queen No. 276 and Chemong 530, I.O.F., was held in the Simcoe street hall on Thursday night. Bro. G. N. Brown, D.H.C.R., the popular I. O. F. organizer occupied the chair and installed the officers in the various chairs. There was a large number of members and their friends present including also ladies of the Companion Court and their friends.

Bro. G. N. Brown, in giving the opening address promised to be brief. Most of his hearers were Foresters, he said, or friends of those in the order. The society is one of the fraternal insurance organizations. It extended from Canada through the United States, across to Great Britain and France, Norway, Sweden, South Africa and Australia, so that wherever you go you will find a brother and a friend. The Order is strong numerically and financially. It is licensed by the Dominion Government and audited by the Dominion Government and is well worthy of the confidence imposed in it.

The musical program was then proceeded with when the following responded;—Miss Rickey sang in fine voice, accompanied by Miss May Hullen. Miss Rickey again sang by special request the song entitled "Sing Me to Sleep." Master McNeiley gave a recitation in fine style. The Messrs. Coleman gave several comic songs, which were heartily encored. Mr. Williams gave a song in good voice, which undoubtedly indicates a bright future in the musical world. Miss May Bullen acted as accompanists for the various singers.

Good but brief addresses were given by the newly installed officers and the program was brought to a close by the singing of God Save the King.

The ladies of Companion Court Queen had kindly provided refreshments for all assembled, and are to be congratulated upon the arrangements made. The gathering dispersed at rather a late hour after spending a very enjoyable night which it is hoped will soon again be repeated.

The officers of Court Chemong, who were installed last night were;

P.C.R.—A. Allison.
C.R.—D. Wallace.
V.C.R.—Wm. Miles.
Rec. Sec.—J. W. Buyers.
Fin. Sec.—G. W. Powell.
Treas.—Wm. Madill.
Physician—Dr. Greer.
C.D.—Thos. Dale.
Orator—Geo. Robertson.
S.W.—R. W. Gray.
J.W.—W. H. Baker.
S.B.—Geo. Deprose.
J.B.—G. R. Powell.

PRISONERS LOOK WELL FED

Evidently Were not Starved at Port Arthur

Tokio, Jan. 13.—All the prisoners from Port Arthur arriving at Nagasaki look well fed and happy. Colonel Heljakoff, of the Russian army, said the enemy's welcome was entirely unexpected. It made him feel as though he had returned to his own country. He hoped the war would soon cease, and a mutual understanding follow. If this occurred the present plight of the prisoners would be more useful to Russia than continued reluctance at Port Arthur.

Twenty-six paroled Russian officers were welcomed by Mr. Arakawa, Governor of Nagasaki, municipal delegates and leading citizens. Col. Trichadoff thanked them on behalf of his comrades. He said their treatment showed that Japan held the highest ethical position among the nations. He believed that after the war Russia and Japan would become fast friends.

OLD COMMON SENSE

Change Food When You Feel out of Sorts DON'T DELAY.

"A great deal depends upon yourself and the kind of food you eat," the wise old doctor said to a man who came to him sick with stomach trouble and sick headache once or twice a week, and who had been taking pills and different medicines or three or four years.

He was induced to stop eating any sort of fried food or meat for breakfast, and was put on Grape-Nuts and cream, leaving off all medicines.

In a few days he began to get better, and now he has entirely recovered and writes that he is in better health than he has been before in twenty years. This man is 56 years old and says he feels "like a new man all the time." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

RUSSIAN PRIDE AND ARROGANCE WILL PREVENT AN EARLY PEACE

Japan and Great Britain Now Supreme in Asiatic Waters

GREAT NAVAL BATTLE MAY BE EXPECTED

Russia Will Try Conclusions With Her Stubborn Foe When Spring Opens up.

London, January 14.—There is no mistaking the possible significance of Admiral Doubassoff's statement yesterday that the war is "tending toward not-far-off peace"; it may very easily be the first move in a carefully-prepared program, by which Russia aims to submit to the inevitable and at the same time save for internal consumption a certain semblance of that implacability on which she has traditional claims.

Doubassoff is Chief of the Department of Naval construction, and his work has been largely freed from the hampering influences entailed by the gestation of wrashups of various types, as a direct result of the war. He is also the Russian member of the International Commission on the Dogger Bank incident and, altogether, a personage of much influence and importance in spite of his pro-English tendencies. Any utterance, especially at this juncture, may therefore, be accepted as semi-official in character; all the more so as Doubassoff arrived in Paris fresh from a long conference with his Imperia Imaster.

Prefacing his remarks by an admission that the remnant of Russia's navy is "nothing better than debris," he concedes, or is quoted as conceding, the hopelessness of continuing the conflict without means of contesting the control of the seas and intimates that peace will shortly be made on the basis of Japan's occupation of Port Arthur and all of Manchuria she now holds. But—and this is the characteristic and important rider—such a peace is not to be regarded by loyal subjects except as a temporary expedient to allow the construction of a new and invincle navy in, say, twenty months. Exactly how the Russian Admiralty is to rush its new navy into existance in half the time the best constructors require to build a battleship does not appear. Probably it never will.

Within the Czar's domains some such subterfuge may gloss over the disgrace and humiliation of a peace which saves for Russia nothing upon which Japan has laid its hands, but it does not leave a very pleasant impression on civilized nations who are looking on. Still Russia has not yet come to a point where the verdict of civilization makes much difference one way or another.

The next moves in the Far East will be made by Japan, and the Japanese war gave will be worth watching. While the Baltic fleet keeps at its present safe distance, somewhere in the vicinity of Madagascar, naval operations will be tame. Not until the breaking up of the ice in Vladivostok harbor will the Russian fleet there be subject to further attack. Japan, however, is not resting on her oars with respect to sea power and matters connected with it. Her occupation of Port Arthur as a naval station will secure a point of vantage in respect of possible complications arising with the European nations friendly to Russia. With Wei-Hai-Wei in British hands, the mouth of the gulf of Pechili is watched by an ally of the Japanese, while almost directly across the Yellow Sea the Mikado has a naval establishment at Chemulpo, Corea. The triangle whose points are resting on Port Arthur, Wei-Hai-Wei and Chemulpo overlooks the gateway and forms the approach to the Taku forts, from which point a railway runs to Tientsin and Pekin. In the matter of trade such a disposition of naval resources spells an "open door," and in a military way it means that Japan hereafter has her eyes, backed by strong arms, upon the approaches to Pekin. Thereby, too, will the victorious islanders be able to work not only a transformation in Corea, but also proceed, according to their credited intention, in the work of awakening China from her present inert attitude.

BIG LAND OPERATIONS.

What does the immediate future hold in prospect for the armies clustering about Mukden? Operations on a large scale will, no doubt, be postponed, while, so to speak, the troops hibernate. But with the approach of spring the test of reservist capacity will count for much in the battles that must follow an indecisive but bloody first fight. Meantime the combatants, regardless of the tremendous loss of life up to the present, show no sign of setting on foot pourparlers looking towards peace. Russian pride and stubbornness—or arrogance—are not subdued by the losses so far sustained. But it looks to an unprejudiced observer that the Czar, threatened with the troubles of Finland, the demands of his people who claim representative government, the reduction of Vladivostok and the sure loss of thousands of his troops now in Manchuria if hostilities be not suspended, might well pause in a war which so far has gone entirely against his forces. Persistence in strife, occasioned by rank diplomatic treachery, seems now likely to end in smashing defeat or even national disruption.

BOBCAYGEON HOTEL BURNED

Hotel Royal Burned to the Ground Early Thursday Morning

The Hotel Royal, Bobcaygeon, was destroyed by fire, which broke out about 4 o'clock on Thursday morning. The alarm was given by a sick man lodging at the hotel, and the inmates had scarcely time to escape. Children were taken out of windows, and others used the fire escapes. The buidling was a total loss, together with the furniture and stock of liquors.

The building was owned by Garnet Hunter. It was worth $3,000 and was insured for half that amount in the Liverpool and Globe, while the contents, [illegible] were insured. The fire spread so rapidly that a number of the guests had to jump from the windows without their clothing. A pair of trousers belonging to Mr. Hunter, with $200 in the pockets were burned.

POLICE COURT

Boy Arrested and Punished for Stealing at Y.M.C.A.

For some time articles have been missed from the Y.M.C.A. building, and the thieving has been so persistent and so frequent that a great deal of feeling was aroused over the matter.

The officers in charge tried in vain to discover the guilty ones, but without success. The Board of Directors were appealed to, and it was decided to watch and wait. It appears that a pair of skates had been left in the care of the Assistant Secretary, Mr. Hutchinson, who was to sell them for the owner, if possible. In a few days the skates were missing, and last Tuesday Mr. Hutchinson recognized the skates on a boy at the Brock street rink. The matter was reported to the Board, and instructions were issued to prosecute the boy in the hope that the evil would stop. Accordingly the young lad appeared before Magistrate Dumble yesterday, and charged with the crime. He pleaded not guilty, but his own evidence, as well as that of the two witnesses to whom he acknowledged having taken the skates, was such as to prove his guilt, though he claimed that he intended paying the owner.

The Magistrate spoke very strongly on the conduct of the defendant in the case and found him guilty of the charge, but as it was his first offence, and as he did not wish to register a conviction against him, he allowed him to go upon paying the costs, which amounted to $3.50.

It is to be hoped that this will be last case of its nature in connection with the Y.M.C.A. for the association will deal with all cases in a severe manner.

AMERICAN CEREAL COMPANY

Montreal Board of Trade and Transportation

At a meeting of the Montreal Chamber of Commerce a communication was received from the Peterborough Board of Trade drawing attention to certain correspondence which has passed between that body and the president of the American Cereal Company of Chicago, which had a factory in Peterborough. The board had written asking why the operations of the plant at Peterborough had been curtailed.

The president of the American Cereal Company replied that up to present season conditions had favored Peterborough owing to the two successive crop failures in the United States, which had placed the American wheat market above export basis. But this year the conditions had returned to their natural level and both markets were at present on an export basis. As the profit of manufacturing depended on the cost of transportation, the president of the American Cereal Company finalthought that the railway grain in the United States being cheaper, the company could deliver their product to the seaboard at a lower cost than in Canada.

The Peterborough Board of Trade tohught that the railway grain rates should be so adjusted in Canada as to encourage home manufacture With this aim in view, they solicited the cooperation of the Chambre de Commerce in obtaining such concessions through the Railway Commission as will enable large manufacturers of cereals to secure reduced rates so as to encourage them in the manufacturing for foreign markets.

A letter will be sent to the City Council from the Chambre re-affirming its opposition to the building of a military school on Lafontaine Park. The Chambre suggests the old exposition grounds or the Shakespeare farm at Cote des Neiges as more desirable sites.

ST. PAUL'S SUNDAY SCHOOL

Officers Elected and Reports Received for the Past Year

Progress in all departments was the keynote at the annual meeting of the officers and teachers of St. Paul's church Sunday school held on Thursday night.

Mr. Wm. Madill was re-elected superintendent and Mr. W. J. Stacy was chosen as assistant superintendent.

The Treasurer's report showed that the contribution to missions during the year was $309, all the collections going for this purpose. The Board of Managers defrays the current expenses of the school. The collections were larger than last year.

The attendance averaged 286 during 1904, as compared with 259 in 1903 and 241 in 1902.

Twenty scholars from the school had become identified with the church during the year.

Five scholars were present every Sunday. They were Clara Dodds, Madaline Baptie, Willie White, Savigny Laing, and Maxwell Smith.

The kindergarten department was opened and had proved highly successful, under the efficient direction of Miss Williamson. The loss of the services of four faithful officers was referred to. They are Miss A. Deapistoun, J. W. Garvin, A. J. Johnston and Rev. J. A. Wilson. They will be greatly missed.

Mr. Wm. Pringle offered a prize to every student who could repeat the whole of the shorter catechism. This was done by Master Stanley Madill. Mr. Pringle's offer again holds good the coming year.

The Home Department has 100 members and it is hoped that this will be largely increased during 1905. Under the guidance of the energetic superintendent, Mr. Madill and his able assistants the prospects of the school are exceptionally bright.

The officers are;—
Supt.—Wm. Madill.
Asst. Supt.—W. J. Stacey.
Cor. Sec. and Treas.—Wm. Pringle.
Rec. Sec.—Miss I. K. Drummond.
Pianist—Miss A. Roger.
Leaders of Song—Mr. Mien and Mr. Gillespie.
Supt. of Home Department—Mrs. W. J. Stacey.
Librarian—J. H. Connal.
Supt. of Primary Dept.—Miss A. Cameron.
Supt. of Kindergarten Dept.—Miss Williamson.

Please bear in mind that what is called a skin disease may be but a symptom of bad blood. In that case, Weaver's Cerate, externally applied, should be supplemented with Weaver's Syrup, taken daily.

TRIBESMEN MEET

Cyclus Sanctorum, No. 24, Elects Officers for the Year.

The regular quarterly meeting of Cyclus Sanctorum No. 24, was held on Thursday night. Ten candidates were initiated into the mysteries of the Oriental degree—humility — and officers for the next term were elected. Those who will fill the chairs for the coming year are;—

Grand Hyastites—Tribesman L. Wallis.
Vice Hyastites—Tribesman Leslie Scott.
Venerable Friar—Tribesman Frank Wise.
Grand Monitor—Tribesman J. E. Fowler.
Registrar-Illissimo—Tribesman J. T. Lang.
Bankeralissimo — Tribesman A. A. Fowler.
Grand Chief Guide—Tribesman E. G. Poole.
Grand High Executioner—Tribesman J. W. Jordan.

MR. ANDERSON AT HALL'S GLEN

A Good Meeting on Tuesday Night in Spite of Bad Roads

Notwithstanding the bad roads, there was a good attendance at Mr. Anderson's meeting at Hall's Glen on Thursday night. The chair was occupied by Mr. Jacob White.

Mr. Anderson, the Liberal candidate, spoke in general terms of the splendid administration given by the Ross Government, and showed how a continued application of the policy of progress meant the building up and progress of the province.

Mr. S. Payne made a brief address, dealing with the position of the respective parties in regard to temperance.

Mr. F. D. Kerr, barrister, Lowe, in a speech of some length, gave an exhaustive review of the record of the Government, especially dealing with its policy in regard to agricultural education, and the success of the Government's work in these branches, and also in the carrying out of their splendid and aggressive development policy.

Mr G. E. Martin spoke briefly, dealing mainly with the temperance issues of the campaign.

Mr. White, chairman, concluded the meeting by a short but very effective address.

The meeting was a very successful one and furnished another evidence of Mr. Anderson's certainty of success on Jan. 25th.

ENGLAND AND FRANCE

An important indication of the change of feeling in France toward Great Britain was noted in connection with the schoolboy demonstrations in Paris for the purpose of protesting against the disparagement of Joan of Arc by one of their professors. There was no trace of any feeling towards England. Says a correspondent of the London Times. "When King Edward came to Paris I purposely went to see the statue of Joan of Arc in the Rue de Rivoli to make sure that the occasion had not been taken advantage of to make any floral manifestation of an anti-English character, such, for instance, as has now become permanent against Germany at the statue of Strasburg on the Place de la Concorde. Not a wreath or a flower had been deposited there." The correspondent in question observes very many other indications of the dying out of the spirit of Anglophobia which two or three years ago was rampant in the French capital and throughout France. In fact, it is said that the English are the most popular strangers who now visit France, next, at all events, to the Russians. Our readers will remember how, not longer than three or four years ago, the French papers were filled with the vilest caricatures, which were also prominently displayed in the shop windows everywhere, of the English. So gross were some of the representations of royalty that they became the subject of diplomatic protest. Even at the date of King Edward's coronation there were many evidences of that bitter feeling in Paris. The sequel admirably illustrates the mercurial character of the French people. Such a complete and rapid change could hardly have been anticipated by any one. Much of it is due, it is said, to the good offices of King Edward himself, who is king of the corps of British diplomats.

OLD NEWS, BUT VERY EXCITING

One of the London papers, for reasons which it might find rather difficult to explain just now, dug out of a French paper published in Tonquin while the Boer war was in progress a most remarkable example of the lengths to which Continental imagination went in describing the events of that conflict. Here, at least, according to the Britisher's translation, is what the Frenchmen in the East heard from Paris and were expected to believe: "Gen Buller stood in a humble and suppliant attitude before Gen De Wet. Greatly moved by this heartrending scene, Gen. De Wet, who looked like God Himself, asked Gen. Buller if he had anything to say. Gen. Buller replied in these words: 'Sir, I am a poor man. I entangled myself in this war owing to my inability to bear the worry of the British Government. Grant me my life, and I will go.' Buller was thereupon released. Gen French, however, was shot, after having broken his parole." That is sufficiently amusing, but the artist who produced it was not satisfied, for he gravely added—"King Edward, it is reported, has given medals to three thousand runaways from the British Army, to heap up appearances. But the British money chest is so low that the Government now robs London residences by night." Now, "the Government," as applied to the British administration, has a much more personal significance than it has here, and therefore, the picture presented by the last of the sentences quoted is that of some extremely well-known statesmen engaged in operations no worse, indeed, than some with which enemies have frequently charged them, but certainly very different.

FEAR ARMY'S LOYALTY

Alarm Lest Revolutionary Spirit Spread to Troops

St. Petersburg, Jan. 12.—Widespread discussions of the possibilities of peace are wholly barred by the supreme personages of the Government. Amidst the formidable disintegration of national consciousness, the only thing they clearly recognise is that they dare not think of demobilizing the great army now gathered in or proceeding to Manchuria.

The permanent military part of the bureaucracy has lost ascendency over the masses through professional unsuccess against a people they had taught the Russians to consider an inferior race.

Temporarily, therefore, that part of the army drawn from civil life, such as the reservists, both officers and men, is vehemently against the Government. The miserable financial provisions for them and their families have converted even the indifferent ones into agitators. What money they get is due to the initiative generosity of the Zemstvos, whom they now regard as the natural leaders.

HOLY SYNOD IS ALARMED.

The Holy Synod is making great efforts to stop these disintegrating influences among the masses, and has issued a Christmas rescript to the orthodox clergy, wherein it says;

"Never has the Russian orthodox Church had such a dangerous enemy as now in the persons of the new rationalist sectaries, especially the stundists and the followers of Tolstoi.

"In modern stundistism social tendencies are keenly advocated and the false doctrine is becoming the inheritance of the whole people, and threatens the orthodox Church by giving birth in orthodox Russia to atheism, Nihilism, no faith in God, no love of the fatherland."

FEAR ARMY IS DISLOYAL.

With the army and the orthodox peasantry, two great props wavering from autocracy, it is natural that the Government has little anxiety to spare over the intellectual and liberal stop the-war campaign. Its views are crystalized by the Ruski Viedomosti, the organ of the Moscow University professoriate and of the professional classes generally. It says "Port Arthur is not Russia for the mass of the Russian people. It is something remote, an unknown, strange piece of Chinese ground, whereon we presumptuously have trodden, meaning to remain there. Russia will never forget the dreadful bloodshed, the awful tragic end of the policy framed without foresight, or the lamented needless victims."

The Government knows it is now unable to reverse its policy, and all efforts are centred on preventing the army from becoming as disloyal as the nation. This necessitates its being retained at the theatre of war as an active weapon of the Government, which has sacrificed everything to militarism and dare not look back.

Something new and Up-to-date! This is all very well but what about the old things that have stood the test of time? Now there is "The D & L" Emulsion; everybody knows you cannot find a better preparation for all Lung troubles.

SWEPT UP BILLS IN A DUST PAN

Negress Claims Millionaire Showered Money Upon Her

New York, Jan. 14.—The final stage in the struggle for possession of nearly three-quarters of a million dollars between John R. Platt, an aged millionaire, and Hannah Elias, a negress, who, he charges, wrongfully obtained the money from him, was scheduled to begin before Justice Blechoff in the Supreme Court to-day, but was postponed owing to the absence of witnesses. In this suit it was expected that the whole amazing story of the affair, which attracted the attention of the entire country when the secret of Platt's relation with the woman was revealed by the filing of his suit last summer, would be brought out.

Interest in the case was intensified from the first by the strange and tragic death of Andrew H. Green, one of the city's most prominent men, who was shot to death almost at the door of the Elias woman's house. Green's murderer, a negro, who was captured, and later sent to the insane asylum, said he had shot Mr. Green because he was jealous of the latter's attention to Mrs. Elias. With the filing of the Platt suit, the contention of Mr. Green's friends that he was a victim of mistaken identity when the fatal attack was made, was practically proven. There was a remarkable similarity in personall appearance between Andrew Green and John R. Platt, and Mr. Platt himself has said that he believed the insane negro intended to kill him, and mistook Mr. Green for him.

SAYS IT WAS GIVEN HER.

Mrs. Elias maintains that the first sum named in Platt's suit was given to her voluntarily by Platt—that he literally threw money at her. She has told of one instance, when she says, after pressing her to take a large sum, which she refused, he threw a great handful of bank notes on the floor, and she had a servant gather them up in a dustpan.

On the other hand, Platt claims that the defendant resorted to every trick and device her ingenuity could command to extract money from him during the twenty years of their acquaintance. There the matter stood when the case was ready for trial today.

Though the prosecution of Mrs. Elias before Magistrate Cumen last June failed utterly, Platt's attorneys said they looked for more success when the complainant goes on the stand at this trial. Mr. Platt is now 87 years of age and very feeble.

In the first trial his memory seemed almost entirely shattered. And when pressed by counsel for Mrs. Elias he could not maintain any statement he had made even but a few minutes before. He seemed completely bewildered.

It was believed that the ordeal which will confront him when he goes on the stand in the present trial of the suit will be even more severe than that in the magistrate's court.

TO TAKE STAFF COURSE

Two Officers Selected to Attend College in England

Ottawa, Jan. 14.—Two Canadian officers have been chosen to undergo a course at the staff college in England. They are Major J. A. Macdonald, Royal Canadian Infantry, Toronto, and Major Burstall, Royal Canadian Field Artillery. They are the first officers to take advantage of the arrangement made by Sir Frederick Borden with the War Office a little over a year ago, with the object of improving the technical education of Canadian officers.

Major Lafferty, of Quebec, has been appointed temporarily as adjutant of the Royal Military College. As soon as the appointment of Major Panet, former adjutant, as deputy assistant adjutant-general at Ottawa has been confirmed, Major Lafferty's appointment will be made permanent.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, excepting 8 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres more or less.

ENTRY

Entry may be made personally at a local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situate, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES

A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act, and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

1] At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

2] If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), or any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

3] If a settler was entitled to and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

4] If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same town, township, or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of clauses [2], [3] or [4] must cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, or substitute 20 head of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, and have besides 30 acres substantially fenced.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 3rd of June, 1889.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled and the land may again be thrown open for entry.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT

Should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

INFORMATION

Newly arrived immigrants will receive, at the Immigration Office in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing lands to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Land Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands, to which the Regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Co.
INCORPORATED

Capital $5,000,000. Shares $1.00 Each, Par Value, Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable.

We have just secured the agency for the above splendid proposition, of which we have been allotted a block of Treasury stock. We can confidently recommend this as a safe and, we believe, exceedingly profitable investment. Every dollar of stock is guaranteed by twenty year, full paid, gold bond, delivered to purchaser of stock, from an Investment Company that has no interest whatever in the company, but who are disposing of the debentured bonds to the public, and, under their charter, they are compelled to deposit securities to an equal amount, to the State Treasurer under which they received their charter, there by doubly securing the payment of their gold bonds.

The Company's property, which is now past the project stage, is known to be marvellously rich in gold.

Following is the opinion of G. W. Miller, Mining Engineer, formerly with the Boston and Montana Consolidated Copper and Silver Mining Company, U. S.; Simmer and Jack Mining Co., Limited, Elandsfountain, South Africa:—

"You have here a most valuable property and one of the strongest fissure veins that can be found in any part of the world.

"With the present development of the Monument Mine, I estimate that 100 tons per day can be extracted, which will mill from $15.00 to $20.00 per ton. The total cost of mining the ore, delivering and milling, I place at about $4.00 per ton. With increased milling capacity, it is safe to say that the mine can furnish 100 tons of $15.00 ore, which would yield a clear profit of $11.00 per ton, or $1,100.00 per day (equal to $400,000.00 per annum). Estimated total value of ore in sight, $8,000,000."

During the past summer, a party of the Company Directors visited the property, taking with them, Amos P. Brown, Ph.D., Mining Engineer and Professor of Geology and Mineralogy at the University of Pennsylvania. He, likewise, writes as follows:

"In regards to the amount of ore available at the mines at Sinclair, I saw on the dumps several thousand tons, probably 5000 tons would be an under-estimate.

"As to the size of the ore body itself, from what I saw of the geological structure, I think that there is every indication that it will be found to extend underground as far as the out-croppings on the south side of the gulch. This would mean an ore body large enough to keep the present mill running for many years to come.

A write up of the proposition will appear in these columns in a few days. Watch for it. In the meantime we will be pleased to furnish full information to investors.

Stocks—The MARKETS OF THE WORLD—Grains

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

The Salido Gold and Copper Company

Incorporated under the laws of Arizona, with a capital of $3,0c 000 forever on-assessable divided into shares of $1 each, par value. All investments insured Granite Securities Company.

The "SALIDO GOLD COPPER COMPANY" enterprise offers attractions to the investors of the country, that without thorough investigation, would scarcely seem probable. If only a fraction is realized of what any prudent business man in his own affairs would regard as absolutely certain, the enterprise must prove abundantly successful and exceedingly profitable.

SALE OF STOCK

The company will prosecute the work of development with all the diligence that the cash in the treasury will permit and circumstances warrant, and to this end a small amount of the treasury stock is now placed upon the market, in blocks of not less than One Hundred Shares. The par value of the stock is One Dollar per share, fully paid and forever non-assessable.

The company reserves the right to advance the price of stock without notice.

REMEMBER

First—That all payments for treasury stock go into the treasury for development work and not into the pockets of the promoters.

Second—There are no salaried officers.

Third—The incorporators have put their own good money into this enterprise and being business men, intend to do business along business lines

Fourth—That this company is honest.

Fifth—If you are thinking of investing in mining stocks this is worthy of your careful investigation.

OTHER PROPERTIES

This Company owns four other Gold and Copper Mines, which title is now in process in the laws of Mexico. As soon as title is perfected, we shall commence to develop them as we certainly expect something very great from these properties. Our assays taken have been of the very best, showing gold and copper from $6.00 to $122. 30 per ton.

I have secured a small block of this stock, which I offer at the following prices: Unguaranteed 40 cents per share, guaranteed 80 cents per share. These prices will only prevail for a short time, as the number of shares for sale at this price is limited. The Shares will then be advanced to 40 cents for the unguaranteed and 80 cents for the guaranteed. I can unhesitatingly recommend this investment to the Canadian public.

FLED RATHER THAN FIGHT FOR RUSSIA

Russian Refugees now in Montreal Were in the Reserves

Montreal, January 12.—The scene at the Baron de Hirsch Institute is one worthy of an institution bearing the name of a philanthropist so great hearted.

In one room ladies of the Hebrew Ladies' Aid Association are sorting out woollen garments for children, in another the kindergarten class were going through an animated musical drill; while in the big hall without scores of the Russian Jew immigrants looked wistfully on at the little ones.

RUSSIAN RESERVISTS.

These men, with good honest faces, neatly clad and strong of physique, are mainly reservists, who have escaped from Russia, and who have left their wives and families behind them until they can send home for them. Almost all are farmers.

They appreciate the kindness of their brethren here in providing for them, but all would prefer to get work of any kind rather than depend upon the charity of the Institute. They have not the appearance of people used to alms, as they stand about the institute, scores of them with quiet, subdued faces and eager eyes.

FEELING GROWS STRONGER.

One of these, Nehemia Shiemin, a farmer from Katrinaslov province, was interviewed by the Star representative this morning, Mr. A. Goldstein acting as interpreter. He had served one prescribed period in the Russian army, and had then been placed on the reserve list. But the reserves were being called out to war in province after province before Shemin left Russia, and he felt it better to come out here to make a home for his family than be killed in battle.

There are thousands of others like him, he says. They have no dislike for the Japanese, and no sympathy with the Russian government, so they did not want to fight. The feeling in some of the provinces against the calling of the reserves was intense. It is not a war that evokes patriotic spirit, and the wives and mothers and sisters in one village threw themselves on the railway track—a human obstacle hundreds of yards long—to prevent the train moving away with the men. They were finally removed by the gens d'armes, and the train steamed away with its unwilling burden, leaving the despairing women behind.

"Have you a family in Russia?" Shemin was asked.

"Yes, a wife and three small children."

"How will they live now while you are away?" The question was no sooner asked than regretted. The man's face, and it was a strong one, was moved from its calm.

"God alone knows that," he said, with emotion; and, turning to the interpreter, "it is winter now; there is not much for them on the farm. Sometimes, too, they are roughly handled by the Russians. And there are many like that."

Small wonder that the men crowding the halls of the institute have such grave faces; there is not only the deferred hope of work, but the uncertainty of their friends' welfare in Russia.

MEETS WITH PREJUDICE.

Mr. A. Goldstein, who is devoting himself to the work every day and far into the night, says that a good deal of prejudice has been met with in seeking work for the men. They are deemed to have less claim to their day's bread than a Christian has, he says, although they are strangers in the country. After a most energetic search throughout the town yesterday, work was obtained for only 87 men out of 700. and an outcry was raised because a few had been given work by the corporation. They are mostly all farmers and would prefer agricultural work, but as the committee can see no possible opening in that way until spring, the men are willing to take any kind of work that offers.

IN NEED OF CLOTHING.

A few have some money, that they kept hidden about their person, but none have any extra clothing, because in escaping across the Russian border they would not have been permitted to pass if they had the appearance of going on a journey. In many cases the Cossack guards were bribed. A Hebrew student at McGill University drove about the city last week to the different Jewish families and collected a great deal of clothing for some of the poorly-clad.

The relief committee expects soon to receive more money from charitable Hebrew organizations in Europe, the local funds being unable to meet all the demands upon them. About $900 weekly is being expended for food and shelter for them.

Last night the passers-by on Bleury street were drawn by the crowds assembled in front of the Institute. Almost seven hundred men were waiting there to receive the small sums given each. Steps are being taken to provide large shelter homes for the men in each, accommodating about 100 men. They are now staying in smaller lodging houses.

STOP INFLUX OF JEWS.

A deputation from the relief committee of the Baron de Hirsch Institute companies are in Ottawa today in conference with Deputy Minister Corry, of the Interior Department, to consider what steps should be taken to stop the influx of Russian Jews to Canada, particularly those who are coming across the border from the United States.

178 came across last Friday to Montreal, having come in bond by a Cunard liner to New York.

A letter was received last week at the Institute from Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who was in receipt of a communication from Mayor Laporte regarding the Institute's letter to the Mayor.

In his letter Sir Wilfrid states that aid is given by the Government only to immigrants of the agricultural class.

In reply the committee has addressed a letter to Sir Wilfrid, stating that their letter to the Mayor of Montreal was solely with the intention of trying to obtain work for the immigrants. They did not expect that the letter would be published, nor did they desire to raise any public outcry. The Institute will not allow the immigrants to become a public charge, all they want for them being work.

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Rare Chance to Secure a Paying Investment

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY

has placed a small block of their stock at the disposal of Canadian investors. This stock is sure to rapidly advance in price. The Company is now arranging to instal the power plant and a mill and cyanide plant for the reduction of their ore to a bullion on the property. They have arranged with a Trust Company having assets of $1,500,000 to put up a bond guaranteeing investors the repayment of the full amount invested. This makes investors absolutely safe. By no possibility can they lose a dollar.

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY was organized November 21, 1902, under the laws of the State of Idaho. The capitalization is one million shares of the par value of one dollar each, fully paid and non assessable; of the 1,000,000 shares. 400,000 have been set aside as treasury stock

THE BOISE BASIN came into prominence shortly after Grimes and his party of prospectors entered the Basin country in 1862; their entrance was into the northern portion, and one discovery of rich placer ground followed another until the news of the rich finds reached the outside world, when a veritable stampede for Boise Basin commenced, towns sprang up and grew together in an incredibly short time; the rush of people to Idaho City made it a place of 20,000 people in 1867, having a business street over a mile long lined with two-story buildings streets and sidewalks filled with people day and night, business and money on every hand and the city bearing the proud distinction of being the capital of the territory of Idaho. Wages ran from $6 to $10 a day and not infrequently forty and fifty men worked on a single placer claim; the clean-up for a day's work in many instances ran close to $5,000; large fortunes were made in a few days by washing the golden sands in a pan, so eager was the quest for the shining metal that the streets of Idaho City were dug up and washed and re-washed, and the soil removed from under the houses and places of business. So extensive was the search for the hidden treasure that not only all of the low ground was worked but the foot of the mountains surrounding the city have been washed away, filling up the lower portions of the basin and extending into the town, where one of the buildings has been buried under the tailings from the numerous placer workings.

LOCATION—The property of the Gold Coin Mining Company is situated in the Gambrinus Mining District, Boise County, Idaho, on the range of mountains between Moore Creek and Elk Creek, which forms a part of the eastern boundary of the famous Boise Basin and into which these mountains are drained The property is located ten miles northeast of Idaho City, from which place there are good wagon roads either to the workings on top of the mountain or to the place of the proposed tunnels in the gulch which crosses the Tunnelsite claim.

THE CLAIMS—The Company owns a group of four contiguous lode mining claims and the Gold Coin Millsite: the names of the lode claims are the Tunnelsite, Blue Bell, Pennsylvania and Homestake, each being a full claim 600 feet wide by 1,500 feet long, excepting the Tunnelsite claim, which is 450 feet wide at the west end and 1,055 feet long; it was necessary to stake the claim in this form on account of joining the Washington property on the south and the Sob Rosa property on the west, these properties being prior locations to the Tunnelsite claim. The four lode claims aggregate nearly 80 acres of rich mineral land.

This Company is the owner of 70,000 acres of very rich, fertile lands in the Province of Pinar del Rio, Cuba This land is suitable to the growth of the finest quality of tobacco, oranges, lemons, pineapples and other citrous fruits.

A small portion of this estate produced last year a large percentage on the total authorized capital of this company.

One acre produced last year $2700 in tobacco. The revenue-producing powers of this estate will not be reduced by sale of lands, as the cultivated portion will be increased by additional plantation.

The lands offered for sale can be made as productive within a short period as those at present cultivated.

The estate is abundantly watered by numerous streams and fresh water springs.

The climate is one perpetual June, no fogs, no mists, no yellow fever.

Flowers bloom the year round.

Game and fish abound.

The temperature is even, so that catarrh is unheard of.

Abundance of water and perpetual grass makes stock raising an assured success.

New York markets are at its command for all its products.

The estate borders upon Gaudiana Bay, with a sea frontage of about twelve miles and a deep water, sheltered harbor.

Cuba has only now become open to modern development, and its progress is sure to be rapid.

This is the opportunity for the man of small means to obtain a home and subsequent wealth, for the man of means to obtain a profitable investment.

This Company is now offering land in blocks of 10 acres or more at $10 00 per acre.

Stock at par or scrip entitling the owner to an option to take land at $10.00, or stock at par, for a limited period

Only 10,000 acres will be offered at $10.00 per acre, of which 2,000 acres are already sold

The second 10,000 acres will be sold at $20.00 per acre or over within a few months.

The balance of the estate to be disposed of 30,000 acres, will be raised to $50 00 per acre or over.

As the price of land is raised the price of stock will also advance.

Purchase now and save money.

Terms—25 per cent cash; 25 per cent. 30 days; 25 per cent. 60 days; 25 per cent. 90 days.

Consumption Can Be Cured

A Powerful and Effective Destroyer of Disease Germs Discovered Which Cures Consumption.

The ravages of consumption which for years have terrorized the modern world will no longer continue to cut off our population by thousands. Science has at last produced a remedy which not only can be readily applied to the lungs, but also kills every trace of bacilli in the throat, bronchial tubes, and air passages of all the breathing organs.

The name of this marvellous antiseptic about which the doctors are talking so much is Catarrhozone, the aromated air cure. This vapor is more soothing than the air of pine woods, and its healing properties are without limit.

Through a skilfully devised inhaler the sufferer is enabled to breathe this fragrant medicated vapor into the most minute air cells of the lungs. It is so destructive to microbic life that the tubercular germs are rapidly killed and prevented from ever returning. Congestion and inflammation are relieved, coughing stops, all disagreeable symptoms are quickly cured by Catarrhozone.

So simple is Catarrhozone that anyone can use it. So certain to cure lung and throat troubles that it is prescribed by not less than twenty thousand doctors in United States and Canada. One well known authority who has made a life long study of consumption, has the following to say; "Catarrhozone is certainly a true specific for white plague. I find that its healing vapor readily spreads all through all the breathing organs passing over probably not less than one thousand square feet of mucous surface at a single inhalation. It is a perfect germicide and destroys tubercular germs with wonderful certainty. Catarrhozone is entitled to rank among the great medical discoveries of the age."

No matter how often you have been disappointed with other remedies you must not be discouraged. In Catarrhozone you will find new hope. What it has done before it can do again. Your case is not worse than others it has cured. Therefore if properly used you can also be cured by Catarrhozone. Two months treatment $1.00. At druggists or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont. Refuse any substitute for Catarrhozone—only the genuine can cure.

A Lively Runaway

A lively runaway took place yesterday afternoon when a spirited farmer's horse took fright on Hunter St., and ran westward at a lively rate. The animal turned north on George street and upset the sleigh to which it was attached, throwing the driver into the snow. The driver was dragged several feet, but was not injured. As the horse was turning the corner at George street, a young man, Mr. A. Little made a brave, but unsuccessful attempt to stop the animal's mad career. The horse proceeded up George street several blocks before being brought to a standstill.

Is Methodism Dying out?

Rev. W. H. Hincks, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, Toronto, was so impressed with recent articles in The Christian Guardian, pointing to the possible extinction of Methodism, that he called a special meeting of his congregation to consider the articles in question. In spite of a raging storm a well-attended meeting resulted, and deep earnestness and concern was manifested. The asserted decline of evangelistic success and diminished attendance at class and prayer meetings were well considered, but the real causes of this supposed decline, in the opinion of the pastor, were not touched on by The Guardian articles. Accordingly, it was announced that on Sunday at both services the subject will be "Is Methodism Really Dying?"

A Narrow Escape

Yesterday morning what came nearly being a fatal accident occurred on George street. It appears that a driver for R. Hicks & Co., named Geary, with a load of coal in sacks, was driving along in front of a car going north, and in order to allow the latter to pass the driver crossed the tracks, but the roadway was so narrow between the banks that his sleigh had to go up on one of the latter, and in doing so the load upset, throwing Geary off the sleigh in front of the car. The latter was so close to the sleigh that it was impossible for the motorman to stop before Geary could get out of the way. The step of the car struck him in the back, and only for the fact that the speed had been slackened considerably, it is probable that very serious injuries would have been inflicted.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

Dashes Here and There by Times Reporters on Their Rounds

—Havelock wants a new post office.

—The annual meeting of the West Peterborough Agricultural Society will likely be held on Wednesday, February 8th.

—It has been suggested that a religious census of Peterborough be taken. This g.f.j. would suggest that we wait till after the election.

—The annual meeting of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society will be held in the Town Council Chamber on Wednesday evening next.

—The annual business meeting of the congregation of Murray street Baptist church, which was to have been held on Thursday evening, has been postponed until next Thursday night, January 19th.

—The Faithful Workers' Mission Band of St. Paul's church have secured Rev. J. W. Ridley, of Toronto to give his popular lecture on "Mrs. Wills of the Cabbage Patch," on Friday evening, January 20th at 8 o'clock in the School Room of St Paul's church. Admission 15c. 2d

—Our contemporary, the Examiner, printed a paragraph the other day referring to the proposed meeting of the "Joint" Commission. Lest some of the public get mixed, this great family journal rises to remark that this has nothing whatever to do with the Peterborough Butchers Association.

—Mr. George Morris, employee of C.G.E. Co. met with a painful, though not serious accident on Wednesday night. While operating a milling machine his right hand became caught and the second finger was badly bruised, the nail and top of finger being torn off. His injury was immediately dressed and is not expected to cause much trouble.

—Millbrook Reporter: Miss Scott, teacher of the Fallis Line, was stricken with an attack of appendicitis on Saturday last and was at once taken to the hospital at Peterborough to be operated upon. The sad news has come to hand as we go to press that she has passed away. There will be unusual sympathy with the bereaved friends in Omemee.

—The County Council of Northumberland and Durham have taken off the fees of all county pupils attending their own High Schools and by so much have increased the maintenance grant to their high school boards. It is thought by this means that they will be able to retain more of their own pupils. Probably over one-fourth of all pupils in the county to the south of us are in Norwood High School.

—Norwood Register: Rev. Dr. Crothers, of Peterborough, preached last Sunday in the Methodist church here in the interests of the Educational Work of the Church. Owing to the severe storm and the blockaded roads the attendance was below the average, consequently the special subscription in behalf of this fund was deferred until a more favorable time. Dr. Crothers delivered two exceedingly interestingly and eloquent discourses which were highly edifying to those present. Rev. Mr. Parker, the pastor, was at Peterborough, preaching anniversary sermons in George street church.

At the Brock Street Rink Last Night Before a Large Crowd of Spectators.

The Lindsay Hockey Team with their contingent of 200 supporters, arrived last night at 7.30, by special train in all the glory of conquering heroes. They had left the Scugog town with the Peterborough septett defeated, and the game won. All that remained undone was to bring their supporters" to the electric city and take the victory home. It was just a matter of how large the score would be! Of course that is the way the Lindsayites saw it. So sure were they of victory that an advance guard arrived in the morning. This was the slogan of the pipe dreamers; "May your town be graced with hockeyites as your city is with electric lights, but you cannot win the game to-night. We have the goods with us and will deliver them to the Peterboroughites.—Money talks.—LINDSAY."

Needless to say the surplus cash was soon eaten up by a few of the wise ones

After the arrival of the train the visitors proceeded to the rink and for awhile things were quite musical as the members of the Grass-Hopper Club were present and alternately with the Lindsay supporters, kept the crowd of about 1,000 people in good humor.

The visitors were the first to appear on the ice, and got the gladyell from their band of supporters, then came the locals and the "Grass-Hoppers got busy. Lindsay has certainly got the fever and are hockey crazy. That's right Lindsay! Glad you have awakened from the dead, and taken to the great winter game. They have a pretty bulky aggregation, but they lack team work, their combination was not up to that of the locals. Both teams checked hard and used their weight. The visitors indulged in quite a lot of tripping, especially Irving and Parkins, and they shot well, while the locals were deficient in this point and scores of shots went wide. The ice was superb, and the players had to travel some to be in the game. Referee "Chaucer" Elliott of Kingston, set the boys off, and the game started out at a lively clip. The puck traveled from end to end, but Duffus got an opening, and Lindsay scored in four and a half minutes, followed by one for the locals in three and a half minutes, Morgan scoring from a nice piece of combination in which Graham and Cavanah figured. The Peterborough forward line then got down to work and Crowley, at point, set them going with the rubber time after time. Graham broke his skate and retired, Taylor going off to even matters. After a series of end to end rushes, Morgan again located the nets. Lindsay tried hard to land one but without success. At this period the game was delayed for a few minutes, Crowley running into Reilly who was injured and forced to retire for the remainder of the match. Graham who had his skate broken stepping off with him. When the play resumed, Peterborough made a series of attacks on the visitors' nets, but their shots were going wide finally Parnell took a run down the ice and scored. Peterborough adding another as a result of some neat combination, Cavanah and Morgan taking the rubber down the full length of the rink, Cavanah shot but McGuire blocked, and Morgan slammed it in. Glover and Crowley were playing a great game, and intercepted many a dangerous attack of the visitors, relieving by some good rushes up the ice. Crowley rendered valuable assistance to the forwards. Morgan again placed the rubber in the nets, making the score four to one. The Lindsay spectators were getting impatient. Glover made a pretty rush, which looked like a sure thing, but McGuire took care of the disc, only to submit to the inevitable. Parnell scoring on a pass from Cavanah in one minute. Then the Lindsay crowd yelled as Taylor scored on a pass from Parkins in half a minute. Cavanah following with one for the locals in one minute. This concluded the first half, Peterborough having the long end of the score 6—2. During this period Ernie Wasson was called upon to turn away some saucy ones, but was equal to the task.

In the second half the visitors went on the ice determined to win and set a lively pace, and before long Parkins got one passed Wasson, the locals also taking one, followed with two for the visitors. Then the Lindsayites nearly tore the rink down, but this was the only opportunity given them. The locals pulled themselves together, and got their combination going. Cavanah was at his best, and playing a pretty game. Morgan and Parnell were also landing them at the nets, being well fed with the rubber by Glover and Crowley. Wasson refused to allow any more to have a look in at the net, and the locals piled them in one, two, three order, until the scored reached seventeen. The game ending 17 to 5 in Peterborough's favor.

Following was the line up,

LINDSAY.		PETERBOROUGH
	Goal.
McGuire		Wasson
	Point.
Reilly		Glover
	Cover-point.
Irving		Crowley

Referee—"Chaucer" Elliott, of Kingston.
Time Keepers—Jas. McCabe, Peterborough; Dr. Walters, Lindsay.
Goal Umpires—Clarke Searls, Peterborough; Mr. Gilloughley, Lindsay.

• • • •

Pringle had his eye cut, and delayed the game for a short time.

• • • •

Parnell played a great game, he followed up well, and checked back

Parnell, Morgan and Cavanah kept the Scugog boys busy, when they started their com.

• • • •

Morgan worried McGuire considerably in the attacks on goal.

• • • •

Cavanah got going some in the second half, and played a pretty game.

• • • •

Crowley is improving every game, and keeps the wings fed well.

• • • •

Glover plays a stonewall defence game.

• • • •

Wasson cleared some hot ones.

• • • •

For the visitors, Irving at cover-point played a strong game. Duffus is a good man at rover. Taylor at centre is a hard worker.

• • • •

Parker was very conspicuous at left wing, and played his position well

• • • •

A gong has been installed near the time-keepers to inform the referee when half-time and time has expired

• • • •

"Chaucer" Elliott made an impartial referee, and caught almost everything going. He penalised offenders of both teams freely, and as a result quite a number were on the benches.

Narrow Chests.

The old theory that consumption was inherited is utterly discredited by modern medical science. The germs of consumption must be received from without. These germs are every where. They are constantly being received and cast out by the healthy system. It is the narrow chested whose inheritance is weakness who fall a prey to consumption because they are too weak of lung to resist and throw off disease.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes weak lungs strong. It cures obstinate deep-seated coughs, bleeding lungs, weakness, emaciation and other conditions which if neglected or unskilfully treated find a fatal termination in consumption.

$3,000 FORFEIT will be paid by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y., if they cannot show the original signatures of the individual volunteering the testimonial below, and also of the writers of every testimonial among the thousands which they are constantly publishing, thus proving their genuineness.

"In the spring of 1901 I was taken with hemorrhages of the lungs, and became very weak and short of breath, lost flesh and had no appetite, writes Mr. E. V. Robinson, of Kenton, Tenn. "I was persuaded to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The first few bottles seemed to do me but little good. Thought I would soon be a victim of that dreaded disease, consumption. Had almost given up in despair when my friends persuaded me to try some 'Golden Medical Discovery' in the form of tablets, which I did. I weigh 180 pounds now, and when I commenced I only weighed 140 pounds. If any one doubts this statement I will be pleased to answer any inquiry."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." Nothing is "just as good." Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the clogged system from impurities.

MEDICAL EXAMINER

Of the United States Treasury Recommends Pe-ru-na.

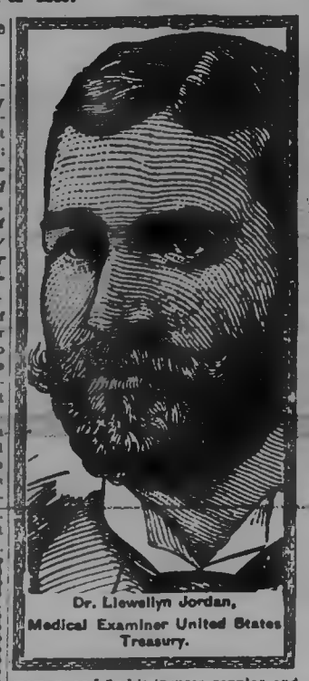
Other Prominent Physicians Use and Endorse Pe-ru-na.

DR. LLEWELLYN Jordan, Medical Examiner of the U. S. Treasury Department, graduate of Columbia College, and who served three years at West Point, has the following to say of Peruna:

"Allow me to express my gratitude to you for the benefit derived from your wonderful remedy. One short month has brought forth a vast change and I now consider myself a well man after months of suffering. Fellow sufferers, Peruna will cure you."

A constantly increasing number of physicians prescribe Peruna in their practice. It has proven its merits so thoroughly that even the doctors have overcome their prejudice against so called patent medicines and recommend it to their patients.

Peruna occupies a unique position in medical science. It is the only internal systemic catarrh remedy known to the medical profession to-day. Catarrh, as everyone will admit, is the cause of one-half the disease which afflict mankind. Catarrh and catarrhal diseases afflict one-half of the people of United States.



Dr. Llewellyn Jordan,
Medical Examiner United States Treasury.

Robert R. Roberts, M. D., Washington, D. C., writes:

"Through my own experience as well as that of many of my friends and acquaintances who have been cured or relieved of catarrh by the use of Hartman's Peruna, I can confidently recommend it to those suffering from such disorders, and have no hesitation in prescribing it to my patients."—Robert R. Roberts.

Dr. R. Robbins, Muskogee, I. T., writes:

"Peruna is the best medicine I know of for coughs and to strengthen a weak stomach and to give appetite. Besides prescribing it for catarrh, I have ordered it for weak and debilitated people, and have not had a patient but said it helped him. It is an excellent medicine and it fits so many cases.

"I have a large practice, and have a chance to prescribe your Peruna. I hope you may live long to do good to the sick and the suffering."

Dr. M. C. Gee, writes from 513 Jones St., San Francisco, Cal.:

"Peruna has performed so many wonderful cures in San Francisco that I am convinced that it is a valuable remedy. I have frequently advised its use for women, as I find it insures regular and painless menstruation, cures leucorrhœa and ovarian troubles, and builds up the entire system. I also consider it one of the finest catarrh remedies I know of."—M. C. Gee, M. D.

Catarrh is a systemic disease curable only by systemic treatment. A remedy that cures catarrh must aim directly at the depressed nerve centers. This is what Peruna does.

Peruna immediately invigorates the nerve-centers which give vitality to the mucous membranes. Then catarrh disappears. Then catarrh is permanently cured.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

JAPAN'S KINDLY FEELING FOR THE BRITISH PEOPLE

Expressions of High Regard for England by Leading Tokio Papers.

London, January 16.—In view of the marked success of Japan, England's ally, in the current war, the feelings of the Japanese people towards Great Britain are interesting. The Anglo-Japanese alliance has now been subjected for a period of almost nine months to a severe test. Do the Japanese think that England has been cold and unserviceable, or do they consider that she has discharged her duty fairly and uprightly, with sympathy and yet without partiality? queries a Tokio correspondent of the London Times. The utterances of the Tokio journals in connection with the King's birthday throw light upon this subject. He translates parts of their leading articles:

The Jiji Shinpo:

The wholesale influence that has been mesmerised on international relations by the visits of the King of England to foreign countries is not small. Notable among the great events that His Majesty has contributed to bring about have been, in the first place, complete removal of the traditional barrier which for so many years separated France and England, so that fresh guarantees have been furnished for the peace of Europe; and, in the second place, the conclusion of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance, which, never previously dreamed of by European politicians, constitutes in its turn a guarantee for the peace of the Orient. Unfortunately there has been a rupture of the pacific relations between Russia and Japan. Yet when we reflect that this war, while, on the one hand, it serves to check the selfish aggressiveness of Russia, helps, on the other, to consolidate the foundations of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance, thus contributing to the permanent tranquility of the Far East, we have to admit that the great purpose of the alliance has been promoted by the contest. The attitude of the British Government towards the war has been just and enlightened. Not only did England proclaim at the beginning of the fight her strict neutrality and thereafter adhere unfalteringly to the duties of a neutral, but also the manifestation of British public opinion have shown clearly that in the event of any third Poer assisting Russia, England would observe the terms of the alliance in giving aid to Japan. Moreover, British subjects have subscribed liberally to our military relief funds and have contributed money and articles to our Red Cross Society and other objects connected with the war. Such was to have been expected of an ally perhaps; but we cannot be blind to the fact that His Majesty's sympathy served largely as an incentive to his subjects. Our people are profoundly grateful for these evidences of our ally's friendship, and we rejoice to offer on this auspicious occasion our sincerest wishes for the welfare of His Majesty and of the British people.

NOT TRANSIENT FRIENDSHIP.

Nichi Nichi Shimbun:

It is not a mere transient sentiment of friendship that moves us to offer most abundant congratulations to His Majesty King Edwar VII., Sovereign of the great and affluent Empire which we have the honor and the pleasure to call our ally. His Majesty pays profound attention to matters of the State and society. The world has witnessed how every international question became an object of immediate solicitude with him. That His Majesty promoted the Anglo-Japanese Alliance was primarily because of his ardent desire to secure peace for the Far East, and if, most unhappily, Japan and Russia have had to take up arms we owe it to the alliance that limits have been set to the area of the conflict, and that the attitudes of the various European States toward it have been clearly defined. If through the direct or indirect results of the alliance the war be soon brought to an end and its sequel satisfactory arrangedi the benefits conferred by the alliance and the services rendered by it will be incomparable. it will have fulfilled our utmost expectations. We unite with all our fellow-national, on this joyful occasion, in wishing His Majesty long life and boundless prosperity.

THE KING'S ACHIEVEMENTS.

Asahi Shimbun:

Not four full years have passed since King Edward came to the throne, yet in that brief time the achievements of his country have added largely to the brilliancy of its recent history. The great work of unification in South Africa had scarcely been completed when the policy of "magnificent isolation" was abandoned and an alliance cemented with ten-thousand-miles-distant Japan, while the world looked with astonishment at this bold and enlightened act, and Japan was enabled to pursue her progressive policy towards her Far Eastern neighbors. It is true that the necessity subsequently confronted her of drawing the sword to restrain Russian aggressions in Manchuria, but to the alliance she owes it that the scope of the combat has been limited strictly to one quarter of the Orient. Then followed England's understanding with France. Our readers do not require to be reminded of the influence this understanding has exercised on Great Britain's position alike in Europe and in the Far East that King Edward's Government and people have succeeded in dealing with the most vital questions of world politics that confronted them. As their allies we heartily congratulate them on their success. These achievements may be said to be His Majesty's. Thiers wrote that Kings reign but do not govern. King Edward, however, not only reigns well but governs well. Such a Sovereign does England possess. No wonder that our ally is great and powerful. From their hearts our contrymen are grateful for the sympathy which His Majesty's Government and his people have shown toward them as allies, and with our congratulations on this happy occasion we desire to offer an expression of our profound thanks.

OFFERS CONGRATULATIONS.

The Kokumin, after dwelling on the generally satisfactory condition of Great Britain's foreign relations, says:

We unite with our fellow-nationals in offering congratulations to the Monarch of our allied country on the occasion of His Majesty's birthday, and in praying for the prosperity of the King and his court as well as for the perpetually increasing welfare of his people. That at any time of national difficulty we shall have the sincere sympathy of England, and that she will extend to us the moral support she is now actually extending, we recognize with the utmost gratitude, and we welcome this opportunity of discharging the pleasant duty of avowing to His Majesty the sincere thanks of his country's ally.

TROOPS LEAVING HALIFAX

Canada to be left alled on to Maintain Fortress—Garrison to Going

Halifax, N.S., Jan. 16.—It is stated here with the greatest assurance that arrangements are now being completed for the removal of the fifth Royal Garrison Regiment of Infantry, from Halifax, not to be replaced by Imperial troops. This regiment will, it is stated, return to England, and its garrison duties will be taken over by Canadian troops. One company of the Royal Garrison Artillery is also, it is said, to be despatched immediately to Hong Kong. This will leave Halifax with only one company of the Royal Garrison Artillery, and two companies of Royal Engineers. No formal announcement of this change will be made until the return of Major General Sir Charles Parsons, officer commanding from Ottawa, where, it is believed, he will hold a conference with military headquarters;

It is probable that before the year is out Halifax will cease to be a military station and Halifax will cease to be an Imperial outpost, and will be garrisoned entirely by Canadians.

WHAT IS SAID IN OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Jan. 16.—Sir Charles Parsons came to Ottawa to attend the State dinner at Rideau Hall. It is his custom to come here to attend these ceremonies and consequently his presence has an explanation apart from any wider considerations.

He has been closeted for some time this morning with General Lake. That again is not an inevitable proof that conferences are in the wind, for it would be rather peculiar if the General commanding so important a post were not to have a meeting with the chief military authority in Canada.

Further, the Militia Department has not received any official communications on the subject of the Halifax garrison. It has been given no information of the intentions of the Dominion of the intentions of the Imperial Government.

Yet the fact remains that considerable significance is attached to Sir Charles' present visit, and that the feeling is widespread that important conversations will take place on the subject. Sir Frederick Borden's declaration at Toronto is recalled, and it is taken for granted that the General commanding at Halifax will not depart without a canvassing of the situation.

MILITARY EXPERTS DISMAYED.

Certain military circles here would hail the addition of Halifax to the cares of the Dominion with something like dismay. Here is the situation; Halifax in former times had a garrison of two infantry battalions. Of late it has had one battalion, besides about 750 artillery and engineers, two companies of artillery, a company and a half of engineers. The thousand infantry constitute a minimum force for the permanent occupation of so extensive a fortress. Now the present permanent force of Canada has an establishment of 2,000. Every effort is made to keep the force at strength. Yet it is only 850 strong. The Royal Canadian Regiment is 350 strong. The pay has recently been increased; yet that is the best the Canadian recruiting sergeant can do.

WOULD HALIFAX BE ANOTHER QUEBEC?

Where could Canada get an additional thousand men? It is conceivable that the plan may be tried of keeping only the artillery and engineers, and trusting to the militia of the city and vicinity to provide the infantry in case of need. This plan has been tried on a measure, at Quebec, a company or two of garrison artillery having been maintained at that place. The practical result is that Quebec as a fortress is a ruin. There have been two omissions. There has been no buying of improved guns as old ones became obsolete; no erecting of fresh works as discoveries were made in the art of fortification. In addition, even the old fortifications have not been kept in repair.

Halifax at present is a splendid fortress kept up-to-date, and also kept in repair. Perhaps the presence of permanent infantry is not absolutely necessary to the upkeep of the fortress. Whatever the nature of the garrison, some precautions should be taken against decay. At present with the rates of pay in vogue, it seems absolutely impossible to enlist Canadian soldiers in sufficient numbers to keep the works in proper condition.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS.

Nothing makes money so rapidly, and so easily, as money. To make money fast, to pile up riches, one must have money for aiworking tool. Laborers have been known to achieve wealth, but not directly by the labor of their hands. The highest priced laborer in the land might hoard his wages all his life, and the sum total would not be enough to buy a plot of ground ten feet square, within a mile of the home of Andrew Carnegie, on Fifth avenue, New York. And yet the time was when Andrew Carnegie was a laborer.

A few thousand dollars properly handled, judiciously invested, will earn far better wages than are paid half the laborers throughout the country. Some of the greatest fortunes of the country have their foundations in investments of a few hundred dollars. Many financial structures have been erected upon corner stones represented by exceedingly small investments. Nobody ever got rich by tucking away their savings in banks, at two and one-half per cent., three per cent., and four per cent. interest.

As a laborer, money may be divided into classes, the same as in individuals. Money deposited in Savings Banks drawing only 2 1-2 per cent., 3 per cent., and 4 per cent. in interest occupies, relatively speaking, the same position as is occupied by the cheapest unskilled laborer digging in the streets or felling trees in the forest. Money invested in sound enterprises yielding returns of 8 per cent., 10 per cent., and 12 per cent., occupies the same position as is occupied by our best skilled laborers. Then there is another class represented by money invested in enterprises, which result even more profitably and yield returns of fifteen per cent., twenty per cent., and more. Money thus invested occupies the same position as is occupied by professional men, with large salaries and modern houses, with all the comforts of life.

Money as a laborer is a good worker, with its earning power limited only by the amount of it is placed. It can labor in the field of corporation enterprises and earn a princely income just as easily as it can perform the work of an unskilled laborer in the moss-covered vaults of a savings bank.

When a man or woman invests money in stocks and received dividend checks representing double, triple and sometimes quadruple the amount paid in interest by banks and trust companies, the investor is conscious of judgment well directed.

In our work as general fiscal agents we always like to have investors ask us questions. We like to do business with people who want to know, who are not satisfied to take everything for granted. We like to do business with men and women who "must be shown" — to whom everything must be made clear, leaving no opportunity for mistake or misunderstanding; such people very rarely go wrong in making investments.

During the past few years we have made a careful study of all classes of investments. We have studied them so closely, investigated them so carefully, that it is no longer a difficult matter for us to pick out the good from the bad. As general fiscal agents, handling stocks and bonds for corporations, we have several hundred propositions put to us every month; not more than one out of every ten is worthy of even serious consideration. The really meritorious ones we look into thoroughly, and if we find that everything is all right, that the stock or bonds will represent to the investor more than one hundred cents on the dollar, then we are ready to talk business. We have been able during the past few years to select and handle for individuals and corporations many investment propositions of more than ordinary merit. As a result, the books of our office show an exceedingly large list of highly satisfied men and women, investors throughout the country, who are receiving large returns for the money which they invested on our advice and recommendation. We are completely equipped to point out the way of success to all persons with money to invest.

We are devoting our whole time to the study of investment propositions, and we are always able to offer customers of our office real, genuine bargains, in sound, safe, gilt edge securities. We do not, however, handle stocks or bonds, about like a foot ball by frenzy financiers, or made to bob up and down to manipulators or the irregular and uncertain stock market.

If you have money to invest, it will pay you to write us for full information about our way of doing business, and if you will tell us how much money you have for investment we will take pleasure in pointing out the way to you, and will describe fully the good, sound securities, which we are now offering, and which will pay from eight per cent. to fifteen per cent., with practically sure increase from year to year.

Our hope is, that all our readers will profit by the advise which we have given.

Our hearts are in our work, and we now pledge our word that we will never make a single statement which we do not sincerely believe to be true in every particular, and which we are not in position to back up with an array of indisputable and convincing proof.

Appearing in the columns of this paper for the next few months will be our advertisement describing a proposition of exceptional merit. Read them. Think about them.

Every statement made in our advertisements are facts, and we stand ready to prove every one of them.

For information upon any matter, inquiries for prospectuses and subscription blanks, will be cheerfully answered by Wm. Salisbury, Peterborough, Ont., our local representative, or FRANCIS L. JUDD & CO., CLEVELAND, O.

OYAMA GETS MEN READY TO DEPART FROM YINKOW

The Attitude of Japan Regarding China's Neutrality Remains Unchanged--Russia Regards Great Britain as Her Real Foe.

Tuanshan, Jan. 16. via Mukden.—Chinese who have arrived here from Yinkow report that Field Marshal Oyama has been there since Dec. 25, inspecting troops. They also report that a Japanese military base has been established on the Island Luka, and that many troops are arriving there who do not resemble Japanese. According to the Chinese the troops at Yinkow are being drilled in artillery practice. There are 50,000 men there, and it is said that as they are trained they will be sent to the front. It is said there is a concentration of troops at Uomitan, east of the railway, and that large bodies of troops are forming on each flank of the Japanese position.

Japanese are building numerous armored trucks for the railroad and armored wagons for automobile quick firers. The Japanese also are buying large quantities of wire and grindstones for putting a battle edge on sabres, all of which are being moved to the front.

Much drilling is proceeding at all parts of the Japanese lines. Many new Japanese troops have been moved into position and received their baptism of fire on Jan. 7."

RUSS PRAISES JAP.

Tokio, Jan. 16.—Lieutenant-General Nadien, who is one of the Russian officers who gave their parole at Port Arthur, and who has arrived here, in 65 years of age. He said to an interviewer; "When I entered Port Arthur I was a major general. Since then I have been promoted to the rank of lieutenant-general I lived in the trenches. The bravery shown by the Japanese navy is beyond comparison. Its achievements are unparalleled. With the Japanese navy and the Russian army nothing in the whole world could withstand us.

"Our soldiers are uneducated. It is not so with the Japanese. The bravery displayed by the Japanese soldier is unrivaled. It seems shameful to kill such splendid men. I lament the tremendous sacrifice of life on both sides."

CZAR'S NEW YEAR.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 16.—Although the Emperor's regular new year's reception at the winter palace, which in ordinary times marks the formal opening of the gay social season at the Russian capital, was omitted, the ceremonious rounds of official and private visits consecrated by long tradition occurred as usual and filled the streets with animation.

RUSSIANS STILL HOPE.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 16.—New year's reviews by the newspapers admit frankly that the Japanese have had the better of the war so far, but the whole tone of the press is summed up in the following statement in Russ; "They have done well, but not enough. They have entrenched themselves in Korea as though they were at home. They have captured Port Arthur and made conquest of most of Southern Manchuria, but are face to face with a Russian army of equal numbers and are checked. The new year will show the Russian flag raised again along the borders of the warm water."

MORE LIBERAL CENSORSHIP.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 16.—The press reforms decided upon in principle by the committee of ministers have been referred to a special committee of the committee which will draft them, after which they will be promulgated by the senate. The [illegible] but it is [illegible] is now [illegible] known that they place the whole press of Russia on an equality, the more liberal censorship heretofore only enjoyed by the metropolitan and a few provincial papers being extended to all. Control over the publications will be strictly definite, a species of lese majeste law somewhat similar to that of Germany being introduced, but the arbitrary character of the previous censor will be abolished.

3,000 RAIDERS AFIELD.

General Kuroki's Headquarters in the Field, via Fusen, Jan. 16.—A body of Russian cavalry made a raid south this week for the purpose of harassing the Japanese lines of communication. They occupied the old town of Newchwang, whose population is entirely Chinese. On Thursday Japanese infantry attacked the Russians and drove them from the town. They left fifty dead. One Japanese was killed. The raiders, who crossed the Liao River into neutral territory, are supposed to number about 3,000 men. There was some interruption of railroad communication with the south as a result of the raid, but the damage was immediately repaired. The foreign attaches with the northern army will proceed to Port Arthur next week by special train and spend a few days in inspecting the town and forts.

RUSSIANS LOSE 300.

Tokio, Jan. 16.—The Japanese casualties in the recent fights at Newchwang and other places involved in the Russian raid are estimated at one killed and fifteen wounded, all non-commissioned officers and privates. The Russian total losses are estimated at over three hundred. The Japanese report that the supplies and munitions stored at Newchwang and Niuchiatun were not damaged.

JAPS AFRAID TO ENTER OLD TOWN

Danger From Mines Which Were Placed Under Streets

GEN. KUROPATKIN MOVES

Reported to be Massing a Force on Japanese Left—Clearing Away Submarine Mines

Che Foo, Jan. 16.—Chinese merchants who left Dalny yesterday at 5 p.m., arriving here to-day, say that the Japanese troops will not enter the old town of Port Arthur for fear of accidental explosion of the land mines laid by the Russians. These mines are supposed to have been placed under the streets and buildings. General Nogi is concentrating his men in a district a mile north of the old town within line of forts known to the Chinese as Mayankow preparatory to formal entry.

The Japanese occupy all the forts except Liaotieshan. Previous to the surrender the Liaotieshan fort was stocked with ammunition and supplies.

KUROPATKIN'S MOVE.

Tokio, Jan. 16.—Gen. Kuropatkin is massing a large force on the Japanese left, and especially in the vicinity of Hsiung Chang and in the rear of that position where a body [illegible] is now gathered.

CHINA AND ITS NEUTRALITY

Both Belligerents Must Preserve Legal Conditions or Trouble is Bound to Follow

Washington, D.C., Jan. 16. — Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister, had a long talk with Mr. Loomis, the acting secretary of state to-day about Chinese neutrality and Russia's circular note to the powers on the subject. It can be stated that the attitude of Japan regarding China's neutrality remains unchanged.

The Japanese government was quick to respond to Secretary Hay's note to the powers, urging the respecting of the neutrality and "administrative entity" of China, and it is believed that Japan will be greatly opposed to the suspension of agreement of belligerents to limit the zone of operations in the effort to adhere to Secretary Hay's request.

There is already abundant evidence in diplomatic circles that the powers proposed to urge upon Russia informally possible but none the less strongly the universal menace that will be constituted by the upheaval in China that will certainly follow a violation of her neutrality by either of the belligerents.

Paris, Jan. 16.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Echo de Paris says it i sreported there that Russia has purchased from a third power an islet in the Indian Ocean.

It will serve as a base at which Admiral Rojestvensky can await arrival of the third squadron from the Baltic.

GREAT BRITAIN PROVOKED RUSSIA-JAPANESE WAR

Russia Blames England for Causing the Trouble in the Far East---They Are Not Only Fighting the Japanese Army but Another Force.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 16.—The Birgheviya Viedomosti to-day says: In order to appreciate the international situation created by the present war not only as regards Russia, but also as regards all great continental powers, an exact account must be taken of the whole of the facts which teach us that in the far east not only are there the Japanese fleet and army, but there is also another force which is fighting against Russia. This force is the same which in 1854 set France against us, which in 1877 armed against us the diplomacy of all great powers, and which in 1904 provoked the Russo-Japanese war. Every page of our history testifies to the presence of this force. Much has been said recently of the opening of the Turkish Straits. It is stated that Great Britain will never allow it, but it is always added it must not however be thought that Great Britain seeks a pretext to make war upon us. On the contrary, war does not enter at all into her program. All the great London papers speak almost in these terms as also does a section of the French press, which does not know what it is doing.

The war, says M. James' organ, does not and cannot enter into the plans of England. In 1854 England did not want war, she only desired to weaken Russia, to set several powers against her, and to destroy her Black Sea fleet. She attained this object in 1877. It was necessary for her to undermine Russian prestige in the far east. We have never freed ourselves from the influence of this British force, to struggle against, which has been, and is still so painful for us, for the enemy hides behind others whom it causes to receive blows when it is she whom we wish to strike. Without this force the material resources of the Japanese would have been long since exhausted. The Japanese would not conduct themselves in the insolent manner which we observe in Chinese and Korean ports if they did not know that they were protected by this British force. What must be looked for from this force in future, and what are the chances of rendering it ineffensive? The inevitableness of a fresh decisive battle in Manchuria makes this question full of great importance not only for Russia, but also for all great continental powers. The more tremendous the blow struck in Manchuria against the open enemy the more serious will become the danger to universal peace from the masked foe who has for the past eleven months been using others to pull its cheatnuts out of the fire.

London, Jan. 16.—As the war in the far east progresses, European chancellors are beginning to see signs of serious international complications. That Great Britain for one, is cognizant of impending trouble, is evidenced by the unusual military and naval activity that is being displayed here. The fear of other nations becoming involved in the present trouble was strengthened by the revelation of the fact that France permitted Admiral Rojestvensky's Baltic fleet to make a prolonged stay at Madagascar.

Great indignation has been aroused throughout Japan, and in pro-Japanese circles over France's violation of the laws of neutrality, and it would not be surprising if Japan should lodge a protest with the powers. Such a proceeding would have the effect of curbing France's tendencies to aid Russia, but in not insisting of the Russian admiral's departure after the 24 hours' stay allowed by international law or the disarmament of his vessel. Russia's ally has probably averted for the Czar another disastrous naval defeat.

Rojestvensky has been greatly reinforced by grace of the French government, and is now in a position to fight Admiral Togo on more even terms. What he will accomplish accomplish against superior marksmanship and better handled vessels remains to be seen, but naval experts admit that in the event of an engagement between the two fleets, the Russian warships will be a mass of wreckage when the smoke of battle disappears.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 16.—Emperor Nicholas has addressed the following rescript to the army and navy:

"Port Arthur has passed into the hands of the enemy. During eleven months the fight had been going on in its defence. More than seven months its noble defenders had been cut off from the rest of the world. Without any positive assurance of relief, they continued to fight, and did every thing in their power to check the progress of the enemy, sparing neither life nor heart's blood to uphold the honor of the Russian people.

"Russia with pride and admiration followed each move in the contest. The whole world was astonished at their gallantry, but daily their ranks were thinned, their powers of resistance diminished, and, under repeated attacks by the enemy, they were obliged to give way. Peace, honor and undying memory will be the portion of your Russians who have fallen in the defence of Port Arthur. Far from home you have laid your bodies on alien soil, a sacrifice to the dictates of your own honor and the demands of your emperor.

"Peace and honor be your portion. Always will you be so held in our hearts and memory. Honor to the living, may God restore you to health and strength and give you calmness to face this disaster with which you are confronted.

"My gallant troops and sailors; Do not let that sorrow dismay you. Our enemy is strong and daring. This fight against them occurs 7,000 miles from our home, but Russia is powerful. In the thousand years of its existence there have been still heavier trials, worse and more threatening dangers, but Russia ever arose from trial with renewed force and strength. Do not let your souls be troubled by lack of success and heavy losses. Russian strength grows with adversity.

"With all Russia I join in the belief that the time is coming when God will give strength to our glorious army and navy to arise and break the forces of the enemy.

(Signed) NICHOLAS."

ONLY 76 PRISONERS.

London, Jan. 16.—A despatch to the Times from Tokio says that General Nogi and his staff controverted the theory that the Russians dishonorably destroyed their ships and munitions after they had offered to capitulate. They say that, inasmuch as there was no truce pending the negotiations, General Stoessel was perfectly justified in using his own judgment. The conduct of the Russians was strictly punctilious from the moment of the signature of the terms.

It has been ascertained that there were only 76 Japanese prisoners in Port Arthur, including those wounded. This has caused deep emotion in Japan, as it is believed that many hundreds of wounded who fell within the Russian lines were left to perish.

CEREMONIAL ENTRY.

Tokio, Jan. 16.—The ceremonial entry of the Japanese into Port Arthur took place to-day. A column consisting of a company each of cavalry, infantry, artillery, engineers, medical corps, and commissary corps entered from the north, headed by the colors and a bugle band. The column marched through the old and new towns.

RUSSIAN SENTENCED.

Shanghai, Jan. 16.—The naval court-martial at The Russian Consulate here to-day sentenced the two sailors of the Russian cruiser Askold charged with the murder of a Chinaman, December 15, as the result of a quarrel over the hiring of a jinrikisha, to four years' imprisonment and the loss of all civil rights.

The Taotai, of Shanghai, finally declined to send a representative to attend the court-martial.

CIVIC SENSATION IN SYDNEY, N. S.

Regarding the Proposal to Build a Shipbuilding Plant There

QUARTER MILLION IN BONDS

Guaranteed by City Alleged to be Sought by Company Without Guarantees

Sydney, N.S., Jan. 16.—A big sensation was created here yesterday by the publication of a letter in the local press charging the City Council with resorting to Star Chamber methods in promoting a scheme for the establishment of a ship building plant, together with a steel floating dock and a wrecking steamer at Sydney harbor. Two years ago legislation was secured enabling the town to borrow a quarter of a million dollars to aid any company in the construction of a ship building plant at Sydney, but only after they had spent a million dollars in the work and given a guarantee that no fewer than 200 men would be regularly employed there.

In November last a company was organized with a capital of one million dollars. James T. Burchell, manager of the Gowrie collieries, was made president, and A. M. McClennan, manager of the Sydney and Glace Bay tram line, vice-president. The company then approached the City Council, sitting as a committee of the whole, from which the citizens and press were excluded, asking for certain amendments to the act, and by which they would be relieved from guaranteeing the number of men employed and spending a million dollars on construction before securing the quarter of a million dollars guaranteed bonds from the city.

Two or three members of the council opposed making the amendments and protested against spending so much of the people's money without anything angible being guaranteed in return. The meeting was a stormy one and ended by an adjournment being taken for a week.

Those fighting the scheme contended that it is nothing more or less than a case of "frenzied finance."

The promoters refused to give the city a first mortgage on the property. The reason they gave for maintaining secrecy about the affair was fear that Halifax might head them off by establishing a plant of their own

THE MUTUAL RESERVE LIFE

The Monetary Times has received the following letter:

"Re Mutual Reserve L. Co. Knowing that you take an interest in swindling assessment concerns, and as you have been doing a good work in this direction in the past, I thought it might interest you to see and examine the enclosed. I began 22nd December, 1885; with the Mutual Reserve, and have now paid in cash $412.20, over a period of nineteen years. Now they have the assurance to offer me $346 (of a policy) on which I have to pay $21.24 for the balance of my life. I enclose letters for your perusal and return and find little consolation from them. A highway robber steals from you and you have some satisfaction in punishing him, but people of this description escape scot-free, and you have no recourse."

To which our contemporary replies: The document which our subscriber encloses are voluminous. They are on pink paper, white paper, blue paper; there is a premium notice, a mortuary call, a four-page circular acquainting the recipient of the result to him of the Canadian Parliament's act of July last, respecting the company, a blank form of acceptance, etc., etc. Then there follows some correspondence he has had with the authorities at Ottawa and with other insurance companies. The fact being that he was trying to ascertain what chance he would have of getting fresh insurance with other companies, seeing that for nineteen years he had been paying money for $1,000 insurance, only to be told that now he can get, in the Mutual Reserve, only about one-third of this sum. No wonder one of his correspondents tells him that this offer of the Mutual Reserve people is "an insult to his intelligence," when he can obtain even now, after nineteen years paying into a sink-hole, better terms by taking out a fresh policy in a Canadian or American long-established Old Line Company. We have had eight or ten letters within the year from policy-holders in the Mutual Reserve, asking advice whether they should continue with it or take out fresh insurance, and we have answered them according to age or circumstances of the insurant. But the experience of this concern only confirms what we have been preaching for thirty odd years, that any attempt to give life assurance for less than ascertained safe rates is sure to lead to disappointment and loss.

HONORS HEROES OF WAR

Kaiser Will Bestow Decorations on Nogi and Stoessel

Berlin, Jan. 13.—The Kaiser received Count D'Onten-Sacken, the Russian Ambassador, at noon yesterday, and M. Inouye, the Japanese Minister, this morning.

Telegrams to the Kaiser from the Czar and the Mikado, referring to the Kaiser's proposal to confer the decoration of the Order Pour le Merite upon Generals Stoessel and Nogi are officially published to-day. The Czar and the Mikado briefly thanked the Kaiser, and gave their consent.

The correspondence follows:—

"The Emperor, Tsarskoe-Selo:

"The defence of Port Arthur will remain forever an example for the soldiers of all peoples. The hero who mired by the entire world, especially in my army and by me, In order to give expression to our sympathy and admiration of General Stoessel and his valiant troops I hope for your consent to confer on him the Order of Pour le Merite, our highest military decoration, founded by Frederick the Great. I shall grant the same honor to his brave opponent, Gen. Nogi.

(Signed) "WILHELM, I.R."

Emperor William to the Emperor of Japan, Tokio:

"The siege and capture of Port Arthur have proved General Baron Nogi to be a brave and wise military commander. His heroic deeds and those of his troops will be admired forever by all soldiers, especially by me and my army. I hope your Majesty will permit me to confer on him as an outward sign of my admiration the Order of Pour le Merite, the highest Prussian military decoration, founded by my ancestor, Frederick the Great, for bravery on the battlefield. His brave opponent, Gen. Stoessel, has received the same distinction.

(Signed) "WILHELM, I.R."

From the Russian to the German Emperor:—

"His Majesty, the Emperor, Berlin.

"In the name of my army I thank you for the high distinction which you wish to confer on General Stoessel. He did his duty to the end at the head of his brave garrison. Your sympathy and that of your army, and your recognition of his behaviour are deeply felt by me."

The Emperor of Japan to Emperor Wilhelm;—

"I am thankful for your Majesty's admiration for the capture of Port Arthur. As regards your Majesty's kind wish to confer the highest Prussian decoration on General Baron Nogi, I consent with pleasure."

After the Russo-Turkish War ended Emperor William I. conferred the same order on several Russian Grand Dukes and generals.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

Berlin, Jan. 13.—Few newspapers comment upon Emperor William's impulsive haste to decorate Generals Nogi and Stoessel before their own respective sovereigns recognized their services. The Liberal and Socialist newspapers criticize his Majesty's action adversely. The Tageblatt points out that the Kaiser has put the military authorities in St. Petersburg in an awkward position, as they will have to formally try General Stoessel by court-martial.

Even the conservative Reichsbote and Tages Zeitung doubt the wisdom of the decorations. The former says that interferences of this kind often involve certain perils.

MANY SUNKEN BOATS.

Tokio, Jan. 13.—Commander Tanaka of the Japanese navy, who is investigating the sunken Russian warships at Port Arthur, has discovered that the cruisers Djidit, Razboynik, and Zabiaca, which had hitherto been unaccounted for, were all sunk, the Razboynik apparently by the Russians themselves, and the other two by Japanese shells. Commander Tanaka has also located five torpedo-boat destroyers and two gunboats that were destroyed.

BY WIRELESS TO POLE

Explorer Peary to be Kept in Close Touch With Civilization

New York, January 14. — At the New York Navy Yard work has begun on a wireless telegraph station to enable Commander Robert E. Peary to keep in close touch with civilization during his next attempt to plant the Stars and Stripes at the North Pole. According to the just made public Commander Peary will erect wireless stations after he leaves the Labrador coast, to keep in touch with the nearest station on the mainland as he proceeds north ward. From there communication with New York will be easy. The vessel of the expedition will be forced to the northern coast of Grant Land, where the party will go into winter quarters. This is only about four hundred miles from the pole.

Not only will the wireless stations enable Commander Peary to communicate the result of his work from day to day and the condition of the expedition to his backers in this country, but he believes it will sustain the morale of the party, which always suffers in the long and monotonous Arctic nights when there is seldom anything for the explorers to do. In many cases the horrors and monotony of the six months' night have not only caused serious breaks among the members of such parties, but individuals have been driven temporarily insane.

BUTTER MARKS ACT

Dipping of Diary Butter as Product of Creameries May Render Legislation Necessary

It may be necessary to enact legislation similar to the Fruit Marks Act to protect shippers of butter to the Old Country from the practice of passing off dairy butter as the creamery product. A number of complaints have been made by leading dairymen in Ontario that it is becoming very common for some shippers to use the regular 56-pound creamery butter box into which is pounded creamery butter of all grades and colors, just as it is bought from the farmers, the boxes being then labelled as finest Canadian creamery butter. The forthcoming issue of The Canadian Dairyman will instance several cases which have come to the notice of the Department of Agriculture.

JOHN REDMOND ON IRISH FAMINE

Nationalist Leader Says Conditions are Serious in the West

THE MEMBERS WILL ACT

Mr. Redmond Says Landlords are Trying to Secure Advantage of the Tenants

Dublin, January 12.—I called on John Redmond, M.P., the Irish leader, at his residence at Leeson Park today, to obtain his views on the condition of things in the west, especially the failure of the potato crop in Connaught. The leader had just returned home after addressing a series of public meetings in the counties Galway and Roscommon and visiting the scene of the bogslide between Castlera and French Park. He said:

"A situation of the utmost gravity has arisen in Connaught. The failure of the potato crop and the unproductiveness of migratory labor in the harvest fields of England this year have caused acute distress. The potato is the staple article of food of the people in these regions and the failure of it alone would result in keen suffering and misery.

"Much more, however, has happened. The laborers have brought home no money. The price of pigs and such stock as the Connaught peasants are able to raise have fallen ruinously low. The Connaught landlords, instead of coming to the aid of the people in accordance with their duty in times of stress, are acting in the most heartless fashion. They are endeavoring to force the people to pay for patches of bog and mountain hill higher prices than paid for land—the richest in Ireland—in Leinster and Ulster.

PEOPLE WITHOUT FOOD.

"It is very simple process. The people in these districts are practically without food, and, of course, unable to pay the current year's rent. The landlords are issuing processes wholesale, not in the hope of squeezing money out of the tenants but in the hope of forcing them to enter into bargains for the purchase of their wretched holdings at the most extravagant prices. You see the temptation held out to the tenant is very great.

"If they sign the purchase agreements they will be exempt immediately from any payment whatever for the past year. This would be added to the purchase money. The tenants, of course, would become liable for utterly impossible yearly instalments to the Government for sixty-eight and a half years; while the landlords would walk off scot free with the swag.

A SERIOUS SITUATION.

"This landlord conspiracy is limited to certain parts of the west, but it has created a serious and urgent situation. The Nationalist party is quite alive to the danger, and when Parliament meets vigorous steps will be taken to expose this conspiracy and save the people of the west.

"I visited the scene of the bog slide on Lord Defreyne's estate. I assure you no words could exaggerate the horror of the situation. The entire responsibility rests on the landlord of this property. He never expended a penny on drainage or any other improvement works, consequently a number of the people are homeless and penniless. The only possible remedy for the whole situation, both in the neighborhood of the bog slide and everywhere else in Connaught, is to remove the people altogether off these bogs and marshes and plant them on the great grasslands that exist all over the province."

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, excepting 8 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres more or less.

ENTRY

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situate, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES

A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act, and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), or any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

3) If a settler was entitled to and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

4) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same town, township, or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of clauses (2) (3) or (4) must cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, or substitute 30 head of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, and have besides 80 acres substantially fenced.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd of June, 1889.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled and the land may again be thrown open for entry.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT

Should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

INFORMATION

Newly arrived immigrants will receive, at the Immigration Office in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing lands to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Land Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands, to which the Regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Co.

INCORPORATED

Capital $5,000,000. Shares $1.00 Each, Par Value, Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable.

We have just secured the agency for the above splendid proposition, of which we have been allotted a block of Treasury stock. We can confidently recommend this as a safe and, we believe, exceedingly profitable investment. Every dollar of stock is guaranteed by twenty year, full paid, gold bond, delivered to purchaser of stock, from an Investment Company that has no interest whatever in the company, but who are disposing of the debentured bonds to the public, and, under their charter, they are compelled to deposit securities to an equal amount, to the State Treasurer under which they received their charter, there by doubly securing the payment of their gold bonds.

The Company's property, which is now past the project stage, is known to be marvellously rich in gold.

Following is the opinion of G. W. Miller, Mining Engineer, formerly with the Boston and Montana Consolidated Copper and Silver Mining Company, U. S.; Simmer and Jack Mining Co:. Limited, Klondyke Fountain, South Africa:—

"You have here a most valuable property and one of the strongest fissure veins that can be found in any part of the world.

"With the present development of the Monument Mine, I estimate that 100 tons per day can be extracted, which will mill from $15.00 to $20.00 per ton. The total cost of mining the ore, delivering and milling, I place at about $4.00 per ton. With the increased milling capacity, it is safe to say that the mine can furnish 100 tons of $15.00 ore, which would yield a clear profit of $11.00 per ton, or $1,100 00 per day (equal to $400,000 00 per annum). Estimated total value of ore in sight, $2,500,000."

During the past summer, a party of the Company Directors visited the property, taking with them, Amos P. Brown, Ph.D., Mining Engineer and Professor of Geology and Mineralogy at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Brown writes as follows:

"In regards to the amount of ore available at the mines at Sinclair, I saw on the dumps several thousand tons, probably 5000 tons would be an under-estimate.

"As to the size of the ore body itself, from what I saw of the geological structure, I think that there is every indication that it will be found to extend underground as far as the out-croppings on the south side of the gulch. This would mean an ore body large enough to keep the present mill running for many years to come.

A write up of the proposition will appear in these columns in a few days. Watch for it. In the meantime we will be pleased to furnish full information to investors.

Stocks—The MARKETS OF THE WORLD—Grains

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

The Salido Gold and Copper Company

Incorporated under the laws of Arizona, with a capital of $3,oc ooo forever on-assessable divided into shares of $1 each, par value. All investments insured Granite Securities Company.

The "SALIDO GOLD-COPPER COMPANY" enterprise offers attractions to the investors of the country, that without thorough investigation, would scarcely seem probable. If only a fraction is realized of what any prudent business man in his own affairs would regard as absolutely certain, the enterprise must prove abundantly successful and exceedingly profitable.

SALE OF STOCK

The company will prosecute the work of development with all the diligence that the cash in the treasury will permit and circumstances warrant, and to this end a small amount of the treasury stock w now placed upon the market, in blocks of not less than One Hundred Shares. The par value of the stock is One Dollar per share, fully paid and forever non-assessable.

The company reserves the right to advance the price of stock without notice.

REMEMBER

First—That all payments for treasury stock go into the treasury for development work and not into the pockets of the promoters.

Second—There are no salaried officers.

Third—The incorporators have put their own good money into this enterprise and being business men, intend to do business along business lines

Fourth—That this company is honest.

Fifth—If you are thinking of investiug in mining stocks this is worthy of your careful investigation.

OTHER PROPERTIES

This Company owns four other Gold and Copper Mines, wh ch title is now in process in the laws of Mexico. As soon as title is perfected, we shall commence to develop them as we certainly expect something very great from these properties Our assays taken have been of the very best, showing gold and copper from $6.00 to $122. 30 per ton.

I have secured a small block of this stock, which I offer at the following prices: Unguaranteed 40 cents per share, guaranteed 80 cents per share. These prices will only prevail for a short time, as the number of shares for sale at this price is limited. The Shares will then be advanced to 40 cents for the unguaranteed and 80 cents for the guaranteed. I can unhesitatingly recommend this investment to the Canadian public.

From Yesterday's Issue

RUSSIAN PRIDE AND ARROGANCE

Will Prevent Any Attempt at an Early Peace

London, January 14.—There is no mistaking the possible significance of Admiral Doubassoff's statement yesterday that the war is "tending toward not-far-off peace"; it may very easily be the first move in a carefully prepared program, by which Russia aims to submit to the inevitable and at the same time save for internal consumption a certain semblance of that implacability on which she has traditional claims.

Doubassoff is Chief of the Department of Naval Construction, and his work has been largely freed from the hampering influences entailed by the possession of warships of various types, as a direct result of the war. He is also the Russian member of the International Commission on the Dogger Bank incident and, altogether, a personage of much influence and importance in spite of his pro-English tendencies. Any utterance, especially at this juncture, may therefore, be accepted as semi-official in character; all the more so as Doubassoff arrived in Paris fresh from a long conference with his Imperia lmaster.

Prefacing his remarks by an admission that the remnant of Russia's navy is "nothing better than debris," he concedes, or is quoted as conceding, the hopelessness of continuing the conflict without means of contesting the control of the seas and intimates that peace will shortly be made on the basis of Japan's occupation of Port Arthur and all of Manchuria she now holds. But—and this is the characteristic and important rider—such a peace is not to be regarded by loyal subjects except as a temporary expedient to allow the construction of a new and invincle navy in, say, twenty months. Exactly how the Russian Admiralty is to rush its new navy into existence in half the time the best constructors require to build a battleship does not appear. Probably it never will.

Within the Czar's domains some such subterfuge may gloss over the disgrace and humiliation of a peace which saves for Russia nothing upon which Japan has laid its hands, but it does not leave a very pleasant impression on civilized nations who are looking on. Still Russia has not yet come to a point where the verdict of civilization makes much difference one way or another.

The next moves in the Far Eastern war gave will be worth watching. While the Baltic fleet keeps at its present safe distance, somewhere in the vicinity of Madagascar, naval operations will be tame. Not until the breaking up of the ice in Vladivostok harbor will the Russian fleet there be subject to further attack. Japan, however, is not resting on her oars with respect to sea power and matters connected with it. Her occupation of Port Arthur as a naval station will secure a point of vantage in respect of possible complications arising with the European nations friendly to Russia. With Wei-Hai-Wei in British hands, the mouth of the gulf of Pechili is watched by an ally of the Japanese, while almost directly across the Yellow Sea the Mikado has a naval establishment at Chemulpo, Corea. The triangle whose points are resting on Port Arthur, Wei-Hai-Wei and Chemulpo overlooks the gateway and forms the approach to the Taku forts, from which point a railway runs to Tientsin and Pekin. In the matter of trade such a disposition of naval resources spells an 'open door," and in a military way it means that Japan hereafter has her eyes, backed by strong arms, upon the approaches to Pekin. Thereby, too, will the victorious islanders be able to work not only a transformation in Corea, but also proceed, according to their credited intention, in the work of awakening China from her present inert attitude.

BIG LAND OPERATIONS.

What does the immediate future hold in prospect for the armies clustering about Mukden? Operations on a large scale will, no doubt, be postponed, while, so to speak, the troops hibernate. But with the approach of spring the test of reservist capacity will count for much in the battles that must follow an indecisive but bloody first fight. Meantime the combatants, regardless of the tremendous loss of life up to the present, show no sign of setting on foot pourparlers looking towards peace. Russian pride and stubbornness—or arrogance—are not subdued by the losses so far sustained. But it looks to an unprejudiced observer that the Czar, threatened with the troubles of Finland, the demands of his people who claim representative government, the reduction of Vladivostok and the sure loss of thousands of his troops now in Manchuria if hostilities be not suspended, might well pause in a war which so far has gone entirely against his forces. Persistence in strife, occasioned by rank diplomatic treachery, seems now likely to end in smashing defeat or even national disruption.

PRISONERS LOOK WELL FED

Evidently Were not Starved at Port Arthur

Tokio, Jan. 13.—All the prisoners from Port Arthur arriving at Nagasaki look well fed and happy. Colonel Heljakoff, of the Russian army, said the enemy's welcome was entirely unexpected. It made him feel as though he had returned to his own country. He hoped the war would soon cease, and a mutual understanding follow. If this occurred the present plight of the prisoners would be more useful to Russia than continued resistance at Port Arthur.

Twenty-six paroled Russian officers were welcomed by Mr. Arakawa, Governor of Nagasaki, municipal delegates and leading citizens. Col. Trishadoff thanked them on behalf of his comrades. He said their treatment showed that Japan held the highest ethical position among the nations. He believed that after the war Russia and Japan would become fast friends.

This Company is the owner of 70,000 acres of very rich, fertile lands in the Province of Pinar del Rio, Cuba This land is suitable to the growth of the finest quality of tobacco, oranges, lemons, pineapples and other citrous fruits.

A small portion of this estate produced last year a large percentage on the total authorized capital of this company.

One acre produced last year $2700 in tobacco. The revenue-producing powers of this estate will not be reduced by sale of lands, as the cultivated portion will be increased by additional plantation.

The lands offered for sale can be made as productive within a short period as those at present cultivated.

The estate is abundantly watered by numerous streams and fresh water springs.

The climate is one perpetual June, no fogs, no mists, no yellow fever.

Flowers bloom the year round.

Game and fish abound.

The temperature is even, so that catarrh is unheard of.

Abundance of water and perpetual grass makes stock raising an assured success.

New York markets are at its command for all its products.

The estate borders upon Gaudiana Bay, with a sea frontage of about twelve miles and a deep water, sheltered harbor.

Cuba has only now become open to modern development, and its progress is sure to be rapid.

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Rare Chance to Secure a Paying Investment

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY

has placed a small block of their stock at the disposal of Canadian investors. This stock is sure to rapidly advance in price. The Company is now arranging to instal the power plant and a mill and cyanide plant for the reduction of their ore to a bullion on the property. They have arranged with a Trust Company having assets of $1,500,000 to put up a bond guaranteeing investors the repayment of the full amount invested. This makes investors absolutely safe. By no possibility can they lose a dollar.

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY was organized November 21, 1902. under the laws of the State of Idaho. The capitalization is one million shares of the par value of one dollar each, fully paid and non-assessable; of the 1,000,000 shares. 400,000 have been set aside as treasury stock

THE BOISE BASIN came into prominence shortly after Grimes and his party of prospectors entered the Basin country in 1862; their entrance was into the northern portion, and one discovery of rich placer ground followed another until the news of the rich finds reached the outside world, when a veritable stampede for Boise Basin commenced, towns sprang up and grew together in an incredibly short time; the rush of people to Idaho City made it a place of 20,000 people in 1867, having a business street over a mile long lined with two-story buildings streets and sidewalks filled with people day and night, business and money on every hand and the city bearing the proud distinction of being the capital of the territory of Idaho. Wages ran from $6 to $10 a day and not infrequently forty and fifty men worked on a single placer claim; the clean-up for a day's work in many instances ran close to $5,000; large fortunes were made in a few days by washing the golden sands in a pan, so eager was the quest for the shining metal that the streets of Idaho City were dug up and washed and re-washed, and the soil removed from under the houses and places of business. So extensive was the search for the hidden treasure that not only all of the low ground was worked but the foot of the mountains surrounding the city have been washed away, filling up the lower portions of the basin and extending into the town, where one of the buildings has been buried under the tailings from the numerous placer workings

LOCATION—The property of the Gold Coin Mining Company is situated in the Gambrinus Mining District, Boise County, Idaho, on the range of mountains between Moore Creek and Elk Creek, which forms a part of the eastern boundary of the famous Boise Basin and into which these mountains are drained The property is located ten miles northeast of Idaho City, from which place there are good wagon roads either to the workings on top of the mountain or to the place of the proposed tunnels in the gulch which crosses the Tunnelsite claim.

THE CLAIMS—The Company owns a group of four contiguous lode mining claims and the Gold Coin Millsite: the names of the lode claims are the Tunnelsite, Blue Bell, Pennsylvania and Homestake, each being a full claim 600 feet wide by 1,500 feet long, excepting the Tunnelsite claim, which is 450 feet wide at the west end and 1,055 feet long. it was necessary to stake the claim in this form on account of joining the Washington property on the south and the Sub Rosa property on the west, these properties being prior locations to the Tunnelsite claim. The four lode claims aggregate nearly 80 acres of rich mineral land.

Lung, Throat and Catarrhal Troubles

MARVELLOUS DISCOVERY THAT HAS DELIGHTED ALL CANADA BY ITS PROMPT CURES

This method that has proved successful through its enormous advantages of being pleasant and free from the danger of creating the drug habit employs dry air as the carrying agent.

By this method every part of the breathing apparatus is bathed by a medicated air. Germs which excite the trouble are immediately destroyed. Sore and tender spots are healed and the congested surfaces restored to normal condition.

This method of treatment is known as Catarrhozone, and has obtained a destiny never attained by any other remedy for the many diseases affecting this respiratory tract.

Catarrhozone is fragrant, healing, balsamic, pleasant as the air of the pine woods and more active as a healing agent than anything hitherto discovered. It contains neither cocaine nor any of those irritating substances which really increase the congestion and add to the difficulty, instead of curing as Catarrhozone so quickly does.

MRS. HINT BROWN, of Tenecape, N.S., had lung trouble and catarrh. She took cough mixtures but they made her sick. Then she used an atomizer, but after resorting without benefit to poultices and numerous other remedies, she tried Catarrhozone. "I used Catarrhozone Inhaler," she writes, "five minutes every hour, and soon recognized it was going to cure. I could feel the soothing medicated air spreading through the air passages of the throat, and it touched the sore spots in the lungs that other remedies failed to reach. Catarrhozone seemed to go just where it was needed most, and soon put a stop to my cough. It restored me to perfect health, and I am convinced that no cough, cold or catarrh can exist where Catarrhozone is used."

This complete Catarrhozone outfit contains a large bottle of inhalent, sufficient to keep recharging the inhaler for two months. It costs $1.00 and is guaranteed to cure; sample size 25c. Sold by all druggists or sent direct to your home by mail if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., or Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

WHY?

Because we are keeping up with the growth of Peterborough, the "Electric City," which is fast becoming a leading manufacturing centre of Canada.

Over 90 per cent. of those graduating are placed in good positions in Peterborough. Attend school where you have such prospects.

NOW IS THE TIME TO ENTER

If you cannot attend our School write for particulars regarding our CORRESPONDENCE COURSE

Fine Horses Purchased

Messrs. W. J. Pearson & Son purchased forty horses last week in Peterborough. These animals are as fine a lot as ever left for the eastern market. They were shipped in two cars on Saturday. Mr. Percy Pearson will remain at the White House this week, in order to secure another load or two. Farmers and others having horses to sell will do well to call and see him.

For Wife Beaters

Happily there are few wife beaters in Peterborough, but occasionally one hears of wives being beaten by drunken and brutal husbands. It will be interesting to know that the question of punishment by whipping, for wife-beaters, has been taken up by the leading people of Montreal, at a meeting held the other night, when a resolution was passed, instructing Ald. H. B. Ames, M.P., to lay its views in this matter before the Minister of Justice, that legislative steps may be taken to introduce the whipping post for wife-beaters. Dr. Edward O'Connor stated that the number of bruised and battered women met with during his professional life here compelled him to take an active interest in securing better protection for women.

Obituary

The announcement in to-day's issue of the demise of Eliza Webster, widow of Col. John W. Tate, C.E., chronicles the passing away of one of the early residents of Peterborough. The deceased was a daughter of James Hall, of Washington, Georgia, U.S.A., a brother of the late John Hall, who died at Buckhorn in the 80's. In 1847 Eliza Webster Hendricks Hall came to Peterborough to reside with the latter, who then lived in the homestead situated in the block north of Murray street, between Water and Dickson streets, overlooking Hall's dam, mills, etc., afterwards known as Dickson's.

In 1852 Miss Hall married Colonel Tate and leaves a family of five children; Robert Frederick, of Toronto; Thomas Barker, Bertram Mitford and Lucia Elisabeth, of Buffalo, and Alfred Orr of New York. Her remains have been brought to Peterborough, accompanied by her four sons and placed in the receiving vault at the Little Lake cemetery, and will be interred beside her husband in the spring.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

with local applications, as they cannot reach to seat of disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials, free.

THE GERMAN ARMY

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt Will Lecture in Park Street Church

The program of the Mission Band concert will be repeated by special request on Tuesday next at the Park street Baptist church.

The Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, M.A., of St. Luke's church, will give an address on "Life in the German Army." This lecture was given at Orillia on Monday last and was received with enthusiasm. We have no doubt Mr. Langfeldt will be warmly welcomed in South Peterborough. The "German Army," together with the magnificent program, including a patriotic flag drill, also a number with five characters, must make an evening of unusual interest.

GREAT BRITAIN PROVOKED RUSSIAN-PAPANESE WAR.

a not inappropriate time for a brief summing up of some of the chief features of the campaign in Manchuria. For months now the warriors Kouropatkin and Kuroki have yielded to the elements while unyielding to each other, and the campaign halts reluctantly. The only event of importance since the fall has been the now historic surrender of Port Arthur. Here we come on the first great accomplished purpose of Japan. Although it has been pointed out in previous articles that as a fortress the capture of Port Arthur was of small importance to Japan, and that once the Russian ships were placed hors de combat, the fact that the Russians held Port Arthur could not affect the general strategic plan of the invaders, it must not be forgotten that the ultimate ownership of this port is one of the chief questions which will be settled by the war.

PORT ARTHUR LOST FOREVER.

Now Japan is master of this port, which is in Chinese territory, and the leasing of which to Russia constituted such a menace to Japan. That Russia will ever be able to retake this stronghold seems extremely unlikely, but even should the tide of military fortune turn, and threaten to sweep the Japanese army into the Yellow Sea, the sacrifice of a quarter of a million men would appear to the Mikado not an extreme price to pay for Port Arthur. Where Russia has spent a man in the defence of the fortress Japan will spend a company. This being so, we are justified in assuming that whatever may be the final issue of the struggle, the fate of Port Arthur is sealed. Russia has lost it and lost forever, the strongest fortress she is ever likely to own. This prompts the speculation that the war may correspond chronologically to the causes which made it inevitable. The first of these overt causes was the cession to Russia ten years ago of Port Arthur and the Liao-Tung Peninsula. The first result in the driving from Port Arthur and the Liao-Tung Peninsula of the Russian eagle.

FAILURE OF RUSSIA'S NAVY.

The first cause was Port Arthur, the first permanent result of the war was the capture of Port Arthur, and the first blow was struck at Port Arthur. Into the details of the $500 Reward For Women who Cannot be Cured.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhœa, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"I must first mention to you Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery,'" writes Mrs. Elmer D. Shearer, of Mountville, Lancaster Co., Pa., "and can say that I am cured of that dreaded disease, uterine trouble. Am in better health than ever before. Every one who knows me is surprised to see me look so well. In June I was so poor in health that at times I could not walk. To-day I am cured. I tell everybody that Dr. Pierce's medicines cured me."

go, but it is competent to speak of at least one important truth therein established. Russia is not a seafighter. We scan in vain the list of her achievements in the present war for any notable display of seamanship. She has had no naval traditions or experience, although experience of a peculiarly disadvantageous kind has been acquirred at the capable hands of Prof. Togo. There has been no Nelson, Drake, or Rodney, no Van Tromp or Reuter, no Farragut in the annals of Russian warfare. Nor if we except Suwarrow and Skobeleff, has Russia produced a great general. Kouropatkin, who has been chief of staff to the latter, may develop into a third great general, but so far the fates have been against him, and though not admitting that he has been discredited by the present war, he has certainly added little or nothing to his reputation. While, therefore, this question is held not decided, the inferiority of Russia's naval strength has been amptly established.

THE CASE OF KOUROPATKIN.

As in the game of chess, so in the war game, the first moves very often determine those to follow, and an initial blunder may influence later and apparently disconnect plans and determinations. A generous belief in this principle is favorable to the theory of Kouropatkin's genius, for his earlier movements were made at Viceroy Alexieff's dictation and against his own judgment. It was Alexieff who insisted that Kouropatkin should invade Korea with all his available force, and so 20,000 men were despatched to the Yalu. A similar number was sent to Port Arthur, and 20,000 more to Vladivostock, to both of which plans Kouropatkin was opposed. This left the Russian commander with only 10,000 troops, and it may be said that for failing to take advantage of this fact and press home an attack the Japanese strategists have been generally criticized. When the attack did come, Kouropatkin, who had been receiving reinforcements at the rate of 4,000 daily, had an army of 100,000 men. After despatching another force to Port Arthur, and reinforcing Vladivostock, he had 40,000 men available.

THE GREAT BATTLES.

In the meantime Kouroki had inflicted a crushing defeat on Sussolitch at the Yalu; and Nogi, at Nanshan Hill and Kinchow had driven Stoessel back upon the main defences at Port Arthur. Sussolitch retreated to Motienling, where he was superceded by Keller, who gave Kuroki battle, but with no resulting advantage. It was at this amoment that Kouropatkin was obliged to make the illfated effort to relieve Port Arthur. Stalkelberg's defeat by Oku was the next important move. This was followed by Oyama bringing together Oku and Nodzu's armies in front of Liao-Yang, and the sanguinary encounter drove Kouropatkin back along the railway. At the Sha River his retreat was accelerated, but neither of these engagements was decisive, and although on each occasion the honors were with the Japanese, the Russians were by no means crushed, nor even disgraced. Critics agree that had Kouropatkin been assisted by the troops locked up in Port Arthur he might well have turned the tables, and have inflicted an overpowering blow on Japan at Liao-Yang.

EVERY ADVANTAGE WITH JAPAN

As a result of these important engagements and the terrific loss of life which they entailed, we find that Russia's grip on Korea had been swept away and loosened on Manchuria; she has lost Port Arthury and while the operations were in progress was slowly but surely driven back along that branch of the Trans-Siberian railway which runs from Harbin to Port Arthur. Already half the distance has been traversed, for both armies are now in the neighborhood of Mukden, the capital of Manchuria. Another campaign yielding as much to Japan as the present has done will see every Russian soldier forced back to Harbin in Russian territory. So far Russia has lost only what she had seized, but she may yet be forced to defend her own territory, although the probability is that before this possible phase of the conflict has been reached, peace may be restored. If You Don't Buy Here We Both Lose Money

Another year has gone. It's pleasant to tell of sales far beyond all previous year's, for they indicate general prosperity as well as the progress of this store. But to you such growth means more still; it tells unmistakably of the increasing attraction of our Fur Goods and also the drawing power of our Fur Prices. The bigger the manufacturing business the lower the cost of production, consequently "If you don't buy here we both lose money." Just now we call attention to our extra fine showing of:—

MR. JAS. O'BRIEN HONORED

Presented with Gold Headed Cane by Brotherhood of Railway Trackmen

At a meeting of Division No. 211, Brotherhood of Railway Trackmen, held on Saturday evening, the members took advantage of the occasion to show their appreciation of the services of Mr. Jas. O'Brien, Aylmer street, who for the past three years has been secretary of the Brotherhood. Mr. O'Brien was presented with a very handsome gold-headed cane, with the inscription engraved on the head;—"Presented to Jas. O'Brien by Division No. 211, B.R.T. of A. Jan. 11, 1905." The presentation was made by Mr. Thos. Cummings, and the following address was read by Mr. Geo. A. Turner, of Myrtle;—

Peterborough, Jan. 14, 1905.

James O'Brien, Esq.,
Secretary,
Div. No. 211, B.R.T.

Dear Bros. — It is with feelings of the deepest regret that we have heard of your decision to sever your connection with our division, of which you have been so worthy a member.

We also wish to convey to you our sincere thanks for your valued services in advancing the interests of the Brotherhood, and especially for the able and painstaking manner in which you have discharged the duties of our division.

As we feel that we cannot allow this occasion to pass without some recognition of your services to the Brotherhood, and also as a slight token of our personal regard and esteem, we beg you to accept this cane which we hope will serve as a pleasant remembrance of your former comrades and fellow workmen.

In conclusion we beg you to accept our sincerest wishes for your future health and prosperity, and that you may enjoy your well-earned rest for many years to come.

Signed on behalf of the members of Division No. 211, B.R.T.

GEORGE SPICER.
THOMAS CUMMINGS.

Mr. O'Brien, who was taken completely by surprise, thanked his friends for their kind words and gift, and said that the latter was not necessary, as they had already given many proofs of their kindly feeling towards him

DID NOT FORESHADOW PEACE

Russian Embassy at Paris Modifies Admiral Doubassoff's Interview

Paris, Jan. 16.—Owing to the continued discussion of the interview with Vice-Admiral Doubassoff favorable to early peace, the Russian Embassy has given out the following statement;—"It is quite true that the questions cited have been discussed, but it is quite probable that l'Echo de Paris interviewer gave the admiral's circumspect responses in a sense too categoric. In reality the admiral has not foreshadowed immediate peace for the purpose of gaining time and then recommencing the war under circumstances more favorable for Russia. The questions of peace or war devolve solelly upon the supreme authorities in Russia, and no official personage would publicly express opinions unaccording with the resolutions of the Imperial Government.

MR. E. B. STONE WINS

Action for Libel Against a Galt Newspaper

At the Assize Court here on Saturday, the case of Stone v. the Galt Reporter was brought to a conclusion by the rendering of a verdict for the plaintiff of damages to the extent of $2,500. The trial lasted for two days, and some sixty witnesses were called. The interest in the outcome was widespread, the binder twine interests concerning themselves in that they apparently wish to put a stop to the formation of companies that they say have a disquieting effect upon the market, and bring loss to all who embark in them. The jury evidently took the same view as did the defendant newspaper publishers, and the binder twine interests, in holding that it was not a libel to expose the impossibilities contained in a prospectus which the plaintiff was using in his endeavor to form a company, for in rendering their verdict the jury stated expressly that they found no libel in the one feature of the case. But in that the defendents had incidentally stated in one of their articles that the plaintiff, Stone, who is a practising barrister, had endeavored to foist a hotel scheme upon the citizens, the jury found a verdict of $2,500 for the plaintiff.

Mr. Stone's many Peterborough friends will be pleased to hear of his good fortune.

MR. ANDERSON IN THE NORTH

Successful Meetings Held in the Northern Townships

The campaign in the East Riding of Peterborough is progressing, and Mr. Anderson, the Liberal candidate who is prosecuting a vigorous contest, is meeting with much success, both in his meetings, and in his personal canvass. Mr. Anderson, accompanied by Mr. G. K. Martin, have just returned from a very successful campaigning trip to the north country, having held enthusiastic meetings in Haultain, Apsley, Lasswade and Clydesdale.

Mr. Anderson will hold a meeting at Cottesloe on Thursday night of this week, and another at Westwood on Friday night. Mr. Anderson is arranging for good platform speakers for these two meetings.

On Monday night a grand Liberal rally will be held at Havelock, at which the candidate, Mr. Anderson, Mr. Daniel O'Connell and others, will be present and deliver addresses.

LITTLE LAKE CEMETERY.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE COMPANY HELD YESTERDAY

Report of the Directors—Election of Officers for the Ensuing Year

The annual meeting of the Little Lake Cemetery Company Shareholders was held in the Council Chambers yesterday afternoon, Mr. W. H. Moore, the president, in the chair.

The principal business was the reception of the different reports covering the work done during the past year and the election of the Directors for the present year.

The Directors who have served during the past year are;—Messrs. W. H. Moore, president, J. J. Lundy, Jas. Stevenson, Chas. Stapleton, Benj. Shortly, R. M. Denniston, Dr. Geo. Burnham, T. A. S. Hay and E. H. D. Hall.

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

Mr. W. H. Moore, the president, presented the report of the Board of Directors as follows;—

To the Shareholders of the Little Lake Cemetery.

Your Directors are gratified to report continued progress made during the past year in beautifying the cemetery, and in making various improvements to the grounds, some of which are referred to in the Superintendent's report. The most important was the erection of a green house in the rear of the new office. The previous green house had never been more than a temporary contrivance. Last spring when your directors examined it, the furnace was found to be burned out and the building in a state of collapse. The new house, is a substantial one, well suited for nuturing and maturing plants and flowers and has all modern improvements for heating and ventilation, with capacity six times greater than the old house. Your directors are confident this improvement will add a very attractive feature to the cemetery as well as prove a good investment for the company, and a great convenience to all who take an interest in the grounds.

The first burying ground in Peterborough only contained about four acres of land, and when the Little Lake Cemetery was established, and for many years after, it was thought we had grounds, so large, that they would be ample for a very long period of years. But after the expiring of fifty-five years, a different view is being expressed, and regret felt that the company had not secured a larger area. Having regard to this circumstance your Board would suggest that in future, in opening new blocks for burial purposes, economy be exercised in laying them out, and that most, if not all, walks, usual in the older grounds, be not placed between parcels, but that the boundaries be marked by stone or concrete monuments. For some time grass walks have been adopted instead of open earth ones. The change has been found to be an improvement, and has enhanced the beauty of the grounds, and given them a more park-like appearance. Your Board believes this proposal should receive your careful and favorable consideration.

A detailed Statement of receipts and expenditures, for the past year, is shown in the Superintendent and Auditor's reports, which will be submitted to you.

W. H. MOORE,
President.

16th of January, 1905.

THE IMPROVEMENTS.

Mr. F. Wise, the Superintendent, submitted his report of the improvements made to the Cemetery during 1904. The report follows;—

Peterborough, Jan. 12, '05.

To the President, Directors and Shareholders of the Little Lake Cemetery Company.

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit the following report of improvements made in your cemetery during the year 1904.

A large circular bed, thirty feet in diameter has been cut on Windmill Point and planted with spruce and small shrubs and the appearance of this part of the cemetery has been much improved thereby.

Block number four of the single graves section has been graded and [illegible] vating the block known as Tree ground has been completed and is now in as good condition as in any other part of the cemetery.

The grading of section R has been commenced and put in condition for sale.

About 300 feet of extension of water system was made in section 'D.'

At the Superintendent's residence a concrete walk from the street to the kitchen entrance was laid, 85 feet long and 2 feet 6 inches wide, making a total of 212 feet 6 inches at a cost of $16, the grading of the lawn has also been completed, and a concrete floor laid throughout the whole of the cellar.

A green house has been erected 43 feet by 20 feet and heated with a Daisy Hot water boiler at a total cost of about [illegible] This building will

The Colonials and Karnots will have a practice game to-night.

• • • •

The following is taken from the Lindsay Post;—

Over a Hundred supporters accompanied the Lindsay Seniors to Peterborough last night by special train and received the same old usage. The game against Peterborough commenced late, and owing to so many stops it was not ended till nearly eleven o'clock. Peterborough has a peach of a rink and the ice was the best we have seen yet, being in fine condition for fast hockey. Of course the Peterborough papers will give about four columns to the game, and tell how gentlemanly their "pets" played, etc., but as our space is limited we can only give a brief account.

In commencing we will say it was not a fair game, and even Peterborough cannot deny this fact. From the start to finish Lindsay had no defence—one of the strongest points of our team—and what can a team do without a defence? Pringle, for Lindsay, scored the first goal heatly about five minutes after the stars, but Peterborough soon evened up. One of Peterborough's "smart" tricks was to put on Chris Graham. The latter had been on the sick list for the last two or three weeks and couldn't play—but Peterborough worked the scheme in mind all right. Graham did not last more than ten minutes—then he retired, went down to the hotel, and dressed again. Of course "Goosie" Taylor, Lindsay's star centre, had to go off to even up. One good man gone—that worked all o.k. Shortly after, big Bill Crowley, who is a good player, but who is getting his name up for rough work, rushed the puck down the ice, and when Rielly, our crack point, went to check him, Crowley gave him a hard check and then gave him a fierce jab in the back with his stick, putting Rielly out of the game for therest of the night. It was a nasty play but Crowley only got about two minutes and went to the fence smiling, although he was hissed by both Peterborough and Lindsay supporters. "Goosie" came on in Rielly's place, and both teams played hard to the finish of the first half, which ended 6—2 for Peterborough. We must say that Lindsay missed some good shots, but they shot many hard ones, which were cleverly stopped by Wasson. He put up a magnificent game in the nets.

In the second half the game commenced well and smoothly. Lindsay got down to work and got things going right, and there was some fast combination on both sides, each adding three goals to their tally, making the score read 9—5 for the home team. Peterborough has got a good bunch and showed fine form last night, having good combination and good staying powers. Duffus received a black eye from the end of a stick. "Goosie" was hurt and had to retire, leaving five men a side. The next player to retire was Parkins, leaving four men against five. Peterborough now had it all their own way and made some fine rushes, and as there was nobody playing defence, Irving playing rover, Duffus centre, Pringle forward and McGrathy in goal, they got past everybody, and travelled down to Lombard McGrath As a result of Lindsay's weakness, Peterborough now added seven more goals.

• • • •

The real cause of Lindsay's defeat was that they were not in the local's class and when the Peterborough bunch got going, Lindsay took stage fright, as was admitted by the playing members of the team, when they were asked to finish the game after Doc. Walters, who had been affected more violently than other Lindsayites, reached out from the time-keepers' box, and sounded the gong ten minutes before time had expired, the players refusing to come on the ice again, saying the score was quite large enough. Of course this is another instance were "they only played the game so as not to disappoint the spectators."

It is well for "Chancer" Elliott that he is known far and wide as the best referee in the business, or he would have been called upon to bear the blame of Lindsay's defeat. As for Lindsay's abuse at the station there is always a certain element in every town looking for an opportunity for trouble, and had the Lindsay people taken their defeat like true sports, it is quite likely they would have been unmolested by the boys whom they claimed injured them.

• • • •

SORE LOSERS.

Poor old Lindsay can't stand defeat and are suffering from a violent attack of "sore head" as the result of not only being defeated at Peterborough, but in their game at Port Perry where they lost by a score of 4 to 2, and, being unable to find any sufficient reason for losing the game, other than the real onw, that the company was too fast for them, have manufactured one, and sent in the following profest taken from the Toronto Mail and Empire;

FIRST PROTEST OF THE SEASON.

The first protest of the season was received Saturday by the O.H.A. secretary. It came from Lindsay, and was a protest against the Port Perry game played on the 11th on account of the alleged inefficient lighting of the Port Perry Rink. Port Perry won by 4 to 2. The protest was accompanied by the usual $25 cheque. Lindsay claimed there were only 10 lights in the whole rink and that they only played the game so as not to disappoint the crowd.

If the Port Perry rink was not sufficiently lighted, why did not Lindsay lay the protest before the game commenced, and comply with the ruling of the O.H.A. Of course, as with the game with Peterborough, they had it won before playing, and could not see how they lost, hence the poor lighting of Port Perry rink, and the protest after they were defeated. Be game, Lindsay, you have a lot to learn in the hockey line.

A CHALLENGE.

The Wine Clerks challenge the firemen to play a game of hockey at an early date.

• • • •

In the first T.-V.L. game here last night, the T.A.S. defeated Keene by 6 to 5.

• • • •

The Peterborough Juniors were defeated at Cobourg last night by 1 to 0.

Lindsay defeated Port Perry at Lindsay last night by 6 to 4.

BOXING AND WRESTLING.

A big night's program will be held at Bradburn's Opera House to-night, when the following artists will appear;—Dick Distale, singing and dancing comedian; T. Crow will appear in his latest songs; Sam Hoolihan, step dancing; H. Williams, coon songs. Mr. Peters will be pianist. Mr. Dick Ferris who wrestles Bob Long, may spring a big surprise; two well-known local boys will wrestle at 125 pounds; Joslin of Toronto, will wrestle Austin a local boy beat two out of threeat 115 pounds; D. Christie will meet Lewis of Toronto, eight rounds at 115 pounds. The main bout of the evening will be between Pattie Barry the Canadian champion and W. Greene, the little English boy of Birmingham, England, who claims that he will prove that his defeat by Barry the last time they met, was an accident, he claims he will get the verdict this time. Mr. W. McGee who has given satisfaction at the last two shows, will referee again.

LINDSAY RACES.

There was a good crowd at Lindsay ice races yesterday, and some of the best ice races witnessed in Canada, were run off. In the 2.29 class, in which three horses started, it took seven heats to decide the winner of first money. Following is the list of winners;

2.40 class, pace or trot—

Black Bird, Willoughby, Sutton	1	1	2	2	1
Orillia Bell, G. Powell, Orillia	2	4	1	1	2
Minnie A., Dr. Archer, Port Perry	4	2	3	4	3
Miss Peeler, Mr. D. Gillis, Hamilton	3	3	4	3	4
Lightning Dick, C. Kennedy, Toronto	5	5	5	ds

Time—2.24.

2.29 trot or pace—

Velma, H. Cook, Peterborough	1	2	1	2	2	2	1
Petroleum, W. H. Simpson, Lindsay	2	3	2	3	1	1	2
Bourbon Brook, C. Kennedy, Toronto	2	1	3	1	3	2	3

Time—2.27.

The last race where it required seven heats to decide the winner, is the only instance on record in Canada, where there were only three horses competing.

THE NEW ASSESSMENT ACT

Council Should Thoroughly Master Provisions of New Law

The Municipal World for January, contains an extended reference to the new Assessment Act, which it declares "provides for additional sources of municipal revenue." That is what The Times has frequently told the people of Peterborough, while asking the Council to grasp the full meaning of the Act and seize the essential features of the same.

The Act, the Municipal World remarks, reaches every business and professional man, and in most urban municipalities will afford equitable relief to the ordinary property owner, who is now highly taxed. No man in business will escape. He may only possess a desk worth 50 cents; nevertheless he will pay $5 per annum on an assessment of $250. That is the lowest amount for which he can be assessed.

Now let the Mayor and aldermen get to work and digest every clause in the new Act.

SANTAL-MIDY

Result of Boycott

The only place in the United States that guarantees freedom from strikes, lockouts and labor warfare is Battle Creek, Mich.

The story of the work people, merchants, lawyers, doctors, and other citizens became aroused and indignant at the efforts of the labor unions throughout the country to destroy the business of one of our largest industries—the Postum Cereal Co. Ltd., and at the open threats in the official union papers, that the entire power of the National and State Federations of Labor was being brought to bear to "punish" the industries of Battle Creek, and particularly the Postum Co.

This sprung from the refusal of C. W. Post to obey the "orders" of the unions to take the Postum advertising away from various papers that refused to purchase labor of the labor trust—the unions.

Mr. Post was ordered to join the unions in their conspiracy to "ruin" and "put out of business" those publishers who had worked faithfully for him for years, and helped to build up his business. They had done no wrong, but had found it inconvenient and against their best judgment to buy labor of the labor trust. It seems a rule of the unions to conspire to ruin anyone who does not purchase from them upon their own terms.

An ink maker or paper maker who failed to sell ink or paper would have the same reason to order Post to help ruin these publishers. So the peddler in the street might stone you if you refused to buy his apples; the cabman to run over you if you refused to ride with him; the grocer order the manufacturer to discharge certain people because they did not patronize him, and so on to the ridiculous and villainous limit of all this boycott nonsense, in trying to force people to buy what they do not want.

If a man has labor to sell let him sell it at the best price he can get just as he would sell wheat, but he has no right to even intimate that he will obstruct the business, or attempt its ruin because the owner will not purchase of him.

The unions have become so tyrannous and arrogant with their despotism that a common citizen who has some time to spare and innocently thinks he has a right to put a little paint on his own house finds he must have the paint taken off and put on again by "the union" or all sorts of dire things happen to him, his employer is ordered to discharge him, his grocer is boycotted if he furnishes him supplies, his family followed and insulted and his life made more miserable than that of a black slave before the war. If he drives a nail to repair the house or bars the carpenter's "union" hounds him. He takes a pipe wrench to stop a leaking pipe and prevent damage to his property and the plumbers "union" does things to him. He cannot put a little mortar to a loose brick on his chimney or the bricklayers, plasterers or hod carriers "union" is up in arms and if he carelessly eats a loaf of bread that has no union label on it the bakers "union" proceeds to make life miserable for him.

So the white slave is tied hand and foot unable to lift a hand to better himself or do the needful things, without first obtaining permission from some haughty, ignorant and abusive tyrant of some labor union.

It would all seem rather like a comic opera, if it did not rob people of their freedom; that kind of work will not be permitted long in America.

Some smooth managers have built up the labor trust in the last few years, to bring themselves money and power and by managing workmen, have succeeded in making it possible for them to lay down the law in some cities and force workmen and citizens to "obey" implicitly, stripping them right and left of their liberties.

They have used boycotting, picketing, assaults, dynamiting of property and murder to enforce their orders and rule the people. They have gone far enough to order the President to remove certain citizens from office because the "Unions" were't pleased.

That means that they propose to make the law of the unions, replace the law of this government and the union leaders dominate even the chief Executive.

This is a government of and for the people and no organization or trust shall displace it. But the unions try it every now and then, led by desperate men as shown in their defiance of law and support of law breakers.

The "union" record of assaults, crippling of men and even women and children, destruction of property and murder of American citizens during the past 2 years is perhaps 10 times the volume of crime and abuse perpetrated by slave owners during any two years previous to the civil war. We are in a horrible period of lawlessness, which permits us an organization of trust, having for its purpose, thrusting what it has to sell (labor) upon us whether or no.

Suppose an American in a foreign city should be chased by a mob, caught and beaten unconscious, then his mouth pried open and carbolic acid poured down his throat, then his ribs kicked in and his face well stamped with iron nailed shoes, murdered because he tried to earn bread for his children. By the Eternal, sir, a fleet of American Men of War would assemble there, clear for action and blow something off the face of the earth, if reparation were not made for the blood of one of our citizens.

And what answer do we make to the appeals of the hundreds of widows and orphans of those Americans murdered by labor unions? How do we try to protect the thousands of intelligent citizens who, with reason, prefer not to join any labor union and be subject to the tyranny of the heavily paid rulers of the trust.

Upon a firm refusal by Mr. Post to join this criminal conspiracy a general boycott was entered on Grape-Nuts and Postum all over the country, which set the good red blood of our ancestors in motion, bringing forth the reply that has now passed into history. "We refuse to join any conspiracy or organized labor to ruin publishers, nor will we discharge any of our trusted employes upon the orders of any labor union. If they can make their boycott effective and sink our ship, we will go down with the captain on the bridge and in command."

This set the writers in labor papers crazy, and they redoubled their abuse. Finally one of their official organs came out with a large double column denunciation of Battle Creek, calling it "a running sore on the face of Michigan," because it would not become "organized" and pay in dues to their labor leaders. The usual coarse, villianous epithets common to labor unions writers were indulged in.

The result was to weld public sentiment in Battle Creek for protection. A citizen's association was started and mass meetings held. Good citizens who happened to be members of local unions, in some cases quit the unions entirely for there is small need of them there.

The working people of Battle Creek are of the highest order of American mechanics. The majority are not union members, for practically all of the manufacturers have for years declined to employ union men because of disturbances about 11 years ago, and the union men now in the city are among the best citizens.

No city in the state of Michigan pays as high average wages as Battle Creek, no city of its size is so prosperous, and no city has so large a proportion of the best grade of mechanics who own their own homes.

So the work people massed together with the other citizens in the organization of the Citizens Ass'n with the following preamble and constitution:

Whereas from 1891 to 1894 the strikes instigated by Labor Unions in Battle Creek resulted in the destruction of property and loss of large sums of money in wages that would have been expended here; and,

Whereas, these acts caused serious damage to the city and in a marked way delayed its progress at that time; and,

Whereas, since the year 1894 the citizens have been enabled, by public sentiment, to prevent the recurrence of strikes and Labor Union disturbances which have been prevalent elsewhere; and,

Whereas, the employers of this city have steadfastly refused to place the management of their business under the control of Labor Unions, but have maintained the highest standard of wages paid under like conditions anywhere in the United States, and hereby unanimously declared their intent to continue such policy, and the employes of this city, a large percentage of whom own homes and have families reared and educated under conditions of peace and the well-earned prosperity of steady employment, have steadfastly maintained their right as free American citizens to work without dictation and tyranny of Labor Union leaders, the bitter experience of the past offering sufficient reason for a determined stand for freedom; and,

Whereas, the attitude of the citizens on this subject has been the means of preserving peaceful conditions and continuous prosperity in marked contrast to the conditions existing in other cities suffering from the dictation of Trades Unionism; it is therefore,

Resolved, that the continuance of peace and prosperity in Battle Creek can be maintained, and the destructive work of outside interference [illegible]

CONSTITUTION.

Article 1.—Name.

Article 2.—Objects.

First—To insure, so far as possible, a permanent condition of peace, prosperity and steady employment for the people of Battle Creek.

Second—To energetically assist in maintaining law and order at all times and under all conditions.

Third—To protect its members in their rights to manage their property and to dispose of their labor in a legal, lawful manner, without restraint or interference.

Fourth—To insure and permanently maintain fair, just treatment, one with another, in all the relations of life.

Fifth—To preserve the existing right of any capable person to obtain employment and sell his labor, without being obliged to join any particular church, secret society, labor union or any other organization, and to support all such persons in their efforts to resist compulsory methods on the part of any organized body whatsoever.

Sixth—To promote among employers a spirit of fairness, friendship, and desire for the best interests of their employes, and to promote among workmen the spirit of industry, thrift, faithfulness to their employers and good citizenship.

Seventh—To so amalgamate the public sentiment of all of the best citizens of Battle Creek, that a guarantee can be given to the world of a continuance of peaceful conditions, and that under such guarantee and protection manufacturers and capitalists can be induced to locate their business enterprises in Battle Creek.

Then follows articles relating to membership, officers, duties, etc., etc.

This constitution has been signed by the great majority of representative citizens, including our workpeople.

A number of manufacturers from other cities, where they have been suffering all sorts of indignities, inconvenience, and losses from the general hell of labor union strikes, picketing, assaults and other interference, proposed to move, providing they could be guaranteed protection.

The subject grew in importance until it has reached a place where absolute protection can be guaranteed by the citizens of Battle Creek on the following broad and evenly balanced terms which guarantees to the workman and to the manufacturer fairness, justice, steady work and regularity of output.

The new coming manufacturer agrees to maintain the standard rate of wage paid elsewhere for like service, under similar conditions, the rate to be determined from time to time from well authenticated reports from competing cities. The tabulated wage reports issued by the Government Department of Commerce and Labor can also be used to show the standard rate, and it is expected later on that this government bureau will furnish weekly reports of the labor market from different centers, so that the workman when he is ready to sell his labor and the employer when he is ready to buy, may each have reliable information as to the market or ruling price.

The new coming manufacturer also agrees to maintain the sanitary and hygienic conditions provided for by the state laws and to refrain from any lockouts to reduce wages below the standard; reserving to himself the right to discharge any employes for cause.

The Citizens Association on its part agrees to furnish, in such numbers as it is possible to obtain, first class workmen who will contract to sell their labor at the standard price for such period as may be fixed upon, agreeing not to strike, picket, assault other workmen, destroy property, or do any of the criminal acts common to labor unionism. Each workman reserving to himself the right to quit work for cause, and the Citizens Association further pledges its members to use its associated power to enforce the contracts between employer and employee and to set common to uphold the law at all times.

The new industries locating in Battle Creek will not start under any sort of labor union domination whatsoever, but will make individual contracts with each employee, those contracts being fair and equitable and guaranteed on both sides.

Thus from the abuses of labor unions and their insane efforts to ruin everyone who does not "obey" has evolved this plan which replaces the old conditions of injustice, lockouts, strikes, violence, loss of money and property, and general industrial warfare; and inaugurates an era of perfect balance and fairness between employer and employee, a steady continuance of industry and consequent prosperity. The entire community pledged by public sentiment

Other cities will be driven to protect their work people, merchants and citizens as well as their industries from the blight of strikes, violence and the losses brought on by labor unionism run amuck, by adopting the "Battle Creek plan," but this city offers industrial peace now with cheap coal and good water, first class railroad facilities and the best grade of fair, capable and peaceable mechanics known.

Details given upon inquiry of the "Secy. of the Citizens Ass'n."

Identification.

The public should remember that there are a few Labor Unions conducted on peaceful lines and in proportion as they are worthy, they have won esteem, for we, as a people, are strongly in sympathy with any right act that has for its purpose better conditions for wage workers. But we do not forget that we seek the good of all and not those alone who belong to some organizations, whereas even the law abiding unions show undeniable evidences of tyranny and oppression when they are strong enough, while many of the unions harbor and encourage criminals in their efforts to force a yoke of slavery upon the American people. As a public speaker lately said: "The arrogance of the English King that roused the fiery eloquence of Otis, that inspired the immortal declaration of Jefferson, that left Warren dying on the slopes of Bunker Hill was not more outrageous than the conditions that a closed shop would force upon the community. These men burst into rebellion 'when the king did but touch their pockets.' Imagine if you can their indignant protest had he sought to prohibit or restrict their occupation or determine the conditions under which they should earn their livelihood," and to assault, beat and murder them, blow up their houses and poison their food if they did not submit.

The public should also remember that good true American citizens can be found in the unions and that they deprecate the criminal acts of their fellow members, but they are often in bad company.

Salt only hurts sore spots. So, the honest, lawabiding union man is not hurt when the criminals are denounced, but when you hear a union man "boiler" because the facts are made public, he has branded himself as either one of the law breakers or a sympathiser, and therefore with the mind of the law breaker, and likely to become one when opportunity offers. That is one reason employers decline to hire such men.

A short time ago inquiry came from the union forces to know if Mr. Post would "keep still" if they would call off the boycott on Postum and Grape-Nuts.

This is the reply; "The labor trust has seen fit to try to ruin our business because we would not join its criminal conspiracy. We are plain American citizens and differ from the labor union plan in that we do not force people to strike, picket, boycott, assault, blow up property or commit murder.

We do not pay thugs $20 to break in the ribs of any man who tries to support his family nor $30 for an eye knocked out.

We try to show our plain, honest regard for sturdy and independent workmen by paying the highest wages in the state.

We have a steady, unvarying respect for the law abiding peaceable union man and a most earnest desire to see him gain power enough to purge the unions of their criminal practices that have brought down upon them the righteous denunciation of a long-suffering and outraged public, but we will not fawn, truckle, bend the knee, wear the hated collar of white slavery, the union label, nor prostitute our American citizenship under "orders" of any labor trust.

You offer to remove the restriction on our business and with "union" gold choke the threat and still the voice raised in stern denunciation of the despotism which tramples beneath an iron shod heel, the freedom of our brothers.

You would gag us with a silver bar and muffle the appeal to the American people to harken to the cries for bread of the little children whose faithful fathers were beaten to death while striving to earn food for them.

Your boycott may perhaps succeed in throwing our people out of work and driving us from business but you cannot wrench from us that priceless jewel our fathers fought for and which every true son guards with his life. Therefore, speaking for our work people and ourselves the impudent offer is declined."

FERROZONE

Gave Me New Vital Energy—Nourished Me Back to Good Health

Perhaps you are in poor health? But work must be done, and there is no chance to take a rest.

Never mind the rest—it won't be necessary if you use Ferrozone. It builds up the system, enriches the blood, strengthens the nerves, makes you feel like new at once. No medicine in the world is so powerful in restoring health writes C. P. Sommerville, of Weymouth.

"I was weak and miserable.

"I toiled too hard at my business and broke down.

"My nerves went to smash, I couldn't sleep, and simply had to give up everything.

"Did Ferrozone help me?

"Well, I think it saved my life. It gave me new vital energy, nourished me back to perfect good health. No better tonic is made than Ferrozone."

All physicians recommend Ferrozone because it is absolutely certain to give strength to those that use it, 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers in medicine, or Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

UNION LABELED

PETERBOROUGH, JANUARY 17 1905

THE ABUSE SHOULD STOP

The large amount of personal abuse which is characterizing the Ontario campaign, is regrettable from more points of view than one says The Star. Nothing so obscures the reasonable issues of a campaign, and nothing so quickly arouses the party feeling of the electors, as personal attack upon the party leaders. Men who will not rally to a party name when it has become besmirched, will rush to the support of a party leader who is being unfairly assailed.

Now, as a rule, party leaders are personally men of clean hands and fairly high ideals. That there is dirty work done on behalf of the parties, no one will deny; and, if he did, the political history of this country would give him a very direct contradiction. But this work is never done by the leaders of the parties. It may be only worldly-wise calculation or it may be high principle which forbids a party leader to have anything personally to do with the criminal side of politics; but the fact remains that he does so abstain. And it is sheer wanton irresponsibility in partisan attack to charge the leader of a great political party with all the crimes of the political calendar.

Then the unreason of the assault blinds his supporters to the issues really at stake. When Mr. Ross is accused of being practically privy to the "switching" of ballots, the conscientious Liberal, who is probably ready to condemn corrupt election practices when he gets a fair chance, loses sight of the crime in his indignant eagerness to show his faith in his old leader. And when Mr. Whitney is arraigned for every Conservative misdeed or mistake from the Pacific Scandal to Mr. Gamey's Buffalo trip, it is very difficult to get the Conservative elector, who appreciates the sacrifices which Mr. Whitney—like all Opposition leaders—has made in the public interest, to think of anything save the expression of resentment at this ludicously unreasonable attack upon an innocent man.

One result is that the issues in the campaign are lost sight of. And never have more important issues been before the electors of any Canadian province. The Ross party has been kept in power for many years by a system of brazen electoral crime, which for cold-blooded ingenuity and daring effrontery has probably never been excelled in the history of the vote by ballott. If this is to be condoned by the people of the province with a "conscience," there can be no real limitation in the future of the lengths to which the "machine" will feel it safe to go. The punishment of this sort of crime cannot be left to the courts. The judges are ready to do their duty, and they do it fearlessly; but a judge is not the whole court machinery. And we cannot expect that the mere political parts of the administration of justice will deal vigorously with men who commit

The campaigners should get away from personalities, and get down to issues. It is not a question of men, but of the means which one of the parties submits its guerilla auxiliaries to employ on the battlefield. Honest and safe elections constitute the paramount issue at this time; and the decency of Mr. Ross and the ability of Mr. Whitney to prove an alibi when charged with the crimes of others, may surely be taken for granted.

CANADA'S PLACE AMONG NATIONS

Earl Grey, as Governor-General, is winning golden opinions from the people of Canada with whom he has come in contact in an official way, and so far, it has been a long series of receptions. He has been especially happy in his public addresses, which has been well received. Lord Grey is a practical man, but with enthusiasms, and his experience in Rhodesia have tended to give him a good knowledge of colonial life, which he is turning to good account. In a speech which he delivered at Ottawa in reply to an address from the Mayor and City Council he said among other things:

"The eventful and picturesque story of your past, your present position, and the boundless possibilities of your great future combine to make a most inspiring and entrancing theme. The blood is stirred and the imagination warmed by the ideas conveyed to the mind by the contemplation of your vast territories, of the mysterious and fascinating silence of the undeveloped North, of the varied richness of your boundless resources, of the unsurpassed charm and splendor of the scenery, and of the invigorating magnificence of your unrivalled climate. But there is one asset which you possess even more important than than those to which I have referred, than those of area, riches, mystery, scenery an delimate, namely, that which is represented by your national character. If you do not jealously guard the sacred fire of that asset, the others to which I have referred will be as dross and as the crumbling clay. If, on the other hand, you keep, as your address informs me, you will keep, the character of your people, high, strenuous, virile, imaginative, heroical and imperial, no one can venture to set a limit to the degree of the influence which will be exercise dou the future of mankind by the great Canadian nation, composed, as it is, of all that is best in England, Scotland and Ireland and France, and privileged as it is to be a factor and a factor of ever-increasing importance of that British Empire representing already over 400,000,000 beings, which the greatest and most beneficent organization that has ever attempted to be the instrument of God on this earth. There is no reason, gentlemen, why the sons of Canada, if they are worthy of their fathers and of the country to which they belong, there is no reason why they should not in the lifetime of your children by reason of their numbers and of their character, exercise an all-powerful, and in time to come, perhaps, a controlling influence on the developments of the majesty and destiny of the Empire whose standard is righteousness, and whose path is duty."

WILL THE RAIDERS ESCAPE?

Oyama Has Taken Measures to cut off Their Retreat

Tokio, Jan. 14.—The bodies of Russian cavalry raiders actively operating southwest of Liao Yang, are evidently desirous of harassing Japanese railway communication and interrupting the transportation of General Nogi's army to reinforce Field Marshal Oyama at Liao Yang.

The Japanese army headquarters, reporting Thursday, says:

"On Wednesday at ten in the morning a Japanese cavalry detachment encountered four companies of Russian cavalry west of Tangrassu, south west of Liao Yang, and fiercely engaged them. At 2.30 in the afternoon the Russians were repulsed with heavy losses. Subsequently they were reinforced by several companies of cavalry and eight guns. The Japanese drew the Russians to Leuentpao and engaged and pursued them. On Wednesday night a small body of Russian cavalry reached the railway line and tore up the tracks between Anshantien and Haicheng and Tatchikiao and Yinkow. They were immediately repaired and the line was reopened to traffic.

"On Wednesday afternoon 2,000 Russian cavalry, with guns, attacked New Chwang. The Japanese were forced to retire temporarily, but were reinforced attacked the Russians and are still pursuing them.

"The Russians also attacked Niu Chuang, but were repulsed."

WILL THE RAIDERS ESCAPE?

London, Jan. 16.—All the news of the Russian raid on the Japanese communications comes from Japanese and Chinese sources. Despatches from Tokio ascribe the raid to an intention to cut off General Nogi's big guns en route to the Sha River, and to otherwise upset the Japanese transport arrangements. Military authorities profess to see in it a renewal of the unexpected. They say that Field-Marshal Oyama has taken measures to cut off the retreat of the raiders, who must move in the swiftest possible manner if they wish to avoid capture. It is believed that the Cossacks made a wide detour west of the Liao River through neutral territory. The defenders at Niuchiatung lost slightly. The Russians lost 80 killed. It seems that the Russians, who, it is supposed, are commanded by General Mistchenok, included, besides Cossacks, artillery, a regiment of infantry, and some railway guards. The engagement at Linetipao ended in the repulse of the Russians after a fight that lasted all night.

According to Tien-Tsin despatches, the Russians had considerable success in looting during the raid. They captured a provision train at Kaipantze which they swept clean, and they also seized provisions in stores on the outskirts of Yinkow. The Japanese are hurriedly sending out cavalry, hoping to cut off their retreat. The neutrality of the railway is ignored. Both belligerents are constantly transporting supplies under fictitious passes, but the Russians, who for some time have been gathering forces near Sinmingting, increasingly domiate the track beyond the Great Wall.

JEW-BAITER GETS REWARD OF ZEAL

Sentenced in Berlin Courts to Six Months in Jail

Berlin, Jan. 16.—Count Pueckler, Germany's most noted Jew-baiter, was sentenced yesterday in one of the courts of Berlin to six months in jail for public incitement to disobedience of the laws and violence of one class against another. Count Pueckler informed the court that he had a special mission from God to lead an anti-Jewish propaganda. This conviction, he said, came in answer to constant praying. He said he often had been disposed to abandon his mission, but was held to the work by God's will. He protested against the imputation of mental abnormity. He admitted that he had occupied the prisoners' box eighteen times, and asserted seriously that he meant what he said when he had urged his auditors to beat Jews with sticks.

Then the Count heard the sentence of the court he created an exciting scene. He jumped up and shouted passionately to the judge:—"You will have to bear the consequence of this sentence. We have yet to meet with weapons in hand."

The judge imposed an additional three days' imprisonment for disrespect of court and commanded the sheriff to lead the prisoner away.

STOESSEL'S LAST ADDRESS

What he Told His Men After the Surrender

London, Jan. 16.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Tokio says that a Russian officer at Nagasaki states that after the surrender of Port Arthur was arranged, General Stoessel finally inspected the town, accompanied by a naval and military staff. As he saw the dreadful destruction and desolation his eyes filled with tears. When the garrison was mustered General Stoessel addressed the men, saying; "You have all witnessed to-day's occurrence. Our lives and property are dependent upon the generosity of yesterday's foe. I admire your loyalty and courage. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for having permitted me without demur, to arrange terms of capitulation. It is our painful duty to sever our official and personal bonds of union. We cannot further resist. The Japanese will scrupulously observe the conditions made in your behalf. Do not repine. You have fulfilled your duties as warriors, and the Japanese fully appreciate your heroic resistance. If the fatherland visits our conduct with disgrace, remember I alone am responsible for the surrender. Continue brave and loyal, bearing in mind the fact that soldiers must never waver from the paths of righteousness."

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, excepting 8 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres more or less.

ENTRY

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situate, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES

A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act, and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

1] At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

2] If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), or any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

[3] If a settler was entitled to and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

[4] If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same town, township, or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of clauses [2] [3] or [4] must cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, or substitute 20 head of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, and have besides 30 acres substantially fenced.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd of June, 1889.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled and the land may again be thrown open for entry.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT

Should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

INFORMATION

Newly arrived immigrants will receive, at the Immigration Offices in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing lands to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Land Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

W. W. CORY, Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands, to which the Regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Co.

INCORPORATED

Capital $5,000,000. Shares $1.00 Each, Par Value, Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable.

We have just secured the agency for the above splendid proposition, of which we have been allotted a block of Treasury stock. We can confidently recommend this as a safe and, we believe, exceedingly profitable investment. Every dollar of stock is guaranteed by twenty year, full paid, gold bond, delivered to purchaser of stock, from an Investment Company that has no interest whatever in the company, but who are disposing of the debenatured bonds to the public, and, under their charter, they are compelled to deposit securities to an equal amount, to the State Treasurer under which they received their charter, there by doubly securing the payment of their gold bonds.

The Company's property, which is now past the project stage, is known to be marvellously rich in gold.

Following is the opinion of G. W. Miller, Mining Engineer, formerly with the Boston and Montana Consolidated Copper and Silver Mining Company, U. S.; Simmer and Jack Mining Co., Limited, Klondike Fountain, South Africa:—

"You have here a most valuable property and one of the strongest fissure veins that can be found in any part of the world.

"With the present development of the Monument Mine, I estimate that 100 tons per day can be extracted, which will mill from $15.00 to $20.00 per ton. The total cost of mining the ore, delivering and milling, I place at about $4.00 per ton. With increased milling capacity, it is safe to say that the mine can furnish 100 tons of $18.00 ore, which would yield a clear profit of $11.00 per ton, or $1,100.00 per day (equal to $400,000.00 per annum). Estimated total value of ore in sight, $2,500,000."

During the past summer, a party of the Company Directors visited the property, taking with them, Amos P. Brown, Ph.D., Mining Engineer and Professor of Geology and Mineralogy at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Brown writes as follows:—

"In regards to the amount of ore available at the mines at Sinclair, I saw on the dumps several thousand tons, probably 5000 tons would be an under-estimate.

"As to the size of the ore body itself, from what I saw of the geological structure, I think that there is every indication that it will be found to extend underground as far as the out-croppings on the south side of the gulch. This would mean an ore body large enough to keep the present mill running for many years to come.

A write up of the proposition will appear in these columns in a few days. Watch for it. In the meantime we will be pleased to furnish full information to investors.

Stocks—The MARKETS OF THE WORLD—Grains

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

The Salido Gold and Copper Company

Incorporated under the laws of Arizona, with a capital of $3,000 000 forever non-assessable divided into shares of $1 each, par value. All investments insured Granite Securities Company.

The "SALIDO GOLD COPPER COMPANY" enterprise offers attractions to the investors of the country, that without thorough investigation, would scarcely seem probable. If only a fraction is realized of what any prudent business man in his own affairs would regard as absolutely certain, the enterprise must prove abundantly successful and exceedingly profitable.

SALE OF STOCK

The company will prosecute the work of development with all the diligence that the cash in the treasury will permit and circumstances warrant, and to this end a small amount of the treasury stock is now placed upon the market, in blocks of not less than One Hundred Shares. The par value of the stock is One Dollar per share, fully paid and forever non-assessable.

The company reserves the right to advance the price of stock without notice.

REMEMBER

First—That all payments for treasury stock go into the treasury for development work and not into the pockets of the promoters.

Second—There are no salaried officers.

Third—The incorporators have put their own good money into this enterprise and being business men, intend to do business along business lines.

Fourth—That this company is honest.

Fifth—If you are thinking of investing in mining stocks this is worthy of your careful investigation.

OTHER PROPERTIES

This Company owns four other Gold and Copper Mines, which title is now in process in the laws of Mexico. As soon as title is perfected, we shall commence to develop them as we certainly expect something very great from these properties Our assays taken have been of the very best, showing gold and copper from $6.00 to $122. 30 per ton.

I have secured a small block of this stock, which I offer at the following prices: Unguaranteed 40 cents per share, guaranteed 80 cents per share. These prices will only prevail for a short time, as the number of shares for sale at this price is limited. The Shares will then be advanced to 40 cents for the unguaranteed and 80 cents for the guaranteed. I can unhesitatingly recommend this investment to the Canadian public.

CIVIC SENSATION IN SYDNEY, N. S.

Regarding the Proposal to Build a Shipbuilding Plant There

QUARTER MILLION IN BONDS

Guaranteed by City Alleged to be Sought by Company Without Guarantees

Sydney, N.S., Jan. 16.—A big sensation was created here yesterday by the publication of a letter in the local press charging the City Council with resorting to Star Chamber methods in promoting a scheme for the establishment of a ship building plant, together with a steel floating dock and a wrecking steamer at Sydney harbor. Two years ago legislation was secured enabling the town to borrow a quarter of a million dollars to aid any company in the construction of a ship building plant at Sydney, but only after they had spent a million dollars in the work and given a guarantee that no fewer than 200 men would be regularly employed there.

In November last a company was organized with a capital of one million dollars. James T. Burchell, manager of the Gowrie collieries, was made president, and A. M. McClennan, manager of the Sydney and Glace Bay tram line, vice-president. The company then approached the City Council, sitting as a committee of the whole, from which the citizens and press were excluded, asking for certain amendments to the act, and by which they would be relieved from guaranteeing the number of men employed and spending a million dollars on construction before securing the quarter of a million dollars guaranteed bonds from the city.

Two or three members of the council opposed making the amendments and protested against spending so much of the people's money without anything tangible being guaranteed in return. The meeting was a stormy one and ended by an adjournment being taken for a week.

Those fighting the scheme contended that it is nothing more or less than a case of "frenzied finance."

The promoters refused to give the city a first mortgage on the property. The reason they gave for maintaining secrecy about the affair was fear that Halifax might head them off by establishing a plant of their own in that city.

TROOPS LEAVING HALIFAX

Canada to be Called on to Maintain Fortress Garrison in Colony

Halifax, N.S., Jan. 16.—It is stated here with the greatest assurance that arrangements are now being completed for the removal of the fifth Royal Garrison Regiment of Infantry, from Halifax, not to be replaced by Imperial troops. This regiment will, it is stated, return to England, and its garrison duties will be taken over by Canadian troops. One company of the Royal Garrison Artillery is also, it is said, to be despatched immediately to Hong Kong. This will leave Halifax with only one company of the Royal Garrison Artillery, and two companies of Royal Engineers. No formal announcement of this change will be made until the return of Major General Sir Charles Parsons, officer commanding from Ottawa, where, it is believed, he will hold a conference with military headquarters;

It is probable that before the year is out Halifax will cease to be a military outpost, and will be garrisoned entirely by Canadians.

WHAT IS SAID IN OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Jan. 16.—Sir Charles Parsons came to Ottawa to attend the State dinner at Rideau Hall. It is the custom to come here to attend these ceremonies and consequently his presence has an explanation apart from any wider considerations.

He has been closeted for some time this morning with General Lake. This again is not an inevitable proof that conferences are in the wind, for it would be rather peculiar if the General commanding so important a post were not to have a meeting with the chief military authority in Canada.

Further, the Militia Department has not received any official communications on the subject of the Halifax garrison. It has been given no intimation of the intentions of the Dominion of the intentions of the Imperial Government.

Yet the fact remains that considerable significance is attached to Sir Charles' present visit, and that the feeling is widespread that important conversations will take place on the subject. Sir Frederick Borden's declaration at Toronto is recalled, and it is taken for granted that the General commanding at Halifax will not depart without a canvassing of the situation.

MILITARY EXPERTS DISMAYED.

Certain military circles here would hail the addition of Halifax to the cares of the Dominion with something like dismay. Here is the situation: Halifax in former times had a garrison of two infantry battalions. Of late it has had one battalion, besides about 450 artillery and engineers, two companies of artillery, a company and a half of engineers. The thousand infantry constitute a minimum force for the permanent occupation of so extensive a fortress. Now the present permanent force of Canada has an establishment of 2,000. Every effort is made to keep the force at strength. Yet it is only 2650 strong. The Royal Canadian Regiment is 350 strong. The pay has recently been increased, yet that is the best the Canadian recruiting sergeant can do.

WOULD HALIFAX BE ANOTHER QUEBEC!

Where could Canada get an additional thousand men! It is conceivable that the plan may be tried of keeping only the artillery and engineers, and trusting to the militia of the city and vicinity to provide the infantry in case of need. This plan has been tried as a measure, at Quebec, a company or two of garrison artillery having been maintained at that place. The practical result is that Quebec as a fortress is a ruin. There have been two omissions. There has been no buying of improved guns as old ones became obsolete; no erecting of fresh works as discoveries were made in the art of fortification. In addition, even the old fortifications have not been kept in repair.

Halifax at present is a splendid fortress kept up-to-date, and also kept in repair. Perhaps the presence of permanent infantry is not absolutely necessary to the upkeep of the fortress. Whatever the nature of the garrison, some precautions should be taken against decay. At present with the rates of pay in vogue, it seems absolutely impossible to enlist Canadian soldiers in suffi-

Rare Chance to Secure a Paying Investment

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY

has placed a small block of their stock at the disposal of Canadian investors. This stock is sure to rapidly advance in price. The Company is now arranging to install the power plant and a mill and cyanide plant for the reduction of their ore to a bullion on the property. They have arranged with a Trust Company having assets of $1,500,000 to put up a bond guaranteeing investors the repayment of the full amount invested. This makes investors absolutely safe. By no possibility can they lose a dollar.

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY was organized November 21, 1902, under the laws of the State of Idaho. The capitalization is one million shares of the par value of one dollar each, fully paid and non-assessable; of the 1,000,000 shares 400,000 have been set aside as treasury stock

THE BOISE BASIN came into prominence shortly after Grimes and his party of prospectors entered the Basin country in 1862; their entrance was into the northern portion, and one discovery of rich placer ground followed another until the news of the rich finds reached the outside world, when a veritable stampede for Boise Basin commenced. Towns sprang up and grew together in an incredibly short time; the rush of people to Idaho City made it a place of 20,000 people in 1867, having a business street over a mile long lined with two-story buildings streets and sidewalks filled with people day and night, business and money on every hand and the city bearing the proud distinction of being the capital of the territory of Idaho. Wages ran from $6 to $10 a day and not infrequently forty and fifty men worked on a single placer claim; the clean-up for a day's work in many instances ran close to $5,000; large fortunes were made in a few days by washing the golden sands in a pan, so eager was the quest for the shining metal that the streets of Idaho City were dug up and washed and re-washed, and the soil removed from under the houses and places of business. So extensive was the search for the hidden treasure that not only all of the low ground was worked but the foot of the mountains surrounding the city have been washed away, filling up the lower portions of the basin and extending into the town, where one of the buildings has been buried under the tailings from the numerous placer workings.

LOCATION—The property of the Gold Coin Mining Company is situated in the Gambrinus Mining District, Boise County, Idaho, on the range of mountains between Moore Creek and Elk Creek, which forms a part of the eastern boundary of the famous Boise Basin and into which these mountains are drained The property is located ten miles northeast of Idaho City, from which place there are good wagon roads either to the workings on top of the mountain or to the place of the proposed tunnels in the gulch which crosses the Tunnelsite claim.

THE CLAIMS—The Company owns a group of four contiguous lode mining claims and the Gold Coin Millsite: the names of the lode claims are the Tunnelsite, Blue Bell, Pennsylvania and Homestake, each being a full claim 600 feet wide by 1,500 feet long, excepting the Tunnelsite claim, which is 450 feet wide at the west end and 1,055 feet long. It was necessary to stake the claim in this form on account of joining the Washington property on the south and the Sab Rosa property on the west, these properties being prior locations to the Tunnelsite claim. The four lode claims aggregate nearly 80 acres of rich mineral land.

This Company is the owner of 70,000 acres of very rich, fertile lands in the Province of Pinar del Rio, Cuba This land is suitable to the growth of the finest quality of tobacco, oranges, lemons, pineapples and other citrous fruits.

A small portion of this estate produced last year a large percentage on the total authorized capital of this company.

One acre produced last year $2700 in tobacco. The revenue-producing powers of this estate will not be reduced by sale of lands, as the cultivated portion will be increased by additional plantation.

The lands offered for sale can be made as productive within a short period as those at present cultivated.

The estate is abundantly watered by numerous streams and fresh water springs.

The climate is one perpetual June, no fogs, no mists, no yellow fever.

Flowers bloom the year round.

Game and fish abound.

The temperature is even, so that catarrh is unheard of.

Abundance of water and perpetual grass makes stock raising an assured success.

New York markets are at its command for all its products.

The estate borders upon Gaudiana Bay, with a sea frontage of about twelve miles and a deep water, sheltered harbor.

Cuba has only now become open to modern development, and its progress is sure to be rapid.

This is the opportunity for the man of small means to obtain a home and subsequent wealth, for the man of means to obtain a profitable investment.

This Company is now offering land in blocks of 10 acres or more at $10.00 per acre.

Stock at par or scrip entitling the owner to an option to take land at $10.00, or stock at par, for a limited period

Only 10,000 acres will be offered at $10.00 per acre, of which 2,000 acres are already sold

The second 10,000 acres will be sold at $20.00 per acre or over within a few months.

The balance of the estate to be disposed of 30,000 acres, will be raised to $40 00 per acre or over.

As the price of land is raised the price of stock will also advance.

Purchase now and save money.

Terms—25 per cent cash; 25 per cent. 30 days; 25 per cent. 60 days; 25 per cent. 90 days.

Consumption is Not Hereditary

It is No Handed Down From Generation to Generation but is Simply "Caught" by the Germs Getting Into Your Lungs Cured by Catarrhozone

Consumption was formerly believed by some to be due to impurity of the blood. By others it was supposed to be hereditary. Both these beliefs are incorrect.

If the disease passes through several members of the same family it is because the germs get into the clothes, bedding, furniture and carpets that are in general use.

These germs find their way into the air, are inhaled, lodge themselves securely in the throat and lungs—were they rapidly increase, and soon claim another victim.

The only remedy that has cured a genuine case of Consumption is Catarrhozone. Its germ killing vapor is inhaled into every air cell and air passage of the head, throat and lungs, and creates a healthy condition of these organs in which disease germs cannot live.

It is impossible for consumption to make headway in the soothing antiseptic vapor of Catarrhozone is inhaled a few times daily into the lungs. The cause of the disease (germ life) is at once removed, the inflamed mucous surfaces are healed, and a lasting cure effected.

Catarrhozone is breathed right into the lungs. By its soothing influence the soreness caused by coughing is removed. The cough becomes less severe and soon ceases all together. Catarrhozone aids expectoration, quiets the nerves, and lends to the patient a large measure of comfort.

Consumptives are strongly urged to use Catarrhozone as immediate relief always follows. It is a direct method of treatment, and is endorsed by the highest medical authorities everywhere. The balsamic vapor reaches the lungs and respiratory tracts in a speedy manner that no medicine taken into the stomach can do.

Catarrhozone is just as good as a change of climate, equally pleasant and cheaper. It can be used at home at any hour of the day or night and never causes inconvenience or bother.

The complete Catarrhozone outfit contains two months treatment and costs only $1.00. It is a perfect boon to consumptives and their surrounding friends. You cannot afford to miss the benefit of Catarrhozone and should order it today. Sold by all druggists or by mail from N. C Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., or Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

Late Mr. McGimsie

Mr. Robert McGimsie, who had many friends in Peterborough, died at New York City on December 27th, 1904, with pneumonia at the General Hospital, after an illness of five days. His body was taken to his former home, Rochester for interment. Mr. McGimsie was 44 years old, and leaves behind him a widow and one child, Gladys, who are at present residing in Peterborough.

Tea and Concert

The tea and concert last night at Springville was largely attended, a number driving out from town. The tea was given in the Orange Hall, and the concert in the Presbyterian church, Rev. Mr. Yule presiding. Addresses were delivered by Rev. J. G. Potter, of town, and other ministers. The choir of St. Andrew's church, under the leadership of Mr. Mark Wilson, was present, and materially assisted in the program.

The Late Mr Joseph Gagnon

We regret to chronicle the demise of Mr. Joseph Gagnon, an old and respected resident of Peterborough. Deceased was born in Quebec 60 years ago, and came to Peterborough when a mere lad, where he has ever since resided. Deceased leaves wife and seven children. The children are Mrs. John Murphy, town; Napoleon Gagnon, Buffalo; Fred Gagnon, Buffalo; Medas and George Gagnon, town; Mrs. Frank Murphy and Miss Hattie Gagnon, town. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from the family residence 49 Smith street, and proceed to St. Peter's Cathedral and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery for interment.

To Compete with Fur Canal

The Canadian Canals Corporation will apply to Parliament for a charter. It is proposed to construct and operate navigable waterways with portage railways for ships on a point on the Georgian Bay between Waubaushene and Port Severn or on Notyawasaga River to a point on Lake Ontario. One terminus will be on Lake Ontario, in the county of York and the other is to be in thecounty of York or the county of Ontario. There will be basins and reservoirs for the storage of water and for slack water navigation. Mr. George Bell Toronto, is solicitor for the applicants. This will be a formidable competitor of the Trent Valley Canal.

A Good Sermon

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—I happened to be present at St. Paul's church on Sunday night, and heard Rev. Dr. Crothers deliver a special sermon to His Worship the Mayor and Council. It was a masterly discourse, and besides the inspiration to live better and holier lives, it contained many suggestions regarding our town. One thing, however, I think the esteemed and eloquent preacher overlooked; I think Council meetings, like Parliaments, should open with prayer. And in this connection it might be a good thing for the Ministerial Association to offer to supply a chaplain to attend at the meetings. This might not always be necessary as the Council no doubt could furnish one of their number to act in this capacity.

I throw out this suggestion, and leave it to those interested to act or not, as they see fit."

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am,
—Yours truly,
A RATEPAYER.

The Senior Class at Gym

This evening will be a special class night for the senior men at the Y.M.C.A. It is planned to have every senior gymnasium man out to take regular class work. The physical director desires that all should make a special effort to attend, the object being to stimulate new interest in the work, and also by inviting any new members to come in and see the work done. The class will start at 8 o'clock and will close at 9 o'clock, half an hour earlier than is usual. After the men are dismissed they will assemble in the parlor and listen to short addresses given by our most prominent professional men, relating to the physical work in the gymnasium, after which ligth refreshments will be served. Non-members and ladies are cordially invited to the class work. Seats are always provided for spectators in the gallery. A special invitation is extended to business men to see the nature of the work done in the physical department.

—The Faithful Workers' Mission Band of St. Paul's church have secured Rev. J. W. Pedley, of Toronto to give his popular lecture on "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," on Friday evening, January 20th, at 8 o'clock in the School Room of St. Paul's church. Admission 15c.

THE WICKED ALDERMEN

Suggestion That a Council Meeting Should Open With Prayer

In another column is to be found a letter suggesting that the Council meetings should open with prayer. This great family journal is in favor of anything that will tend to elevate and purify our politics, be they municipal, provincial or national. Some few years ago a similar proposition was made, which gave rise to considerable discussion. Shortly after a Council meeting, the matter was being warmly discussed by several aldermen in the clerk's office. One alderman offered to bet $10 that the other aldermen could not repeat the Lord's prayer. The bet was made and the money posted. The alderman commenced "Now I lay me down to sleep, I hope the Lord my soul to keep," etc. The alderman who had proposed the bet said; "Pon my soul, I didn't think you knew it. Pay him the money, Simon."

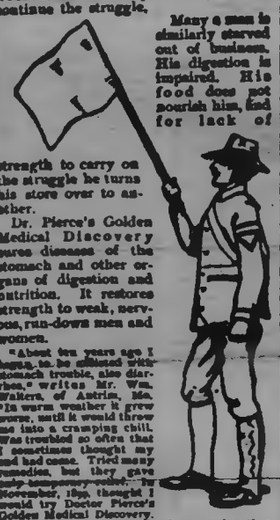
STARVED OUT.

Many a garrison has been forced to give up the fight and hang out the white flag of surrender, when lack of food has weakened the men past all power to continue the struggle.



Many a man is similarly starved out of business. His digestion is impaired. His food does not nourish him, and for lack of strength to carry on the struggle he turns his store over to another.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores strength to weak, nervous, run-down men and women.

"About ten years ago I began to be afflicted with stomach trouble, also diarrhea," writes Mr. Wm. Walters, of Antrim, Mo. "In warm weather it grew worse, until it would throw me into a cramping chill. Was troubled so often that I sometimes thought my end had come. Tried many remedies, but they gave only temporary relief. In November, 1894, thought I would try Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I got six bottles and took five in succession, then thought I would wait for a time and take the one left. Soon found I had symptoms of the trouble coming back, so took the sixth bottle and it cured me. I have enjoyed the best of health this summer, and the credit all belongs to your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I can't express my many thanks to Dr. Pierce for his remedy, for it did so much for me. Words cannot express how I suffered.

"If any doubt the above statement let them address me, and I will take great pleasure in answering."

We certify that we have examined the above balance sheet, the Treasurer's books and vouchers, and the Superintendent's fortnightly returns, and we find the same correct. The securities held by the company, and consisting of nine debentures of the Town of Peterborough, amounting to $10,317.31, have also been examined by us.

We further certify that we have examined the books of the Superintendent for the year 1904, and find them carefully and correctly kept. All moneys received by him appear to have been promptly paid over to your Treasurer.

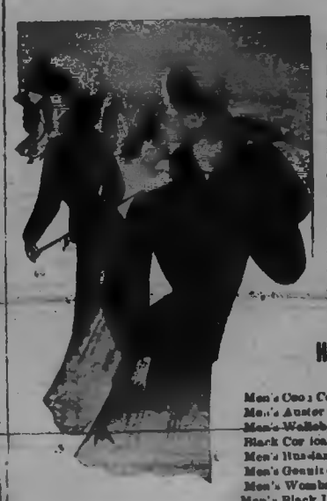
If You Don't Buy Here We Both Lose Money



Another year has gone. It's pleasant to tell of sales far beyond all previous year's, for they indicate general prosperity as well as the progress of this store. But to you such growth means more still; it tells unmistakably of the increasing attraction of our Fur Goods and also the drawing power of our Fur Prices. The bigger the manufacturing business the lower the cost of production, consequently "If you don't buy here we both lose money." Just now we call attention to our extra fine showing of:—

JAP REGIMENT WAR ANNIHILATED BY RUSSIANS

Drew Them to a Masked Battery---Infantry Fell on the Flanks of the Mikado's Soldiers and Did Frightful Execution.

Tokio, Jan. 18.—A Japanese torpedo boat destroyer captured the Dutch steamer Wilhelmina, which was carrying Cardiff coal to Vladivostock, in the Tsushima Straits, Monday, and brought her to Sasebo.

A first-class armored cruiser is being constructed at the naval dock at Kure.

Huan-Chen, Jan. 17.—The Japanese to-day bombarded Lisofantun and Liutsantun, and also Lone Tree and Novgorod Hills, which they are extremely anxious to capture.

All day of Jan. 9, the Japanese bombarded the Russian positions to the right and left of the railroad with unaccustomed vigor.

On Jan. 10, at two o'clock in the morning, a Japanese regiment advanced in the face of a furious firefrom batteries and rifles, drove back the Russian outposts, who drew on the Japanese to a masked battery, and later allowed them to come on suddenly, when the Russians opened a murderous fire, the infantry at the same time falling on the Japanese flanks. The Japanese regiment was almost completely annihilated, and the remainder fled in wild disorder, leaving heaps of dead and wounded on the field. The Russians pressed the pursuit and took the Japanese position Jan. 10 at noon.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 18.—The Government has not renewed the state of siege in many Russian cities at the opening of the new year, civil law in such places replacing military rule.

The Russian papers protest against the imputation that General Mistchenko's cavalry violated Chinese neutrality even if, of which there is at present no evidence, they crossed the Liao River above Newchwang, claiming that a small strip on the west bank is distinctly reserved as included in the sphere of hostilities.

While the daring cavalry raid on the line of Japanese communications was welcomed as a happy augury of the operations of the new year, the General Staff does not give encouragement to the idea that it is a precursor of a serious movement.

It has been hinted in certain quarters that the fall of Port Arthur might possibly render Russia more receptive to a proposal of mediation with a view to the termination of hostilities. The answers by the Russian Foreign Office to all inquiries on this subject, however, are in the negative.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 18.—Gen. Kouropatkin has sent this report to the Emperor; "During the evening of Jan. 10, one and a half companies of Japanese infantry and half a squadron of Japanese dragoons were defeated with great loss.

"On Jan. 11 a Japanese company and two squadron, which were occupying New-Chwang, were driven out by our Cossacks, who occupied the place and afterwards pursued the company, defeating it and inflicting heavy loss. The same night our patrols damaged the railroad line, telegraph line, a train and two locomotives. During these two days our cavalry defeated several small detachments, and ed several small detachments, and captured one officer, 14 soldiers and 500 carts with stores. Our casualties were three officers killed and 10 wounded, and 15 soldiers killed and 49 wounded.

"On Jan. 12 our patrols damaged the railroad six miles from Yinkow. At 4 p.m. Jan. 12, a Russian detachment reached Yinkow. Our artillery cannonaded the station, set fire to the stores and stormed the station. The Japanese opened fire with rifle and machine guns, and our men sought shelter in ditches and again attacked until they reached the railroad line, when a strong force of Japanese cavalry appeared, advancing from Tashikow. Our forces being inferior, retired, carrying away nearly all the killed and wounded. The stores at Yinkow were ablaze the whole night."

EXCHANGE OF PRISONERS.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 18.—Japan's consent to an exchange of prisoners according to classes and rank has just been received here. Consequently in the near future three Russian officers captured on the Russian volunteer fleet cruiser Ekaterinoslav by the Japanese will be exchanged for three Japanese officers captured on the Japanese transport Kinshin sunk by the Russians in the Sea of Japan and the Sado driven ashore by the Russians in the Sea of Japan. The question of an exchange of prisoners on this basis was raised by Russia last Summer.

JAPANESE ACTIVITY.

Russian Headquarters, Huanshan, Manchuria, Jan. 18.—The activity of the Japanese is increasing along the whole front. They are attacking villages between the lines, and are opening artillery fire at night.

The Japanese are putting Chinese troops in training.

From an observation tower at Gaoyansi Russian officers watched the Japanese instructing Chinese bandits, who have been formed into regular companies to storm the heights.

The first Japanese reinforcements from the army which was besieging Port Arthur began arriving at Liao-Yang, Jan. 11.

RAIDERS RETURN.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 18.—A despatch from Shabotun states that the Russian raiding column has returned safely, except for the casualties sustained in fighting the Japanese. Three hundred of the Russians were killed or wounded. All the wounded were brought back.

RUSSIA'S PROTESTS.

Paris, Jan. 18.—The Russian note protesting against China's alleged violation of neutrality states that China has allowed the Japanese to use the Miaotao Islands as a naval base, that she has supplied the Japanese with iron, and that she has appointed Japanese instructors for the Chinese troops, that she has allowed Japanese officers to command Chunchuses or Manchurian bandits operating against the Russians, and that she permitted Japanese to board the Russian destroyer sought shelter there after her escape from Port Arthur.

HEROES' REPLIES.

Berlin, Jan. 18.—Emperor William's telegrams to Generals Stoessell and Nogi on the occasion of his conferring upon them the order of merit, and their replies to his Majesty are published to-day. General Stoessel says the Kaiser's telegram reached him "in the darkest hour of my life." General Nogi, in his reply, refers to "the insignificance of my services."

REVOLUTIONS IN RUSSIA

Down With Autocracy is the cry in Poland

Vienna, January 18.—In a riot at Czenstochau, Poland, one officer of the gendarmerie was killed and several wounded. The riot was started by anti-Government speeches. During the course of the disorder the crowd used as their slogan, "Down with Autocracy, give us Constitution."

AMERICAN COUNTESS VERY ILL

Mrs. R. W. Patterson Hastens From Washington to Daughter's Side

Washington, January 18.—Mrs. R. W. Patterson will sail from New York for Europe tomorrow on the steamer Deutschland to go to the bedside of her daughter Eleanor, Countess Gizycki of Poland, who is reported in cablegrams received here to be desperately ill.

The countess formerly was a resident of Chicago.

TOWN ORDERED SOLD FOR RENT

Michigan City, Ind., Thrown on Market by Court Decree

South Bend, Ind., January 17.—In a writ of execution Judge Funk in the Circuit Court today gave the sheriff of Laporte County authority to sell Michigan City, Ind., to satisfy a judgment for $11,000 in favor of Agnes Phillips, who obtained that sum on a personal injury suit. An appeal from the decision will be taken. Attorneys are investigating to to discover whether or not the town can be sold in this manner.

MRS. CHADWICK SMUGGLED JEWELS

That is the Statement Made by Customs Officials

TO THE VALUE OF $250,000

This Amount of Items Has Been Traced and will be Claimed

Cleveland, January 17.—It is asserted in connection with Mrs. Chadwick's case that discoveries have been made of the smuggling of precious stones to an almost fabulous extent. In order to make a case on the charge of smuggling, it was found necessary for the Government authorities to trace all the deals for diamonds and jewellery made by Mrs. Chadwick, both in this country and Europe. The statement has been made by Collector of Customs Leach, that considerably more than $250,000 worth of jewellery and precious stones, handled by Mrs. Chadwick, have been traced and positively located. It is added that this great amount of jewellery has been uncovered with the investigation still incomplete. Of this amount the Government is directly interested in about one-third.

While the Government is attempting to collect any unpaid duty on diamonds brought from Europe, it is said that all the information secured through the investigation will be placed at the disposal of Receiver Nathan Loeser and that he will be able to realize thousands of dollars for the creditors of the woman. The investigation has led to the discovery that only a very small portion of the precious stones and jewellery was put up as collateral for loans made by Mrs. Chadwick, and that by far the greater portion went as gifts to friends and acquaintances.

The regular custom rate of duty on diamonds and jewellery brought to this country is 10 per cent. of the value of the goods. Figuring on this basis, the Government authorities expect to realize between $6,000 and $10,000. The rest of the proceeds from the sale of any jewellery on which duty has not been paid will be turned over to Mr. Loeser to be distributed among Chadwick creditors. It is simply the truth to say that Mrs. Chadwick handled pearls, rubies, sapphires, emeralds, and garnets almost literally by the pack, said a Government official.

According to Government officials by far greater portion of the jewellery is in the hands of innocent persons scattered all over the country. The work of informing these people that their claims on jewellery is to be protested is going on.

Fifty Nine Persons Perished

Christiana, Norway, Jan. 18.—Fifty nine persons perished as the result of an avalanche of rocks at Naadsel, north of Berger, Sunday. A mass of rock was suddenly precipitated into Loenvand Lake from the neighboring hills, causing an immense wave, 90 feet high, which swept the neighboring shores. Houses, people and cattle were swept away by the rush of water. Thus far only four bodies have been recovered. A great storm stopped the relief work as the surrounding district is unable to send help.

WILL STRIKE FOR HUDSON'S BAY

Great Northern Will Build Line Into Far North

STARTING POINT CHOSEN

It Will be on the Prince Albert Branch—An Important Statement

Winnipeg, Man., January 16.—President Mackenzie, of the Canadian Northern Railway, yesterday announced the decision of the company to strike out for Hudson's Bay from the Prince Albert branch. The announcement settles finally the possibility of the company seeking a north route to the ocean by either the much-talked-of line north from Winnipeg or in the east of Ontario. The president's important statement came in answer to questions by a reporter as to whether the company was doing anything in British Columbia in reference to a transcontinental system.

"We are not in such a hurry as to get to the coast," answered Mr. Mackenzie; "we would rather devote our attention to a line to Hudson's Bay. It is the intention of the company to strike Hudson's Bay by a line starting from the Prince Albert branch."

It is expected that the company will begin the building of the Hudson's Bay line at the same point between Melfort and Tisdale, on the Prince Albert branch. The railway will run north-easterly for a distance of about 500 miles, it is expected, while the company may also take advantage of the Nelson River in completing the route.

President Mackenzie also announced that the building of new terminals at Winnipeg would be begun in the spring.

THE BEST WAR SHIPS

Thinks War in East Proves Worth of Battleships

Montreal, January 17.—Mr. V. C. Vickers, of London, Eng., a junior member of the celebrated firm of Vickers Sons and Maxim, which builds both commercial and war vessels, was at the Windsor Hotel on his way to Japan on a pleasure trip.

Mr. Vickers says that his firm is now under contract to build for the Admiralty several battleships of the largest and most modern design.

While unwilling to discuss at length the effect of the present war on the navy, Mr. Vickers said that he thought that, as far as the struggle had gone, it had demonstrated the effectiveness of heavy battleships. No navy could hope to hold its own without being well supplied in this respect.

Notwithstanding the remarkable work done by the Japanese in the way of torpedo attack and the damage wrought by the Russians in their protected mines, the lesson of the war certainly was that battleships were effective for either attack or defence. Hereafter, there was no doubt that naval powers would make increased expenditures for heavy armed battleships, and

SIR H. CAMPBELL-BANNERMAN

Declared Himself In Favour of Removal of Embargo

London, January 18.—A deputation convened by Mr. Pattullo, secretary of the Canadian Cattle Importation Association, interviewed Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman as to his attitude on the re-opening of ports, which they said would benefit both the agricultural and shipping interests. Replying, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman said for himself he was in favor of Canadian cattle being admitted to this country. He had no idea the case for the trade was so strong. He hoped the public would understand the question and he would do what he could to get the ports opened.

EATEN BY CANNIBALS

Bodies of Five Priests and Five Nuns Make a Feast in South Sea Islands

San Francisco, January 18. — The Rev. M. L. Stimson, South Sea missionary, who arrived yesterday on the steamer Doric, brings the first details of the murder of five Catholic priests and nuns of New Britain last October. After the murders the savages ate the bodies of the victims within sight of the German Governor's residence.

Mr. Stimson is settled at Penapi, Caroline Islands, and he got the details from the Vice-Governor of New Britain. He said the nuns and priests were surrounded by a mob of natives whose fanaticism had been aroused. The priests fought for their lives, but all were soon killed. Then the cannibals proceeded to hold a feast on the bodies of the victims near the residence of Dr. Hahl, the Governor. He has organized a punitive expedition.

MORE ASIATIC WARS

Very Serious Anti-Foreign Troubles in North China

Berlin, January 17.—Advices have reached the German Government that serious anti-foreign disturbances are raging in the province of Hunan in North China, requiring the despatch of a heavy force of Chinese European drilled troops from the province of Pechili. The Foreign Office informs the Star correspondent that there is reason to believe that the outbreak is connected with the fall of Port Arthur, as the Japanese military and naval successes thus far have failed to cause the anticipated excitement among the Chinese.

According to the Foreign Office the Pekin Government is showing a much better spirit in suppressing the revolt than it did in 1900. Japan is thought to be largely responsible for this new spirit. The Japanese Government is earnestly desirous that foreign intervention in China should be avoided at all costs, as long as the present war lasts.

Negotiations May Be Opened With Canadian Government for Service Via Vancouver

London, January 17.—William Hope Moore, who is described as a Canadian traveller, was charged at the Bow street Police Court with assaulting Beatrice Williams. The magistrate discharged Moore, who then complained very seriously of the way he had been treated by the constable who arrested him. Mr. Moore's back was so badly injured that he had to consult a doctor. The magistrate said he could not investigate the complaint unless the case was before him in some way, and, therefore, called Moore back and remanded him on his own recognizance for a week.

AUSTRALIAN MAILS.

It is reported from Melbourne that if the Orient Company persists in its refusal to reduce the amount of its offer for the mail contract to £100,000 per annum, the Postmaster-General will open negotiations with the Dominion Government for a fast subsidized mail service via Vancouver. Although the Orient contract lapses this month, the existing route will be maintained till April.

RUMORS RE ESQUIMAULT.

A cable from British Columbia states that the Admiralty has decided to sell the canteen grounds at Esquimault. On enquiring at the Admiralty, the Canadian Associated Press was informed that nothing is known of any such decision or intention. Possibly the canteen house, being private property, is being sold, but the ground belongs to the Admiralty.

A CANADIAN STAFF OFFICER.

Captain Eaton, of the Canadian Artillery, has passed the final examination and is now a graduate of the Staff College, the highest military qualification within the Empire. Captain Eaton is the only officer holding a colonial commission who has gained this standing.

ACTIVE OPERATIONS LOOKED FOR IN MANCHURIA.

The Troops From Port Arthur Help Oyama and Japs Are Becoming Very Active --- The Raid of the Cossaks.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 18.—The War Office does not admit the appearance of General Mistchenko's cavalry south of Liao-Yang as more than a raiding expedition designed to strike the railroad at several points and interrupt the transportation of Gen. Nogi's guns from Port Arthur to Manchuria, but from certain indications it seems possible that it is preliminary to an operation of magnitude. General Mistchenko has over 20,000 horsemen, and moving rapidly, might be able to seriously damage communication in the rear of Liao-Yang. The tone of the despatches from some Russian correspondents, vaguely hints at very important developments, and the military writer for the Novoe Vremya expresses the opinion that the long calm since the Battle of Sha River is about to be broken. It is also noteworthy that there have been no official despatches from General Kouropatkin for two days.

London, Jan. 18.—The English correspondents at Port Arthur continue to insist that the surrender of the fortress was premature and inexplicable. The Daily Telegraph's correspondent, after surveying the second line of defences, says it is scarcely credible that the Russians should have relinquished the positions. He adds that quantities of rifles, ammunition, and shells were thrown into the sea, and that the sufferings of the garrison from scarcity of food were greatly exaggerated.

Other correspondents concur in these statements. They say the place could have held out for another month at least. Japanese officers say that the troops were able and willing to fight on, and that the infantry loudly protested that the place had been given away. They then destroyed the guns, deserted their positions, and hastened to the city without leave. There they threw their rifles and ammunition into the harbor. Then they broke into the warehouses and looted them, defying their officers. They raided vodka stores and drank until they were helpless.

The Kobe correspondent of the Daily Telegraph asserts that there was acute personal estrangement between General Stoessel and his subordinate commanders due to his arranging favorable terms for the officers and not for the men.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Telegraph claims to have good authority for stating that foreign diplomacy friendly towards Russia is already reckoning with the necessity for ending the war sooner than the uninitiated would imagine, and for benevolently smoothing Russia's way. The essence of the scheme is the formation of a temporary triple combination of the powers, which will leave nothing undone to beat down Japan's claims at the future peace conference. Germany will take the initiative. The scheme has been discussed with France and Russia, although no definite arrangements have yet been reached. The negotiations are being carried on in the greatest secrecy. It is recognized that results comparable with those achieved by the same combination after the Chinese-Japanese war cannot be attained, but other results are confidently anticipated.

The correspondent asserts that disorders due to the mobilisation orders continues. He mentions troubles at Mohileff, Perm, and Nashny. The increase in the activity of both armies on the Sha River is confirmed from St. Petersburg and Tokio. The Russians are gradually advancing and developing their right wing.

London, Jan. 18.—Letters from St. Petersburg show that there is already more than a strong tendency to deny that General Stoessel is the hero that he was acclaimed before the surrender of Port Arthur. Especially is this so in Russian military circles, but representatives of all classes, officials, journalists, Liberals, Conservatives, and bureaucrats combine in the general indictment.

Military men say that something more was possible—indeed indispensable—before the surrender. They even maintain that his official reports were untrue. On December 28, General Stoessel telegraphed "The garrison is suffering from scurvy. Ten thousand are under arms, but all are ill."

The Japanese official accounts, however, show that they found 23,491 privates and non-commissioned officers, 6,500 marines and officers and others which brought up the total to 32,207 capable of fighting. Apart from the munitions exploded in the fortress these thirty odd thousand men still had over two million cartridges and other munitions of war, with large supplies of food flour, and horses.

Military men are also incensed over the total absence of any mention of General Smirnoff in General Stoessel's despatches. The Czar's friend, Prince Meshcherasky, writes in the Grashdanin, "What can it mean that all through the siege among the heroes he mentions one name which is lacking which was honored within the walls of Port Arthur just as much as Stoessel's own name—Smirnoff, the name of the commander of Port Arthur, of him who made a first-class fortress out of mere rock.

SURGERY FOR APPENDICITIS

Sir William McEwen, the eminent English surgeon, has lately made an important addition to medical literature in a lecture, taking the ground that the appendix vermiformis, instead of being a useless organ and a mystery in the human anatomy, has a very important function in assisting digestion. It is, moreover, the chief habitat of a certain micro-organism which is most effectively industrious in attacking imperfectly assimilated nourishment, and if useful solely as a medium for the cultivation of these bacteria, it should be parted with only as a last recourse to save life.

Dr. Rabagliati, one of the ablest of modern writers on such subjects, says:

A structure rich in lymphoid elements has probably a useful part to play in the economy, and it would be far more useful to poor and suffering humanity, though possibly less beneficial to the prophets, to advise how to keep the appendix veriformis and other parts sound and healthy than to proceed to remove them in the way that is now freely proposed and carried out. Even after the appendix is removed the caecum and other parts of the intestine may become inflamed, and the appendix-less patient may still suffer from inflammation of the caecum or of the bowel, from peri-typhlitis or entritis. Are we to excise the caecum in order to prevent typhlitis or peri-typhlitis? Or would it be wise to amputate the head in order to prevent neuralgia in the face?

A few years ago this would have sounded perilously like medical heresy. At present it is rated as good common sense. If the length of time that man has been on the planet has not sufficed by natural evolution to eliminate the appendix veriformis, no great stretch of the imagination is needed to reach the conception that perhaps it is useful after all. The results of surgery on this organ prove very little. Some have died under the knife; some have died after the operation, and some have recovered more or less quickly and completely. What the statistics do not show is how many of these patients would have died and how many would have recovered without operations. The conviction in medical circles that there are diseased conditions now rushed to the operating table which might be treated much more satisfactorily and equally successfully by medical, and particularly by dietic, management is an evidence of the growth of a kind of conservatism which has a close resemblance to senility.

Something new and Up-to-date! This is all very well but what about the old things that have stood the test of time? Now there is "The D & L" Emulsion; everybody knows you cannot find a better preparation

HEARTS THAT ARE TOUCHED

Interesting Letters from Friends who are Helping the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives.

DEAR MR. EDITOR,—I would like to quote from two or three letters that are on my desk from friends who have been sending in contributions for the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives. One contributor who sent $50.00 says: "I am sure the country is grateful to you for your good work, and many will bless you." The record-keeper of the Knights of the Maccabees, in sending $5.00 from his lodge, says: "Our Order has paid lots on lives that would undoubtedly have survived had proper treatment been within reach." W. C. McMaster, Township Clerk, Cookstown, sends $10.00 from his municipal council, and says: "We are sure you are doing a noble work to check that dread disease consumption." S. R. Spotterwood, Paris, closes a letter, in which he sent $5.00, in this way: "Such a work should enlist the sympathy of every true Canadian."

At the present, I may be permitted to say that the burden being borne by our Trustees is a very heavy one. Expenses always run heavier during the winter season. We have been compelled to build a laundry because other laundries refused our work, and this has called for an immediate expenditure of $4,000.

How hopeful is the work the Hospital is doing is plainly indicated in the reduction in the death-rate in Ontario from consumption.

Our Trustees are anxious to further extend accommodation at Muskoka, and the work can only be delayed by the need of funds. I do not hesitate to ask for a generous contribution from your readers, with so good a cause to advocate.

Russian Embassy at Paris Modifies Admiral Doubassoff's Interview

Paris, Jan. 16.—Owing to the continued discussion of the interview with Vice-Admiral Doubassoff favorable to early peace, the Russian Embassy has given out the following statement:—"It is quite true that the quotations cited have been discussed, but it is quite probable that l'Echo de Paris interviewer gave the admiral's circumspect responses in a sense too categoric. In reality the admiral has not foreshadowed immediate peace for the purpose of gaining time and then recommencing the war under circumstances more favorable for Russia. The questions of peace or war devolve solelly upon the supreme authorities in Russia, and no official personage would publicly express opinions unaccording with the resolutions of the Imperial Government.

Mrs. C. L. Chadwick's Jewels Valued at $17,000

Cleveland, Ohio, January 13. — Nathan Loeser, receiver for Mrs. Chadwick, has made an examination of the jewellery held by Harry W. Wuerst, of Elyria, Ohio, as collateral for a loan. Mr. Loeser estimates the value of the jewels at $17,000. Wuerst's claim amounts to $20,000. The entire collection is believed to have originally cost Mrs. Chadwick $25,000 or more.

The hearing of the Chadwisk receivership was postponed, and probably will not come up until some day next week.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, excepting 8 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres more or less.

ENTRY

Entry may be made personally at a local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situate, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES

A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act, and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), or any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

3) If a settler was entitled to and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

4) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same town, township, or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of clauses [2], [3] or [4] must cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, or substitute 20 head of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, and have besides 30 acres substantially fenced.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd of June, 1889.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled and the land may again be thrown open for entry.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT

Should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

INFORMATION

Newly arrived immigrants will receive, at the Immigration Office in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing lands to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Land Agents in Manitoba or the North-west Territories.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands, to which the Regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Co.
INCORPORATED

Capital $5,000,000. Shares $1.00 Each, Par Value, Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable.

We have just secured the agency for the above splendid proposition, of which we have been allotted a block of Treasury stock. We can confidently recommend this as a safe and, we believe, exceedingly profitable investment. Every dollar of stock is guaranteed by twenty year, full paid, gold bond, delivered to purchaser of stock, from an Investment Company that has no interest whatever in the company, but who are disposing of the debentured bonds to the public, and, under their charter, they are compelled to deposit securities to an equal amount, to the State Treasurer under which they received their charter, there by doubly securing the payment of their gold bonds.

The Company's property, which is now past the project stage, is known to be marvellously rich in gold.

Following is the opinion of G. W. Miller, Mining Engineer, formerly with the Boston and Montana Consolidated Copper and Silver Mining Company, U. S.; Simmer and Jack Mining Co., Limited, Elandsfontein, South Africa:—

"You have here a most valuable property and one of the strongest fissure veins that can be found in any part of the world.

"With the present development of the Monument Mine, I estimate that 100 tons per day can be extracted, which will mill from $15.00 to $20.00 per ton. The total cost of mining the ore, delivering and milling, I place at about $4.00 per ton. With increased milling capacity, it is safe to say that the mine can furnish 100 tons of $15.00 ore, which would yield a clear profit of $11.00 per ton, or $1,100.00 per day (equal to $400,000.00 per annum). Estimated total value of ore in sight, $2,500,000."

During the past summer, a party of the Company Directors visited the property, taking with them, Amos P. Brown, Ph.D., Mining Engineer and Professor of Geology and Mineralogy at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Brown writes as follows:—

"In regards to the amount of ore available at the mines at Sinclair, I saw on the dumps several thousand tons, probably 5000 tons would be an under-estimate.

"As to the size of the ore body itself, from what I saw of the geological structures, I think that there is every indication that it will be found to extend underground as far as the out-croppings on the south side of the gulch. This would mean an ore body large enough to keep the present mill running for many years to come.

A write up of the proposition will appear in these columns in a few days. Watch for it. In the meantime we will be pleased to furnish full information to investors.

Stocks—The MARKETS OF THE WORLD—Grains

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

The Salido Gold and Copper Company

Incorporated under the laws of Arizona, with a capital of $3,oc ooo forever non-assessable divided into shares of $1 each, par value. All investments insured Granite Securities Company.

The "SALIDO GOLD-COPPER COMPANY" enterprise offers attractions to the investors of the country, that without thorough investigation, would scarcely seem probable. If only a fraction is realized of what any prudent business man in his own affairs would regard as absolutely certain, the enterprise must prove abundantly successful and exceedingly profitable.

SALE OF STOCK

The company will prosecute the work of development with all the diligence that the cash in the treasury will permit and circumstances warrant, and to this end a small amount of the treasury stock is now placed upon the market in blocks of not less than One Hundred Shares. The par value of the stock is One Dollar per share, fully paid and forever non-assessable.

The company reserves the right to advance the price of stock without notice.

REMEMBER

First—That all payments for treasury stock go into the treasury for development work and not into the pockets of the promoters.

Second—There are no salaried officers.

Third—The incorporators have put their own good money into this enterprise and being business men, intend to do business along business lines

Fourth—That this company is honest.

Fifth—If you are thinking of investing in mining stocks this is worthy of your careful investigation.

OTHER PROPERTIES

This Company owns four other Gold and Copper Mines, wh ch title is now in process in the laws of Mexico. As soon as title is perfected, we shall commence to develop them as we certainly expect something very great from these properties. Our assays taken have been of the very best, showing gold and copper from $6.00 to $122. 30 per ton.

I have secured a small block of this stock, which I offer at the following prices: Unguaranteed 40 cents per share, guaranteed 80 cents per share. These prices will only prevail for a short time, as the number of shares for sale at this price is limited. The Shares will then be advanced to 40 cents for the unguaranteed and 80 cents for the guaranteed. I can unhesitatingly recommend this investment to the Canadian public.

The California Buckeye Mine

This mine consists of 15 acres of good zinc land, well prospected by drill holes showing forty feet of good pay dirt at a depth of 154 feet.

On the property are hoisting engine, shaft house, ore buckets, Worthington steam pump, air drill, cars and pipes. Over $15,000 have been expended to date, and the proposition itself is a good one so much so that we can personally guarantee an immediate dividend of 8 per cent. this year and 12 per cent. after 1905, with an additional quarterly dividend.

Capital Stock $250,000

Shares, par value $1.00 each. Fully paid up and non-assessable. No Preferred Stock. No bonded indebtedness

The shares are selling at 20 cents each, with a prospect of the price being raised.

The Joplin Daily Globe says that over $10,000.000 worth of zinc and lead were mined in 1904, up to 1st Dec., in the Joplin District. In the California Buckeye Zinc Mine, located in the centre of the Joplin District, it has been demonstrated that the ore body has an average thickness of 42 feet and the runs are 50 feet wide, about 120 feet from the surface.

The rough dirt for the first three months of operation produced zinc ore to the amount of $12.95 per cent., while the average for the district is less than 5 per cent., but for the purpose of being on the safe side, we calculate on only 8 per cent. ore to the ton of dirt, and it shows a profit each day with two shifts of men, of $566.20.

We stand ready to prove every statement made, and if enough stock is subscribed for in this locality a directorship of the company is at the disposal of the subscribers..

Any further information and proofs of earning capacity will be cheerfully supplied.

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Rare Chance to Secure a Paying Investment

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY

has placed a small block of their stock at the disposal of Canadian investors. This stock is sure to rapidly advance in price. The Company is now arranging to instal the power plant and a mill and cyanide plant for the reduction of their ore to a bullion on the property. They have arranged with a Trust Company having assets of $1,500,000 to put up a bond guaranteeing investors the repayment of the full amount invested. This makes investors absolutely safe. By no possibility can they lose a dollar.

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY was organized November 21, 1902. under the laws of the State of Idaho. The capitalization is one million shares of the par value of one dollar each, fully paid and non assessable; of the 1,000,oco shares. 400,000 have been set aside as treasury stock.

THE BOISE BASIN came into prominence shortly after Grimes and his party of prospectors entered the Basin country in 1863; their entrance was into the northern portion, and one discovery of rich placer ground followed another until the news of the rich finds reached the outside world, when a veritable stampede for Boise Basin commenced. towns sprang up and grew together in an incredibly short time; the rush of people to Idaho City made it a place of 20,oco people in 1867, having a business street over a mile long lined with two-story buildings streets and sidewalks filled with people day and night, business and money on every hand and the city bearing the proud distinction of being the capital of the territory of Idaho. Wages ran from $6 to $10 a day and not infrequently forty and fifty men worked on a single placer claim; the clean-up for a day's work in many instances ran close to $5,000; large fortunes were made in a few days by washing the golden sands in a pan, so eager was the quest for the shining metal that the streets of Idaho City were dug up and washed and re-washed, and the soil removed from under the houses and places of business. So extensive was the search for the hidden treasure that not only all of the low ground was worked but the foot of the mountains surrounding the city have been washed away, filling up the lower portions of the basin and extending into the town, where one of the buildings has been buried under the tailings from the numerous placer workings.

LOCATION—The property of the Gold Coin Mining Company is situated in the Gambrinus Mining District, Boise County, Idaho, on the range of mountains between Moore Creek and Elk Creek, which forms a part of the eastern boundary of the famous Boise Basin and into which these mountains are drained The property is located ten miles northeast of Idaho City, from which place there are good wagon roads either to the workings on top of the mountain or to the place of the proposed tunnels in the gulch which crosses the Tunnelsite claim.

THE CLAIMS—The Company owns a group of four contiguous lode mining claims and the Gold Coin Millsite: the names of the lode claims are the Tunnelsite, Blue Bell, Pennsylvania and Homestake, each being a full claim 600 feet wide by 1,500 feet long, excepting the Tunnelsite claim, which is 450 feet wide at the west end and 1,055 feet long: it was necessary to stake the claim in this form on account of joining the Washington property on the south and the Sub Rosa property on the west, these properties being prior locations to the Tunnelsite claim. The four lode claims aggregate nearly 80 acres of rich mineral land.

LITTLE LAKE CEMETERY.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE COMPANY HELD YESTERDAY

Report of the Directors—Election of Officers for the Ensuing Year

The annual meeting of the Little Lake Cemetery Company Shareholders was held in the Council Chambers yesterday afternoon, Mr. W. H. Moore, the president, in the chair.

The principal business was the reception of the different reports covering the work done during the past year and the election of the Directors for the present year.

The Directors who have served during the past year are; —Messrs. W. H. Moore, president, J. J. Lundy, Jas. Stevenson, Chas. Stapleton, Benj Shortly, R. M. Denniston, Dr. Geo. Burnham, T. A. S. Hay and E. H.D. Hall.

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

Mr. W. H. Moore, the president, presented the report of the Board of Directors as follows;—

To the Shareholders of the Little Lake Cemetery.

Your Directors are gratified to report continued progress made during the past year in beautifying the cemetery, and in making various improvements to the grounds, some of which are referred to in the Superintendent's report. The most important was the erection of a green house in the rear of the new office. The previous green house had never been more than a temporary contrivance. Last spring when your directors examined it, the furnace was found to be burned out and the building in a state of collapse. The new house is a substantial one, well suited for nurturing and maturing plants and flowers and has all modern improvements for heating and ventilation, with capacity six times greater than the old house. Your directors are confident this improvement will add a very attractive feature to the cemetery as well as prove a good investment for the company, and a great convenience to all who take an interest in the grounds.

The first burying ground in Peterborough only contained about four acres of land, and when the Little Lake Cemetery was established, and for many years after, it was thought we had grounds so large, that they would be ample for a very long period of years. But after the expiring of fifty-five years, a different view is being expressed, and regret felt that the company had not secured a larger area. Having regard to this circumstance your Board would suggest that in future, in opening new blocks for burial purposes, economy be exercised in laying them out, and that most, if not all, walks, usual in the older grounds, be not placed between parcels, but that the boundaries be marked by stone or concrete monuments. For some time grass walks have been adopted instead of open earth ones. The change has been found to be an improvement, and has enhanced the beauty of The grounds, and given them a more park-like appearance. Your Board believes this proposal should receive your careful and favorable consideration.

A detailed statement of receipts and expenditures, for the past year, is shown in the Superintendent and Auditor's reports, which will be submitted to you.

W. H. MOORE.
President.

16th of January, 1905.

THE IMPROVEMENTS.

Mr. F. Wise, the Superintendent, submitted his report of the improvements made to the Cemetery during 904. The report follows;—

Peterborough, Jan. 12, '05.

o the President, Directors and Shareholders of the Little Lake Cemetery Company.

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit the following report of improvements made in your cemetery during the year 1904.

A large circular bed, thirty feet in diameter has been cut on Windmill Point and planted with spruce and small shrubs and the appearance of this part of the cemetery has been much improved thereby.

Block number four of the single graves section has been graded and seeded down and is now in a condition to bury upon.

The working of cleaning and renovating the block known as Tree ground has been completed and is now in as good condition as in any other part of the cemetery.

The grading of section R has been commenced and put in condition for sale.

About 300 feet of extension of water system was made in section "D."

At the Superintendent's residence a concrete walk from the street to be kitchen entrance was laid. 85 eet long and 2 feet 6 inches wide, making a total of 212 feet 6 inches at a cost of $16, the grading of the lawn has also been completed, and a concrete floor laid throughout the whole of the cellar.

A green house has been erected 43 feet by 20 feet and heated with a Dean Hot water boiler at a total cost of about $500. This building will fill a long felt want, as previously our plants were largely grown in hot beds, causing a great amount of labor and also requiring the best of weather in which to perform it. now we can take stormy and rough days in which to do the same kind of work.

I append my financial statement.

Respectfully submitted.

F. WISE,
Superintendent.

This Company is the owner of 70,000 acres of very rich, fertile lands in the Province of Pinar del Rio, Cuba This land is suitable to the growth of the finest quality of tobacco, oranges, lemons, pineapples and other citrous fruits.

A small portion of this estate produced last year a large percentage on the total authorized capital of this company.

One acre produced last year $2700 in tobacco. The revenue-producing powers of this estate will not be reduced by sale of lands, as the cultivated portion will be increased by additional plantation.

The lands offered for sale can be made as productive within a short period as those at present cultivated.

The estate is abundantly watered by numerous streams and fresh water springs.

The climate is one perpetual June, no fogs, no mists, no yellow fever.

Flowers bloom the year round.

Game and fish abound.

The temperature is even, so that catarrh is unheard of.

Abundance of water and perpetual grass makes stock raising an assured success.

New York markets are at its command for all its products.

The estate borders upon Gaudiana Bay, with a sea frontage of about twelve miles and a deep water, sheltered harbor.

Cuba has only now become open to modern development, and its progress is sure to be rapid.

This is the opportunity for the man of small means to obtain a home and subsequent wealth, for the man of means to obtain a profitable investment.

This Company is now offering land in blocks of 10 acres or more at $10 00 per acre.

Stock at par or scrip entitling the owner to an option to take land at $10.00, or stock at par, for a limited period.

Only 10,000 acres will be offered at $10.00 per acre, of which 2,000 acres are already sold

The second 10,000 acres will be sold at $20.00 per acre or over within a few months.

The balance of the estate to be disposed of 30,000 acres, will be raised to $50 00 per acre or over.

As the price of land is raised the price of stock will also advance.

Purchase now and save money.

Terms—25 per cent cash; 25 per cent. 30 days; 25 per cent. 60 days; 25 per cent. 90 days.

Powerful Healing Effective Cure

FOR COLDS, COUGHS, CATARRH BRONCHITIS AND ASTHMA

Simply Inhale Catarrhozone; it Cures Because it Goes where the Disease Actually Is.

These diseases cannot be cured by stomach medicines; they must be treated locally. Catarrhozone is inhaled to the very source of the trouble, and gives the diseased membranes local treatment with the strongest, most-healing antiseptics known.

After one trial of Catarrhozone you will wonder how you ever lived without it. Nasty colds in the head it cures in an hour; coughs are stopped in two hours, and catarrh and bronchitis are relieved at once. Nothing could be simpler or more pleasant than to inhale the fragrant vapor of Catarrhozone. Nothing is half so certain to cure your trouble permanently.

Nor is proof of Catarrhozone's merit lacking, for it is endorsed more strongly by the medical profession than any other remedy. Its superiority to-day is unquestioned, and its sale by far exceeds that of any other two remedies on the market. Why? Because it does what is claimed for it—cures permanently those who use it for any disease of the breathing organs.

Mr. S. E. MacAuley, the well-known attorney of Portland, endorses Catarrhozone in the following letter. "I am anxious to make known that after three years' suffering from weak throat and catarrh, I have been cured by Catarrhozone. I was treated by many doctors of wide reputation. I have used scores of different remedies. I have suffered everything catarrh entails, and I am convinced that no medicine is so sure to cure as Catarrhozone, which did me untold good and completely eradicated this awful disease from my system."

Complete outfit, guaranteed to cure costs $1, sample size 25c. At all druggists or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., or Hartford, Conn. U.S.A. Beware of substitutes and insist on getting Catarrhozone when you ask for it.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

DASHES HERE AND THERE BY TIMES' REPORTERS

Died in Kings on

The sympathy of The Times is extended to Mr. Wm. Cowie, of The Examiner, on account of the death of his mother in Kingston. Mr. Cowie left last night for the Limestone City.

Nominations To-day

The nominations of candidates for West Peterborough, in connection with the Provincial elections will be held in the County buildings to-day, between 12 noon and one o'clock. It is understood that there will be no speaking either on the part of the candidates nor their representative. Mr. Sheriff Hall, returning officer will preside.

New Club Rooms

The handsomely fitted up club rooms of the Young Conservative Association, over Dutton's store, are to be open this evening. A meeting of the club will be held on Friday evening, in their rooms when all the members and their friends are invited to be present. A formal opening will take place later on when several noted speakers from a distance as well as prominent local Conservatives will be invited to deliver addresses.

Please bear in mind that what is called a skin disease may be but a symptom of bad blood. In that case, Weaver's Cerate, externally applied, should be supplemented with Weaver's Syrup, taken daily.

REMOVAL

C. Wilhelmy has removed his place of business to No. 453 George Street, next door to the Peterborough Light and Power Company.

The attendance at the Peterboro Business College larger this year than ever

WHY?

Because we are keeping up with the growth of Peterborough, the "Electric City," which is fast becoming a leading manufacturing centre of Canada.

Over 90 per cent. of those graduating are placed in good positions in Peterborough. Attend school where you have such prospects.

NOW IS THE TIME TO ENTER

If you cannot attend our School write for particulars regarding our correspondence courses.

Popular Winter Concert

The splendid Band of the 57th Regiment will give in the Opera House, on Friday night, the first of a series of popular concerts, to be given during the winter. For the opening concert a most interesting program is being prepared. At all these concerts the band will be assisted by local artists.

Wedding Bells

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the George street Methodist Parsonage, on Monday evening, when Miss Daisy Daley, daughter of Mr. Alfred Daley, and Mr. S. Percy Kennedy, son of Mr. Samuel Kennedy, Dublin St., were united in marriage by Rev. Dr. Crothers. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Helen Daley, and the groom by his brother, Mr. Roland Kennedy. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy will reside on Dublin street.

Estate of the Late Mr A. Cox

Letters of probate have been granted to the National Trust Company, and Hon. Geo. A. Cox, executors of the estate of the late Aaron A. Cox, of Peterborough. The estate is valued at $35,100, as follows; Household goods and furniture, $2,000; book debts and promissory notes, $1,500; bank shares and other stocks, $1,100; real estate, $30,500. The income of the estate is to be paid to the widow during her life. Upon her death an equal division is to be made among the twelve children of the deceased.

Regular Charity Board

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Charity Board was held on Monday night, with the following attendance. Mr. H. Rush, chairman; and Messrs. Yelland, Miller, Braund, Batten, Kemp, Rev. Father McColl and Rev. J. P. Lewis.

The tender of R. Hicks & Co., for 100 cords of wood, was withdrawn, and the contract awarded to R. C. Braund at $5.62 1-2 per cord.

A large number of charity applications were received and dealt with.

On motion of Messrs. Yelland and Braund, a resolution was adopted, expressing the appreciation of the Board of the services of Miss Edna Armstrong, and of the secretary.

All of the officers made short speeches, and an address was delivered by the Supreme Vice-President and District Deputy. These gentlemen were afterwards entertained to an oyster supper at the Palm Gardens.

Electors if you hear Mr. Whitney the Liberal Conservative Leader, at the Market Hall, on Thursday evening, you will get a better grip of affairs than you can by reading the papers. Come and hear what a man who knows says about what he knows.

KILLED BY A TRAIN

Conductor Hammill Struck by Peterborough Flyer.

A deplorable accident occurred on Monday night at Little York, near Toronto, by which Conductor Hammill, of Lindsay, well known to the Peterborough travelling public, was instantly killed. It appears that Hammil was checking the special freight train, in charge of which he was about to leave, and he stepped on the main line just as the Peterborough flyer dashed through. He was thrown some distance, and when reached by his comrades life was extinct. Both legs were broken and the skull was fractured. The body was conveyed to Hunter's undertaking establishment, and Mr. J. Byran, master of the local lodge of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, at once took steps to have the sad news broken to the friends of the deceased at Lindsay. Definite particulars regarding the funeral could not be obtained, as the arrival of the coroner was being awaited. It is understood, however, that the funeral will take place at Lindsay, and will be under the charge of the Brotherhood. The deceased, who was about thirty-five years of age, leaves a widow and one child.

"A Little Cold, You Know" will become a great danger if it be allowed to reach down from the throat to the lungs. Nip the peril in the bud, with Allen's Lung Balsam, a sure remedy containing no opium.

—Circulars of invitation are being spread broadcast for the Whitney meeting on Thursday evening. The speakers will be Mr. T. E. Bradburn, the Conservative candidate, Mr. [illegible] and Mr. Whitney.

THE LAST MEETING

In East Riding to be Held at Stewart's Settlement, Otonabee

The electors of Otonabee are requested not to overlook the meeting in the interests of Mr. Wm. Anderson, Liberal candidate for East Peterborough, which will be held at Stewart's, Otonabee, on the evening of Monday, Jan. 23rd, at 7.30 o'clock. The speakers for the occasion will be Hon. J. R. Stratton and Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P. This will be the last meeting of the campaign.

THE SENIOR GYM CLASS

Given an "Open Night" at the Y.M.C.A. Last Night

The senior gymnasium class at the Y.M.C.A., under the capable direction of Mr. Holmes, the Physical Director, gave an open evening last night at the Y.M.C.A. The class began its exercises at eight o'clock, and finished at nine, after which short addresses were delivered.

Quite a number of visitors were present, and were much interested in the proceedings. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the addresses.

A GROWING LIST

Bell Company's New Directory Contains 500 Subscribers

The Bell Telephone Company has just issued a new directory containing no less than 500 subscribers. The company owes its ever increasing popularity, to the excellent service which it maintains, and the splendid and ever widening outside connection. An instance of this was demonstrated on Monday last, when those in charge of the concert held in the Presbyterian church, Springville, were able to make arrangements for music for the same by phone, saving a seven miles' drive to town. It is, we believe, the intention of the company to run these wires out into the country in all directions, connecting up the homes of farmers and thus making the exchange much more valuable to its patrons.

A CATHEDRAL WEDDING

Nuptials of Miss Harry Reid and Mr. P. O'Brien

On Monday morning, at eight o'clock, St. Peter's cathedral was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when Miss Mary Reid was united in marriage to Mr. Patrick O'Brien. The bride was daintily attired in a suit of brown. Miss Annie Reid, sister of the bride, supported the bride, and the groomsman was Mr. George O'Brien, the groom's brother. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch, and to the bridesmaid a gold bracelet. The groomsman's gift was a very pretty dinner set, and to the bridesmaid a very pretty locket; and the bridesmaid gave the bride a five o'clock tea set. The wedding breakfast was served at the Balmoral Hotel, the table being prettily decorated and set for twelve people. The happy couple left for the North-West yesterday morning on the five o'clock train where they will reside.

Mr. Whitney, the Liberal Conservative Leader, will Address a meeting of the Electors in the interests of Mr. Bradburn, at the Market Hall, Thursday Evening Jan. 19th Mr R M Denniston will also speak Ladies Invited

A REAL NUISANCE

Bitter Complaint Regarding an Alleged Mighty Evil

(To the Editor of The Times)

Sir,—I am constrained to write a letter to The Times regarding what has now become a mighty evil in the land. It is regarding the wedding gift nuisance. I have a young friend who is not blessed with too much of this world's goods, who recently said to me on this subject: "I am asked to endless weddings, solely for what the happy and grasping pair can get out of me! I have seen the blue eyes of a rather nice girl gleam like the eyes of a bird of prey when she said that people were so stingy now with wedding presents, and if anybody dared to send her the brass inkstand which cost a guinea she would pack it back. She knew I had given brass inkstands to three of her dearest friends; but she was determined to put an end to the practice by which alone I had escaped destitution! It is my firm belief that people marry nowadays simply to fleece every man who has the misfortune to know them."

This is also true of Christmas presents. This gift business is being run to death in Canada.

A VICTIM.

$500 REWARD! FOR WOMEN

WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

The Vice-President Independent Order of Good Templars.

An experience which many women have was related by Miss Agnes Stebbins, of 221 High [illegible] Street, Providence, R.I. She had very poor health for a year until life looked dark and dreary to me. Had headaches, backache, also pain, my sleep was broken and fitful. I longed for health. Tried several medicines but none were of any lasting benefit until I took Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I soon realized that I had found the right remedy. It helped nature to throw off the poisons that tainted the system, removed all pains and strengthened the digestive organs, and brought the roses of health back to my cheeks. This medicine if taken occasionally keeps the system in perfect condition, helping it to throw off the disease and cause [illegible] of exposure to dampness. I am pleased to give it my endorsement."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for the paper-covered book, or 50 stamps for the cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

that she is gradually recovering.

—Mr. L. Bennett, Queen's Hotel, Port Hope, and Mr. W. C. Glass, of the same place were in town yesterday attending the races.

—Mr. G. A. Gillespie, of White & Gillespie, left yesterday to attend the Dairymans' Association meeting, now being held in Stratford.

—Miss Mabel Davidson, of Lakefield, is a beneficiary to the extent of $5,000 under the will of her aunt, the late Mrs. Riordan, Queen's Park, Toronto, whose will has been probated at $115,000.

—Dr. Coughlin left yesterday for Fergus, where he will speak at the nomination to-day in East Wellington, in the interest of Mayor J. J. Craig, against Hon. J. M. Gibson. The Doctor will address a series of meetings throughout the riding before returning.

12,000 MEN QUIT WORK ON RUSSIAN WARSHIPS.

The Situation is Regarded as Threatening---Explains Reasons for Surrender and Backs His Men---Condemn Alexieff.

Tokio, Jan. 19.—The Japanese Government is now prepared to house 35,000 Port Arthur and other Russian prisoners of war; 5,000 at Tangakhayn, 20,000 at Hama Tor, near Omaka, and the remainder scattered in groups of from 300 to 4,000 at different places.

Lieut. Mirak, a Russian prisoner of war at Matsuyame, will probably be imprisoned for life owing to his repeated attempts to escape.

BIG NAVAL STRIKE.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 19.—Early this morning the employes of the Neva shipbuilding works decided to support the strikers of the Putiloff and Franco-Russian, formerly the Baird works. Subsequently 12,000 of the men of the Neva works informed their managers that they had gone out on a general strike.

The situation is regarded as threatening.

The strike at the Neva works involves the suspension of the construction of submarine boats of the protector type, which was being carried out under the supervision of an American engineer, and also the work on two ocean-going vessels similar to those of the volunteer fleet, and several gun boats and torpedo boats, besides the preparation of war material urgently required for naval and military purposes. The completion of the gunboats and torpedo boats had been ordered within two months.

Large forces of military and police have been sent to the works.

It is feared that the men employed at the Obukhoff Steel Works will join in the movement, thus adding 20,000 to the ranks of the strikers.

STOESSEL INTERVIEWED.

London, Jan. 19.—The correspondent at Nagasaki of the Express has had an interesting interview with Gen. Stoessel, in the course of which the general said:

"The capitulation occurring on New Year's day was merely a coincidence. The loss of 203-Metre Hill and the subsequent capture of forts combined with the deadly marksmanship with the terrible 11-inch shells the depressing effect of the death of General Kondratenko, and the fearful increase of scurvy, really fired the time of capitulation. It is quite true that I dissented from the unanimous decision of the final council of war. Our final urgent requests for relief were never answered.

"As regards parole, I distinctly discouraged any concerted action. Every officer decided for himself. Generally commanding officers stuck with their men and choose imprisonment. Most of the naval officers also chose captivity, many probably being influenced by the fear of impending court-martial".

CONDEMN ALEXIEFF.

The correspondent adds that conversations with the other Russian officers reveal great bitterness against and denunciation of Admiral Alexieff for his failure to properly fortify Port Arthur and "his cowardly flight" by the last train from the fortress. They say the torpedo-boat destroyers that escaped before the surrender carried all the regimental and naval colors to Chefoo.

The junior officers denounce the incapacity and folley of the Government in entering upon the war, and declare that all the men who will return to Russia from Port Arthur are revolutionists in spirit. These opinions were openly expressed in the presence of General Stoessel, who remarked: "Let them talk; they have earned the right to think as they please by braving untold deaths for our own country."

LEAVES FOR HOME.

Nagasaki, Jan. 19.—General Stoessel, his wife and daughter, two admirals, two generals, 245 other officers and more than 300 civilians from Port Arthur sailed at about eight o'clock last night for Marseilles on the steamer Australien. The departur eof the steamer was deferred until it was dark, in order to prevent the Russians from seeing the defences of the harbor. During their brief stay here the officers who had given their paroles bought goods to the value of more than $18,000 gold. They had an abundance of money, but the soldiers have not received their pay for many months.

General Fock stays here, a prisoner.

CHINESE WITH RUSS.

Tokio, Jan. 19.—A Japanese staff officer made the statement to-day that Chinese regular accompanied the Russian raiders in their recent expeditions planned to cut the line of Japanese communications.

The navy department announce that 17 officers and men were lost with the torpedo boat commanded by Lieut. Magala in the attack on the Russian battleship Sevastopol at Port Arthur December 14.

until in a helpless condition. It was evident that the surrender was not necessary, as there were 31,000 effective men in the fortress. The supply of ammunition was short, but it was not exhausted. Food was scarce, but private stores were not requisitioned by the military. There is no difficulty in getting good meals in the city even now, from the stores in private possession. A portion of the fortress was capable of defence for months longer. It was the opinion of non-combatants at Port Arthur that the surrender was unnecessary, as the troops were willing and able to fight to the bitter end. General Stoessel was much blamed for what was characterized as a disgraceful conclusion of a splendid defence, which ended with the death of Major-Gen. Kondratchenko, who was loved by the soldiers, and was the life of the defence.

FULL HONORS TO STOESSEL.

Nagasaki, Jan. 18.—Gen. Stoessel has cabled his thanks to the Emperor of Germany for the decoration placed upon him.

Passage for General Stoessel and his party has been booked to Port Said.

General Nogi has written to the Governor of Nagasaki the following, "As to the treatment of General Stoessel you will be advised by the proper authorities, but it may not be out of place to point out that General Stoessel now is neither a prisoner of war nor an enemy, but a foreign gentleman, who meritoriously served his country, and moreover, so honorably performed without unnecessary delay the complicated task of transferring the forts and munitions of Port Arthur that he deserves to be accorded full military honors, and I commend him to your consideration."

BRITAIN GALE-SWEPT

Numerous Wrecks Reported Along the Coast

London, Jan. 17.—A fierce gale last night caused much havoc along the coasts of the United Kingdom. There were a number of wrecks of small crafts resulting in loss of life. A French fetch was driven ashore on the Isle of Wight, and her crew of five men were drowned. All arrivals report terrific weather. The harbors are filled with vessels seeking shelter. No less than fifty steamers have sought shelter at Holy Head. This morning the bitter cold is accompanied by a gale, and the first skating of the winter commenced in Lincolnshire.

A COMING QUEEN

The Princess of Wales Knits Prince's Socks

London, January 19.—The Princess of Wales is a noted housewife, as her mother was before her, and there are few things in the management of her household that she does not understand, while there are many which she personally superintends, in spite of the fact that she is an extremely busy woman socially. She is never without some kind of needlework, and not only knits all the Prince of Wales' socks, but even that he wears them. Quite recently, after a long day's shooting the Prince returned home tired and wet. The Princess was having tea, and the sportsmen were quite ready for it; the careful wife, however, would not hear of her husband having his tea until he had changed wet stockings and boots, and he, though protesting, had to obey.

ANOTHER INFLUX OF RUSSIAN JEWS

Windsor Street Station, Montreal, Looks Like Second-Hand Shop

FIFTY REMAINED IN CITY

Others Left For Winnipeg, Toronto, and Other Cities of the West

Montreal, January 18. — Another descent of Russian Jews was made at $115,000.

upon the city today. There were fifty in all, and their effects, strewn around the rotunda of the Windsor street station, made the place look like a second-hand shop.

These Jews were part of a company of three hundred immigrants who came from Halifax, where they were landed from the Allan Liner Parisian.

Of the number mentioned one hundred went on to Toronto, seventy-five took the transcontinental for Winnipeg, twenty-five went to Minneapolis, while the balance—one hundred—will remain in the city.

In the latter number were the fifty Jews to whom reference has already been made. These Jews did not look excessively poor, being ill well clad, and in evident anticipation of inclement weather.

Most of them had friends and relatives at the station to meet them, which was manifestly a good thing, as very few, if any, of them, could speak a word of English.

WHOLESALE CATTLE LIFTING

NORTH COUNTRY RANCH MANAGER GETS AWAY WITH 500 HEAD

The Dalton Cattle Co. Victimized—Orillia Cattle as the Losers

A sensation has been caused in Orillia by the disappearance of Alexander McGrimmman, cattle dealer and manager of the Dalton Cattle Co. His books show a shortage of $15,000 to $20,000. The company is composed of the following Orillia gentlemen William Thomson, J. B. Tudhope, ex-M.L.A., W. H. Tudhope, Geo. Thomson, Joseph Kilgour, Toronto, and A. McGrimmman. The latter was secretary-treasurer and manager, and the first named is president. The company has been doing business for about five years. McGrimmman was the most expert cattle buyer in the district and was believed by everyone to be thoroughly trustworthy. For 20 years he has done business very honorably. During the last year he has become loose in his methods, although he was a shrewd, careful Scot, and had the implicit confidence of the members of the company. The company's ranch consists of 10,000 acres in the township of Dalton, county of Ontario, with large stables at Digby and another close to Orillia.

McGrimmman's method of operation was to make a shipment of cattle and only account for half of it on his books. The defalcations have been going on since last March. Everything was satisfactory when stock was taken in December, 1903, and 1,100 head of cattle were counted. Mr. Thomas was absent in California in February, March and April. When he returned the cattle were out at pasture, and it was impossible for anyone to detect a shortage. McGrimmman visited Scotland last summer to buy thoroughbred stock, and when he returned in August Mr. Thomson told him he thought there was a shortage in the number of cattle. McGrimmman explained matters to Mr. Thomson satisfactorily. When the stock was housed in the fall they were taken to farmer's barns as well as the ranch company's stables. Presidents Thomson and McGrimmman commenced taking stock on Dec. 1, and the president found everything right in the nearby stables. Dec. 7 was fixed for the visit to Digby, where the bulk of the cattle were. McGrimmman did not turn up, but was reported to have gone to Toronto. Next day he returned and explained he had wired from Toronto, giving reasons for his absence. The telegraph company state that no message was sent.

Mr. Thomson insisted on going to Digby at once, and they started, but before going far McGrimmman suggested taking stock in a barn they were passing, and where some cattle were just being brought in. Returning home, they agreed to go the following Monday, but McGrimmman failed to appear, and wrote J. B. Tudhope from Toronto stating that he was leaving for Calgary with the manager of the Red Deer Company, who had wired him at Orillia to come. The Red Deer manager denies any knowledge of such an arrangement. The letter aroused suspicion, and stock-taking was at once completed, showing a shortage of 500 cattle, averaging in value $40 per head. Inquiry revealed the fact that where four cars of cattle had been booked six were actually shipped. In March 119 head were shipped valued at $60 each, and only so accounted for. Shipments were also made under the cover of night. [illegible] writes

REFORMS BY CZAR

Peasants to Number of 150,000 to be Given Citizenship

Paris, January 19.—A St. Petersburg dispatch to Le Rappel announces that part of the reform proclaimed in the last manifesto of the Czar will be promulgated in February, particularly the reform laws concerning the peasants, whereby 120,000 will receive all the rights of citizens, and special legislation affecting them will be abolished.

ATHLETIC WORLD

The Peterborough-Port Perry game, played at the latter place last night, resulted in a draw—5-5

The City League games for to-morrow night promises to be very keenly contested. The first game between the Colonials and Farriers, who are both strong teams and play fast hockey should prove a good drawing card. This game is called for 8.15. Following will be the line-up:—

COLONIALS		FARRIERS
Crowe	Goal.	Thornton
F. McCoy	Point.	Blade
Overend	Cover-point.	Squires
McWilliams	Rover.	Nichol
Folley	Right Wing.	Long
Callan	Left Wing.	Simpson
	Centre.
Rourke		Long

The second game will commence at 9.15 when the Verniers and Earl Greys will play.

THE BROCKVILLE GAME.

Toronto, Jan. 18.—The report of Referee E. A. Gilroy of Smith Falls, who officiated in the Kingston-Frontenac senior O.H.A. game at Brockville on Monday night, was received to-day by the secretary of the O.H.A. Kingston won by 5 goals to 2. The referee makes the following remarks:

"The game was a poor exhibition of hockey. After the Frontenacs had scored three goals in quick succession the Brockville players seemed to lose their heads, and seemingly intended to win either by fair means or foul. McRobie and Hudson, who also play on the Federal team, were the greatest offenders. Hudson was ruled off several times for periods of from two to five minutes.

"During the fight between spectators and players Bobby Gray, who by the way, had just arrived in Brockville a few hours previous to the game, tried to quite the Brockville players, and offered them some good advice, but was repaid for his pains by a couple of short-arm jabs on the jaw from Mr. Hudson.

'Altogether the game was of the rough-house variety. The Brockville players, especially McRobie and Hudson, were more anxious to mix it up.'

Nothing is said of the alleged assault of Paul Hayward, the Brockville forward, by Geo. VanHorne, the Kingston cover-point.

Brockville, Jan. 17.—An incident connected with the O.H.A. senior match played here last night between the Frontenacs and Brockville will form the basis of a police court hearing in a day or two before P.M. Deacon. The circumstances of the assault upon Paul Hayward, the Brockville rover, by George VanHorne, the Kingston cover-point, being laid before Chief Burke, that officer at once swore out a warrant for VanHorne's arrest, and wired the Kingston authorities to hold his man. Subsequently a reply to the effect that VanHorne was under arrest in the Limestone City was received, and Chief Burke took the first train to bring him back for trial.

Kingston, Ont., Jan. 18.—George Van Horne, captain of the Frontenacs, and W. M. Mills, manager of the club, went to Brockville at midnight, Van Horne having to answer to a charge of assault alleged to have been committed on a Brockville player in the O.H.A. game on Monday. Hockeyists are indignant over the actions of the Brockville sports in trying to fasten the offence upon the Kingston captain.

SECOND DAY'S RACES.

The second day's racing under the auspices of the Peterborough Turf Club was not attended by as large a crowd as expected. Two races were on the boards, 2.13 class and 2.24. A field of fast horses competing in each. In the 2.13 class Looking Glass was an easy winner with Velma second, and Black Mack third.

The 2.24 class was not finished yesterday, and a good race is booked for this morning at 10 o'clock.

WHY WAS MR. COOK TAKEN FROM SULKY.

(To the Sporting Editor of Times):

Dear sir,—In the 2.13 class race yesterday afternoon in which Looking Glass, the fastest ice horse in Canada, carried off first money, a rank injustice was done to the driver of Velma, who was requested to enter in order to fill up. It will be remembered that the little mare fought every heat in Lindsay on Monday in the 2.20 class, which took seven heats to decide, a [illegible] and in the first

THE BALTIC FLEET LEAVING SHORES OF MADAGASCAR

Fleet in Port Arthur Set on Fire and Sunk---No Infraction of French Regulations Regarding Neutrality.

London, Jan. 18.—The correspondent of the Times at Paris wires:—Pourparlers are going on among the powers respecting the Chinese neutrality question raised by Russia. Already it is clear that there is a firm resolve among them to avoid complications at all costs, which affords a certain guarantee that there will be none.

BALTIC FLEET WILL LEAVE

According to trustworthy information, the Baltic fleet willl immediately continue its journey, no doubt to the immense relief of the French authorities. The Russian government have been aware for some time that the presence of Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet at Madagascar was a source of keen anxiety to France. It is quite possible that orders were sent from St. Petersburg to the Russian Admiral to proceed on his voyage some time ago, but the commander of the Baltic fleet is a man of strong self-will, and seems to be just now almost out of hand. It is stated that there had been no infraction of French regulations concerning neutrality, and that this circumstance prevented the French authorities from taking measures to curtail the stay of the Russian fleet.

FEARFUL OF CAPTURE.

The insurance correspondent of the Times says there is a great deal of indignation on the part of London underwriters because vessels bound for Vladivostock with cargoes likely to be considered contraband take the Tsushima Straits route instead of that by the Laperouse Straits. The underwriters hold that the vessels should go by the safer route, which they declare, is quite practicable even at this season of the year. On forty or fifty steamers en route to Vladivostock, and now approaching the dangerous waters, London underwriters are carrying not much short of two million pounds' war risk. Insurance men are afraid that a good many of these steamers may be snapped up.

BUILDING A NEW CRUISER.

The correspondent of the Times at Tokio, wires:—A first-class armored cruiser is now under construction in the Japanese dockyards.

London, Jan. 19.—The Morning Post's Shanghai correspondent says that the Chinese Government complains that Russians have occupied Kashgar the Governor of which has appealed to the Chinese Foreign Board to open negotiations for the withdrawal of the Russians.

Kashgar is the most westerly city in eastern Turkestan and has a population of 50,000.

TO INVADE NORTH CHINA.

Paris, Jan. 19.—The Figaro correspondent of the Paris edition of the New York Herald says that Russia has threatened to invade north China and Chinese Turkestan if China continues to discriminate against Russian contraband in favor of Japan.

RAID NOT SERIOUS.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 19.—The Government has not renewed the state of siege in Manchurian cities at the opening of the new year, the civil law in such places replacing military rule. The Russian papers protest against the imputation that General Mistchenko's cavalry violated Chinese neutrality, even if, of which there is at present no evidence, they crossed the Liao River above Newchwang claiming that a small strip on the west bank is distinctly reserved as included in the sphere of hostilities.

While the daring cavalry raid on the line of Japanese communications was welcomed as a happy augury of the operations of the new year, the General Staff does not give encouragement to the idea that it is a precursor of a serious movement.

TRYING TO INVOLVE POWERS.

Tokio, Jan. 19.—The note of the Russian Government to the powers calling attention to the alleged violation by China of her declared neutrality, which Russia charges has been at the instance of Japan, has created the impression in official quarters here that the Russians are trying to involve France, China and other powers in the war, so that Russia may take her defeat with greater grace.

A prominent Japanese said to the Associated Press to-day:—"France recently denied that vessels of the Russian second Pacific squadron were stopping at Madagascar, but since then it has not uttered a word, and the situation is one calling for explanation. I cannot believe that any sane Frenchman will be seriously influenced by the documents alleged to have been prepared by General Kodama, showing a plan of campaign for a Japanese invasion of French Indo-China, which are forgeries. If it should be Russia's scheme to first embroil France with China, it would be more easily understood than to provoke England alone, which act would not bring assurances of French support."

DISCIPLINED A REGIMENT.

London, Jan. 18.—The Daily Mail's Port Arthur special correspondent relates in a letter how two Japanese regiments, when ordered to make assaults, were first driven back with terrible losses. On a reserve regiment being ordered to assault, it refused to obey and thus go to inevitable destruction. The major of the regiment then went forward alone and was shot dead.

After a while moved apparently by remorse, the regiment went to the assault, but utterly failed. After ward they were sent back to Marshal Oyama.

Such conduct, without parallel in the Japanese army, recalls an incident at Cold Harbor when General Grant ordered the second attack.

DUTCH COLLIER SEIZED.

Tokio, Jan. 18.—A Japanese torpedo boat destroyer captured the Dutch steamer Wilhelmina which was carrying Cardiff coal to Vladivostock, in the Tsushima Straits, Monday, and brought her to Sasebo.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 19.—The Minister of the Interior, Sviatopolk-Mirsky, has sent a circular to the governors of the provinces in which conferences have been convened to consider reform peasant laws, pointing out that the idea that the Imperial Ukase of December 25th has radically changed the principles of the laws is due to misapprehension. The Ukase, proceeds the circular, confirms anew the necessity for incessantly striving to attain the goal marked out therein.

The circular adds that the Ukase by no means precludes the preservation of the old status of the peasant which had been evolved from ancient times.

In conclusion the circular says;

"The considerations set forth by the Minister of the Interior have been approved by the Emperor. The Minister therefore directs the Governors to take all measures to assure that the work of the provincial conferences is continued and brought to a conclusion with the utmost rapidity, and that the members of the conference are granted power to freely state their opinions, so that full expression may be given to the true views of those conversant with the needs of the peasantry.

SET ON FIRE AND SUNK.

London, Jan. 19.—The Times has received the following, via Fusan, from its Port Arthur correspondent regarding the condition of the Russian ships, —The Sevastopol is sunk in 150 feet of water and cannot be raised. The Retvizan is terribly damaged above and below. The superstructure is riddled with shell, the turrets are blown up and the deck is visible at low tide. The Pobida has a heavy list to starboard and is much damaged below and burnt above. The Retvizan and Pobieda suffered more than any of the other ships. They appear unfit for further use. The Pereswit is slightly damaged bellow the superstructure, the funnels are much injured, and the fighting tops gone. The Poltava is the least damaged both above and below. These two vessels can easily be refloated.

The Palada and Bayan are apparently not seriously damaged, and can be refloated. With the exception of the Retvizan the ships were not much damaged by the shell fire. The main armor had hardly been pierced, the conning towers were intact except where burnt, and the howitzer shells inflicted only slight damage. Three days before the capitulation the ships were set on fire with kerosene, and mines were exploded along the sides.

To sum up, the Perevaist, Poltave, Pallada, and the Bayan may be saved at a great expense, but the difficulties are very great, as there is no dock for battleships. The Retvizan is considered hopeless, and the Pobieda doubtful. The turret guns were all destroyed by the explosion before the surrender. Some guns of the secondary armament are intact. Most of the small guns were removed to the forts. The exact damage to the engines could not be ascertained.

The Russians state the fleet was unfit for service after the engagement of August 10. Coal was abundant, and was used to protect the decks against howitzer shells. Later the ships were sunk by opening the sluices in order to protect them from the Japanese fire.

PROGRESS OF THE CAMPAIGN.

What is apparently trustworthy information to the London Times states that the Russian Baltic fleet, the presence of which on the coast of Madagascar has been a source of much anxiety to France, will continue its journey to the far east, where no doubt, it will meet the Japanese squadron that has been cruising in wait for it. The departure of this fleet does away with the fear of complications between Russia and France. The powers have been discussing the neutrality question raised by Russia, but appear resolved to keep clear of complications at all costs.

The recent raids of General Kouropatkin's cavalry, it is explained from St. Petersburg, are intended as the precursor of a serious movement. Probably this is right, though with two armies so close together there is no telling what may come in a day. Events are at the mercy of a stroke initiated by a subordinate, and a movement intended to be only of a scouting nature might lead to a general engagement.

It is known now that the Russian fleet at Port Arthur is in such condition that it may not be of muchuse to its captors. Several ships can be raised, but only with great expense and difficulty, as there is no dock at Port Arthur for the battleships. Three days before the surrender of Port Arthur the Russians sank their ships and exploded mines along the sides.

CZAR IN SAD PLIGHT

St. Petersburg Hears Disturbing Rumors as to Health of Ruler

HEAD OF CHURCH SUPREME

Emperor is Said to Have Been Induced to Give up Support of Reform Plans

St. Petersburg, January 19.—Extraordinary rumors are circulting here about the condition of the Czar's health. Pobiedonostseff, whose influence with the sovereign had a long time waned, has now got him again under complete control. He has persuaded the distracted monarch that the favorable disposition he had displayed toward Mirsky's policy was apostacy from his divine mission as the absolute ruler of his people, which heaven may visit with condign punishment.

The terrified and contrite Czar now passes the greater part of the night in offering penances prescribed by Pobiedonostseff and is declared to be bordering on religious mania.

PLACE FOR OPPRESSOR.

Witte and Pobiedonostseff are now the dominant influences at court, and they propose to bring Prince Obolensky, governor of Finland, one of the worst types of Russian oppressors to succeed Mirsky.

The Czarina, who was cheerful and hopeful beyond her wont when the Czar favored the reform movement, is now gloomy and lives in daily terror of a successful attempt upon the life of the Czarevitch.

It is perfectly true that an attempt was made on the life of the Czar during the recent inspection journey. A terrible detonation caused the adjutant general to stop the royal train near the station of Barsowichi. An examination showed that the murderous plot had failed only through a premature explosion.

The Czar hurried his return to St. Petersburg. A short time afterward, in Moscow, an infernal machine exploded inside of Jassow's house, killing two persons and damstructed exactly like that of Baronswitch Station.

WITTE IS STYLED WILY.

Witte may endeavor to secure peace, but he is too wily to show his hand prematurely, and that would provoke violent hostility.

The grand ducal party in the meantime, while the administration is utterly demoralised and Poland virtually in a condition of revolt, has issued an order forbidding the raising or arming of further reserves.

SURRENDER NOT NECESSARY

The Correspondent at Port Arthur Claims that the Russians Were able to Hold out Longer

London, Jan. 18.—There is an absence of actual war news, though various despatches throw a little fresh light upon events that have been already reported. The Standard's correspondents at St. Petersburg and Odessa, mention the discontent over General Stoessel's surrender in view of the stores of supplies and ammunition that remained in Port Arthur. The former says that there are rumors that General Kondratchenko deliberately exposed himself to certain death rather than be associated in such circumstances with surrender.

SURRENDER DENOUNCED.

Headquarters of the Third Japanese Army at Port Arthur, Jan. 15, via Tien-Tsin, Jan. 18.—The victorious Japanese army yesterday formally entered Port Arthur. General Nogi with his staff, entered first through the old town and took his stand in the public square of the new town. The army was represented by one regiment from each brigade. The procession, which was five miles long, was three hours passing the saluting base, after which the troops passed out of the city through the new town. The correspondents then visited the captured city for the first time. The old town buildings were badly smashed by shells but in the new town the damage was slight. All the shipping in the harbor was badly damaged.

Proposals for the surrender of Port Arthur were first made December 29 at a council of war. General Stoessel was in favor of surrendering, but some of his general officers were bitterly opposed to it. The regimental officers and the troops were not consulted.

The first news they had of the surrender was January 1, after Gen. Stoessel had communicated with the Japanese. The scenes following the surrender were disgraceful. Drunken soldiers filled the streets and refused to obey their officers. Many of them destroyed the guns upon the positions they had defended and came into the city without permission. The infantry loudly protested that the fortress had been given away; threw their rifles and ammunition into the London, January 19.—As one of the most notable features in the progress of naval construction in the continued growth in the size of battle ships and armored cruisers, it is interesting to turn to the new edition just published of F. T. Jane's volume, "All the World's Fighting Ships," in which he has embodied the classification of the war ships of the world.

SEVERAL NATIONS MISSING.

To the big class of battleships he has assigned the classification A1. It is a significant fact that among the first-class powers Italy, Germany and Austro-Hungary are not represented in this class, but the other chief powers have a number of these mailed leviathans in hand. The United States and France both head Great Britain in the "A1" battleships building.

Now, it is said, designs have been prepared by Phillip Watts for new battle ships bigger and more powerful and more costly. Yet there is a considerable body of opinion against this policy of putting so many eggs in one basket.

Among the opponents of more powerful ships may be mentioned Admiral Sir E. R. Fremantle, Admiral Sir John Hopkins and Sir Edward Reed, former director of naval construction.

FERROZONE

Cures all Ailments From which Women Suffer

Many women suffer untold misery from nervous debility caused by disorders of the feminine organs. Day by day they grow worse, but from a false sense of modesty they shrink from using a good remedy like Ferrozone. And it would cure them.

Nothing renews weak women like Ferrozone. It brings back lost nerve force, supplies new vital energy, increases the blood supply.

No restorative so potent and prompt as Ferrozone has ever been discovered. You feel its uplifting effect at once. Your spirits rise, you gain in power and cheerfulness, feels and all symptoms of weakness and despondency disappear.

No woman can remain sick or miserable if she uses Ferrozone. It goes direct to the seat of trouble, puts a stop to functional irregularities, and so establishes buoyant, robust health. Being free from alcohol, and dangerous drugs, Ferrozone can be used by young and old with absolute safety. FINANCING THE WAR

The Russian talk about never ceasing to fight Japan until Port Arthur is again in Russian hands may be taken seriously by those who indulge in it, but it will not be taken seriously by an impartial world. How, exactly, they mean to get Port Arthur back, or why, exactly, they should expect to regain what they have failed to retain under far slighter difficulties than now confront them, are details upon which they do not enter. But there is one aspect of the matter that ought to appeal to the Russian rulers, and that is the financial.

Mr. Maurice Low, in the current number of The Forum, points out that "in these days war is fought in the treasure chest no less than in the ammunition chest." In fact, it always has been, at least in modern times, as witness Milton's how War may, beat upheld,

Move by her two main nerves, Iron and Gold.
In all her equipage.

Mr. Low gives an outline, an unscientific comparison of the budgets of the combatants. Japan, as he justly says, is not a rich country. The total estimated revenue for this year, leaving out the war, was, in round numbers, $112,000,000, and the estimated expenditure $83,000,000. But the war with Russia, up to Sept., was estimated to have cost Japan, in spite of the great frugality with which she makes war, $278,000,000, which had to be met by loans and extra taxes. While the ultimate resources of Russia are of course far greater than those of Japan, it is safe to assume that every dollar raised in Japan for carrying on the war goes as far as three raised in Russia. But, says Mr. Low, "of the $220,000,000 that Russia has borrowed in Berlin and Paris, only $100,000,000 raised in Berlin will be available for war purposes, as the balance lent by France is to remain in Paris to protect Russian credit and pay the interest on former French loans."

But it is to be borne in mind that every Japanese victory raises Japanese credit, and every Russian defeat weakens Russia's. The Russian investment at Port Arthur, Dalny, and on the Manchurian branch of the railroad south of Mukden has been entirely wiped out. In so far as those things are still assets at all, they are Japanese assets, and likely to remain so for an indefinite time to come. Japan will naturally make the most of them. She must do so. She has been praised for not having shown any disposition thus far to enlarge her original and very moderate terms of peace. But she must pay her way, and to hold what she has taken from Russia is one way of helping to pay the cost of the war. Dalny, Port Arthur, and the Manchurian branch are assets in Japanese hands. And the longer the war lasts, the heavier will be the indemnity which she is to awaken serious consideration at St. Petersburg, as it is sure to do among the German and French financiers who cannot be expected to go on indefinitely financing a losing cause.

CANCER

Mrs. Caroline Brewer Croft left $100,000 to Harvard University for the investigation of cancer. Seven physicians have been investigating for the last four years, and their report is about to be made. Dr. E. H. Nichols, who has had charge of the laboratory work, says: Our work thus far has been to find the cause or origin of cancer, and we have been unable to do so, although we have exploded popular theories. When we know what life is I think we will then know what cancer is. No more is known about its origin now than at the beginning of the Christian era. It is a supreme mystery. On present lines of investigation the cause of the disease will never be learned. Our only hope is in some knew method. No discovery has been made which offers any to compare with the surgeon's knife. Just one thing can be done for cancer, and I wish it could be impressed on the public, for it would save thousands of lives. That is get it out early and quickly. Cancer can be completely cured if the patient is operated on early and completely. Drugs have never cured cancer. Certain superficial cancers can be cured by the X-ray, but for deep cancers this method is of no value whatever. About fifteen years ago, when it was discovered that many diseases were caused by bacteria, some physicians believed that cancer might be caused by protozoa, an animal parasite. This opinion was a popular one, and was formed because certain physicians found cancer bodies in cancer cells resembling very [illegible] animalcule. We have learned that these cancer bodies are exceptions, and have, therefore, exploded that theory. Others asserted that the cancer bodies were yeasts or vegetable parasites, and were the direct cause of cancer, but our experiments prove that theory wrong. A third idea is that cancer is due to errors of development, and a great many facts make that probable.

Of course this will not diminish the number of "cancer cures," and it is not very encouraging, but it is the best that can be said now. That being so it is well to have it said.

CLIPPING HORSES IN WINTER

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—For years I have had the idea that clipping horses in winter is a cruel and unnecessary custom. When I approached those who practiced it and who consequently ought to know, I was told that it always has been considered an advantage to the new growth of hair which comes on about this time. Why?

Has nature been improved upon in a single instance? Nature provides a heavy coat of hair for animals to fortify them for the cold. Man says: "We think it is better to cut that heavy hair off because it will come in better if we do, besides we are not bothered with shedding hair. Any way if we drive our horse hard he will get sweaty and that's bad on cold days."

We put on heavier clothing in winter time, and find it comfortable. By violent and continued exercise we also perspire. Do we think that we ought not to wear heavier clothes in winter?

Of course we could dress tastier and appear less clumsy with lighter clothing. (Some horsemen claiming that horses look so much better when clipped). Yet we will forego looks to comfort and common sense. If the horse could speak perhaps he would say some unpleasant things to some of the men. It might be well for the authorities to take up this question. The world moves, our ideas change, many customs are proven fallacious.

Yours sincerely,
HUMANE.

RUSSIA PROTESTS

Says That China has not Observed the Laws of Neutrality

London, Jan. 19.—The Russian Ambassadors to the several powers are invited by Count Lamsdorff to call to the attention of the Minister for Foreign Affairs of the Government to which they are respectively accredited the fact that at the beginning of the war the Imperial Government for humanitarian reasons agreed to the proposal of the Washington Cabinet regarding the localization of military operations and the recognition of the neutrality of Chinese territory and announced its decision to the powers last February.

MUST OBSERVE IT STRICTLY.

That Russia, however, distinctly specified as a condition precedent to her agreement a strict observation on the part of China of the duties of a neutral and also a loyal attitude on the part of Japan toward the spirit, the purpose and the intent of the Washington Cabinet's proposal as expressed in the circular note which Secretary Hay addressed to the powers last February.

IS UNABLE OR UNWILLING.

[illegible] months has made it evident that China is either unable or does not wish to adhere to her given pledges, that without going further back than the Ryeshitelni incident at Chefoo it would be easy to state many cases in which the rules of neutrality have been violated by China to the advantage and profit of Japan; that it has been established many times that certain bodies of Chinese mounted bandits have operated on neutral territory and that they have been commanded by Japanese officers, also that whole detachments of these bandits have been enrolled in the Japanese army and are receiving a regular remuneration from the Government at Tokio in payment for their services and that Japanese instructors have been admitted to the Chinese military service and among the Chinese troops stationed on the northern border of the province of Chih, professedly for the purpose of maintaining neutrality.

BASE FOR NAVAL OPERATIONS

That it has been ascertained that since the outbreak of the war the Japanese have used the islands of Madao as a base for their naval operations.

That many importations have been made by the Japanese into Dalny without interference of contraband of war shipped from Chefoo and other ports on the Chinese coast, also that the Government factories at Hanyan furnished iron ore to the Japanese for the use of their soldiers.

VAGUE PROMISES.

That to all the representations and protestations of the Imperial Government to the Pekin Government regarding these incidents the Chinese Minister for Foreign Affairs gave vague promises and evasive answers; that reports recently received indicate that the Chinese Government, not content with the violations of neutrality of this kind, flagrant as they are now seriously preparing to take an active part in the military operations, that an agitation against all the whites, without exception, has taken hold on the people, and is being constantly stimulated.

IS PROVED AGAINST CHINA.

That the Imperial Government find it impossible not to call the attention of the powers to these facts, which prove clearly that its efforts to secure the neutrality of China have failed, solely because of the character of the acts of the Japanese and their intimidating pressure upon the Government at Pekin, and that in case the actual condition in China, to which attention is now earnestly invited, shall continue, Russia in consequence will find herself obliged to consider the neutrality of China from the standpoint of Russia's interest.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, excepting 8 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one quarter section of 160 acres more or less.

ENTRY

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situate, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES

A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

1] At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

2] If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), or any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

[3] If a settler was entitled to and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

[4] If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same town, township, or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of clauses [2] [3] or [4] must cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, or substitute 20 head of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, and have besides 80 acres substantially fenced.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd of June, 1889.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled and the land may again be thrown open for entry.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT

Should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

INFORMATION

Newly arrived immigrants will receive, at the Immigration Offices in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing lands to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Land Agents in Manitoba or the North-west Territories.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands, to which the Regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Co.

INCORPORATED

Capital $5,000,000. Shares $1.00 Each, Par Value, Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable.

We have just secured the agency for the above splendid proposition, of which we have been allotted a block of Treasury stock. We can confidently recommend this as a safe and, we believe, exceedingly profitable investment. Every dollar of stock is guaranteed by twenty year, full paid, gold bond, delivered to purchaser of stock, from an investment Company that has no interest whatever in the company, but who are disposing of the debentured bonds to the public, and, under their charter, they are compelled to deposit securities to an equal amount, to the State Treasurer under which they received their charter, there by doubly securing the payment of their gold bonds.

The Company's property, which is now past the project stage, is known to be marvellously rich in gold.

Following is the opinion of G. W. Miller, Mining Engineer, formerly with the Boston and Montana Consolidated Copper and Silver Mining Company, U. S.; Summer and Jack Mining Co:. Limited, Klandefountain, South Africa:—

"You have here a most valuable property and one of the strongest fissure veins that can be found in any part of the world.

"With the present development of the Monument Mine, I estimate that 100 tons per day can be extracted, which will mill from $15.00 to $30.00 per ton. The total cost of mining the ore, delivering and milling, I place at about $4.00 per ton. With increased milling capacity, it is safe to say that the mine can furnish 500 tons of ore, which would yield a daily profit of $11.00 per ton, or $11,100.00 per day (equal to $100,000.00 per annum). Estimated total value of ore in sight, $2,500,000."

During the past summer, a party of the Company Directors visited the property, taking with them, Amos P. Brown, Ph.D., Mining Engineer and Professor of Geology and Mineralogy at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Brown writes as follows:—

"In regards to the amount of ore available at the mines at Sinaiter, I saw on the dumps several thousand tons, probably 5000 tons would be an under-estimate.

"As to the size of the ore body itself, from what I saw of the geological structure, I think that there is every indication that it will be found to extend underground as far as the out-croppings on the south side of the gulch. This would mean an ore body large enough to keep the present mill running for many years to come.

A write up of the proposition will appear in these columns in a few days. Watch for it. In the meantime we will be pleased to furnish full information to investors.

Stocks—The MARKETS OF THE WORLD—Grains

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

The Salido Gold and Copper Company

Incorporated under the laws of Arizona, with a capital of $3,000,000 forever non-assessable divided into shares of $1 each, par value. All investments insured Granite Securities Company.

The "SALIDO GOLD COPPER COMPANY" enterprise offers attractions to the investors of the country, that without thorough investigation, would scarcely seem probable. If only a fraction is realized of what any prudent business man in his own affairs would regard as absolutely certain, the enterprise must prove abundantly successful and exceedingly profitable.

SALE OF STOCK

The company will prosecute the work of development with all the diligence that the cash in the treasury will permit and circumstances warrant, and to this end a small amount of the treasury stock is now placed upon the market, in blocks of not less than One Hundred Shares. The par value of the stock is One Dollar per share, fully paid and forever non-assessable.

The company reserves the right to advance the price of stock without notice.

REMEMBER

First—That all payments for treasury stock go into the treasury for development work and not into the pockets of the promoters.

Second—There are no salaried officers

Third—The incorporators have put their own good money into this enterprise and being business men, intend to do business along business lines

Fourth—That this company is honest.

Fifth—If you are thinking of investing in mining stocks this is worthy of your careful investigation.

OTHER PROPERTIES

This Company owns four other Gold and Copper Mines, which title is now in process in the laws of Mexico. As soon as title is perfected, we shall commence to develop them as we certainly expect something very great from these properties Our assays taken have been of the very best, showing gold and copper from $6.00 to $122. 30 per ton.

I have secured a small block of this stock, which I offer at the following prices: Unguaranteed 40 cents per share, guaranteed 80 cents per share. These prices will only prevail for a short time, as the number of shares for sale at this price is limited. The Shares will then be advanced to 40 cents for the unguaranteed and 80 cents for the guaranteed. I can unhesitatingly recommend this investment to the Canadian public.

The California Buckeye Mine

This mine consists of 15 acres of good zinc land, well prospected by drill holes showing forty feet of good pay dirt at a depth of 154 feet.

On the property are hoisting engine, shaft house, ore buckets, Worthington steam pump, air drill, cars and pipes. Over $15,000 have been expended to date, and the proposition itself is a good one so much so that we can personally guarantee an immediate dividend of 8 per cent. this year and 12 per cent. after 1905, with an additional quarterly dividend.

Capital Stock $250,000

Shares, par value $1.00 each. Fully paid up and non-assessable. No Preferred Stock No bonded indebtedness

The shares are selling at 20 cents each, with a prospect of the price being raised.

The Joplin Daily Globe says that over $10,000,000 worth of zinc and lead were mined in 1904, up to 1st Dec., in the Joplin District. In the California Buckeye Zinc Mine, located in the centre of the Joplin District, it has been demonstrated that the ore body has an average thickness of 42 feet and the runs are 50 feet wide, about 170 feet from the surface.

The rough dirt for the first three months of operation produced zinc ore to the amount of $12 95 per cent., while the average for the district is less than 5 per cent., but for the purpose of being on the safe side, we calculate on only 8 per cent. ore to the ton of dirt, and it shows a profit each day with two shifts of men, of $566.20.

We stand ready to prove every statement made, and if enough stock is subscribed for in this locality a directorship of the company is at the disposal of the subscribers.

Any further information and proofs of earning capacity will be cheerfully supplied.

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Rare Chance to Secure a Paying Investment

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY

has placed a small block of their stock at the disposal of Canadian investors. This stock is sure to rapidly advance in price. The Company is now arranging to instal the power plant and a mill and cyanide plant for the reduction of their ore to a bullion on the property. They have arranged with a Trust Company having assets of $1,500,000 to put up a bond guaranteeing investors the repayment of the full amount invested. This makes investors absolutely safe. By no possibility can they lose a dollar.

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY was organized November 21, 1902. under the laws of the State of Idaho. The capitalization is one million shares of the par value of one dollar each, fully paid and non-assessable; of the 1,000,000 shares. 400,000 have been set aside as treasury stock

THE BOISE BASIN came into prominence shortly after Grimes and his party of prospectors entered the Basin country in 1862; their entrance was into the northern portion, and one discovery of rich placer ground followed another until the news of the rich finds reached the outside world, when a veritable stampede for Boise Basin commenced. towns sprang up and grew together in an incredibly short time; the rush of people to Idaho City made it a place of 20,000 people in 1867, having a business street over a mile long lined with two-story buildings streets and sidewalks filled with people day and night, business and money on every hand and the city bearing the proud distinction of being the capital of the territory of Idaho. Wages ran from $6 to $10 a day and not infrequently forty and fifty men worked on a single placer claim; the clean-up for a day's work in many instances ran close to $5,000; large fortunes were made in a few days by washing the golden sands in a pan; so eager was the quest for the shining metal that the streets of Idaho City were dug up and washed and re-washed, and the soil removed from under the houses and places of business. So extensive was the search for the hidden treasure that not only all of the low ground was worked but the foot of the mountains surrounding the city have been washed away, filling up the lower portions of the basin and extending into the town, where one of the buildings has been buried under the tailings from the numerous placer workings

LOCATION—The property of the Gold Coin Mining Company is situated in the Gambrinus Mining District, Boise County, Idaho, on the range of mountains between Moore Creek and Elk Creek, which forms a part of the eastern boundary of the famous Boise Basin and into which these mountains are drained The property is located ten miles northeast of Idaho City, from which place there are good wagon roads either to the workings on top of the mountain or to the place of the proposed tunnels in the gulch which crosses the Tunnelsite claim.

THE CLAIMS—The Company owns a group of four contiguous lode mining claims and the Gold Coin Millsite: the names of the lode claims are the Tunnelsite, Blue Bell, Pennsylvania and Homestake, each being a full claim 600 feet wide by 1,500 feet long, excepting the Tunnelsite claim, which is 450 feet wide at the west end and 1,055 feet long. it was necessary to stake the claim in this form on account of joining the Washington property on the south and the Sab Rosa property on the west, these properties being prior locations to the Tunnelsite claim. The four lode claims aggregate nearly 80 acres of rich mineral land.

Further particulars may be had on application to WM. SAILSBURY, Fiscal Agent of the Company Peterborough, Ont., or to

THE AUSTRALIAN MAIL

Negotiations May Be Opened With Canadian Government for Service Via Vancouver

London, January 17.—William Hope Moore, who is described as a Canadian traveller, was charged at the Bow street Police Court with assaulting Beatrice Williams. The magistrate discharged Moore, who then complained very seriously of the way he had been treated by the constable who arrested him. Mr. Moore's back was so badly injured that he had to consult a doctor. The magistrate said he could not investigate the complaint unless the case was before him in some way, and, therefore, called Moore back and remanded him on his own recognizance for a week.

AUSTRALIAN MAILS.

It is reported from Melbourne that if the Orient Company persists in its refusal to reduce the amount of its offer for the mail contract to £100,000 per annum. the Postmaster-General will open negotiations with the Dominion Government for a fast subsidized mail service via Vancouver. Although the Orient contract lapses this month, the existing route will be maintained till April.

RUMORS RE ESQUIMAULT.

A cable from British Columbia states that the Admiralty has decided to sell the canteen grounds at Esquimault. On enquiring at the Admiralty, the Canadian Associated Press was informed that nothing is known of any such decision or intention. Possibly the canteen house, being private property, is being sold, but the ground belongs to the Admiralty.

MORE ASIATIC WARS

Very Serious Anti-Foreign Troubles in North China

Berlin, January 17.—Advices have reached the German Government that serious anti-foreign disturbances are raging in the province of Hunan in North China, requiring the despatch of a heavy force of Chinese European drilled troops from the [illegible] of Pechili. The Foreign Office confirms the Star correspondent that there is reason to believe that the outbreak is connected with the fall of Port Arthur, as the Japanese military and naval successes thus far have failed to cause the anticipated excitement among the Chinese.

According to the Foreign Office the Pekin Government is showing a much better spirit in suppressing the revolt than it did in 1900. Japan is thought to be largely responsible for this new spirit. The Japanese Government is earnestly desirous that foreign intervention in China should be avoided at all costs, as long as the present war lasts.

THE BEST WAR SHIPS

Thinks, War in East Proves Worth of Battleships

Montreal, January 17.—Mr. V. C Vickers, of London, Eng., a junior member of the celebrated firm of Vickers Sons and Maxim, which builds both commercial and war vessels, was at the Windsor Hotel on his way to Japan on a pleasure trip.

Mr. Vickers says that his firm is now under contract to build for the Admiralty several battleships of the largest and most modern design.

While unwilling to discuss at length the effect of the present war on the navy, Mr. Vickers said that he thought that, as far as the struggle had gone, it had demonstrated the effectiveness of heavy battleships. No navy could hope to hold its own without being well supplied in this respect.

Notwithstanding the remarkable work done by the Japanese in the way of torpedo attack and the damage wrought by the Russians in their protected mines, the lesson of the war certainly was that battleships were effective for either attack or defence. Hereafter, there was no doubt that naval powers would make increased expenditures for heavy armed battleships, and think less of cruisers.

EATEN BY CANNIBALS

Bodies of Five Priests and Five Nuns Make a Feast in South Sea Islands

San Francisco, January 18. — The Rev. M. L. Stimson, South Sea missionary, who arrived yesterday on the steamer Doric, brings the first details of the murder of five Catholic priests and nuns of New Britain last October. After the murders the savages ate the bodies of the victims within sight of the German Governor's residence.

Mr. Stimson is settled at Penapi, Caroline Islands, and he got the details from the Vice-Governor of New Britain. He said the nuns and priests were surrounded by a mob of natives whose fanaticism had been aroused. The priests fought for their lives, but all were soon killed. Then the cannibals proceeded to hold a feast on the bodies of the victims near the residence of Dr. Hahl, the Governor. He has organized a punitive expedition.

An appeal from the decision will be taken. Attorneys are investigating to to discover whether or not the town can be sold in this manner.

This Company is the owner of 70,000 acres of very rich, fertile lands in the Province of Pinar del Rio, Cuba. This land is suitable to the growth of the finest quality of tobacco, oranges, lemons, pineapples and other citrous fruits.

A small portion of this estate produced last year a large percentage on the total authorized capital of this company.

One acre produced last year $2700 in tobacco. The revenue-producing powers of this estate will not be reduced by sale of lands, as the cultivated portion will be increased by additional plantation.

The lands offered for sale can be made as productive within a short period as those at present cultivated.

The estate is abundantly watered by numerous streams and fresh water springs.

The climate is one perpetual June, no fogs, no mists, no yellow fever.

Flowers bloom the year round.

Game and fish abound.

The temperature is even, so that catarrh is unheard of.

Abundance of water and perpetual grass makes stock raising an assured success.

New York markets are at its command for all its products.

The estate borders upon Gaudiana Bay, with a sea frontage of about twelve miles and a deep water, sheltered harbor.

Cuba has only now become open to modern development, and its progress is sure to be rapid.

This is the opportunity for the man of small means to obtain a home and subsequent wealth, for the man of means to obtain a profitable investment.

This Company is now offering land in blocks of 10 acres or more at $10 00 per acre.

Stock at par or scrip entitling the owner to an option to take land at $10.00, or stock at par, for a limited period

Only 10,000 acres will be offered at $10.00 per acre, of which 2,000 acres are already sold

The second 10,000 acres will be sold at $20.00 per acre or over within a few months.

The balance of the estate to be disposed of 30,000 acres, will be raised to $50 00 per acre or over.

As the price of land is raised the price of stock will also advance.

Purchase now and save money.

Terms—25 per cent cash; 25 per cent. 30 days; 25 per cent. 60 days; 25 per cent. 90 days.

Deadly "La Grippe"

Or Epidemic Influenza is Caused by an Air Germ. The Most Scientific Remedy is Catarrhozone.

Two years ago, the medical journals commented widely on the marvellous success of Catarrhozone, which assisted very largely in stamping out the epidemic raging at that time. Cases that had resisted all other treatment were at once relieved and through the great healing powers of Catarrhozone further progress of the malady was arrested.

It is doubtful whether in the whole range of medicine a more lasting cure can be found. If a patient has any warning of the approach of La Grippe he has only to inhale the germ killing vapor of Catarrhozone a few times daily and escape entirely.

Even as a preventive of colds and catarrh it is a wise precaution to always carry a Catarrhozone Inhaler in your pocket. At the first sneeze or cough you can ward off an impending attack by merely inhaling a few breaths of Catarrhozone. Fatal consequences can often be avoided in this way. The inhaler is beautifully finished and made entirely of hard rubber, so can be conveniently carried in the vest pocket ready for use in church, at work, in the theatre, street car, anywhere, at any time. The complete Catarrhozone outfit contains a large bottle of inhalant, sufficient to keep recharging the inhaler for two months. It costs $1.00 and is guaranteed to cure. Sold by all druggists or sent direct to your home by mail if the price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., or Hartford, Conn. U.S.A.

At the Police Court yesterday, Isaac Johnston, a Chemong Indian who was remanded on Monday on a charge of being drunk was allowed to go. Philip Mahony, who sold Johnston the liquor, was charged with selling to an Indian cotrary to the criminal code. He was fined $100 and costs, amounting in all to $104 to be paid forthwith or in default of payment two months in jail.

A Small Fire

Yesterday a fire broke out in the Douglas shoe store, opposite The Times Office, George street, and did about $600 damage. The fire started just inside the show window, and it is supposed that it was caused by electric wires becoming crossed, thus causing a short circuit. The firemen responded promptly to the call and after a short, but hard fight the flames were extinguished.

Returned from Ottawa

Mr. Johnston Paudash, of Hiawatha, was in town yesterday on his way home from Ottawa, where he had an interview with Sir Wilfrid Laurier in relation to certain claims upon the Government of the Hiawatha, Chemong and Scugog Indian bands. Mr. Paudash was very cordially received by Sir Wilfrid. Mr. Paudash reports very satisfactory progress in the object of his mission.

REMOVAL

C. Wilhelmy has removed his place of business to No. 453 George Street, next door to the Peterborough Light and Power Company.

The attendance at the

H. Bennett, General Agent, 2 East King street, Toronto, Ont.

An Old Resident Gone

There passed away on Tuesday night an old and highly respected resident of Peterborough, in the person of Mrs. Mary O'Neil, widow of the late Mr. John O'Neil. Of a kindly disposition the deceased was greatly beloved by her numerous friends. She was born in Ireland, eighty-one years ago, and has lived in Peterborough since 1854. Her husband passed away five years ago. Two children survive, Mr. Thomas O'Neil, of New York, and Mrs. Joseph Begley, Peterborough. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock from the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Joseph Begley, 29 Chambers St. and proceed to St. Peter's cathedral, thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery for interment.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

with local applications, as they cannot reach to seat of disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Catarrh. Send for testimonials, free.

Bushes Here and There by Times Reporters on Their Rounds

—Next Thursday will be election day.

—A good report of the Whitney meeting will appear in tomorrow's Times.

—The thermometer is struggling bravely against the predictions of the weather man.

—Mr. Alf. McDonald, our enterprising lumber manufacturer, is on a visit to his camps in the north.

—Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons are decorating the market hall for the big Conservative meeting this evening, when Mr. J. P. Whitney will speak.

—Our Town Council will not cut down the number of liquor licenses. They do not want to be driven to taking their "hot Scotches" in their rooms.

—The annual meeting of Eko Camp will take place to-night at 8.30 o'clock at the club rooms. All the members are asked to be present.

—It is rumored that the Sovereign Bank of Canada will shortly establish a branch in Peterborough. Negotiations for the lease of suitable premises are said to be under way. With the advent of the Sovereign the town will have five branches of chartered banks.

Electors if you hear Mr. Whitney the Liberal Conservative Leader, at the Market Hall, on Thursday evening, you will get a better grip of affairs than you can by reading the papers. Come and hear what a man who knows says about what he knows.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mr. R. P. Gough was down from Toronto yesterday on business.

—Mr. James Daly, formerly proprietor of the old Grand Central Hotel, was in town yesterday.

—Mr. W. P. Clarke, teller of the Bank of Montreal, here, has received word of his transfer to Winnipeg, and leaves to-day for his new position.

A FATAL DOSE

Edwin W. Hollingside Poisoned at Bridgenorth Yesterday

A man named Hollingside, employed by Mr. Beard, blacksmith, at Bridgenorth, accidentally took a dose of arsenic, from the effects of which he died. It appears that the deceased went to bed early on Tuesday night, without having taken any supper, and when he went up-stairs he took with him a glass of hot water. About midnight the other occupants of the house heard him moaning, and went in to find him very sick, but they did not know the cause. Dr. Scott was sent for this morning, and reached there at seven o'clock, and the man died at eleven o'clock.

The deceased had been living in Chemong since October 3rd, 1904, and leaves two sisters and one brother, all of whom live in Manitoba. His parents are dead.

—The Faithful Workers' Mission Band of St. Paul's church have secured Rev. J. W. Pedley, of Toronto to give his popular lecture on "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch."

DEATH OF MRS. WILSON

Wife of Rev. J. P. Wilson, Former Pastor of George St. Methodist Church

The many friends in Peterborough will exceedingly regret to hear of the death of Mrs. Wilson, wife of the Rev. J. P. Wilson, formerly pastor of George street Methodist church. Mrs. Wilson passed away in Belleville last evening about 6.15. The funeral of the deceased will take place on Friday the remains being conveyed to Napanee on the 11.30 train, where interment will take place.

Fuller particulars will appear tomorrow.

THE WHITNEY MEETING

Will be Held in Market Building Instead of Opera House

The big political meeting to be addressed in Peterborough this evening will be held in the large market hall instead of the opera house, the latter building being engaged by the Victoria College Glee Club for that evening. Mr. J. P. Whitney, the Conservative candidate, Mr. Bradburn, the Conservative candidate, and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun will be the speakers.

M'WILLIAMS IN THE NORTH.

Series of Successful Meetings in the Back Country

A series of well attended political meetings in the interests of the Liberal candidate, were addressed this week in Galway and Cavendish, by Hon. J. R. Stratton and Mr. McWilliams. Three well-attended meetings were held—at Union Creek, Swamp Lake, and one in Cavendish, and addresses on provincial topics were given by Mr. Stratton and Mr. McWilliams.

The Liberals claim that the north will give their candidate a good majority on Thursday next.

WEDDED IN ROCHESTER.

Interesting Ceremony when Miss Roche was Married to Mr. Frank Gleason

A quiet wedding was celebrated at St. Patrick's church, Rochester, by the Rev. Father Hickey on Thursday, Jan. 12th, when Miss Elizabeth Lillie Roche, became the wife of Mr. Frank Gleason. Owing to the recent death of the groom's mother the wedding was quiet. The bride was attired in a blue traveling suit with mink hat and furs, she was attended by her cousin, Miss Marjorie Cleary, while Mr. J. O'Hara supported the groom. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Gleason will reside in Rochester, where Mr. Gleason conducts a prosperous grocery business

CARD OF THANKS

The Sisters of St. Joseph, Return Thanks to Their Friends

The sisters of St. Joseph return their most sincere and heartful gratitude to the many kind benefactors who contributed so generously toward making Christmas a truly happy one for the old people and orphans under their care.

Gifts of oranges, candy, tobacco, pipes, confectionery, beef, turkeys, chickens, flour and cash, were many and did much to cheer our many afflicted inmates.

May the Giver of all good reward our kind benefactors abundantly, and may the blessings of our poor and orphans invoked for them be fully realised this year.

BELL COMPANY'S BIG LIST

Six Hundred and Forty Two Phones on Local Exchange

An item appeared in The Times of yesterday stating that the local Bell Telephone exchange had in use 568 telephones. This is not correct. Counting extension, there are 642 instruments connected with the local exchange. This is probably the largest number of telephones as compared number of telephones as compared with the population of any place in Canada. It certainly is the largest list of any town in Canada.

It is the intention of the Bell Company to extend its lines into the country on all sides, so that the near future will see a very large addition to the list of subscribers. Not only this, but other important improvements are contemplated, which will greatly enhance the value of the telephone to each patron.

CANDIDATES NOMINATED.

MESSRS. M'WILLIAMS AND BRADBURN FOR WEST PETERBOROUGH.

Anderson and Moore in the Race in East Peterborough The Nominations

Nominations for the Legislative Assembly took place at the Court House yesterday at noon, when two candidates were placed in nomination, viz.:—

R. F. McWILLIAMS, Barrister, Peterborough, proposed by Jas. Middleton, of Smith, and Jas. McCabe, of Peterborough.

T. E. BRADBURN, Insurance Agent, North Monaghan, proposed by James Stevenson and James O'Brien, of Peterborough.

The financial agents were: — For McWilliams, O. DeLaplante; for Brandburn, E. A. Peck.

The nominations passed off very quietly, only a small number of persons being gathered at the Court House.

EAST RIDING NOMINATIONS.

The nominations of candidates for the East Riding were held at Norwood yesterday. Mr. B. Morrow, returning officer, received the following nominations.

Children

Have "eyes bigger than their stomachs," according to an old saying. They overeat themselves, and are tempted by all sorts of injurious and indigestible edibles. As a consequence the foundation of serious stomach trouble is often laid in childhood.

If children with "weak" digestion or whose stomachs are diseased, Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery may be confidently recommended. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, so that the nourishment contained in food is perfectly assimilated and the puny child is built up by food into a condition of robust health.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery contains neither alcohol nor narcotics.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition.

Mrs. Ella Gardner, of Waterview, Middlesex Co., Va., writes: "My little daughter is enjoying splendid health, I am glad I found a doctor who could cure my child. Whenever she feels badly I give her Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and she is soon all right. She took twelve bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' eight bottles of 'Pellets,' and one bottle of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and she is well. We thank God for your medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL XXXIII NO 16 PETERBOROUGH ONTARIO, FRIDAY JANUARY 20 1905 PRICE TWO CENTS

ASKED THREE TIMES TO CONSENT TO A COALITION GOVERNMENT BEING FORMED

Mr. J. P. Whitney, at the Market Hall Last Night, Positively Declared This to be True.

He Declined to Infuse New Life Into a Dying Party, He Said -- He Has no Doubt of the Election Resulting in His Favor.

The Leader of the Conservative Party Met With an Enthusiastic Reception and Spoke for One Hour,

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun's Splendid Campaign Speech Meets with Demonstrative Approval -- 1,800 People Present--Hundreds Turned Away.

The spacious Market Hall was crowded with 1,800 people last night, when Mr. J. P. Whitney, the distinguished leader of the Provincial Conservative Party, addressed an intensely enthusiastic audience in the interests of Mr. T. E. Bradburn, the local candidate, and in advocacy of a change of government for this Province. At eight o'clock standing room was at a premium, and hundreds of eager seekers for admission were turned away disappointed. A large number of ladies were present.

The following campaign legends were in evidence;—"Its Time for a Change," "We Will Smash the Ross Machine," "Thirty-two Years in the Saddle, Is the Nag Worth New Harness," "God Save the King," "Ross Has Been Tried and will be Sentenced on the 25th," "Its Time for a Change," "Don't Let Ross Deliver the Goods." From the top facing of the canopied platform hung the motto. "Whitney and Honest Government," emblazoned in conspicuous lettering. The legends were the work of J. J. Turner & Sons, and were admirably executed.

Mr. Jas. Kendry and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun also addressed the meeting, but Mr. T. E. Bradburn, who had been speaking at Ennismore, did not reach town till 10.40, at which time the audience were dispersing.

Mr. Rupert Gliddon's orchestra enlivened the wait between doors opening and the commencement of the evening's proceedings with select musical selections, which was much appreciated.

Amongst the gentlemen seated on the platform there were Jas. Kendry, ex-M.P., Jas. Stevenson, ex-M.P., Rev. A. E. Langfeldt, Wm. Langford, Harry Morgan, (Wm. Croft, R. C. Braund, Dr. Coughlin, J. Edgar, Harry Denne, Rev. Dr. Crouthers, Ald. G. J. Tovey, R. Fair, Harry Phelan, Harry Winch, O. N. Brown, Ald. Batten, Dr. Boucher, Ald. Adams, Lieut.-Col. Miller, W. H. Hill and W. H. Moore.

Mr. Whitney arrived at 9.40 from Morrisburg, and was greeted with a demonstrative ovation, which was increased ten-fold when little Miss Pauline Hays presented him with a choice and beautiful bouquet.

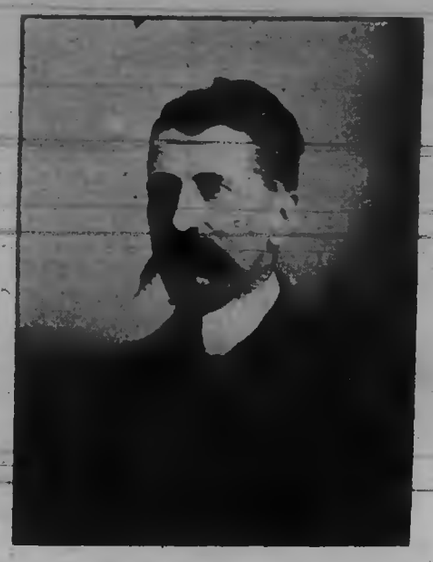
The elite of the town were strongly represented, and the speakers' utterances in no stage of the proceedings met with a dissenting voice.

In the unavoidable absence of President Lynch, Mr. Jas. Kendry presided, and received a warm welcome from his many friends and admirers in his brief opening address, he expressed surprise that a man of the Hon. G. W. Ross' ability should attempt to rule this province with a minority government.

MR. R. M. DENNISTOUN.

Was the first speaker, and met with a splendid reception. His address was clothed in humor, exceedingly clever, and met with demonstrative approval. In referring to the Liberal meeting Friday night, he said that as he sat at the back of the opera house, and saw half an acre of empty seats he felt like a pelican; but to-night on looking over the magnificent audience before him, he felt like a very different bird, and had a strong inclination to crow. (laughter.) For the past two years, while Mr. Ross has had a majority of three in the House, he has actually been in a minority of 7,000 electorate voters; and yet he had tried to govern this Province in direct violation of the constitutional principles upon which governments are framed. Referring to the Gamey charges, the speaker held that Mr. Ross had gained no increased prestige in their investigation. Turning to the corruption charges, he read an article from the Queen's Quarterly Magazine, an independent paper published in the interests of Kingston students; the article in question, gives credence to the operation of "the machine" at West Elgin, West Huron, Brockville, North Waterloo, and the Soo, the election scandals at West Hastings and Frontenac. In refutal of Mr. Graham's claim here last Friday that the Government have been to the fore in punishing corruptionists, Mr. Dennistoun said, the present Provincial Secretary did not tell you that "the machine" never selected any person for punishment until quite certain that the offence

MR. T. E. BRADBURN, LIBERAL-CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATE



For West Peterborough, in whose interest Mr. J. P. Whitney, Leader of the Opposition, addressed a large audience in the market hall last night.

able by a fine; the greater criminals, who could have been sent to penitentiary, were always allowed to escape across the line, or elsewhere. Turning to Mr. Stratton's retirement from office, the speaker remarked that in early life, Mr. Stratton learnt one lesson, to which he has always lived up to, and that is, "to get inearly out of the rain. He is now clear of the storm which is now raging, and which will burst in all its fury on the 25th. Mr. McWilliams should have profitted by that lesson. Rolly will learn that he has made a mistake this time; the Town Council was large enough for him for many years to come. Mr. Dennistoun next criticised the Ross Government for claiming credit for everything in sight, in the course of which he used irresistable mirth-provoking analogy. In answer to the assertion made by Mr. Graham here last Friday night that the Attorney-General was in no way responsible for the cruise of the "Minnie M." Mr. Denniston replied that all Mr. Gibson had to do was to send a telegram to the effect that he and his colleagues would not support that enterprise, the "Minnie M." would never have sailed. As to Mr. Ross not knowing Cap. Sullivan, perhaps they were at that moment cutting each other and not on speaking terms. (laughter.) Mr. Ross, however, certainly called the Legislature together the very week set for the election trials, and prorogued Parliament, in order to evade trial and subsequent exposure. Mr. Ross is fond of quoting "Righteousness exalteth the nation." this will be found in Scripture, —in Proverbs—the other half of which the Premier and his colleagues dare not use on any public platform; it reads, "but sin is a reproach to any nation." In conclusion, Mr. Dennistoun offered a strong eulogy of Mr. Bradburn, as a fitting, proper person to represent this riding, a man behind whom his party stands solid. (cheers.) While he had nothing to say personally against Mr. R. F. McWilliams, he asserted that he did not stand solid with his party like his opponent; but had been pushed forward into the breach by the strength of a small faction who had insisted that he should have the nomination whether the Liberal party wanted him or not. And it seems improper that any man should go into the legislature as a servant or tool of the officials of the Government. Under such circumstances, he cannot do his duty by his constituents if he be supported by Government officials. Mr. Whitney is the rightful Premier of this province, and I ask you to see to it that he goes back on the 25th with a good substantial majority.

MR. J. P. WHITNEY

Rose to speak at 9.20 and concludedd a masterly address at 10.30. He dealt mainly with the charges of corruption, and was unsparing of the Hon. G. W. Ross. He received the earnest attention of the big audience, who at frequent intervals broke forth in demonstrative approval of his utterances. Turning to the necessity for purifying the political atmosphere, he said, the proudest day in the history of Ontario will be that on which Conservatives and Liberals join hands to raise the standard of public morality, which had previously been raised, but lowered the past three years by men unworthy of public trust in this fair Province. He was confident of victory on the 25th, when the triumph which is to come then, and which is absolutely certain, will not be a party triumph, but a grand uprising of men who are determined not to lower their self-respect by sitting calmly by while the fair fame of this Province is being dragged in the dust. Turning to the Hon. G. W. Ross' recent denial of any acquaintance with Cap. Sullivan, the speaker would only say that our distinguished naval authority, Cap. Sullivan, on reading his leader's repudiation of him dropped the paper in astonishment, and ejaculated, "Isn't the Old Man a Corker." (laughter.) The speaker thought it strange that had the Conservatives been guilty of as much evil these many years as claimed by Mr. Ross, they had not been prosecuted by the Government which had control of the administration of justice. He then went on to show that no crime will be punished under existing conditions, if it is committed with a political view. He next arranged Mr. Ross for his declaration that there Why, Mr. McNish, one of the Government officials, confessed to it in a declaration drawn up by Mr. Aylesworth, of which the Premier was previously cognisant, and yet he says now that McNish must have been deceived. Now what are you going to do with a man like that?

A voice—"Turn him out." (Applause.)

No word is strong enough, con inued Mr. Whitney, to monumentalize the assurance of this gentleman. the Premier. Turning next to the Pritchard affidavits to wrong-doing, Mr. Whitney said, Mr. Pritchard, who taught the men to switch ballots, retired to Detroit on a pension of $100 a month; but he grew tired of his retirement because the pension was not arriving regularly. He them made affidavits to his illegal acts, the last of which was read in the House of Commons with Pritchard's declaration that he was then at his home in St. Thomas and defied prosecution. And he has not been prosecuted. Following Mr. Pritchard's example, Mr. Ross now says, "We have sinned, but we propose to forget our sins, and go on our way rejoicing." (Laughter.)

COALITION.

Turning to the question of his being approached with a view to forming a coalition government, Mr. Whitney said six years' ago when Mr. Ross assumed the leadership, there were only 23 Conservatives in the legislature; six weeks ago the Opposition had a majority, and the "Ross Government has been in a minority of 7,000 electoral voters ever since last election. Ross never had an actual majority and never will. (Cheers.) The Reform Party is where it is to-day because of Mr. Ross' bad leadership. Shortly after the election of '92, an editorial appeared in the Globe suggesting coalition, which I believe to have been inspired by Mr. Ross. The day following, when walking in Toronto, I met a Minister of the Crown who asked me to meet him at his office the same afternoon, to which I agreed. On reaching my hotel a second me to meet the first minister with a view to forming a coalition government, which I declined. In the heat of the Gamey charges this second minister again approached me with the same purpose, and suggested that myself and three of my colleagues should be embodied in the coalition Cabinet. I again refused, and we were both pledged to secrecy. Two weeks later, Mr. Foy told me that a Conservative member had asked him what I meant by looking to a coalition government and on investigation I found that this second minister had violated his pledge of secrecy in an attempt to create trouble for me in my party. I challenged him about it, and he excused his action on grounds that I cannot very well divulge. Now Mr. Ross says he never had approach me himself or send any one to me with authority to bind him to coalition. I'd like to see any man who could bind Mr. Ross; ropes would not do it. Of course when his minister had broken the pledge of secrecy I felt no longer constrained to keep it myself. Again, for the third time, I was similarly approached during the big Liberal convention at Toronto, with the assurance that if I would consent to coalition, I'd be Premier within a year. I have thus three times been urged to infuse new life into a fast dying party, and it was my right to refuse the credentials acting in the confidence reposed in me by the electorate. (Cheers.) Mr. Whitney concluded with an eloquent peroration, in the course of which he said, on coming into power, we, the Conservative Party, ask you to judge us by the same standard by which we are judging our opponents. Mr. Whitney resumed his seat amid demonstrative and prolonged applause.

The usual cheers were then given, after which the meeting dispersed.

GREATEST STRIKE EVER KNOWN

Terrible Condition of Affairs in Germany

3000,000 MINERS QUIT WORK

And Railroads will Soon be Compelled to Stop for Want of Coal

Berlin, Jan.—Germany is now completely under the spell of the great strike in Rhineland and Westphalia. Two hundred thousand miners have quit work in the coldest week of winter, and 68,000 more will follow their lead within twenty-four hours. More than 200 collieries, furnishing 75 per cent. of the Fatherland's coal supply, are shut down. The railways and industries of the country face a fuel famine that threatens fatal and widespread consequences if the strike should be prolonged.

Many steel and iron mills, cement works and textile factories have already been compelled to close and throw the thousands of hands out of employment. The State Railway says they have six weeks' supply of coal but few manufacturing concerns are provided beyond their immediate daily needs. The coal trust itself is said to possess a reserve of only 700,000 tons. Households are little affected by the strike, because four-fifths of the family fuel of Germans consists of lignite briquette. The duration of the strike depends on the physical endurance of the miners. Their strike funds however, are practically exhausted and starvation may drive the men back to work. The Government's influence continues to be exerted in behalf of peace, but the operators declare they are confident they can wear down the strikers.

Tokio, Jan. 20.—A report come from the Manchurian headquarters of the Japanese army that with the Cossack detachment that raided the district west of New-Chwang were a large number of Chinese regular cavalry. The Russian casualties in the fighting on January 14 were over three hundred. The report states that the Russian force repulsed on January 16 consisted of 6,000 Cossacks, with ten guns. They retired in a northeasterly direction, through Laotuniwou. The same force, when encountered later, appeared greatly fatigued. Many of the Russians were dressed entirely in Chinese costume, even to queues.

From other sources it is reported that lately Cossacks attacked a Japanese position near Hiulungtun, south-east of Mukden. Eleven Japanese were missing after the action.

HAD HAND IN CANAL OUTRAGE

Philadelphia Police Believe Rosseau Took Part in Welland Canal Affair

Philadelphia, Jan. 19.—A police official is of the opinion that Gessler Rosseau was concerned in the Welland Canal outrage. He says;

"Rosseau's confession is adroit. Superficially, it makes him look like a dangerous crank. This is far from being the case, Inspector McClusky of New York believes Rosseau belongs to a powerful band. So do we. We are working on this theory. Rosseau had something to do with the attempt to wreck the Welland Canal.

"Our proof of this will be made public in time. How many other affairs of the kind he has been concerned in we have not yet determined. He might have gone on indefinitely if he had not meddled with the Owen Kelly mystery.

"Luke Dillon, the Philadelphian who was sentenced for life as "Karl Dullman" for the Welland affair, was a close friend of Kelly. They were all in the same group. Kelly met a night later, and made enemies.

"Rosseau will go to New York in a few days, and then it will be up to the New York detectives to do the digging. If they find, what we believe they will, the mystery of Owen Kelly's disappearance, the true story of the Welland Canal outrage, the inside facts concerning the attempt to blow up the Umbria, and the names of those connected with Rosseau in his attempt to wreck the statue of Frederick the Great, will be made clear. I have no hesitancy in saying that if

A STARTLING INCIDENT OCCURS AT ST. PETERSBURG

Shots Fired Across the River as the czar Blessed the Waters of the Neva and Bullets Entered Windows of the Palace.

St. Peteraburg, Jan. 20.—The annual ceremony of blessing the waters in front of the Winter Palace was performed by Emperor Nicholas this morning. During the ceremony several shots were fired from across the Neva, and bullets entered windows of the Palace. No one was hurt, but the incident caused considerable alarm. One bullet cut a clean hole two inches in diameter through the double upper windows of Nicholas Hall, immediately above a window from which a group of correspondents and officers were viewing the ceremony. Electric lamps on the opposite side of the hall were smashed, and fell to the floor with a clatter. An officer picked up the bullet which was of iron, and resembled a shrapnel ball.

The Imperial procession soon afterwards re-entered the Palace. The Emperor already had been informed of the occurrence, and as the procession passed an officer pointed out the holes in the windows. His Majesty was quite unmoved, and hardly glanced at the place indicated.

The Grand Duke Vladimir, eldest uncle of the Czar, immediately open an investigation and interrogated the witnesses.

Groups of ladies of honor who came in with the procession, gathered in the hall to gaze at the tell-tale hole and listen to details of the incident.

Additional particulars show that the Emperor had a miraculous escape. There is no longer any doubt that the missiles came from a gun on the Bourse battery which was loaded with grape, not with shrapnel. Some of the bullets actually struck the little open chapel in which his Majesty was standing, cut the staff of one of the standards and fairly riddled the basement windows of the palace, killing a Policeman outright and wounding an officer and three marines. Had the gun been aimed a little lower the charge of grape might have wiped out the whole Romanoff dynasty. No official statement has yet been issued, but the suggestion offered that the gun was loaded with grape as a precaution in view of possible strike rioting, hardly meets the fact that it was aimed with such accuracy at the chapel.

Everything on the surface seems to indicate the existence of a deadly and deep laid plot against the Emperor, in which artillerymen were enlisted. It is understood that all the men and officers of the battery referred to were immediately placed under arrest for ex-

CONSOLIDATION OF THE EMPIRE

Lord Morpeth Says Colonies Fear Bogey of Militarism

SIR GILBERT PARKER SPEAKS

He Discusses the Preferential Campaign in a Speech at Cape town, South Africa

London, January 20.—Lord Morpeth, in a speech at Birmingham on Imperial consolidation, said that the Colonies were rather afraid of being drawn into what some of their newspapers called "the Vortex of Militarism," but this feeling could only arise from the fact that they lived so far away from these islands. If they lived here they would know that this country did not suffer from militarism, but very much the reverse.

Commenting on Lord Morpeth's speech, the Birmingham Daily Post says: The British Empire is so constituted that its existence is bound up to a large extent with some system of mutual defence. Hitherto the Colonies have not fully realized this, for the simple reason that they have never yet experienced the shock of a sudden alarm through an unfriendly action or threat. Such a shock may be far off in its power, but on the other hand it may come at no distant date. Then the Colonies will, we believe, recognize their obligation to the Mother Country with respect to the question of Imperial defence.

SIR GILBERT PARKER.

Sir Gilbert Parker, speaking at Cape Town, said that the preferentialists asked for reciprocity and an alliance. Mr. Balfour and Mr. Chamberlain wanted sufficient equipment for an increase of trade within the Empire, inducing general stability and individual strength. Love and sentiment were the basis, but he asked for marriage lines

LORD MINTO'S HOWICK SPEECH

Has Occasioned Considerable Stir in British Political Circles

MOST WEIGHTY STATEMENT

It is Interpreted as Conclusive Answer to Liberal Pleas of Hands off

London, January 20.—Speaking to his constituents at Stirling, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman said he only objected to a Colonial Conference if it sought to fasten on the Mother Country the injury of accepting or the odium of refusing proposals which their people, if left to themselves, would not accept. He described the conference as a mere plank for bridging over the gap between the merveless, illusory policy of retaliation, and the solid, intelligible, but wholly inadmissable idea of food taxation.

A LECTURE ON EMIGRATION.

J Bruce Walker, the Canadian Government representative, delivered a comprehensive lecture on Canada and its resources at the City Hall, Glasgow. He specially emphasized the need for suitable British emigrants rather than foreigners, instead of allowing them to go, as many did at present, to the United States, which is a foreign country.

THE AUSTRALIAN MAILS.

The Australian Government has rejected the Orient Company's tender of £140,000 a year for the conveyance of the mails to Great Britain. It is now probable that Australia will enter into negotiations with the Dominion Government for conveyance via Vancouver.

London, January 20.—Lord Minto created a small stir by his speech at Hawick yesterday, when he said; "I do not thank Canada will wait for ever. The United States is making distinct attempts at reciporocity in the hope of stealing Canada from the Empire."

Coming from a representative of the Sovereign just returned from Canada, who must know the character of the correspondence between Senator Fairbanks and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, considerable weight is attached to the statement. It seems a conclusive answer to those who urge that it is best to leave Anglo-Canadians relations alone.

Sir H. Campbell-Bannerman, Lord Rossbery, Sir Edward Grey and other Opposition speakers still maintain that Canada is not serious in her desire for an Anglo-Canadian mutual preferential arrangement.

ANDERSON RALLY AT HAVELOCK

Rousing Liberal Meeting Held There Monday Night in Mr. Anderson's Interests Was Well Attended.

Mr. D. O'Connell Gave a Splendid Address, Replete With Sound Reasoning and Unansurable Logic.

Why the Ontario Government Should be Returned—Dr. Macdonald Ex-Deputy Speaker Delivers an Address.

On Monday a most successful meeting in the interests of Mr. Wm. Anderson in East Peterborough was held in the Town Hall, Havelock, which was well filled with the electors of the town, and surrounding district, and the speakers were exceedingly well received, and Mr. Anderson should feel elated, as a result of this meeting. The speakers in addition to the candidate, Mr. Anderson, were Mr. D. O'Connell, of Peterborough, and Dr. Macdonald, late Deputy Speaker in the Dominion Parliament, and both gentlemen delivered very effective addresses, the former in particular.

There were a large number of Conservatives in the audience, and the calm and logical addresses of the two speakers could not help having their effect.

Mr. W. T. Curtis, late member of the County Council, was chairman of the meeting, and in a short address endorsed the candidature of Mr. Anderson, who he felt sure would be elected on January 25th. During the last two years Mr. Anderson has proved that he was a proper representative of the people, and his record has been such as merited the approval of the electors and one which made him worthy of re-election.

THE CANDIDATE'S ADDRESS.

Mr Anderson was exceedingly well received by the audience when he arose to address them, and in a short, but forcible and effective speech, thanked the electors for the support that they had given him in the past, and asked for their votes on the present occasion. He had tried to serve them faithfully during the two years that he had represented East Peterborough in the Legislature, and he felt that he was deserving of their support in this campaign.

MR. D. O'CONNELL SPEAKS.

Mr. D. O'Connell gave the first address, and remarked that nothing need be said with reference to Mr. Anderson. He was well known by all, and in the position which he had occupied in the Township and County Councils he had proven his worth.

Two years ago he had been honored by being elected to the Legislative Assembly by the electors of East Peterborough, and during these two years he had again demonstrated his worth as a representative. He was again appealing to the people for their support on this occasion, and he had justly earned the confidence of the people. According to all the reports available, and according to the testimony of colleagues, and the Ministers, he had been a faithful member. He was a very consistent member of the House and was always in his place in the Committee and the House, and particularly in the former, his advice was often sought.

If only the question of the two candidates were to be considered he had no doubt that the old and tried servant would again be selected. But a much more important question than that of merely choosing between two men was before the people. It was that of deciding which of the two political parties in Ontario should be chosen to administer the affairs for the next four years.

The speaker was of the opinion that the great majority of the electors in the province did not pay sufficient attention to the important duties to be performed in the Legislative Assembly, and are too often influenced by party ties. Important as the duties of the Dominion Parliament are, he thought that those of the province were much more important, because they had to do directly with the local affairs, and have to do with the assets of the province in such a manner that the best interests of the people will be well protected. Then they have to do with the enforcement of the law. They have to grant the franchises of the province, and they have to establish and maintain the public charities as well as the educational facilities. He asked the electors to cast aside all unworthy consideration, and do that which is best in the interests of the province as well as their own interests. The only question which they were called upon to answer was, whether the present Government of Ontario had faithfully discharged its duties, or whether by a change of Government would the province's affairs be more carefully guarded.

At Confederation the two provinces of Ontario and Quebec had started equal and Ontario has a cash surplus in the bank of $3,700,000 owing to an absolutely honest administration. But in Quebec things are not as favorable, for in that province $1,500,000 as interest on the public debt of the province is being paid out annually.

Dealing with the sources of revenue of Ontario he explained the operation of the Succession Duty Act, which was not one which was burdensome to the poor people, but came entirely out of the estates of the wealthy. This act was opposed strenuously by Mr. Whitney, but from its operation $2,000,000 had been paid into the revenue of the province. [illegible] said

The most important source of revenue of the province was that of the Crown Lands Department, and it is one which requires not only a careful, but also a good business administration. During the last thirty-two years the Crown Lands Department has been conducted in a thoroughly business-like manner. From the time of the Sandfield Macdonald Government to the present time, the timber limits show that a splendid business ability has been exercised in their management. It is only a short time ago, since the Ross Government came into power, and during that time the timber limits sold for $3.245 per square mile, as compared with $117 per square mile under the Sandfield Macdonald Government. Since the Liberal Government came into power, there has been received from this source alone, $42,000,000. Since 1867 the total revenue to the province has been $123,000,000, of which $113,000,000 have been spent for the benefit of the people of the province. He asked if the administration of the province had been under the charge of the Conservative Government during these 32 years, would the people have been given the splendid public institutions that they now have. He questioned it, and quoted as proof of this position, the action of the Conservatives in regard to the disputed territory, which the Conservatives wanted to give to Manitoba, and it was only by the strenuous efforts of the late Mr. Mowat that this land was secured to the province. During the period in which this territory was in doubt, the timber limits were sold to the friends of the Conservatives by that Government for $6 per square mile.

Then teh money raised has been well expended, $5,000,000 going towards the encouragement of the farming industry, the most important in the province. For public charities, and the maintenance of hospitals, asylums, etc., $24,000,000 has been spent, thus saving the people from being taxed directly for this purpose. About the same amount has been spent for educational purposes, $20,000,000 being the figures for this department. The Government has also spent large sums for the opening up of the newer portions of the province, and encouraging the young men of Ontario to remain in their own province instead of going outside its borders to earn a livelihood.

For thirty-two years the Ontario Liberal Government has had the disposition of this immense public estate, valued at $500,000,000, and the Conservatives, watching the affairs of the province for thirty-two years, have been unable to point to one dollar of this money that has been dishonorably or improperly spent. (Applause).

The development of New Ontario has also claimed the attention of the Government, which has offered every facility for the settling of that part of the province, and have assisted a number of railway enterprises.

Mr. O'Connell referred to the aid given to the "Soo" industries, and showed how the encouragement given to the industries by the guarantee was amply justified by the results.

It seems that when any question arises requiring the possession of business acumen, the Conservative fail utterly to appreciate the importance of the issue, and fail to show any policy which has yet won the confidence of the people. He had no hesitation in saying that the Conservatives were as far from getting into power in the coming provincial elections, as they were in the last eight election contests in Ontario, because they have never yet been able to present a policy. Mr. O'Connell referred to the "menagerie policy" of the Conservatives, upon which they have appealed to the people in the past.

If the Conservatives had never done worse than bring up petty issues, then it might be possible to consider them as being honest. But they have done worse than this. They had appealed to sectional feeling, and had tried to stir up sectarian strife among the people of the province, and instanced the production of the "Facts for Irish Electors," and "The Eye-Opener," both of which, however, happily had reacted upon them, and had utterly failed to produce the effects desired. On the other hand, the Liberals had sought to unite the different sections of the people and build up a united Canada. In view of these facts he asked which of the two parties they would prefer to have preside over the province for the next four years.

DR. MACDONALD'S ADDRESS.

Dr. Macdonald, the late Deputy Speaker of the Dominion Parliament, was the next speaker, and made a splendid speech in support of Mr. Anderson's candidature, which he said he was glad to do at the request of Hon. G. W. Ross. He counselled the supporters of Mr. Anderson to exert themselves to secure his election. He reminded the electors that the Conservatives were on the alert, and were always anxious to misrepresent the facts.

Dr. Macdonald dealt with the charge of corruption, and admitted that there had been some things done in the Liberal party that had not been right, but none of the Opposition speakers had been able to fasten any of the blame upon the leaders of the party, but the Conservatives were unwilling to admit that they had ever done anything wrong themselves. It is true that they had not had the opportunity of doing much wrong in Ontario, because the people had been wise enough to keep them out of power.

The speaker referred to the South Ontario election, in which Mr. Smith admitted that he had spent $1,200 to help defeat Mr. Dryden.

The brilliant career of Hon. G. W. Ross was outlined by the speaker, and he said that through the whole life of the premier he had shown that he possessed not only ability, but integrity, which has never been successfully questioned. Mr. Whitney, on the other hand, is a mere pigmy compared with the premier.

Dr. Macdonald referred to the question of the disputed boundary, and quoted some instances of Sir John Macdonald selling the timber limits to his friends during the time that the question was in dispute, for almost nothing. The speaker then referred to the record of the Liberal Government in Ontario for the last thirty-two years, showing that the administration of the affairs of the province, has been wise, careful and business-like, and the heritage of the people has been saved for the people. He closed his address with an appeal to the electors present to consult their own interests by electing Mr. Anderson as a supporter of Mr. Ross.

The meeting then closed with hearty cheers for The King, the Candidate and the Premier.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, excepting 8 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres more or less.

ENTRY

Entry may be made personally at a local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situate, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES

A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act, and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

[1] At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

[2] If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), or any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

[3] If a settler was entitled to and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

[4] If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same town, township, or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of clauses [2], [3] or [4] must cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, or substitute 30 head of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, and have besides 80 acres substantially fenced.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd of June, 1889.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled and the land may again be thrown open for entry.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT

Should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

INFORMATION

Newly arrived immigrants will receive, at the Immigration Office in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in choosing lands to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Land Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands, to which the Regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Co.

INCORPORATED

Capital $5,000,000. Shares $1.00 Each, Par Value, Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable.

We have just secured the agency for the above splendid proposition, of which we have been allotted a block of Treasury stock. We can confidently recommend this as a safe and, we believe, exceedingly profitable investment. Every dollar of stock is guaranteed by twenty year, full paid, gold bond, delivered to purchaser of stock, from an Investment Company that has no interest whatever in the company, but who are disposing of the debentured bonds to the public, and, under their charter, they are compelled to deposit securities to an equal amount, to the State Treasurer under which they received their charter, thereby doubly securing the payment of their gold bonds.

The Company's property, which is now past the project stage, is known to be marvellously rich in gold.

Following is the opinion of G. W. Miller, Mining Engineer, formerly with the Boston and Montana Consolidated Copper and Silver Mining Company, U. S.; Simmer and Jack Mining Co., Limited, Elandsfountain, South Africa:—

"You have here a most valuable property and one of the strongest fissure veins that can be found in any part of the world.

"With the present development of the Monument Mine, I estimate that 100 tons per day can be extracted, which will mill from $15.00 to $30.00 per ton. The total cost of mining the ore, delivering and milling, I place at about $4.00 per ton. With increased milling capacity, it is safe to say that the mine can furnish 100 tons of $15.00 ore, which would yield a clear profit of $11.00 per ton, or $1,100 00 per day (equal to $400,000.00 per annum). Estimated total value of ore in sight, $2,500,000."

During the past summer, a party of the Company Directors visited the property, taking with them, Amos P. Brown, Ph.D., Mining Engineer and Professor of Geology and Mineralogy at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Brown writes as follows:—

"In regards to the amount of ore available at the mines at Sinclair, I saw on the dumps several thousand tons, probably 5000 tons would be an under-estimate.

"As to the size of the ore body itself, from what I saw of the geological structure, I think that there is every indication that it will be safe to extend underground as far as the out-croppings on the south side of the gulch. This would mean an ore body large enough to keep the present mill running for many years to come.

A write up of the proposition will appear in these columns in a few days. Watch for it. In the meantime we will be pleased to furnish full information to investors.

Stocks—The MARKETS OF THE WORLD—Grains

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

The Salido Gold and Copper Company

Incorporated under the laws of Arizona, with a capital of $3,oc ooo forever on assessable divided into shares of $1 each, par value. All investments insured Granite Securities Company.

The "SALIDO GOLD-COPPER COMPANY" enterprise offers attractions to the investors of the country, that without thorough investigation, would scarcely seem probable. If only a fraction is realized of what any prudent business man in his own affairs would regard as absolutely certain, the enterprise must prove abundantly successful and exceedingly profitable.

SALE OF STOCK

The company will prosecute the work of development with all the diligence that the cash in the treasury will permit and circumstances warrant, and to this end a small amount of the treasury stock is now placed upon the market, in blocks of not less than One Hundred Shares. The par value of the stock is One Dollar per share, fully paid and forever non-assessable.

The company reserves the right to advance the price of stock without notice.

REMEMBER

First—That all payments for treasury stock go into the treasury for development work and not into the pockets of the promoters.

Second—There are no salaried officers

Third—The incorporators have put their own good money into this enterprise and being business men, intend to do business along business lines

Fourth—That this company is honest.

Fifth—If you are thinking of investiug in mining stocks this is worthy of your careful investigation.

OTHER PROPERTIES

This Company owns four other Gold and Copper Mines, wh ch title is now in process in the laws of Mexico. As soon as title is perfected, we shall commence to develop them as we certainly expect something very great from these properties Our assays taken have been of the very best, showing gold and copper from $6.00 to $122. 30 per ton.

I have secured a small block of this stock, which I offer at the following prices: Unguaranteed 40 cents per share, guaranteed 80 cents per share. These prices will only prevail for a short time, as the number of shares for sale at this price is limited. The Shares will then be advanced to 40 cents for the unguaranteed and 80 cents for the guaranteed. I can unhesitatingly recommend this investment to the Canadian public.

The California Buckeye Mine

This mine consists of 15 acres of good zinc land, well prospected by drill holes showing forty feet of good pay dirt at a depth of 154 feet.

On the property are hoisting engine, shaft house, ore buckets, Worthington steam pump, air drill, cars and pipes. Over $15,000 have been expended to date, and the proposition itself is a good one - so much so that we can personally guarantee an immediate dividend of 8 per cent. this year and 12 per cent. after 1905, with an additional quarterly dividend.

Capital Stock $250,000

Shares, par value $1.00 each. Fully paid up and non-assessable. No Preferred Stock. No bonded indebtedness

The shares are selling at 20 cents each, with a prospect of the price being raised.

The Joplin Daily Globe says that over $10,000.000 worth of zinc and lead were mined in 1904, up to 1st Dec., in the Joplin District. In the California Buckeye Zinc Mine, located in the centre of the Joplin District, it has been demonstrated that the ore body has an average thickness of 42 feet and the runs are 50 feet wide, about 120 feet from the surface.

The rough dirt for the first three months of operation produced zinc ore to the amount of $12 95 per cent., while the average for the district is less than 5 per cent., but for the purpose of being on the safe side, we calculate on only 8 per cent. ore to the ton of dirt, and it shows a profit each day with two shifts of men, of $566.20.

We stand ready to prove every statement made, and if enough stock is subscribed for in this locality a directorship of the company is at the disposal of the subscribers.

Any further information and proofs of earning capacity will be cheerfully supplied.

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Rare Chance to Secure a Paying Investment

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY

has placed a small block of their stock at the disposal of Canadian investors. This stock is sure to rapidly advance in price. The Company is now arranging to instal the power plant and a mill and cyanide plant for the reduction of their ore to a bullion on the property. They have arranged with a Trust Company having assets of $1,500,000 to put up a bond guaranteeing investors the repayment of the full amount invested. This makes investors absolutely safe. By no possibility can they lose a dollar.

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY was organized November 21, 1902, under the laws of the State of Idaho. The capitalization is one million shares of the par value of one dollar each, fully paid and non assessable; of the 1,000,000 shares, 400,000 have been set aside as treasury stock

THE BOISE BASIN came into preminence shortly after Grimes and his party of prospectors entered the Basin country in 1862; their entrance was into the northern portion, and one discovery of rich placer ground followed another until the news of the rich finds reached the outside world, when a veritable stampede for Boise Basin commenced, towns sprang up and grew together in an incredibly short time; the rush of people to Idaho City made it a place of 20,000 people in 1867, having a business street over a mile long lined with two-story buildings streets and sidewalks filled with people day and night, business and money on every hand and the city bearing the proud distinction of being the capital of the territory of Idaho. Wages ran from $6 to $10 a day and not infrequently forty and fifty men worked on a single placer claim; the clean-up for a day's work in many instances ran close to $5,000; large fortunes were made in a few days by washing the golden sands in a pan, so eager was the quest for the shining metal that the streets of Idaho City were dug up and washed and re-washed, and the soil removed from under the houses and places of business. So extensive was the search for the hidden treasure that not only all of the low ground was worked but the foot of the mountains surrounding the city have been washed away, filling up the lower portions of the basin and extending into the town, where one of the buildings has been buried under the tailings from the numerous placer workings.

LOCATION—The property of the Gold Coin Mining Company is situated in the Gambrinus Mining District, Boise County, Idaho, on the range of mountains between Moore Creek and Elk Creek, which forms a part of the eastern boundary of the famous Boise Basin and into which these mountains are drained The property is located ten miles northeast of Idaho City, from which place there are good wagon roads either to the workings on top of the mountain or to the place of the proposed tunnels in the gulch which crosses the Tunnelsite claim.

THE CLAIMS—The Company owns a group of four contiguous lode mining claims and the Gold Coin Millsite: the names of the lode claims are the Tunnelsite, Blue Bell, Pennsylvania and Homestake, each being a full claim 600 feet wide by 1,500 feet long, excepting the Tunnelsite claim, which is 450 feet wide at the west end and 1,035 feet long; it was necessary to stake the claim in this form on account of joining the Washington property on the south and the Sub Rosa property on the west, these properties being prior locations to the Tunnelsite claim. The four lode claims aggregate nearly 80 acres of rich mineral land.

Steel Leviathans Now Under Construction Are Estimated to Cost $300,000,000

Total cost	$300,000,000

London, January 19.—As one of the most notable features in the progress of naval construction is the continued growth in the size of battle ships and armored cruisers, it is interesting to turn to the new edition just published of F. T. Jane's volume, "All the World's Fighting Ships," in which he has embodied the classification of the war ships of the world.

SEVERAL NATIONS MISSING.

To the big class of battleships he has assigned the classification A1. It is a significant fact that among the first-class powers Italy, Germany and Austro-Hungary are not represented in this class, but the other chief powers have a number of these mailed leviathans in hand. The United States and France both lead Great Britain in the "A1" battleships building.

Now, it is said, designs have been prepared by Phillip Watts for new battle ships bigger and more powerful and more costly. Yet there is a considerable body of opinion against this policy of putting so many eggs in one basket.

Among the opponents of more powerful ships may be mentioned Admiral Sir E. R. Fremantle. Admiral Sir John Hopkins and Sir Edward Reed, former director of naval construction.

QUOTES WORDS OF NELSON.

In the current issue of the United Service Magazine is an article by Admiral Fremantle in which he urges the need of battle ships of moderate dimensions, with as much force as possible. He writes:

"In Nelson's words, 'Two seventy-fours alongside are better than one three-decker a long way off.' I certainly should prefer to see the majority of our battle ships of 13,000 to 14,000 tons, and only a few vessels, say, six or eight, should be King Edward VII.s or Lord Nelsons."

Admiral Fremantle supports his views on strategical and tactical grounds and by appeal to history. As to cost, he points out that for three Lord Nelsons the nation probably could have four ships of 13,000 to 14,000 tons, of twenty knots speed, good protection and armament, and at least as powerful as the newest German battle ships.

SURRENDER NOT NECESSARY

The Correspondent at Port Arthur Claim that the Russians Were able to Hold out Longer

London, Jan. 18.—There is an absence of actual war news, though various despatches throw a little fresh light upon events that have been already reported. The Standard's correspondents at St. Petersburg and Odessa mention the discontent over General Stoessel's surrender in view of the stores of supplies and ammunition that remained in Port Arthur. The former says that there are rumors that General Kondratchenko deliberately exposed himself to certain death rather than be associated in such circumstances with surrender.

SURRENDER DENOUNCED.

Headquarters of the Third Japanese Army at Port Arthur, Jan. 14, via Tien-Tsin, Jan. 18.—The victorious Japanese army yesterday formally entered Port Arthur. General Nogi with his staff, entered first through the old town and took his stand in the public square of the new town. The army was represented by one regiment from each brigade. The procession, which was five miles long, was three hours passing the saluting base, after which the troops passed out of the city through the new town. The correspondents then visited the captured city for the first time. The old town buildings were badly smashed by shells but in the new town the damage was slight. All the shipping in the harbor was badly damaged.

Proposals for the surrender of Port Arthur were first made December 29 at a council of war. General Stoessel was in favor of surrendering, but some of his general officers were bitterly opposed to it. The regimental officers and the troops were not consulted.

The first news they had of the surrender was January 1, after Gen. Stoessel had communicated with the Japanese. The scenes following the surrender were disgraceful. Drunken soldiers filled the streets and refused to obey their officers. Many of them destroyed the guns upon the positions they had defended and came into the city without permission. The infantry loudly protested that the fortress had been given away, threw their rifles and ammunition into the harbor and proceeded to break into warehouses and loot and drink vodka until in a helpless condition. It was evident that the surrender was not necessary, as there were 32,000 effective men in the fortress. The supply of ammunition was short, but it was not exhausted. Food was scarce, but private stores were not requisitioned by the military. There is no difficulty in getting good meals in the city even now, from the stores in private possession. A portion of the fortress was capable of defence for months longer. It was the opinion of non-combatants at Port Arthur that the surrender was unnecessary, as the troops were willing and able to fight to the bitter end. General Stoessel was much blamed for what was characterized as a disgraceful conclusion of a splendid defence, which ended with the death of Major-Gen. Kondratchenko, who was loved by the soldiers, and was the life of the defence.

FULL HONORS TO STOESSEL.

Nagasaki, Jan. 18.—Gen. Stoessel has cabled his thanks to the Emperor of Germany for the decoration placed upon him.

Passage for General Stoessel and his party has been booked to Port Said.

General Nogi has written to the Governor of Nagasaki the following: "As to the treatment of General Stoessel you will be advised by the proper authorities, but it may not be out of place to point out that General Stoessel now is neither a prisoner of war nor an enemy, but a foreign gentleman, who meritoriously served his country, and moreover, so honorably performed without unnecessary delay the complicated task of transferring the forts and munitions of Port Arthur that he deserves to be accorded full military honors, and I commend him to your consideration."

WHY LIBERALS BREAK TIES WON'T STAND FOR ROSSISM

Exposures of Machine Infamy Revolt Men of the Type of S. H. Blake.

Liberals of the type of Hon. S. H. Blake, Rev. D. C. Hossack, and Rev. Nathaniel Smith hasten to dissociate themselves from the party of Hon. G. W. Ross. Still they claim to be Liberals and that they have not departed from the principles they have professed all their lives.

Rossism is not Liberalism. Hundreds of Liberals are breaking party ties and on the 25th of the present month will vote for the Conservative candidates. And the independent electors of Ontario will support old-time Liberals in the house-cleaning exercises.

The ills of the Liberal party date from the accession of Hon. G. W. Ross to the leadership of the Liberal party in Ontario. This event occurred in 1899. Since and including 1899 we have had a record of electoral debauchery that has made the name of Ontario a reproach to honest people. Hon. G. W. Ross signalized his acceptance of the duties of Premier by reorganizing the Cabinet. He found himself with a very small majority in the House and the machine was organized to strengthen his position. The West Elgin frauds followed. Crooks were imported into the riding to switch the votes of honest Conservatives. These crimes were exposed by the Conservatives and the Liberal candidate made a confession that "the declared number of votes for Mr. Macnish largely exceeded the number of bona fide votes cast for him." By such frauds Mr. Ross was enabled to continue in office. The general election of 1902 left him in a still worse plight. Though in a minority of the popular vote he had so arranged the constituencies as to give him a majority of two in the Legislature, but two was not a very large surplus and efforts were made to increase it. The purchase of members elected to oppose the Government was one of the means by which Mr. Ross determined to hold on, and in the bye-elections he counted on adding a few more members to his voting strength. The "Three Norths" followed. All were carried by Mr. Ross by methods afterwards exposed in the election courts.

With the revelations of Mr. Gamey the fortunes of Ross declined and subsequent bye-elections failed to give the Premier the assistance he required. The most revolting electoral methods were resorted to at Sault Ste. Marie and by wholesale plugging by a band of American toughs the Government succeeded in temporarily forestalling defeat.

The Gamey revelations were the climax of a long series of corrupt acts performed by unscrupulous politicians on behalf of Premier Ross. Hardly less revolting were the methods employed by agents of the machine to unseat Donald Sutherland in South Oxford. For his efforts in behalf of Premier Ross the chief conspirator, Jackson, was rewarded with a lucrative office in England.

Is there any wonder that many honest Liberals are revolting, and that others who will not go the length of declaring their opposition have no heart for the present contest which means the life or death of Rossism and all that the term implies?

WHITNEY IS ON RECORD FOR ADVANCED PROGRAM

Mr Whitney will go into power with a well defined and progressive policy and while he makes it unmistakeably clear that the main issue in the present contest is honest and decent Government he promises legislation along advanced lines. The extremity of the Government since the advent of Mr. Ross to the premiership has prevented the adoption of legislation of this character. Mr. Ross has been too much occupied with the business of attempting to strengthen his precarious hold on office to devise legislation or to carry into execution his much-heralded program of "building up Ontario."

Mr Whitney offers a comprehensive program. His attitude on Provincial issues has been in the interests of the whole people. He proposes to broaden the scope of the agricultural college, to establish experimental stations and to give increased agricultural instruction in the public schools. An experimental fruit station in the Niagara District has been suggested.

The encouragement of a sanitary system of sewerage in towns and villages is one of the proposals of the Opposition. The Government has offered inducement to municipalities to construct permanent roadways and wherever a comprehensive system of roadways has been constructed part of the cost has come from the Provincial Revenues. The same method could well be adopted with regard to sewerage, and the Opposition has placed itself on record in this regard.

The Opposition has spoken in favor of public ownership. In the Legislature Dr. Pyne's resolution favoring the operation of the Temiskaming Railway for ten years as an experiment was voted down by Mr. Ross and his followers.

Fair taxation of railways is a plank in the Conservative platform.

Reforms are needed in the educational system of the Province and Mr Whitney has pledged himself to apply himself to this task. His attitude on this question is clear. The Public School system should not be regarded as a mere stepping stone to the Collegiate Institute or the University. It should fit a boy or girl for the battle of life.

The nationalization of the water powers of the Province, free school books, the disposal of pulp and timber concessions at public auction, reform of the mining laws, a strict enforcement of the license laws of the Province, the branding of prison made goods—these are some of the reforms consistently advocated by Mr. Whitney and his Colleagues in and out of the Legislature.

YouTake It Mixed With Air

A Powerful Destroyer of Disease Germs Which Cures Every Type of Catarrh Bronchitis and Throat Trouble.

Ever since Adam the air of the Pine woods has been known to possess marvellous healing properties. In fact doctors claim that people living in the balsamic atmosphere of the woods never contract consumption or catarrh.

A new remedy that embraces all the healing curative powers of the pine woods has at last been realized. It contains the balsams, the ozone and many other antiseptics that make it an absolute cure for all catarrhal diseases.

For years doctors have been looking for just such a remedy and claim the newly discovered Catarrhozone is the most effectual, the most scientific cure for catarrh, bronchitis and winter ills, they have ever met.

So powerfully healing is Catarrhozone that simple colds in the head and coughs can be cured in less than an hour. Chronic catarrh is eradicated from the system in the most thorough manner. It doesn't matter whether the catarrh affects the nose, throat or stomach, it can be completely driven from the system by using fragrant healing Catarrhozone.

The remotest parts of the lungs and air passages often contain germs of catarrh and consumption which cannot be reached by ordinary treatments. But the searching vapor of Catarrhozone carries its antiseptic healing power direct to those isolated spots. So thoroughly does Catarrhozone reach all diseased surfaces that it cures for all time, and no relapse need ever be feared.

"My nose was so stuffed up from catarrh that I could not breathe except through my mouth," writes John D. Perkins, a well known merchant in Hamburg. "My breath was horribly offensive and my digestion was completely knocked out. I used Catarrhozone and was cured in two weeks. I wouldn't take five thousand dollars for the benefit and good health I received from Catarrhozone which I can recommend as a certain, absolute cure for catarrh."

Two months treatment costs $1.00; sample size, 25c. At druggists or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford Conn., U.S.A. and Kingston, Ont. Catarrhozone always cures—refuse a substitute, and insist on getting Catarrhozone when you ask for it.

Wedding Anniversary

A very pleasant event took place on Tuesday evening last, when a number of the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Elliott, called on them quite unexpectedly, and tendered them their hearty congratulations on the occasion of their wedding anniversary, and also Mrs. Elliott's birthday. A delightful evening was spent in games and dancing.

Another Wholesale House

Messrs. Kinnear & Co., of Toronto, are establishing a branch of their business in Peterborough, and are fitting up premises on Simcoe street, next to the Grand Trunk tracks, for a wholesale grocery establishment. The new business will be in charge of Mr. Charles Richeor, a locally well known grocery traveller.

Old Resident Gone

Mrs. Nicholas Swan, an old and respected resident of Otonabee, died at Swan's Corners, Otonabee, on Wednesday last. She was 78 years of age. She leaves two children, a son Nicholas, and a daughter, Mrs. Robt. Robinson, Otonabee. Three brothers, John and William Dowdell, of Otonabee, and Henry Parker, of Brantford, also survive her. The funeral will take place this afternoon at two o'clock, from the family residence, Lot 16 concession 12, Otonabee, to St. Mark's Cemetery.

REMOVAL

C. Wilhelmy has removed his place of business to No. 488 George Street, next door to the Peterborough Light and Power Company.

THIRTY THOUSAND DOLLARS

In the Estimates for Peterborough—$300,000 for Canal

In the estimates submitted to Parliament at Ottawa on Wednesday there were $30,000 for armouries for Peterborough, $300,000 for the Trent Valley Canal, and $6,000 for dredging the Otonabee river.

The amount for the canal will be a disappointment to those who had hoped to see the balance of the work put under construction at once.

STILL ANOTHER INDUSTRY

Manufacturer's Committee will Consider Important Proposition

A meeting of the Manufacturers' Committee of the Town Council has been called for this morning at 11 o'clock to consider a proposal which is to be made by Mr. W. H. Meldrum and others, who propose to establish a new industry in Peterborough, which will adopt a new method in the preparation of fruits and vegetables for the market. Potatoes and several other vegetables are put through a shredding and drying process, and tests which have been made of the finished article are most satisfactory. It is said that $100,000 will be put into the industry. The promoters are asking for a site near the new Meldrum mill on Simcoe St.

THE SCHOOL NOW CLOSED

DOWNEYVILLE SCHOOL TROUBLE REACHES ACUTE STAGE

Bishop O'Connor, of Peterborough, Is Asked Those Who Opposed Separate School

The Times' correspondent at Downeyville, a hamlet a few miles in Emily township, a few miles from Peterborough, sends us the following.

Both the separate and public schools at Downeyville are now closed. This is a result of the resignation of both teachers on account of a sermon preached in the village church on Sunday, by Bishop O'Connor, of Peterborough, in which the bishop severely rebuked the Catholics who opposed the seperate school movement. A further result of the sermon is the desertion of the public school cause by almost every Catholic who up till then endorsed it.

On Wednesday, of last week, at the examination of witnesses in the case in Lindsay, Father Bretherton referred to those Catholics who opposed the separate school as "hickory Catholics" who could be bent into any shape, and had no minds of their own. The half-dozen Protestants and Catholics who still stand by the public school, will go on with the case, which was heard in Toronto yesterday (Thursday), unless a settlement, which is talked of, is arrived at in the meantime.

The bishop told the Catholics on Sunday to settle the case, and hold a picnic in the summer to pay the costs already incurred.

The other day one of the seperate school trustees sent word to I. E. Welldon, solicitor for the public school that he could have the deed of the property.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mrs. J. Jayes left yesterday for Toronto where she will visit Mr. and Mrs. E. Sewell, 66 Shuter street.

—Mrs. J. C. Shook will receive today and afterwards on the third Thursday and Friday of the month.

—Mrs. Brandon and Mrs. J. H. Brandon, Fenelon Falls, are the guests of Mrs. W. H. Robertson.

—Mrs. Dennistoun and Miss Georgie Dennistoun, left yesterday to spend the winter in Montreal. Miss Dennistoun, who is at upresent visiting in Ottawa, will join them in Montreal shortly.

—Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Freudenberger of Brooklyn, N.Y., are the guests of Mrs. B. Matschke, Dublin street, in honor of their visit Mrs. Matschke entertained a number of her St. Luke's friends at dinner on Wednesday evening.

THE FRIEND MAKER

Food-drink That Does That

"In the 9 years Postum Food Coffee has been on the market it has made many thousands of staunch friends but apparently none better than the Clerk of Courts at Toledo, British Honduras, who has sent a list of names of people in Central and South America who now use Postum in place of coffee, explaining in detail their cases. He says:

"Have much pleasure in writing you this letter for the good Postum has done myself and friends in this District. The attached list of persons to whom I have recommended Postum will, I venture to say, give you great satisfaction. I have given the names and addresses so anyone can verify my statement by writing to them" (full particulars with names and addresses will be sent by mail to anyone). "On the list the persons marked from 1 to 11 were confirmed tea drinkers and when I spoke to them about drinking Postum they laughed at the idea of giving up tea. But I insisted on their giving Postum a trial before condemning it and went so far as to give some of them a package. They all use Postum now and nothing else.

"From No 12 to 19 were coffee fiends my wife included, and they all also thought it absurd to try to replace coffee by any other drink, but after some persuasion I got them to try it and now they all use Postum.

"No. 14, 15 and 16 suffered from nervous prostration and sleeplessness when they drank coffee. No. 10, Lucas, had been ordered by doctors not to use tea or coffee and had been experimenting to find something to drink. Postum has filled the bill and now he not only orders it for himself but for sale. Some of these people did not like Postum at first because they did not know how to make it, but I invited them to my house and gave them Postum, making it according to directions on the package, and they found it delicious.

"Now, I will tell you how I came in contact with Postum. Mr. Wells living in Toledo District, mentioned Postum and gave me a package for trial. He was so sure it would help me, as I suffered from coffee drinking. From that time I became a convert and thought I could not do without it.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH ANNUAL MEETING

ALL DEPARTMENTS OF THE CHURCH PROSPEROUS

Plan to Pay off the Debt of the Church—Reports from Various Church Societies

The annual meeting of St. Paul's Presbyterian church took place on Wednesday night, and was fairly well attended, notwithstanding the unfavorable weather. Rev. Dr. Torrance, pastor, presided. The choir was present, and rendered a number of musical selections. When the business session began, Sheriff Hall took the chair, and Rev. Dr. Torrance read the report of the session, reviewing the work of the past year, which was most encouraging. The church membership had increased, the October communion being the largest in the history of the church, and there has been an increase of fifty in the number of families under pastoral care.

The pastor had assisted in carrying on special meetings in Stewart's settlement, which were successful.

The losses by death during the year were not very large, but among them were Mr. Geo. Stewart and Mrs. James A. Hall. The total loss by death was seven, and ten by certificate. The additions were sixty-four. The total membership of the church is now seven hundred and sixty-five.

The report referred to the Mission, with which are now identified forty-eight families. There has been an increase in the attendance of the Sunday school during the year, and about forty persons took part in the two communion services held. Four hundred dollars have been promised towards the support of the finances, a gain of $270.00.

The report was adopted.

THE FINANCIAL STATEMENT

The Treasurer's report showed that the receipts had been $6,074.57, of which $5,565.98 was from ordinary and $457.59 special, collections, and $51 for the mission shed, which was half the cost.

The expenditure had been $6,035.65, and of this $3,730.63 was for salary account, the balance being used for the ordinary expenses for the maintenance of the church, etc. The amount due the bank on Dec. 31st, 1904, was $1,068.30.

A special offering for repairs was taken, the amount realized being $871.50. Of this $573.40 was expended for the roof contract and $125 for an organ motor, leaving a balance of $173.04.

This report also was adopted.

BOARD OF MANAGERS.

Mr. H. S. Macdonald presented the report of the Board of Managers, which congratulated the congregation on the progress made during the past year, and looked forward to still further advance in the future. The contributions by envelope were the largest in the history of the church, being $436.60, over last year, the number of contributors being 412. The open collections show a decrease of $51.47.

The report stated that the terms of Messrs. Hill and Madill on the Hospital Board, and Messrs. Brown, Macdonald, Bennett and Wood, as managers had expired, and these gentlemen were subsequently re-elected to their offices.

The report concluded with the statement that Dr. Torrance had suggested a plan to wipe out the church debt of $4,000, which was for each family to contribute a certain sum for three years towards the debt and that already a considerable amount had been promised.

On Mr. Macdonald's motion the report was adopted.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Mr. Wm. Madill, Superintendent, presented the report of the Sunday school.

It showed that the average attendance at the school was 285, as compared with 269 in 1903. This increase is entirely due to the primary, and to the new department, the Kindergarten. This department was opened in September, and is under the charge of Miss Williamson. The cradle roll in connection with the Kindergarten class is 35. Among the changes in the staff of the school during the year, were the withdrawal of Miss Dennistoun, and Misses Jessie and Georgie Dennistoun, from the teaching staff. Mr. Garvin, who had charge of the singing, has left town, and Mr. A. J. Johnston, who for six years has been superintendent of the school, resigned, and in December Rev. J. A. Wilson left town.

Stanley Madill won the prize offered by Mr. W. Pringle for the pupil who would repeat at one sitting the whole of the Shorter Catechism. The Home Department numbers 160, but the report says it should be double. The missionary collections for the year amounted to $361, a slight advance over last year.

In the ordinary accounts, the receipts for last year were $202.77, and the expenditure $143.46. The receipts of the missionary account are $358.20.

Mr. Madill moved the adoption of the report, which was carried.

MISSION SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Mr. Jas. A. Hall, Superintendent, presented the report of the Mission Sunday school, which stated that the membership of the school at the end of Dec. 1904, was 87, an increase from 26, the number at the start, being almost entirely in the primary department. The attendance has been fairly regular, and the collections for the year amounted to $20.55, of which $4.45 was a special offering for the sanatorium at Gravenhurst. There has never been any difficulty in securing teachers, the staff at present numbering ten. The average attendance of scholars during the year was 56, the largest attendance on any Sunday being 73, which with the teachers and officers made a total of 87.

The report was adopted.

OTHER REPORTS.

Reports were received from the Missionary Society, the Ladies' Aid, Young Men's Guild, Faithful Workers' Mission Band, Fraser Mission Band, and St. Paul's Mission Society, all of a very encouraging nature.

After the reports had been presented and adopted, the choir rendered a selection, and the meeting closed with the benediction.

—The Faithful Workers' Mission Band of St. Paul's church have secured Rev. J. W. Pedley, of Toronto, to give his popular lecture on "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," on Friday evening, January 20th, at

Love is sometimes a hard task-master. He drives women to tasks beyond their strength and lays heavy burdens on their shoulders. Love of husband, love of family, forces many a woman day by day to labor for the home when aching back and throbbing head make her utterly unfit for household duties.

Weak, nervous women who suffer from headache, backache, bearing-down pains and other consequences of womanly disease, can be completely cured by the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"About two years ago I was taken sick and it seemed as if I had no nerves at all," writes Mrs. P. Woodbeck, of Delray, Mich. "Could not walk or sit an hour in the day without being tired out. I doctored first with our physician, then with another, but did not receive any benefit. One would say one thing and the next something else. I had almost given up when I thought your medicine might help me, so I wrote to you asking what to do. You advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I did so and could see a difference right away. I only took four bottles in all and felt better than I had in a long time. Can work all day now and not feel tired as I would in an hour before taking your treatment. I think it is the only medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure dizziness and sick headache.

—Mr. D. O. Fry, who built the Ontario Telephone plant in Peterborough fifteen years ago, was in town yesterday, a guest at the Snowden.

—The Home Department of the George street Methodist Sunday school will hold a reception for members in the Sunday school room on Friday evening January 27 from 6.30 to 10.30 o'clock. A high tea will be served and a musical program rendered at its conclusion.

—The Police Gazette Sporting Annual for 1905 has just been issued, and this year it is better and handsomer than ever. It fairly bristles with facts and contains records of baseball, bicycling, trotting, jumping, football, racing, aquatics, and all athletic sports. The main feature of the book, however, is the pugilistic records, and many pages are devoted to that popular branch of sport. The little volume is made doubly attractive by its high-class illustrations and photos of all the champions. It is authentic and reliable, and stands to-day an authority on the subjects upon which it treats. It is published by Richard K. Fox, Franklin Square, New York City.

Golden Wedding Celebrated

Quite an unusual event took place in Peterborough on Wednesday last, when the golden anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. S. Wood was celebrated. Eleven sons and eleven grand children were present, not including the wives of the sons. Mr. and Mrs. Wood were married at Amelianburg, by Rev. Dr. Cyrus Ellison, Jan. 18, 1855, and their fifty years of married life have been years of happiness and prosperity. Rev. Mr. Joliffe was present, and gave an address, in which he warmly congratulated the old couple on the occasion of the anniversary of a half century of married life. Short speeches were also made by Mr. Wm. Galbraith, and Mr. Giles. Two elegant family chairs were presented by the family, and Mr. Wood made a fitting reply to the kind sentiments expressed. The following are the children:—Messrs. John W., of Peterborough; E. W. of Otonabee; J. A. of Manvers; D. F., of St. Catharines, D. H. of Smith, W. E. of Otonabee, and Miss O. E., who is living at home. Mr. and Mrs. Wood are enjoying good health, and their friends will wish them many more years of happy life.

RUSSIA IS ON THE VERGE OF A GREAT REVOLUTION

Little Light on Yesterday's Mystery on the Neva---Strikes are Rapidly Spreading---The Crisis Grows Acute.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 21.—Nothing better illustrates the conditions in Russian journalism than the appearance of the St. Petersburg papers on the morning after an occurrence which nearly added another violent death to the history of the ruling family of Russia. There are prominent headlines, but almost no editorial reference, and the most brief mention possible of the unexpected hail of grape shot around the little chapel in which the Emperor and the Romanoff family had gathered for the great religious festival of the Epiphany and blessing the waters of the Neva.

The account of the stately ceremonial prepared by the Court Marshal is long and rich in detail, describing the appearance and garb of the individual participants and the progress of events from minute to minute. Appended to this court circular are short paragraphs from various papers, alluding in the most guarded terms to the unexpected danger in which his Majesty stood. These add practically nothing to the knowledge of the events in spite of half a day's opportunity for investigation and inquiry.

The Novoe Vremya, which publishes the most extended account, shows that the chief interest in the incident followed the second and third shots, but offers no explanation. The paper editorializes briefly on the inexcusable carelessness of permitting so perilous a happening and on the general joy at the escape of his Majesty and the relief to strained nerves. It concludes by expressing the hope that the miraculous escape of the Emperor from mortal danger, while engaged in the pious rites of the faith, may be an omen that Russia is under like protection, that Providence is watching over those who live by faith, and that she may emerge in equal safety from the perils in which she now stands. Other papers publish less regarding the event—not even the names of the officers commanding the battery or the artillerymen commanding the guns are given. The reader is left largely to draw his own conclusions as to the connection between the sound of the salute and the patter of the balls about the pavilion.

The police explain that the incident was the result of carelessness in leaving a shotted cartridge in the breech of a gun after target practice. Several policemen about the chapel were struck, with the exception of one man named Romanoff, who was severely wounded, they all escaped with contusions. An inquiry is being conducted by the Grand Duke Sergious Michaelovitch, Inspector-General of Artillery.

The general belief is that a wide-spread plot did not exist, but evidences of design are so apparent that the statement attributing the presence of a loaded shell from a previous target practice evoked smiles in many quarters. It is pointed out as being highly improbable that the gun had not been cleaned for two days, and it is impossible that a second cartridge could have been inserted for saluting purposes behind the first; and it is certainly a startling coincidence that the gun containing this missile should have been trained directly on the Imperial chapel.

Whatever may be the solution, it is a strange fact that the shot came from the Bourse Esplanade, where was stationed the First Horse Artillery of the Guard, the premier artillery organization of the empire, and one of the most noted regiments in the whole Russian service. The roster of this organization of aristocratic traditions has included Grand Dukes, Princes, and some of the most illustrious names in Russia. Lieut.-Gen. Grippenberg was formerly an officer of the regiment, and Grand Duke Sergius Michaelovitch, the chief artillery inspector of the Russian army, whose duty it is to conduct the investigation, was himself, formerly colonel of the regiment.

London, Jan. 21.—The London papers to-day, and their St. Petersburg correspondents, take the gravest view of the internal conditions in Russia. The majority express the belief that yesterday's incident was a premeditated attempt on the life of the Emperor Nicholas, and maintain that the strike is much more a political than an industrial movement. In short, they consider that every sign makes it apparent that the empire is on the verge of a revolution. It is alleged that the St. Petersburg manufacturers have decided to reject the strikers' demands and that the Orthodox priest, Father Gopon, the picturesque figure who has constituted himself the leader of the strike movement, and possesses the men's complete sympathy, threatens to march on Sunday at the head of 100,000 strikers to the Winter Palace with a petition for political rights, and that he will refuse to depart until the document is presented to the Czar.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 21.—The employes of the Sangalli and Kolinkin spinning mill ceased work this morning, and considerable further accessions to the ranks of the strikers are expected in the course of the day. The men already out in pursuance of the plan to enforce a general strike are parading the streets of the Basil Island district, compelling workshops, printing works and small shopkeepers to close. It is estimated that the bands so engaged aggregate 5,000 men. They have broken into several factories, and into the printing works of the Academy of Science, forcing the employes to join them. The management of the printing works, which is a Government establishment, acting on the advice of the police, agreed to the men giving up work so to avoid a disturbance.

A petition to Emperor Nicholas, now circulating at workmen's meetings for signatures, bitterly complain of the desperate condition of the workers and their "deprivation of human rights." The petition expresses devotion to the Emperor, and concludes;—

"Be merciful to us. Let us live. If thou leavest us in this position, we prefer to die."

Russians Were Chinese

Tokio, Jan. 20.—It is believed here that the Chinese reported to be accompanying Lieut.-Gen. Mitschenko's raiders are either uniformed bandits or soldiers who had been impressed as guides. It is not believed that Chinese regulars have been authorized to join the raiders.

The report that Russian troops are disguised as Chinese is regarded much more seriously, and it is under investigation.

WEATHER NOTES

H. B. COLLINS FOUND

Guilty of Supplying Information to the Russians

Yokohoma, Jan. 20.—H. B. Collins, a man of Portuguese blood, but who has long been a resident of Japan, was publicly tried to-day on the charge of disclosing military secrets. The evidence showed that Collins visited Port Arthur and Tien-Tsin last year, and received a thousand yen from Generals Ogorodinkof and Desino, together with a private cipher, that he might transmit information.

Last October Collins wrote from Yokohama detailing the proposed despatch of Japanese troops, giving their number, their destination, and their purpose, to General Desino, but the letter was stopped at Nagasaki.

The maximum penalty for the offence is six years' imprisonment. The passing of the sentence was deferred until the 24th instant.

UNDERWRITTERS UNEASY

Steamer Powerful at Woosung as her Crew Refuse to go to Vladivostock

London, Jan. 20.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Shanghai says that the British steamer Powerham, with a cargo of coal, has entered Woosung, her crew refusing to proceed with her to Vladivostock, to which port the vessel and cargo are consigned.

UNDERWRITERS UNEASY.

London, Jan. 20.—The recent captures by Japanese warships of steamers carrying contraband of war has caused uneasiness among the underwriters at Lloyd's. Not long ago insurance was effected on such vessels at about 30 guineas per cent. To-day the premium on vessels destined to pass through the Strait of Korea was 70 guineas, and on vessels bound for Vladivostock by way of Laperouse Strait, 50 guineas per cent. It is estimated that some fifty steamers bound for Vladivostock are now approaching the Sea of Japan. All of them are insured as war risks by the Lloyd's Company for about two million pounds.

Troops are Watching Strikers in St. Petersburg—Illness Among Suspected

St. Petersburg, Jan. 20.—The strike situation is grave. To-night there are 58,000 men out, and the movement is spreading to the big cotton mills, which employ over 50,000 operatives. Meetings have been called for to-morrow, at which the Socialistic Democratic leaders will endeavor to convert the strike into a vast political demonstration, which at the present crisis might have serious developments. The authorities are adopting every precaution to avoid an outbreak but the Social Democrats are spurring on the strikers, and there is danger of a collision with the troops, which would be almost sure to be followed by red flag demonstrations, accompanied by blood-shed. The city is full of sensational rumors, and rioting generally is expected. The great industrial quarters of St. Petersburg presents the appearance of an armed camp. The idle factories are surrounded by cordons of police and patrols of infantry march about the snow covered plains. The strikers are led by a priest named Gopon, who is idolized by the workmen, and who represents them in negotiations with the employers.

MUSIC LESSONS

Often Bring on Nervous Troubles if the Food is not Right.

It is curious how the study of music and piano practice brings on so many cases of nervous prostration. One would think that an art so divine would protect its votaries. Sometimes the food is at fault.

The daughter of a Minister in Albany, Wis. when in the midst of her studies in music, found herself rundown and approaching nervous prostration.

"She lost flesh rapidly, appetite disappeared, and that distressing sign of approaching sickness—lassitude and weariness—was with her steadily."

The Minister—her Father—had her put on Grape-Nuts and she began an improvement immediately. He says; "scores of mornings she ate nothing but Grape-Nuts and cream for breakfast, and improved so rapidly that it was a surprise to the family. Now she is in fine condition, has continued her studies, walks four times a day to school—three quarters of a mile each way—and is a fine specimen of health and strength."

The Minister speaks of another young girl 8 years old who suffered terribly from chronic indigestion, and was unable to attend school, a weak puny little girl who could not eat any sort of food without distress.

Upon the suggestion of the Minister she was put on Grape-Nuts food and a change began to take place within a day or two. She is now a healthy, natural girl.

There's a reason. Every little particle of Grape-Nuts, when examined by a magnifying glass shows on the outside small particles of sugar. This is not ordinary sugar, but it is a peculiar kind, resulting from the change of starch into sugar, which exudes from the particles during the process of manufacture. This is called Post Sugar and is ready for digestion and assimilation without in any way taxing the organs of the body.

That is one reason why Grape-Nuts will rebuild a person quickly. There is another and even more important reason. The food contains certain elements selected from wheat and barley intended by Nature to be used in rebuilding the soft gray filling in the nerve centres and brain. These elements are phosphate of potash and albumen which combine in the human body to make the soft gray matter referred to.

When the brain and nerves are properly fed the whole machinery of the body moves along with strength and precision. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

WAR MUST COME IN TURKEY.

London, January 20.—Gen. Zontcheff, the Macedonian revolutionary leader, states in a private letter to Alfred Stead, who is bringing out a book on Macedonia, that conditions in the Turkish Vilayet are such as will bring about a yearly repetition of the horrors of a year ago. "I have been too busy in the interior," says the General, "to write anything for your book. The situation all over Macedonia exhibits the certainty of a renewed struggle against the Turks, with the usual incidents of calamity. The reform program of Russia and Austria, countenanced by the other powers, have proved but poor defence against our crafty enemy. War must come again, for the conditions can produce nothing else."

Tzontcheff's testimony corroborated that from every other well informed source except the Ottoman Government. This explains the despatch from the Vienna correspondent of The Times stating that "Macedonia occupies the serious attention of the great powers.

TERRIBLE FATALITY AT CULTUS, NORFOLK COUNTY

Whitehead's Traveling Sawmill Was Blown Up Killing Four Men and Seriously Injuring Three Others.

Langton, Ont., Jan. 21.—A terrible accident took place at Cultus last night when Whitehead's traveling sawmill was blown up. Three men were killed, and three injured, two of them probably fatally.

The dead are;

Charles Panard, George Aspben, Freeman Moffatt and George McCallum.

The injured are;

Michael Aspben, who is not expected to recover, and George Whitehead, who is slightly injured.

It is supposed that the water in the boiler got low while the tender's attention was elsewhere.

A BANQUET TO HON. W. S. FIELDING

Is Being Arranged for by the British Liberals

MR. JOHN MORLEY'S SPEACH

Interpreted by Anti-Chamberlainites as Proof Canada is Indifferent to Preference

London, Jan. 21.—The arrival of Hon. W. S. Fielding, the Canadian Finance Minister, from Vienna, somewhat delayed by specialists' treatment of his daughter, is expected in the next few days. Arrangements are on foot on behalf of Hon. H. H. Asquith, Sir Edward Grey and other Liberal leaders to give a politicall dinner in his honor. It is not yet known whether Mr. Fielding will accept, considering the present position of the fiscal controversy.

Mr. John Morley, who will perhaps also be present, was most anxious in his last night's speech at Brechin, which is the first he has made after his Canadian visit to disclaim the charge of "Little Englandism" against himself. He admitted that contact with Canadians had enlarged his horizon.

Anti-Chamberlainite journals use his speech, especially his declaration that the preference is no longer a live issue in Canada as fresh proof that Canada is well content with the present British fiscal policy.

Canada's desire for a preference will only be placed beyond British party disputings when the Dominion Parliament makes a clear national pronouncement.

BRITON WHIPS BOER

General Viljoen Got Whipping From an English Woman

Chicago, Jan. 20.—An actual clash between a Boer and a Briton happened last evening, when a young English woman, Miss May Belfort, publicly horsewhipped Gen. Ben. J. Viljoen at the entrance of the Coliseum, on Wabash avenue, Viljoen, who is the hero of many battles in the Boer war, and known for his bravery and courage, was dumbfounded when he was suddenly confronted by his former sweet-heart who came all the way from England with the avowed purpose of horsewhipping him for having as she declared, refused to keep his promise to marry her. The Boer soldier and pedestrians were amazed when the irate woman suddenly emerged from the shadow of a building and delivered a severe horse whipping, accompanied by spectacular tongue lashing, to the astonished General, who never lost his nerve. The woman slashed the General until she was exhausted, and then cried, "Now, go to your new love, but you will never forget this whipping."

General Viljoen made a rush for the entrance of the Coliseum, and was

CANADIAN TRADE IN GREAT BRITAIN

British Dealers Complain of Canadian Manufacturers' Methods

TALK OF "DISHONESTY"

Goods not Sent According to Sample —Americans Gain Customers of Canadians

London, January 20.—Considerable complaint is being made by members of the Canadian export trade in Great Britain as to the treatment they receive at the hands of Canadian manufacturers. With the exception of two or three of the greatest concerns, they say they are put to great inconvenience through goods not being sent according to sample and being refused by their customers, and also by delay in transmission. In this respect they contrast them with the American manufactures. They feel naturally sore when trying to push Canadian trade. "Dishonesty" was the term used by a member of one of the largest of such export firms in speaking to the Canadian Associated Press. He said a week never went by without having such a complaint and quoted numerous instances.

NEWSPAPER POSTAGE.

Among the resolutions to be introduced at the annual meeting of the Association of the Chambers of Commerce in February, is one of the Birmingham Chamber regarding newspaper postages to Canada. The resolution proposes that a memorial be addressed to the Postmaster-General, calling his attention to the resolution passed at the last annual meeting in reference to the rate of postage on newspapers and magazines despatched to Canada and urging upon him the necessity in the interests of British trade and commerce of taking special steps to assimilate such rate with the low bulk rate at present in operation between the United States and Canada.

CANNING COMPETITION.

The Canadian and American fruit and meat canning industries are being brought into sharp contact as regards the trade of Great Britain. London wholesale men complain that the Canadian combine is attempting to save a small margin by selling direct to retailers. Naturally the wholesalers objects to this, and show a tendency as far as possible to boycott Canadian goods in favor of American. Americans find in this an opportunity of making a bold bid, with the help of the wholesalers, to drive Canadian goods out of the British market.

THE NEUTRALITY OF CHINA SAID TO BE ASSURED.

The Pekin Government so Informs the Diplomats--The Japanese Capital Celebrates the Capture of Port Arthur With a Great Demonstration.

Pekin, Jan. 21.—A high official of the Chinese Foreign Office said in an interview this afternoon that the neutrality of China was assured now as hitherto. Every precaution has been taken, and he could only suppose that the present Russian complaints were intended to constitute a pretext for further demands as compensation for the loss of Port Arthur. The official emphatically denied that there was any connection between Chinese neutrality and anti-foreign feeling.

BIG GUNS SENT NORTH.

Huenshan, Jan. 21.—A considerable increase has been noticeable the last few days in the range of Japanese artillery. This fact afford ground for the belief that part of the heavy guns used in the siege of Port Arthur have been sent north. The Chinese confirm this. It is not believed, however, that any eleven or nine-inch guns have arrived, and been placed in position. The last three weeks of mild weather have favored Japanese operations.

TOKIO'S "PRETORIA DAY."

Tokio, Jan. 21.—The business men of this city celebrated the capture of Port Arthur to-day. Speeches were made by the Premier, Count Katsura, Vice-Admiral Togo, and the Ministers of War and the Navy. The vice-de-camp of the Emperor left the Shimbashi Station to-day, taking with him nine carloads of Imperial gifts for the officers and men of the army in the field.

It is stated that there are 18,585 sick and wounded Russian prisoners at Port Arthur. Of these 3,657 are connected with the navy.

BLOCKADE RUNNER CONDEMNED.

Nagasaki, Jan. 21.—The British steamer Lethington has been condemned by the Naval Prize Court at Sasebo. The Lethington was captured on January 11 on the Tsushima straits, with a cargo of coal said to be for Vladivostock.

Paris, Jan. 21.—The international commission appointed to inquire into the North Sea incident began its public sessions this afternoon. The meeting of the commission was held in the state dining-hall of the D'Orsay Palace, which was crowded with high officials, diplomats, and representatives of the navies of the principal maritime powers. Several members of the staff of the Japanese Legation were among the diplomats present. Admiral Fournier, France, presided with Rear-Admiral Beaumont, Great Britain, and Admiral Von Spaun, Austria-Hungary, at his right and Vice-Admiral Doubassoff, Russia, and Rear-Admiral Davis, United States on his left. A large force of British counsel and advisers were at the right of the court. Baron Taube, the Russian judicial adviser, and other Russians, were in the left part of the hall.

Hugh O'Bierne, of the British Embassy, agent of Great Britain before the international commission, read the charges, which consist of 17 specifications, minutely setting forth the attack on the Hull fishing fleet. It was specifically declared that no Japanese torpedo boats and no Japanese whatever were in among the fishing fleet, and that no Japanese warships were anywhere in the North Sea.

Baron Taube read the Russian reply, which specifically declared that two strange boats approached the Russian squadron, which the searchlights disclosed to be torpedo boats. Thereupon fire was opened, the torpedo boats moving off and later disappearing. The Russian statement further asserted that Admiral Rojestvensky was absolutely obliged to act as he did in order to destroy the torpedo boats which had attacked his squadron.

BRITISH CHARGES.

The principal charges of the British statement follow;

On the night in question there were not any warships whatever in the neighborhood of the fishing fleet, except those of the Russian navy.

No warships had been seen by the fishing boats since a long time previous.

None of the boats making up the fishing fleet carried any kind of material of war.

No Japanese warships of any kind whatever were at that moment in the North Sea.

There were not any Japanese upon the fishing boats.

The Russian fire continued after their searchlights clearly showed the vessels were peaceful fishing boats.

None of the Russian ships gave any assistance.

The fire killed two men, wounded six, sank one boat and damaged five others.

The statement concludes that the attack was without any provocation upon the pacific fishing boats, pursuing their usual and rightful avocation.

RUSSIA'S REPLY.

The following are the principal points of the Russian reply.

At about midnight the flagship, Kniaz Souvaroff, saw the outlines of two small boats, which approached with great speed, with all lights extinguished, directly towards the battleship.

When the two suspicious boats came within range of the Russian searchlights they were recognised as torpedo boats. Thereupon the battleships opened fire.

Thereafter a number of small fishing boats, not showing the required lights, were observed. Presently there was a strong feeling of danger upon the battleships and the imperious duty of protecting themselves against the attack of the torpedo boats obliged a continuance of fire, despite the evident risks of hitting not only the fishing boats, but also the ships of the squadron itself, which had arrived within the zone of fire.

In the meantime the two torpedo boats drew off and shortly after disappeared. Fearing that some of the fishing boats were damaged, yet being certain that all danger from the two torpedo boats, or possibly others, was not completely removed, Admiral Rojestvensky considered it indispensable for the entire squadron to continue its route without stopping.

Admiral Rojestvensky, while taking into account the damage caused to inoffensive fishermen, subjects of a neutral power, was nevertheless compelled to use all the means in hispower to destroy the torpedo boats which attacked his squadron.

Primarily due to the prominence into which the war with Russia has brought Japan and everything Japanese, the system of self-defence known as jiu-jitsu, pronounced commonly "joojoots," has attracted considerable attention. Not unnaturally there has resulted a great deal of misunderstanding, due to ignorance on the part of interpreters, and also to conflicting testimony of those supposed to speak authoritatively on the subject. Should ever the Mikado or Admiral Togo or Gen. Nogi issue a pamphlet on jiu-jitsu we should accept his dictum as final, and would present it to our readers. In the meantime it may prove interesting to consider some of the claims made by Japanese and foreign athletics for a method which is likely to prove exceedingly popular in the near future.

Quite a tilt was given jiu-jitsu a few weeks ago by President Roosevelt devoting himself to its mastery. The president, of course, sets the fashion in athletics, and his lead was immediately followed by many prominent men. The fad has spread rapidly, and now one may see it in magazines advertisers who guarantee to so instruct the feeblest physique that in a few weeks a featherweight will be able to render hors de combat the most powerful adversary. Furthermore, Commissioner McAdoo, of the New York police, is considering the advisability of having members of the force trained a la jiu-jitsu. A Japanese expert gave an interesting exhibition for the commissioner's benefit, and those who saw the performance declared it to be wonderful.

The story of this sensational demonstration must do much to popularize the science, as a brief description will indicate. The exponent of the Japanese wrestling system was a small man, weighing less than 120 pounds, and in height something less than 5ft. 6in. Arrayed against him were a number of noted athletes, one of them being John Flannagan, the hammer-thrower, whose name will be familiart o most of our readers. Flannagan is a man of magnificent physique, weighing considerably more than 200 pounds, a mass of bone and trained muscle. There were several others of more than local note as boxers or strong men, of all builds, from the short, chunky, weight-putter to the anewy middle-weight boxer. The Jap was permitted to seize his man, and the next instant the victim be wrenched to his knees, or shot over the instructor's shoulder Resistance served only to increase the discomfiture of the victim. The desperate resistance that a man would make were his life threatened was not resorted to, for the good and sufficient reason that bones would surely be broken—and not the bones of the Japanese. One after another all his opponents were easily handled by the little brown man.

THE UNDERLYING PRINCIPLE.

What this Jap did is not exceptional for any professor of the art can do as much regardless of his physical strength. It is obvious that the exponent's mere brawn or nervous energy had little or nothing to do with jiu-jitsu, and this fact one established, we arrive at the underlying principle of the science. How can a small man, with the strength of a boy, grasp a big fellow by the arm and break it by a twist? How is it that a girl trained in the art, can hurl a burly ruffian over her shoulder? Let no one think either of these feats can be accomplished without strength. Strength, and very superior strength, is used, but it is the strength of the man who resists jiu-jitsu. In short, the expert knows how to turn his assailant's strength against him. It is manifest, then, that the greater the strength exerted against one of these deadly grips, the greater the punishment inflicted on him who puts it forth. In our wrestling bouts we have long taken advantage of this principle, but it has been left to the Japanese to perfect a new and complete system of self-defence upon it.

STORIES FROM JAPANESE HOSPITALS

All Japan is now a hospital, but the city whither the wounded are borne in the greatest numbers is Osaka, which with its belching chimneys and busy manufacturing and commercial life, has been called the Japanese Chicago. Here are five great hospitals and in them are at present twenty thousand wounded soldiers and sailors.

A Japanese poet, Yone Noguchi, writing from Osaka, relates many thrilling stories of heroism and self-sacrifice performed by brave men now lying crippled and wounded in the Osaka hospitals. Some of these will go out into the world wrecks of their former selves, for many the life-tide is ebbing fast, but from not a single one of them, even in the midst of the most poignant sufferings, is there heard a murmur of regret for the sacrifice they have made for the Emperor and fatherland.

Everything is done to cast some lightness around their shadowed lot. Sympathetic men and women bring them loving offerings, and school children gather around them to sing songs of cheer and fervent patriotism. English and American nurses of the Red Cross and other orders, as the festival of the birth of Christ drew near, devoted hours not required by their ministrations to the sufferings, to prepare for them a Christmas festival which should be kept in the Anglo-Saxon spirit.

The doors of these hospitals are never shut. Ambulances constantly arrive with their ghastly burdens. In the odors of the medicines, the blood stains, the crippled, mutilated bodies, the torture, the agony, the your family before you was born, constant presence of death, may be seen the awful aftermath of battle.

He goes on to tell in lyrical and moving prose of deeds of heroism, mercy and devotion performed by these brave and patient sufferers, deeds as worthy of deathless remembrance as are any recorded on historic pages.

It is well that in so deplorable a strife there should come uppermost traits that so honor and exalt human nature. It is to be regretted that this innate nobleness found in all nationalities in all classes and conditions of men, should not subserve higher and more human interests than those of war. The fall of Port Arthur gives hope of a speedy cessation of hostilities between the two nations whose soldiers in this deplorable contest have shown equal bravery, patriotism and self-sacrifice.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Kuropatkin's soldiers, according to dispatches from the Far East, are beginning to lose confidence in him, owing to the fact that he has not won any victories. This is unfortunate. Kuropatkin should go out some morning and win a victory just to show his soldiers what one looks like.

Troops are Watching Strikers in St. Petersburg—Fierce Rioting Expected

The strikers are led by a priest named Gapon, who is idolized by the workmen, and who represents them in negotiations with

The strike leaders claim to have funds enough to hold out for a month, but this is doubted, and the lack of money and the privations of winter and perhaps Government interference are expected to make the strike short and sharp.

The strike has an important bearing on the war in the far east, as every day's delay in completing Government contracts at the iron works means the loss of precious time in the starting of the third Pacific squadron.

TIES UP SHIPBUILDING

Early this morning the employes of the Neva shipbuilding Works decided to support the strikers of the Putiloff and Franco-Russian, formerly the Baird works. Subsequently 12,000 of the men of the Neva works informed their managers that they had gone out on a general strike.

The strike at the Neva works involves the suspension of the construction of submarine boats and also the work on two ocean-going vessels similar to those of the volunteer fleet, and several "gun-boats" and torpedo boats, besides the preparation of war material urgently required for naval and military purposes.

IN FIGHTING SPHERE.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 20.—It is semi-officially stated that, although Russia at the beginning of the war agreed with the other powers to observe the neutrality of China, so long as Japan and China herself did, she specifically included within the sphere of hostilities the territory between the Liao River and the Yinkow and Sinmintig Railway.

MIRSKY IS OUT.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, excepting 8 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres more or less.

ENTRY

Entry may be made personally at a local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situate, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES

A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act, and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), or any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If a settler was entitled to and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

(4) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same town, township, or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of clauses (2) (3) or (4) must cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, or substitute 20 head of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, and have besides 80 acres substantially fenced.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd of June, 1899.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled and the land may again be thrown open for entry.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT

Should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

INFORMATION

Newly arrived immigrants will receive, at the Immigration Office in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing lands to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Land Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands, to which the Regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Co.

INCORPORATED

Capital $5,000,000. Shares $1.00 Each, Par Value, Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable.

We have just secured the agency for the above splendid proposition, of which we have been allotted a block of Treasury stock. We can confidently recommend this as a safe and, we believe, exceedingly profitable investment. Every dollar of stock is guaranteed by twenty year, full paid, gold bond, delivered to purchaser of stock, from an investment Company that has no interest whatever in the company, but who are disposing of the debentured bonds to the public, and, under their charter, they are compelled to deposit securities to an equal amount, to the State Treasurer under which they received their charter, thereby doubly securing the payment of their gold bonds.

The Company's property, which is now past the project stage, is known to be marvellously rich in gold.

Following is the opinion of G. W. Miller, Mining Engineer, formerly with the Boston and Montana Consolidated Copper and Silver Mining Company, U. S.; Simmer and Jack Mining Co., Limited, Klaasfountain, South Africa:—

"You have here a most valuable property and one of the strongest fissure veins that can be found in any part of the world.

"With the present development of the Monument Mine, I estimate that 100 tons per day can be raised, which will mill from $15.00 to $20.00 per ton. The total cost of mining the ore, delivering and milling, I place at about $4.00 per ton. With increased milling capacity, it is safe to say that the mine can furnish 100 tons of $15.00 ore, which would yield a clear profit of $11.00 per ton, or $1,100.00 per day (equal to $400,000.00 per annum). Estimated total value of ore in sight, $2,500,000."

During the past summer, a party of the Company Directors visited the property, taking with them, Amos P. Brown, Ph.D., Mining Engineer and Professor of Geology and Mineralogy at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Brown writes as follows:—

"In regards to the amount of ore available at the mines at Silverton, I saw on the dumps several thousand tons, probably 5000 tons would be an under-estimate.

"As to the size of the ore body itself, from what I saw of the geological structure, I think that there is every indication that it will be found to extend underground as far as the out-croppings on the south side of the gulch. This would mean an ore body large enough to keep the present mill running for many years to come.

A write up of the proposition will appear in these columns in a few days. Watch for it. In the meantime we will be pleased to furnish full information to investors.

Stocks—The MARKETS OF THE WORLD—Grains

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

The Salido Gold and Copper Company

Incorporated under the laws of Arizona, with a capital of $3,oc ooo forever on-assessable divided into shares of $1 each, par value. All investments insured Granite Securities Company.

The "SALIDO GOLD COPPER COMPANY" enterprise offers attractions to the investors of the country, that without thorough investigation, would scarcely seem probable. If only a fraction is realized of what any prudent business man in his own affairs would regard as absolutely certain, the enterprise must prove abundantly successful and exceedingly profitable

SALE OF STOCK

The company will prosecute the work of development with all the diligence that the cash in the treasury will permit and circumstances warrant, and to this end a small amount of the treasury stock is now placed upon the market, in blocks of not less than One Hundred Shares. The par value of the stock is One Dollar per share, fully paid and forever non-assessable.

The company reserves the right to advance the price of stock without notice.

REMEMBER

First—That all payments for treasury stock go into the treasury for development work and not into the pockets of the promoters.

Second—There are no salaried officers

Third—The incorporators have put their own good money into this enterprise and being business men, intend to do business along business lines

Fourth—That this company is honest.

Fifth—If you are thinking of investing in mining stocks this is worthy of your careful investigation.

OTHER PROPERTIES

This Company owns four other Gold and Copper Mines, which title is now in process in the laws of Mexico. As soon as title is perfected, we shall commence to develop them as we certainly expect something very great from these properties Our assays taken have been of the very best, showing gold and copper from $6.00 to $122. 30 per ton.

I have secured a small block of this stock, which I offer at the following prices: Unguaranteed 40 cents per share, guaranteed 80 cents per share. These prices will only prevail for a short time, as the number of shares for sale at this price is limited. The Shares will then be advanced to 40 cents for the unguaranteed and 80 cents for the guaranteed. I can unhesitatingly recommend this investment to the Canadian public.

The California Buckeye Mine

This mine consists of 15 acres of good zinc land, well prospected by drill holes showing forty feet of good pay dirt at a depth of 154 feet.

On the property are hoisting engine, shaft house, ore buckets, Worthington steam pump, air drill, cars and pipes. Over $15,000 have been expended to date, and the proposition itself is a good one so much so that we can personally guarantee an immediate dividend of 8 per cent. this year and 12 per cent. after 1905, with an additional quarterly dividend.

Capital Stock $250,000

Shares, par value $1.00 each. Fully paid up and non-assessable. No Preferred Stock. No bonded indebtedness

The shares are selling at 20 cents each, with a prospect of the price being raised.

The Joplin Daily Globe says that over $10,000.000 worth of zinc and lead were mined in 1904 up to 1st Dec., in the Joplin District In the California Buckeye Zinc Mine, located in the centre of the Joplin District, it has been demonstrated that the ore body has an average thickness of 42 feet and the runs are 50 feet wide, about 120 feet from the surface.

The rough dirt for the first three months of operation produced zinc ore to the amount of $12 95 per cent., while the average for the district is less than 5 per cent., but for the purpose of being on the safe side, we calculate on only 8 per cent. ore to the ton of dirt, and it shows a profit each day with two shifts of men, of $566 20

We stand ready to prove every statement made, and if enough stock is subscribed for in this locality a directorship of the company is at the disposal of the subscribers.

Any further information and proofs of earning capacity will be cheerfully supplied.

CONSOLIDATION OF THE EMPIRE

Lord Morpeth Says Colonies Fear Bogey of Militarism

SIR GILBERT PARKER SPEAKS

He Discusses the Preferential Campaign in a Speech at Cape town, South Africa

London, January 20.—Lord Morpeth, in a speech at Birmingham on Imperial consolidation, said that the Colonies were rather afraid of being drawn into what some of their newspapers called "the Vortex of Militarism," but this feeling could only arise from the fact that they lived so far away from these islands. If they lived here they would know that this country did not suffer from militarism, but very much the reverse.

Commenting on Lord Morpeth's speech, the Birmingham Daily Post says: The British Empire is so constituted that its existence is bound up to a large extent with some system of mutual defence. Hitherto the Colonies have not fully realized this, for the simple reason that they have never yet experienced the shock of a sudden alarm through an unfriendly action or threat. Such a shock may be far off in its power, but on the other hand it may come at no distant date. Then the Colonies will, we believe, recognize their obligation to the Mother Country with respect to the question of Imperial defence.

SIR GILBERT PARKER.

Sir Gilbert Parker, speaking at Cape Town, said that the preferentialists asked for reciprocity and an alliance. Mr. Balfour and Mr. Chamberlain wanted sufficient equipment for an increase of trade within the Empire, inducing general stability and individual strength. Love and sentiment were the basis, but he asked for marriage lines

WESTMINSTER GAZETTE.

The Westminster Gazette says: "It is really the last straw for it to be proposed that the Mother Country should be married to one of her own sons, yet Lord Selborne assured us that thinking imperially is the same as thinking intellectually."

HAD HAND IN CANAL OUTRAGE

Philadelphia Police Believe Rosseau Took Part in Welland Canal Affair

Philadelphia, Jan. 19.—A police official is of the opinion that Gesner Rosseau was concerned in the Welland Canal outrage. He says;

"Rosseau's confession is adroit. Superficially, it makes him look like a dangerous crank. This is far from being the case, Inspector McClusky of New York believes Rosseau belongs to a powerful band. So do we. We are working on this theory. Rosseau had something to do with the attempt to wreck the Welland Canal.

"Our proof of this will be made public in time. How many other affairs of the kind he has been concerned in we have not yet determined. He might have gone on indefinitely if he had not meddled with the Owen Kelly mystery.

"Luke Dillon, the Philadelphian who was sentenced for life as "Karl Dutiman" for the Welland affair, was a close friend of Kelly. They were all in the same group. Kelly saw a light later, and made enemies.

"Rosseau will go to New York in a few days, and then it will be up to the New York detectives to do the digging. If they find, what we believe they will, the mystery of Owen Kelly's disappearance, the true story of the Welland Canal outrage, the inside facts concerning the attempt to blow up the Umbria, and the names of those connected with Rosseau in his attempt to wreck the statue of Frederick the Great, will be made clear. I have no hesitancy in saying that if the New York force, working conjointly with us, can dig up the facts both of us seek, revelations will be made that will shake the whole country."

NOT SO HOPEFUL.

The New York police admit failure so far. As to the loss of the Naronic, the blowing up of the Welland Canal, the Colorado bomb-throwing, and the disappearance of Owen Kelly, Inspector McClusky said yesterday that the most exhaustive investigation in various cities of the country had failed to bring any disclosures affecting Rosseau.

"He is still a mystery," added the inspector, "and he may decide to keep his mouth shut and go to prison so that we may never find out whether or not he was the agent of a band of conspirators."

WHY LIBERALS BREAK TIES WON'T STAND FOR ROSSISM

Exposures of Machine Infamy Revolt Men of the Type of S. H. Blake.

Liberals of the type of Hon. S. H Blake, Rev. D C. Hossack, and Rev Nathaniel Smith hasten to dissociate themselves from the party of Hon. G W Ross Still they claim to be Liberals and that they have not departed from the principles they have professed all their lives

Rossism is not Liberalism Hundreds of Liberals are breaking party ties and on the 25th of the present month will vote for the [illegible] candidates And the independent electors of Ontario will join the old-time Liberals in the house-cleaning exercises.

The ills of the Liberal party date from the accession of Hon. G. W. Ross to the leadership of the Liberal party in Ontario. This event occurred in 1899. Since and including 1899 we have had a record of electoral debauchery that has made the name of Ontario a reproach to honest people. Hon. G. W Ross signalized his acceptance of the duties of Premier by reorganizing the Cabinet. He found himself with a very small majority in the House and the machine was organized to strengthen his position. The West Elgin frauds followed. Crooks were imported into the riding to switch the votes of honest Conservatives. These crimes were exposed by the Conservatives and the Liberal candidate made a confession that "the declared number of votes for Mr Macnish largely exceeded the number of bona fide votes cast for him" By such frauds Mr. Ross was enabled to continue in office. The general election of 1902 left him in a still worse plight Though in a minority of the popular vote he had so arranged the constituencies as to give him a majority of two in the Legislature, but two was not a very large surplus and efforts were made to increase it. The purchase of members elected to oppose the Government was one of the means by which Mr Ross determined to hold on and in the bye elections he counted on adding a few more members to his voting strength The "Three Norths" followed All were carried by Mr Ross by methods afterwards exposed in the election courts

With the revelations of Mr. Gamey the fortunes of Ross declined and subsequent bye elections failed to give the Premier the assistance he required The most revolting electoral methods were resorted to at Sault Ste Marie and by wholesale plugging by a band of [illegible] the Government succeeded in temporarily forestalling defeat

The Soo revelations were the climax of a long series of corrupt acts performed by unscrupulous politicians on behalf of Premier Ross. Hardly less revolting were the methods employed by agents of the machine to unseat Donald Sutherland in South Oxford For his efforts in behalf of Premier Ross the chief conspirator, Jackson, was rewarded with a lucrative office in England

Is there any wonder that many honest Liberals are revolting, and that others who will not go the length of declaring their opposition have no heart for the present contest which means the life or death of Rossism and all that the term implies?

WHITNEY IS ON RECORD FOR ADVANCED PROGRAM

Mr. Whitney will go into power with a well defined and progressive policy and while he makes it unmistakeably clear that the main issue in the present contest is honest and decent Government he promises legislation along advanced lines. The extremity of the Government since the advent of Mr. Ross to the premiership has prevented the adoption of legislation of this character. Mr. Ross has been too much occupied with the business of attempting to strengthen his precarious hold on office to devise legislation or to carry into execution his much-heralded program of "building up Ontario."

Mr Whitney offers a comprehensive program His attitude on Provincial issues has been in the interests of the whole people He proposes to broaden the scope of the agricultural college, to establish experimental stations and to give increased agricultural instruction in the public schools An experimental fruit station in the Niagara District has been suggested

The encouragement of a sanitary system of sewerage in towns and villages is one of the proposals of the Opposition The Government has offered inducement to municipalities to [illegible] wherever a comprehensive system of roadways has been constructed part of the cost has come from the Provincial Revenues The same method could well be adopted with regard to sewerage, and the Opposition has placed itself on record in this regard.

The Opposition has spoken in favor of public ownership. In the Legislature Dr Pyne's resolution favoring the operation of the Temiskaming Railway for ten years as an experiment was voted down by Mr. Ross and his followers.

Fair taxation of railways is a plank in the Conservative platform

Reforms are needed in the educational system of the Province and Mr. Whitney has pledged himself to apply himself to this task. His attitude on this question is clear. The Public School system should not be regarded as a mere stepping stone to the Collegiate Institute or the University. It should fit a boy or girl for the battle of life.

The nationalization of the water powers of the Province, free school books, the disposal of pulp and timber concessions at public auction, reform of the mining laws, a strict enforcement of the license laws of the Province, the branding of prison made goods—these are some of the reforms consistently advocated by Mr. Whitney and his Colleagues in and out of the Legislature.

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY

has placed a small block of their stock at the disposal of Canadian investors. This stock is sure to rapidly advance in price. The Company is now arranging to instal the power plant and a mill and cyanide plant for the reduction of their ore to a bullion on the property. They have arranged with a Trust Company having assets of $1,500,000 to put up a bond guaranteeing investors the repayment of the full amount invested. This makes investors absolutely safe. By no possibility can they lose a dollar.

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY was organized November 21, 1902 under the laws of the State of Idaho. The capitalization is one million shares of the par value of one dollar each, fully paid and non-assessable; of the 1,000,000 shares, 400,000 have been set aside as treasury stock

THE BOISE BASIN came into prominence shortly after Grimes and his party of prospectors entered the Basin country in 1862; their entrance was into the northern portion, and one discovery of rich placer ground followed another until the news of the rich finds reached the outside world, when a veritable stampede for Boise Basin commenced, towns sprang up and grew together in an incredibly short time; the rush of people to Idaho City made it a place of 20,000 people in 1867, having a business street over a mile long lined with two-story buildings streets and sidewalks filled with people day and night, business and money on every hand and the city bearing the proud distinction of being the capital of the territory of Idaho. Wages ran from $6 to $10 a day and not infrequently forty and fifty men worked on a single placer claim; the clean-up for a day's work in many instances ran close to $5,000; large fortunes were made in a few days by washing the golden sands in a pan, so eager was the quest for the shining metal that the streets of Idaho City were dug up and washed and re-washed, and the soil removed from under the houses and places of business. So extensive was the search for the hidden treasure that not only all of the low ground was worked but the foot of the mountains surrounding the city have been washed away, filling up the lower portions of the basin and extending into the town, where one of the buildings has been buried under the tailings from the numerous placer workings.

LOCATION—The property of the Gold Coin Mining Company is situated in the Gambrinus Mining District, Boise County, Idaho, on the range of mountains between Moore Creek and Elk Creek, which forms a part of the eastern boundary of the famous Boise Basin and into which these mountains are drained The property is located ten miles northeast of Idaho City, from which place there are good wagon roads either to the workings on top of the mountain or to the place of the proposed tunnels in the gulch which crosses the Tunnelsite claim.

THE CLAIMS—The Company owns a group of four contiguous lode mining claims and the Gold Coin Millsite: the names of the lode claims are the Tunnelsite, Blue Bell, Pennsylvania and Homestake, each being a full claim 600 feet wide by 1,500 feet long, excepting the Tunnelsite claim, which is 450 feet wide at the west end and 1,055 feet long: it was necessary to stake the claim in the form on account of joining the Washington property on the south and the Sub Rosa property on the west, these properties being prior locations to the Tunnelsite claim The four lode claims aggregate nearly 80 acres of rich mineral land.

Lung, Throat and Catarrhal Troubles

Cold in the Head Cured Quick'y if You Breathe Fragrant, Healing

Catarrhozone

The ordinary method of treating catarrh by the stomach is a very indirect way and, as experience has demonstrated, a very useless method to employ.

Fragrant, healing Catarrhozone, is breathed, the air, laden with minute particles of this healing balsamic liquid, spreads itself over the whole area of inflammation

It reaches the very root of disease instantly destroying by its antiseptic properties the germ life which excites and maintains the disease. Its soothing and healing action is at once apparent to the whole diseased surfaces. It cures quickly and it cures permanently.

We affirm that no proprietory medicine has ever brought forth from the people as many voluntary testimonials as Catarrhozone has received.

MRS. M. J. WHITNEY, Clay Street, Topeka, Kan., was cured of nasal catarrh, and say, "I owe Catarrhozone an immense debt of gratitude. It cured me of the most disagreeable catarrh after many doctors had pronounced my case incurable. I do not cough any more, my breath is sweet, and my respiration regular since using Catarrhozone.

MRS. JAMES TWEEDIE, of Jay Bridge, says; "For years my daughter doctored for catarrh. She had dropping in the throat, hawking, nausea, and could not sleep at night. The first days use of Catarrhozone benefitted and it cured so the catarrh never returned.'

MR. R. SHELDON, of Leamington, Ont., says; "For two years I unsuccessfully sought a remedy to cure my son of catarrh but permanent results were not attained until Catarrhozone was used. It cured my little boy like magic and he has been quite free from catarrh ever since.'

REV. D. R. SMITH, of Whitehead, N.B., says; "Catarrhozone permanently cured me of chronic catarrh of the nose and throat from which I suffered for many years, heartily recommend Catarrhozone.'

MR. R. McCALLUM, of Spring Brook, Ont., says; "A sample of Catarrhozone benefitted me more than years of treatment with doctors, and by using the dollar outfit I was completely cured in a few weeks. I recommend Catarrhozone as the most satisfactory cure for catarrh on the market. Every word said for it is true.'

MR. S. T. WRIGHT of Steads Mills Ont., says; "I had a bad attack of sore throat, with inflamed tonsils and sore chest. I inhaled Catarrhozone and it cured my trouble. I greatly admire its pleasant and soothing effect.'

MR. JAMES FERGUSON, of Perth, Ont., writes;—"I have used Catarrhozone for sore throat and cold in the head and find it is a good remedy. I highly recommend it.'

MISS CLARA B. COLBY, of London, Ont., writes;—"I had a continuous cold in the head for years, and never used anything giving such quick results as Catarrhozone. I am delighted at last to find a remedy that positively cures colds. I strongly advocate Catarrhozone; it cures every time.'

Catarrhozone cures without drugs and disagreeable medicine. It is Nature's cure—soothing, healing and pleasant to use. You simply inhale the medicated vapor of Catarrhozone through a Catarrhozone Inahler and get cured quickly. Two months treatment costs only one dollar. It can be sent by mail and used right at home any time during the night or day. Sold by druggists or by mail from N. C Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.; or Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

DASHES HERE AND THERE BY TIMES' REPORTERS

A New Feature

A new feature will be introduced at the popular Men's Meetings in the Y.M.C.A. on Sunday. The songs preceding the address, will be thrown on a canvas by means of electric light, as well as illustrations in the scenes in the life of Christ. Mr. Holmes will speak on the "20 Century Man."

The attendance at the

Peterboro' Business College

larger this year than ever

WHY?

Because we are keeping up with the growth of Peterborough, the "Electric City," which is fast becoming a leading manufacturing centre of Canada.

Over 80 per cent. of those graduating are placed in good positions in Peterborough. Attend school where you have such prospects.

NOW IS THE TIME TO ENTER

Time May be Changed

A suggestion has been made that the time of the C.P.R local train in the morning be made one hour later. It is considered by some to be too close to the 5.10 train and if the change were made it is thought greater accommodation by a two-hour run to Toronto would be given.

Resolution of Sympathy

At a late meeting of the Directors of the Central Milling Co., a resolution was passed tendering the sympathy of the company, to Mr. J. W. Hall and Mr. Peter Dawson, Directors, both of whom have had very sad bereavements. It will be remembered that Mr. Hall's son was drowned while skating on Rice Lake, and Mrs. Dawson's death occurred a few days ago. The members of the Board join with the community in general in sincere sympathy to the bereaved families.

Fewer Exhibitions Desired

The leading agricultural societies of the province are evincing considerable interest in the suggestions that has been made by Mr. H. B. Cowan, Provincial Superintendent of Agricultural societies, that the number of exhibitions held annually in Ontario should be materially reduced and that agricultural societies should receive their grants in proportion to the amounts they spend for agricultural purposes. Such a change would do away with all distinction between the township and district societies. The Ontario Fruit Growers' Association has passed a resolution approving of these suggestions and expressing the belief that such a change would result in larger sums of money being expended for agricultural purposes. The Executive of the Dominion Shorthorn Breeders' Association, at its annual meeting in Toronto, on January 16th, also passed a resolution approving of these suggestions and stating its opinion that fewer exhibitions would result in larger attendances, better prizes and better exhibits, as well as a reduction in the undesirable features now so prevalent at many exhibitions

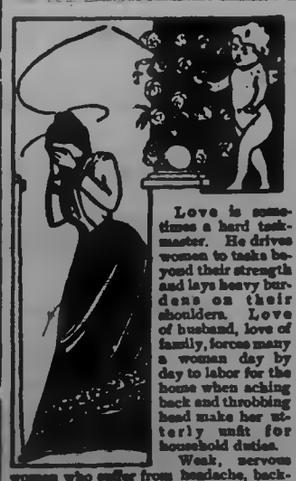
—The annual meeting of St. Andrew's church congregation will be held on Thursday night of next week.

—From now until April Picton stores will close at 9 p.m. on Saturdays. Some people are getting sensible.

—The Y.M.C.A. Boys' Hockey Team will have a drive to Lakefield to-day and play the Lakefield boys. The team will leave at 12 o'clock and return home in the evening.

—Roy Sanders, of South Monaghan, was taken to Toronto, by Chief Ruse, of Cobourg, and handed over to Superintendent Kelso of the Children's Aid Society. It appears that Roy's home training was not of the best, and he forgot or didn't know it was wrong to steal. He was brought before a magistrate for his offense, who thought the best thing was to hand him over to the Children's Aid Society of Cobourg, by whom he was sent to Toronto, and who will look after him in the future.



Love is sometimes a hard task-master. He drives women to tasks beyond their strength and lays heavy burdens on their shoulders. Love of husband, love of family, forces many a woman day by day to labor for the home when aching back and throbbing head make her utterly unfit for household duties.

Weak, nervous women who suffer from headache, backache, bearing-down pains and other consequences of womanly disease, can be completely cured by the use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"About two years ago I was taken sick and it seemed as if I had no nerves at all," writes Mrs. P. Woodbeck, of Detroy, Mich. "Could not work an hour in the day without being tired out. I doctored first with one physician, then with another, but did not receive any benefit. One would say one thing and the next something else. I had almost given up when I thought your medicine might help me, so I wrote to you asking what to do. You advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I did so and could see a difference right away. I only took four bottles in all and felt better than I had in a long time. Can work all day now and not feel tired as I would to an hour before taking your treatment. I thank it is the best medicine."

ON THE SAME TRAIN

Hon. Geo. W. Ross and Mr Whitney Travelled Eastward Together

We have had the wires hot all night to find out whether there was any trouble on the noon train (C.P.R.) yesterday. Mr. Geo. W. Ross, the present Premier, was in possession when the train arrived here, but Mr. Whitney, the coming Premier, boarded the same train. We are anxiously awaiting developments.

MEETING AT WESTWOOD

Mr. Stratton and Mr. O'Connell Spoke Last Night

A well attended meeting in the interests of Mr. Wm Anderson, Liberal candidate for East Peterborough, was held at Westwood last night, when Hon. J. R. Stratton and Mr. Daniel O'Connell were the speakers. One of the best speeches of the campaign in the East Riding was the address of Mr. O'Connell at Havelock on Monday night.

ANOTHER BIG MEETING

Mass Meeting in the Interests of Mr. R. F McWilliams

On Monday evening a mass meeting of the electors will be held in the Opera House in the interests of Mr. R. F. McWilliams, the Liberal candidate.

The special speakers will be Mr. H. C. Clute, K.C., of Toronto, a forcible speaker; Mr. J. A. McDonald, Managing Editor of the Globe, and the candidate, Mr. R. F. McWilliams. It is to be expected that there will be a large gathering of the electors.

Y. C. C. RECEPTION

Large Crowd Attend Last Night at New Club Rooms.

There was a large number of members and friends, at the Conservative Club rooms over Dutton's store, George street, last night. The rooms are elegantly furnished, and are a credit to the club. Mr. R. E. Layfield, the energetic and popular President, together with the other officers of the Club, were present, and welcomed the guests, who spent the evening very pleasantly.

It is proposed to have a formal opening in the near future, when prominent Conservatives from a distance will be present and take part.

ELECT THEIR OFFICERS

Eko Camp Club Hold Successful Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of Eko Camp Club was held in the club rooms on Thursday night, and was largely attended by the members of the club.

The reports of the different officers were presented and adopted and the officers for the coming year elected, as follows:—

Hon. Pres.—A. H. Stratton.
Pres.—R. H. Elliott.
Vice.-Pres.—J. M. Gemmell.

Executive—B. Canniff, R. P. Watt, H. Waram, W. L. Ramsden, E. Clarke.

AN INTERESTING LECTURE

Rev. J. W. Pedley on "Mrs. Wiggs, of the Cabbage Patch.

The lecture given last night by Rev. Mr. J. W. Pedley, in the Sunday school room of St. Paul's church, under the auspices of the Faithful Workers' Mission Band, was largely attended and was greatly enjoyed. The chair was occupied by Mr. John Orme, who made an ideal chairman, and who introduced the lecturer in a felicitous speech.

"Mrs. Wiggs, of the Cabbage Patch," was the subject of Mr. Pedley's lecture, and must be heard to be appreciated. He kept the large audience in thorough good humor for over an hour.

At the conclusion of the lecture, Rev. Mr. Ketchen moved a vote of thanks to the lecturer, in a few well chosen word. The resolution was seconded by Mr. Percy McLean, and carried unanimously.

—Mr. D. O. Fry, Ottawa, who has been stopping at the Snowden House for the past few days, returned home yesterday.

—Mrs. Brandon and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. J. H. Brandon, of Fenelon Falls, who were the guests of Mrs. W. H. Robertson, returned home yesterday.

—Many of our merchants are now busy taking stock.

—Peterborough defeated Port Perry at the Brock street rink in a game of hockey last night.

—The Secretary of the Y.M.C.A. wishes to warn citizens against boys who are going from door to door soliciting aid for hockey clubs, claiming to be in connection with the Y.M.C.A. No club has any authority from the Association to solicit any funds in this way.

CHANDOS.

A sleigh load of young people visited Mr. Robt. Hawkes last night, Jan. 16. He treated them with his usual hospitality. The occupants of the sleigh were Mr. Donald, and Will Tucker, Miss Kate Tucker, and Miss Annie, Miss Edna Hawkes, Mr. A. Smith, Miss Lily Kilborne, Miss Jennie, and Master Willie. They all had a good time, and were cordially invited to come again. Mr. Murphy, who is working at Mr. Hawkes', was also present. Mr. John Bigga was leading violinist.

THE OLDEST MAN IN AMERICA

Tells How He Escaped the Terrors of Many Winters by Using Pe-ru-na.

Mr. Brock's Age is 115 Years.

MR. ISAAC BROCK, BORN IN BUNCOMBE CO., N. C., MARCH 1, 1788.

His age is 115 years, vouched for by authentic record. He says: "I attribute my extreme old age to the use of Peruna."

Born before the United States was formed
Saw 22 Presidents elected.
Pe-ru-na has protected him from all sudden changes.
Veteran of four wars.
Shod a horse when 99 years old.
Always conquered the grip with Peruna.
Witness in a land suit at the age of 110 years.
Believes Peruna the greatest remedy of the age for catarrhal diseases.

ISAAC BROCK, a citizen of McLennan county, Texas, has lived for 115 years. For many years he resided at Bosque Falls, eighteen miles west of Waco, but now lives with his son-in-law at Valley Mills, Texas.

A short time ago, by request, Uncle Isaac came to Waco and sat for his picture. In his hand he held a stick cut from the grave of General Andrew Jackson, which has been carried by him ever since. Mr. Brock is a dignified old gentleman, showing few signs of decrepitude. His family Bible is still preserved, and it shows that the date of his birth was written 115 years ago.

Surely a few words from this remarkable old gentleman, who has had 115 years of experience to draw from, would be interesting as well as profitable. A lengthy biographical sketch is given of this remarkable old man in the Waco Times-Herald, December 4, 1898. A still more pretentious biography of this, the oldest living man, illustrated with a double column portrait, was given the readers of the Dallas Morning News, dated December 11, 1898, and also the Chicago-Times Herald of same date. This centenarian is an ardent friend of Peruna, having used it many years.

In speaking of his good health and extreme old age, Mr. Brock says:

"After a man has lived in the world as long as I have, he ought to have found out a great many things by experience. I think I have done so.

"One of the things I have found out to my entire satisfaction is the proper thing for ailments that are due directly to the effects of the climate. For 115 years I have withstood the changeable climate of the United States.

"I have always been a very healthy man, but of course subject to the little affections which are due to sudden changes in the climate and temperature. During my long life I have known a great many remedies for coughs, colds and diarrhœa.

"As for Dr. Hartman's remedy Peruna, I have found it to be the best, if not the only, reliable remedy for these affections. It has been my standby for many years, and I attribute my good health and extreme old age to this remedy.

"I exactly meets all my requirements. It protects me from the evil effects of sudden changes; it keeps me in good appetite; it gives me strength; it keeps my blood in good circulation. I have come to rely upon it almost entirely for the many little things for which I need medicine.

"When epidemics of la grippe first began to make their appearance in this country I was a sufferer from this disease.

"I had several long sieges with the grip. At first I did not know that Peruna was a remedy for this disease. When I heard that la grippe was epidemic catarrh, I tried Peruna for la grippe and found it to be just the thing."

In a later letter dated January 31, 1900, Mr. Brock writes:

"I am well and feeling as well as I have for years. The only thing that bothers me is my sight. If I could see better I could walk all over the farm and it would do me good. I would not be without Peruna."

Yours truly,

Isaac Brock,

For a free book on catarrh, address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

DEFEAT OF THE HON G. W. ROSS NOW REGARDED AS FAIRLY CERTAIN

Everything Points to a Victory for the Conservatives Wednesday Next---Careful Study of the Situation Throughout the Province Shows That Whitney is Almost Certain to Triumph

(Special to The Times.)

Toronto, January 22.—The Times publishes below a carefully compiled forecast of the Provincial elections, which take place on Wednesday next. It shows that the Ross Government will be in a minority of seventeen, with nine constituencies placed under the doubtful column. The Times' correspondent had access to the private information supplied by both Conservatives and Liberals, as well as from Independent sources. In the forecast published in an evening paper a day or two ago, it said that the next House will consist of 58 Conservatives and 18 Liberals. The Times makes a number of changes in the constituencies, however, but places one more constituency under the head of "doubtful."

That the Government will fall there is no reasonable doubt, and it is more than probable that the Ross party will find itself in a substantial minority when the smoke of battle clears away:

WILL AFFECT OUR COAL

Strike in Germany May Increase Price in Canada

Montreal, January 22.—Mr. F. L. Wanklyn, Vice-President of the Dominion Coal Company, said today that if the coal strike in Germany continues the tendency will be to increase the price of coal in Canada. If the demand for the British article increases, he said, the British source of import will be blocked. "It is nothing new for us to enter into direct competition with European mines. We have agencies, mostly in Sweden, and we export a considerable amount of coal to that country at a profit. If the strike prevent our exporting coal direct to Germany. The freight will not be any heavier to Libe than to Stockholm. In all probability the increase in the price of English coal will have a direct effect on the Canadian market."

BRITAIN PREPARES FOR BIG WAR

The Dogger Bank Affair Causes Considerable Alarm

ARMY AND NAVY READY

Should Trouble Come England will be Able to Control the Sea

London, January 22.—The Mail says that whatever may be the outcome of the investigation now being made into the Dogger Bank affair, the imminent peril of war which beset England for a few days immediately following the attack upon the fisher boats is having its very real influence upon both the British War Office and the Admiralty. At least, it is hard to interpret in any other way the vigorous action that these bodies have just taken upon projects that have long been either under placid discussion or held in abeyance.

For example, there is the decision of the government to rearm the artillery at a cost of $12,500,000. Bitter experience has shown the British army that its field guns were about the worst in existence, at least in the armies of first-class powers. At the same time it has been known that the government possessed the designs—and a few samples—of a gun that is probably more effective than any other in the world. Those designs are now to be used, and in two years the artillery branch of the army will be completely modernised.

Even more significant are the navy reforms. Not that the navy has been similarly antiquated in its methods, but rather that its "best" is to be made still better. During the Dogger Bank excitement much precision with which the various British fleets in home and Mediterranean waters were brought into position to bear against Russia's armada, and it was freely said that no nation on earth could have done nearly so well. Yet much greater efficiency is expected for the future.

To start with, all weak vessels are to be permanently retired and all weak squadrons are to be abandoned. Gibraltar will be the center from which British naval power will be employed. There the Atlantic fleet, which takes the place of the old channel fleet, will have its base. The new channel fleet takes the place of the old home fleet and has its base in home ports, while the Mediterranean fleet remains much as before. All vessels in reserve will be kept under commission and supplied with skeleton staffs of officers and men, so that they can be put to active service with the least possible delay.

In still other proposed reforms England is preparing to abandon procrastinating discussion for prompt action. It is a satisfaction to know, that however much the more prepare for war the men in power in her government seem firmly resolved to give their very best energies to the preservation of peace.

ACTIVITY OF THE JAPANESE

Women and Children Take Active Part in Athletics

The word "new" is used in relation to our discovery of jiu-jitsu, for it has been known for centuries in Japan. Until our own times, it remained a deadly secret in the hands of the Samurai, and was dreaded as much as the two-handed sword. Indeed, it is said that occasionally famous experts would pit themselves against swordsmen, whom they would seize and render powerless before the threatened blow could fall. But when the old caste was molded anew in the restoration the secrets of jiu-jitsu rapidly spread. The police were instructed, and, according to a Japanese gentleman who was in Canada a short time ago, this subject is now taught in the public schools of his country to boys and girls alike. He says, however, that comparatively few of them master all its intricacies, as this would involve three years' patient study and practice. The probability is that the ordinary Japanese boy knows rather less about jiu-jitsu than the Canadian youth does about boxing.

From the view that it is easy to become adept, and that Japanese women are frequently proficient in the various grips and twists, Prof. J. J. O'Brien strongly dissents. O'Brien should know, despite his name, for he taught President Roosevelt, and was chief of police at Nagasaki for years. He is supposed to be the best teacher in America, and quite a match for anyone who doesn't come of "the fighting race." O'Brien declares that jiu-jitsu is extremely brutal, and that to learn it thoroughly as taught by the Japanese, one must undergo a great amount of suffering. For this reason, he says that few really master it, and that he never met a Japanese woman who was an expert. O'Brien is Irish enough to maintain that a good boxer would be more than a match for the best jiu-jitsu apostle, for the simple reason that the latter would be knocked down before he could secure a hold. The truth of the matter seems to be that there are a few useful tricks which can be easily mastered, and that these are taught in the Japanese schools, but that preeminence in this art, as in all others, is only to be won by long and persistent practice. That it will ever supersede the British art of self-defence is extremely unlikely, but that it has its own peculiar advantages cannot be denied. One thing is sure, jiu-jitsu is neither a sport nor a pastime. It is a bowie-knife.

THE BEST FRIEND OF THE COLONIES

Lord Strathcona Pays High Tribute to Mr. Chamberlain

WILL HOLD A RECEPTION

High Commissioner will Receive Guests to International Ball in London

London, January 23.—At the annual dinner of the Manchester Wholesale Provision Association, Mr. James Smylie, the president, said that it behooved this country to take a deeper interest in the British Colonies, for there were great possibilities as to their food supplies in the future. Colonial butter was now within two or three shillings per cwt. of the price of Danish, which for a generation has held away in England. This was a great accomplishment, when it was remembered that Colonial butter had to traverse half the circumference of the globe before it landed on these shores.

Mr. R. Graham said that the only country from which provisions were delivered in Manchester by ship canal was Canada. This trade had grown enormously within a few years, as in 1897 the number of boxes of butter imported was thirteen and of cheese 7,611, while in 1904 the figures were: butter, 40,677 boxes, and cheese, 90,258.

MR. MORLEY'S SPEECH.

Commenting on Mr. John Morley's speech, the Glasgow Herald says: "Apparently he has not discovered in Canada a crisis in the history of the British Empire or any sign of that remarkable 'truth' that is being trumpeted here by all sorts and conditions of men, that if we don't do as Mr. Chamberlain says the Empire will go to pieces, and Canada in particular will sink herself to the United States. Sir Howard Vincent, who is recently from Canada, will be astonished at Mr. Morley's blindness."

THE RUSSIAN SOLDIERS REFUSE TO SHOOT STRIKERS

Men of Four Guard Regiments in St. Petersburg Agree to Help Preserve Order, But Absolutely Decline to Participate in a Massacre of the People.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 23.—The situation has much improved. There have been no disturbances of importance during the day, and the authorities believe they have the situation well in hand.

Chief of the secret police Loupoukine said to the Associated Press at o'clock.

"The strikers are perfectly quiet and well conducted. Additional troops have been brought in from Tsarskoe Selo and Peterhof to guard the mills. Artillery is stationed around the arsenal. No delegation of strikers appeared at Tsarskoe Selo last night. We are fully apprised of their intention to gather on the palace square to-morrow, but his majesty will not be there and measures have been taken to prevent strikers from making their way into the centre of the city. We are confident that order will be preserved. From our police investigation we are satisfied that the incident of Jan. 19 was an accident, due to an oversight. The battery was practicing on the previous day, and a charge of case shot was left in the gun. No evidence has been found of the existence of a plot, and the punishment which will be inflicted will probably be only for neglect and carelessness."

The scene is a very optimistic official view. Bloodshed is generally feared to-morrow. The extent of the strike and the character of the movement have surprised even those who thought they were well informed regarding the situation. The delegations of strikers which have been going round the shops to-day have been meeting with success everywhere. Even the jewelers workmen are joining. Romanoff, the policeman, who was wounded Jan. 19, is dead. The battery from which the shot was fired being number one of the regiment like all guards regiments wore the imperor's insight.

RUSSIAN ARMY RE-INFORCED.

Tokio, Jan. 23.—In well-informed quarters here it is said that the Russian army at Mukden was recently reinforced by four divisions. Its present strength is estimated at nine army corps, or 300,000 men of all arms.

Gen. Kouropatk n's headquarters are t Fong Moukteng, in close touch with the Mukden Fushun line. The Russians lately have been heavily strengthening their wings. At present two and a half divisions are facing Gen. Oku, two corps are before Gen. Nodzu and the greater strength of three corps confront Gen. Kuroki and guards the coal mines in the vicinity of the Fushun Valley.

Between the opposing armies is a network of trenches. Gen. Kuroki's outposts are within 500 yards of the Russians entrenched along the line of ridges near Kwantalien Mountain. Cannonading and rifle firing are constantly taking place, but owing to to the intense cold there seems to be no immediate likelihood of a great battle.

MUTINY.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 23.—A sensational rumor is current that the soldierrs of the Ismalowsky and three other guard regiments while saying they are ready to preserve order in the streets have openly announced that they will not shoot at the strikers. The rumors cannot be confirmed and is discredited.

GERMANY ALSO ANXIOUS NOW

Berlin, Jan. 23.—Drafts of police from most of the Prussian cities and detachments of mounted constabulary are being sent into the strike district to-day, but only as a precaution because no violence is reported.

NEARLY 200,000 MEN.

Essen, Germany, Jan. 23.—According o reports, the strikers to-day numbered 193,436 men. Two thousand miners wives met here to-day aand determined never to ask their husbands to go to the mines again unless their demands are granted.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 23.—St. Petersburg this morning presents the appearance of a beleagured city.

The military are in complete possession. The streets are lined with troops, gallopng squadrons of cavalry are seen everywhere; gendarmes are concealed in all the courtyards, and the closed factories and mills are surrounded by cordons of police and Cossacks. On every bulletin board is posted a Government proclamation warning the people against assembling in the streets.

A REIGN OF TERROR.

Despite the energetic measures taken to insure the safety of the city, the inhabitants are in a state bordering on terror. The wildest rumors regarding the intentions of the mob are afloat, and many small retailers did not open their shops this morning.

An edict has gone forth that no shop must open to-morrow when the great assemblage on the Palace square is scheduled to take place. Although the authorities seemingly are determined to prevent it, preparations for the gigantic demonstration are

Father Gapon, the strike leader who was reported to have been kidnaped during the night, is undercover to be at large this morning, going from place to place organizing and directing everything. His dictum is that the meeting shall occur in the Palace square, no matter if it results in a massacre of the men. He says they must be resolved to do or die.

It is noteworthy that the leaders are going back to the French Revolution for their parallels. The deputation sent to Tsarskoe Selo yesterday was the march of the mob to Versailles. The assemblage planned for tomorrow is likened to the march of the multitude wearing red caps of liberty to the Tuilleries to present their demands to Louis XVI.

CAN ARMY BE RELIED ON?

The situation became so acute last night owing to the general cessation of work that the authorities determined to preserve the peace at any cost, and augmented the garrison of the city with 2,500 cavalry and 1,000 infantry from Tsarskoe Selo, and this morning, while there is much talk that the troops may be overawed by the mob, the authorities do not manifest the slightest apprehension on this score. The Cossacks and the Guard regiments, they declare, can be relied upon. Nevertheless, the authorities are extremely nervous, realizing that blood once spilled in the present temper of the excited men spurred on by Socialist agitators it is impossible to predict the end.

ALL WORK AT A STANDSTILL.

The strikers are continuing their agitation with unabated activity. Through-out the morning they have been parading the main streets of the centre of the city and closing every industrial establishment. A list of the 174 works closed as the result of yesterday's coercive measures shows that every industry is involved, including railway construction and electrical engineers. The establishments closed by strikers include the Alexandrovsky Machine Works, 7,000 men; the St. Bights Thornton Cotton Spinning Factory, 300 hands; the State Distillery; the Keller Heehman distilleries; the Russo-American rubber factory, the Yukoff soap works, the new cotton spinning factory; the State playing card factory; the Vargeuine paper mills, the Atlas machine works; Wolf & Man's printing works, the Imperial Glass Works, and numerous other smaller establishments.

At night one electric light plant and one water plant shut down. In all over 100,000 men are out. Every printing office and every newspaper has suspended or closed. Even the Official Messenger was only issued with difficulty.

WILL THE CZAR STAND FIRM?

The Emperor's advisers declare he must put down the agitation with a firm hand and that if he yields as Louis XVI did at Versailles all may be lost. Therefore the present resolution of the Government is not to give way.

The authorities plan to prevent the workmen to-morrow from entering the city proper. The industrial sections beyond the Narva, Moscow and Nevsky gate will be cut off and all the briodges will be guarded. Several batteries of artillery have been brought into the city.

THE STRIKERS AVOID VIOLENCE.

The agitation hitherto has been carried on with remarkable absence of actual violence, the committee of the union having issued instructions that everything be done as quietly as possible, and no personal violence be offered the police. Street traffic in the leading thoroughfares is hardly infered with, the demonstrators who fill the streets politely making way for passing sledges. While many drunken rows have occurred, and a number of men have been injured, no serious collisions have been reported up to this morning. An enormous number of arrests of known revolutionaries took place during the night.

An attempt will be made to close all the bakeries in order to threaten the city with famine. The workmen are also reported to have decided to cut the telephone and telegraph wires and cut off St. Petersburg altogether from communication with the outside world.

In view of the probable failure of the electric supply for stores and offices, householders are laying in large stocks of candles.

CAN A COMPROMISE BE REACHED

The public is nervous and excited and the opinion is freely expressed that the Government will be forced to concede the demands of the men. The managers of the big concerns have formally decided to refuse to treat with any persons except their own workmen, but they are ready to adjust all the points in dispute except the eight-hour day, which they say is a matter for the Government to decide, as a legal work day in Russia is eleven hours. The Government has urged the employer to offer concessions in the terms of employment, which it is asserted the great majority of the workmen would be inclined to accept if they were guaranteed protection from the more violent faction.

THE LEADER OF THE STRIKE.

The strikers are led by Father Gegon, an unbeneficed priest, who is a fiery orator. He says; "If the Emperor refuses to attend our demonstration on Sunday there will be a terrible uprising. Possibly the Prefect or a Minister will come and ask me to give him the petition instead of the Emperor. I do not intend to listen to him. I expect that half a million residents of St. Petersburg will gather in the neighborhood of the Pal-

THE INDEPENDENT VOTE

The breaking away of Liberals from the Government was illustrated in a striking way at Cobourg a few evenings ago. The Conservative candidate is Mr. Field, son of the man who sat in the Legislature under Sir Oliver Mowat. A meeting of Liberals and Conservatives was addressed by Rev. J. E. Starr and Mr. Raney, representatives of the Canadian Citizens' League. Mr. Raney is a staunch Liberal and professes little faith in wishy-washy remedies for "reform within the party," and the exercise of moral suasion on such gentry as planned the voyage of the Minnie M., or planned to buy perjured evidence in South Oxford, or negotiated for the purchase of Mr. Gamey; nor does he believe that these chapters have been closed and sealed by the resolutions of repentance and amendment passed by the Liberal convention, nor by the retirement from the Government of the wicked partners. "It is well for a Government to repent, but the proper place for repentance is not the Treasury bench-es. Thirty years ago a Conservative Government at Ottawa was convicted of an election irregularity and promptly resigned. The Conservative party at that time went into Opposition, and served there the merited penalty of the offence. By what law in the Liberal party in Ontario exempt from the like consequences for offences of a similar kind many times repeated? If a gentleman is found in possession of the occupants of his neighbor's hen roost, his repentance will not be recognized as very deep if he persists in keeping the chickens."

With equal keenness Mr. Raney described the device of getting rid of the Premier's prohibitions pledges by calling a convention. "Imagine a man giving a promissory note, and when he is asked for payment, gravely replying that he would refer the matter to his family, and that if they advised him to pay it he would do so."

The News puts it this way: Liberals who join in putting the Government out will not cease to be Liberals; on the contrary, they will show their fidelity to sound Liberal doctrine; nor need they be frightened away by stories of the prospective wickedness of Mr. Whitney and the Tories. If Mr. Whitney does wrong his career will be very brief, and the more strictly the present Government is held to account, the more severe will be the standard by which Mr. Whitney will be judged. If there were 10,000 electors in Ontario determined to judge each Government on its merits, and to punish fraud and corruption with impartial severity, fraud and corruption would come to an end.

At the Cobourg meeting an excitable friend of the Government described Mr. Raney's speech as "damnable." It seems to require no the sole offence was that the facts could not be disputed, and the arguments went home. One must not be surprised if in the operation of cutting out the canker of corruption, the patient winces under the surgeon's knife.

The Hon. S. H. Blake, Mr. Haney, the Rev. Dr Ross, Mr. Walter Mills, Mr. Field, the Rev. D. C. Hossack, the Rev. William Kettlewell, the Rev. James B. Freeman, the Rev Nathaniel Smith, Mr. J. W. Holmes, late Liberal member for Haldimand, are among those who have declared against the Government openly. Every day new names are added to the list. Mr. Freeman thinks that the defeat of the Government may bring about the reconstruction of the Ontario Liberal party under a new leadership, and with a definite policy. A general breaking-up of party ties and associations would have a reviving and stimulating influence on public life and citizenship.

THE PRICE OF SCHOOL BOOKS

Mr. Whitney has announced as one of the reforms he will enforce, if given power, the publishing of school books. The books are made and sold by a monopoly created by Mr. Ross, when Minister of Education. It has fattened on the province like a bloodsucker for over twenty years. Mr. Whitney said at Chatham that if the people could go to Toronto and see the palatial houses in which the book publishers lived, they would think the books ought to be cheaper. The Opposition leader did not give the particulars of the extortions to which parents are subjected in educating their boys and girls But this information was given out by Mr. George Neely, the Conservative candidate in East Middlesex at the nominations. Mr. Neely thought that this statement alone should defeat the Ross Government. He quoted the prices charged by the monopoly for the school books, and the profits reaped in twenty months by those enjoying this rich but outrageous graft:

Copy books cost less than 3 cents; wholesale price 7 1-2 cents—profit 4 1-2 cents—total profit, $49,500.

Drawing books, cost 2 cents; wholesale at 7 1-2 cents, total profit, $25,000.

Reader, Part I., cost 4.1 cents, wholesale at 8 cents; total profit, $15,000.

Reader, Part II., cost 5 3-4 cents, wholesale at 12 cents, total profit, $22,500.

Reader, No. 3, cost 13 1-2 cents; wholesale at 28 cents; total profit, $49,500.

Reader, No. 4, cost 13 3-4 cents; wholesale at 40 cents; total profit, $40,400.

Twenty years' sale of these books alone, without taking into consideration the thirty per cent. drop in the cost of production, will yield $2,379,600.

This, Mr. Neely pointed out, was the extent of the benefits enjoyed by the monopoly at the expense of parents.

HEARTS THAT ARE TOUCHED

Interesting Letters from Friends who are Helping the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives.

DEAR MR. EDITOR,—I would like to quote from two or three letters that are on my desk from friends who have been sending in contributions for the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives. One contributor who sent $50.00 says: "I am sure the country is grateful to you for your good work, and many will bless you." The record-keeper of the Knights of the Maccabees, in sending $8.00 from his lodge, says: "Our Order has paid $823 on lives that would undoubtedly have survived had proper treatment been within reach." W. C. McMaster, Township Clerk, Cookstown, sends $10.00 from his municipal council, and says: "We are sure you are doing a noble work to check that dread disease consumption." S. R. Spotterwood, Paris, closes a letter, in which he sent $5.00, in this way: "Such a work should enlist the sympathy of every true Canadian."

At the present, I may be permitted to say that the burden being borne by our Trustees is a very heavy one. Expenses always run heavier during the winter season. We have been compelled to build a laundry because other laundries refused our work, and this has called for an immediate expenditure of $4,000.

How hopeful is the work the Hospital is doing is plainly indicated in the reduction in the death-rate in Ontario from consumption.

Our Trustees are anxious to further extend accommodation at Muskoka, and the work can only be delayed by the need of funds. I do not hesitate to ask for a generous contribution from your readers, with so good a cause to advocate.

Secretary.

WILL AFFECT OUR COAL

Strike in Germany May Increase Price in Canada.

Montreal, January 23.—Mr. F. L. Wanklyn, Vice-President of the Dominion Coal Company, said today that if the coal strike in Germany continues the tendency will be to increase the price of Canadian coal. If the demand for the British article increases, he said, the British source of import will be blocked. "It is nothing new for us to enter into direct competition with European mines. We have agencies, mostly in Sweden, and we export a considerable amount of coal to that country at a profit. If the strike continues there will be nothing to prevent our exporting coal direct to Germany. The freight will not be any heavier to Elbe than to Stockholm. In all probability the increase in the price of English coal will have a direct effect on the Canadian market."

The Canadian Associated Press learns that final preparations are being made for the Grand Trunk Pacific issue, which may possibly appear on the London market in the course of next week.

ONTARIO ELECTIONS

Corrupt Practices.

We, the undersigned candidates in the Provincial election, beg to call the attention of the electors to the following provisions of the Election law respecting bribery;

Any person who gives or lend, or agrees, or offers, or promises to give or lend any money, offices, employment or other value to any voter, to induce him to vote or to refrain from voting, is guilty of bribery within the meaning of the Election Act, and is liable under the amended Act to imprisonment for six months, WITHOUT THE OPTION OF A FINE, and the receiver of any money or other consideration is equally as guilty of bribery as the giver.

We have mutually pledged ourselves to do everything in our power to prevent bribery or corrupt practices by any person or persons on our behalf and that no person either giving or receiving a bribe shall be protected by either of us from the utmost penalty of the law.

It will be seen from the above that neither of us can personally or through another, give or lend any money during the election.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, excepting 8 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres more or less.

ENTRY

Entry may be made personally at a local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situate, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES

A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act, and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

[2] If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), or any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

[3] If a settler was entitled to and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

[4] If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same town, township, or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of clauses [2] [3] or [4] must cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, or substitute 20 head of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, and have besides 80 acres substantially fenced.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd of June, 1899.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled and the land may again be thrown open for entry.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT

Should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

INFORMATION

Newly arrived immigrants will receive, at the Immigration Office in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing lands to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Land Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands, to which the Regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Co.

INCORPORATED

Capital $5,000,000. Shares $1.00 Each, Par Value, Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable.

We have just secured the agency for the above splendid proposition, of which we have been allotted a block of Treasury stock. We can confidently recommend this as a safe and, we believe, exceedingly profitable investment. Every dollar of stock is guaranteed by twenty year, full paid, gold bond, delivered to purchasers of stock, from an Investment Company that has no interest whatever in the company, but who are disposing of the debenture bonds to the public, and, under their charter, they are compelled to deposit securities to an equal amount, to the State Treasurer under which they received their charter, thereby doubly securing the payment of their gold bonds.

The Company's property, which is now past the project stage, is known to be marvellously rich in gold.

Following is the opinion of G. W. Miller, Mining Engineer, formerly with the Boston and Montana Consolidated Copper and Silver Mining Company, U. S.; Summer and Jack Mining Co:, Limited, Elandsfountain, South Africa:—

"You have here a most valuable property and one of the strongest fissure veins that can be found in any part of the world.

"With the present development of the Monument Mine, I estimate that 100 tons per day can be extracted, which will mill from $15.00 to $20.00 per ton. The total cost of mining the ore, delivering and milling, I place at about $4.00 per ton. With increased milling capacity, it is safe to say that the mine can furnish 100 tons of $15.00 ore, which would yield a clear profit of $11.00 per ton, or $1,100 00 per day (equal to $400,000.00 per annum). Estimated total value of ore in sight, $2,500,000."

During the past summer, a party of the Company Directors visited the property, taking with them, Amos P. Brown, Ph.D., Mining Engineer and Professor of Geology and Mineralogy at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Brown writes as follows:—

"In regards to the amount of ore available at the mines at Steelers, I saw on the dumps several thousand tons, probably 5000 tons would be an under-estimate.

"As to the size of the ore body itself, from what I saw of the geological structure, I think that there is every indication that it will be found to extend underground as far as the out-croppings on the south side of the gulch. This would mean an ore body large enough to keep the present mill running for many years to come.

A write up of the proposition will appear in these columns in a few days. Watch for it. In the meantime we will be pleased to furnish full information to investors.

Stocks—The MARKETS OF THE WORLD—Grains

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

The Salido Gold and Copper Company

Incorporated under the laws of Arizona, with a capital of $3,oc ooo forever on assessable divided into shares of $1 each, par value. All investments insured Granite Securities Company.

The "SALIDO GOLD COPPER COMPANY" enterprise offers attractions to the investors of the country, that without thorough investigation, would scarcely seem probable. If only a fraction is realized of what any prudent business man in his own affairs would regard as absolutely certain, the enterprise must prove abundantly successful and exceedingly profitable.

SALE OF STOCK

The company will prosecute the work of development with all the diligence that the cash in the treasury will permit and circumstances warrant, and to this end a small amount of the treasury stock is now placed upon the market, in blocks of not less than One Hundred Shares. The par value of the stock is One Dollar per share, fully paid and forever non-assessable.

The company reserves the right to advance the price of stock without notice.

REMEMBER

First—That all payments for treasury stock go into the treasury for development work and not into the pockets of the promoters.

Second—There are no salaried officers

Third—The incorporators have put their own good money into this enterprise and being business men, intend to do business along business lines

Fourth—That this company is honest.

Fifth—If you are thinking of investing in mining stocks this is worthy of your careful investigation.

OTHER PROPERTIES

This Company owns four other Gold and Copper Mines, which title is now in process in the laws of Mexico. As soon as title is perfected, we shall commence to develop them as we certainly expect something very great from these properties. Our assays: ahem have been of the very best, showing gold and copper from $6.00 to $122. 30 per ton.

I have secured a small block of this stock, which I offer at the following prices: Unguaranteed 40 cents per share, guaranteed 80 cents per share. These prices will only prevail for a short time, as the number of shares for sale at this price is limited. The Shares will then be advanced to 40 cents for the unguaranteed and 80 cents for the guaranteed. I can unhesitatingly recommend this investment to the Canadian public.

W. K. HALL,

FISCAL AGENT, ... PETERBOROUGH

Agents wanted in outlying districts, including Toronto.

The California Buckeye Mine

This mine consists of 15 acres of good zinc land, well prospected by drill holes showing forty feet of good pay dirt at a depth of 154 feet.

On the property are hoisting engine, shaft house, ore buckets, Worthington steam pump, air drill, cars and pipes. Over $15,000 have been expended to date, and the proposition itself is a good one so much so that we can personally guarantee an immediate dividend of 8 per cent. this year and 12 per cent. after 1905, with an additional quarterly dividend.

Capital Stock $250,000

Shares, par value $1.00 each. Fully paid up and non-assessable. No Preferred Stock. No bonded indebtedness

The shares are selling at 20 cents each, with a prospect of the price being raised.

The Joplin Daily Globe says that over $10,000,000 worth of zinc and lead were mined in 1904, up to 1st Dec., in the Joplin District. In the California Buckeye Zinc Mine, located in the centre of the Joplin District, it has been demonstrated that the ore body has an average thickness of 42 feet and the runs are 50 feet wide, about 170 feet from the surface.

The rough dirt for the first three months of operation produced zinc ore to the amount of $12 95 per cent., while the average for the district is less than 5 per cent., but for the purpose of being on the safe side, we calculate on only 8 per cent. ore to the ton of dirt, and it shows a profit each day with two shifts of men, of $566.20.

We stand ready to prove every statement made, and if enough stock is subscribed for in this locality a directorship of the company is at the disposal of the subscribers.

Any further information and proofs of earning capacity will be cheerfully supplied.

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Rare Chance to Secure a Paying Investment

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY

has placed a small block of their stock at the disposal of Canadian investors. This stock is sure to rapidly advance in price. The Company is now arranging to instal the power plant and a mill and cyanide plant for the reduction of their ore to a bullion on the property. They have arranged with a Trust Company having assets of $1,500,000 to put up a bond guaranteeing investors the repayment of the full amount invested. This makes investors absolutely safe. By no possibility can they lose a dollar.

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY was organized November 21, 1902 under the laws of the State of Idaho. The capitalization is one million shares of the par value of one dollar each, fully paid and non-assessable; of the 1,000,000 shares, 400,000 have been set aside as treasury stock

THE BOISE BASIN came into prominence shortly after Grimes and his party of prospectors entered the Basin country in 1862; their entrance was into the northern portion, and one discovery of rich placer ground followed another until the news of the rich finds reached the outside world, when a veritable stampede for Boise Basin commenced. towns sprang up and grew together in an incredibly short time; the rush of people to Idaho City made it a place of 20,000 people in 1867, having a business street over a mile long lined with two-story buildings streets and sidewalks filled with people day and night, business and money on every hand and the city bearing the proud distinction of being the capital of the territory of Idaho. Wages ran from $6 to $10 a day and not infrequently forty and fifty men worked on a single placer claim; the clean-up for a day's work in many instances ran close to $5,000; large fortunes were made in a few days by washing the golden sands in a pan, so eager was the quest for the shining metal that the streets of Idaho City were dug up and washed and re-washed, and the soil removed from under the houses and places of business. So extensive was the search for the hidden treasure that not only all of the low ground was worked but the foot of the mountains surrounding the city have been washed away, filling up the lower portions of the basin and extending into the town, where one of the buildings has been buried under the tailings from the numerous placer workings.

LOCATION—The property of the Gold Coin Mining Company is situated in the Gambrinus Mining District, Boise County, Idaho, on the range of mountains between Moore Creek and Elk Creek, which forms a part of the eastern boundary of the famous Boise Basin and into which these mountains are drained. The property is located ten miles northeast of Idaho City, from which place there are good wagon roads either to the workings on top of the mountain or to the place of the proposed tunnels in the gulch which crosses the Tunnelsite claim.

THE CLAIMS—The Company owns a group of four contiguous lode mining claims and the Gold Coin Millsite: the names of the lode claims are the Tunnelsite, Blue Bell, Pennsylvania and Homestake, each being a full claim 600 feet wide by 1,500 feet long, excepting the Tunnesite claim, which is 450 feet wide at the west end and 1,055 feet long: it was necessary to stake the claim in this form on account of joining the Washington property on the south and the Sab Rosa property on the west, these properties being prior locations to the Tunnelsite claim. The four lode claims aggregate nearly 80 acres of rich mineral land.

CANADIAN TRADE IN GREAT BRITAIN

British Dealers Complain of Canadian Manufacturers' Methods

TALK OF "DISHONESTY"

Goods not Sent According to Sample —Americans Gain Customers of Canadians

London, January 20.—Considerable complaint is being made by members of the Canadian export trade in Great Britain as to the treatment they receive at the hands of Canadian manufacturers. With the exception of two or three of the greatest concerns, they say they are put to great inconvenience through goods not being sent according to sample and being refused by their customers, and also by delay in transmission. In this respect they contrast them with the American manufacturers. They feel naturally sore when trying to push Canadian trade. "Dishonesty" was the term used by a member of one of the largest of such export firms in speaking to the Canadian Associated Press. He said a week never went by without having such a complaint and quoted numerous instances.

NEWSPAPER POSTAGE.

Among the resolutions to be introduced at the annual meeting of the Association of the Chambers of Commerce in February, is one of the Birmingham Chamber regarding newspaper postages to Canada. The resolution proposes that a memorial be addressed to the Postmaster-General, calling his attention to the resolution passed at the last annual meeting in reference to the rate of postage on newspapers and magazines despatched to Canada and urging upon him the necessity in the interests of British trade and commerce of taking special steps to assimilate such rate with the low bulk rate at present in operation between the United States and Canada.

CANNING COMPETITION.

The Canadian and American fruit and meat canning industries are being brought into sharp contact as regards the trade of Great Britain. London wholesale men complain that the Canadian combine is attempting to save a small margin by selling direct to retailers. Naturally the whole salers objects to this, and show a tendency as far as possible to boycott Canadian goods in favor of American. Americans find in this an opportunity of making a bold bid, with the help of the wholesalers, to drive Canadian goods out of the British market.

TO BANQUET LORD MINTO.

The proceedings of the Council of the British Empire League meeting yesterday, private, but the Canadian Associated Press understands that in addition to the question of Colonial marriages it was decided to hold a banquet in honor of Lord Minto, in recognition of his services to Canada.

A BANQUET TO HON. W. S. FIELDING

Is Being Arranged for by the British Liberals

London, Jan. 21.—The arrival of Hon W. S. Fielding, the Canadian Finance Minister, from Vienna, somewhat delayed by specialists' treatment of his daughter, is expected in the next few days. Arrangements are on foot on behalf of Hon. H. H. Asquith, Sir Edward Grey, and other Liberal leaders to give a politicall dinner in his honor. It is not yet known whether Mr. Fielding will accept, considering the present position of the fiscal controversy.

Mr. John Morley, who will perhaps also be present, was most anxious in his last night's speech at Brechin, which is the first he has made after his Canadian visit to disclaim the charge of "Little Englandism" against himself. He admitted that contact with Canadians had enlarged his horizon.

Ant.-Chamberlainite journals use his speech, especially his declaration that the preference is no longer a live issue in Canada as fresh proof that Canada is well content with the present British fiscal policy.

Canada's desire for a preference will only be placed beyond British party disputings when the Dominion Parliament makes a clear national pronouncement.

H. B. COLLINS FOUND

Guilty of Supplying Information to the Russians

Yokohoma, Jan. 20.—H. B. Collins, a man of Portuguese blood, but who has long been a resident of Japan, was publicly tried to-day on the charge of disclosing military secrets. The evidence showed that Collins visited Port Arthur and Tien-Tsin last year, and received a thousand yen from Generals Ogorodinkof and Desano, together with a private cipher, that he might transmit information.

Last October Collins wrote from Yokohama detailing the proposed despatch of Japanese troops, giving their number, their destination, and their purpose, to General Desano, but the letter was stopped at Nagasaki.

The maximum penalty for the offence is six years' imprisonment. The passing of the sentence was deferred until the 24th instant.

UNDERWRITERS UNEASY

Steamer Powerful at Woosung as her Crew Refuse to go to Vladivostock

London, Jan. 20.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Shanghai says that the British steamer Powerham, with a cargo of coal, has entered Woosung, her crew refusing to proceed with her to Vladivostock, to which port the vessel and cargo are consigned.

UNDERWRITERS UNEASY.

London, Jan. 20.—The recent captures by Japanese warships of steamers carrying contraband of war has caused uneasiness among the underwriters at Lloyd's. Not long ago insurance was effected on such vessels at about 30 guineas per cent. To-day the premium on vessels destined to pass through the Strait of Korea was 70 guineas, and on vessels bound for Vladivostock by way of Laperouse Strait, 50 guineas per cent. It is estimated that some fifty steamers bound for Vladivostock are now approaching the Sea of Japan. All of them are insured as war risks by the Lloyd's Company for about two million pounds.

BRITON WHIPS BOER

General Viljoen Get Whipping From an English Woman

Chicago, Jan. 20.—An actual clash between a Boer and a Briton happened last evening, when a young English woman, Miss May Belfort, publicly horsewhipped Gen. Ben. J. Viljoen at the entrance of the Coliseum, on Wabash avenue. Viljoen, who is the hero of many battles in the Boer war, and known for his bravery and courage, was dumbfounded when he was suddenly confronted by his former sweet-heart who came all the way from England with the avowed purpose of horsewhipping him for having as she declared, refused to keep his promise to marry her. The Boer soldier and pedestrians were amazed when the irate woman suddenly emerged from the shadow of a building and delivered a severe horse whipping, accompanied by spectacular tongue lashing, to the astonished General, who never lost his nerve. The woman slashed the General until she was exhausted, and then cried, "Now, go to your new love, but you will never forget this whipping."

GREAT COUNTRY GRAND CHANCES GLORIOUS CLIMATE

A WORD TO HONEST MEN

This journal, in common with many others, is read by many men who may have voted Liberal in politics all their lives. It is to there men that we appeal on the eve of an election that means so much to the fair name of our Province.

The Liberal party leaders, by their participation in the carnival of political corruption that has disgraced Ontario for several years past, have forfeited all claim upon the confidence and support of honest Liberals. The honest Liberal, therefore, owes his party no loyalty under such circumstances.

No Liberal need necessarily become a Conservative by voting against the Ross Government on Wednesday next. He can still remain a Liberal, and the best kind of a Liberal—an honest and conscientious one, who owns his own political soul and vote, and who refuses to be dragged down in the mire by corrupt and unscrupulous leaders of his own party.

The honest Liberal, with the ballot before him on Wednesday next, will place his country above and beyond party, and will record his vote against a Government that for years past has retained office only by bribery and ballot-box frauds that have brought the blush of shame to the cheeks of all self respecting Canadians.

A WORKING MAJORITY FOR WHITNEY.

It cannot be reasonably argued that any government can administer the affairs of Ontario satisfactorily with two or three of a majority in the Legislature. For five or six years the Liberal Government, in the expressive phrase of the Rev. D. C. Hossack, has lived by its wits. The trickery, persons fan, ballot-stuffing, subornation of perjury, and bold violation of the letter and spirit of the constitution which have so besmirched the good name of the Province in recent years may all be traced to the Government's desperate struggle to maintain office in defiance of the manifest will of the people. It has been established by the Courts that the Government held power during the last session with a majority which was obtained by corruption. The session was called for the very day on which one of the election cases should have come to trial, and after a persistent and determined appeal to Conservative counsel to saw-off the Sault protest, and thus avert enquiry into the methods, by which that constituency was carried. Two of the Government's majority of three were finally interested in the Sault legislation, and the third represented the constituency in which the Sault works were situated, and in his election received powerful assistance from high officials of the company.

It is important that Mr. Whitney's victory should be a decisive one, so that he can form a Cabinet out of the best material at his command, and that the Province may again enjoy stable and responsible government.

THE VITAL QUESTION.

Premier Ross complains that his opponents persist in talking about elections, instead of what his government has done for the butter and cheese industry, pulpwood, beet sugar, technical education, the establishment of Empire Day, and grants of land to veterans. We do not belittle these things, nor education, nor the institution for the care of the afflicted, in the management of which the government takes pride. But under this government in recent years there has been persistent tampering with the basis of all these othings, the very foundation of free institutions. While these foundations are in danger, we decline to be diverted into gazing into the superstructure, however pleasing and imposing. The freedom and purity of elections must be insured; the ballot box must be protected; the will of the people must be obeyed; justice must be administered without party bias, and all made equal before the law; and the pledged word of public men must be kept in good faith. If these, the very foundations of social order, are undermined, whatever is built upon them is in danger of falling.

When these are made safe by turning out of power the Government under whose wing all trouble has arisen it will be time enough to take up the other less important, but nevertheless important, matters.

"JUST AS BAD."

Goldwin Smith in The Weekly Sun Charged by their enemies with corruption, the Liberals of the Province retort that the Conservatives in power were just as bad. More than a generation has passed since the Conservatives were in power in this Province, and nearly all of them have gone to their long rest, while the Liberals are alive and up for judgment. But the Bystander cannot help saying a word for the memory of old Sandfield Macdonald. Sandfield was no pretender to austere purity; he rather affected the reverse, and was, as they say, a hypocrite on the devil's side. At bottom, however, he was a thoroughly honest servant of the public and a faithful defender of the public chest. When he fell, he was followed by a line of financiers who year after year produced a gratifying surplus by carrying to the account of income what rather belonged to the account of capital, until at last they encountered stern reality, and to

Tuberculosis The Lungs Cured

World's Greatest Physician Eulogizes Catarrhozone, which killsall the Germ Heals the Membranes, Cures Thoroughly.

That consumption is due to the presence of germs in the air passages is now admitted by all physicians. Before the disease can be cured of course these germs must be killed. Liquid medicine taken into the stomach can't possibly reach the air cells of the lungs, and is therefore useless.

Catarrhozone never fails to kill the bacilli of consumption for the following reasons, which are plain to every thinking person;

First—Each breath of medicated air you draw through Catarrhozone inhaler is at once sent through every air cell and air passage in the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs; it is then sure to reach the nest of the consumption germs.

Being a powerful antiseptic Catarrhozone at once kills the germs and establishes such a healthy condition in the lungs that microbes can't live there. Once the cause of the disease is removed it is only a matter of time till you get well and strong again.

That Catarrhozone does permanently cure Tubercular Trouble can no longer be doubted. Ample evidence of its marvellous merit is witnessed every day. Thousands have been cured after all else has failed by this great germ destroyed, which is limited to the very source of the disease.

Mrs. G. P. McClaskly, writing from Salt Lake City, U.S., says; "My doctor ordered me to Colorado, where I first used Catarrhozone. I inhaled it probably twenty times a day. In one week it stopped my cough completely, and it was not very long in taking every bit of soreness and hoarseness out of my throat. The antiseptic vapor of Catarrhozone must certainly have killed all the germs of consumption in my lungs, for I came home in seven months a cure. My doctor says Catarrhozone is a marvel. It is of the greatest assistance in lung trouble, and cured me permanently."

Not only consumption but every form of catarrh and throat trouble is easily cured by Catarrhozone. Two months treatment costs $1.00. At druggists or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont. For a quick and certain cure use only Catarrhozone.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

DASHES HERE AND THERE BY TIMES' REPORTERS

Star of the East Mine

Mr. Gibson, director of the Bureau of Mines, Toronto, received word a five-stamp mill had gone into successful operation at the Star of the East Gold Mine in Kuladar township, Addington county. The first cleaning up was after fourteen hours' run, and $40 worth of gold was discovered. The shaft is down 150 feet and the vein is strong and promising.

Another Big Canal Scheme

The Canadian Canals Corporation is applying to Parliament this session for incorporation to build a canal from a point on Georgian Bay between Waubaushene and Port Severn, or on Nottawasaga Bay, to Lake Simcoe, and thence to Lake Ontario, and from a point on Nottawasaga Bay to Lake Ontario, one terminus to be in the County of York and the other in the County of Ontario, with basins for the storage of water and for slack water navigation, with power to expropriate the necessary lands, and power to collect tolls on traffic. The notice for the application comes from Toronto.

The Late Alex. K. Ferguson

On Saturday morning the death occurred of Mr. Alexander K. Ferguson, who resided on Murray street. Deceased formerly resided on the fourth line, Dummer, and retired from farming some years ago. He was 68 years of age, and leaves a wife and family. The funeral will take place from the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. George Day, at 10 o'clock this morning, and proceed to the Third Line Cemetery, Dummer.

Miss Weir's Literary Club

Attention is called to Miss A. Weir's Literary Club which meets on Tuesday evenings at eight o'clock at the Y.W.C.A. for the study of Shakespeare's "Coriolanus." Also to the Bible class which meets at the same time on Friday evenings. The character sketch of David, which is being taken up at present under the efficient leadership of Mrs. J. M. Roberts, is proving highly entertaining and instructive. All members of the Association are invited to attend these classes, both of which are membership privileges.

TWO ASESSORS APPOINTED

Messrs. John Kincaid and Thos McKee at $300 Each

Messrs. John Kincaid and Thomas McKee, two of the four old assessors, have been appointed to assess the whole town. This was done at a meeting of the Council in Committee of the Whole. No better appointments could have been made than these. This year the work will be very much more difficult than before, on account of the new assessment act, passed at the last meeting of the Legislature.

A MEAN ATTACK

A Writer in the Examiner Uses a Poor Argument

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—I was surprised and pained to read in the Examiner of Saturday a mean and cowardly attack by a correspondent over the nom de plume of "Temperance," on the esteemed pastor of the George Street Methodist Church. If the writer expects to make Grit votes by such methods, he is sadly mistaken. He finds fault with Rev. Dr. Grothers, because that gentleman greeted Mr. Whitney on Thursday evening, and occupied a seat on the platform at the great Conservative mass meeting in the Market Hall, giving us a reason that Mr. Whitney was a violator of the law in having drank a glass of liquor in his room in Napanee.

Now, sir, if Mr. Whitney violated the law why was he not punished? This is the clearest proof that he did not do so, for if he had the Grit party would only be too glad to show him up by prosecution.

But apart from this, what can the public think of a party who would attempt to besmirch the good name of a reverend and respected minister of the Gospel by an attack of this kind? Such methods can only result in disgusting all decent people, and adding to the strength of those who desire to purify the political atmosphere. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am.

Yours truly,
FAIR PLAY.

LATE MRS. J. P. WILSON

Was Greatly Beloved by Large Circle of Friends

Belleville Intelligencer; Mrs. (Rev.) J. P. Wilson, wife of the pastor of Bridge street Methodist church, and President of the Bay of Quinte Conference, passed peacefully away last evening at the parsonage on Bridge street. Deceased who was the third daughter of the late Mr. A. L. Roberts, was born in the township of Tyendinaga. In August, 1880, she was married to the Rev. Mr. Wilson, when he was stationed at Picton. She had since that time always taken a deep interest in church work. In April last she was taken ill and has since been a sufferer, but bore her affliction with true Christain fortitude. Her demise is not only a severe blow to the bereaved husband and members of the family, but to the church with which she was identified, in addition to the husband, one son, Dr. Cameron Wilson, and two daughters, Misses Janet and Mary, survive.

Mr. A. A. Roberts, of this city, is a brother of the deceased, and two other brothers, A. W., of Shelbourne, and W. L., of Orange Hall, and three sisters, Mrs. John Palmer, of Shelbourne; Mrs. D. W. Houston, of Troy, N.Y., and Mrs. J. H. Roberts, of Actinolite, survive. To the sorrowing ones will be extended the sympathy of all classes.

On Saturday morning the remains will be taken to Bridge street church where services will be held. They will be taken to Napanee for interment.

WINTER EATING RUINS STOMACHS

"Now is the Time You Need Mi-o-na," Says Wm. Madill

Think for a moment of the extra strain you put upon the stomach in the Winter. The hearty food, the exercise and out door life all weaken and strain the stomach, laying the foundation of poor health and suffering.

Chronic stomach troubles, nervous irritability, and serious bowel and kidney diseases have often dated from a week of extra "good living." Nearly everyone is bothered with more or less headaches and backaches, furred tongue, poor appetite, dry, hacking cough, heartburn, spots before the eyes, dizziness or vertigo, sleeplessness, lack of energy, loss of flesh or a general weak, tired feeling.

Now is the time when Mi-o-na is needed to repair the ravages and wastes the hearty eating of Winter has caused in the stomach and digestive system. This is the only known agent that strengthens the stomach and digestive organs, so they can and will readily digest whatever food is eaten. A Mi-o-na tablet taken before each meal will remove all irritation, inflammation and congestion in the digestive organs and so strengthen them that they will extract from the food all that goes to make good rich blood, firm muscle, and a sound, healthy body.

This remarkable remedy goes but 50 cents, and if its use does not restore your full vigor, vitality, and health, Wm. Madill, one of the best known Druggists in this section will

AN UNFOUNDED RUMOR

Sovereign Bank do not Propose to Open Branch Here

Subject, "A nation's time of grace, a nation's time of blindness, a nation's time of judgment."

THE SHOVEL FACTORY

Foundation Has Been Completed and Brick Work To Begin

The foundation for the shovel factory is completed, and Mr. J. J. Hartley, the contractor for the brick work, will begin operations at once. The C.P.R. are preparing to put in a siding to the works, the machinery will be on hand in about three weeks, ready for instalment on the completition of the building, the specified date being the first of April. The factory will be put into operation as soon after that as possible.

The foundation is of concrete, 68 x 181, x 4 1-2 feet in height, and contains 498 lineal feet, or, approximately 4,500 cubic feet.

DEATH OF MRS. GEO. A. COX.

Passed Away in Toronto Early Sunday Morning

The news of the death of Mrs. Geo. A. Cox will come with a great shock to her many friends in Peterborough. She passed away at her home, 439 Sherbourne street, Toronto, at 3.15 on Sunday morning, surrounded by the members of her family and physicians, who were powerless to stay the hand of death. Mrs. Cox had been ailing for some years, and was in her usual state of health up to a few days ago. She was about to go south for the winter months, and was understood to have had preparations completed for her journey when she suddenly took a turn for the worse and passed away as above. The deceased lad was born in Peterborough in 1844, where she lived until about 16 years ago, when the family moved to Toronto. Mrs. Cox was married to Senator Cox in 1862, and leaves a grown-up family of three sons and two daughters, viz., Mrs. A. L. Davis, Peterborough; Edward W., Mrs. E. A. Ames, Fred G. and Herbert, Toronto.

During her long illness Mrs. Cox consulted the best physicians on the continent and in Europe. She was universally beloved, her life being largely devoted to deeds of charity and other good works.

Will be paid by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., if they cannot show the original signature of the individual volunteering the testimonial below, and also of the writers of every testimonial among the thousands which they are constantly publishing, thus proving their genuineness.

"For about two years I suffered from a very obstinate case of dyspepsia," writes R. E. Secord, Esq., of 13 Eastern Ave., Toronto, Ontario. "I tried a great number of remedies without success. I finally lost faith in them all. I was so far gone that I could not for a long time bear any solid food in my stomach; felt melancholy and depressed. Some four months ago a friend recommended your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' After a week's treatment I had derived so much benefit that I continued the medicine. I have taken three bottles and am convinced it has in my case accomplished a permanent cure. I can conscientiously recommend it to the thousands of dyspeptics throughout the land."

A man can succeed and be strong if he heeds Nature's warnings. When there is indigestion, loss of appetite, ringing in the ears, dizziness, spots before the eyes or palpitation of the heart; any or all of these symptoms point to weakness and loss of nutrition. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the medicine to turn to.

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol and is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics. It is strictly a temperance medicine.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach.

TO-NIGHT'S BIG MEETING

The Editor of the Globe Will Address Electors To-Night

It is evident that Mr. R. F. McWilliams, the clever young Liberal candidate, and his friends are not going to let the Conservatives have it all their own way in West Peterborough. They are to hold a big mass meeting tonight in the Opera House, when Rev. J. A. Macdonald, Editor of The Globe, and Mr. R. C. Clute, K. C., will address the electors.

There is no denying the fact that Mr. McWilliams is putting up a terrific fight against heavy odds. At this writing it looks as though he had a fighting chance to win. The Times would not be surprised if many disgruntled Grits would finally get into line and vote their party. To prevent this the Conservatives are, naturally, working with might and main. Should a reaction set in, however, at the last moment, Mr. Bradburn and his supporters might find it difficult to stem the tide.

Personally very popular, Mr. Bradburn is a strong candidate, and, if it were not that he is handicapped by the way his campaign has been managed, his election would, under the circumstances, be assured.

J. A. MACDONALD, R. C. CLUTE AND R. F. McWILLIAMS AT OPERA HOUSE

Last Liberal Shots of the Campaign in Peterborough--The Editor of the Globe Accorded a Very Flattering Reception--The Ballot is a Sacred Trust, Which No Man Should Betray.

Bradburn's opera house was well filled last night, when the last guns in the present campaign was fired from the public platform in Peterborough by Mr. J. A. Macdonald editor-in-chief of the Globe, R. C. Clute, K C.; and the candidate, Mr. R. F. McWilliams.

The house was well filled, and many ladies graced the occasion with their presence. Mrs. J. R. Stratton and party of ladies occupied the box to the left of the stage, and Mrs. J. B. McWilliams, Mrs. R. F. McWilliams, and party in the other.

The meeting was tinged with election enthusiasm, and Mr. Macdonald, not an orator in the true sense of the word, is nevertheless an engaging speaker, and permeated his earnest utterances with mirth-provoking stories, apparently very acceptable to his audience. Mr. Macdonald was especially strong in his defence of the Hon. G. W. Ross, whom he said he had known since the hon. gentleman was a country school superintendent. "And, he thundered, I have yet to hear from or see in the Premier anything that would weaken my confidence in him as a man of sterling integrity. His monetary margin to-day, beyond his expenses, is less than it was than when he filled the position of school superintendent. It is something that should be appreciated to have a man of Mr. Ross' undeniable ability, who has never made a dollar out of his many years' public service, now offering himself to this province in this election."

The hall was brilliant in many colored flags and bunting, and illuminated mottoes artistically arranged by Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, who enjoy a wide-spread reputation for decoration.

Mr. D. O'Connell officiated as chairman, and in his opening speech remarked with emphasizes his opinion that the Liberals having entered this campaign with the same degree of confidence which had characterized their contests during twenty years past, would meet with a similar measure of success this time.

MR. R. F. McWILLIAMS.

The candidate, made a very forcible speech, which be prefaced with an expression of pleasure in seeing before him the faces of many men who have been in the habit of voting on the Conservative ticket. (Cheers.)

All I ask is that every voter shall acquaint himself with the real issues of this campaign, in which event I shall have no fear of the consequences. In touching on the campaign in West Peterborough, Mr. McWilliams said that both he and Mr. Bradburn had been careful to avoid unclean speeches and personalities. He was sorry, however, to notice that such had not been the case with the Review newspaper. He had hoped, with a change of editorship, to see the institution of clean politics by that sheet, but he was sorry to observe the same spirit of petty meanness and personality under the control of its present editor as had characterized it in the past. Turning to the claim made by Mr. R. M. Denniston at the late Conservative rally that it was improper for a man to be sent to the legislature suppported by men holding government office, Mr. McWilliams replied that party spirit was getting to a low depth when it denies to a father the right to support the son whom he had trained and educated from childhood. As to the necessity for prosecuting and punishing political offencers, he asserted, in answer to Mr. J. H. Burnham, whom he characterized as an exceedingly honorable and fair platform campaigner, that not in twenty years had one man been prosecuted for political corruption; but since the Hon. G. W. Ross assumed the leadership, six years ago, 53 men named by the judges as offenders had been prosecuted, of which 39 were sent to jail. These corruptionists were both Liberals and Conservatives.

MR. R. C. CLUTE, K.C.

of Toronto, was well received. He warmly eulogised Mr. R. F. McWilliams as worthy of public confidence, he is, he said, an honest man, a gentleman, and a Canadian. He was always in the front in the University, and one of the two or three at the very front. (Cheers.) The electors will make no mistake, as far as the man is concerned, in sending Mr. McWilliams to the Legislature. Turning to the labor question, Mr. Clute remarked that for 15 years he had advocated the labor cause, and had been in some slight degree instrumental with others in securing for working men nine hours a day in place of ten. Honest labor is the most glorious thing we possess, and the Liberal government at Ottawa and at Toronto had done more labor than any other state in the union or any other country in the world. The Liberals at Ottawa fathered and made law the labor [illegible] took place. Sir Wm. Mulock introduced a law applicable to all cases where public money is expended, which provides that it is the duty of their commissioner to ascertain what is a full and fair wage in the district where any contract is to be performed; and the contractor before he can draw a dollar for his work must show that he had paid the current wage to workingmen in the locality in question. He challenged contradiction to assertion that the Liberal governments at Ottawa and Toronto have always been diligent in amending the law in favor of labor, until to-day we enjoy the best labor laws on the continent. (Cheers.)

Mr. Clute then went on to say that he approves of Trades Unions, which have come to stay, and are an absolute necessity. It is as necessary for labor to combine as it is for capital to do so, in the promotion of sympathy between employers and employes to the interests of both. To make unions effective, they must have at their head, moderate, honest, just and liberal men, who will meet the employers fair. In conclusion of this question, he opined that with the return of the Hon. G. W. Ross, Ontario will get a progressive policy in reference to labor.

Mr. Clute next turned to the question of corruption, which he would not attempt to justify in the case of Liberal offenders. But there has been no act of corruption which has not resulted in the injury of the person or party guilty of it. Any Liberal who has dealt in corruption is guilty of an almost unpardonable wrong to his party. There has, however, not been one single case made out against the Grand old Premier or any member of his Cabinet whereas on the contrary, on three different occasions members of the Dominion Cabinet have been expelled for bribery and corruption. In Ontario down to 1902, before Mr. Ross assumed the Premiership, 40 Conservatives and 36 Liberals were guilty of politicall offences, whereas in 1902 the Conservatives beat us seven to one. (Laughter.) And that the Conservatives have not forgotten how to bribe was evidenced at Pickering last Saturday. (Laughter.) As to the Conservatives Purity Fund, the ng caker claimed $500 went to Lennox, $500 to North York, $1200 to Muskoka and $2000 to that locality of "Minnie M" fame. Growing warm on the question of corruption, Mr. Clute challenged his hearers to deny that where they could point to one case of corruption.

In conclusion, Mr. Clute entered the Mowatt government in its fight with the Dominion Government for territorial rights in Ontario, which struggle terminated in this province retaining 16,000,000 acres of desirable territory, now known as New Ontario, and he pictured in glowing terms the policy of progress and development instituted for that new country by Hon. G. W. Ross and which will be continued should he be returned to power.

MR. J. A. MACDONALD

On rising to speak, met with a hearty reception. He held it to be a part of the religion of every true man that he should be concerned in the interest of the country in which he lives, as it depends on the type of men who are the electors' choice what the condition and quality of the country shall be. Turning to the Soo industries, he pointed out that Mr. Clergue spent so much money on machinery and buildings that none was left with which to operate the industries. $30,000,000 was sunk in those industries, most of it American, and we could afford the capitalists of the United States and England to be convinced that investments in Ontario are worthless. And what is the crime of which the Government are judged guilty by the Opposition? It is that of coming to the rescue of those industries at the Soo and reviving them by a substantial loan, fully guaranteed. This was done. And on May last 4,000 men were at work there. (Cheers.) And further, the announcement was made to-day that the Government has been released of its guarantee to those industries. (renewed cheers.) The speaker here went on to say that had the Ross Administration not stepped in with ready financial relief, Speyre & Co., would have foreclosed their mortgage, and the steel rails to-day being manufactured at the Soo would have been the product of the United States instead.

Turning to the temperance question, Mr. Macdonald said, "I am not a prohibitionist; I have said that before. I am a state-control man, and I have not yet seen any signs that Mr. Whitney is prepared to improve present liquor conditions—either to make it hard for a man to get a drink, or different to observe the law. Men who hold strong views on this question are naturally disappointed, but there is no landslide of the temperance people toward Mr. Whitney; there might have been some months ago, but now people are asking what about after the election? That issue is exploded—it was exploded at Napanee a few weeks ago. (laughter.) And you'll find that to-day men of temperance, moderate, extreme and state-control views, have in the long run more hope in the Liberal party [illegible] which he waxed exceedingly warm. We ought, he said, Liberals and Conservatives alike, stand for purity in elections. The ballot is a sacred trust, and no man can sell his ballot without betraying that trust. Use your ballot; put behind it your highest intelligence, and vote Grit or Tory, in accordance with your own sense of what ought to be. In the long run no party gains by corruption, and least so of all that party to which I belong. He made no excuse for the trip of the "Minnie M." but characterised it as a crazy enterprise, the leaders of which should be first sent to a lunatic asylum, and afterwards to jail. Neither did he blame Mr. Whitney for the alleged Pickering bribery case; but he evidently believed Stanley, Squires and Law in their statement that Brown tried to bribe them. He blamed Mr. Whitney for never having up to date admitted any wrong doing by Conservatives, or rebuking and repudiating such actions which come to light. Had he done so, Mr. Nicholas Brown would have hesitated ere attempting to bribe Messrs. Stanley, Law and Squires, than whom, he asserted, there are no more honorable men in the Township of Pickering.

COUNT TOLSTOI AND CZAR

Extraordinary Letter Written by Russian Author at a Critical Time

London, Jan. 24.—The Times publishes a translation of a long letter written by Count Leo Tolstoi to the Czar about three years ago, when the writer himself and all round him thought he was dying. The count, who addressed his Majesty as "Dear Brother," refers to the universal dissatisfaction which all classes in Russia were at that time manifesting towards the Government as a result of the latter's "strenuous and cruel activity."

PLOT LAID TO RUSSIA

Attack Upon China Considered Move to Create new and Serious Issues

MAY INVOLVE THE POWERS

Will Never Abandon Aggressive Policy in the East—War With Great Britain Expected

Washington, January 23.—Those who are watching diplomatic affairs are convinced that the latest move of Russia in attacking China for violation of the laws of neutrality is in the nature of a coup d'etat for effect both at home and abroad. It is regarded as a very serious matter, much more serious than was at first believed. It is a stroke characteristic of Russian diplomacy, a subterfuge of a beaten nation, to divert international attention to new issues and to involve outside nations in complications so deeply that they will be compelled to assist the Russian government out of its difficulties. It is also believed that the coup d'etat is expected to divert the attention of the Russian people from local questions; to give them something new to think and talk about; to distract their attention from the demands that have been made upon the Czar and to excite sympathy for the government.

Russia realises that she has lost Manchuria, but she will never lose sight of the main purpose nor abandon her aggressive policy in the East. It is a policy of centuries—eternal in its purpose, born in the brain of Peter the Great, and his most precious and important legacy to the Romanoff dynasty. For the protection and promotion of that policy,—having lost Manchuria, Russia evidently proposes to take a slice from the other parts of China, and has already, according to the telegraph dispatches, invaded Chinese Turkestan and taken possession of Kashgar, one of the most important cities in the outlying provinces of China.

It is expected that Kashgar will be made a base for the invasion of Turkestan, and that Russian troops will be taking possession of Mongolians strongholds before many days.

WILL ATTACK CHINA.

Diplomatists here are also convinced that Russia is laying the ground for a claim for indemnity against China, and that the Czar will very shortly demand a convenient port on the Yellow Sea as a naval station similar to Kiao-Chau, now held by Germany, and Wei-Hai-Wei, now held by Great Britain. Having lost Port Arthur and Dalny, Russia has no place on the Pacific where her ships can go in cold weather, for Vladivostock is frozen up for five months in the year. Having secured such a port and a big slice of Mongolia, the Chinese branch of the Siberian Railway will be built direct to Peking and Tien-Tsin, because further developments in Korea and Manchuria must be abandoned for the present. But anyone who presumes that the Great White Bear has abandoned his efforts to control either of those territories does not understand Russian diplomacy or determination. Sooner or later efforts to recover what has been lost during the last twelve months will begin to develop. Russia may yield temporarily, but her main purposes is never abandoned. For four centuries she has been trying to obtain a port on the Mediterranean and the control of the Bosporus, and while dynasties may change and generations may appear and disappear the determination never dies, and will continue to be disclosed at intervals through the centuries whenever the occasion seems favorable. If you will read the history of Russia for the last one thousand years since Moscow became the capital of a great nation, you will appreciate the serious character of the present coup d'etat. War with Great Britain is to be expected and is as certain as it is possible to be.

U. S. IN HANDS OF A DOZEN MEN

Author of Frenzied Finance Delivers Another Broadside Against "Standard Oil" Group of Millionaires

IS WORSE THAN LOTTERY

Declares it is Gaining Astounding Power by Using People's Deposits in Banks Against Themselves

RESIGNATIONS FOLLOW LAWSON'S ARTICLES

New York, January 23.—Thoughtful indosposition was given as the cause in each case, the resignations of two men, classed in the financial district as members of the Rockefeller clique, from offices of two well known corporations caused considerable excitement in Wall street, excitement in Wall street.

Samuel C. T. Todd, who resigned his position as solicitor of the Standard Oil Company, is one of the men referred to, while William G. Rockefeller, the son of William Rockefeller, who resigned from the offices of secretary and treasurer, as well as director, of the Amalgamated Copper Company, is the other.

New York, January 23. — Thomas W. Lawson, of Boston, issues another broadside against the Standard Oil group of millionaires, termed by him "the System," in his latest installment of "Frenzied Finance" in Everybody's Magazine for February, out tomorrow.

In this installment Mr. Lawson begins "The Story of Amalgamated." He starts the "story" with a description of the financial system of the country, and the manner in which "the System" is gradually getting legal control of the entire country.

It will only be a few years, he says, when ten men will be absolute legal owners of the entire United States, and the rest of the people will be legally their slaves.

SAYS "THE SYSTEM" IS WORSE THAN LOUISIANA LOTTERY.

He compares "the System" with the Louisiana Lottery, and says that "morally, legally and ethically the lottery, with its attendant curses, was a far better institution."

He says that "the System" is gaining its astounding power and robbing the people of their millions by using the people's deposits in banks, insurance companies and other institutions against themselves.

"You may ask if I desire to convey the idea that the great financial institutions and trusts of this country, which have their head center in Wall street, are all concerned in a conspiracy to rob the people of their savings," he writes. "You think, doubtless, that so sweeping a statement goes beyond the truth. I desire to go on record right here in declaring that all such financial institutions which in any way are engaged in taking from the people the money that is their surplus earnings or their capital, for the ostensible purpose of safeguarding it, or putting it in use for them, or exchanging it for stocks, bonds, policies or other evidences of worth, are a part of the machine for the plundering of the people.

"This is a terrible charge, I am well aware, but it is based upon a thorough knowledge of the subject and made with a full appreciation of its gravity. I do not mean to say that all the men who handle and control the different institutions mentioned have guilty knowledge of the bearing of their actions. Many of them are of the purest minds and most honest intentions, and are quite incapable of participating voluntarily in a conspiracy to wrong anyone.

"They do not know, however, that the relation between their own minor institution and the general financial structure constitutes the former an agency for 'the System' which controls and has organized the general financial structure into an instrument for converting the money of the public to its own purposes."

RUNS TRAINS BY PHONE

Baltimore & Ohio Railroad First in World to Adopt System

Baltimore, January 23.—The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad is the first steam railroad in the world to reduce the movement of trains by telephone to a systemized practice, clothed with safeguards, as has been the telegraph train-handling system that has been in operation for many years.

For some time the Baltimore & Ohio has been extending the use of the telephone for the transmission of ordinary business messages, connecting the division headquarters with the terminals of the divisions by means of the "composite" telephone method. This system admits of the simultaneous working of the [illegible]

BOBCAYGEON'S GREAT RAILWAY

The Northern Navy Evidently is Proud of Its New Possession

Bobcaygeon Independent: We have a railway, and it is a good one. It has all the frills that could be expected of any railway. During construction it knocked the everlasting tar out of Charlie Brown's big polled Angus bull, and made Humphrey's Yorkshire-Fam the base of innumerable dishes of Italian fricasse. The death of Brown's bull ended quite a noted character. He would have faced old Nick without a tremor. He had ditched many a rig, had chased ten men off a handcar on the rails and a few days previous to his death had charged at an engine. The engineer, however, stopped his train and saved a collision. At the time of his despatch, the engineer tried to scare him off with the whistle, and, seeing that he was not going to move, and the train could not be stopped, he put on steam. The shock put three or four ballast cars off the rails, and all that was left of Mr. Brown's bull was his fame and pedigree. Then there was the blow out, and fatality at Apsley, and on Monday night in shunting the train ready for the morning the breaks did not act quick enough and a coach went off the end of the line. Pages' stable stoodside about twenty feet from the end of the rails, and about two feet lower than the track level. The stable was shot off its foundation, away from its floor, and turned over on its side exposing all its inner conscience to the gase of the curious. The wheels of the coach struck the foundation wall, or it would have gone through the building. As for the coach, not a pane of glass was cracked. Even two large panes in the end of the vestibule were unbroken. The steps were broken, and that was about the amount of the damage. Mrs. Smith was sweeping and dusting the coach at the time, and noticed it was a pretty sudden jolt for a shunt, but went on with her sweeping. The construction of these coaches is of the greatest strength, and their weight is about 90,000 lbs. They withstand a tremendous shock, but deliver a terrific jolt. Their substantiality and elaborate fixtures and trimmings are expensive, the cost of one of them being about $12,000. Naturally, it was an easy trick for a vehicle of such weight and plutocratic tendencies to knock the sawdust stuffing out of Harry Page's 12 x 16, cull lumber, cow barn. Certainly our railway has all the frills, but a railway without frills would be as monotonous as an ox-cart stage line.

PROVINCIAL LAW AS TO BALLOTS

Full Information to the Voters at To morrow's Election

DIRECTIONS FOR VOTING

Which Every Voter Should Carefully Read

As the law as to initiating of ballots is slightly different in Provincial elections to the Dominion law, it is well for candidates and others to become familiar with the law is it obtains in the present Provincial contest. During the last Dominion election, in one case at least, a deputy returning officer, who had been familiar with the Provincial law, initiated the back of the ballots. This is the proper way to do in the Provincial elections, but the instruction for deputies in Dominion election are somewhat different.

The law for the Provincial elections is clearly stated in Section 97 the Ontario elections act. This section and the schedule of instructions are, where a person claiming to be entitled to vote presents himself for the purpose of voting, the deputy returning officer shall proceed as follows:

(1) He shall ascertain that the name of such person is entered or purports to be entered, upon the voters' list in the poll book for the polling subdivision for which the deputy returning officer is appointed to act.

(2) He shall enter or cause to be entered in the column of the voters' list in the poll book headed "Column for marks indicating that the voter has offered to vote" the initials of the person offering to vote.

(3) If such person takes the oath or affirmation required to be taken by voters in the manner directed by this act, the deputy returning officer shall enter or cause to be entered opposite such person's name, in the proper column of the voters' list in the poll book, the word "Sworn," or "Affirmed," according to the fact.

(4) Where the vote is objected to by a candidate or his agent, the deputy returning officer shall enter the objection, or cause the same to be entered, in the voters' list, in the poll book, by writing opposite the name of such person, in the proper column, the words "Objected to," stating at the same time by which candidate or on behalf of which candidate the objection has been made, by adding after the words "Objected to" the name only of such candidate.

(5) Where such person as aforesaid has been required to take the oath or affirmation, and refuses to take the same, the deputy returning officer shall enter or cause to be entered opposite the name of such person, in the proper column of the voters' list in the poll book, the words "Refused to be sworn," or "Refused to affirm," according to the fact.

(6) No person who has refused to take the oath or affirmation requir-

COLD-BLOODED AND DELIBERATE PLAN TO ENSURE WHOLESALE SLAUGHTER

Awful Massacre of Helpless Men, Women and Children by the Soldiery in Front of the Czar's Winter Palace and Other Places --A Day of Horror.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 24.—The story of events immediately preceding and during yesterday's outbreak as viewed by official eyes, is given in the Official Messenger as follows:

"All attempts of the factory inspectors to pacify the workmen were fruitless and every workman from a number of large factories joined the strike, which spread quickly and extended to nearly all the works in the city. At the sametime the demands of the men increased, and these were formulated in writing, mostly by Father Gopon. The employers discussed the demands and decided that if some of them were satisfied it could not fail to ruin industry, while others deserved to be examined and partially conceded. Furthermore, willingness was expressed to negotiate with the men, but not with the strikers' organizations. The workmen refused to agree to it and violated the negotiations between the masters and men of the different factories.

"As the strike was being conducted without disturbances of public order no repressive measures were adopted, and not a single person was arrested. The agitation of the workmen's association was, however, soon joined by the agitation of revolutionary circles. On the morning of January 21 the workmen's association, led by Father Gopon, appeared with openly revolutionary tendencies. On Sunday Father Gopon drew up a petition of workmen to the Emperor which contained, besides demands on behalf of the men, insolent demands of a political character. Among the workmen verbal and written notifications were circulated, urging the necessity for a meeting, January 22 on the Palace Square in order, through Father Gopon, to submit the petition to the Emperor. One of the demands was of a political character, and the real purpose of the meeting on the Palace Square was concealed from the workmen.

"Fanatical speeches, which Father Gopon, forgetting his clerical dignity, addressed to the men, and criminal agitation excited the men to such an extent that on Jan. 22 large crowds proceeded to the centre of the city. At some points bloody collisions occurred between them and the troops in consequence of their refusal to obey the police regulations, or owing to their direct attacks on the troops. The latter were obliged to fire in the Schelussel-bery causeway, near the Narva triumphal gate, in Troitzki Square, and in the fourth line on the Vassili Ostroff quarter, in the Alexander Gardens, at the corner of Nevsky Prospect and Convet street, near the police bridge and at the Kasan Cathedral. In the fourth line the populace erected three barricades of planks and wire. On one of these red flags were hoisted. From the windows of neighboring houses shots were fired and stones were thrown at the military. The crowd took swords from the policemen and armed themselves therewith. They pillaged the Schaff small arms factory and carried off about a hundred swords, a large number of which, however, the police recovered. The crowd destroyed telephone and telegraph wires, and knocked down poles. The municipal building in the second district was attacked and demolished. In the evening five shops on the St. Petersburg side were plundered.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 23.—With darkness it was feared the mob might begin to loot and pillage, but events proved that beyond the breaking of a few windows in the Nevsky Prospect and the pillaging of fruit shops, little disorder was reported. Most of the theatres were closed, but at the People's Palace, which was opened, two Liberals attempted to harangue the audience, proposing at the close that the audience testify to their sympathy with their fallen brothers. The orators were promptly arrested, and the audience walked out.

By midnight the sound of firing had ceased, except on Vassili Ostrov Island, where the troops met a renewed demonstration with several volleys. In the meantime the strike leaders assembled and decided to continue the struggle with arms. No day was fixed for the next demonstration. The strikers are so excited, however, that trouble is expected to result to-morrow.

At a big meeting to-night the following message from M. Gorky, the novelist, was received; "Beloved associates; We have no Emperor. Innocent blood lies between him and the people. Now begins the people's struggle for freedom, and may it prosper. My blessing on you all. Would I might be with you to-night; but I have much to do."

A workman who was introduced to speak in Father Gopon's name made a fiery speech. He appealed to Liberals to furnish arms. The meeting adopted a letter denouncing the officers and the regiments that fired on the workmen, and another letter extolling the Moscow Regiment, which refused to fire.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 24.—The Associated Press correspondent was present when the first barricades were constructed on Vassili Ostrov-Island, where fighting occurred later, resulting in the killing of 20 of the defenders of the barricades. The strikers, driven from the river front, had gathered in front of the union headquarterd out of sight of the soldiery.

Buzzing like a nest of angry hornets, a hundred men brandished handleam table knives secured from some junk shop, which were the only weapons seen in the hands of the strikers during the day. Others swarmed up poles and cut down telegraph, telephone and electric light wires, which they strung from lamp post to lamp post across the street to break up charges of cavalry.

At first none of the leaders seemed to have any plans. Suddenly two men appeared carrying ladders, and others rushed up with more ladders, lumber and timber from incomplete buildings, and with old sleighs in the twinkling of an eye, a substantial barricade had been constructed, bound together with wires and ropes. On them water was poured, which immediately froze.

At a last contribution Christmas trees were added to the pile, and the Meanwhile others were bringing on brick and breaking them for missiles.

SOME DRAMATIC SCENES.

There was a very dramatic scene at the Narva gate when Father Gopon, in golden vestments and bearing aloft an ikon and flanked by two clergymen carrying religious banners approached at the head of a procession of 8,000 workmen. Troops were drawn up across the entrance. Several times an officer called upon the procession to stop, but Father Gopon did not falter. Then an order was given to fire, first with blank cartridges. Two volleys rang out, but the line still did not waver. Then with seeming reluctance an officer gave the command to load with ball, and the next volley was followed by shrieks and cries of the wounded. As the cossacks followed up the volley with a charge the workmen fled before them, leaving about 100 dead or wounded. It was evident that the soldiers deliberately spared Father Gopon. One of the clergymen by his side was wounded, but he escaped untouched and hid behind a wall until the cossacks passed, and he was then spirited away by workmen.

BEFORE THE BUTCHERY BEGAN.

Strikers also gathered at the entrance of the Grand Morskaia, and of the avenue leading to the Moika Canal. The crowd at the latter place swelled to huge proportions, blocking the bridge across the canal. The order came at 1.30 p.m. to clear them off. The colonel commanding the Horse Guards uttered a short, sharp command, the troopers drew their swords and advanced at a quick trot, and then broke into a gallop, heading straight for the Moika. Where they were lost in a cloud of snow. Shrieks from the wounded resounded. Then came a deadly silence, broken only by the galloping of ambulance horses.

SOME OF THE PEOPLE'S CRIES.

The most harrowing scenes of the day occurred around the palace square. The strikers manned and held a small edifice at the corner of the gardens, and poured out constant objurgations and reproaches at the troops. It was in vain that officers requested them to disperse.

"We have come to present our homage and grievances to the Emperor."

"Let the Emperor come out and hear us; we do not wish to doharm."

"Long live Nicholas II., if he only listens to our grievances we are sure he will be just and merciful."

"We cannot longer endure our sufferings. Better die at once and end all."

Such were the cries repeatedly heard from many strikers.

Many strikers brought their wives and children. "You soldiers are our brothers; you cannot shoot them little ones," they exclaimed, but as the pickets and patrols continued driving off the people the demonstrators began to give way, and the bitterest insults and oaths, in which the Rus-

FERROZONE

Imparts New Vigor—Braces Nourishes Strengthens Weak Women.

A woman's anxieties multiply ten-fold about the time the new baby is expected. If her strength is exhausted and her blood weak, it goes hard in the hour of trial. Ferrozone should be used because it makes the blood nutritious and rich. By instilling new strength into every part of the body, it uplifts your spirits at once.

Childbirth is certainly made easier by Ferrozone. The following statement expresses the earnest gratitude of Mrs. M. E. Duckworth, of Durham. It is a woman's story—of her own case—told that other women may profit by her experience:

"Before baby was born I was in a miserable, weak, nervous state. I had no reserve strength. I tried to build up, but nothing helped me. I looked upon the coming day with dread, knowing I was unequal to the occasion.

"Ferrozone lifted me up at once. It gave me strength and spirits, brought back my nerve and cheerfulness. From my experience with Ferrozone I recommend it to all expectant mothers."

There is more concentrated nourishment in Ferrozone than you can get from anything else. It supplies what weak systems need. Simply take one tablet at meals and you'll feel uplifted at once. Ferrozone makes healthy, virile, vigorous women; try it. 50c. per box of fifty tablets, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. THE NORTH SEA ENQUIRY

The Russian defence in the North Sea affair is that its fleet saw two torpedo boats steaming toward it rapidly with extinguished lights, and that it fired upon these in self-defence. If this can be proven, it is a perfectly good defence. The British representatives, however, who undoubtedly have taken pains to inform themselves as to the situation, state positively that "no Japanese warship of any kind whatever was at that moment in the North Sea." And the British shipping men know the North Sea as a man knows his own pocket.

Consequently it is to be a contest in evidence. Just how the Russians are going to prove the presence of two hostile torpedo boats when they did not capture one to produce as an exhibit, is not plain. No doubt Britain knows that the Japanese Admiralty is preparing to depose that it had no such craft at that time anywhere near Dogger Bank. Properly speaking, the burden of the proof will lie with the Russians, for they make the positive statement; but the British will probably undertake to establish as well the utter impossibility of there being any torpedo boats near the fishing fleet at that time without the fishermen knowing it.

The recent smuggling of a boat from a British port through German and Danish waters to Russia by British seamen, may be used as circumstantial evidence that the Japanese might have played the same game without the British being aware of it. But the British are probably prepared to set up a good reply to that in the exhaustive measures taken to learn of the quality of every ship in British harbors. The strength of the British position is that no war ship can live "in the North Sea, they must have had recent connection with some neighboring port; and if Britain can speak for her harbors, France, Belgium, Holland, and Germany will surely speak for theirs.

It may simmer down to a statement that the Russians believed that they were being attacked by two torpedo boats, and if they can convince the people of Britain of the sincerity of this belief, and if they show a willingness to compensate the fishermen who suffered damage, the best ending of a very bad business may be reached.

MR. SIFTON'S SENSIBLE STATEMENT

E. W. Thomson, a well known newspaper man who has been writing a series of articles on Canada for a Boston newspaper, reports an interview with Hon. Clifford Sifton, sensible view of the Reciprocity question. Mr. Sifton is reported to have said: "You suppose our West to be a unit in favor of reciprocity in naturals. It is not so. Certainly, I used to favor such reciprocity. But I am not like some people we both know—I can learn. I do not say that the Canadian West, and myself, might not approve free, or much more free exchange of natural products with the States. It depends on what arrangements could be made for permanency of the arrangement. We could not afford to risk much on a market that might be hastily closed on us. Canadians have not forgotten the lesson of 1866, when Washington abrogated the reciprocity treaty of 1854. This country has got into the way of adapting its production, and very largely its entire business, to the American market. Canada was flattened out for years by the abrogation of the treaty. No more of that for me. We have adapted our production and business to the independent, self-sufficient policy that has been pursued for many years now. Does anybody of good sense imagine we will give that up, and undertake a readaptation to the United States market on a bargain extending over any short term, or which could be done away with by a few years' notice from Washington? No."

It is altogether unlikely that the United States Congress would consent to an agreement binding the Republic to any tariff arrangement for a long period. It would be regarded as a surrender of the power of Congress to alter the tariff. Nor would the people of the United States approve of a treaty for permanent reciprocity restricting the rights of future Congresses to deal with the tariff as they may see fit.

But even if the United States could be induced to make such an agreement would the people of Canada like to see this country irrevocably bound to the United States by a permanent reciprocity treaty which could not be abrogated no matter how unfavorable it might prove to be for Canada?

THE CANADIAN NAVY

It is stated that Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, Minister of Marine, will at the coming session of Parliament introduce a bill to establish a permanent naval force of 800 men and a volunteer force of 3,000. This has furnished occasion for a good deal of newspaper joking about the Canadian navy, but it is a step in the right direction, and it is to be hoped that it may lead to bigger things. Canadians should be ashamed to be entirely dependent upon British generosity for naval protection. The aim of our Government should be to relieve the British people as soon as possible of the cost of protecting Canada which the taxpayers of the United Kingdom have borne so long. It is fortunate that the measure is to be introduced by a French-Canadian Minister of Marine. In the past all proposals that Canada should establish a naval force has been met that the French-Canadians would not agree to it. This notion having been dissipated by Hon. Mr. Prefontaine we may expect a progressive policy in this regard. But in establishing a Canadian navy we should at the outset insist that all Canadian warships must be built in Canada. Canada should enter upon a vigorous policy of naval shipbuilding. If Canadian Government contracts for warships are assured there will be no difficulty in inducing some of the great British shipbuilders to establish branch shipyards in Canada. The establishment of a Canadian fleet, built, owned, manned and controlled by Canadians will be a big advertisement for Canada. Now all nations look down upon us as colonials dependent upon Britain for protection. When we show the world that we are big enough, strong enough and rich enough to defend ourselves the influx of capital and immigrants will soon repay for any expenditure we may make on the navy.

COUNT TOLSTOI AND CZAR

Extraordinary Letter Written by Russian Author at a Critical Time

London, Jan. 24.—The Times publishes a translation of a long letter written by Count Leo Tolstoi to the Czar about three years ago, when the writer himself and all round him thought he was dying. The count, who addressed his Majesty as "Dear Brother," refers to the universal dissatisfaction which all classes in Russia were at that time manifesting towards the Government as a result of the latter's "strenuous and cruel activity," and he informed the Czar that the reason for this was; "Your helpers assure you that by the arrest of all progress of life in the nation they will thereby ensure the welfare of this people and your own peace and safety; but one can sooner arrest the flow of a river than that incessant progressive movement of marking which is established by God. One understands how those to whom such a state of things is advantageous, and who in the depth of their souls say 'Après nous le deluge,' can and must assure you of this; but it is astonishing how you, a free man, needing nothing, and on rational and good man, can believe them, and, following their horrible advice, commit or allow to be committed, so much evil for the sake of such an unattainable desire as the arrest of the eternal progress of mankind." The writer proceeds to allude to the double error necessary, at all costs, to maintain the two combined forms of religious belief and political organization. It is he says, impossible to assert that orthodoxy is now natural to the Russian people; and, regarding the prestige of the Czar's power, Tolstoi alleges; "During the last thirty years it has been incessantly falling, and has latterly fallen so low that amongst all classes no one now restrains himself from condemning not only the measures of the government, but also the Czar himself, abusing and laughing at him. Autocracy is an outgrown form of government which may answer to the demands of a people somewhere in Central Africa apart from the whole world, but not the demands of the Russian people, which are growing even more enlightened by the enlightenment common to the whole world." Count Tolstoi, after stating that by measures of coercion one can oppress a people but not rule them, remarks that the desires which the Russian people would express were it possible for them to do so would, in his opition, be; "First of all the working people would say that they wished to be delivered from those special laws which place them in the position of a pariah deprived of the rights of all the citizens. Then they would say that they desire freedom of education and freedom to profess the religion which corresponds to their spiritual needs, and above all, the hundred million people would say with one voice that they desire freedom in the use of land and the abolition of the right of landed property." The first thing, he adds, which lies before the government is the abolition of that oppression which prevents the people from expressing their desires and needs. Tolstoi, in his concluding sentences, urges the Czar to think of his responsibility before God, whose will is that good and not evil should be done unto men.

DROWNS HERSELF IN ICY RIVER

Young French Canadian Girl Deliberately Takes her Life

Montreal, Jan. 23.—A dramatic suicide occurred last evening at Cote St. Paul, the victim of her own rashness being Philomene Massie, a 16-year-old girl. The girl lived with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. P. Massie, at Turcot Village. Yesterday she wanted to go to a party to meet some friends whom her parents considered not quite the best sort for a young girl. Her parents insisted on keeping her at home, and she chafed under the restraint.

Despite the wish of her mother, she and went to the house of the friends with whom she had been unable to keep her previous engagement. On her return home her mother upbraided her for her unduitful conduct and threatened to tell her father on his return. She intimated that correction would be forthcoming.

"You will never correct me again," exclaimed the headstrong child, "for I will die." She ran by her motherand made for the canal bank. Her young sister ran after her calling on her to come home.

It was all to no purpose, however, for, like a deer, she sped along over the snow and made for the lock at Cote St. Paul. Passing near the electric light works, she ran down on the ice to the place where holes are dug in the ice, at the lock gates, and without hesitation threw herself through the small opening into the icy water. Her sister, after finding that it was impossible to get her out, ran crying for help and returned to her mother. Aid was secured, and a search begun, but to no effect. When night came on the search had to be abandoned.

It will be resumed to-day, and it is expected that the body will be found.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Any even numbered section of Dominion lands in Manitoba or the North-west Territories, excepting 8 and 26, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres more or less.

ENTRY

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situate, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES

A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act, and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following plans:

[1] At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

[2] If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), or any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

[3] If a settler was entitled to and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

[4] If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same town, township, or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of clauses [2] [3] or [4] must cultivate 30 acres of his homestead, or substitute 20 head of stock, with buildings for their accommodation, and have besides 80 acres substantially fenced.

The privilege of a second entry is restricted by law to those settlers only who completed the duties upon their first homesteads to entitle them to patent on or before the 2nd of June, 1889.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled and the land may again be thrown open for entry.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT

Should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

INFORMATION

Newly arrived immigrants will receive, at the Immigration Office in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing lands to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, coal and mineral lands, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa; the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Land Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

W. W. CORY, Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands, to which the Regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

TO CANADIAN INVESTORS

Oregon-Idaho Gold Mining Co.

INCORPORATED

Capital $5,000,000. Shares $1.00 Each, Par Value, Fully Paid Up and Non-Assessable.

We have just secured the agency for the above splendid proposition, of which we have been allotted a block of Treasury stock. We can confidently recommend this as a safe and, we believe, exceedingly profitable investment. Every dollar of stock is guaranteed by twenty year, full paid, gold bond, delivered to purchaser of stock, from an Investment Company that has no interest whatever in the company, but who are disposing of the debentured bonds to the public, and, under their charter, they are compelled to deposit securities to an equal amount, to the State Treasurer under which they received their charter, there by doubly securing the payment of their gold bonds.

The Company's property, which is now past the project stage, is known to be marvellously rich in gold.

Following is the opinion of G. W. Miller, Mining Engineer, formerly with the Boston and Montana Consolidated Copper and Silver Mining Company, U. S.; Simmer and Jack Mining Co., Limited, Klondike, South Africa:—

"I have here a most valuable property, and one of the strongest fissure veins that can be found in any part of the world.

"With the present development of the Monument Mine, I estimate that 100 tons per day can be extracted, which will mill from $15.00 to $20.00 per ton. The total cost of mining the ore, delivering and milling, I place at about $4.00 per ton. With increased milling capacity, it is safe to say that the mine can furnish 100 tons of $15.00 ore, which would yield a clear profit of $11.00 per ton, or $1,100.00 per day (equal to $400,000.00 per annum). Estimated total value of ore in sight, $2,500,000."

During the past summer, a party of the Company Directors visited the property, taking with them, Amos P. Brown, Ph.D., Mining Engineer and Professor of Geology and Mineralogy at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Brown writes as follows:—

"In regards to the amount of ore available at the mines at Sinclair, I saw on the dumps several thousand tons, probably 5000 tons would be an under-estimate.

"As to the size of the ore body itself, from what I saw of the geological structure, I think that there is every indication that it will go far and to extend underground as far as the out-croppings on the south side of the gulch. This would mean an ore body large enough to keep the present mill running for many years to come.

A write up of the proposition will appear in these columns in a few days. Watch for it. In the meantime we will be pleased to furnish full information to investors.

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

The Salido Gold and Copper Company

Incorporated under the laws of Arizona, with a capital of $3,0c 000 forever on assessable divided into shares of $1 each, par value. All investments insured Granite Securities Company.

The "SALIDO GOLD COPPER COMPANY" enterprise offers attractions to the investors of the country, that without thorough investigation, would scarcely seem probable. If only a fraction is realized of what any prudent business man in his own affairs would regard as absolutely certain, the enterprise must prove abundantly successful and exceedingly profitable

SALE OF STOCK

The company will prosecute the work of development with all the diligence that the cash in the treasury will permit and circumstances warrant, and to this end a small amount of the treasury stock is now placed upon the market, in blocks of not less than One Hundred Shares. The par value of the stock is One Dollar per share, fully paid and forever non assessable.

The company reserves the right to advance the price of stock without notice.

REMEMBER

First—That all payments for treasury stock go into the treasury for development work and not into the pockets of the promoters.

Second—There are no salaried officers

Third—The incorporators have put their own good money into this enterprise and being business men, intend to do business along business lines

Fourth—That this company is honest.

Fifth—If you are thinking of investing in mining stocks this is worthy of your careful investigation.

OTHER PROPERTIES

This Company owns four other Gold and Copper Mines, which title is now in process in the laws of Mexico. As soon as title is perfected, we shall commence to develop them as we certainly expect something very great from these properties. Our assays. aken have been of the very best, showing gold and copper from $6.00 to $122. 30 per ton.

I have secored a small block of this stock, which I offer at the following prices: Unguaranteed 40 cents per share, guaranteed 80 cents per share. These prices will only prevail for a short time, as the number of shares for sale at this price is limited. The Shares will then be advanced to 40 cents for the unguaranteed and 80 cents for the guaranteed. I can unhesitatingly recommend this investment to the Canadian public.

The California Buckeye Mine

This mine consists of 15 acres of good zinc land, well prospected by drill holes showing forty feet of good pay dirt at a depth of 154 feet.

On the property are hoisting engine, shaft house, ore buckets, Worthington steam pump, air drill, cars and pipes. Over $15,800 have been expended to date, and the proposition itself is a good one so much so that we can personally guarantee an immediate dividend of 8 per cent. this year and 12 per cent. after 1905, with an additional quarterly dividend.

Capital Stock $250,000

Shares, par value $1.00 each. Fully paid up and non-assessable. No Preferred Stock. No bonded indebtedness

The shares are selling at 20 cents each, with a prospect of the price being raised.

The Joplin Daily Globe says that over $10,000.000 worth of zinc and lead were mined in 1904, up to 1st Dec., in the Joplin District. In the California Buckeye Zinc Mine, located in the centre of the Joplin District, it has been demonstrated that the ore body has an average thickness of 42 feet and the runs are 50 feet wide, about 120 feet from the surface.

The rough dirt for the first three months of operation produced zinc ore to the amount of $12 95 per cent., while the average for the district is less than 5 per cent., but for the purpose of being on the safe side, we calculate on only 8 per cent. ore to the ton of dirt, and it shows a profit each day with two shifts of men, of $566.20.

We stand ready to prove every statement made, and if enough stock is subscribed for in this locality a directorship of the company is at the disposal of the subscribers.

Any further information and proofs of earning capacity will be cheerfully supplied.

A SPLENDID PROPOSITION

Rare Chance to Secure a Paying Investment

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY

has placed a small block of their stock at the disposal of Canadian investors. This stock is sure to rapidly advance in price. The Company is now arranging to instal the power plant and a mill and cyanide plant for the reduction of their ore to a bullion on the property. They have arranged with a Trust Company having assets of $1,500,000 to put up a bond guaranteeing investors the repayment of the full amount invested. This makes investors absolutely safe. By no possibility can they lose a dollar.

THE GOLD COIN MINING COMPANY was organized November 21, 1902 under the laws of the State of Idaho. The capitalization is one million shares of the par value of one dollar each, fully paid and non-assessable; of the 1,000,000 shares, 400,000 have been set aside as treasury stock

THE BOISE BASIN came into prominence shortly after Grimes and his party of prospectors entered the Basin country in 1862; their entrance was into the northern portion, and one discovery of rich placer ground followed another until the news of the rich finds reached the outside world, when a veritable stampede for Boise Basin commenced. It was sprung up and grew together in an incredibly short time; the rush of people to Idaho City made it a place of 20,000 people in 1867, having a business street over a mile long lined with two-story buildings streets and sidewalks filled with people day and night, business and money on every hand and the city bearing the proud distinction of being the capital of the territory of Idaho. Wages ran from $6 to $10 a day and not infrequently forty and fifty men worked on a single placer claim; the clean-up for a day's work in many instances ran close to $5,000; large fortunes were made in a few days by washing the golden sands in a pan; so eager was the quest for the shining metal that the streets of Idaho City were dug up and washed and re-washed, and the soil removed from under the houses and places of business So extensive was the search for the hidden treasure that not only all of the low ground was worked but the foot of the mountains surrounding the city have been washed away, filling up the lower portions of the basin and extending into the town, where one of the buildings has been buried under the tailings from the numerous placer workings.

LOCATION—The property of the Gold Coin Mining Company is situated in the Gambrinus Mining District, Boise County, Idaho, on the range of mountains between Moore Creek and Elk Creek, which forms a part of the eastern boundary of the famous Boise Basin and into which these mountains are drained The property is located ten miles northeast of Idaho City, from which place there are good wagon roads either to the workings on top of the mountain or to the place of the proposed tunnels in the gulch which crosses the Tunnelsite claim.

THE CLAIMS—The Company owns a group of four contiguous lode mining claims and the Gold Coin Millsite: the names of the lode claims are the Tunnelsite, Blue Bell, Pennsylvania and Homestake, each being a full claim 600 feet wide by 1,500 feet long, excepting the Tunnelsite claim, which is 450 feet wide at the west end and 1,055 feet long; it was necessary to stake the claim in this form on account of joining the Washington property on the south and the Sub Rosa property on the west, these properties being prior locations to the Tunnelsite claim. The four lode claims aggregate nearly 80 acres of rich mineral land.

ARMY AND NAVY READY

Should Trouble Come England will be Able to Control the Sea

London, January 23.—The Mail says that whatever may be the outcome of the investigation now being made into the Dogger Bank affair, the imminent peril of war which beset England for a few days immediately following the attack upon the fisher boats is having its very real influence upon both the British War Office and the Admiralty. At least, it is hard to interpret in any other way the vigorous action that these bodies have just taken upon projects that have long been either under placid discussion or held in abeyance.

For example, there is the decision of the government to rearm the artillery at a cost of $12,500,000. Bitter experience has shown the British army that its field guns were about the worst in existence, at least in the armies of first-class powers. At the same time it has been known that the government possessed the designs—and a few samples—of a gun that is probably more effective than any other in the world. Those designs are now to be used, and in two years the artillery branch of the army will be completely modernized.

Even more significant are the navy reforms. Not that the navy has been similarly antiquated in its methods, but rather, that its "best" is to be made still better. During the Dogger Bank excitement much attention was attracted by the quiet precision with which the various British fleets in home and Mediterranean waters were brought into position to bear against Russia's armada, and it was freely said that no nation on earth could have done nearly so well. Yet much greater efficiency is expected for the future.

To start with, all weak vessels are to be permanently retired and all weak squadrons are to be abandoned. Gibraltar will be the center from which British naval power will be employed. There the Atlantic fleet, which takes the place of the old channel fleet, will have its base. The new channel fleet takes the place of the old home fleet and has its base in home ports, while the Mediterranean fleet remains much as before. All vessels in reserve will be kept under commission and supplied with skeleton staffs of officers and with skeleton crews, so that they can be put to active service with the least possible delay.

In still other proposed reforms England is preparing to abandon procrastinating discussion for prompt action It is a satisfaction to know, that however much she may prepare for war the men in power in her government seem firmly resolved to give their very best energies to the preservation of peace.

CANADIAN TRADE WITH BRITAIN

Its Growth and Outlook Discussed by Manchester Importers

THE LEAGUE OF THE EMPIRE

Is Conducting an Educational Campaign in London Regarding Resources of the Colonies

London, January 23.—At the annual dinner of the Manchester Wholesale Provision Association, Mr. James Smylie, the president, said that it behooved this country to take a deeper interest in the British Colonies, for there were great possibilities as to their [illegible] in the future. Colonial butter was now within two or three shillings per cwt. of the price of Danish, which for a generation has held away in England. This was a great accomplishment, when it was remembered that Colonial butter had to traverse half the circumference of the globe before it landed on these shores.

Mr. R. Graham said that the only country from which provisions were delivered in Manchester by ship canal was Canada. This trade had grown enormously within a few years, as in 1897 the number of boxes of butter imported was thirteen and of cheese 7,611, while in 1904 the figures were: butter, 40,677 boxes, and cheese, 90,356.

MR. MORLEY'S SPEECH.

Commenting on Mr. John Morley's speech, the Glasgow Herald says: "Apparently he has not discovered in Canada a crisis in the history of the British Empire or any sign of that remarkable 'truth' that is being trumpeted here by all sorts and conditions of men, that if we don't do as Mr. Chamberlain says the Empire will go to pieces, and Canada in particular will sink herself to the United States. Sir Howard Vincent, who is recently from Canada, will be astonished at Mr. Morley's blindness."

MAY TAKE CANADA AS MODEL.

Walter James, the Agent-General for Western Australia, is a frequent caller at the Canadian Emigration Office, seeking information as to the methods of pushing emigration. Mr. James is surprised at the vast amount of money expended, but says that it is the only way to carry on the business. Mr. James will make suggestions to his Government to adopt Canadian methods.

AN EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN.

With the object of bringing knowledge regarding the British colonies before the people of this country, the League of the Empire, with Lord Strathcona as president, is now holding a course of lectures in Caxton Hall, every Sunday. Next lecturer will be J. H. Turner, the Agent-General for British Columbia, who will speak of Great Britain on the Pacific Coast of Canada.

Fewer Exhibitions Desired

The leading agricultural societies of the province are evincing considerable interest in the suggestions that has been made by Mr. H. B. Cowan, Provincial Superintendent of Agricultural societies, that the number of exhibitions held annually in Ontario should be materially reduced and that agricultural societies should receive their grants in proportion to the amounts they spend for agricultural purposes. Such a change would do away with all distinction between the township and district societies. The Ontario Fruit Growers' Association has passed a resolution approving of these suggestions and expressing the belief that such a change would result in larger sums of money being expended for agricultural purposes. The Executive of the Dominion Shorthorn Breeders' Association, at its annual meeting in Toronto, on January 16th, also passed a resolution approving of these suggestions and stating its opinion that fewer exhibitions would result in larger attendances, better prizes and better exhibits, as well as a reduction in the undesirable features now so prevalent at many exhibitions.

GREAT COUNTRY GRAND CHANCES GLORIOUS CLIMATE

NO EARNEST ATTEMPT TO STOP OR PUNISH CORRUPTION

There has been persistent tampering with all the safeguards of representative government, from the West Elgin case to the orgy of fraud in Sault Ste. Marie. No resolute effort has been made to prevent these crimes or to punish the offenders. The Government puts forward various excuses, including the most pitiful plea that it was prevented from proceeding by the unwise interference of the Opposition. The excuses are swept away by the swift and resolute action taken by the Government whenever its own existence is threatened, as in the case of the Bribery Pit. No means were neglected to thwart that conspiracy or to punish the conspirators. By equal vigilance it could have made the trade of the plugger and the briber so unsafe that West Elgin and Sault Ste. Marie would have been impossible. The whole machinery of elections, the whole machinery of justice, is in their hands. They failed because they were not in earnest and because their tenure of power was so precarious as to offer temptation for these very crimes.

THE GREAT CHANGE SINCE 1902.

In 1902 Mr. Ross was making his first appeal to the Province, and among Liberals there was a general feeling that he should not be held responsible for West Elgin and North Waterloo, and West Huron and other election irregularities. He came before the Province with a new government, with a constructive policy, and with an eloquent repudiation of the corrupt methods which had been exposed in these various constituencies. The force of Mr. Ross' personality and the fervor of his eloquence had their first revelation in the field of leadership. The prohibitionists were comforted with a referendum and encouraged to hope that the Government's threefold pledge to give prohibition would yet be redeemed under the leadership of the life-long prohibitionist, who had become head of the Ministry. Ross, Repentance, Reform. Reconstruction, and Reinvigoration were the battle cries of the party. There was enthusiasm for a new leader, for a new policy, for new methods and hope for prohibition still unextinguished.

Two and a half years have passed and what has happened. We still have Mr. Ross and his eloquence, and the promise to "build up New Ontario." All the rest has gone. There is no Repentance, no Reform, and no Prohibition.

To West Elgin and North Waterloo have ben added the wretched negotiations with Gamey, the pitiful breach of faith with Hugh Clark, of Centre Bruce, the disfranchisement of North Renfrew, the eager summoning of the Legislature in order to delay the trial of election protests, the abject confession of judgment in North Perth and North Norfolk, and the amazing revelation of guilt which the Government carries to-day is threefold heavier than when Mr. Ross made his first appeal to the Province. Hence, Mr. Ross must inevitably be defeated on the 25th. Vote for the winning side!

HOW THE VOTER GETS LEFT.

When you come to think of it, what a little say the ordinary voter has in politics. It is only when he gets roused that he makes his voice heard. Generally the candidate is selected by a little bunch of men who consult the Government and who talk up the particular man they want to put in the field. The convention is packed by men who want to stand in with the organization, and, through them, with the Government. Then comes a great gathering, with speeches and nominations, and retirements, and the electors find at last that there is just one man left. The voter has to vote for him or stay at home, and so he goes into the contest, conscious that things have been managed and that he really has not had much to say in the matter. And no matter what his views are about the policy of the party, or about the condidate, or even about the honesty of the Government, he is expected to vote for the man whom he has not even had a voice in selecting.

This is why there comes a time in every party when the ordinary everyday elector feels tired of the eternal machine and determines to cut out a path for himself and to vote for honesty and decency.

Then comes a landslide—which is just another name for the effort of a free and enlightened Province to set itself and its party right.

VOTES MORE IMPORTANT THAN JUSTICE.

Votes More Important Than Justice.

A motion by the Liberals of Sault Ste. Marie was made at Osgoode Hall yesterday to have the trial of the 15 persons reported in the Soo election for corrupt practices postponed until after the elections.

Several weeks ago, at the time when the date of the provincial elections was not known, the trial was set for Monday next. The Conservatives are anxious that the trial should proceed, and through E. A. DuVernet opposed the application to Chancellor Boyd, who, with Justice Teetzel, heard the election trial and unseated C. N. Smith, declined to make the order in the absence of Justice Teetzel.

The two important points in the above are: first, that the Liberals are again trying to prevent their workers being punished; and second, that the lawyer who appears for the accused

Not Only Relief, but Lasting Cure

Is What You Get From Catarrhozone Which Eradicates Every Trace o Catarrh From the System.

Relief is a good thing, but we soon get tired of it and look for a remedy that will drive the seeds of Catarrh right out of the system. It is only a waste of time to trifle with internal dosing. You must treat Catarrh locally because it is a local disease.

The most sensible treatment is Catarrhozone which really does reach the diseased membranes in a most thorough way. Every case of catarrh can be cured if Catarrhozone is used. It unquestionably penetrates every air cell and air passage of the breathing organs. It completely destroys the catarrh germs and heals all the inflamed surfaces.

Every requirement of an ideal catarrh cure is embraced in Catarrhozone. Other treatments may have failed to even bring relief, but one trial is sufficient to prove merit in Catarrhozone not found in the ordinary snuff or wash that unscrupulous people sometimes recommend for catarrh.

If you are subject to colds, catarrh or throat trouble you will find quick relief and lasting cure in fragrant, healing Catarrhozone. Mrs E. P. Fairbanks, of Durham, was cured of chronic catarrh by this remedy and endorses it in the following letter, which speaks for itself:

"I suffered continually from catarrh which affected my throat. My nostrils were usually inflammed and I was greatly bothered with droppings in the throat which made me sick at my stomach. I had a bad taste in my mouth, and felt a ringing in my ears. I read of Catarrhozone and commenced to use it. In a few days it helped me more than I ever expected. I used it four times daily and it two weeks most of the disagreeable symptoms disappeared. I continued the Catarrhozone treatment for six weeks and was perfectly cured. The catarrh has never returned."

Every complete outfit of Catarrhozone sufficient for two months' use is guaranteed to permanently cure, trial size 25c. Sold by druggists or by mail from N. C Polson & Co, Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

DASHES HERE AND THERE BY TIMES' REPORTERS

The Late Mrs. Geo. A. Cox

The funeral of the late Mrs. Geo. A. Cox will take place in Toronto this afternoon, and will be private.

Conservative Head Quarters

The Conservative committee rooms have been moved from the opera house block to the store just opposite, recently occupied by Mr. C. Wilhelmy.

Board of Trade Meeting

A special meeting of the Board of Trade has been called for this evening to consider the American Cereal Company and freight rates. A full attendance is requested.

The Late John S. Boswell

The demise of Mr. John S. Boswell, a well-known and esteemed citizen, took place on Saturday last, after a protracted illness. The deceased was widely known, having lived in Peterborough for many years. He was at one time owner of the property known as the Grand Central Hotel block. Deceased was 65 years of age and leaves to mourn his loss a widow and two sons, Maitland, of Toronto, and John, of Winnipeg. The funeral will take place this afternoon from his late place of residence 5 Dennistoun avenue.

WHY?

Because we are keeping up with the growth of Peterborough, the "Electric City," which is fast becoming a leading manufacturing centre of Canada.

Over 80 per cent. of those graduating are placed in good positions in Peterborough. Attend school where you have such prospects.

NOW IS THE TIME TO ENTER

If you cannot attend our School

WILL BUILD NEW SCHOOL

The Separate School Board Purchase Lot on Reid Street.

The Times is informed that the Separate School Board has purchased the vacant lot lying immediately north of the Bishop's residence, west of Reid and south of Brock streets, for Separate school purposes. The price paid was in the neighborhood of $5-000.

This action was made necessary on account of the sale of the Murray street Separate school property to provide a site for the new armoury and new Collegiate Institute building which is to be erected this year.

THE CONSERVATORY

Things Gradually Getting Into Good Working Order

Last night Rev. E. A. Langfeldt's German class met for the first time at the Conservatory of Music. It was well attended, several new pupils being added to the class.

Prof. Raymond Accolas, graduate of Paris University, has been engaged as teacher of French, and will open classes at an early date. It is requested that all those who wish appointments should register immediately.

Herr Wilhelmj, the vocal teacher, will give a recital in Peterborough shortly. Lessons are also being allotted in this department.

Mr. D. F. Watkins, of Toronto, has been engaged as teacher of mandolin, banjo and guitar.

THE NEW CATHOLIC BISHOP

Rev. Father Scollard to be Consecrated on February 26th

The announcement has been made that Rev. Father D. F. Scollard will be consecrated Bishop of the new Diocese of Sault Ste. Marie on Feb. 24th. The ceremony will take place in St. Peter's cathedral, and will be attended by a large number of leading dignataries of the Church as well as members of the priesthood from all parts of Canada. His Grace Archbishop Gauthier, of Kingston, will consecrate the new Bishop. The sermon on that occasion will be delivered by Bishop McEvoy, of London. Other Church dignataries who are expected to be present are, His Grace Archbishop Duhamel, Ottawa; His Grace Archbishop O'Connor, of Toronto; His Lordship Bishop Dowling, of Hamilton; His Lordship Bishop McDonnell, of Alexandria, and His Lordship Bishop Lorraine, of Pembroke, besides several bishops from the Province of Quebec. It is said that excursions will be run from different points in the new diocese.

shall receive a ballot paper or be admitted to vote; and the vote of such person, if taken and received, shall be null and void, and the deputy returning officer, for having taken and received such vote or caused the same to be taken and received, shall incur a penalty of $200.

(7) Where the proper entries respecting the persons so claiming to vote have been made in the voters' list in the poll book in the manner prescribed, the deputy returning officer shall stamp or sign his name or initials upon the back of the ballot paper and upon the counterfoil, and he shall not put upon the said ballot paper any figure or mark, other than his name or initials.

(8) The deputy returning officer shall, if required by any candidate present, or his agent, cause the name or initials signed or stamped by such deputy returning officer upon the back of the ballot paper before handing the ballot paper to the voter.

(9) Any person desiring to vote may decline to receive a ballot paper which has not the name or initials of the deputy returning officer signed or stamped upon it.

(10) The ballot paper shall be detached from the counterfoil and delivered to such person.

(11) The counterfoil shall be retained in the book by the deputy returning officer, who shall write or otherwise mark upon the counterfoil the number prefixed to the name of such person upon the voters' list in the poll book; and opposite the name of such person in the voters' list in such poll book a mark shall be placed to denote that he has received a ballot paper, but not showing the particular ballot paper which he has received.

DIRECTION FOR THE GUIDANCE OF VOTERS IN VOTING.

The voter is to vote for one candidate.

The voter is to go into one of the compartments and, with the pencil provided in the compartment, place a cross on the right-handed side, opposite the name of the candidate for whom he votes, thus X.

The voter is then to fold up the ballot paper so as to show the name or initials of the deputy returning officer signed on the back, and, leaving the compartment, shall, without showing the front of the paper to any person, deliver such ballot so folded to the Deputy returning officer, and forthwith quit the polling place.

If the voter unadvertently spoils a ballot paper, he may return it to the deputy returning officer, who will, if satisfied of such inadverence, give him another ballot paper.

If the voter votes for more than one candidate, or places any mark on the paper by which he may be afterwards identified, his ballot paper will be void, and will not be counted.

If the voter takes a ballot paper out of the polling place, or deposits in the ballot-box any other paper than the one given to him by the deputy returning officer, he will be subject to imprisonment for any term not exceeding six months, with or without hard labor.

THE BEST FRIEND OF THE COLONIES

Lord Strathcona Pays High Tribute to Mr. Chamberlain

WILL HOLD A RECEPTION

High Commissioner will Receive Guests to International Ball in London

London, January 21.—Speaking at the Colonial Exhibition at Liverpool, yesterday, Lord Strathcona said the colonies even now possessed resources which made up a very great Empire. Speaking for Canada, he could say it was ready to go on with the Mother Country in everything that could be to the advantage of the whole Empire. Whatever their political views, all must admit that Mr. Chamberlain had been the colonies' best friend. He had done more than any other to knit the different parts of the Empire together.

Lord Strathcona consented to receive a thousand guests invited to the international ball, promoted by the City of London Commercial Association, of which he is president. The Lord Mayor, the Lady Mayoress and aberiffs will attend in state. The French, German and United States Embassies will be represented officially.

LORD HAMILTON VIEWS.

Lord George Hamilton, Unionist free trader, addressed two thousand people at Blackburn. He said his reason for leaving the Government was because he saw that Chamberlain's motives, unless checked, would degenerate into pure protection. They had been told to think imperially. He had been an Imperialist all his life. He had learned Imperialism from Beaconsfield and Salisbury, who taught that though Imperialism in the abstract might be admirable, in concrete it must be regulated by the burden which it entailed. There had been, in his judgment, much Imperial "high falutin" on public platforms lately. His complaint against the tariff reformers was that they had no wide general survey of industrial conditions or the complexity of Imperial connections abroad before embarking on this unhappy agitation. With regard to the colonial offer, he thought the tariff reformers did not deal fairly with their audiences to measure the benefit

VOL XXXIII NO 20 PETERBOROUGH ONTARIO, WEDENSDAY JANUARY 25 1905 PRICE TWO CENTS

A FERVENT APPEAL TO THE PROHIBITIONISTS

The Citizens' League Issues a Manifesto to the Independent Electors Urging Them to Vote Against a Government Which has Been False to all its Pledges.

Toronto, January 24. — The Canadian Citizen League which, like the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance, represents the temperance party in Ontario politics, is also arrayed against the Ross government, and has issued a circular to the independent electors of the province urging them to do their part in the overthrow of the present administration.

After alluding to the fact that the present is both a crisis and an opportunity to advance the moral interests of the province the appeal continues:

"Temperance electors of Ontario, we appeal to you to place principle above party in the coming contest, your loyalty to principle or party in this election will tell for weal or woe in moral reform legislation for years to come. In a few days you will have an opportunity of casting your ballots for or against the candidates for a government that repelled with contempt the appeals they have received, and the deputations that have waited on them from church synods, unions, assemblies and conferences, praying for the enactment of legislation making for good citizenship.

"Under the protection of law, the liquor trade of this province has grown into an enormous monopoly depending for its existence upon the will of the government. The restrictive regulations of the past have only spurred the liquor monopoly to greater activity in the public affairs of the province, until the trade has become what it is today —an active, tireless, sleepless faction in our politics, the object of whose activity is the protection and perpetuation of the bar.

"It is idle for political conventions to publish resolutions against corrupt political methods so long as such a well spring of political corruption as the liquor monopoly remains hand in glove with our government.

"Remember, it is a member of the government, the Hon. Mr. Mackey, the successor of Hon. Mr. Davis, who is a leading member of one of our churches and a professed prohibitionist that was chosen, with the approval of the premier to champion the liquor interests in the recent Liberal convention. They have refused to either obey the mandate of the people or redeem their pledges on the temperance question, and are unworthy of your support.

'If you cast your ballot for the government candidate in your riding, you do all that is possible for you to do to condone the corrupt acts by which the government has secured and maintained power. Can you do it, and advance the moral interests of the province.

"The Government has declared against the abolition of licenses and the closing of the bar, having broken their pledges, they have forfeited all claims on your confidence and support.

"It is useless to regret and deplore bribery, perjury and political corruption so long as you continue to cast your ballots to return in power a government that has persistently refused to punish the evildoer. Your ballot is a sacred trust, make it tell for right and good citizenship. It's your first duty to hold the government responsible for the rascalities which have been perpetuated in its name and for its advantage; they have reaped the benefit; they must take the consequences.

"Remember, it is the government who is responsible to and on trial now before the electors, they and they alone, are responsible for the people of Ontario for the evasion of solemn pledges, and the continuance of evil-doing in high places.

"To accuse others of guilt is no justification or excuse for the broken pledges and political impurity of the government now in power. A government that has shown itself powerless to cope with and remove the evils that have disgraced this province is not the kind of government that should longer be retained in power.

"Christian electors in Ontario, the polling place is the 'Secret Place' in which you offer prayer for the state. Your ballot is your prayer; let it be for righteousness in the province."

Cossacks Beat Down and Murder the People in a Brutal and Cold-Blooded Manner

Horrible Scenes Witnessed in Sunday's Wholesale Massacre in the Russian Capital.

London, January 26.—George Lynch, the Chronicle's correspondent at St. Petersburg, sends the following: "When I arrived at the Putiloff works, the first collision between the insurgent workmen and the soldiers occurred, the wounded were still on the ground, and the snow was spotted with crimson patches, ghastly evidence of the soldiers' work. The soldiers were then gathering up the wounded to take them to the hospitals. The house fronts were scarred with bullet marks, for the retreating mob still faced the troops after the volleys and scattered only when they were charged. Women and children were standing at doors and windows weeping. Returning toward the Winter Palace, I found the streets thronged not only with strikers, but with sightseers, including many women. The Cossacks were charging, regardless of whom they ran down. The crowd broke back from the horses as far as rear ranks would permit. The mob kept hooting and hissing the soldiers. I endeavored to photograph the Cossack charge, but they were upon me before I could press the button, and the camera and I went down together under the hoofs. Near Isaac Cathedral I counted 30 carts containing wounded men. The procession was led by one in which the blood covered man was dying in the arms of his weeping wife.

"The crowd was hailing these men as heroes and the Cossacks charged down at them at full gallop. People were knocked down on every hand, though they were making no demonstration and many of them were not connected in any way with the striking workmen.

"The ruthlessness of the Cossacks was manifest everywhere. You took your life in your hands every time you crossed a street. Coming from the Cathedral to the hotel in the afternoon, I saw Cossacks galloping over inoffensive people still, and as I emerged out to the Nevsky Prospect a volley was fired by the soldiers in a side street. There were many women in the crowd. I saw many killed and wounded, who were carried away in carts. Near the hotel I saw an aged General carried past. His face was covered with blood and he was obviously dying. A group of men fell on him and tore off his epaulets. A woman, whose husband had been killed, attempted to wrest a sword from an officer, who killed her with it. The insurgents have taken to looting and many shops on the Nevsky Prospect have been broken open and looted.

"The Cossacks seem absolutely wild. There might be some excuse for their charging the crowd, but there certainly is not for their beating solitary pedestrians, as I saw them do, men and women both. The strike development of the day was the open sympathy displayed by the employers themselves toward the strikers."

NICHOLAS AND LOUIS

The Czar's Position Compared to That of the French Monarch Before the Reign of Terror

Paris, Jan. 25.—The Temps' St. Petersburg correspondent makes a graphic comparison between the position of Emperor Nicholas II., and King Louis XVI. on the eve of the Reign of Terror. After a careful analysis of the situation the correspondent concludes that most of the military forces of Russia will remain loyal to the Emperor, although he foresees a prospect of some of the artillery region the fall of the Bastile, at the outbreak of the French Revolution. The correspondent also points out that Emperor Nicholas' withdrawal to Tsarskoe Selo places twenty-one kilometres between him and the excited populace. He is about fourteen miles away.

BRING BABY TO CHURCH

The Unusual Invitation Extended to His Congregation by a Winnipeg Baptist Pastor

Winnipeg, Jan. 25.—Rev. John McNeill, pastor of the First Baptist Church, extended an out of the ordinary invitation to the opening services of his church. Realizing the difficulties of mother with small children, in the way of church attendance, he invited them to come, not only next Sunday, but on all future Sundays, and bring their babies along. The little ones are to be left in the assembly room, or one of the other rooms in the basement, where they will be taken care of by a committee of the Ladies' Aid Society.

C.P.R'S ENTERPRISE

Great Railway is to be Instructed Employes to be Instructed in Their Work

It is proposed to give courses of instruction to train hands on the C. P.R.. All train hands will be obliged to pass rigorous examinations in train rules and train handling. These examinations will take place at fixed intervals, and full courses of instruction will be given. The intention is to educate all train men to the highest possible point of efficiency so that great efficiency, speed and safety may be attained. Under the new regulations each man is supposed to be able to take charge of a train, and to be able to understand all signals or rules of the road and all conditions.

GERMAN-BRITISH TREATY

Berlin Government Wants to Negotiate a Trade Convention

Berlin, January 25.—The newspapers today contain an officially inspired though definite statement to the effect that Germany has begun negotiations for a new commercial treaty with a "certain nation" with which she has at present only a provisional arrangement.

I am able to announce that England is the country in question. This treaty, if it goes through, will be of great importance, as it will provide for future commercial relations between Germany and Canada and other English colonies.

I am also in a position to say that the new commissioners, on completing the treaty with Great Britain, will go to the United States to endeavor to negotiate a treaty with that country.

GUELPH'S EXPERIENCE

Her Street Railway is now Valuable Municipal Asset

The city of Guelph has had a year's experience in operating a street railway and the results are encouraging. Although the annual statement showed a deficit of $3,300, it was due to extraordinary causes that are not likely to recur. For instance, the severity of the winter of 1904-5 involved an expenditure of $2,000 in excess of the average to keep the system in operation. Deducting that amount from the deficit only $1,300 is left. To meet this and show a profit next year, it is proposed to extend the line into profitable territory, secure a better connection with radial lines, and open a park for the development of summer traffic. Besides increasing the traffic, economies are to be effected in the consumption of coal and the installation of storage batteries. Mr. J. W. Lyon, who recently read a paper to the Board of Trade on the subject, is enthusiastic in his belief that the city has in the railway an asset that will before long earn a handsome return on the investment. The spirit in which the citizens of Guelph have taken hold of the enterprise deserves to be rewarded, and from present appearances will be rewarded.

BATTERED MAINE MAY SAIL AGAIN

Company Formed to Raise the Ill-Fated Battleship From Havana Harbor

TO MAKE A SHOW OF IT

The Undertaking Will be one of the Greatest Engineering Feats on Record

Washington, January 24.—It is probable that teh battleship Maine, which went down in Havana harbor on February 15, 1898, will be raised and possibly made fit for sea service once more.

The United States Government, having relinquished all claims to the ship, it becomes the property of the Cuban Government, which has made earnest efforts for some time to secure its removal because it forms a serious obstruction to navigation. The Cuban Government has entered into a contract with Jose D. Wyckoff, of Havana, for the raising and removal of the battleship.

A company has been incorporated, to be known as the United States Battleship Maine Salvage Company, with headquarters at Washington. Mr. Wyckoff is the manager. For the beginning the work has been ex-

As nearly as can be learned from careful examinations of the wreck about one-third of the battleship at the bow has been seriously injured, the other two-thirds remaining in comparatively good condition. It is the purpose of the company first to remove the bodies of the sailors and their personal effects and then, to make the undertaking a financial success, by recovery of all valuable articles, such as arms, cannon, coal machinery, etc., and the uninjured part of the ship itself.

It is also proposed to admit visitors to the work after the cofferdam is pumped out, charging an admission fee, and, after the ship is floated, to exhibit it at the principal ports of the United States. It is proposed to manufacture articles of brass, bronze and copper found on the wreck into mementoes to be sold.

Sufficient material of all kinds will previously be set aside for the erection of the contemplated memorial and placed at the disposal of the memorial committee.

The actual work of raising the great ship will begin very soon.

Spring May See a Reign Of Blood in Macedonia

Crisis is Near at Hand---Austria Unwilling to Interfere---England Urged to Prevent Catastrophe

London, Jan. 24.—Alarms from the Balkans usually fall on deaf ears, but the Spectator is justified in the grave language with which it calls attention to an imminent peril. It says;—

"England and Europe have time enough, but not more than enough to take effectual measures for the prevention of a deplorable catastrophe. They have received due notice in the presence of the fall of Port Arthur that the Turkish government feels itself definitely unchained, if not formally, yet quite unmistakably. It has asserted its emancipation by making arrangements for the military occupation of Macedonian vilayets in the spring under pashas notorious for their ruthless severity. The Russo-Austrian agreement with the Sultan is a complete fiasco, now that he is preparing to swamp in blood a rising which unremitting misgovernment has prepared. Two or three short months must intervene before, with the melting Balkan snows, these schemes can realize themselves, if nothing is done then there is a high probability, if not a certainty, that the spring or early summer will witness such an orgy of outrage and slaughter as will cause even the lurid memories of Batak to pale.

"Russia is obviously not in a position to take any genuine preventive action. Her paralysis in the Near East is indeed the main feature of the situation. Austria-Hungary is not likely to take a vigorous independent line. Her domestic situation is unfavorable and she shrinks not discreditably from being supposed to desire to avail herself of the preoccupation of Russia to strengthen her own position in the Balkans at the expense of that power and the smaller south-eastern States."

The Spectator believes that England should speedily endeavor to secure Italian and French co-operation for compelling the Sultan, by whatever means necessary to consent to an international administration of Macedonia, preserving Turkish sovereignty and right of revenue, but nothing else.

—Canadian Journal of Commerce;—Peterborough is a large and active place, with growing manufacturers. We notice a recent partial statement of the town's finances from which it is gathered that the municipal receipts for the year 1904 have been $158,184, and the expenditures, $156,000. The taxes were $106,595.

AN IMMIGRANT ATTACKS CANADA

Warns Possible British Emigrants Against the Cold Climate

PRICE OF BEER IS TOO HIGH

This is one of the Chief Grievances of the Immigrant—Preston off to Australia.

London, January 25.—Writing to the Liverpool Daily Post and Mercury, and enclosing a copy of the annual report of Mr. J. Kane, secretary of the Associated Charities at Ottawa, "Experience" says: It will give some idea of the sufferings of immigrants coming to Canada at this time of the year. "Experience" is very severe. "Canada is a country of ice and snow," he says, "for six months of the year." Ice carnivals were discontinued only because they were found to be advertising Canada as a country of ice and snow." One of the strongest kicks "Experience" makes is in regard to the price of beer, which sells per dozen bottles at five shil-

"Only those who have a thousand pounds should come to Canada. It is no place for the ordinary workingman.

CRITICISM OF JOHN MORLEY.

The Evening Globe says: "Mr. Morley tells us he found in Canada a remarkable attachment to connection with Great Britain. There can be no doubt that if Mr. Morley's very lukewarm feelings towards colonies and movement for closer union had prevailed in this country during the last twenty years he would have found British sentiment today less pronounced in Canada."

MR. PRESTON OFF TO AUSTRIA.

Mr. W. T. R. Preston, Commissioner of Emigration for Canada, left Saturday for Southern Austria to make arrangements for a large number of emigrants who are expected to go to Canada. Mr. Preston will stop over at Vienna to meet

WEATHER NOTES

STRIKERS DEMAND THE CESSATION OF THE WAR, THE STRIKE SPREADING

Another Massacre Feared in Moscow, Where a General Strike Has Also Been Declared and Ten Thousand Men Are Out.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 24.—St. Petersburg wears a less martial aspect today. Everywhere troops have been drawn into courtyards. Only pickets are left outside and small squads of Cossacks are patrolling the streets. The stores along the principal thoroughfares are mostly closed and barricaded.

ANOTHER OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

An official account of yesterday's events is as follows;

During Monday there was no collision between the rioters and the troops. Detachments of soldiers had no need to use their arms as the crowds dispersed when the troops appeared. In the course of the day an attempt was made to attack Gostinny Dvor Market, but it was repulsed.

Workmen at the electric stations joined the strike in the evening. Then some groups, taking advantage of the darkness, began to break windows in the shops; but order was everywhere quickly restored.

No person was killed or wounded on Monday. The exact number killed on Sunday was 96, wounded 333, of whom 53 were treated at the ambulance stations.

POLICE REPORT 2,000 KILLED.

Despite the official reiteration that the number of killed in Sunday's riot was less than a hundred, the chiefs of the municipal police districts report 2,000 killed, and about 5,000 wounded.

It is officially reported that the workmen have secured a considerable supply of arms. They raided a Government store at the far end of the Moscow military position in the suburbs yesterday afternoon and seized 1,800 rifles, and reached Seatroutsk, near the Finland frontier, before the commander of the advanced troops learned of the raid. The store also contained cartridges.

The Government is spreading a report that the last Japanese budget provided a sum equal to $25,000,000 for the purpose of paralyzing Russia at the seat of Government. This has been expended in financing the strike movement. It is naively declared that "the possession of this war chest is clear, otherwise the strikers would have been starved into submission already."

Street fighting has apparently ceased for a while. The plans of the revolutionary leaders are now evidently aimed at securing the spread of the strikes throughout the country so as to paralyse industry and strike terror to the governoring classes. There are unconfirmed reports that large numbers of people are marching towards Tsarskoe Selo, where the Czar is supposed to be, but they cannot be verified. Tsarskoe Selo is strongly garrisoned by the Guards corps, but troops have been hurried to intercept the strikers and prevent them reaching the place.

THE CZAR IS OBDURATE.

Grand Duke Vladimir was in consultation with Minister of the Interior Prince Miraky, Commander of the Fortress General Ellis and Chief of Police General Toulon, yesterday. They framed a report to submit to the Emperor, whose movements, plans and wishes are being kept a profound secret. Whatever else may happen, the Czar will not receive a deputation or have direct communication with the strikers. For any representations they may desire to make the proper authorities exist, while as regards the present condition of lawlessness Grand Duke Vladimir in virtue of his office as Chief of the Army, has complete authority to deal with it. This attitude of aloofness is the key to the understanding of the present incomprehensible situation. The populace wish to make direct representations to their Sovereign, and this attempt constitutes a condition of lawlessness involving severe repressive measures.

THE CITY IN SEMI-DARKNESS.

Much alarm and considerable discomfort was caused last night by the failure of the electric light service due to a strike of the workmen employed by the Helois Company, which supplies light along the Nevski Prospect. The only bright spot was a blaze of light from the courtyard of the Annitchkoff Palace, from whence the Empress Dowager fled to the Tsarskoe Selo. Beyond stood the dark, grim palace of Grand Duke Sergius.

MANY STORES LOOTED.

A correspondent drove up the Nevsky Prospect, and with the help of daylight realized that the damage done to store fronts was more considerable than appeared last night. A large number of business premises were wrecked, the mob having devoted itself principally to confectioners and pastry cooks.

Enormous crowds of strikers and many sightseers, encouraged by the mild weather, were promenading the sidewalks this morning, and the street cars were again in operation. All has been quiet up to this hour.

THE DEMANDS OF THE PEOPLE

Several men were distributing proclamations. The people formerly were shy of accepting such documents; now they are eagerly accepting them and lution. The correspondent secured a number of copies, they are all signed by "The Russian Social Democrat Labor Party." One proclamation, dated January 22, reads;

"Comrades—So long as autocracy exists no improvement in our condition is possible. Therefore, we continue to inscribe on our banners the following demands;

"The immediate cessation of the war.

"The summoning of a constituent assembly of representatives of the people elected by universal and equal suffrage and direct, secret ballot.

"The removal of class and race privileges and restrictions.

"The inviolability of the person and

"The inviolability of the person and domicile.

"Freedom of conscience, speech, the press, meetings, strikes, and political operations."

'LONG LIVE THE REVOLUTION."

A second proclamation, dated Jan. 23, says,

"The proletariat of all countries are united.

"Citizens, you yesterday witnessed the bestial cruelty of the autocratic Government. You saw blood flowing in the streets. You saw hundreds slaughtered, defenders of the cause of labor. You saw the death and heard the groans of the wounded women and defenceless children. The blood and brains of workingmen were spattered around where their heads had been laid.

"Who directed the soldiers to aim their rifles and fire bullets at the breasts of the laborers?

"It was the Emperor, the Grand Dukes, the Ministers, the generals, the nobles of the court. They are murderers, slay them.

"To arms, comrades. Seize the arsenals, and the arms at the depots, and at the gunsmiths. Lay low the prison walls. Liberate the defenders of freedom. Demolish the police and gendarmerie stations, and all the Government and State buildings.

"We must throw down the Emperor and the Government, and must have our own Government.

"Long live the revolution.

"Long live the constituent assembly of representatives of the people."

A third proclamation appeals to the people not to attempt to inure private property.

THE AUTHORITIES HOPEFUL.
